About us

The operator is TyreScope Limited, a company registered in England and Wales (Company number 8555146). Registered office Shrewsbury, Shropshire, SY1 4JB, United Kingdom.

1.General

1.1. TyreScope Limited, hereinafter the “Operator”, operates the Tyrescope online marketing platform, and hereinafter “Platform”. The platform is an online platform for creating Driver club websites & iFrames, and advertising and marketing of Tyres and garage services on the internet. Tyre dealers and garages will hereinafter be referred to as “advertisers” and web visitors as “customers”. Advertisers and customers together will be referred to as “users”.

1.2. All agreements made between Operator and advertiser, must be based on the operator’s current general terms and conditions, unless an individual exemption is agreed upon in writing. Advertiser’s general terms and conditions are irrelevant to contracts signed with the operator, by signing up to the platform, advertisers automatically agree with the operator’s general terms and conditions. We reserve the right to change these terms and conditions, when necessary, it is the users’ responsibility to ensure that you understand these terms as they apply from time to time.

1.3. Through the platform, tyres and garage services can be advertised and marketed to customers, as long as the offer is not against the law, contrary to the accepted principles of morality, or in discordance with these general terms and conditions. The operator does not advertise its own products, and does not act as a party or representative of any party to any contracts between the users, resulting from sales advertised through the platform.

1.4. The operators only part in the legal relations between users is supplying these general terms and conditions.

2.Extent of service

2.1. The service provided by the operator consists of supplying an electronic online marketing platform to advertise offers made by advertisers, activating these offers, enabling customers to check their tyres, view, enquire through the platform. In addition, the platform facilitates electronic communication between users.

2.2 The operator retains the right to change the look and format of the platform. A claim to utilising the portal can be made only with respect to the latest developments in technology. The operator is entitled to limit or discontinue its service temporarily if this is deemed necessary in connection with its capacity, the safety or integrity of the server, or for the implementation of technical measures, and contributes to the rendering of specified or improved services (maintenance). In such cases, the operator respects the user's legitimate interests.

2.3 A robust internet connection is required for proper access the platform. The users are responsible for procuring and maintaining the internet network connections that connect your network to the platform and we assume no responsibility for the reliability or performance of any internet connections you may have.

3.Contract conclusion

3.1. The signing up and transmission of data by the advertiser constitutes an offer to conclude a subscription agreement for the utilisation of the platform.

3.2. The operator makes a decision as to whether the offer will be accepted or not at its own discretion and within 10 days after submission of the offer. The advertiser is not entitled to receiving a declaration of acceptance.

4. Authorised users, and obligations upon signing up.

4.1. Only advertisers who have signed up in accordance with clause 3 are authorised to use the platform.

4.2. Only legal persons and natural persons with unrestricted legal competence are permitted to sign up. Each person signing up, subscribing for, or otherwise accessing or using the platform warrants and represents to the operator that s/he is acting either on her/his own account or on behalf of the customer named in the sign-up form; and, in the latter case, that s/he is authorised by such advertiser to contract on its behalf to access its account and use the platform.

Each advertiser is responsible for ensuring that all persons authorised by it to access and utilise the platform (whether employees, agents or representatives) comply with these terms at all times.

4.3. The advertiser guarantees that her/his data supplied during the sign-up process are correct. The operator is entitled but not obliged to verify this information. Each advertiser is responsible to confirm the identity of her/his contract partner. Furthermore, the operator is entitled but not obliged to verify the credit standing of the advertisers. Advertiser hereby declare that they agree with a possible verification process.

4.4. If the advertiser's information changes, the advertiser is obliged to update her/his information independently without omissions and indicate these changes to the operator.

4.5. In accordance with the regulations concerning the sign-up process and the current contract, the operator retains the right to demand an excerpt from the commercial register and/or from the professional trade register and other documents and information that are deemed necessary or useful for the sign-up process or the current contract.

5. Responsibility for contents, advertiser liability, exemption

5.1. To the operator, the product database is made up of external content, this data is updated periodically. Advertisers are solely responsible for the quoted prices they advertise to the customer and are obliged to regularly ensure their pricing structure relates to their expected margin levels.

Advertisers are especially responsible that the content submitted to the platform is not against the law and does not affect the rights of third parties (e.g. copyright and trademark rights). If the content submitted does not comply to these conditions, advertisers are obliged to correct or delete it as appropriate.

5.2. The operator does not examine the correctness or completeness of offers submitted to the platform, or whether they affect the rights of third parties or are in discordance with objective law. Therefore, the operator is not liable for any offences in the aforementioned areas, or for the credit standing of advertisers.

5.3. The operator does not assume responsibility or liability that may result from sales agreements negotiated or concluded based on offers displayed on the platform if they cannot be enforced due to legal regulations of an involved state or lead to any other legal or economic disadvantages for one or both parties.

5.4. Advertisers are liable for all activities carried out under their user accounts. The operator emphasises that passwords and usernames must be kept secret. The operator never asks for such information to be provided.

5.5. The advertiser exempts the operator from all legal claims made against the operator by third parties that result from the advertisers offers or from utilising the platform in any other way. The user is obliged to pay for the necessary legal representation through the operator including any fees arising in connection with court proceeding and legal representation at the legally determined cost, unless the user cannot be held accountable for the violation.

5.6. The user agreement, i.e. the user account based on these general terms and conditions, cannot be transferred by the user. Passing on any information necessary for utilising the platform to third parties is strictly prohibited. A third party is any natural or legal person not identical with the advertiser. Violations will be legally persecuted.

5.7. The database and technology run by the operator is protected by copyright. Advertisers or customers are not permitted to copy, distribute, or reproduce contents of the database or technology independently or with the assistance of third parties, to download through robot/crawler or other automatic mechanisms or to search the database or use mechanisms likely to overload the platform or exceed the average user load by 30%.

6. Deleting offers, Blocking, Termination, and other measures

6.1. The user agreement can be terminated in writing at the end of the year. The notification period is one month. The right to extraordinary termination according to point 5 remains intact.

6.2. If it can be reasonably assumed that an advertiser is violating legal regulations, accepted principles of morality, the rights of third parties, or these general terms and conditions, or the operator has other justified interests, the operator is entitled to implement the following measures:

-Deleting offers or other contents that have been published on the platform.

-Issuing warnings to users

-Restricting/limiting use of the platform

-Preliminary or final exclusion (blocking) of users

6.3. When choosing one of the abovementioned measures, the operator respects the legitimate interests of the user in question, especially when there are indications that the user may not be responsible for the violation.

6.4. The operator is entitled to delete individual offers if their content or presentation is in violation of these general terms and conditions, especially the regulations detailed under clause 4 and 5, if it is contrary to legal regulations, or it adversely affects the rights of third parties.

6.5. The operator is entitled to exclude a user immediately and permanently from the platform and/or the user agreement if the user repeatedly and seriously breaches these general terms and conditions or another significant reason exists. Such reasons exist especially when a user:

-Has abused and especially passed on information obtained in connection with using the platform to third parties.

-Has passed on access information to third parties in violation of clauses 5 and 6.

Or

-Has constantly or repeatedly failed to pay her/his user subscription fees on time.

This right leaves any further rights of the operator, especially the right to compensation intact.

6.6. If contractual relations are resumed and a user regains access to his/her account after the user agreement has been terminated or blocked by the operator according to clause 5, the operator is entitled to demand a renewal fee based on the operators' current price list.

7. Duration and Renewal of subscription

7.1 The contract between the advertiser and operator will come into when the operator acknowledges the receipt of the subscription fee and will continue unless and until terminated in accordance with clause 9.

7.2 From time to time we may offer trials of Paid Subscriptions for a specified period without payment or at a reduced rate (a "Trial"). We reserve the right, in its absolute discretion, to determine your eligibility for a Trial, and, subject to applicable laws, to withdraw or to modify a Trial at any time without prior notice and with no liability, to the greatest extent permitted under the law.

For some Trials, we'll require you to provide your payment details to start the Trial. At the end of such trials, we may automatically start to charge you for the applicable paid subscription on the first day following the end of the trial, on a recurring monthly or annual basis. By providing your payment details in conjunction with the trial, you agree to this charge using such payment details. If you do not want this charge, you must cancel the applicable paid subscription through your account's dashboard or terminate your account before the end of the trial.

8. Payment deadlines and cost of user fees, Payment
