Gary Johnson
Regional Manager Skylinks at Long Beach Golf Course

By Israel Matthews

Whether you live in sunny California or you are just visiting, be sure to schedule a tee time at the Skylinks at Long Beach Golf Course. If you are looking for a Panache course, this is it! This 6,909-yard par 72 championship course is owned by the city of Long Beach, and was designed by the prominent golf courses architect Cal Olson. After finding this hidden jewel by accidentally missing my entrance onto the 405 freeway, I decided to stop and look around. It was so breathtaking. A few days later I was able to talk to Gary Johnson the Regional Manager and find out a bit more about him and this sensational course

This golf enthusiast who was born in Tennessee started playing golf when he was 5 years old and grew heavenly into Junior tournaments so much so that at Germantown High School he was on the golf team and his skills on the course took the team, for the first time, to the state championships.

There is nothing like being in the environment with a game you love, Mr. Johnson had the privilege and the pleasure of working and at the same time being on the golf team at the Windyke Country Club where he worked in the carts and range department until in 2002 when he moved to San Diego to continue his education..
