

NORTHUMBERLAND LIGHT BLUES

Monthly Update

JULY
2025

Welcome!

Welcome to the July edition of the Northumberland Light Blues monthly update – designed to keep you informed, inspired, and involved. Whether you're newly initiated or well into your Masonic journey, this monthly roundup is here to celebrate your progress, share what's been happening, and let you know how to get more out of your membership.

Our Highlights

- In June Over 70 masons attended our NLB Conference with presentations given by senior members of the provincial team
- We have launched a new website which includes a calendar of events as well as useful resources, including a "Worshipful Professor" Feature... check it out!

Monthly Focus:

Solomon

Solomon is the official learning platform of the United Grand Lodge of England (UGLE), designed to help Freemasons deepen their understanding of the Craft and Royal Arch. It offers a wide range of accessible articles, videos, and presentations—called nuggets and modules—that explore Masonic history, symbolism, ritual, and best practice. Whether you're just starting out or more experienced, Solomon supports self-paced learning, encourages curiosity, and helps make sense of the deeper meanings within Freemasonry. You can sign up for free at solomon.ugle.org.uk.

The platform also includes the Solomon Academy, a structured course covering the key stages of your Masonic journey, with certificates and a Diploma awarded upon completion. It's a brilliant way to build your confidence, enrich your experience, and contribute more meaningfully to your Lodge and beyond.
