

UNISON the union for

Probation Service Staff

If you work for the Probation Service in pay bands 2 - 6, UNISON is the union for you, whatever job you do.

It takes a whole team of staff to rehabilitate people on probation, protect victims and keep communities safe.

UNISON is proud to represent Probation Service staff and proud of our network of representatives who all work in the Service just like you. They know first-hand about the issues facing you at work. Whether it's problems with your pay, workloads which are too high, a grievance, a serious further offence investigation, discrimination and harassment, or health and safety issues, we are here to help.

UNISON is campaigning to get you a better deal on your pay and conditions, an end to dangerously high workloads, a safe workplace and a voice when you need it most. So, join UNISON today and add your voice to ours to make the Probation Service a better place to work.
