and Charter of Fundamental Liberties

Proclamation of Independence establishing the Republic of Albion

We hold this truth to be self-evident: that all people are created and remain equal. They are endowed by Nature and its Common Law with an unalienable life, liberty and sovereignty to govern and protect themselves, their children and the Earth.

When any system of government or power is destructive to such life and sovereign liberty, it is the inherent right and duty of all people to resist and overthrow such oppression and create among themselves new associations to safeguard their fundamental liberties and sovereignty.

Therefore, we the freeborn men and women of the lands known as England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland, as the ultimate source of authority and law, and according to the obligations bestowed upon us by Necessity and Right of Natural Law, do hereby proclaim the following:

For centuries, the people of our lands have struggled and suffered under an oppressive, self-perpetuating oligarchy known as the Crown of England. In alliance with its criminal partners, the Church of England and the Church of Rome and their corporate associates, this oligarchy has drained the wealth and vitality of our nation, despoiled the Earth, waged cruel wars of conquest and extermination, trafficked and murdered the innocent, imposed fraudulent laws and taxes, subverted and crushed our liberties, stolen and destroyed our children, impoverished our people through unjust laws, and shackled our lives with tyranny and injustice.

This tyranny is attested by the growing inequity and police state regime that has spread across our nation and subverted the rule of law and genuine democracy behind a sham of parliamentary pretence. As Oliver Cromwell declared in 1653, "An immovable parliament is worse than no parliament at all." And we say that a Britain ruled by unaccountable corporations and monarchs is not a free nation, but a criminal regime.

The British Crown's criminal nature is further attested by its lawful conviction for Crimes against Humanity on February 25th 2013 by an international human rights court. The verdict of that court disestablished the authority of the British Crown and its criminal co-conspirator the Vatican and sentenced Elizabeth Windsor (aka 'Queen Elizabeth') and Joseph Ratzinger (aka 'Pope Benedict') to life imprisonment in absentia.

The effect of that historic verdict was the same as when the tyrant King Charles the First was decapitated on January 30th 1649: it severed the power of the monarchy and lay the basis for a Republic in Great Britain and every Commonwealth country. Thus did the sovereign Republic of Kanata arise in the wake of the 2013 verdict, to replace Crown rule in Canada. Now it is time for the people of our land to do the same.

Like his namesake who was overthrown by Parliament in 1649, the present King Charles is awash in corruption and complicity in murder. The same court that convicted his mother Elizabeth for the abduction and disappearance of indigenous children in Canada in October 1964 found

Charles guilty of ordering the murder of William Combes, an eyewitness to that abduction.

By law, no convicted criminal is allowed to govern or hold office, and must be deposed. Anyone who serves or protects such a criminal is guilty of the same offence, since "Be you ever so high, you are not above the law."

As three arms of a criminal octopus, the Crown, the Church of England and the Vatican have no legitimacy or lawful authority, and pose a permanent threat to the lives and liberties of our people. Having been lawfully abolished by an Act of Parliament of March 17th 1649, the British monarchy has never been a lawful de jure power since then; it remains a detestable rogue regime whose replacement is a matter of Necessity and Justice. Accordingly, there exists no institutional remedy for the institutionalized crime of the Crown. The cure for the Group Crime of British Church and State is a new nation, conceived in liberty and the sacred understanding that the people must govern themselves and not be governed by one man.

Under Magna Carta and our long tradition of Common Law, we the people have the right and duty to depose monarchs and establish just laws and governance. In that spirit and to protect ourselves from tyranny, we have combined and covenanted together to establish a self-governing Republic of Equals known as Albion.

Therefore let it be known that because of these indisputable facts, we the people gathered in common Assembly hereby and for ever sever all allegiance, whether real or implied, to the British monarchy and the convicted criminal called King Charles the Third, and to the present government and its crown law.

And further, we the people establish across England, Scotland, Wales, and Northern Ireland a new sovereign jurisdiction and Body Politic that is the Sovereign Republic of Albion, which replaces the national and legal authority of the former United Kingdom.

In that solemn purpose, we acknowledge that all the people of our new Republic must safeguard their lives, well-being and liberties through laws and practices that serve everyone, and not according to class distinctions and special privileges. We therefore proclaim that the industries, banks, and general wealth of our nation and its lands, waters, and resources are not the sole property of any individual, group, or corporation, but belong equally to and are collectively owned by all the people, according to the Natural Law of Equity, Justice, and Peace.

Therefore, upon this Pronouncement and Necessity, warranted by our Sovereignty and Right of Claim as freeborn men and women, We the People of Albion invoke the judgement of the Law and the blessings of creation and our ancestors by hereby proclaiming the establishment for all time of the Sovereign Republic of Albion. This Republic shall now and henceforth constitute the sole legitimate authority and lawful jurisdiction governing the lands and waters of the former so-called United Kingdom. We make this solemn Proclamation freely and without mental reservation or ulterior motive, according to our conscience as freeborn men and women within the Natural Law. And we enshrine this Proclamation and purpose within the Constitution of our Republic and its Charter of Liberties, which together constitute the highest law of our land.

And whereas it has been found by experience that the office of a King is unnecessary, burdensome, and dangerous to the liberty, safety, and public interest of the people, it is therefore enacted and ordained by this present Parliament that the office of a King in this nation shall not henceforth be exercised and that no one person shall hold the office, style, dignity, power, or authority of King of the Kingdom of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland. - An Act of Parliament, 17th March 1649, London

As a lawfully convicted criminal guilty of crimes against humanity, Charles Windsor has lost his right to govern as well as his authority and status as the head of state of the British Commonwealth and its member states. Under the Law of Nations and the common law, the British monarchy, like its criminal co-conspirator, the Vatican Incorporated, constitutes a rogue criminal regime standing outside the international community. Accordingly, all agents of the 'British crown' and Commonwealth citizens are released from their allegiance to that regime. They are compelled by the law and Necessity to disavow, undermine, and overthrow the British crown and replace it with free, responsible, and accountable governance created by and for all the people. - From the verdict of the International Common Law Court of Justice, 25th February 2013, Brussels.
