To whom it may concern,

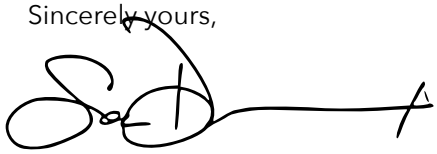

I'm pleased to recommend Anastasia Tsikhanava as a costume designer. Having worked with her directly, I can confidently speak to her talent, professionalism, and dedication.

Anastasia designed looks for every character that felt specific and personal, each costume revealed something about who that person was and grounded them in the story. Just as importantly, when the full cast was together, everything worked beautifully within a cohesive color palette. She made it look easy.

Anastasia accomplished all of this on a tight budget without it ever showing in the final product. She's resourceful, hardworking, and brings real creative instinct to everything she touches. Any production looking for a talented costume designer would be smart to bring her on board. I recommend her highly.

Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions,

Sincerely yours,

Sean Devereaux
