PROTECTING THE PRIVATE SECTOR

The threat landscape facing private organizations has never been more complex. From workplace violence and executive targeting to critical infrastructure attacks and insider threats, businesses today require professional-grade security strategies — not just guards and cameras. PDG brings a military-caliber approach to private sector security, delivering customized, intelligence-driven programs that protect your people, your assets, and your operations.

Tailored Security Programs

No cookie-cutter solutions. Every security program is designed around your specific environment, threat profile, operational tempo, and budget — built by operators who have lived it.

Confidential & Discreet

PDG professionals operate with the discretion your organization requires. We integrate seamlessly with your team, protecting your reputation and personnel without unnecessary attention.

Intelligence-Led Approach

We don't wait for incidents — we prevent them. Our threat assessment methodology identifies vulnerabilities before they become crises, using proven military intelligence frameworks adapted for civilian environments.

Scalable & Flexible Engagements

From a one-time facility assessment to a full-time embedded security team, PDG scales to meet your needs. Short-term engagements, retainers, and long-term contracts all available.
