ADVERTISING

NEW—Email Blast!

A $10 charge for sending out an e-mail blast will be assessed to all members & non-members wishing to advertise a clinic, show or other activity, not endorsed by IaDCTA. Said fee is to be paid in advance before an e-mail will be sent.

Individuals/organizations, whether member or non-member, who wish to advertise clinics and shows, not recognized by IaDCTA, are subject to a $30 fee for advertising in the Collection.

The above does not apply to those who fill out the Show Recognition Form and pay the $35/per show recognition fee. Said fee entitles the show bill and entry form to be published in the Collection.

A free listing in the Collection Event Calendar is available to members & non-members.

2014 CLINICS

“Butterflies Will Not Eat You” or Bomb Proofing Your Horse

Larry Bradley Clinic

April 5 & 6, 2014

Tamarack Stables, Anamosa, Iowa

Is your horse a bit nervous? Does he/she worry about everything? Does your horse need a bit more experience with the “real world”? Or maybe just a bit of a tune up before you both go adventuring?

Come to the Larry Bradley clinic and learn how to keep your horse calm and focused. Each day is a separate clinic, consisting of half a day ground work and half a day mounted work. Space will be limited. The additional details and entry form will be in the March Collection.

Get your riding season started on a calm hoof.

The IaDCTA Presents

“A Dressage Learning Experience ”

With Clinician

Matt McLaughlin

Dates: May 16, 2014 evening, May 17 & 18, 2014

Matt McLaughlin’s training technique combines the principles of classical dressage, and Natural Horsemanship integrating this with the requirements needed to be successful in the dressage arena.

Matt McLaughlin has trained horses that have succeeded through the Grand Prix level both on a national and international level. He has earned the USDF Bronze, Silver and Gold metals. Matt travels throughout North America and Europe as a clinician.

Look for more details about this terrific learning experience in the next Collection.

The Importance of the Small Donor By Beth Baumert, President & CEO of The Dressage Foundation

The toughest part about the sport of dressage has nothing to do with riding skill--it's the finances. That's why The Dressage Foundation (TDF) exists--to help. TDF has been referred to as the sport's bank. When TDF accepts donations, not only are the funds invested wisely in the traditional sense, but we consider our grant recipients as an investment in the betterment of dressage in this country at all levels--from the young rider to the adult amateurs, to the instructor-trainers, to the judges, the breeders and the high performance riders. TDF has grants to fit every category.

The mission of The Dressage Foundation is to fundamentally change the game on all levels of the playing field. (See "What's In It for You?" for a list of some of the benefits you can derive from The Dressage Foundation.) But, like every good story, there's a problem. If TDF is like a bank, money goes in and out. The "out" part is fun and gratifying, but gone are the days when Lowell Boomer, founder of both USDF and TDF, is covering the day-to-day expenses that are required to run a non-profit corporation.

People think TDF is all about the big donor. That's a misconception. It's true that The Dressage Foundation gives away about $200,000 each year, but those funds are designated, and they don't operate the non-profit organization that manages the funds. This misconception persists.

Someone recently said to me, "Oh, I got that appeal in the mail from TDF, and I put it aside because I thought, 'I can't give enough to make a difference.'" I understood her attitude because before I became involved with TDF, I also thought TDF was all about big donors. In the old days, it was, but giving is less attractive for big donors than it used to be. That said, TDF has had its share of them. The big donors are like the Generals and the Colonels of our little army. Anne Ramsay, Carol Lavell and her remarkable father, Gordon Cadwgan, Renee Isler, Ralph Dreitzler, Lowell, John and Lynn Boomer, Violet Hopkins, Maryal Barnett and there are others.

Without the Generals and the Colonels, TDF wouldn't exist, but without the foot soldiers, nothing works. We can't operate on a day-to-day basis without foot soldiers--without friends. Since the advent of Facebook, it's become socially acceptable to say we want to have more friends, and we do. We want more friends.

As I learn more about nonprofit organizations, I'm learning about the importance of the small donor. If everyone in USDF gave $5, TDF could move mountains. But that doesn't happen. The small donor is important. It's much easier for 1000 people to give $25 than for one person to give $25,000. TDF appreciates small gifts. We're a sport of passionate people who are givers. At the GMO level, there is always a strong core of people who give of their time, their energy and their money. Many of them move into action at the Annual USDF Convention, and it is clear that they are the foot soldiers who make the wheels turn in this sport of dressage that we love. Please ask what your GMO can do for The Dressage Foundation. And, to all those small donors out there who are already our friends, THANK YOU!

Beth Baumert

President, The Dressage Foundation

What's In It for You?

The Carol Lavell Prize sends High Performance riders to train and show in Europe. In the name of Anne Ramsay, American-bred horses train in Europe. The International Dream program (formerly called Olympic Dream) has sent young riders to Europe annually since 2000. Anders Lindgren Instructor funds go to instructors throughout the country, as does the Continuing Education for Instructors Grant. Last year, the Renee Isler Dressage Support Fund helped several young riders and professionals. The Violet Hopkins Dressage Support Fund was awarded to 24 GMOs, and the Dancing Horse Fund awarded funds to 9 GMOs. The Heldenberg Fund sends amateurs or young riders to the Spanish Riding School. The Gifted Fund helps adult amateurs from all regions. Funding also goes directly to USDF in the form of grants for the Young Rider Graduate Program, Junior/Young Rider Clinics and Continuing Education for Judges. For more information about TDF awards, visit our website at www.dressagefoundation.org.

SHADOWING

March Ride-a-Test & Schooling Show

Dates March 22 – 23, 2014

Iowa Equestrian Center Cedar Rapids, Iowa

The IaDCTA is giving its members the opportunity to learn just exactly what am I volunteering for or what does this position do at a show.

At the March Ride-a-Test & Schooling Show take the “opportunity” to shadow a seasoned volunteer and learn just what the responsibilities are included with each position. Or use this “opportunity” to learn what is needed to “put on” a dressage show.

So use that spare time between rides – shadow a volunteer.

A signup sheet will be located in the show office or you can speak to the show secretary.

RE: 2014 Sponsorship Opportunities Iowa Dressage Classics I & II –
USDF/USEF Recognized Dressage Show June 14-15, 2014 - Maffitt
Lake Equestrian Center – Cumming, IA

On behalf of the Iowa Dressage & Combined Training Association, I am proud to offer you the opportunity to be an active supporter of our organization. For nearly 35 years, IaDCTA has been supporting and promoting the equine sports of dressage and combined training throughout the state of Iowa and across the region. As a nonprofit organization, we rely on the support of our members, donors and sponsors to help us fulfill our mission.

This year we will be offering sponsors the opportunity to support multiple events through a single sponsorship package. On June 14-15, IaDCTA will be hosting the 17th Annual Iowa Dressage Classics I & II USEF/USDF-recognized horse shows. The Classics will be held at the Maffitt Lake Equestrian Center – a beautiful, state-of-the-art equestrian facility – in Cumming, IA. Every year, the number of competitors and spectators at the Classics continues to grow, drawing dressage people from states across the Midwest. Not only is this the result of the very positive feedback received by the shows but it is also evidence that interest in dressage is spreading.

In addition to the Classics, IaDCTA provides dressage and combined training riders more competition opportunities through our IaDCTA-Recognized Show Series, which will culminate this year with the fourth annual IaDCTA Show Series Championship on October 24-26, 2014, at the Iowa Equestrian Center (IEC) in Cedar Rapids, IA. Held for the past two years at the same facility, the championship show combines serious competition with entertainment, bringing in a large crowd of both horse people and the general public. Sponsors are essential to the success of our organization and we certainly appreciate how much past sponsorships have allowed us to expand and improve our events.

In addition to IaDCTA, your sponsorship will also bring great benefit to Wildwood Hills Ranch, a non-profit, youth-development organization in St. Charles, IA that serves Iowa's neediest children. Every year, a percentage of the profits from our events are given to Wildwood to help fund the programs it provides to make a difference in the lives of many children. Please take a few minutes to review the following sponsorship package, which explains the numerous benefits of becoming an IaDCTA sponsor. Not only are we determined to making the Iowa Dressage Classics one of the premier dressage competitions in the region, but we are even more committed to expanding the opportunity for more people to enjoy dressage and eventing. Your support of these goals is vital. Thank you very much for your consideration of this request.

*Regards,
Tammy Lisi*
