Lesley went above and beyond my expectations. She worked very hard and all the hard work paid off. I would recommend her to everyone. I always felt she had my best interests when negotiating with buyers. The mortgage rates fluctuations made this process difficult but Lesley was always positive that we could weather the storm.

I felt Leslie went above and beyond throughout my ride towards my new home. She's definitely somebody you want in your corner for this process, she's very knowledgeable and uses everything she knows whether you inquire about it or not in your advantage. I'm very appreciative for her guidance, what she taught me, and the experience!

Realtorlesleydavidson Is the REAL DEAL! ???? She is an amazing Realtor and Engineer with a Masters in Business! TRIPLE THREAT! ????She genuinely cared about us, not about the closing...her hospitality and passion is what brings an amazing home buying experience and long lasting positive memories. If you're looking for someone who's an expert in structural design, knows all the ins and outs of realty, business savvy and passionate to help people—look no further! As a customer experience professional myself, you won't regret working with her!

Lesley was great to work with and guided us to a sale of our house very quickly. Her abilities led to multiple offers resulting in us accepting an offer slightly over list price!

What can you say besides WOW the best. She went above and beyond. Patient and kind with me tenacious with the buyers agent She got the asking price and in half the average time of area sales she is everything you want an agent to be I will work with her again and strongly recommend her to anyone and everyone who asks. Thank you Lesley

In addition to being a real estate agent, Lesley is a structural engineer with 20 years + experience. She prepared my home for sale, reviewed the condition, staged the home, prepared a marketing analysis for correct pricing, and she arranged for a professional photographer so that the home showed well on social media. Regarding social media, my home was featured prominently on many social media marketing platforms such as Twitter, LinkedIn, Facebook, Pinterest, and Instagram. Lesley also ensured that my home was displayed on The Wall Street Journal so that relocating business people could review my home. My home sold in less than 30 days, and at a price that was higher than the initial listing price would have been had I gone with other local agents. She helped throughout the negotiation as well as inspection process, keeping me in contract and closing. As closing neared, Lesley helped me find a rental property and walked me through the process.
