

Recent Issues with Online Scheduling?

We have heard from some clients that the online scheduling software has a few new glitches. The scheduling platform recently updated their software which is beyond our control. If you are having trouble, please try the following:

- Clear cookies.
- Open a new incognito tab in Google to make a reservation.
- If you are using a saved account, you could create a new account going forward.
- Re-enter your phone number on your old account.
- Please call or text Cindy at 713-252-3027 if you are still having issues.
- We apologize for the inconvenience.
