

My painting was inspired by one of Picasso's most famous paintings: "The Dream," which sold for 25 million about 20 years ago. My muse is symbolically taking back her power.. we all remember how Picasso treated women. Louise Hay's staff wanted to use her for their product line, but I had in mind a different outlet. I made several versions which went for 1,200.00. This is my last studio version. 48 x 48" $395.00 ~Just SOLD~
