Data Protection Policy

Policy Statement

UKIC will comply with all statutory requirements of The Data Protection Act 2018 (“the Act”) by taking all reasonable steps to ensure the accuracy and confidentiality of such information. UKIC needs to gather and use certain information about individuals. These can be parents, students, agents, homestays, suppliers, business contacts, employees and other people the guardianship organisation has a relationship with or may need to contact.

This policy describes how this personal data must be collected, handled and stored to meet the UKIC data protection standards, and to comply with the legislation.

Policy

Why this policy exists

This data protection policy ensures UKIC:

- Complies with data protection law and follows good practice;
- Protects the rights of staff, parents, students, homestays and partners (such as schools);
- Is open about how it stores and processes individual’s data;
- Protects itself from the risk of data breach.

The Information Commissioner’s Office

The Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) is “the UK’s independent authority set up to uphold information rights in the public interest, promoting openness by public bodies and data privacy for individuals” (from ICO website). It is responsible for administering the provisions of the Data Protection Act 2018; the Freedom of Information Act 2000; and the UK General Data Protection Regulation 2018.

The Act requires every data controller who is processing personal information to register with the ICO (unless exempt). UKIC is registered with the ICO as a data controller, and this is renewed annually (Registration reference: ZA924771).

The ICO publishes a Register of data controllers on their website, on which UKIC is listed (listed as our registered name, UK Independent Colleges Limited).

The Data Protection Act 2018

The DPA 2018 sets out the framework for data protection law in the UK. It updates and replaces the Data Protection Act 1998, and came into effect on 25 May 2018.

It sits alongside the UK GDPR, and tailors how the GDPR applies in the UK - for example by providing exemptions. It also sets out separate data protection rules for law enforcement authorities, extends data protection to some other areas such as national security and defence, and sets out the Information Commissioner’s functions and powers.

The Act protects individuals’ rights concerning information about them held on computer and in any UKIC personnel files and databases. These rules apply regardless of whether data is stored electronically, on paper or other materials.

To comply with the law, personal information must be collected and used fairly, stored safely and not disclosed unlawfully.

The Freedom of Information Act 2000

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 provides public access to information held by public authorities, in two ways:

- public authorities are obliged to publish certain information about their activities; and
- members of the public are entitled to request information from public authorities.

UK General Data Protection Regulation 2018

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (EU) 2016/679 is a regulation in EU law on data protection and privacy for all individuals within the European Union. The GDPR is retained in UK law now the transition period has ended (UK GDPR) and the key principles, rights and obligations remain the same.

GDPR replaces the 1995 Data Protection Directive (Directive 95/46/EC) -The Data Protection Act 1998. Although the key principles of data privacy still hold true to the previous directive, many changes have been proposed to the regulatory policies.

The GDPR places greater emphasis on the documentation that data controllers must keep to demonstrate their accountability. Compliance requires organisations to review their approach to governance and how they manage data protection as a corporate issue.

UKIC will handle and protect all information in line with data protection principles set out in the Act. Under the Act, anyone processing data must comply with the eight principles of good practice for data protection, as detailed below:

Data will be:

- used fairly, lawfully and transparently
- used for specified, explicit purposes
- used in a way that is adequate, relevant and limited to only what is necessary
- accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date
- kept for no longer than is necessary
- handled in a way that ensures appropriate security, including protection against unlawful or unauthorised processing, access, loss, destruction or damage

This UKIC Data Protection policy applies to personal data as defined by the Act – that is, data from which a living individual can be identified, either from data alone, or from that data and other information that is held by the data controller. This includes information held on computer, paper files, photographs etc.

Responsibilities

This policy applies to the main office of UKIC, all staff and volunteers of UKIC, and all homestays and other people working on behalf of UKIC. The scope of the policy applies to all data held by UKIC relating to identifiable individuals. Everyone who works for UKIC has responsibility for ensuring data is collected, stored and handled appropriately – all must ensure personal data is handled and processed in line with this policy and data protection principles.

The data controller (Zhi XU) is responsible for:

- Keeping the directors updated about data protection responsibilities, risks and issues;
- Reviewing all data protection procedures and policies;
- Arranging data protection training if required;
- Handling data protection queries from those working for and with UKIC;

- Assisting with any agreements with third parties that may handle sensitive data;
- Ensuring that all systems, services and equipment used for storing data meet acceptable security standards, including ensuring regular checks, scans and updates to ensure security hardware and software are functioning properly.

The purpose of the Act is to make sure that personal data is used in a way that is fair to the individual and protects their rights, while enabling organisations to process personal data in pursuit of their legitimate aims.

- Data should be held in as few places as necessary. Staff should not create any unnecessary additional data sets;
- Staff should take every opportunity to ensure data is updated, for instance, details can be updated when a parent calls;
- Any data inaccuracies should be corrected as soon as discovered, for instance if a member can no longer be reached on their stored telephone number, this should be removed from the database).

Data protection risks

This policy helps to protect UKIC from data security risks including:

- Breaches of confidentiality, for instance: information being given out inappropriately;
- Failing to offer choice, for instance: all individuals should be free to choose how the company uses data relating to them;
- Reputational damage, for instance: the company could suffer if hackers successfully gained access to sensitive data.

Accessing your information

Under the Act, an individual is entitled to ask UKIC:

- For a copy of the personal information held by UKIC;

- For any inaccuracies to be corrected;
- How to gain access to such data;
- How they are meeting their data protection obligations.

Such requests are known as ‘subject access requests’. Such requests should be made either via email or via the post.

Email requests should be addressed to the data controller (Zhi XU) at uk3@primecolleges.co.uk.

Postal requests should be submitted to: 179 Dutton Road, Bristol, BS14 8BZ

There is no administration charge for any subject access request. The data controller will aim to provide the relevant data within 14 working days. The data controller will always verify the identity of anyone making a subject access request before handing over any information.

Sharing your personal information

In certain circumstances, the Data Protection Act allows personal data to be disclosed to law enforcement agencies without the consent of the data subject. Under these circumstances, UKIC will disclose requested data. However, the data controller will ensure the request is legitimate, seeking assistance from the Director, and by taking legal advice where necessary. If on the rare occasion, we need to share data, we will only use data anonymously.

If personal information is shared, it will be done so in line with the Act. You are entitled to know why and how we are sharing your personal information and the organisation or individual receiving your personal information will be required to protect your information in line with the Act.

UKIC aims to ensure that individuals are aware that their data is being processed and that they understand:

- How the data is being used;
- How to exercise their rights.

To these ends, a copy of this policy which sets out how data relating to individuals is used by UKIC can be available on request.
