(Heating Ventilation and Cooling - HVAC)

"I am very pleased to recommend the business tax incentive services of Your Strategy Partners (YSP). I thought it was probably too good to be true, but YSP was really able to help my HVAC company, Speedy Air Conditioning, recover overpaid taxes from the Federal Government because of tax credits and incentives, which had gone unclaimed. There was no cost for the initial analysis, the process was easy and totally secure. I highly recommend Rick and Debbie Perry and Your Strategy Partners.

(Medical - Dentist)

"We are pleased to recommend the services of Your Strategy Partners. We heard that dental practices might qualify for business tax incentives, then we spoke with Debbie and Rick Perry of your Strategy Partners (YSP). With years of experience, and many successful recovers, YSP helped Pelican Landing Dental to recover overpaid taxes from the Federal Government because of tax credits, which had gone unclaimed. Our practice will be able to use our refund to expand our business. We highly recommend the services of Your Strategy Partners."

(Medical - Plastic Surgeon)

"I recently had an agreement with Rick and Deb Perry who are business strategy consultants. They came in, we talked and they then reviewed my 'business behaviors.' They were able to help me recover "significant federal tax credits." Great people to work with. I give them my highest recommendation."

Robert J. Brueck, M.D.

(Kitchen Renovations & Design)

"I met with Your Strategy Partners (Rick & Debbie Perry) and learned that the Federal Government has a Business Tax Incentive program specifically to incentivize businesses like mine...Although I thought it was probably too good to be true, Your Strategy Partners was really able to recover those unclaimed tax credits...and get back my overpaid taxes from the IRS. I am pleased to recommend Your Strategy Partners.

KOBIE KOOLING, INC. (Heating Ventilation and Cooling - HVAC)

“Although I heard about Federal tax incentive programs before, I did not think that my HVAC company, Kobie Kooling, would have the opportunity to recover overpaid taxes from the IRS. But Your Strategy Partners was really able to help us qualify for business tax credits and incentives...Because we have developed some unique and proprietary solutions, we qualified for the Research & Development tax credit...I would recommend to any business owner to take an hour to meet with them to apply. It could be well worth your time.”

Fred Kobie, Owner

(Marine - Boat Services, Mechanics & Electronics)

“When I first heard about business tax incentives, I didn’t think my company would qualify. However after meeting with Rick Perry...with Your Strategy Partners (YSP), I decided to apply for tax incentives because of the free estimate. ...I was pleasantly surprised to find that I did qualify for a substantial recovery based on the case YSP built for Legacy Marine...I completely understand anyone’s hesitation because they think ‘it’s too good to be true.’ I assure you these tax incentives are real. You may never know if you qualify without trying...it could give your business a financial boost, just like mine.

(Technology - Software, Invention & Manufacturing)

“My CPA recommended that I should learn more about federal business tax incentives, which could benefit my, since my company invents, innovates, designs and creates software and electronic hardware. As with most tax CPA’s, he does not specialize in the federal or state incentives, so I followed his advice and met with Rick and Debbie Perry of Your Strategy Partners. Their team of tax incentive experts were able to qualify me to recover overpaid federal taxes through credits based upon my business activities. ...the process was professional and confidential...I received my “refund” check back, just as expected.”

Jameel Ahed, President

(Medical – Surgeon)

“Although my CPA firm was aware of the Federal Business Tax Incentives, they did not have enough experience in handling specialty tax return preparations for the R&D tax credits and therefore, had not done them. The Perry’s, through their company (Your Strategy Partners) helped me to identify the qualified activities and expenses and prepared the appropriate documents that enabled me to recover overpaid taxes from at least three years back and now we are continuing to do them going forward. Their work has been exemplary and I am happy to recommend the services of Your Strategy Partners to review practices and potentially lend their expertise.”

STEPHEN PRENDIVILLE, MD - FACIAL PLASTIC SURGERY

(Medical – Plastic Surgeon)

“I did not know that our innovative procedures and research activities qualified for Federal business tax incentives, such as the Research and Development tax credit. So, I am pleased to recommend the services of Rick & Debbie Perry, of Your Strategy Partners. They helped me to qualify and recover overpaid taxes from the past 3 years which had gone unclaimed from the IRS. Although it sounded too good to be true, I took the opportunity to recover my R&D business tax credits...There was no cost for the initial analysis, the process was totally secure, and the IRS sent us our refunds, which I can use to help build my business.”

Dr. Stephen Prendiville, M.D.

(Contractor – Construction)

“Rick & Debbie Perry, of Your Strategy Partners, told me that many businesses in the Construction Industry (like ours) could be qualified for the Research and Development tax credit if they develop, design, create, innovate, make and modify any aspect of their business. The tax team went back 3 years and helped each of us qualify for a very nice recovery. We heartily recommend that any construction company creating innovative solutions should meet with Your Strategy Partners to get a free estimate...”

Keith Albanito, Owner

(Commercial Contractor – Construction)

“I met with Rick & Debbie Perry, of Your Strategy Partners, to learn more about the opportunity and how GCM Contracting Solutions could qualify for the Federal Research & Development tax credit, and recover some of the taxes I paid to the IRS. The Tax Incentive specialists were able to help me recover my overpaid taxes, which will benefit my family and business. There was no cost for the initial analysis, and everything is kept securely confidential. I am pleased to recommend Your Strategy Partners. If you pay too much tax, and your company performs innovative activities, they might be able to help you qualify too.”
