

CODE OF CONDUCT

Members of The Celebrant Circle are representatives of the organisation and embrace our ethos of professionalism, honesty, integrity, and inclusivity.

Our Celebrants reflect these core values by adhering to the 'Code of Conduct.' They will conduct their business with professionalism, acting in an ethical manner to ensure the best interests of all clients are upheld at all times. They will demonstrate the highest levels of respect and client care, treating each client or family as individuals and creating unique ceremonies tailored to their individual needs.

Professionalism

We are friendly, approachable, and communicate effectively with our clients and fellow professionals. We are excellent time-keepers, reliable, well-organised, and mindful of time constraints.

We are good listeners and empathic, treating our clients as individuals and acknowledging their requests and requirements. We recognise the necessity to retain a professional stance when leading ceremonies.

We are respectful of other professionals and will work collaboratively and efficiently at all times.

We are proficient in computer and IT skills and communicate effectively.

We maintain a professional and positive attitude when engaging in social media or online discussions. We do not get involved in arguments and do not use inflammatory or provocative language when offering our opinions.

We are GDPR compliant and understand the necessity to work confidentially. We have appropriate professional insurance coverage in place.

We ensure we are well-groomed and dressed appropriately at all times when conducting our business.
