

PRICKLY FINGERS QUILTERS GUILD

DECEMBER 2025 NEWSLETTER

President's Message

Lou Ann Martin, President

- I hope everyone is looking forward to the Christmas Social at our next meeting. The social is always a fun time of fellowship and food. Also, be sure to come by the Anderson Library to see our Christmas display! We plan to put it up the morning of December 1.
- The Quilt Show is seven and a half months away! Hopefully everyone is busy finishing up items to be displayed and/or working on items that can be sold in the Boutique or Silent Auction. In preparation for the show and to help everyone understand the various categories in the show, beginning in February, the Show and Share portion of each meeting will focus on items that represent the categories. More information will follow at the January meeting.
- Ongoing reminder: Robert Whitehead, from Cowpens, SC, has agreed to make come to the Prickly Fingers Guild meeting periodically to offer his scissor sharpening services ($20 a pair, scissors only). His next visit will be at the February 2026 meeting so come prepared!
- A nominating committee has been formed to come up with a slate of officers for the upcoming year. If you would consider supporting the guild by serving as president, secretary, or treasurer, or possibly working with another person to help with one of those positions, please contact Becky Hastings.

Anderson County Library
Window Installation
December 1, 2025

Guild Members did a beautiful job decorating the window for Christmas at the Anderson County Library! Thanks to everyone who volunteered to put the display together and to those who loaned pieces for the window, too. Library patrons will surely be in the holiday spirit and enjoy our gorgeous display!
