reetings Everyone —

Today is Sunday, October 18th. The 27th Sunday in ordinary time and the 19th Sunday after Pentecost.

Last week we celebrated our service with a special guest, Marion Singleton, who came to share the word with us. It was wonderful to hear Marion speak, and we look forward to having him return again in the future. There were 26 people present and socially distanced in the sanctuary. There were also 10 watching online (four on Zoom and six on Facebook) for a total of 36. Thank you all for continuing to participate and support our church.

Please remember, if you coming to the Sanctuary, please follow all safety guidelines by being masked and maintaining social distance of six feet.

Online viewing options is still available. If you are joining from home, the Zoom instructions are included in the Email or you can connect via Facebook.

Enjoy Sacred Quiet Time

Barbara Hammell

Today I would like to suggest that you create some quiet time to allow your mind and body to fully unwind and relax. Even five minutes spent in silence will nurture and revive your soul and spirit.

During this sacred time, turn off the phone, radio, television, and such. Sink into the quiet without trying to control your thoughts, emotions, or body - in other words, just be.

The moments that you spend alone in silence are a gift you give to yourself. Your inner self thanks you for your nurturing care.

Thought for Today

I invest in myself by spending time in silence. I love quieting my mind And enjoying the sweet sound of tranquility. My mind, body, and emotions are peaceful as I retreat into the sacred space of silence.

Bustleton's Best — Church Cookbook Recipe of the Week

I received a weather alert this afternoon for an overnight Frost Advisory. Since the frost will be on the pumpkin, now is the perfect time to start perfecting our pumpkin recipes to enjoy on crisp autumn days. Let's us begin with Margo's Pumpkin Bread. I can taste it now still warm from the oven with a light spread of butter on it and a cup of coffee. Thanks Margo!

Pumpkin Bread

Margo Mattis

1 2/3 C sifted flour

1/4 t baking powder

1 t baking soda

3/4 t salt (optional)

1/2 t each cinnamon / nutmeg

1 1/3 C sugar

1/3 C melted butter

1/2 t vanilla

2 eggs

1 C pumpkin

1/3 C of water

1/2 C of chopped nuts

Mix together the first five (dry) ingredients. Mix together sugar butter and vanilla and combine with dry mixture. Add the eggs 1 at a time beating well. Stir in 1 cup pumpkin and water. Stir only until smooth, don't over beat. Fold in the chopped nuts. Fold into greased and floured loaf pan. Bake at 350 for 60 minutes, check with toothpick, if it does not come out clean bake 10 minutes more or until toothpick comes out clean. One batch makes 3 little loafs of bread.

Prayer For Today

Hilda Burler Farr

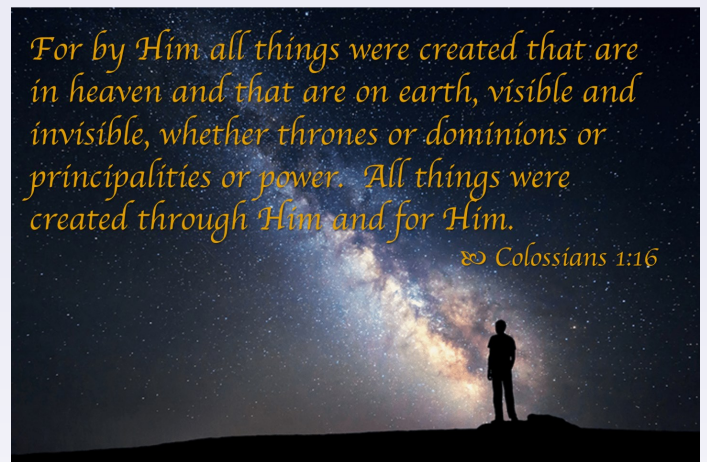

*I only ask
That home shall be
A place where loved ones
Come to rest;
Where peace abides
And faith exits
Somehow because
I did my best.
Tomorrow –
It may never come –
And consequently I do pray
That I may have Enough of strength
To serve the ones
I love today.*

NO MATTER WHAT your circumstances may be, you can find Joy in God's Presence. On some days, Joy is generously strewn along your life-path, glistening in the sunlight. On days like that, being content is as simple as breathing the next breath or taking the next step. Other days are overcast and gloomy; you feel the strain of the journey, which seems endless. Dull gray rocks greet your gaze and cause your feet to ache. Yet Joy is still attainable. Search for it as for hidden treasure.

Begin by remembering that GOD has created this day; it is not a chance occurrence. Recall that He is present with you whether you sense His Presence or not. Then, start talking with God about whatever is on your mind. Rejoice in the fact that God understands you perfectly and knows exactly what you are experiencing. As you continue communicating with Him, your mood will gradually lighten. Awareness of His marvelous Companionship can infuse Joy into the grayest day. Barbara Hammell

For by Him all things were created that are in heaven and that are on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or power. All things were created through Him and for Him.

Name That Youth is back!

I wonder who this handsome blue eyed blond boy could be?

Look at him here. All cherubic just waiting for some fan mail for his flounder.

If I didn't know better I would say it is...

Aaahhh, but it is not for me to say dear readers. Nay, it is for you to guess who our Mystery Youth is.

Some people might say he hasn't changed in all these years which just means he is as constant as the North Star.

Send your guess in for bragging rights, or better yet send in some photos of your own! Someday we will post a collage of all the pictures we have received to date. Won't that be fun!

Newborns In Need has started their Sleepers in September & October Too! Drive

Please help by dropping off sleepers when you bring your offering on a Sunday mornings. Carol Shore will be present at the Sanctuary on Sunday Mornings in September & October to collect your offering. Newborns In Need is also desperately seeking other clothes New or Used in sizes newborn to 6 months.

Don't Forget!

Thank You!!
