- a. The DA (Compliance Role) logs into the system and selects the “Vishwas, 2026” option from the Vishwas, 2026 menu.

The system displays:

- i. A list of applications pending for approval (submitted by Employer or sent back by Employer/SS/APFC for reconsideration).
 - ii. A separate list of applications that are in process or already processed.
- b. The DA clicks on the “View Details” button corresponding to the application requiring action. The Application Details Page is opened, which displays:
 - i. Establishment Details
 - ii. Application Details
 - iii. System-calculated benefit under VISHWAS, 2026
 - c. The DA must select ‘Declaration’ in respect of payment of interest before proceeding with the submission. The DA thereafter shall verify and confirm the payment of interest as necessary precondition for availing benefit.

If the DA disagrees with the system calculations and clicks on “Disagree with System Calculations”, the system redirects the user to the Manual File Upload Page. On this page, the DA is provided with an option to upload a manually prepared text file containing calculation details for the establishment. A help file specifying the required file format is made available for download to assist the user.

3. VISHWAS, 2026 application processing by the Section Supervisor (SS):

The SS (Compliance Role) logs into the system, accesses the Vishwas, 2026 menu, and views applications submitted by the DA, categorised as pending or processed.

By selecting “View Details,” the SS can review establishment details, application details, and calculated or updated benefits. The SS can, then, recommend the application for approval or rejection to the APFC, or send it back to the DA for rechecking, as they do not have authority for final rejection.

All uploaded files are available for review by the SS. The system-generated notes highlight cases requiring special attention of the SS, such as manual calculation uploads or a “No” selection for the interest declaration.

4. VISHWAS, 2026 application processing by APFC:

The APFC logs into the system, accesses the Vishwas, 2026, menu, and reviews applications categorised as pending or processed.

By selecting “View Details,” the APFC can examine establishment details, application details, and calculated or updated benefits. The APFC is the final authority to approve, reject, or send the application back to the DA for rechecking. If approved, the application is forwarded to the employer for final approval; if rejected, the process ends.

All uploaded files are available for review, and system-generated notes highlight cases such as manual calculation uploads or a “No” selection for the interest declaration. Additionally, email and SMS notifications are sent to the employer upon approval or rejection.

5. VISHWAS, 2026 application for payment process by the employer:

The Employer logs into the portal, accesses Vishwas, 2026 and views applications approved by the Field Office under “Approved by RO.”

By selecting “Approve/Reject,” the Employer can review Vishwas calculations, benefits, and any uploaded statement file. The Employer can either agree (proceeding to challan generation and payment), disagree (rejecting the application with no further action), or send it back to the DA for re-evaluation.

Once the challan is generated, it cannot be cancelled; upon successful payment, the application is sent to the APFC for certificate generation and e-signing, after which the signed certificate is made available for download in the Employer’s login.

6. VISHWAS, 2026 certificate signing by APFC/RPFC-II:

The APFC/RPFC-II logs into the system, accesses the Vishwas, 2026 dashboard, and views applications categorised as pending for approval, or pending for eSign/ DSC. The APFC selects the relevant application, reviews the certificate PDF, and proceeds to digitally sign it. The duly signed certificate is made available on the Employer’s portal for download.
