Phoenix Magazine article featuring James T. Harris – He's a hit in the Valley and is making waves with the Conservative Circus!

Phoenix Magazine Article Content:

In 2008, Harris' opinions went viral. At a John McCain rally in Waukesha, he urged the Republican presidential candidate to push harder against then-U.S. Senator from Illinois Barack Obama. Harris told McCain... "It is absolutely vital that you take it to Obama..." Harris said.

Leaning back in a chair at the studio, Harris says he's not interested in hosting your father's conservative talk radio. His drive-time program, The Conservative Circus with James T. Harris, which debuted on KFYL in January, is equal parts right-wing diatribes and PG-13 jokes.

Many people suggest his conservative takes must be part of "an act," he says. "[People say] 'You've got all this jewelry, you can't really be conservative,'" Harris laughs. "Are you actually judging a book by its cover?"
