Re: Employment in the field of Human Resources Management

It is said that your heart is revealed by the way you treat the people around you and Mr. Jeffery Hunter has lived by this principle through ancestral teachings from childhood to his present status as a Director of NCN Human Resources Development Authority.

Jeff has a wonderful understanding of the principles of life and it's challenges, a passion for ethical and honest professional skills, and a bottomless curiosity for human action and life. He has been a leader in the field of Human Resources management since 1990 in our community and has never been concerned about his importance even in his tireless efforts of service. He has wisdom, hope, and promise to offer for the spiritual healing and leadership for people and I have full confidence in him.

He understands that life is not always easy and that life is but a dream. He has highly developed human resource skills and also proven himself invaluable in the training and supervision of an effective life skills team for the community.

I am confident that he will always place his talents in accordance with the traditional and healing approach in this twenty-first century. His record of service to our people equals his commitment and dedication for the betterment of all people beyond the borders of our community.

Words are inadequate to describe the many qualities of this man that I place in this very important step in his life journey. I can assure you that he possesses all the necessary qualifications that professional managers and leaders need. He will serve well and will bring honor, through his humble touch and down-to-earth approaches towards human resource management responsibilities.

I will endorse and give my full support that he will be given the opportunity and honor to follow his visionary leadership.

Sincerely,

Councilor D'Arcy Linklater
