Episode 35

This episode of INSPIRATIONAL features a “True Story” from the life of Ms. Amna Hussain (Career Coach, Career Counsellor, Career Development Consultant, Resume Writer, HR Professional)

“My family is the ideal blessing, glorious beings in my life. I am Amna Hussain, by character a very thoughtful and courageous personality now. You read right? Now! More courageous to win challenges myself. It kicks off when I was in my college days, and everything went black out in life and there was no sign of my career and living ahead. I had super dreams to accomplish that time, but people became one of the biggest barriers. YES! Can you imagine a human turning out to be an obstacle of someone’s life, breaking down to the lowest and giving such wounds by the cold-hearted actions? I was combatting between my studies and dreams to accomplish with the rough on goings...What happened next was truly incredible miracles in life.

With all the falls, I attained my master’s degree in Human Resources & started working at a software house as a HR trainee, but something was missing away which was inside - my calling of empowerment, at workplace and somehow personally. Though my family supported by all means morally & spiritually, but the corporate world beginning was scary, very toxic, and extremely diplomatic. I was all lost and trying to understand how I can compete in this business-related world of hypocritical people far and wide. How can I adapt? Really, should I have to be that dogmatic? These were the questions in the mind day and night. I started exploring more about my personality and beliefs. As a curious one, time to time, I leapt more observing process of Universe very keenly by the age. I went into silence to ask myself, “What I insanely want to achieve in my life & career? What I am passionate about? Can I handle people judgments and drama?”

However, I researched, talked to few of my well-wishers, sigh! Well-wishers are always rare ones, right? But same time kept calm and continued discovering myself...deep inside, calling was loud! YES, I can achieve and will...

It was exhilarating, when I travelled to Dubai, in 2013. How to search for a job in UAE? This was a big game for the first time. As a matter of fact, I didn't know anything about job search and job market. It was Ramadan and peak summers. I heard a lot of negative pointers about the job market in that season. Only few of them said it's OK, you can do it! Because nothing is IMPOSSIBLE.

But fact known that I didn't know how to write a compelling ATS - Application Tracking System responsive resume, how to connect with recruiters at LinkedIn? Where to apply resume rightly? What companies to reach out? How to hit the target of my goals? Self-Branding? What is this? I laughed, nothing... I didn't know at all. I learned, experimented, roared, practiced, and succeeded with results.

I faithfully and roughly did everything by my own that was really tough, yeah. I travelled from one station to another by mistake, whole hot day, there were many bloopers, flaws, craziness, but said to myself daily – “I learned today. I didn't give up! In fact, I got some enchanting memories of attractive city Dubai.”

Eventually, achieved my first job ever, on merit in abroad Human Resources Department of local authority, yay! That was a celebrating glow of my life but... in those three months of visit to UAE I learned and experienced a lot and a lot is not enough here because I purposely witness how processes of specific new country works? Culture, cuisine, places, work style, walk and talks and most important People. In the prospects of flashes, I kept on saying myself – “Yes! You can do it, one more step ahead and you are there.”

I met some finest people who believed in my capabilities that you I achieve. It kept on my spirits high; it was again a moment to cherish when someone appreciates you. As time soared, I learned further about country UAE, women empowerment and to my surprise started networking with colleagues at workplace, career mentoring to peers and jobseekers, leading career workshops for whom I met at work recess and communities. Again, a new moment to high five myself!

A Piece of Frame to Learn From:

How did it start?

Meaning of the name is peace. Born and raised in a family of educated people that's a precious blessing, but not such family who can imagine their girl can travel abroad, live, work and achieve. I grew up with many fears inside and outside of this world of judgments in recklessness.

How it is going on?

Today, a daring individual, Gold Medalist in MBA.HR, Award Winner Career Counsellor, Founder @ elitecareerspark™, with close to 10,000+ followers across LinkedIn. My purpose is to help people gain career clarity, become fearless & get their Spark. Started my YouTube Channel in the phase where world was in chaos, hosted 100+ shows, collaborated at various platforms and organization for public speaking on the topics of career advisory, growth mindset, professional networking and personal branding mindfulness. Travelled & explored, big continents of the world. Alhamdulillah!
