The Bread of Life

Among the precious memories from my childhood are family trips to Corpus Christi, where both sets of my grandparents lived. Even as a kid, I was aware of the contrast of cultures we experienced on those trips. My Dad's parents, Grandmommy and Pop, lived in a working-class neighborhood near the chemical plants along the ship channel. My Mom's parents, Granny J and Daddydoc, lived in what I thought of as a mansion or estate in the central part of town.

Both of my grandmothers were excellent cooks, but with very different styles. This difference was most evident in my spiritual food – biscuits!

Grandmommy Smith made country biscuits for us every morning. She could whip up a batch of perfect biscuits without looking at a recipe or measuring a single ingredient. And my favorite way to eat them was smothered in steaming hot, creamy potato gravy. I didn't really know it at the time, but this was peasant food. I just knew it was wonderful!

By contrast, Granny J (Jasperson) was a high-end caterer. Her kitchen was outfitted with commercial fridges, freezers, mixers and ovens. And in the freezer, there was almost always a supply of angel biscuits; delicious and delicate yeast-rising biscuits which were a staple in her catering repertoire. Unless they were set aside for an upcoming event, we kids were allowed to help ourselves to as many angel biscuits as we wanted. We just had to be patient enough to warm them in the oven (pre-microwave era).

Every time I make biscuits I think of both of my grandmothers and my "biscuit narrative" and I give thanks. God is good!

The Bible, you know, has a rich bread narrative and theology – God provided bread (manna) in the wilderness, the Shunamite widow and Elisha lived off an ever-replenishing jar of meal, Jesus fed the 5,000 with five small loaves of bread, Jesus taught us to pray give us this day our daily bread, and he said, "I am the Bread of Life." I believe that Jesus' disciples remembered this bread narrative when he said, at the Last Supper, "Take and eat, this is my body broken for you."

God does, indeed, supply our daily bread; and he nourishes our souls in so many ways, not the least of which is the redemptive, life-giving body and blood of Jesus Christ. Every time we eat the bread of the Eucharist, we remember that Jesus, and our faith in him, is the Bread of Life, and we give thanks. God is very, very good!

Blessings and peace,

Rev. Andy Smith

PS: Here are my biscuit recipes. The Angel Biscuit recipe is for a pretty large batch, but it was the smallest batch Granny J would make. (see page 2)

Angel Biscuits

5 cups all-purpose flour	1 cup shortening
¼ cup sugar	2 pkg active dry yeast
1 Tbs Baking powder	2 cups buttermilk
1 tsp Baking soda
1 ½ tsp salt

Sift together dry ingredients, then cut in shortening (I use my standup mixer). Gently heat ½ cup buttermilk to 105°-115°, and dissolve yeast in it along with a pinch of sugar, and allow it to bloom. Add yeast mixture and remaining buttermilk to dry ingredients, mixing until a soft dough develops. Cover and allow to rise. (You may refrigerate at this point and later remove the desired amount of dough for biscuits.)

Take approximately 1/3 of dough for one dozen large biscuits. Roll on a lightly floured surface to ½ thick. Cut biscuits and place on greased or parchment-lined baking sheet. Lightly brush the tops with melted butter and prove for about one hour. Bake at 375° for 12-13 minutes.

Country Biscuits

2 cups all-purpose flour	½ cup shortening
½ tsp sugar	2/3 cup whole milk
1+ Tbs Baking powder
½ tsp salt

Mix together dry ingredients in a large bowl. Cut in shortening. Add milk and stir with a fork (or hands) until a dough just starts to form. Dump it all out on a floured surface and knead gently until it comes together (restraint is essential to avoid tough biscuits). Roll out to ½ - ¾ inch thick. Cut biscuits and place on baking sheet. Bake at 400° for 11-12 minutes.

A Christian Greeting

On June 17th, a very dear friend of mine lost the fight with cancer, hours before, she wrote this prayer.

Cathie's Prayer

Our dear friends, so many of you have asked if there was anything you could do during our time of trial.....after much thought, I now know what you can do. Relationships are all that matter! So if you have a relationship that needs mending, please do not leave this place without making an effort to mend it. It doesn't matter who did what, who said what, or why. Just do it!

And, if the relationship in your life that needs mending is the one between you and God, most importantly, mend that one!! Because I want to see you again, where I am now!

With the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, walking and talking on the streets of gold. Amen.

Love,

Cathie

Make Plans to attend the HealthFlex Implementation Meeting September 13, 2018 10:00AM - 12:00PM @ First UMC San Angelo

Dear Clergy,

As we have shared, on January 1, 2019, our HealthFlex plan for full-time clergy and covered lay participants will change significantly giving many more choices of medical, dental and vision plans. Depending on plan selections, participants will also have the opportunity to elect additional tax savings plans such as a Health Reimbursement Account (HRA) or Health Savings Account. We are excited about the flexibility HealthFlex will offer with greater opportunities to tailor healthcare.

Our district HealthFlex implementation meetings are designed to help streamline and navigate this process. Many of our health plan participants have never had to make a health care plan selection, so carefully reviewing the plan options is critical in choosing the right individual or family coverage. The goal is to have every participant take action during the annual election period starting October 31st. Not electing a plan during the annual election period will automatically default participants to a different plan from the current coverage. Online tools will also be available starting in September to assist in making plan selections for 2019. Spouses are welcome to attend. Meetings have been scheduled throughout the Conference and are open to all plan participants.
