

About the trail

Forestry England presents the Forest of Dean Sculpture Trail, a collection of artworks that have been inspired by the unique heritage of this forest.

The sculptures are influenced by the special landscape of the Forest of Dean, both past and present. They have been intentionally left to be reclaimed by the forest over time, naturally eroding from weather, animals, plant growth and the footfall of the visiting public.

The trail was founded in 1986 and the artworks on the trail have been commissioned by the Forest of Dean Sculpture Trust, a charity that works in close partnership with Forestry England.

The Forest of Dean Sculpture Trust CIO is a registered charity (charity no. 1185309). To make a donation and to receive updates visit forestofdean-sculpture.org.uk. Alternatively you can donate via PayPal using the QR code below.

Accessibility

The Sculpture Trail contains slopes (some steep), and uneven terrain (loose stone surface paths and narrow unsurfaced paths). This does mean certain areas are unsuitable for pushchairs and wheelchairs. A number of pedestrian gates will be encountered along the trail.

The Speech House Woodlands car park allows closer access to the sculptures found at the end of the Trail. Sculptures 16 & 18 are on level ground.

There is an alternative start route past Go Ape which provides a shorter and gentler option, and is recommended for those with pushchairs or wheelchairs.

Forest of Dean Sculpture Trail

£1

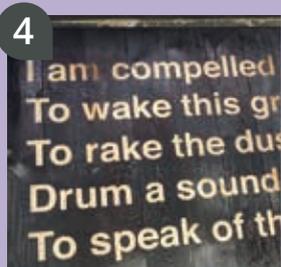

1 Meander
Kristina Veasey 2023
///letters.wept.fallback
Created from steam bent oak this sculpture offers visitors a place to rest and observe the beauty of the forest. It's form mirrors the Rivers Wye and Severn, carving their journeys through the landscape.

2 Heart of the Stone
Tim Lees 1988
///mainly.mile.trapdoor
This sculpture echoes the shaft of the drift mine on which it sits. The fish-like shape alludes to the forest's location, which is situated between the two rivers of the Wye and the Severn.

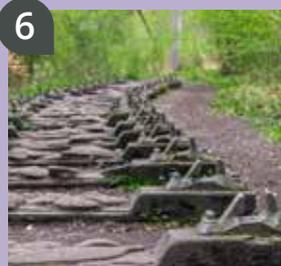

3 Yaşasin
Pomona Zipser 2016
///eruptions.suspend.locator
The title of this piece translates into Turkish as 'Hooray'. Move through and around this playful and interactive sculpture to view the forest from different perspectives.

4 Soil Unsoiled
Khady Gueye and Zakiya Mckenzie 2021
///intention.woodstove.square
A charred monolith etched with a poem that contemplates lived experience of racial inequality in the Forest of Dean.

5 Fire & Water Boats
David Nash 1986
///quilting.occurs.candles
These charred boats resemble canoes carved by hand from a single piece of wood. The waterway in which they sit was previously used to drain the mines underneath the forest.

6 Iron Road
Keir Smith 1986
///pegged.spirit.stowing
Twenty carved jarrah wood railway sleepers represent the train line that used to run through the forest. Each sleeper illustrates an aspect of the forest, from smelting to writing, charcoal to hunting.

7 Searcher
Sophie Ryder 1988
///commenced.minds.dared
Constructed from wire, this life-size sculpture can be seen in the distance as you pass along the trail.

8 In Situ
Erika Tan 2003
///goal.conqueror.zebra
Bamboo, both real and recreated, finds an unlikely home in this English forest environment. Mounds, hollows and circles traced in the earth link back to the industrial past of the area.

9 Grove of Silence
Ian Hamilton Finlay 1986
///tree.homecare.stealing
High in the trees, these three plaques draw attention to the stillness of their environment. Their simplicity of form offers a space for contemplation.

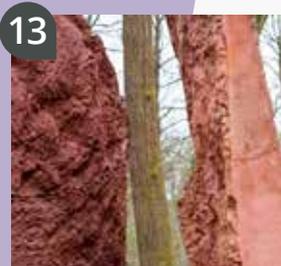

10 Cone & Vessel
Peter Randall-Page 1988
///crunchy.yourself.agency
Carved in stone, the details of an acorn cup and fir cone are amplified to reveal their scientific patterns.

11 Hill33
David Cotterrell 2010
///deriving.cowboy.tactical
Built from an industrial engineering material and filled with local coal spoil this sculpture questions the landscape and power. It is slowly collapsing and being taken over by nature.

12 House
Miles Davies 1988
///composer.executive.factoring
Reminiscent of the mine shafts that probe deep into the forest below, this house also alludes to the forest being a home to many.

13 Threshold
Natasha Rosling 2019
///underline.reefs.because
This crevice formation reveals a patchwork of subterranean rock faces cast from Clearwell Caves iron ore mine, recalling a history of labour through the marks left by miners in the rock.

14 Coal Measure Giants
Henry Castle 2016
///loafing.scare.curated
///indicated.sprouted.toast
300 million year-old tree fossils sit alongside two cast iron sculptures sited 300 metres apart, representing the distance of the nearest coal seam below ground.

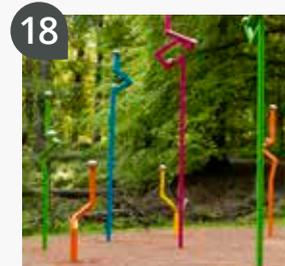

15 Echo
Annie Cattrell 2008
///stops.outhouse.gained
Cast from the face of the quarry in which this sculpture sits, Echo captures a moment of this rock's life preserved in monochrome, drawing attention to surface detail and texture.

16 Cathedral
Kevin Atherton 1986
///superhero.attention.director
An avenue of trees creates a sense of a cathedral's aisle and the experience of awe that such impressive architecture evokes.

17 Hanging Fire
Cornelia Parker 1988
///unhappily.tipping.slept
Locally smelted iron ore has been formed into rings of flames high up in the trees. A poetic work that implies the crowning of the trees in this once royal forest.

18 Gathering
Julian Wild 2023
///sports.loaded.unicorns
Mirrored stainless steel fungi inhabit these colourful forms and reflect their surrounding forest environment. Move through the structures to find textural touch points on the sculptures.
