SPEAKING SERVICES

Ava Montgomery is the founder of, Chief Considerations Officer (CCO) and principle consultant for Conscious Media Consulting, LLC (CMC, LLC). She is also the author of: “Listen-In! Watch-Out! Word-Up! A Guide to Understanding and Developing Conscious Media Literacy Skills”.

She is an experienced Leadership Development Trainer for Corporate and Non-Profit business sectors. Ava has an engaging written and verbal style of delivery that enlightens and inspires audiences to be interested in developing or enhancing conscious media literacy skills.

From media-consumers, to media-makers to media-sponsors and promoters, media needs conscious-content creators. The spectrum of media influencers will benefit from what social-justice-media advocate, Ava Montgomery has to say.

Media can be made in ways that address social issues and brings justice to them. Media can also be made in ways that impede or perpetuate social injustices.

Ava brings up-to-date considerations on the influence of media on many of today’s most pressing social issues that create challenges to peace and harmony.

Parents, Educators, Media-makers creating media on behalf of a company or free-lancers who seek to demonstrate social consciousness in media-consumption and media-creation, will be empowered by Montgomery’s customized talks.

She speaks to all positions on the continuum of media-influencers about the integral role they can have in creating media that uplifts societies and reflects accuracy in narratives and representations.

Ava has the knowledge, experience, and ability to speak with compassionate candor and diplomacy about media representation and narratives.

Ava demonstrates competent consciousnesses that help her connect with and engage her audience in meaningful discussions about media literacy and social issue discourses.

Participants will be informed by her thoughts about why Conscious Media Literacy skills are vital for adults and youth.

Everyone has the power to influence media positively and to use the power of media influence constructively. Ava provides thoughtful discourse no matter where one is on that journey.

Ava can provide television and radio commentary on media-discourses regarding representation and social-justice issues. She can also customize a speaking engagement to include the following:

- Conscious Media literacy for children & adults
- Media and identity discourses
- Creating content/media that demonstrates Conscious-Concern©
- The roles that media-influencers have in sponsorship and promotion of media
- Other social justice media related topics
