

Coming Soon, God willing from CSS-Fairway Press

In the Book of Revelation, the Creator of the Cosmos assures victory to those who acknowledge, praise, and trust Him and Jesus the Lamb, who paid the full cost of human failure and in his resurrection conquered death for all who persevere in him.

Whether they frequent church pews, barstools, or recliners, most folks consider Revelation (a.k.a. The Apocalypse) a prophetic maze concealing the precise date and time of the world's end. The majority of commentators now accentuate "The Tribulation," "The 1000 Years" and "The Rapture." Many neglect Revelation's reassurance and the warnings the Lord issued to those lured by Satan's ploys.

Winning in Christ explains the conditions that led to the writing of The Apocalypse. It also illustrates how many interpreters overlook and/or misconstrue vital Biblical symbols. They seem not to grasp the differences between signs and reality.

The Apocalypse assures us that our Lord fully controls all events in the Universe. God's people undergo "trust Him" tests similar to those first century Christians faced. Revelation gives previews of what to expect. The letter also presents solutions to many current societal hiccups. In Christ, all distinctions diminish; Jesus redeemed people from every tribe, language, people, and nation.

"Encouraging"
God wants you to win!

"An easy read!"

- Revelation* shows us how to handle trials.
- Revelation* promises that God will punish evil doers and reward those who persevere in Him.
 - Foremost, Revelation encourages us to trust our just, righteous, all-powerful Creator.

Winning In Christ presents keys for the codes the Holy Spirit used in Revelation. The book features an interpretive theory unshackled by the weaknesses of the four major views (past, future, symbolic, & continuous-historical). Familiarity with other parts of the Bible helps us understand Revelation. The Greek text scholars Westcott and Hort found 550 Old Testament references in The Apocalypse. Too few believers now read the OT, the primary source of Revelation's keys. Many even seem unfamiliar with Jesus' teachings in the four Gospels.

Winning In Christ* is based on decades of in-depth research.
Will be available through: csspub.com sales@21stcc.com amazon or Robert Blair, PO Box 176, Cleghorn, IA 51014