THREE RIVERS READS

Weekly Edition - Friday, February 17th, 2023

Kuklok's Corner

Greetings TRM families. With one more full week of February to go, Spring fever is in full swing here at TRM. As we move closer to Spring we are also looking at cleaning up our processes and procedures in our operations department. You may notice some tweaks to the website as we work to organize information in a more reader friendly way (this will be an ongoing project), or the addition of books and book shelves to the front lobby to provide more access for the students upstairs, we have even worked to better organize our lost and found area. Connie has been instrumental in finding innovative ways to streamline our front office and operations.

As we move into the back half of the year the board will continue to work on their Strategic Plan, you can find the full copy at the very bottom of the board section of the website here:

<https://threeriversmontessori.org/board-%26-meeting-schedule>

The board will look at ways to ensure TRM is a thriving school well into the future. If you have questions related to this plan you can always reach out to the board or myself and we would be happy to share updates on the strategic plan. Thank you for your partnership!

Executive Director/Principal
