

4th Grade - Language Arts/ Social Studies - Week 3 (April 6th)

Hello 4th grade students and parents! I hope everyone is doing well. As we approach the end of the first week of online schooling, I would like to thank you all for your patience. I am always here to answer questions, and I'm doing my best to respond quickly. I have decided that students will be graded on a weekly packet on Gradelink. That packet will consist of all the work for the week that I send online. I would like you to email me on Fridays with a simple 'yes' if the work is complete, or 'no' if it is not. I want to make the grading process as easy as possible for us all. That will alleviate you sending me a grade for every workbook page. I would however like to know how many they missed on their Spelling Test. That will still be their assessment at the end of the week for Language Arts.

For Social Studies, we will continue reading Scholastic News, and after Holy Week the students will be logging on to studiesweekly.com. Again, I would like a simple yes or no at the end of the week for grades. I will be assigning different questions each week, and some of those will be an assessment grade. I will let you know weekly.

I am sending you an answer key for the rest of the year for all of the Language Arts workbook pages. I am not assigning every workbook page you have the answers for, I will assign only a few a week for grades. Please feel free to do more if you would like!

Thanks again for all of your help at home! This new normal is a huge adjustment for us all, and I am trying to make it as easy as possible. I loved talking to the kids yesterday on zoom! Seeing their smiling faces made my day! We will continue our zoom meetings weekly. You and your families continue to be in my prayers!

Mrs. Rose
