THE STORIED HISTORY OF

Inn on the Park

There is a lot of history here.

Auberge on the Park is an homage to the iconic status of the former resort, from its bright beginnings in the early 60s, through its continuous reincarnation to hotel, to car lot, to now.

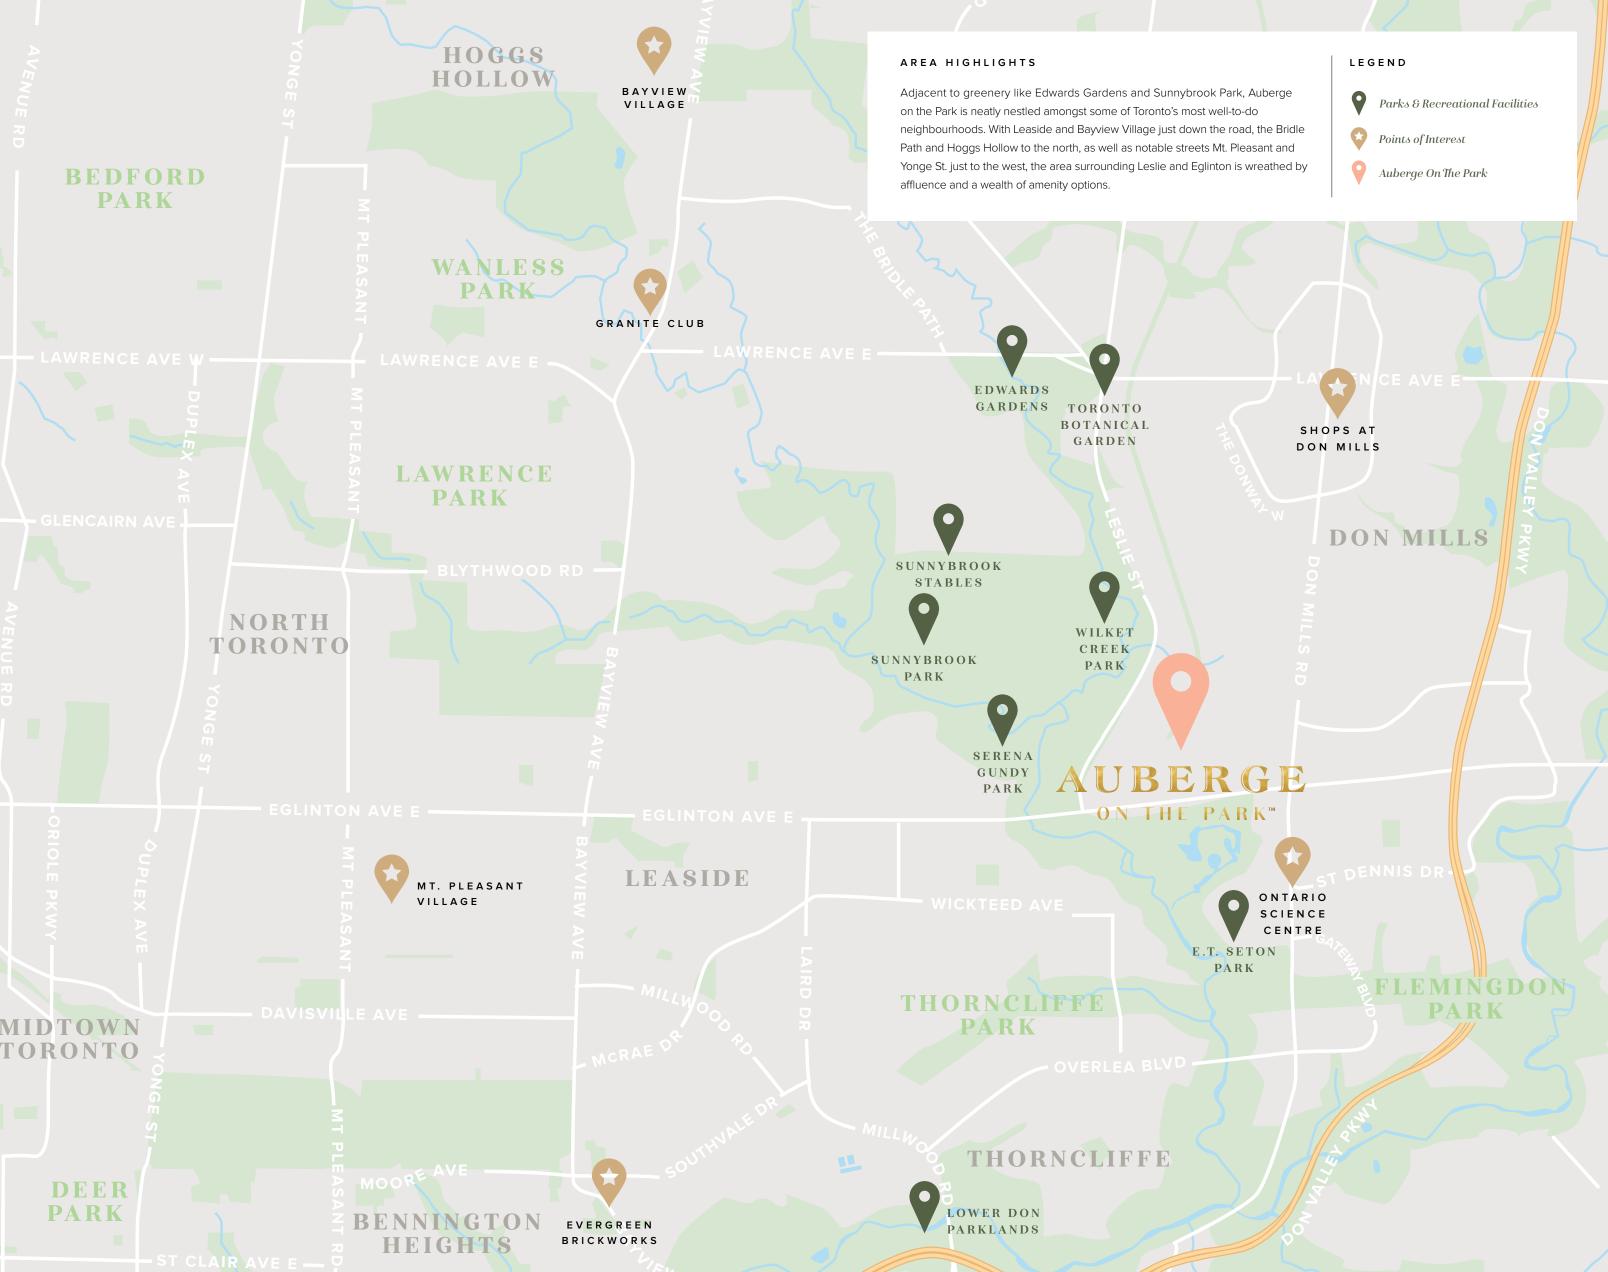

Initially selected for its proximity to the Don Valley Parkway and surrounding 600 acres of parkland, Inn on the Park was geared towards upper-class businessmen. It included fine dining, Canada's first disco, Olympic-sized pools and one of the first-ever on-site fitness clubs.

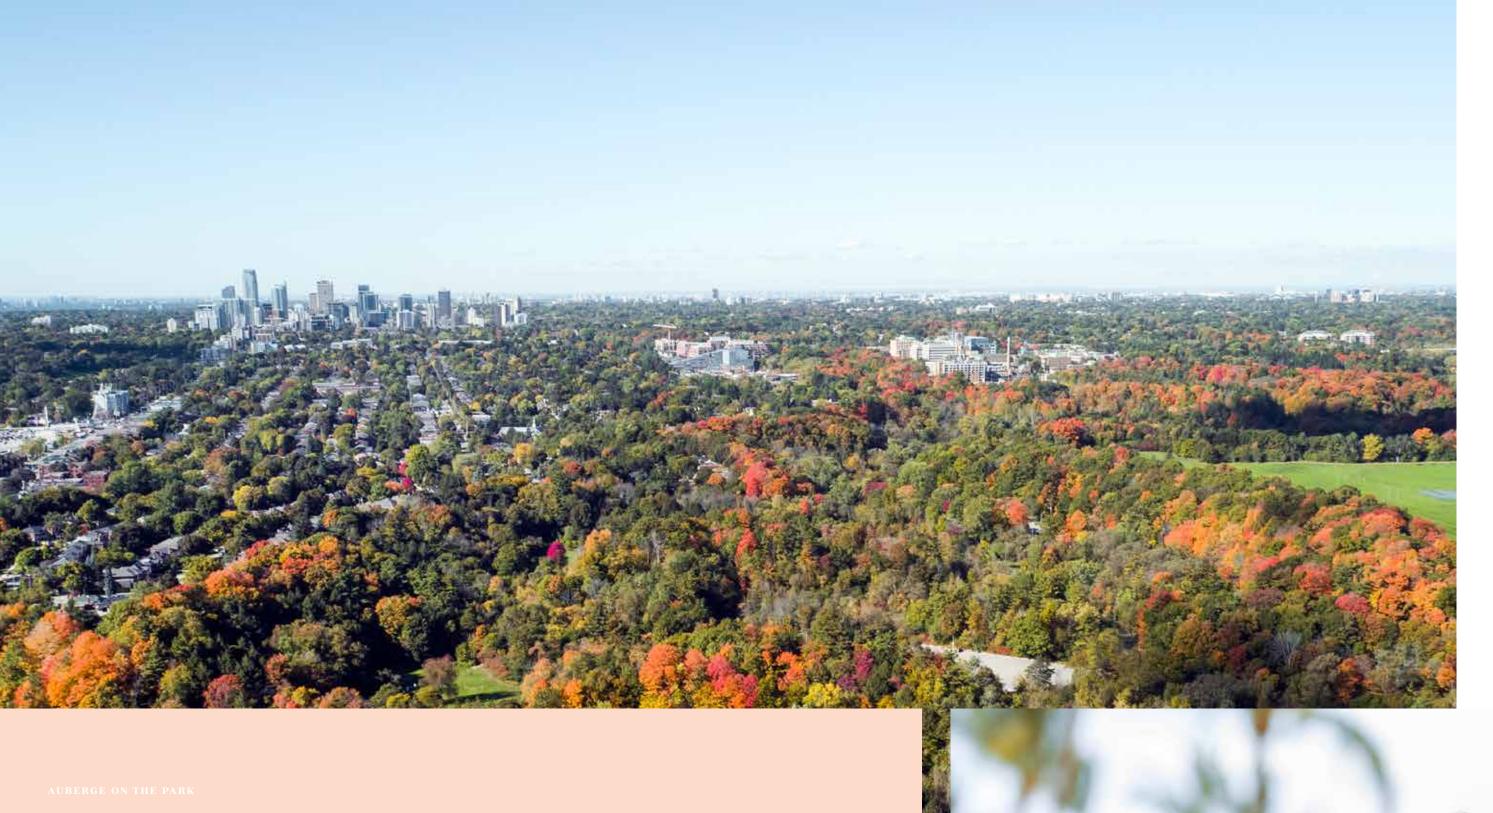

At the time, Inn on the Park epitomized innovation. It was a place to see and be seen.

Auberge on the Park rises from this history-steeped location, breathing new life into the site. It brings forth a fresh, new vigour, highlighted by lush, surrounding parklands. Enjoyed from the comfort of terraced balconies, Auberge on the Park is a breath of fresh air, complete with the glimmer of a historical icon.

TERRACE LIFE

The terrace is really an extension of your home, and yet there's something so magical about dining al fresco. Thoughtful conversation beneath a canopy of stars, string lights illuminating faces and table settings. This is terrace living at its very best, as you freely blur the line between being outside and being at home.

TERRACE ENTERTAINING

What is an outdoor gathering if not the perfect excuse for a cheese platter? Take terrace entertaining to the next level with a few helpful cheese-related hints guaranteed to impress.

The perfect cheese plate:

CRUSTY BREAD OR CRACKERS.

The cheese is obviously the main event, but there should be at least one tasty delivery method.

MIX IT UP.

Include a variety of textures and flavours such as a familiar aged cheddar, a soft brie, a firm Manchego, a smoky gouda, and a crumbly blue.

KNIVES.

Each cheese should have a knife suited to its unique texture.

FRUIT.

Add some dried fruit or fresh grapes to the platter as a foil for the rich, savoury cheese.

LABELS.

An excellent excuse to purchase mini chalkboards.

SPACE.

Try not to overcrowd the plate – the right sized surface can be as important as (if less delicious than) the edibles themselves.

Filling your home and terrace with plants and greenery has benefits beyond aesthetic appeal. For one thing, plants oxygenate the air, making every breath you take more pleasantly efficient, and improving your overall sense of well-being. It's been argued that plants like bamboo palms and peace lilies actually work better than HEPA air filter machines!

And then there's the benefit of those fresh, herbaceous aromas and flavours that accompany eating the actual fruits of your labour. Take herb gardens, for example. They add a pretty pop of green to your windowsill or balcony and depth to your meal prep.

For upkeep that's even more low maintenance, try an asymmetrical selection of succulents, or set up some small glass terrariums and hang a few air plants, which, like their name suggests, take most of their nutrients from the air.

MARIGOLDS

Low maintenance, pest-repellent, and bright.

${\tt BAMBOO}$

Create a cool, zen-like patio with strategically placed bamboo shoots.

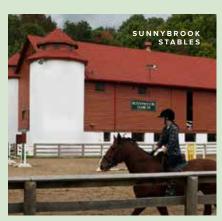

Playfully decorative flourishes, like oversized floral pendant lamps, lend charm to a French-inspired vestibule, welcoming you to the Party Room. Elegantly paired with rich marbled surfaces, a soothing sense of balance is expertly established.

AN INTERWOVEN NETWORK OF PARKLAND

Whether it's to park yourself on a bench with a book or beneath a shady tree, the verdant pull of park space is irresistible. Luckily, you happen to be in the enviable position of living amidst a vast network of lush parklands, making this particular area of Toronto especially unique.

The Don River stretches about 38km from the Oak Ridges Moraine, all the way down to Lake Ontario, with many trail opportunities and manicured gardens to meander through along the way. The Lower Don Parklands is one of the largest urban environmental restoration projects in the world.

INTO THE GREEN

Here are just a few of the many neighbouring, intertwined green spaces you have the pleasure of visiting whenever the mood strikes.

EDWARDS GARDENS/TORONTO BOTANICAL GARDEN

This former estate garden features perennials and roses on the uplands and wildflowers and an extensive rock garden. On the upper level, it also boasts an impressive arboretum.

WINDFIELDS PARK

This nature park includes two hundredyear-old-trees, a pond and marsh area, and many species of wild flowers, birds and other wildlife. It's ideal for picnicking in the summer and cross-country skiing in the winter.

LOWER DON PARKLANDS The Don offers many opportunities for long and short walks away from city traffic. Walk the Don in a series of self-guided interpretive paths located throughout the watershed, with prepared trails suitable for family use.

SHERWOOD PARK

This picturesque wooded park has two wading pools, great walking or running trails, picnic tables and a large playground, as well as a fenced-in, off-leash area for dogs.

E.T. SETON PARK

Named after Ernest Thompson Seton, a British author and naturalist, this park features an archery range, Nordic skiing and equestrian trails, as well as fire pits and plenty of paths for cycling and jogging.

SERENA GUNDY PARK

Named after the first wife of the late James H. Gundy, owner of a 20-hectare private estate. It was donated to the city with the stipulation that $200,000 would be spent on park improvements and a memorial to the Gundy Estate.

BIRDWATCHING

AT SUNNYBROOK PARK

Sunnybrook Park, Serena Gundy Park and E.T. Seton Park together form a very large patch of mature deciduous and mixed forest. This makes the area an especially rich locale for birdwatching. Several notable bird species can be found in these parts: Great Horned Owl, Wood Thrush, Veery, Scarlet Tanager, Red-tailed Hawk, American Redstart and both species of Cuckoo.

GREAT HORNED OWL

An extremely adaptable bird with a vast range, it is the most widely distributed true owl in the Americas.

сискоо

Find both black-billed and yellow-billed cuckoos in these forests. Look for their brown backs, white bellies and long tails.

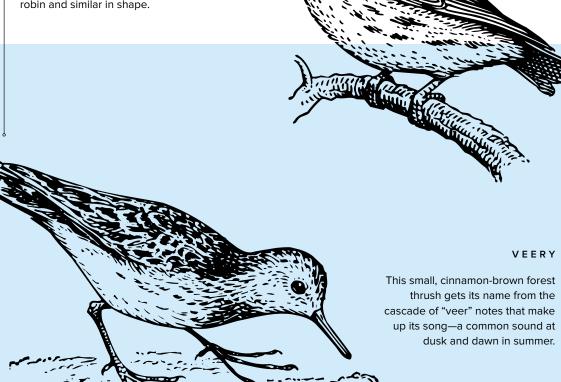

VEERY

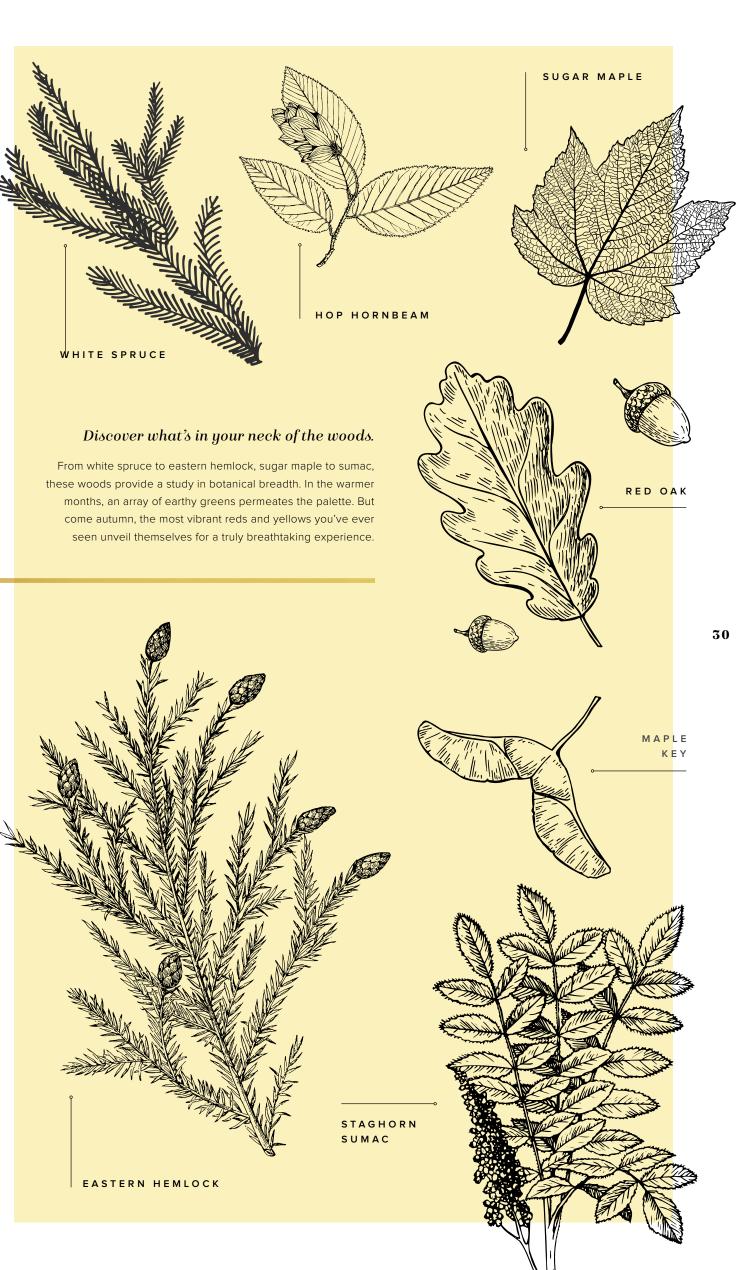

Coal black with vivid orange patches, this lively warbler hops among tree branches in search of insects.

WOOD THRUSH

A medium-sized songbird, about 20 cm long – slightly smaller than the American robin and similar in shape.

Male scarlet tanagers are among the most striking, with blood-red bodies set off by jet-black wings and tail.

THE EGLINTON CROSSTOWN LRT

The future Eglinton Crosstown LRT* will feature an accessible, surface-level stop right at Leslie and Eglinton. The Sunnybrook Park stop is less than a 5-minute walk from Auberge, whisking passengers across the city in dedicated right-of-way transit lanes.

Projected to be complete in 2021, the route will stretch from Mount Dennis in Toronto's west end, all the way to Kennedy Station in Scarborough – a 19km corridor. With 25 stations and stops, The Crosstown will link to 54 bus routes, three subway stations and various GO Transit lines.

LRT VEHICLE DESIGNS

LRT vehicles will be of modern European-style design with a length of approximately 30 metres. They will be fully accessible to all riders, with low floor vehicles with level boarding from platforms. Boarding will occur at all doors to reduce time spent serving stops/stations.

IN CASE YOUR WERE WONDERING:

FACTS ABOUT THE LRT

What is light rail transit?

Light rail transit (LRT) is a rapid transit system that uses electricpowered vehicles, running on rails, in a dedicated right-of-way lane (not shared lanes with cars), and stops at stations instead of bus stops.

What makes it "rapid" transit instead of just transit?

- The vehicles run in dedicated right-of-way lanes so they don't get stuck behind traffic.
- They have signal priority at intersections. That means the signal will turn green or stay green so the LRT vehicle can proceed through the intersection.
- Stations are spaced farther apart than bus stops so there are fewer stops along the route.
- Passengers pre-pay at stations so boarding is faster through multiple entrances when the vehicle arrives.
- Vehicles will arrive frequently enough that passengers just arrive at the station and take the next vehicle instead of waiting for a schedule.
- Electric vehicles can accelerate faster and more smoothly than buses.

Is LRT accessible?

Yes. Modern LRT vehicles allow low-floor with at-grade boarding right on the curb. People travelling with mobility devices like wheelchairs and scooters can just roll on and roll off.

Today, the shop still carries an extensive range of GMO-free organic birdseed, but it's expanded and evolved to include a variety of decorative birdfeeders, as well as other trinkets and tchotchkes for your terrace garden. Full of unique finds, at Wildbird you can also peruse local, reclaimed and one-of-a-kind furniture pieces, artwork and organic skincare products.

Your weekly grocery excursion has never been this enjoyable.

With so many places to picnic nearby, not to mention your own personal terrace, it helps to have a solid selection of go-to grocers in the vicinity.

importance of texture, as well as imbuing the shopping experience with a sense of narrative. The way each Anthropologie location is laid out allows customers to create their own narratives as they meander through the store.

Indeed, Anthropologie feels more akin to a museum or gallery than a retail environment. Each visit is an experience, and you could peruse its wares for hours, simply taking in the lavish details and rich combinations of colours, textures and found objects. Truth be told, it's rather difficult not to make a purchase — everything is just so beautiful. But even so. The experience of being there is satisfying in itself.

Natural States

THE ONE-OF-A-KIND WOOD FURNISHINGS OF ARTEMANO

There's something about surrounding yourself in wooden accents and furnishings that makes you feel closer to nature. There's a sturdiness about the material. It adds warmth to a space, and without fail, makes us feel safe and at home. Wood tells a story, one that's unique to its culture and place of origin, imbuing every space with its calming, ambient energy.

Artemano is passionate about wood in all its forms, so you can imagine their furniture showroom reflects exactly this. From rosewood and mango wood from India and teak from Thailand, to wood that's been recycled and repurposed, each piece is as true to its natural state as possible. Each has its own unique story to tell.

When deciding what kind of story you want your new home to tell, here's some visual inspiration to get you started.

There is nothing more fabulous than being able to enjoy terraces and patios extending into the fall season. When you've spent so much time and energy putting together a tranquil outdoor living area, you certainly want to prolong the use of it as much as you can.

I find fall evenings a great time to entertain outdoors. With the help of some extra comfy cushions and snuggly blankets, your terrace can transform into a cozy and welcoming sanctuary. And guess what, serving up your favourite wines helps too!

I love wine. I can't say that I have any one bottle that I most adore. I also like to experiment. However, typically I stick to specific regions (some of my go-to's include Italy, Spain, and Australia). And to be honest, sometimes a pretty label also catches my attention!

Here are three wines I've recently tried at varying price points that would be a great fit for your next late summer evening soirée.

BY.OTT Rosé 2016

Provence, France

Rosé is quite popular during the hotter months, but is certainly not only reserved for summer. It's equally as refreshing and appealing all year round. I was recently gifted a bottle of Rosé from France that I thoroughly enjoy, and it inspired me to give a few others a try

BY.OTT is an extension to the Domaines Ott family of wines originating from Provence, France. This Rosé exhibits a pretty and translucent pink colour. And in terms of notes, it is fruity with hints of white peach, apricot, passion fruit and mango. I think it is extremely suitable for the fall season, as it's delicately infused with sweet spices like cinnamon and

I really enjoy this selection, it is fresh, crisp, and clean. It is perfectly paired with a light salad, fish and seafood dishes.

For under $30, the BY.OTT is a great choice for easy terrace entertaining.

It's always fun to experiment, so don't be afraid to do so! I hope these three selections have inspired you to give them a try.

PARADISE IN THE SKY

Let's face it, we all love the City of Lights. The fresh blooms in the markets, the sidewalk cafés, and, of course, the infamous narrow balconies of Parisian apartments with breathtaking views.

A terrace is truly a piece of prime real estate, being your very own outdoor paradise. To create your own Parisian-inspired terrace or balcony, look for outdoor fabric in stripes, add cushions on beautiful wrought iron furniture, surround the perimeter with planters full of greenery and vibrant blooms, and then enjoy the amazing view of your city with a cup of café au lait.

From favourite movie sets in Paris to the glossy pages of Vogue Living France, no space is complete without a spectacular chandelier (or two) to wow our eyes and to provide overall illumination and ambience. This glamorous kitchen hits all the right notes with a dynamite chandelier and a pair of vintage Murano glass pendants to give this new kitchen instant character and heighten the luxe factor without being over the top.

Waking up is automatically more appealing when you live in a lush, nature-infused space like this. But even so, morning rituals help keep you present, allowing you to appreciate your surroundings and make the most of every day.

Here are 5 morning rituals that will help you do just that.

JORDANA HART REGISTERED HOLISTIC NUTRITIONIST & BLOGGER

IHARTNUTRITION.COM

1. Water with Lemon

Begin each day with a glass of water and a squeeze of fresh lemon. This hydrates the body, stimulates your digestive system, and ramps up your metabolism.

2. Morning Brew

A small cup of hot coffee is morning comfort at its best - don't forget to sip it slowly, and savour every ounce. Source local shops for quality beans that will impress your taste buds.

3. Savour the Silence

Give yourself at least 10 minutes every morning to just sit and take in your beautiful surroundings. Use the time to breathe mindfully, acknowledge what you are grateful for, and think about your goals and intentions for the day ahead.

4. Breakfast

Eat breakfast every day. A healthy breakfast infuses you with energy that is essential for productivity. Do your best to balance fat, protein, and carbohydrates. Some examples include: whole grain toast with eggs and sliced tomato, greek yogurt with fruit and slivered almonds, steel cut oats with fresh berries and cinnamon, or a protein smoothie.

5. Movement

The benefits of exercise are endless: It helps improve mood, reduces stress, provides energy, supports weight management, and helps to ensure a deeply restful night's sleep – all of which make waking up the next morning that much more enjoyable.

The Perfect

Banana Chocolate Smoothie

INGREDIENTS

1 cup unsweetened almond milk 1 tablespoon natural peanut butter or almond butter 1 tablespoon unsweetened cocoa 1 large frozen banana, sliced dash of cinnamon

1 scoop vanilla or chocolate protein powder (optional) handful of baby spinach (optional)

DIRECTIONS

Combine all ingredients into a high-powered blender. Blend until smooth. For a thicker smoothie add in some ice.
