

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

The Contrarian

A modern-day David-and-Goliath pharmaceutical business tale

01

The Synopsis

The stock market crash of 2020 began on Monday, March 9th with one of history's largest point plunge, 19.3%, for the Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA).

It was followed by two more record-setting point drops: 9.99% on March 12th and 12.93% on March 16th. Cumulatively, these three sessions constituted the worst point drops in U.S. history. These events were initiated by THE CONTRARIAN.

Sunny Bello is THE CONTRARIAN. Sunny enacts revenge on the Big Pharmaceutical Companies and on the largest Wall Street Pension Firm for destroying his Biotech company, RNA, which was on the verge of creating the COVID-19 vaccine.

Sunny reaps enormous benefits from his newly created Biotech Exchange Trade Fund (ETF) called Federal Unilateral Primary Market (FUPM). He is now a billionaire and a real threat to his enemies: suddenly, they fear him.

Sunny loses his way as he battles for supremacy but life has a funny way of keeping you in check. He realizes that he is no longer the solution for society's ills. He turned his back on the reason he began his biochemist journey, to help his fellow man.

Sunny has to find his way back...

The International Screenwriters' Association Says:

“The character work here is fabulous. There is no question that these characters are rich and layered and very authentic.... The story has a lot of engaging bits and pieces. It has great levels of the protagonist, the light within, and the antagonist and the darkness there. It highlights the gamut of everything in between and showcases all those gray areas and the problem with America, the stock market, and the 1%. It peels back that layer and lets an audience go inside it and see how those meetings go, how those boardroom deals happen, and where all that intention is.”
