discussion items:

• The meeting discussion began with a review of the Stables Building findings (Existing Uses/Opportunities/Challenges):

  > Due to the building’s unique character and close proximity to the Midway district, there is a strong desire to keep the use available to the public (rather than private business) with ‘entertainment’ type use.

• City Building Existing Uses & Condition:

  > The City Building complex contains all city administrative functions except the Recreation Department which is housed in the Armory. These services include Administration, Finance, General Services, Public Works, Safety services, Police and Fire Departments, and Council Chambers.

  > Adjacent to the City Building in separate buildings, is the Public Works department, including office space and storage/maintenance garage and storage facilities.

  > The Police Department was recently renovated and therefore excluded from the meeting’s discussions. Discussions with the Fire Department have been scheduled for a later date.

  > The existing building is imposing from the street. There is a strong desire to make it more welcoming by making the entrance more inviting, providing public access to limited amenities (e.g. restrooms) and improved parking/site circulation.

  > Mayor’s court in no longer held on-site.
The public experience needs improvement. Line of sight are limited and access to services such as the General Services department are cumbersome to navigate.

The building retains much of its original layout and is largely broken up into smaller, disconnected departments. Rooms have been repurposed rather than renovated into a more cohesive, efficient flow.
