

JUSTICE: Often the poor are the first to suffer when the environment is damaged through anthropogenic means such as habitat destruction, pollution, overexploitation of resources, and consumerism and waste. A common misconception is that we either help people or help the planet. God calls us to love and care for all His Creatures, plants and animals, great and small, on land, in the sky, and in the ocean. We are to ensure, as beings of God's creation, to find ways for all of God's Creation ~ plants, animals, people, and the places we live, thrive together in harmony.

HOPE: We can easily become discouraged when we see pollution, habitat destruction, consumerism, and all other things that degrade nature. The degradation of nature is the result of sin in the world. But we have hope! We know that Jesus won the victory, and one day all of creation will be transformed and free from the effects of sin, and will become more beautiful than we can ever imagine. But that does not mean that we complacently wait for that day. Our duty is to act as stewards of God's Creation until that glorious day comes!

SEVEN SEAS MINISTRY is available for lectures and education for all ages in schools, organizations, and church programs.

Join us as evangelists on cruises as we sail the Seven Seas!

WWW.MISSION-IN-MOTION.ORG
INFO@MISSION-IN-MOTION.ORG

SEVEN SEAS MINISTRY (SSM) is unique. Among secular environmental groups, SSM stands out as a visible expression of God's Love for all creation. Many "creation care" organizations focus primarily on lifestyle change and political advocacy. With a holistic approach, SSM combines scientific research, hands-on conservation, and education to enlighten people from all over the world about God's Creation and their role as God's stewards to conserve and protect nature. God is the Master Artist, The Source, The Sustainer, The Supreme Gardener, The Creator!

