Dear Residents of Sark,

ROLE OF ELECTRICITY PRICE CONTROL COMMISSIONER

Following the appointment of Shane Lynch as Electricity Price Commissioner for Sark, my five-year term of Office has drawn to a close, just as a positive and promising new chapter in the story of Sark's development unfolds.

An updated power system for the island, which has the blessing of Chief Pleas, opens the prospect of a more affordable, environmentally sustainable, safe and reliable electricity supply for Sark. It is the key to economic growth and prosperity for all. My entire career has been based on this premise.

I would like to place on record my sincere thanks to all who have supported me and my Office during my tenure and I wish my eminently qualified successor every success in the role.

I have every confidence that with goodwill, good governance and expert guidance, all of Sark's residents will reap the benefits of a truly brighter future.

Yours sincerely,

Anthony White
