SARAH THE COOK

Hello, boys and girls. We are very busy here at Aldi's. [TO VILLAGER] Hello, my dear. How can I help you today.

VILLAGER 1

Hello, Sarah. I would like to buy a dozen bees.

SARAH THE COOK

Of course. Here you go.

SHE HANDS OVER A PAPER BAG TO THE VILLAGER.

VILLAGER 1

Apologies, you have given me too many. There are 13 in here. I only asked for 12 bees.

SARAH THE COOK

Yes, the last one is a Free Bee.

VILLAGER 1 EXITS

VILLAGER 2

I would like to buy a pet fly.

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

I'm sorry. We don't sell flies.

VILLAGER 2

Really! Well, I saw one in the window. Fine, I would like to buy an owl then.

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

Unfortunately, we don't sell Owls either.

VILLAGER 2

Really, someone told me that you did.

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

Who?

VILLAGER 2

Wait, I just heard one!

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

Stop wasting my time. We are too busy.

VILLAGER 2 EXITS.

SARAH THE COOK

What a day! That was the busiest day I think we've ever had in this shop.

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

It has been absolutely non-stop. And it's all thanks to Dick and Tommy the Cat. Where are they anyway?

SARAH THE COOK

I have absolutely no idea. They should have been back by now.

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

Well, it's no bother really. It gives me a chance to talk to you properly.

SARAH THE COOK

Ooo. That sounds exciting. What is it, Aldi?

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

With the recent success of the store, I have decided to go on a voyage to start up a new trade route.

SARAH THE COOK

That is exciting. Where are you going to be visiting.

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

I thought I would go to Greece.

SARAH THE COOK

Lovely. I went to Greece once. It was fabulous. The food was incredible.

ALDERMAN FITZWARREN

Sarah, I would love for you to join me as my Ships cook. It don't know how it would be possible journeying all that way without you by my side.

SARAH THE COOK

Oh, Aldi. It would be my honour to join you. You know that I love to keep you fed. And you're the best company to spend time with.
