

DAME AND LORD RUPERT AUDITION

- NANNY Hello Boys and girls!
- AUDIENCE Don't be smelly Nelly.
- NANNY Oh yes, thank you (she goes and puts perfume on then goes to LORD RUPERT) You are getting too old for this.
- L. RUPERT Well you speak for yourself.
- NANNY You're a frisky young fellow aren't you? You're quite a sweetie (LORD RUPERT starts to look scared) I'm a widow you know, I lost my husband many years ago.
- L. RUPERT Well that was careless of you.
- NANNY My husband died many years ago, I am looking for a new man.
- L. RUPERT Oh what a shame I am second hand.
- NANNY Wouldn't you like to press your suit?
- L. RUPERT I only ironed it this morning.
- NANNY I need someone to keep me warm through the long winter nights.
- L. RUPERT I'll make you a hot water bottle.
- NANNY A man who could fulfill my every desire.
- L. RUPERT I couldn't fill full a wine glass.
- NANNY (Turning away and very dramatically) Oh! But you don't understand me! (Looks back Sees L. RUPERT is no longer paying any attention so she goes over to him and drags Him back) I want to be wooed! But can't you see I am a desperate woman (sobs)
- L. RUPERT I think I am beginning to see that.
- NANNY And then I had to give up my only son when he was just one day old.
- L. RUPERT (now paying her some attention) Well that really is very sad indeed.
- NANNY I gave him to a very kind lady who promised me she would find him the best possible home in the kingdom, but I have never seen him since that day. (sobs)
- L. RUPERT Well maybe one day you will find him again, now come along let's get something to eat before all the sausage rolls are gone.