Ghisolfo

Motivational Speaker, Housing
Consultant, & Emcee

Jenna Ghisolfo is a national speaker, housing consultant, and trainer based in Phoenix, Arizona—celebrated for her resilience, authenticity, and purpose-driven leadership. As the reigning United States of America’s Mrs. Arizona, a Top 6 national finalist, and People’s Choice Award winner, she uses every stage to empower and inspire. Long before the crowns and recognition, however, Jenna was a survivor rebuilding her life. With her infant in one arm and her future on the line, she left an abusive relationship in the middle of the night and turned to Section 8 housing for safety—a moment that transformed her pain into purpose.

Today, as Founder and President of Housing Consultants of America, Jenna leads a national mission to move individuals and families from homelessness to stability. With over 19 years of industry expertise, she partners with nonprofits, developers, and public programs to create real, lasting change. A proud member of the National Speakers Association and the National Center for Housing Management, Jenna holds more than a dozen professional designations—but her true legacy lies in helping others rise, rebuild, and stand tall... even in heels.
