

Lary Campbell
Writer
larycampbellartist@gmail.com

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

An award-winning versatile writer of screenplays and plays that touch on the intimacy of the human experience and have moved audiences internationally.

EXPERIENCE

Gary and Randy (Film)

The Haddon Film Company

- Created Story, delineated characters, and produced a psychologically driven short screenplay for an intimate two-character film
- Adjusted scenes and settings, reducing production costs
- Rewrote dialogue to support the actors' strengths

My Mother, My Self (Film)

JPC Productions, LLC

- Created a monologue for film that traversed the emotions from bitter humor to sensitive psychological reckoning drawing the audience into the character's inner life
- Formulated a structure within the monologue adhering to the three-act structure
- Fostered an intimacy within the story that would lead to an explosive climax, achieving maximum audience effect

The Keystone Nurses: Inspection Time (Film)

JPC Productions, LLC

- Originated a story in the style of the Keystone Kops emphasizing visual language for a silent film
- Formulated the story to retro-fit into the "set" of an actual hospital unit
- Collaborated with the performers to include action tailored to non-actors

It Had To Be You (Film)

JPC Productions, LLC

- Created a feature film, based on the award-winning short "What About US?" portraying interlocking stories between six characters around the themes of intimacy fears of HIV transmission and addiction
- Rewrote scenes to reduce number of locations, reducing budget concerns
- Tailored scenes the strengths of a company of actors

Robby (Play – OOB)

Wings Theatre

- Collaborated with producer, director, and actor to create a personal and politically charged story about taking care of an 8 y/o child from Harlem with AIDS at the height of the crisis in NYC (1990s)

Awards

- Best Short Screenplay (Gary and Randy) – Mumbai International Film Festival
- Finalist (Robby) – Little Nashville Playwriting Award
- Finalist (Personal Space – Unproduced) – Celebration Theatre Playwriting Competition