

Olly's Magical Adventure

In a magical land hidden behind a waterfall, there was a talking squirrel named Olly who had a secret superpower. One day, Olly discovered a map that led to a hidden treasure.

Olly followed the clues. He went to a farm and saw a cow in the farm. He saw a clock that exploded but he ran because his superpower was to see into the future. Then he carried on with his quest. He had to crush ice because it had another clue inside it. So he ate it. This gave him the power to find the next clue.

He went up a mountain and saw a yeti. The yeti had white, shaggy fur and a body like an ape. The yeti said to Olly, "The next clue is at the end of a rainbow."

So he waited for a very, very, very, very long time and a rainbow appeared but the sun went and he had to wait for a very, very, very, very long time. Then he found the third clue and the third clue said the treasure was at the farm. So he went to the farm and he found the treasure.

The treasure was one big gold $1 million Canadian gold maple leaf coin!

He gave $\frac{1}{4}$ to charity and $\frac{1}{4}$ to the town and used $\frac{1}{2}$ of it to buy a tonne of nuts! Olly lived happily ever after.
