

Kangagories

I started a short-lived tradition at Eleven Madison Park of playing a certain categories game at pre-service line-up once a week. I came up with custom categories, specifically about the food, beverage, and hospitality industries. When I went to Attica, I took the tradition with me. It is a fun team activity that can be played quickly and without a lot of materials. And it rewards people with genuine curiosity and knowledge about our industry. Choose a starting letter, set a time limit, and fill in as many as you can. All answers need to be Australia-specific.
