Waste-to-Energy Technology.. Why we offer the Best!

BOSS is a "green energy" development & solutions company specializing in "green waste to energy" technology with a positive social, economical & environmental impact.

We research and vet all technologies we offer before making them available through BOSS.

The Waste technology we offer is a 20+ year young patented and proven waste destruction technology. New landfill cells in the future will be minimal in size with this technology, or the life of existing cells will have their lifespan extended.

This "disruptive technology" will not inhibit your recycling program. It is a modular and scalable waste gasification and an energy recovery system; you do not have to invest in a huge system for MSW* you don't have today. We can expand your system as your needs grow.

This technology provides systems for most types of waste disposal: MSW, Industrial, Tires, Port and Maritime (including disposal of most oil spill absorbent materials) and can be a standalone technology with or without an energy production option.
