Loudspeaker

A FOREWORD

This, the second Yearbook of Carteret High School, tells the story of an eventful year, a period of adaptation and adjustment. Many new subjects were introduced into our curriculum—aviation, refresher mathematics, home-nursing, nutrition, and commando tactics in physical education. A branch of the National Victory Corps was organized to prepare the students for induction into the armed forces. At least ninety per cent of the upper classmen were enrolled in the air, land, sea, production, and community services of this organization. An intensive War Bond and Stamp campaign spurred sales that climbed steadily until, beneath the Stars and Stripes floated the blue and white, and the white and blue Minute Man flags. Mrs. McCabe joined the W.A.A.C. in October; Mr. Popiel was inducted into the Army in January; shortly after the second semester had begun, three of our classmates—Lawrence Czajkowski, Andrew Gombos, and Edwin Bergman—enlisted in the Navy.

In such an atmosphere, it was fitting that we should choose as the theme of our yearbook, "Education for Victory." The loss of Mr. Popiel, our clever photographer, darkened our horizon until Mr. Quin and his Camera Club brightened the scene by completing what Mr. Popiel had so well begun. In the preparation of our book, we have encountered other difficulties—priorities, shortage of labor, and rationing—but here is the Loudspeaker to illustrate "Education for Victory."

TRAINING YOUNG MINDS

"The only sensible educational policy for a program of total war is to maintain educational services unimpaired.

High schools must face the task of teaching in the field of life values and social ethics."*

CULTIVATING SKILLS AND TALENTS

"The school reaches more children than any other agency and is in a position to give constructive guidance in connection with occupations, training, and placement. The contribution which the schools can make to industrial efficiency is being demonstrated so impressively that it will never again be possible to relegate vocational education to a position of minor importance."*

BUILDING STRONG BODIES

"With adequate provision for nutrition, for public health services, and for medical care on a scale to meet the needs of the entire population, the special health problems of children and youth might become relatively inconsequential.

In the development of all youth work programs, health benefits should be regarded as an objective coordinate in importance with work experience."*

INSPIRING AMERICAN IDEALISM

"Parents obviously have the first and heaviest responsibilities for citizenship training, and especially so during the transitional period of early infancy and of adolescence. Nevertheless, the school is the one social agency which has extensive contact with all young people. Good citizenship is only in part a matter of knowledge and of intellect. It is also made up very largely of the right kind of basic habits, personal attitudes, and emotional reactions."*

OUR LEADERS SPEAK ON EDUCATION FOR VICTORY

Yesterday our schools taught youth to understand the rationing program; today they finished buying a bomber; tomorrow another salvage campaign begins.

Yesterday our schools helped 130,000,000 people find themselves and their destinies in a country of peace; today these schools are helping to forge a mighty people and their vast resources into the greatest fighting force the world has ever known; tomorrow these schools may help the people to see through their sweat and blood and tears to the dawning of a better day. The schools of America will play a noble part in the coming of this day if they can be maintained strong and free, and can retain the power to adapt themselves to this new day. The schools have demonstrated a remarkable degree of flexibility in meeting the war situation and will respond to the challenge that will come after the war.

There are many who are already advocating that peace must be built and maintained by force. Some force may be necessary. But those who know the lessons of history best believe that the last hope for an abiding peace in the world rests with education, universal and free. Can the schools of America in the midst of this war formulate a plan of action under which free schools may become the experience of all the peoples of all the nations in the world?

Principal

It is with regret that we say farewell to you, class of 1943. That regret, however, is tempered with our pride in the spirit with which you go forth to face an uncertain future. In your first carefree high school years, you looked forward to a career of your own planning, perhaps to a college education. Nevertheless, with scarcely a backward glance, you have cast aside personal ambition and have engaged wholeheartedly in Education for Victory. You have considered seriously how you may best serve your country and, through the Victory Corps, have developed your special talents. Through pre-induction courses, boys have prepared for selected branches of the service; girls have elected drafting and kindred subjects to enable them to replace men in the war effort.

Yet, for all its uncertainty, the future has much to offer you. Boys will find in the armed forces opportunities for training which civilian life could never offer; girls will discover fascinating openings in that region heretofore known as "a man's world." Truly, our hope for Victory is in your hands.

DEDICATION

Four members of our faculty and over five hundred of our alumni are serving in the armed forces of the United States. In almost every corner of the world—wherever, in fact, the flag of freedom is unfurled—there is a loyal son or daughter of Carteret High School.

Sadly we pay tribute to three who have already made the supreme sacrifice—Walter Overholt, '38; Timothy Donovan, '32; and Stanley Milik, '39.

Proudly we point to these young heroes, the brave men and women of our alumni who are so unselfishly and so wholeheartedly sacrificing all that they hold dear in order that freedom may live.

To them in solemn pride and heartfelt gratitude, we dedicate this book.

CHOIR

The blue-robed choir is always welcomed in assembly as it is always a promise of outstanding choral music. Every year members of this group are selected for the New Jersey All-State Chorus.

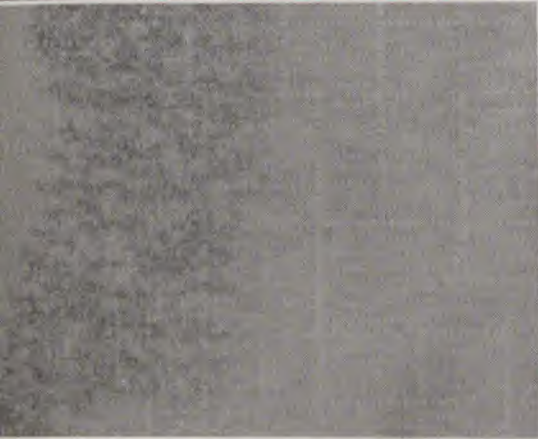

To belong to this group a student must be credited with above average work in music. Two years of high school music is a prerequisite.

The choir presents the annual Christmas program, which is always beautiful and inspiring.

A CAPPELLA GIRLS' CHOIR

All girls who have had at least one year of high school music make up the A Cappella Choir. The members were responsible for part of the Victory Program. The admission to this entertainment was a defense stamp. Attendance was one hundred per cent and Carteret High School won the Minute Man Flag as a result.

The A Cappella Choir added beauty to our Christmas and Thanksgiving Programs.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

This year there has been an addition to the choral groups. Eleven boys have formed a male chorus to assist in entertainments. The applause of the students has shown their appreciation of this group. This response should stimulate the boys to make the Boys' Choir a tradition.

The Boys' Choir and the A Cappella form the Mixed Ensemble. This group has often appeared together in assembly programs.

SENIOR GIRLS' CHOIR

To provide the musical background for baccalaureate exercises is the chief function of the senior girls' choir. The requirement is one year of high school music.

TWIRLERS

Whenever our band marches, it is led by the twirlers. This group of attractive young ladies practices long and hard, and they always give a very excellent performance. Smiling, marching in unison, they really represent the do or die spirit of C. H. S.

BAND

The spirit of the band reflects the spirit of the school, and C. H. S. is noted for its splendid school spirit. Marching down the field in full dress before a football game, our band lifts the hearts of our team and assures the opposition of a real battle. Colorful, rhythmic, tuneful—the band plays on!

This combination of ten gifted musicians under good direction really makes harmony. The group played for the President's Birthday Ball and the Victory Dance. Its performance in assemblies always meets with tremendous applause.

ORCHESTRA

In the pit, with Miss Harriet Gross at the piano, the swing band becomes the orchestra. They turn from swing music to the more dignified strains of marching music as classes pass into assembly.

The highest achievement in high school dramatics is membership in Thespian Troupe No. 426, a branch of the National Honor Society for High Schools. This coveted honor can be attained only by active participation in dramatics.

At the annual initiation ceremony, which is a very impressive and beautiful one, each member receives a gold pin and a certificate of life membership.

Every Thespian tries to live up to the motto, "Act well your part—there all the honor lies."

SERVING

VICTORY CORPS

We are engaged in total war, a war for survival, a war of armies and navies, farms and factories, homes and schools; a war in which everyone plays an essential part if he is doing the thing for which he is best suited. In this total war education plays an indispensable part. Schools help to teach the individuals the issues at stake and to train them for the vital part they must play in the total war effort.

Students are eager to do their part, and, to utilize more fully their eagerness to serve, the National Policy Committee recommends the organization of a Victory Corps in every high school. Students who have been accepted for general membership in the Victory Corps may join any one of the following five divisions:

- I Air Service Division
- II Land Service Division
- III Sea Service Division
- IV Production Service Division
- V Community Service Division

To qualify for membership in any division of the Victory Corps, a pupil must be participating in a program of physical fitness and military drill. Members of all divisions will wear the special insignia of their division.

Movies are shown to assist the amateur gardener.

SEA SERVICE

Officer—Robert Shanley; Adviser—Mr. Quin.

The Sea Service aids the students interested in naval careers. Navigation and shop courses have been instituted to prepare the members for immediate induction into the navy. The Sea Service has grown to be an organization of twenty-five young men, preparing to take their places on the ramparts of our country's defense.

PRODUCTION SERVICE

Officers—Irene Nagy, Pauline Nagy; Advisers—Mrs. Hausner, Mr. Goz.

The members of the Production Service Division are interested in preparing themselves for part or full time employment in industries connected directly or indirectly with the war effort. As a meeting project, the group is making an afghan to be contributed to the Red Cross.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Officers—Willa Walsh, Helen Stroin; Advisers—Miss Gavaletz, Miss O. Gunderson.

The girls are all proud to be members of the Community Service. They have taken courses in home nursing, nutrition, first aid, and child care. They assist in the rolling of bandages for hospital uses.

Films of interest are shown frequently to the members and other students at assembly programs.

The Athletic Association fosters interest in athletics, provides for the maintenance of the athletic teams, and encourages good sportsmanship at home and abroad. Members include all students enrolled in the school. Meetings are held on the last Tuesday of October, February, April, and June each year.

This year's activities included a pep rally in November, a Victory dance at the close of the successful football season, and the presentation of several sports films.

At the end of the year, the association sponsors a banquet for C men.

CHEERLEADERS

Captain, Willa Walsh; Adviser, Miss Wilson.

Neither rain nor snow nor hail nor sleet can keep our cheerleaders down, for they are there at every game, cheering full blast for C. H. S.

Many times their fighting spirit has inspired our teams to turn defeat into victory.

Again the Ramblers have added another successful season to their record. They finished the season with 6 wins, 2 ties, and 1 defeat, and retained the Central Jersey Group III Championship, which they have held since 1939.

The first game saw the Blue and White defeat Plainfield High School by a score of 21-0. Stutzke made his debut by converting three consecutive times. In the second engagement Carteret was held to a 7-7 tie by a strong Union team. The following week the Ramblers were humbled by a powerful Long Branch team with a score of 14-6. After being tied by Union and defeated by Long Branch the Ramblers started rambling along. They conquered South River with a score of 13-0. The next game was the Thomas Jefferson tussle, which Carteret won by a score of 19-7. Edwin Bergmann was the touchdown maker of this game, probably the most thrilling of the season; with the forward wall, consisting of John Kolibas, Mike Lukach, Tommy Fitzpatrick, and Moe Kalusek, the Blue and White rolled along to victory. Next came Woodbridge. This was the first time in three years that the Ramblers met the Barons on a dry field. Woodbridge was defeated by a 19-0 score. Kindzierski, Gombos, and Perkins really showed their stuff in running down punts. Morristown, next on the list, went down to defeat to the tune of 18-0; the J. V. team for the first time had a chance to soil their suits. The Linden game was a thrilling show that ended in a 0-0 tie. Finally came the Thanksgiving Day Classic, which Carteret won 26-14. John Lazar was the pass receiver that day, and he also did his bit in the line tackling. Fitzpatrick was magnificent at guard. The high spot of this game was Captain George Heil's 45-yard run to a touchdown, the first of his career.

Three of the outstanding players left C. H. S. at the end of the first semester—Kolibas, to enter Temple University; Gombos and Bergmann to don the Navy blue.

An exciting play in the Carteret-Linden game. Bergmann (27) is passing to Lazar (24). Also out to receive this pass are Stutzke (47) and Gombos (42). The pass was complete for a gain of twenty yards. The game, not too exciting, ended in a 0-0 score.

Teamwork, a characteristic of a well-coached football team, was exhibited in the Carteret-Perth Amboy game. The boys in the Carteret forward line—Kalusek, Fitzpatrick, Kolibas, Perkins, Lukach, Heil and Gombos—opened gaping holes in Perth Amboy's forward wall to enable Bergmann and Lazar to go through untouched for many long gains. Shown on the extreme left are Stutzke (47) and Lukach (34). Leading interference is Thomas Fitzpatrick (46), a grand blocker in this game. On the extreme right is Lazar (24).

December 18, 1942, the Ramblers opened their season by defeating Union 45-14. After this auspicious beginning, they met North Plainfield, December 21, and annexed another victory, 32-29, in a game that was exciting from start to finish; January 5, Carteret met Highland Park on their own floor and won their third straight, 25-23; January 12, a red-hot Perth Amboy aggregation took the measure of the Blue and White, 42-21; January 13, Carteret lost their third. This time it was Rahway that took them into camp to the tune of 30-24.

But this could not last forever. January 19, the boys finally got out of their slump and trimmed North Plainfield for the second time, 47-25; January 22, they journeyed, not too hopefully, to New Brunswick. Although rated the underdog, they came out on top, humbling the vaunted New Brunswick five, 30-24; after this it was easy to beat Highland Park and January 27, they turned the trick, 31-24. January 29, New Brunswick got revenge by defeating Carteret, 26-22, in a swell game; February 2, they battled Rahway and won, 34-26; February 9, they went to Thomas Jefferson and lost, 38-27; February 12, they squared accounts with South River in another breathtaking encounter—35-32 was the final tally; February 16, Regional paid Carteret a visit; they went home a sadder and a wiser team after having been trimmed, 41-28; February 20, the boys in blue went to Asbury Park to do or die. Asbury was too much for them. They lost, 34-24; February 22, they celebrated Washington's birthday by defeating Metuchen, 41-28. The climax of the season was the defeat of Perth Amboy, 41-38, March 2. This was by far the best game.

The Ramblers were invited to join the state tournament, but they were eliminated in the first round by South River, 30-22. On the whole it was a very successful season. It was Mr. Horn's first year as coach of basketball and he is to be congratulated on the excellent performance and good sportsmanship of his team.

BASEBALL

The baseball team started regular practice March 22. Coach McCarthy believes it is going to be a fair ball club. Coach has two serious problems—because of transportation facilities, he has to select from the large group of eager youngsters a small squad of fourteen or fifteen, and he has to worry about pitchers. Mr. McCarthy, however, thrives on difficulties. With his coaching ability and the enthusiasm of the potential Big Leaguers, the 1943 team will no doubt carry on the tradition of C. H. S., and turn out far better than fair.

This year, as the home field is not in playing condition, all the games will be played away. The games are to be double-headers and played Saturday afternoons.

May 1	Woodbridge
May 8	South River
May 15	New Brunswick
May 22	Linden

Track is slowly, but surely, becoming a major sport in high schools and colleges. Last year, forty fellows came out for the sport. Unfortunately, because of transportation difficulties, the squad had to be cut to twenty-five. Spirit was high and the 1942 team proved to be the best in C. H. S. history. They won first place in the Perth Amboy relays; third place in the county, and second place in the Central Jersey competition. For the first time, a track team brought home a trophy. Individual honors were awarded to almost every member of the team.

In spite of losses by graduation, Coach Horn believes the 1943 team will try to equal last year's enviable record.

GIRLS TOO MUST BE

Physical Education classes for girls have been carried on with the idea of promoting good will and sportsmanship, of developing in the girls alertness, agility, better muscle and body control, rhythm, and discipline.

The year is divided into fall, winter, and spring. Activities for fall include marching tactics, corrective exercises, posture training, and games of volleyball and cageball.

Basketball takes up the time during the winter and the response to this game is unanimous. Competition enters in, but as a minor factor. During this season the nurse is frequently called upon for aid to sprained fingers and scratches on faces and legs. This year the freshmen were permitted to enter and they turned out some very good guards and forwards.

The spring season brings the exercises back again—body building, body freeing and body poising, posture, and work with ropes and Indian clubs. This spring the girls are getting a workout on the apparatus, and they are doing very nicely. Who said women are the weaker sex?

The Archery Club held its organization meeting in October, 1942. The following officers were elected: President, Eleanor Melick; Vice-President, Dorothy Haas; Secretary, Agnes Gavaletz. Meetings are held twice a month. As in previous years, the club expects to send a team of five to attend a meet to be given by Panzer College in Verona Park, Verona, New Jersey.

CLASS HISTORY

We, the class of 1943, began our first year in high school September ninth, nineteen thirty-nine, in Columbus School. Not until May of the following year, however, did we actually enter the sacred portals of Carteret High. Our class advisers, Miss Kelly and Mr. Quin, began advising that year, and to them in large measure may be attributed our later successes. Our first successful venture was a moving picture show; with the proceeds we started to fill our piggy bank with coin of the realm. The freshman teachers loved us, but they were relieved to see us pass. Under the direction of our officers—Cyril Sidun, president; Francis Sankner, vice-president; Jessie Moczarski, secretary; and Willa Walsh, treasurer—we became the class to watch.

As sophomores—wise fools—we added to the glory of our first year, crowded the honor roll, had another successful movie, broke our piggy bank, and started a real account. We had finished half our sentence with flying colors and eagerly we awaited the future. Our board of strategy was made up of Jessie Moczarski, president; Cyril Sidun, vice-president; Robert Lozak, secretary; and Pauline Prokopiak, treasurer. We were represented in the Student Organization by Angela Martosewicz, who acted as treasurer.

We achieved our greatest success in the junior year. The primary factor was a play, June Mad, a tremendous success. The Junior-Senior Prom was an excellent climax for a perfect year. Our paroles were due for consideration in another year, so we gritted our teeth and faced the future bravely. Our officers in this banner year were George Heil, president; Pauline Prokopiak, vice-president; Helen Stroin, secretary; and Edwin Bergmann, treasurer. Jessie Moczarski served as secretary of the Student Organization.

We were serious at last. Our final year had come. Our second successful dramatic presentation, Pride and Prejudice, was the keynote for our finale. We sold Christmas cards until Christmas. As our gift to the school we purchased a service flag having stars for all C. H. S. alumni now serving our real alma mater, the U. S. A. We attended the Junior Prom and had a successful senior dance of our own. Joseph Gurney was our president; Stephen Krupa, vice-president; Dorothy Yapczenski, secretary; and Marian Sankner, treasurer. George Heil was president and Jessie Moczarski, vice-president, of the Student Organization.

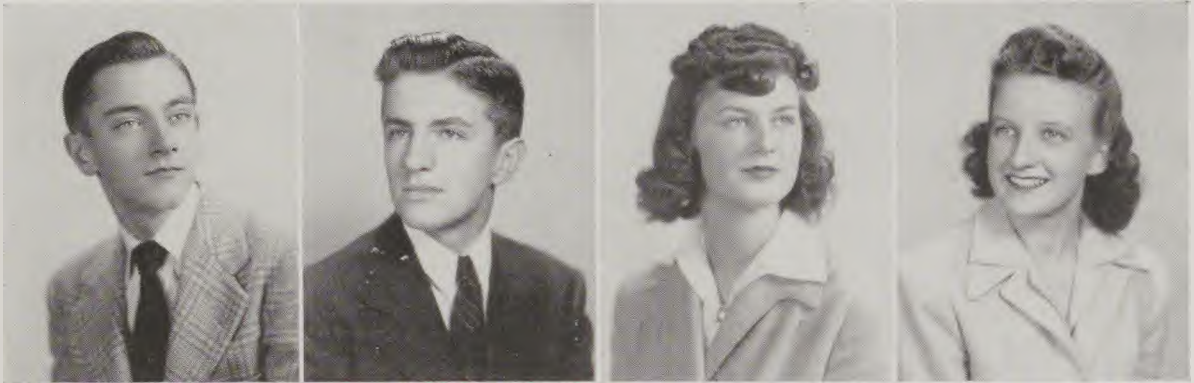

When we began high school in 1939, our nation was yet isolated from the war. Today, we are the arsenal of democracy, fighting for total victory over the evil forces which would enslave the world. With the might of God we shall achieve this victory. Ours will be the task of rebuilding the world, and to the completion of this do we humbly aspire.
