Foreword

Here is the 1944 Loudspeaker. Its theme is the Spirit of Carteret High School.

This spirit is an intangible thing—it is the feeling that every incoming freshman feels within him when he enters the portals of Carteret High, and it grows with the years. We see it in the boy who plays his heart out on the athletic field; we hear it in the wholehearted applause that greets scholastic achievements; we read it in the totals when a bond quota is oversubscribed by nearly one hundred per cent; we feel it in the thrill of pride that runs through us when we read of the deeds "above and beyond the call of duty" being performed by our alumni on land, on sea, and in the air.

It is the spirit of loyalty and courage. May it be the guiding light of our lives, now that it is our turn to leave our Alma Mater.

The Loudspeaker is a book of memories which, we trust, will grow dearer as time goes on.

Class History

By Robert Shutello

It all started way back in '40 when a few grammar schools got together and deported all their undesirables to form the Class of '44. Two hundred strong, we entered the turnstiles of C. H. S. and took our seats in the tropical region known as the balcony. There, week after week, we perspired through Friday assemblies. Financially, we started the year off with a bang. Deanna Durbin sang our way to riches in "Spring Fever" at the Carteret Cinema, the Ritz. Our affairs were in the capable hands of Robert Shanley, Vera Ginda, Audrey Burke and Julian Pruitt. Mrs. Hausner (then Miss Venook) and Mrs. George were drafted to care for our class and to act as wardens, oops, I mean advisers. Together we faced danger, hardship and—the upper classmen. At last we came to the end of our freshman year; we could hardly wait until we became sophomores.

We then advanced to the back seats of the auditorium. There, we remained for a year. We elected Edward Kolibas, John Kolibas, Jr., Marie Sidun and Julian Pruitt to preside over our destinies. Since we had made such a success of our freshman year, we decided to take it easy as sophomores so we didn't have an activity at all. Gee, how we wished we were juniors! We didn't have to wish long. We drove our sophomore homeroom teachers mad, and we were forced to migrate into the junior rooms. Phyllis Chodosh, Joseph Sabo, John Kolibas, Jr., and Vera Ginda led us through our really big year. We gave a play called "Stage Door," which was a huge success; it ran for three performances. We wanted to present Mickey Rooney in person but we couldn't afford it. We started to make a name for ourselves in sports and other activities—our water boys were the best in the state. All this time we kept our eyes on those front seats. We looked forward to the day when he could see a movie. Gee, we wished we were seniors!

1943 brought the war in full force. We elected Robert Shutello, president; Catherine Fedorcsak, vice-president; Harold Edwards, treasurer; and Gladys Meltreder, secretary. We wanted our prom early because we knew that many of our boys would be leaving. We had it December 10, the earliest date in the history of C. H. S., and it was a gala affair. We presented "What a Life." It ran for two performances. We spread Christmas cheer by selling Christmas cards. In all our undertakings, we were very successful.

Although we entered high school happy-go-lucky and not entirely mature, we think of years past with a deep reverence and appreciation for our school. Now we remember all those little things that mean so much to us, as we are leaving. We look back and recall with sadness the death of Alfred Guimond in our freshman year. We note the diminishing ranks of our boy students as they file out for war and war education. We remember friendship and thoughtfulness, obedience and disobedience, laughter and tears. And as we say goodbye to our teachers, desks, rooms, books, and friends, each says with all his heart, "I wish I were a freshman!!!"

MEMORIES

The Spirit of C. H. S.

On the shores of the Aleutians
Is a tired marine who's singing
As he gazes 'cross the water;
On a warship near the Marshalls,
Bringing aid to tropic battles
Is a tanned young sailor standing
And his strong young voice is ringing;
'Tis a song that finds an echo
In the heart of a fine soldier
In a foxhole far from kinfolk;
On a Merchant Marine trader
Somewhere on the hot equator
One can hear the strains familiar;
Out there on the battle-smashed line,
Too, an army nurse is humming
In duet with a brave patient,
Who will never see his homeland
For he's sacrificed his eyesight
To protect his country's coast line;
And a girl back home is standing
At her drill press daily toiling;
From a lonely spotter's station
To a field where WACS are drilling
Swelling now in brave crescendo
Over land and sea and water
Softly dying, dying, dying,
As it mounts into the cloud lands;
Symbol of a deeper feeling
That will carry on to vict'ry,
'Tis the song of "Courage, courage,"
'Tis our own loved Alma Mater.

By definition, an obstacle course is a device which builds up the body, develops the muscles, trains the mind, and hardens the constitution; but to the senior and junior boys of C. H. S. the obstacle course is a modernized form of medieval torture, which breaks bones, shatters the nervous system, and causes a great many pains in the neck and in other parts of the anatomy.

The Carteret obstacle course was built last year by the physical education classes, under the excellent supervision of Coach McCarthy, who proved that he could swing a hammer with the best of them. The course consists of a catwalk, a tunnel, an inverted roof top, an under-and-over, a jungle climb, a ladder, a sand pit, a hurdle, a log obstacle, a wall and a dodge pit—almost any one of which is enough to fill with terror and excitement even the most stout-hearted boy.

At the beginning of the year, each boy runs the course and a record of his time is kept; at the end of the school year, each boy is expected to better his record.

Although the obstacle course furnishes material for fun among the fellows, it is really a great builder-upper. Basic training in the Army, Navy or Marines will be a pushover for C. H. S. boys!

OBSTACLE COURSE

ACTIVITIES IN

What will you have? Exercises, posture work, rope jumping, games, or something on the apparatus? In the fall of this year the girls started training for the season of games. Perhaps you saw a few of them slowly climbing the stairs, expressions of pain and suffering plainly showing—exercises!

Basketball is the favorite sport and this year the girls began to play a more strenuous type of game. Not Mexican, they leave that to the boys, but it isn't far from it.

Archers—P. Chodosh, W. Spewak, A. M. Dunn.

THE GYMNASIUM

Volley ball has taken up much of the time and the girls are getting rather expert in volleys and placements.

For spring they are asking for softball and if classes are small they will be seen in the back part of the athletic field chasing fouls, running bases, having a good time and relaxing in preparation for the next class.

P. S. Tests are being given this spring to determine physical performance levels for high school. More exercises! Oh, those stairs we have to climb! 136.

In every heart there is a love
Splendid and true, wrought from above;
Sing, every son and daughter, sing!
Loyal to you we'll ever be;
To you we raise this melody;
Let every voice in glory ring.
All hail, all hail, your glorious name,
Dear Carteret High, we love you!
Courage to you, that you may bring
Courage to us in everything.
Hail to your glorious name!

WHEN JOE COMES HOME ON LEAVE AGAIN, WE'LL GIVE HIM A JOLLY WELCOME THEN.

What a lot of good pictures can be taken of that soldier or sailor or marine on his visit home! Real pictures that tell a story—a story of admiration for the fighting man and of his affection for his family and friends. Similarly with men and women in all the other branches of the service. There's no end to good pictures there.

And likewise with the many little dramas that make up your lives—schools church plays, club activities, athletics, weddings, celebrations, reunions, parties, or just scenes in your home.

Everyone deserves to be photographed well and often, from Grandfather and Grandmother down to the youngest baby—photographed so that your friends will look at your pictures again and again, because the pictures are clear, sharp, and lively.
