CARTERET HIGH
CARTERET, NEW

SCHOOL JERSEY

Foreword

WE, THE CLASS OF 1963, proudly present our yearbook. In the following text we will endeavor to preserve the memories of the four happiest years of our lives.

Just as the Greek's ideal of educating the "whole" person—in mind, body, and character—was the foundation of their civilization, we feel that during our four years at Carteret High School we have attempted to follow this ideal by developing the "whole" student—in mind, through academic achievement; body, through athletics; and character, through extra-curricular activities.

Because the Greeks believed the gods governed each aspect of their lives, we deem it proper to use various gods to symbolize each phase of our four years.

These Greek ideals and accomplishments have lived on through the ages; likewise, we hope that the memories enshrined in our yearbook will forever live in our hearts.

Dedication to MR. HORN

*Once high upon a mountainside I stood
To watch the setting of the blazing sun.
It dropped beneath the hills—I knew it would—
And with its fall the glorious day was done.*

*I saw a lovely rose in fullest bloom;
I felt its petals, smelled its sweet bouquet;
But soon it had no more its sweet perfume:
Its silk-soft petals slowly fell away.*

*I watched a sparrow wing its graceful flight;
I saw him dip a dive through cloud-filled sky;
But now he sings no song of sweet delight:
His wings no longer lift him up to fly.*

*As day must end, as sparrows one day fall,
As roses lose their bloom, so death meets all.*

CLASS HISTORY

A Journey Back In Time

IN SEPTEMBER, 1959, we embarked upon a journey, taking us back in time, to a land that filled us with wonder, awe, and excitement. In reality, this land is our own Carteret High, but in our imaginations it is Ancient Greece, the land of the gods. We entered Athens in our Trojan Horse, led by Paul Pluta, Richard Nagy, and Linda Surowka. Meeting us at the gates of Athens to show us the way, were Miss Ruckriegel and Mr. Nelson. We toured the land, and after familiarizing ourselves with its customs, we decided that we liked it and wanted to stay. To celebrate our citizenship we were host of a gala festival, which we called "Springtime 'Round the World."

During our second year we went on a journey around the island of Crete. Miss Ruckriegel was unable to accompany us but we were not dismayed, for Miss T. Monahan soon came to our aid. The captain of the ship was Joseph Kelledy; first mate, Eleanor Teleposky; navigator, Peter Homick; and chief watchman, Elaine Hill. We arrived at port on New Year's Eve, and to celebrate our safe arrival we sponsored our dance, "Welcome 1961."

Our third year brought us back to Athens and brought us great achievement. We became aristocrats of the Greek society and to symbolize this we received our beautiful rings. Proudly displaying our rings, we then traveled by chariot to the theater of Dionysis. Chief charioteer was John "Ben-Hur" Markowitz, and the others in the leading chariot were Frances Markeson, Robert King, and Rosemary Pavlik. There we viewed a magnificent performance, "Penny," a musical, starring Frances Markeson and directed by that famous Greek dramatist, Linda "Sophocles" Surowka. Among the gods present was Neptune, god of the sea, and in his honor we gave our prom, "Neptune's Nocturne," the most enchanted evening of our trip.

Our senior year brought us a determination to reach the summit of our trip—to climb Mt. Olympus and meet the gods. On the way up our Senior Glee Club sang their famous hiking song, Go Tell It On The Mountain. Our scouts were Kenneth Richter, Nancy Reisz, Joseph Comba, and Elaine Hill. Keeping records of our climb were Pat Litus and Joyce Kling, editors of our Annscott News. We were proud of our many accomplishments on our hike: sixteen members of our group were inducted into the National Honor Society, and our western play, "That's My Cousin," was a smash hit. It starred Nancy Reisz, and was directed by the well-known actress, Frances Markeson. As we trudged higher and higher, the summit came into sight. Our journey was nearing an end. With this realization we whole-heartedly made the most of our last few activities—Senior Trip, Dinner Dance, Baccalaureate, and Commencement. With sadness in our hearts, and many lovely memories, we realize that this portion of our lives has come to a close.

We are no longer in a group; we now travel individually to climb the highest mountain of all—that of life itself.

Splendid and true, wrought from above
Sing, every son and daughter, sing!
Loyal to you we'll ever be;

CLASS OF 1966

As we look into the near future of our exceptional class, we notice many of our colleagues in offices of high rank and dignity. The talents that they possessed in high school developed and are now blossoming in all parts of the world. Look with us now into 1973.

Barbara Brown is now a world famous acrobat, specializing in slow motion tricks. Also in the show are Natalie Koniw and Irene Toth, twirling fire batons. Rosemary Pavlik stars in the new T.V. series, "The Many Loves of Rosey Gillis." Frank Ivanitski is president of the National Safe Drivers Association. Vice President-in-charge of safety measures is Eileen Lynch, and head of the Commission for better driving conditions is Ronald Kilyk. Robert Leschek, on a new health kick, is walking to California. He was last spotted trudging up Pikes Peak. Accompanying him is Louis Andres, singing "Climb Every Mountain." Bringing up the rear is Eleanor Teleposky, carrying the packs. Lawrence Dudka has just arrived on Mars on one of his rockets. Charles Dalton is now president of Cinege Oil. William Comba is the proud owner of a 1913 Cadillac. Patrick Hart now stars in the new multi-million dollar movie, "Heart of My Hart." It co-stars Theresa O'Lear, and is directed by Thomas Hall. John Markowitz is running for President of the United States. His opposition is Aurie Santoro. Roger Bakos owns a "Rent-a-Sweater" shop. Joe Comba is now leaving for Siberia to get away from Carolyn. Carolyn Rapp is already there, waiting for him. Alan Dowdell is an officer at the Gettysburg Military Academy. John Batista has just overthrown the Castro regime. Joe Rusznak is playing Cochise for Warner Bros. His squad is Maria Segarra. Donald Davidson is in Iran with one of the world's largest harems. Carol Chezmar is on her way to Iran to exterminate Davidson's harem. Joan Bierillo is the owner of the Ritzy Beauty Salon. Her chief hair stylist is Francia Fisher. Some of her regular customers are Peggy Giles, Jane Nesgoda, and Bona Lee White. Barbara Elko is now singing: "Whatever Barbara wants, Barbara Goetz." Richard Nagy has replaced Rudolph Valentino in "The Shiek." Playing opposite him is Audrey Mesaros. James Martindale now sings like a nightingale. John Mitro is now 41, while everyone else is 28. Julie Shovey shells sea shells at Seaside seashore. Madeleine Frank is making recordings of her giggles, which are to be used at fun houses. Donald Sasovetz is a guide in the pine barrons. Taking group pictures of the tourists is Victor Lisnyczyj. Virginia Toth is secretary of the company sponsoring her hit recording, "I Feel Like A Long-Playing Record." Robert Mikuski is manufacturing canned laughter. Linda Woodhull is head of the Mathematics Dept. at C.H.S. Wayne Cannon has sole rights for transporting the freshmen girls to school. Donna Jubin has just won the National Talking Marathon. Robert Toth is driving instructor at C.H.S. Richard Rusnak has just completed building an expressway direct from Edwin St. to Carteret Ave. Eva Davis has just bombed the Edwin St.-Carteret Ave. expressway. Eleanor Sokolowski is Vice President of the Pirigyi Pirogyi Co. Karen Dumont has just changed her name to Motorola. Charles Baron is now Duke of the Parkview Section. Buzzy Brown is the most feared truant officer that C.H.S. has ever known. He has just caught Joe Welusz, who is still in school. Keith Schutz is performing "Macbeth" at the Shakespearian Festival in Stratford. He's directed by Robert Szemcsak. Also starring in the play are Frances Markeson, JoAnn Lukach, and Sophie Masluch. Leon Szczesny is now the head of the F.B.I. Some of his best detectives are Chester DeVito, Dennis Chasey, and James Czimcharo. Francis Sulek is head of President Kennedy's Physical Fitness Program. He's assisted by William Warbeck. Michael Shapiro now teaches Physical Education at C.H.S. Gertrude Toryak now owns Strollers Bakery. Henry Rzasa is manufacturing Bootsies. Paul Pluta now owns Safeway; chief check-out girl is Nancy Reisz. Kathy Szyba has just opened a MacDonald's in the heart of downtown Budapest. Working behind the grill is Georgia Zsitvay. Antoinette Paluski and Eileen Kovacs are working at the soda fountain. Judy Larkin is a millionaire from the sales of her best-selling book, Me and My Shadow. Linda Collins and Diane Woodhull are still bidding for the right to park on Dorothy Street. Marie Balka is Vice President-in-charge-of-Production at the Zuback Construction Co. Robert Lafferty is the new emcee of the Ed Sullivan Show. Each week he introduces a famous personality. Last week it was Andy Lee, guard of the N. Y. Giants, and this week it will be Robert King, who is Playboy of the Year. Marianne Fedowitz now manufactures Fedowitz's Peppy Pills. Alex Zuback and Kenny Chaloka are still patrolling Duffy St. Kathleen Gaveletz has taken over temperamental Maria Callas' position at the Met. Also, singing the lead in Madame Butterfly is Margie Goyena. Pete Homick now heads the Carteret First Aid Squad. Joyce Kling is an interpreter at the United Nations. Georgette Bensa and Arlene Muzyka are directing the students in cheering for the Student-Faculty Games. Andrew Andres owns a book store with books by such famous authors as: Cary Belitz, How to Succeed in Basketball without Even Trying; Frank Hodroski, How to Annoy Teachers in Ten Easy Lessons; Eleanor Szotak, The Hair-tinters Handbook; Robert Gregory, Hercules Rises Again; and Jeffery Kobrin, 1001 Morbid Jokes. Geraldine Nardone is now a spy in Russia. Mary Kazio, Elaine Nohai, Michaeling Hila, and Pat Naylor are our famous U-2 pilots. Sandra Cinege is an Oklahoma oil tycoon, shipping oil to the Charles Richard Anthony Dalton III Co. Linda Surowka is the owner of a bird sanctuary. John Edmond and Robert Torok are the happy owners of the "If It's Junk, We Take It" Shop. Joe Moran is a millionaire, manufacturing mink and sable rear-view mirror-muffs. Louis Muchi, after 657 unsuccessful attempts, passed his driver's test. His driving instructor was Jerry Schreck. Carol Praca is now Miss Universe. Miss Great Britain is Helen Britton. Donald Nelson and Jayne Henly star in a new T.V. series, "Don and Jayne Casey." Most of their patients are happily received at Jean Menta's Mortuary. Pat Litus is on a Moose hunting expedition in Iceland. Dennis Pascal is head of the unemployment service. Lester Porzio is on a safari in Dark Africa hunting for elephants. Albert Rigler is his guide. Dolores Sohayda leads St. Patrick's Day Parades down Broadway, right in front of the Salvation Army Band. Christine Ginda is finally down to one ring. John Skerchek owns his own Pool Hall. Kenny Richter and Dennis Siddons are now co-owners of a new nightclub, the Red Room. Wayne Tichenor is head waiter. The singing waiters are Joe Kelledy, John Swingler, Edward Miller, and Myron Wolansky. Roger Zsajkowski has just graduated from law school. He has just passed his bar exam. Gerald Feldheim has just cut a million-selling record, "One Meatball." Ann Simko is now happily married to John Kosnowski. Elaine Hill owns the House of Dior. Two of her leading models are Alda Lorusso and Barbara Kiernan. John Gala and John Kukulya are co-managers of LeBows. Andrea Kubiak and Catherine Spisak are both happy homemakers. Mike Kacsur is the owner of the Kacsur Oil Co. JoAnn Tirabassi is now owner of the Tirabassi Kolbassie Co. Manager of the sausage department is Diane Sapienza. Robert Phillips is U.S. Ambassador to Italy. Working in the embassy are: Anthony Rinaldi, Anthony Canonico, Michaline Guarino, Rose Gerlando, and Robert McMahon. William Turk is the U.S. Ambassador to Turkey, and George Pavlonnis is the Ambassador to Greece. Lorraine Decker is head of an etiquette school. Her assistant is Lorraine Boesman. Marion Clark is torch singer at Basin St. East, accompanied by Steve Trnosky on the skins. Jill Scott is now home in England. Joe Skocypec owns Kochecks. Robert Taylor is teaching mathematics at Sewaren Tech. Madeline Varga is manager of Grant. Dolores Walko has her own baby-sitting agency. Still running the cheerleaders' concession is Carol Ward. Kenneth Simms is his sister's publicity agent. Bruce Wadiak is President of the Carteret Plumbing Co. Richard Trucke and Mary Truch own a bus company. Robert Vonah is one of their drivers. Stanley Kamienski is still fixing his flat tire while Janice Kurtiak is hitchhiking back to Carteret. Mary Panko is a dental hygienist at Dr. Chodosh's. Elaine Farkas has opened a beauty parlor in her father's barber shop. Robert Horn is now conducting the New York Philharmonic. Joseph Yarnutowski is playing the organ at Radio City Music Hall. Also featured at the Music Hall is Rosemarie Symchik, a Rockette. Walter Galvanek is her choreographer. Ruth Teeter is manufacturing children's Teeter-Totters. Andrew Orenczak has replaced Smokey the Bear. Richard Perez has just knocked out Sonny Liston. His manager is Ronald Pizar. William Lindemann is writing articles for Hotrod Magazine. His pen name is "Crash." John Golubieski is the mastermind behind the experiments at Betty Crocker's. Robert Carpenter is—you guessed it—a carpenter. Working as his assistant is John Marci.

We, the staff, hope that the Class of 1963 enjoys this Prophecy, and that it is accepted in good faith.

"GOOD-BYE, C.H.S.—
We'll never forget you."
