Legends 93

Legends...Those who have seized the moment and left their mark. People like Joe Medwick, Walter Overholt, and Anne Scott are worthy of this legendary status. This yearbook is a reflection of our four years - all the aspects of the Class of 1993 which made us unique.

Looking back over the years, it is clear now that we have taken a different, rather than the traditional approach on anything we set out to accomplish. While past classes have reached togetherness, we recognized our differences and moved on from there. The strength of our group is its diversity and that has been reflected through our actions. Beginning with ordering our rings and continuing until our graduation, the Class of 93 has sought a new path rather than followed the old one. We are notorious for setting certain school records and have provided Carteret High with many exciting, Legendary times.

This yearbook captures the essence of our distinct group. It is true to our concept of being different, and our idea of what a yearbook should be. It is Legends 93.

Clockwise: Shadows in the hall...Carrie Nelson and Nikki Renaldi chatting before class; Duvan Sierra trying to beat the late bell; Rob Isabella with dreams of Graduation Day on his mind.

Carteret

Clockwise: Rob Wilder and Tom O'Connor, future Picasso's? Anthony Alexander being "set straight" by Vice Principal Sorge; Debra Zielinski and Maryann Kahora showing the unique "chemistry" of the CHS student body; Seniors seeking the advice of the wise one, guidance counselor Mrs. Checki.

High School

Clockwise: Daralice Matos, proof that time stops for no one; Heather Zullo and Stephanie Mitchell discover a major breakthrough in science; CHS students always reach for the sky!

Legendary Leaders

This year's Senior Class is very unique because of the many changes we have faced at Carteret High. No class has ever had to adapt to different guidance counselors, a change in class advisors, and the new ways of "getting around" the new vice principals!! The Class of '93 accepted the challenge and proved to many that they can conquer anything that stands in their way of becoming the "1993 Legends of Carteret High."

Mr. Joseph Costello, one of our class advisors, has been with us for all four years and not only served as a teacher and a dedicated advisor, but also became one of the most important people in a Senior's life - a friend. He has watched us grow into young adults from the first day of school in September 1989, as we purchased our class rings, planned our prom, and took our Senior Trip.

Mrs. Patricia Derillo became our advisor when Miss Seaman resigned and we could not have asked for anyone more suitable for this great responsibility. Caring, open-hearted, and dedicated describe this wonderful teacher.

Mrs. Checki, our guidance counselor, is the one who keeps the Seniors on their feet academically. There is usually a long line outside her office composed of students waiting to submit college applications. Mrs. Checki not only advises us on our future plans, but takes on any high school problems that we may encounter. She has proven to be very patient and caring throughout the years to all of us. She overcame some very challenging experiences while taking over the position of our well-liked previous counselor, Miss Minelli. She quickly gained the respect of the Class of 1993.

All of our successes in the future not only count on us, but they also are a reflection of Mr. Costello, Mrs. Derillo, and Mrs. Checki and all of their hard work in the past. For their patience and encouragement, the Senior Class thanks them gratefully.

Class of 93

Another reason why the Class of 93 is so diverse are the Senior Class Officers. Throughout the first three years of high school, the offices have been filled with equal numbers of boys and girls. This year, there are a whole new group of officers except for President Dena Eng. The new officers include Vice President Mark Kacsur, Secretary Tom Tierney, Treasurer Jon DeFelice, and Sgt.-at-Arms Marc Yeagle.

Many of the services the officers do for the class go unnoticed. These dedicated individuals usually meet in the early morning and plan upcoming events for the year. These decisions consist of choosing class ring companies, prom places, dinner dance, spirit week and of course fund raisers. The officers are reliable and always try to make the best choices for the class. The advisors leave the final say to these individuals and that's what makes them leaders themselves.

These fine young adults have chosen to take on this responsibility and it is sincerely appreciated.

Uniquely the Same

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to look at another person and see your own reflection? Ask one of our five sets of twins!

You will usually find these two characters playing soccer or cruising in their almost identical pick-up trucks. Mark and Martin Kacsur

This pair of identical twins have worked side by side in Shop-Rite forever. It seems. JoMarie and Stephanie Migliore.

Have you heard about the "Wonder Twin" mopping up the floor with their opponents at last night's basketball games? Of course it was the Burneys. Dennis and Denise.

They travel together, ski together, and even hang out together. Karen and Robert Bogash.

This pair is definitely fraternal! One is an athlete and one is a scholar but they do share the LeBaron convertible on sunny days. Kristi and Danny Shipman

Homecoming

Homecoming, despite what many people think, is not just about having a pretty face. The qualities a King and Queen must possess go far beyond looks and popularity.

The nominees are selected from members in various school organizations. Therefore, being involved in school activities is a must. Nominees must also have maintained a "C" average throughout their years at CHS. After all, these are the ones who will be representing the Class of 93 as well as the rest of our community. Finally, these candidates must show a positive outlook on Carteret High and exemplify a highly spirited student.

To sum it all up, one must be a well-rounded member of this Carteret High School family.

And the nominees are

For Queen - Leslie Alvarado, Christy Ashley, Donna Beres, Karen Bogash, Luz Bonilla, Shannon Brown, Denise Burney, Dena Eng, Janet Finn, Danielle Gallone, Terrie Ingram, Jen Kopin, Diana Kozak, Mary Matisz, Yarida Mendez, Carrie Nelson, Kelly O'Donnell, Darpana Patel, Tiffany Powell, Nikki Renaldi, Christine Vercoski, Lynnette Yurick.

Whistle While You Work

Along with all the pressures seniors have, a majority of them find time to work. Everybody needs money, especially 17 and 18 year olds. Most are probably saving for college or to afford a car and insurance. Some people may just be working for some extra spending money. But, no matter what the reason, these jobs just add on to the pressure of an everyday teenager.

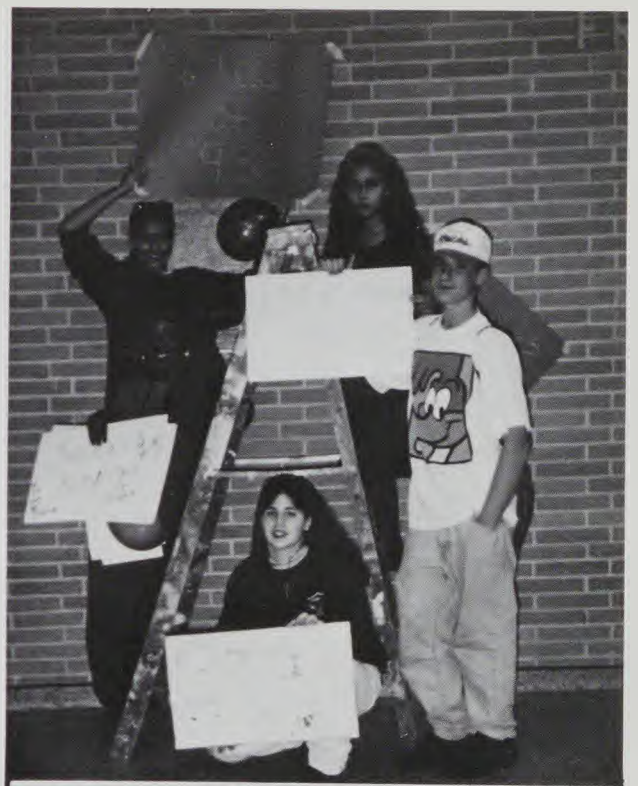

By working, you learn to schedule your time more efficiently and how to spend your money wisely.

What? Can you pass that by me again, please? The Seniors have to decorate their hallway with the juniors?

This was one of the comments made by the Seniors who wanted to decorate for Spirit Week. This change is just one of many that the Class of '93 has faced. There was no competition this year and everyone helped each other for the good of the school.

LEADING UP TO A

Ms. Seaman and Mr. Costello dressed to kill at last year's Junior Prom.

The Class of 1993 would like to acknowledge Ms. Helenanne Seaman, Class Advisor, for all of her hard work and dedication to the parents, teachers and students. There are few teachers to whom one can honestly give this much credit. She is one who has shown every student caring, discipline, and friendship. She also tried to understand the problems and dilemmas we sometimes got ourselves in to and gave us advice.

She was also involved with our academic and scholastic lives. She served as a great class advisor, tennis coach, basketball coach, led the JV softball team to a winning season and yes, she even liked cheerleaders. Academically she made sure everyone was passing; if not, she was there to tutor.

She is now teaching at Notre Dame Academy in Staten Island where she is as well-liked and appreciated as she was at CHS. Our loss was their gain.

Ms. Minceli is all smiles during the annual HRC luncheon.

Ms. Seaman at a CHS football game cheering on her "favorite" football player, Sean Weiss.

M. Caruso, E. Morgan, T. Tierney, and K. Kapinos pose for a snapshot with their BUDDY, Ms. Mince. What else is new?

As sophomores, the Class of 93 was shocked to learn that our guidance counselor, Miss Phyllis Minceli, would not be returning. Many of us were upset and disappointed because Miss Mince had become a trusted advisor and close friend.

Looking back, we have to believe that the move actually bettered the entire school because now Miss Minceli has more time to help and lend support to all CHS students as HRC coordinator.

When we were being labeled "the class with the most cuts, deficiencies, absences, etc.," it was Miss Minceli who always stood by us. Whenever we had a problem, we could always turn to her. Last but not least, we'd like to ask one more time, "Can we have a piece of candy?" We thank you!

Ms. Minceli and her little friend enjoy the Christmas party held at St. Joseph's School.

CLASS OF 1994

Junior year. This is the year that things finally start to happen. Your rings, planning and going to the Prom - it all finally seems to come together. You finally have received the status of "upperclassman," yet you don't have the pressures of being a senior. . . yet. Finally all the fundraisers started to mean something as the Prom and Senior Trip approached. This year the Junior Prom Committee worked long and hard to make the Prom a success and decided on the The Victorian Manor as their Prom site. The Class of 1994 enjoyed their Junior year and the next thing that they are looking forward to is SENIOR YEAR!!!!!!!

CLASS OF 1995

Sophomore Year. What does it mean?

To most students, it means the best thing - not being a "frosh" anymore. Being it is their second year at CHS, Sophs now know their way around like the back of their hands.

Probably the most exciting event taking place during Sophomore Year is the annual ordering of class rings.

Decorating for Spirit Week was a new experience for this year's sophomores. Instead of having their "own" hallway, they were teamed up with the freshmen and assigned to decorate the English wing together. This was just one of the exciting activities that the Class of 95 participated in this year.

CLASS OF 1996

The Class of 1996 are all together for the first time. Even though the first day of school can be a traumatic experience for incoming "frosch," this year's class came through with flying colors. The first day of school, "freshman initiation," trying to open your locker, and finding your classes were just some of the challenges faced. But they seemed to conquer all these trials and proved it by supporting the Ramblers during Spirit Week, as they decorated with the sophomores. These 9th graders also discovered many clubs, sports and activities at CHS.

Administration

The administration is very proud of our student body. With Mr. Torre, Mr. Barrett and Ms. Sorge all relatively new to their positions, there have been numerous positive changes in policy. More positive reinforcement such as publishing the names of those who made the honor roll, who have perfect attendance, etc. are just some of the ways that our administrators are hoping to develop Carteret Pride.

Understanding, visible, and fair - our administrators work hard for our student body.

Above: Mr. Barrett decides whether or not to assign a student to Saturday make-up. Right: Ms. Sorge, Vice-Principal, cracks a smile at the thought of "her" seniors. Below: Mr. Torre, Principal, is never too busy to listen and to help a student with a problem.

I would like to extend my sincere congratulations to the Class of 1993. This class has distinguished itself by the many contributions it has made to Carteret High School during the past four years. In some way, each of you has left your mark at our school.

I believe we have given you an opportunity to grow academically and socially with a foundation for future success. Take the lessons you have learned through your involvement in the classroom, extra-curricular activities and in athletics to build that successful future.

I'm sure you will look back at your years at CHS and at this year-book as pleasant reminders of what was a great experience.

However, as your life continues forward so must you in meeting the challenges that lie before you. Believe in yourself and meet your challenges head on. Your future will be what you make of it.

Mr. Joseph A. Torre

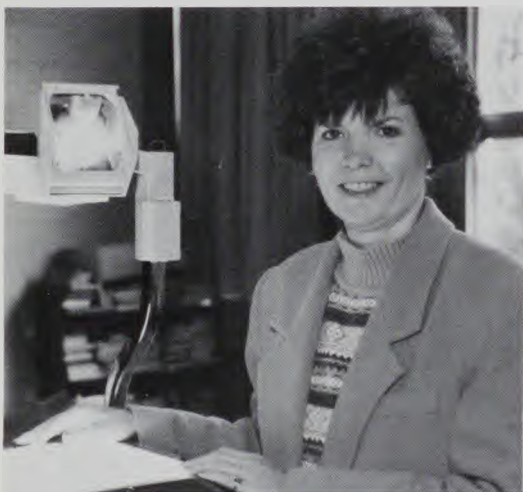

English

The English Department is composed of many talented people who have a broad range of experiences. They bring these experiences into their classrooms as they present a broad and varied program of studies. For example, the Honors English program combines various genres into a four year program culminating in the opportunity to take the AP English exam. Other courses such as Drama, Expository Writing and Poetry are offered to help prepare the college prep student for life in academia. In addition, the basic English curriculum prepares those who plan to enter the world of work. Such variety insures that our students are well versed in writing and thinking skills.

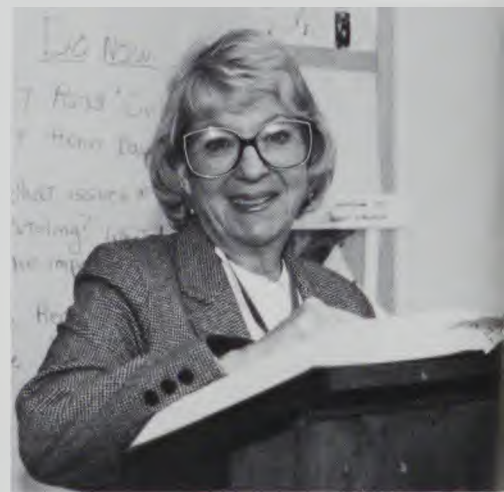

Miss Lilienfeld, K-12 Language Arts Coordinator, has brought many innovations to Carteret.

Miss Hanley gives notes on the good old overhead projector.

Miss Ross is a new addition to the English Department.

Mrs. Silverman teaches at her podium.

Mrs. Bucsak gets acquainted with her new surroundings.

Mrs. Jacobs patrols the hallway between classes.

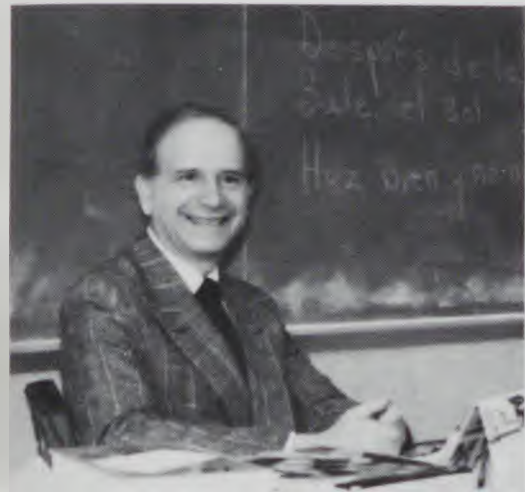

Mrs. Kushner is always ready to help a student.

Mrs. Bucsak reviews an English assignment.

Miss Hanley, Mr. Gavigan, Mr. and Mrs. Simon enjoy one of the library's bagel breakfasts.

Mr. Spaldo always finds time to stop for a smile as he directs the Drama class.

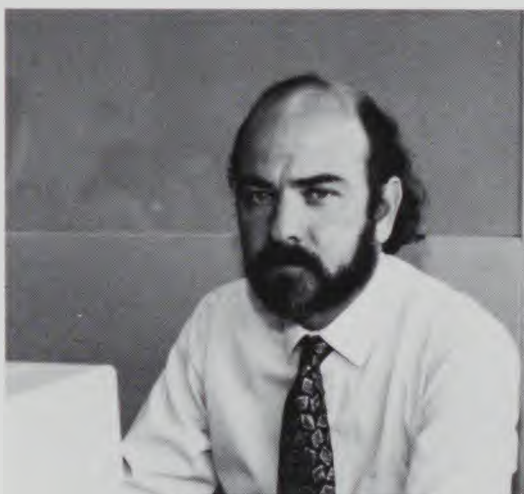

Mrs. Simon reminds her Public Speaking class of their assignment.

Mrs. Grace, Yearbook and Anne Scott News advisor, passes out tests to her Honors English class.

Mrs. Grabowski catches up on her reading between classes.

Mr. Duncan directs a writing activity on the computer in the computer lab.

Mr. Gavigan dreams up jokes to tell his English classes.

Math

Although some think of mathematics as a difficult field of study, the teachers try their best to alleviate the fears of equations and formal proofs. With their magic touch, these people help to take students through a fascinating journey of numbers that may otherwise be boring and difficult to understand. Tutoring programs are offered and many math teachers take time to ensure understanding of not only algebra, but geometry, calculus, trig and basic math as well.

Mrs. Cender explains a calculus problem to Jennifer Kopin.

Mr. Chamra is now Supervisor of Mathematics and Computers from grades K through 12.

Mr. DiSarro teaches a full load of math classes and advises three clubs and still finds time to smile for the camera.

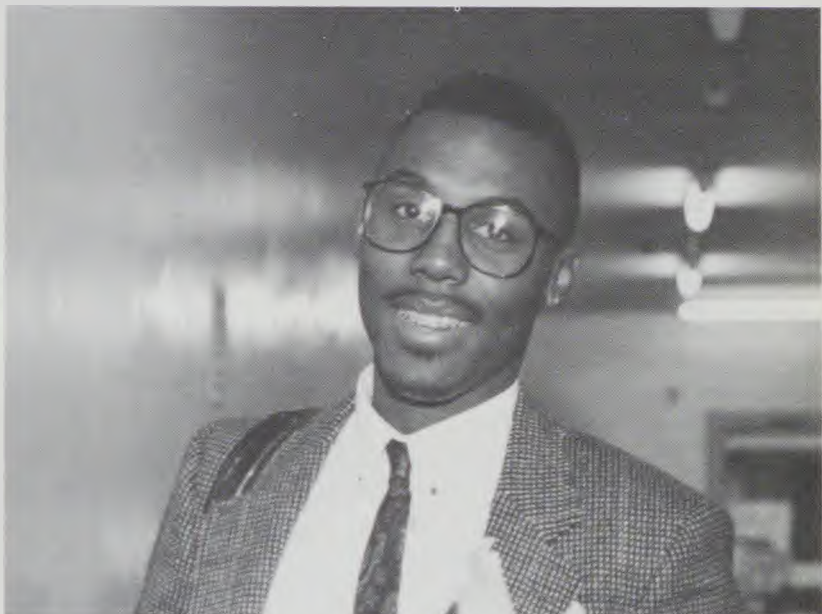

Mrs. Olear conducted a math tutoring program during lunch hour this year.

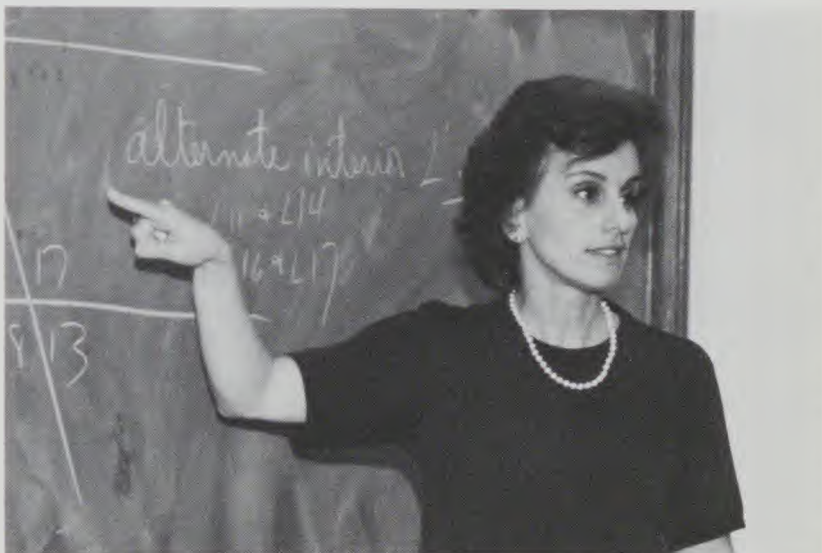

Miss Frantz goes over an assignment with her class.

Mrs. Patton teaches algebra as one can see from the work on the blackboard.

Mr. Moore not only teaches math but advises HOPE, an environmental awareness group.

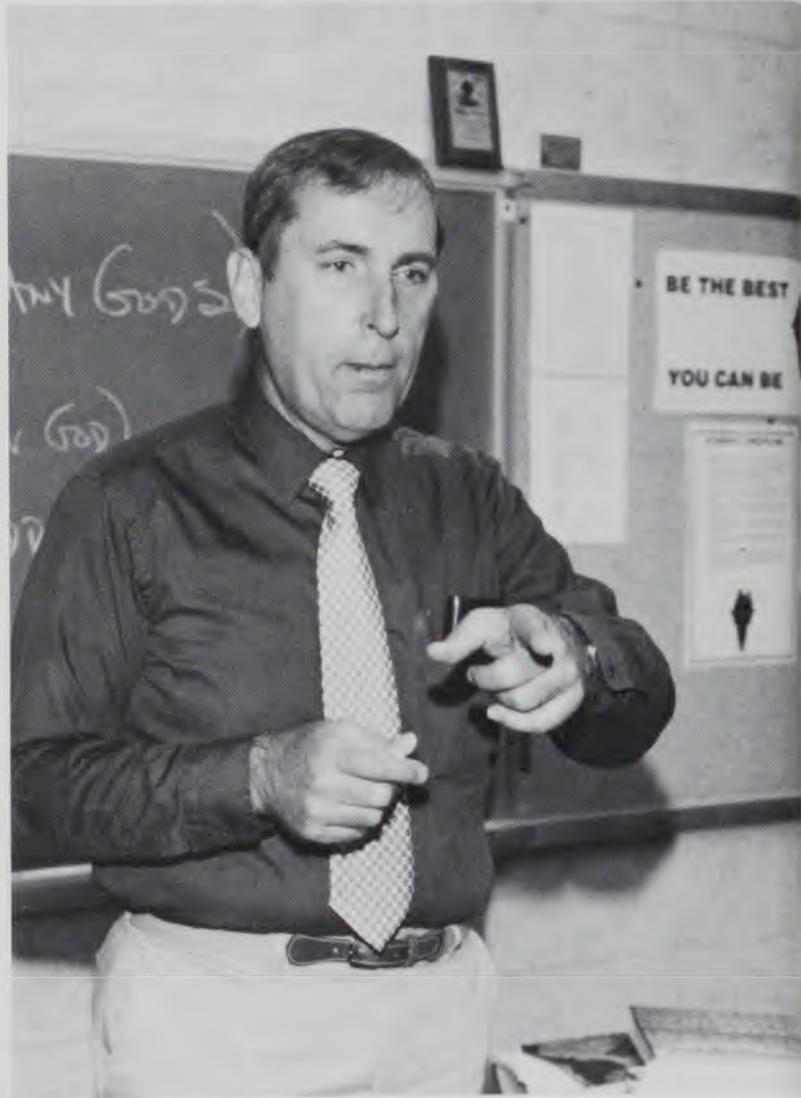

Mrs. Costello instructs her class in the mysteries of parallel lines.

History

Imagine being taken on a journey through the Ancient Egyptian pyramids and medieval lands of Europe. This journey may seem impossible but it can be accomplished with the opening of the doors of history. Only the social studies teachers possess the key to unlocking these doors. With their help, students not only discover how much fun history can be but also learn a lesson from the mistakes and triumphs of humanity.

Mrs. Hays generates discussion in her psychology class.

Mr. Riley, Social Studies Chairperson, calls on a student for his input into class discussion.

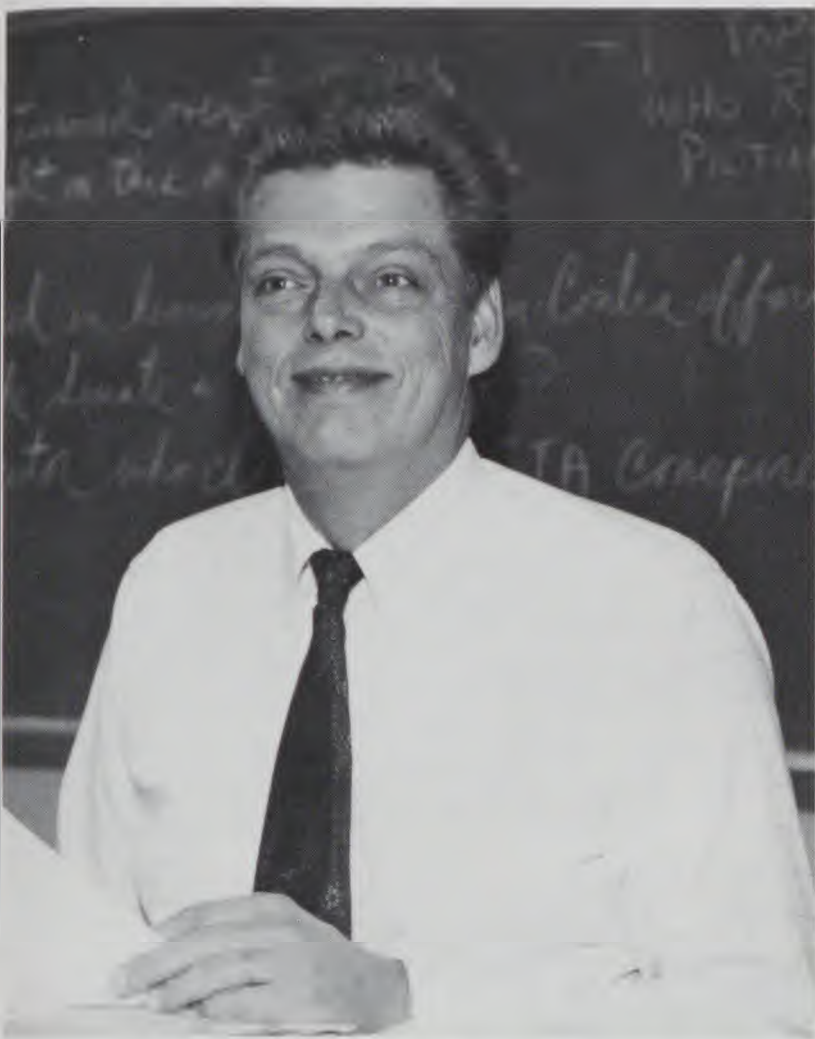

Mr. Simon, always ready to listen to a student's joke, serves as Student Council advisor, bowling coach, and Freshman Class Advisor.

Mr. Garry has been teaching Afro-American Studies at our school for the past two years.

Mr. Dotegowski is always ready to teach or assist a student.

Mrs. Krugman teaches both junior American History and freshman World History as well as advises the International Travel Club.

Mr. Cowan takes time to look his best for the camera.

Mr. Krakower prepares a lesson during his study hall duty.

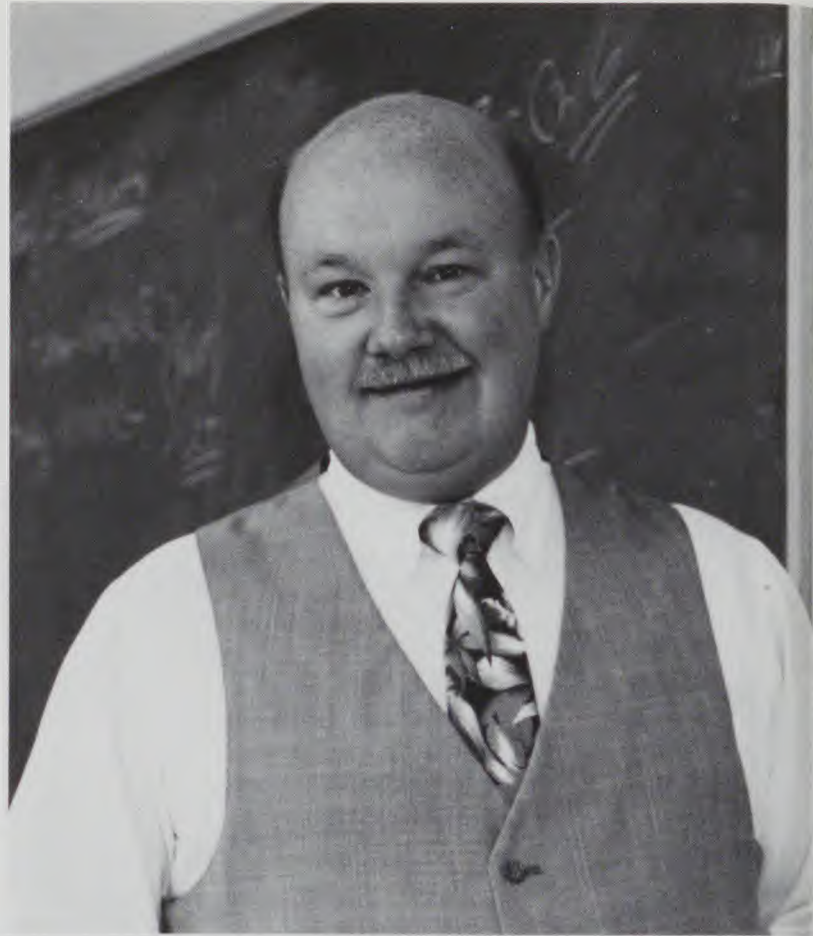

Business

Typing, Accounting, Marketing, and Bookkeeping are a few of the various subjects taught by our qualified teachers in the Business Department. Students learn the skills needed to get a job after graduation and here is where they can practice those skills.

Mr. Nepote checks some typing papers.

Mr. Scally, Business Department Chairperson, takes a break from his busy schedule.

Mrs. Kopko discusses job interviews with her students.

Mr. Costello, Senior Class Advisor and golf coach, demands Florida trip payment from one of his Seniors.

Mrs. Cunha, not only class advisor but cheering and softball coach, counts the money collected from her Junior class.

Mr. Nelson reviews for his Marketing test on Monday.

Mr. Grobe takes attendance in his Earth Science class.

Mrs. Keough poses with two of her students during class.

Science is a world of discovery. Our science teachers explore the vast worlds with students in such courses as Marine Science with its hand-on approach to studying the oceans, Earth Science which teaches us about the composition of the earth, Biology and Physics. These classes enable students to further their science education with the excellent teaching staff of the science department.

Science

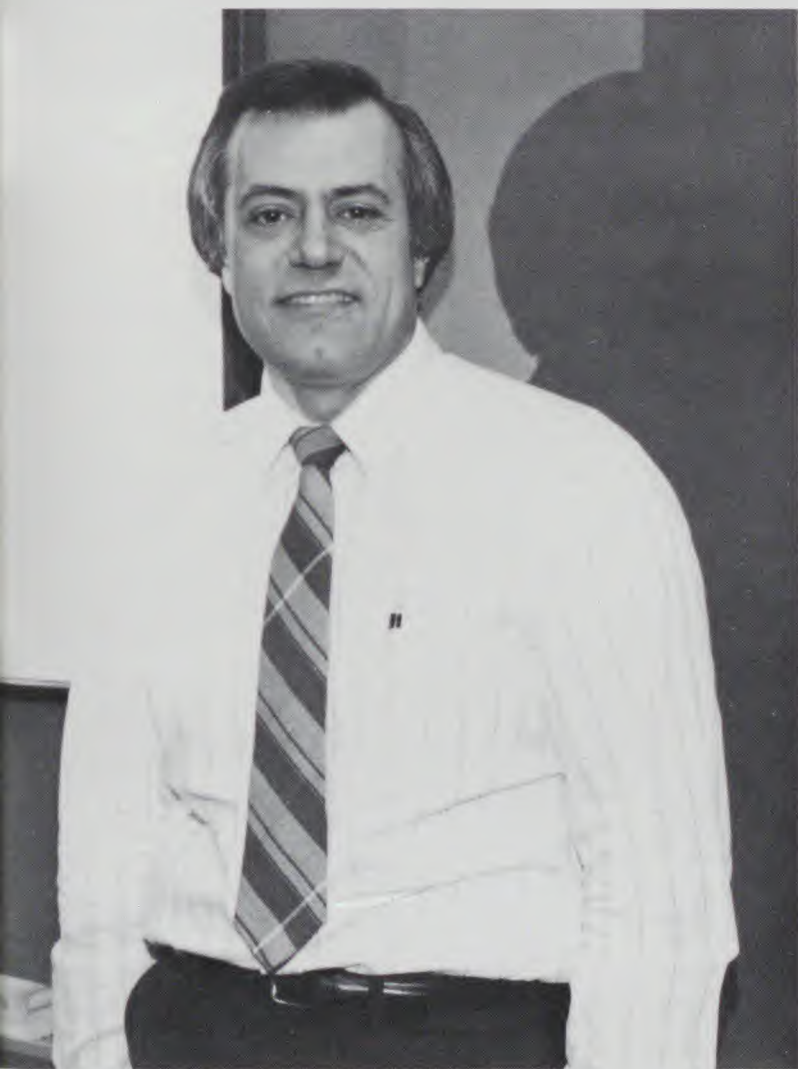

Mrs. Poltseno explains the structures of a cell to her Biology class as she diagrams one on the overhead.

Mrs. Keough, the newest member of the Science Department, finds her way around CHS.

Mr. DiLuccia flashes that special smile of his during Physics Class.

Mrs. Masterson takes a very uncharacteristic pause from her hectic schedule.

Below: Mr. Makiovecki, assistant band director, listens to Mike and Moses as they play. Right: Mrs. Lombardi, art teacher, is always friendly and willing to help out with special projects.

If you have a hidden talent, you just might find it with the help of the Art Department. The teachers in this department can help a student develop his or her abilities in areas other than academics. Perhaps playing the drums or expressing oneself through oil painting is the special talent that has lain dormant over the years. These skills and abilities can definitely be nurtured through the arts.

Arts

Mr. Peters, art teacher, knows just how to coordinate joking around with teaching to be most effective.

Mr. Fossa directs all of the musical groups from the Concert band to the Marching Ramblers to Parental Guidance, the show band.

Foreign Language

The Foreign Language Department at Carteret High School is where students can learn about countries abroad and of long ago. We are taught the language and culture of these countries by the skilled teachers of this department.

Below: Mme. Holleuffer shows places of interest in France to her students.

Mr. Comba not only works under the hood as auto shop teacher, but also teaches metals and is the Tech Ed Department Chairperson.

Mr. Arnold demonstrates for the class the correct way to position a line.

Technical Education

How can the Technical Education Department help you? Its assistance ranges from helping one perform everyday tasks that make life easier to beginning a technical career. This department's different offerings do teach a variety of subjects from Foods to Auto Shop. Courses help to prepare the student for the awesome technological advances in the world today.

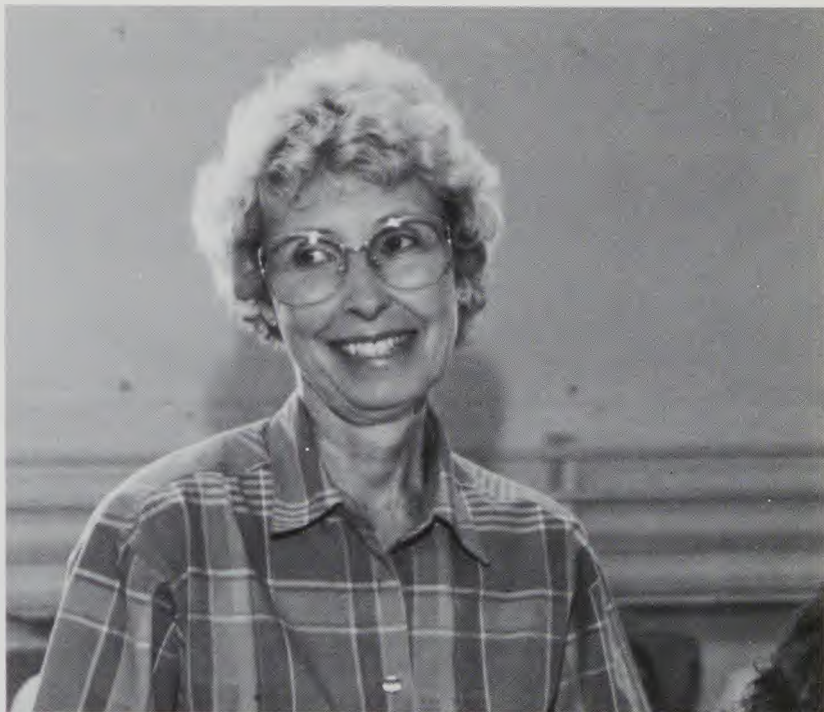

Mr. Rubilla, the new electronics shop teacher, seems to be enjoying the CHS atmosphere.

Mr. Tucker, a veteran teacher, has been teaching Wood Shop for many years.

Mrs. Singura explains a recipe to her Foods class.

Mrs. Lynes teaches her Parenting class about child behavior.

Kristi Shipman, Dena Eng, Jason Andrews, and Christine Barkkume tell the children a story in Parenting.

Do you like to cook? Is sewing your specialty? How about child care? If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, then you belong in one of the various classes available here in the Home Economics Department at Carteret High School.

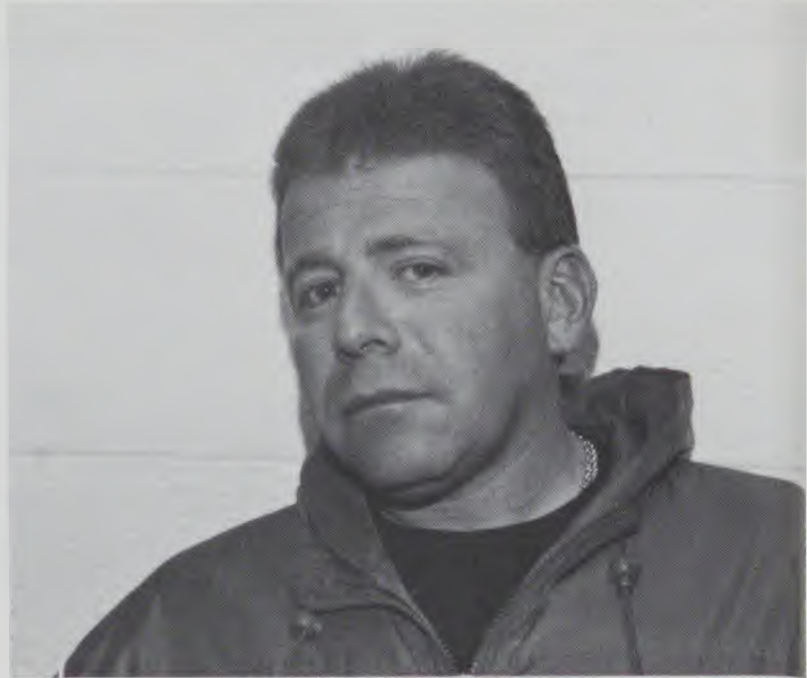

Home Economics

Physical Education

Gym class is one period of the day that most students look forward to. It is where we can develop our physical abilities with activities such as volleyball, football, gymnastics, and basketball. We can develop our academic abilities in health with discussions of disease and family planning for example. In addition, we can take driver's education where we learn about the theory of driving and how to prevent auto accidents.

Mr. Niemiec, Athletic Director, inquires about next week's basketball game.

Mr. Wiener, department head and football head coach, takes time out from football practice.

Mr. Karatz, Senior gym and health teacher, flashes a smile.

Mr. Molarz, head basketball coach, stops in the hallway between gym classes.

Mr. Shadell teaches his sophomore class driver's education.

Miss Vitale is about to dismiss her Junior gym class to the locker room to change.

Guidance

A Guidance Counselor is not only the person who schedules your classes and helps you fill out college applications, but is also your friend. He or she can advise you about career choices, listen to personal problems and help you to cope with them, or just plain be there when you need someone to talk to. Our dedicated staff of counselors work with a class of students from Freshman through Senior year and really get to know each student in the class.

Center: Mr. Donnelly is not only a new member of the department but coaches track as well. Center right: Mrs. Chiravalle, junior counselor, looks for a student's file. Lower right: Mrs. Checki, Senior Counselor, looks over one of many college applications. Lower Left: Mrs. O'Grady, Guidance Department Chairperson, stops for a photo.

Special Education

When thinking about the well-rounded education our school has to offer its students, one should certainly consider the Special Education Department. The teachers of this department prove to be a big help in making our school as successful as it has been by meeting the special needs of the individual. Classes include the Resource Room, Basic Language Arts and Basic Math.

Mr. Kindzierski assists the high school by supervising In-School Suspension and the Holding Room.

Mrs. Naples is one the the Resource Room instructors.

Mr. Kushner works with some of our learning disabled as well as coaches football and baseball.

Mr. Skiba prepares an IEP report for one of his Resource Room students

Specials

There is one group of individuals who cannot be categorized into one department. These very special individuals provide specialized services to the student body. From providing guidance and a comprehensive library to taking care of the physical well-being of our students to helping our students learn about each other to challenging our gifted youngsters to reach even higher goals than they thought possible, these teachers are indeed special.

Mrs. Bodnar, school nurse, is always ready to help in an emergency or when someone just needs to rest for a few moments.

Miss Minciel has been involved in the Human Relations Program since its inception in 1973. She now serves as Director of the program.

Miss Rilly is always there to help students find the materials they need and to assist the faculty in using AV equipment or developing research assignments.

Below: Mrs. Traina, Main Office Secretary, makes sure that all the staff get their mail. Right: Mrs. Vernachio, Mr. Torre's secretary, keeps everything in the main office running smoothly.

Secretaries

Just what does hold Carteret High School together? A great help in accomplishing this huge task is the work of the secretaries. Although you may see these people around school, you may not be aware of their work. Some of their important tasks include helping with the announcements, typing, and helping to keep the main office in top working order.

Left to right: Mrs. Bonventure helps out in both the Nurse's Office and the Library. Mr. Chubenko mans the attendance computer and maintains records. Mrs. Nagy keeps the Guidance Office running smoothly. Mrs. Skitka performs many duties in the Library.

Custodians

Clean bathrooms, straightened classrooms, and overall maintenance is provided by our janitorial staff. Without them, our school would be in shambles. Someone is always in need of a janitor. They are one of the necessities to our education here at Carteret High School.

1993 Loudspeaker

The Carteret High School Loudspeaker consists of a group of dedicated and hardworking students who try to preserve all the memories, good and bad, of 1993.

The task, though difficult, culminates in a "treasure chest" of memories for the seniors as well as underclassmen, to hold dear for a lifetime.

This year's book is a tribute to the "legends" of Carteret, the Class of 1993. Such moments as the championship football game, the play, the senior trip, the outstanding Rambler band, as well as those silly moments of teenage fun that occur daily are preserved in these pages.

The Loudspeaker Business Staff plays an intricate role in the production of the yearbook. The staff are busy taking orders, soliciting advertising, messages from home, and boosters. Without the hard work and dedication of the advisor, Mrs. Machos, the yearbook would not be as successful as it is today, nor would it be such a great value.

HRC

The Human Relations Club, headed by Miss Mincieli, gives students the opportunity to recognize, discuss, and learn about the various ethnic and racial groups that make up our school population. The club meets in groups during various class periods to participate in a wide variety of human awareness activities.

In addition, the club had a very productive year which included the annual Christmas Toy drive which has grown to include over one hundred families in Carteret, as well as the annual Christmas luncheon which affords all club members the chance to taste ethnic dishes from all the cultures represented.

The National Honor Society is a prestigious organization for which members are selected based upon their academic average, service, leadership, and character. Advised by Mrs. Grace, the group sold stationery and held a turkey raffle to raise money for a donation to a specific charity. The club also sponsored a food drive during the Christmas season to assist those families in Carteret who were in need.

The club also conducts a candlelight induction ceremony in May of each year.

Academic Club

The Academic Club is a group designed for any student who enjoys playing trivia type games. The club competes against various schools in an academic competition.

The club participates in "Challenge," a local cable TV show similar to the popular game show, "Jeopardy."

FTA

The Future Teachers of America Club, advised by Mr. DiSarro, is open to any student who wishes to pursue a career in education. The club enables students to explore the wonders of teaching by exposing the members to the classroom through school visits to the elementary schools. The club members also volunteer their time to many after school activities at the grammar schools. The club also holds its annual fundraiser in order to raise funds for scholarships for the graduating class.

Math League

The Math League is a club in which students compete against other schools in the area. Competitions are held monthly at different area high schools. The scores of the top 4 tests are added together to comprise the total score for the school. The school with the highest score wins. However, winning isn't everything; the students have a great time and gain a better understanding of math.

ITC Fashion Show is a hit with CHS

By Scott Elliott

Wednesday Feb. 17 marked The International Travel Club's sixth annual Fashion Show. The show was a brilliant showcase of this year's prom and dinner dance dresses provided by Antoinette's Bridals and Formals in Edison and the latest tuxedos provided by Ducoff's Formals in Iselin.

The show featured International Travel Club members and officers modeling the tuxedos and dresses. Eric Morgan stated, "This is my 3rd year in the fashion show and it has become more fun each year."

The show was completely organized by Mrs. Krugman and the Travel club Officers. Female models for the show were chosen by Antoinette's and the male models were chosen by the Travel Club Officers.

The models were:

Leslie Alvarado, Joe Amistad, Bob Andrijev, Christy Ashley, Wendy Barker, Donna Beres, Ed Bittner, Marsha Black, Karen Bogash, Marla Brucato, Matt Caruso, Mario Corrales, Amy Czarnota, Scott Elliott, Dena Eng, Laura Faccione, Erick Goncalves, Terrie Ingram, Maryann Kahora, Keith Kapinos, Stephanie Mitchell, Eric Morgan, Pilar Pereira, Lou Perez, Tiffany Powell, Dawn Reinhart, Rich Sheerin, Kristi Shipman, Lisa St. Juste, Tom Tierney.

Tech Ed Is As Important As Ever

by Doug Walsh

"Whether they have a college degree or not, everyone needs to know how to use tools," explained Mr. Comba, head of the Technical Education Department at C.H.S. concerning the importance of his department.

This department hosts classes such as woodworking, metals, electronics, auto, drafting, clothing, foods, parenting, and single living. Despite the importance of these classes stressed by Comba, this branch of learning is often times overlooked by students planning their next year's schedule. "It's important that students know how equipment operates so as consumers they don't get taken," Comba commented.

These elective courses attract a lot of Freshman but as the students progress through their year's at C.H.S., their interest in the so-called "shop" classes commonly diminishes. While approximately eighty students enroll in shops in 9th grade, only ten will stay with each particular area throughout the four years.

As far as the technology in these classes is concerned, the equipment is reasonably up-to-date. "Except auto," as Mr. Comba regretfully stated, used in computers that go into cars would be nearly impossible, as well extremely expensive, for the C.F. auto shop to be equipped with tools that could repair these systems. "Because of the Clean Air Act, an air conditioner recycler recoverer needed. Until we get one of those tools an auto shop really can't fix air conditioners on cars," stated Comba. On the other hand, the metal shop is the home of an $18,000 CNC lathe that runs off an IBM computer. This lathe is used in the advanced metals classes.

Although these classes are important in that they educate students on how to perform general home maintenance, some of the students see these shops in a different view. "I take my electronics course pretty seriously but most people only take the courses to get some easy credit," explained Dan Rivera, Junior.

An education in these departments could possibly lead to the ability to fix your own car, have a home bookshelf, or even design your own clothing. And if a student could pick up some extra credits as well as gain some basic knowledge of tools, then the classes are even more worthwhile.

Tower of Power performing in the band room.

They're Baaaaack!!

by Tiffany Powell

On March 2, 1993 Carteret High School will once again be visited by the musical group Tower Of Power.

The group, who has been visited C.H.S. a number of times before, will be kicking off their world tour here in Carteret before leaving for Europe. The group will also be performing various songs from their soon to be released album.

Wen Yu Wu, a junior band student, comments, "I feel seeing Tower Of Power will enhance my musical ability by exposing me to a professional

Reflections

Reflections is our school's literary magazine. This publication allows students to write poems, plays, essays, short stories, and novelettes for publication. Advised by Mrs. Silverman, this group works many long, hard hours preparing the material for publication.

Row 1: Dr. Hricko, M. Patel, L. Patel, N. Patel, D. Patel. Row 2: J. Mitterando, J. Patel, A. Shrivastava, J. Patel.

The Aerospace/Astronomy Club is advised by Dr. Hricko. Members of the club learn about space explorations and study the stars. They take part in star watches and learn to identify constellations. An excellent learning experience and a good exposure to modern technology can be gained through participation in this organization.

Science Olympiad

The Science Olympiad, advised by all the members of the science department, is a group of talented students who compete in a variety of science categories, such as Road Rally, Write It/ Do It, Qualitative Analysis, Bridge Builders and many more. Members of the particular categories participate in events and compete at the state level.

COE

Cooperative Office Education is advised by Mrs. Kopko and is an organization open only to seniors. Membership enables the students to gain experience in the office environment by allowing them to get jobs for credit. The club stresses business skills to succeed in a business career.

Row 1: C. Lemp, C. Gomez, J. Rodriguez, K. James, M. Castaldo. Row 2: M. Marino, S. Cooley, A. Zera, J. Migliore, S. Migliore, J. Hirnatsu, J. Galuska, Mrs. Kopko.

DECA I & II

Row 1: H. Riley, J. Medina, V. McHenry, J. Rios, S. Barger, M. Martinez. Row 2: J. Witcowski, D. Gregoire, C. Grandell, J. Sroka, B. Smith.

DECA or Distributive Education Clubs of America helps students to develop marketing skills by running the student store.

DECA I students receive a majority of in-class instruction and are responsible for running the school store.

DECA II members or the seniors only have class until 11:00 A.M. at which time they are off to work.

Both DECA I & II students take part in competition at the regional, state, & national levels.

Teens as Teachers

Row 1: J. Schmanko, D. Zvinakis, J. Harder, A. Moderno, J. Santiago, J. Zvinakis, L. Valejos. Row 2: E. Goncalves, R. Watts, R. Gautier, K. Hnatowski, E. Rokosz, Miss Haase.

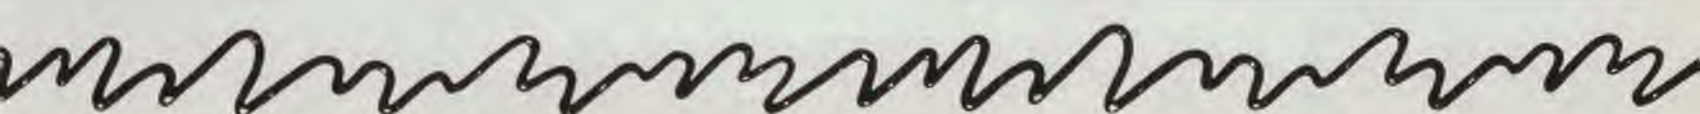

Teens as Teachers is a unique group of student volunteers who are trained in the dangers of tobacco use. These young educators then work as teachers, informing other students of these dangers. They also can provide assistance in contacting groups that can help in these substance abuse situations.

Environmental Research

Row 1: A. Shrivastava, C. Fruge, J. Patel, C. Patel, D. Patel. Row 2: S. Patel, R. Patel, L. Hluszczyk. Row 3: K. Sharma, S. Patel, T. Patel, R. Patel, Mrs. Masterson, R. Gudmestad, L. Payongayong, P. Patel.

The Environmental Research Club is a group of students who believe in the need to identify the carcinogens and pollutants in our air, soil, and water. Advised by Mrs. Masterson, the group takes samples of all three all year, conducts tests, and compiles the data. The test results are then taken to the New Jersey Institute of Technology where the students find the additional equipment they need to compute and analyze the results of their tests.

Chemistry Club

Row 1: C. Dey, D. Spoganetz, J. Santiago, L. Hluszczyk, R. Gudmestad, L. Payongayong. Row 2: C. Ashley, M. Patel, L. Faccione, D. Mazan. Row 3: J. Malloy, S. Patel, K. Sharma, J. Patel, S. Fedroff, L. Eccles. Row 4: C. Fruge, K. Patel, D. Patel, A. Shrivastava, J. Patel.

The Chemistry Club is advised by Mrs. Masterson who encourages chemistry students to pursue and understand a greater knowledge of chemistry. The Chemistry Club started the year off with a successful hot dog sale to create funds for field trips. The club visits various chemistry laboratories. Members also devote some of their time to tutoring anyone who may be having difficulty with chemistry.

Chemistry Olympics

Chemistry Olympics is advised by Mrs. Masterson. Members participate in annual competitions which require expertise in environmental science, chemistry, & physics. They also do research projects and creative designs a various areas. A chemistry show is held at NJIT where participating high schools display chemistry experiments for competition.

Row 1: S. Philip, S. Brown, C. Betancourt, C. Ashley. Row 2: M. Patel, K. Sharma, J. Patel. Row 3: S. Patel, C. Fruge, K. Patel, D. Patel, A. Shrivastava, S. Fedroff, J. Patel.

Row 1: S. Claro, M. Cho, S. Fedroff, J. Santiago, D. Wlodarczyk, E. Schneckendorf, D. Zvinakis. Row 2: Mr. Moore, T. Tierney, M. Yeagle, S. Weiss, R. Isabella, M. Celoski, J. Corrales.

Hope is a social action group designed for teenagers who will soon inherit the many problems of the earth. The group focuses on making the planet a better place to live, a world comprised of communities of friends, where we can create a community in harmony with nature and importantly, other people. Hope's goal is to influence our classmates and our teachers as they try to make a difference in this world, hoping their example will lead the way for a greater understanding of the world we live in.

Natural Helpers

Natural Helpers is advised by Ms. Haase. This year's Natural Helpers are very active, even in the absence of Miss Seaman. They are involved with the elementary schools in which members talk to younger kids about important topics such as problems that the students may have. Besides these deep and worthwhile discussions, natural helpers also enjoy the fun-filled retreats.

Row 1: D. Price, L. Catino, B. Beyfuss, E. Braun, D. Eng, N. Renaldi, T. Patel, D. Zvinakis, M. Barnes, W. Wu, C. Delgado, C. Borrero. Row 2: G. Silva, N. Stanford, P. Arrunategui, C. Bartorillo, T. Pre-engineering Bridge Building

Row 1: M. Brucato, Mr. Arnold, H. Lordi. Row 2: J. Moody, R. Sheerin, T. Tierney, E. Goncalves, J. O'Donnell, M. Greenberg.

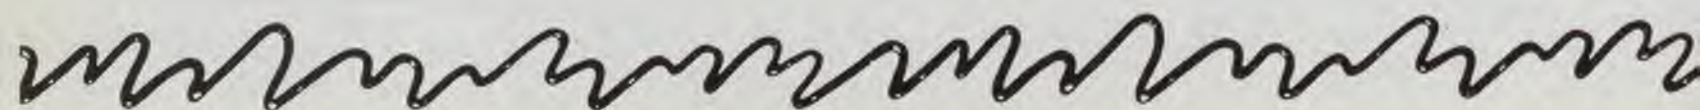

The Pre-Engineering Club is an organization advised by Mr. Arnold to help students become more familiar with drafting techniques and the engineering field. The club also allows students with engineering and drafting interests to explore careers which they may wish to pursue.

The Bridge Builders are combined with the Pre-Engineers this year. Begun just two years ago, the members participate in model bridge building competitions which are judged by the weight they can hold.

Science League

The Science League is advised by Mrs. Masterson and Mrs. Poliseno. Members of this club participate in competitions which include the areas of earth science, chemistry and physics. They take tests in the respective areas and expand their knowledge of science.

Drama Club

Row 1: J. O' Donnell, M. Murphy, M. Borreto, Y. Mendez, B. Beyfuss, E. Ashley. Row 2: L. Faccione, S. Vertil, C. Nelson, S. Elliott, T. Marino, M. Black. Row 3: J. Pabon, M. Raguseo, D. Mazan, W. Wu, M. Millan, D. Rivera, M. Corrales, F. Corra, M. Avila, J. Moody, D. Medvigy, Mr. Spaldo.

Every year, the Drama Club under the direction of Mr. Spaldo, puts on a carefully crafted production. Tryouts are held each year and the parts are carefully cast. The cast demonstrates their fine acting skills in performances which this year were on March 12 & 13. The club is full of work and determination.

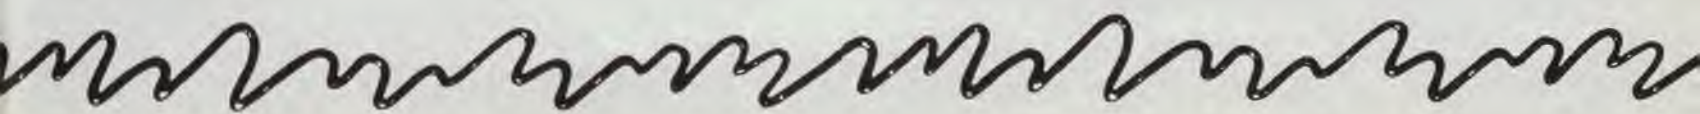

This year the play is a murder-mystery called "Rehearsal for Murder." Can you guess who did it?

Forensics

Advised by Mrs. Simon, this club is one of the best kept secrets at CHS. Although there are only three members, it's full of value, dedication, and honor.

Each year the club competes in the Voice of Democracy contest sponsored by the American Legion. This year's winner was Carrie Nelson.

Scott Elliott, Carrie Nelson, Maryann Kahora

International Travel Club

The International Travel Club (ITC), advised by Mrs. Krugman, is dedicated to learning about and traveling to other countries. This year, members of ITC traveled to Italy during the Easter break. The trip was very exciting and quite educational.

The ITC is involved in other activities.

The club sponsors its annual fashion show. This show lets select members of the club model prom and dinner dance attire. In addition to this activity, the club takes a trip to New York City each spring to see a Broadway production. In addition, the club ran a raffle for two Broadway show tickets and a bake sale.

Students Against Driving Drunk, or SADD, represents a lot more than its name implies. Though it does stress the dangers of driving while intoxicated, its members also inform the student body and faculty of CHS, as well as the community of Carteret, of the dangers of drugs and alcohol. Advisor Ms. Vitale stresses these points especially around the holidays of Christmas, New Year's Eve, and even Thanksgiving by tying red ribbons around car antennas. These ribbons remind drivers to drive only if they are sober. Since its beginning, SADD has proved to be an important part of a student's life at Carteret High School.

Varsity Choir is made up of a group of students who enjoy spending their time expressing their vocal gifts in harmony by performing for their fellow classmates. The Choir performs at the Christmas Music Concert and the fun that comes with spring.

CHAMPIONS!!!

CHAMPIONS!
STATE CHAMPIONS!
 Central Jersey Group II State Champions!

These words are just some of the many titles that this year's Varsity Football Team has been given and rightfully earned.

The Ramblers have accomplished something that no team in Carteret history has done. Perfection. The Ramblers have a perfect record at 11-0 and a championship season they will never ever forget.

The people who made it all happen were led by their quarterback, Senior Keith Kapinos, in his third year starting at this position. His cornerback efforts made him one of the best in the county and proved him to be a team leader.

The Triumphant Trio. This would be known as the "Two Minute Offense." The men behind the scenes were Dennis Burney, Rob "Stu" Wilder and Ramon Montalvo. This backfield was superb, perfect, quintessential, and all three of them are the best at their position. The trio of two-way starters intimidated the opposition when they saw them on both sides of the ball. Teams couldn't pass because Burney was at safety. They couldn't run outside because Stu was at the end, and up the middle there was Montalvo at nose tackle.

Billy Tharrington, sophomore receiver, had the only receiving touchdown of the year with many short yardage catches when they were needed. Billy also started at the other cornerback spot to make the secondary one of the best.

The tight end positions were in with a 3-way team. Seniors Sean Weiss and Bob Andrijev kept busy at the right end while Eric Morgan started at the left end on offense and defense, which contributed to the team's five shutouts.

Senior Jon DeFelice, Junior Ryan Fogarty, and Sophomore Sam Andujar played all different linebacker positions and helped muscle down the opponent's outside running and short passing game.

Last, but definitely not least, the linemen. These are the hardest working guys on the team who were appropriately renamed by opposing coaches as the "Big, Fat, and Slow" bunch. When they heard that, it was every coach's nightmare. They came off the ball and powered their opponents around at incredible speeds and exploding off the ball were Junior two-way tackle Jon Zimnicki, Senior Guard and Defensive Tackle Jason Andrews. Senior Tom Tierney powered everything out of the middle at his center spot and was one of the mainstays of the goal line defense. Junior Rich Sheerin made most of the blocking calls from the right guard position and proved himself at the middle linebacker position on defense. Senior right tackle

Dan "Skip" Shipman pancaked his way around the field.

Every great team is led by great coaches and this year's staff was excellent. Head Coach Jeff Weiner made all of the playcalls with assistants Robert Turco planning the passing game, Coach Robert Molarz and Paul Nelson handling the offensive lines, and Dan Ferrera handling the tight ends. Frank Diaco worked with the running backs with Mike Kushner worked with the wide receivers. On defense, Diaco worked as defensive coordinator and linebacker coach, Ferrera and Nelson handled the defensive line. Kushner controlled the ends and Molarz and Turco covered the secondary. Kicking was coached by Weiner teaching the "psyched up kicker" Paul Branco.

CHEERING on our LEGENDS

The 1992 Varsity Football Cheerleaders enjoyed a great season cheering for their Football Champions. Lead by senior captains Dena Eng, Jennifer Kopin, Diana Kozak, and Janet Finn, the team had a successful season performing a dance routine at all the home games and at the pep rallies. The team also included seniors Corey Axon, Danielle Fazekas, Danielle Gallone, and Kelly O'Donnell. Junior squad members were Kelly McGahan, Jamie Felauer, Heather Mardenly, Cindy Delgado, Kim Niedermeier, and Robin Nagy. Sophomores are Karen Panza, Lean Perez, and Erika Braun.

On the night before the Thanksgiving game against Perth Amboy, members of the squad decorated the senior football players' houses, in spite of the bad weather. Activities such as this and many long and hard hours of practice brought the team closer together and this was demonstrated as they cheered the undefeated Ramblers on to victory at every game!

Boys Soccer TRUE LEGENDS

A large number of seniors and a division switch gave the Rambler soccer team an edge in clenching the Gold Division Title this season.

Compared to last year's 2-11 record, this year it was 13-3 with a twelve-game winning streak. Under three-year coach Bob Duncan, the team had impressive victories over Piscataway Vo-Tech, Perth Amboy Vo-Tech, and Hoffman High.

Senior Captain Duvon Sierra broke the Carteret High School record for number of goals scored in one season. Furthermore, he tied the record for assists.

Seniors Louie Santos, Rob Isabella, and Duvon Sierra were Conference and All-State All-Stars in the GMC Gold Division.

Finally, the varsity team tied the CHS record for number of shut-outs.

Lowest Point Wins

Carteret's Boys and Girl's Cross Country Teams have again improved their records, both achieving 7-1.

With five seniors including Doug Walsh, Ed Bittner, and Damian Gonzales, the boys team posted impressive victories over teams like Spotswood and Highland Park.

Furthermore, Damian finished 4th in the Middlesex GMC Conference Tournament, while pre-race favorite Doug Walsh could not finish due to injury.

The girl's team was full of young runners with a majority of slots filled with freshmen and sophomore runners. Cathy Dey, Shannon Hempel, and Juli Harder led the team through the tough meets like the one against Spotswood.

The Girl's Tennis Team underwent many changes this year.

It lost 7 seniors and got a new coach, Mrs. Kushner who has coached the boy's team in the past.

The young team, largely made up of freshmen and sophomores, with only 4 juniors and 2 seniors heavily challenged their opponents. Fierce competition was given especially by Junior Heather Lordi and Sophomore Lea Payongayong.

With a 6 - 7 overall record, the team is rebuilding and is looking forward to next year. A summer clinic will be run to sharpen skills and recruit more players. The team will also practice during the summer.

Burney Scores 1001 Points!

Dennis Burney drives for the points.

The Ramblers Basketball team entered the 1992-1993 season with high expectations. Coming off a strong second place finish in the Middlesex County College Summer Tournament, the Ramblers were expected to win the GMC Blue Division. Led by All State selection Dennis Burney, an excellent perimeter game with Jason Andrews, Joe Colombrita, and Hector Ramos, and an array of tall players including Bob Andrijov, Anthony Rogers, Eric Morgan, and Randy Evans in the front court, the Ramblers had a potentially lethal offense. However, after dropping their opening game at St. Peter's, it seemed the team couldn't get on track.

Although the Ramblers played several outstanding opponents down to the wire, they fell short at the end of important games. Close losses to rival schools New Brunswick, St. Peter's, and Highland Park stopped the Ramblers from winning the Blue Division.

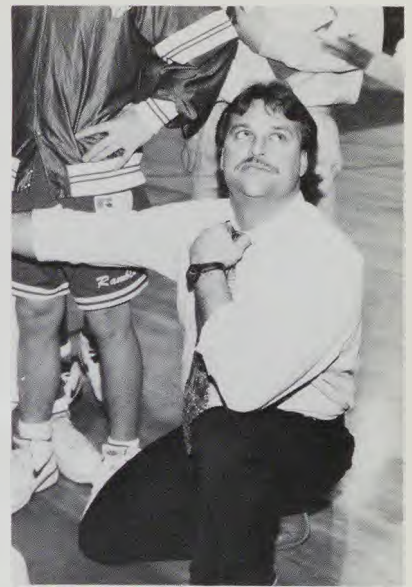

However, the season was far from a disappointment. The Ramblers carried on the fine traditions of Carteret High School Basketball, qualifying for the county and state tournaments. Also, senior guard Dennis Burney, in the state quarterfinals against South Plainfield, scored the 1001 point of his career on a slashing drive to the basket.

Youth - Key for Future Ramblers

Head Coach Robert Sisko and Coach Walter Dotegowski talk to their team during time out.

The 1992-1993 season was a building process for the Lady Rambler basketball team. Underclassmen saw a majority of the playing time, a result of having only one senior, Denise Burney, on the squad. The experience will prove valuable as the Ramblers look to contend next season.

Along with Burney, the team had many talented players, including junior guards Heather Lordi and Cindy Delgado. Up front, the Ramblers played sophomore Michele Lewis and freshman Jennifer O'Donnell, who provided the team with excellent low post play. If injuries had not struck key players, the Lady Ramblers could have enjoyed a much more successful season. Sophomore Heather Meyer and O'Donnell were lost for more than half the season, limiting the Ramblers' depth. Adding to the situation was the ineligibility of Junior Tara Bowers, who returned for a few games at the end of the season.

Although the Lady Ramblers failed to qualify for the tournament, they were able to display their potential for the future. If the team can stay injury free for next year, the Lady Ramblers should be a force in the GMC Blue Division

Basketball Cheering Behind the Teams....

Someone said "Behind every good man is a good woman." Behind this season's boys and girls basketball teams were the basketball cheerleaders.

Led by Senior Captains Jenn Kopin and Janet Finn, the Rambler basketball cheering squad consisted of Corey Axon, Danielle Fazekas, Jamie Felauer, Heather Mardenly, Kelly McGahan, Robin Nagy, Kim Niedermeier, and Kristy Zielinski.

Together, the team works long and hard, giving up free time to practice to make sure that their cheers and routines are preformed with precision.

Present at every game, basketball cheerleaders get the fans psyched for each game with their cheers and chants. This also helped the players get energized, said Juniors Heather Lordi and Cindy Delgado, two of the Varsity Girls team. "They put alot of confidence in the team and the crowd. They really pep us up before the game."

This group of dedicated girls will be back on the courts next year, with several returning lettermen as well as a number of JV squad members who will certainly take over where this year's seniors left off.

Winter Track

While such a bad winter as the one we just had may keep many indoors, it drove the Boys & Girls Winter Track Teams to run, jump, and throw outside and finish the season with a 5-2 dual meet record.

The runners on the Boys Team had a great success, especially in championship meets. They finished 3rd in the Greater Middlesex Conference Championships. At the GMC Relay Meet, Seniors Damian Gonzales, Luis Perez, Ed Bittner, and Doug Walsh finished first. Doug and Damian placed first and third in both the 1600 meter and the 3200 meter runs at the GMC Championship Meet.

Doug, Damian and Senior Rob Wilder (shot put) all placed at the State Group II Championships and qualified for the State Meet of Champions where Doug placed in the 1600 meter run.

Furthermore, Ed Rivera showed a great performance in the high jump.

Senior Donna Beres led a very young group of runners, jumpers and throwers, especially Amy Heck, on the Girls Team that is showing great promise for the future.

As for next year, Coach Shadell said, "Our young people are working hard and learning techniques so we can continue to bring new talent to the top."

Boys & Girls Bowling Gets Ready for Next Year.

The Rambler Bowlers had a tough season this year: Not only did they lose many seniors, they also got a new coach. The boys finished with a 5-14 record and the girls posted a 2-16-1.

Despite the record, the teams has some great scores under Senior Captains Joe Amistad and Cindy Lemp. Joe himself led the team with a 177 average and a 244 high game.

Following Joe was Sophomore Tony Valiant who averaged 154 and had a high game of 224. Also, with high scores were Sophomore Chris Luskey and Senior Mike Keene with 223 and 210 respectively.

On the girls team, Daria Mazan had her highest game with a 228; she averaged 152. Other high games on the girls team included Nicole Valiant - 201; Cindy Lemp 184; and Juniors Lara Hluszczyk and Reina Gudmestad with 170-176.

Although there has been no definite decision on who will coach the team next year, Mr. Simon said, "If the varsity bowling coach's position is posted, I'll be putting in for it. But we'll have to see what Mr. Nelson does."

Experience Can Be Key

Senior Joe Colombrita awaits the pitch.

This year's coaching staff is looking for another Championship season. The squad consists of seven seniors: Chris Bufano, Joe Colombrita, Matt Caruso, Mark Kacsur, Keith Kapinos, Juan Sanisidro, and Dan Shipman.

The team is broken down like this. The pitching will be done by a young but very effective squad consisting of Junior Paul D'Archi, Sophomores Mike Toth and Phil Stragapede. The catchers are Mark Kacsur and Junior Rich Sheerin. Whoever is not catching will be the designated hitter. The infielders are versatile and can play anywhere on the field. This crew is Joe Colombrita, Matt Caruso, Chris Bufano, Juan Sanisidro, Dan Shipman and Junior Joe Rivera.

The outfield duties will be controlled by Keith Kapinos with help from Steve Corba, Mike Toth or Paul D'Archi.

The team should be a powerhouse and they are working hard to deserve anything they do. Despite the Blizzard of 93 which caused the delay of opening practices, the team is responding well to the coaching plan and should post a terrific record.

Softball

Versatility is Key

Dena Eng goes back to the wall for a catch during practice.

Once again the "Dynamic Duo" coaching staff, frankly brother and sister, Nick Scheno and Grace Cunha have come back to get this season's squad on the right track.

The squad consists of only three seniors, which may bode better for the future than the present but hopes are still high. The trio of seniors are Dena Eng, Jenn Kopin, and Kelly O'Donnell.

Eng, known for her outfield play, is very versatile and can come in, but she will probably control the outfield. Kopin, an infielder, will most likely control second base, but she can also play any position. O'Donnell is best known for her pitching ability but she too can be used at any position.

Juniors Heather Lordi, Robin Nagy, and Cindy Delgado can all play various positions as well. This ability to mix and match to suit the opponent should hold the team in good stead as the season progresses.

Sophomores Michele Lewis, Heather Meyer, Diane Derogatis and Erika Braun will never see the outfield since their strengths lie in pitching, catching and the infield.

Spring Track

Saying Good-bye to Old Legends and Hello to the New

This spring season, the track teams will say good-bye to some famous legends:

Donna Beres, Ed Bittner, Damian Gonzales, Doug Walsh, and Rob Wilder. Throughout their four years here, they've set various records and earned much prestige for CHS.

Although the season is just underway at this writing, the coaches are confident about the present and the future.

On the boys side, Doug, Ed, and Damian are holding their own running, while Rob Wilder is the shot and discus man.

With the girls, Donna Beres, Amy Heck, & Julie Harder are showing great performances with shot, discus, and javelin respectively. Diana Wlodarczyk is showing promise for a throwing future. Outstanding runners for the girls are Natatill Stanford, Julie Harder, Jessica Johnson, Cathy Dey, Paloma Arrunategui, and Shannon Hempel. Sheila Ferry shows promise in the hurdles.

Being in the Blue Division, Metuchen will be the most important meet this year. Said Coach Shadell, "We're a very young team. We can only go up. If the young people stick with us, we should be able to win a few championships."

Top: Dave Medvigy runs the 3200. Nick Parashis hurls the shot.

CHS Boys Tennis

Building Legends for Tomorrow

Good future. Great potential. These are just a couple of ways to describe the 1993 Boys Tennis team. With a crop of fresh new faces, this year's team, according to Senior Co-Captain Robert Sisko, is very strong at all positions and has a very good chance to enter the county and state tournaments.

With the loss of five key players, this year's tennis team is very young and inexperienced. Strong team co-captains, Steven Saccone and Robert Sisko, hope to encourage and support these new athletes.

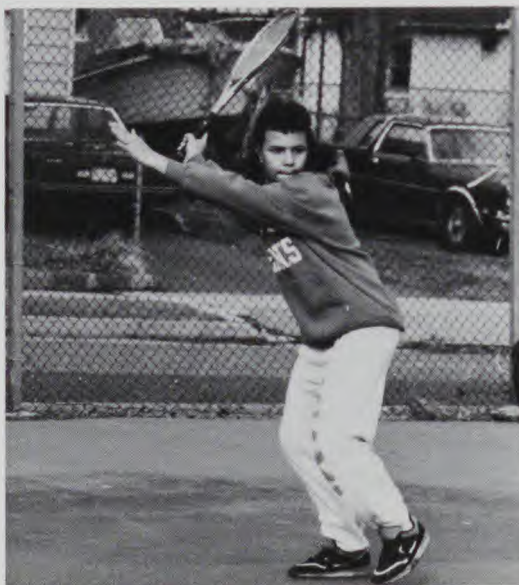

Sisko, who plays third singles, has returned to the tennis team after a one-year hiatus because of his love for the sport. Saccone feels that Sisko's return is a major asset to this year's young team. Also, Freshman newcomer Martin Payongayong, according to Saccone, has a great future with the team.

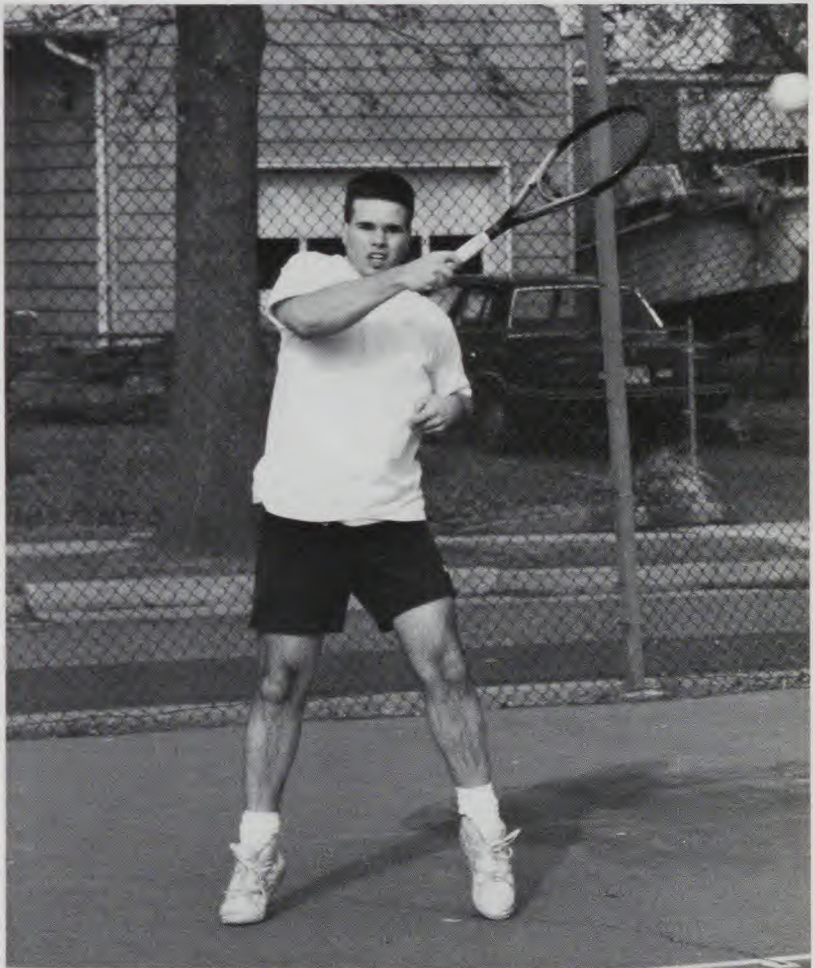

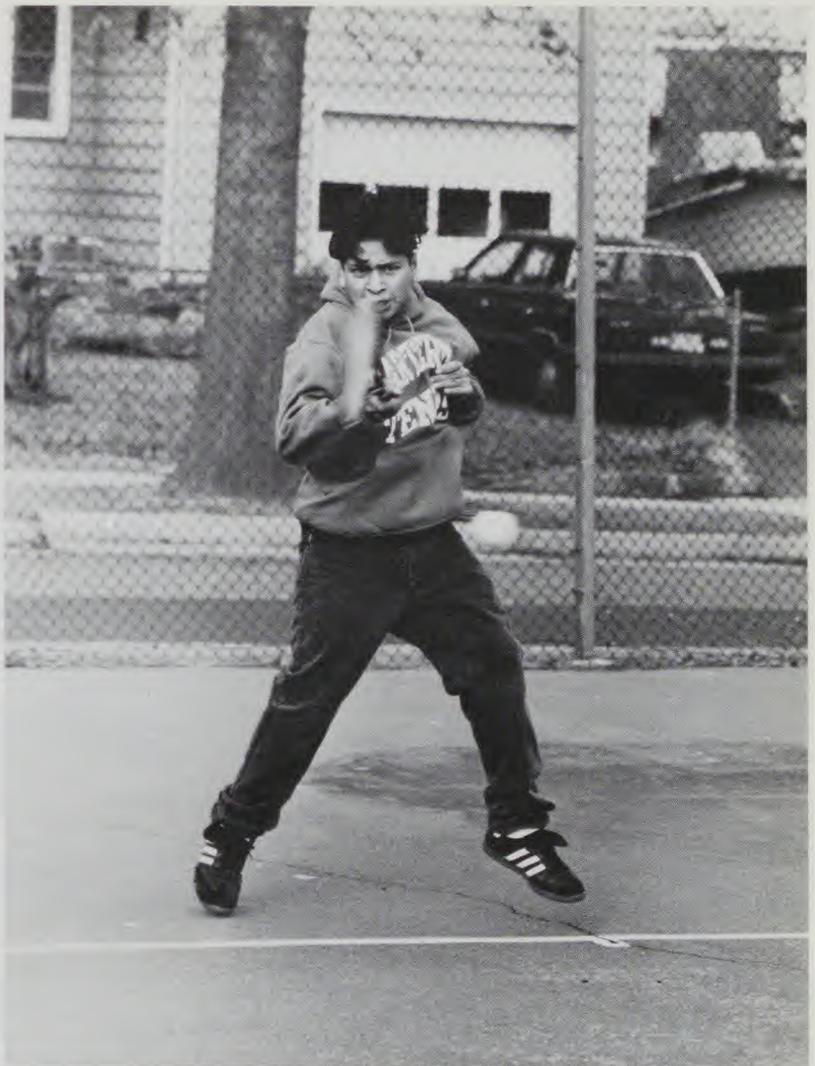

Row 1: S. Patel, M. Rivera, M. Szember, T. Stiglic, M. Millan, S. Doong, J. Guzman, M. Payongayong. Row 2: Coach Basza, J. Sierra, B. Dressler, S. Saccone, L. Rodriguez, R. Sisko, M. Hennessey.

Golf

Although they are returning this season with a less than outstanding record behind them, the Rambler Golf Team is naturally hoping for drastic improvement. A turnaround is indeed a possibility.

Though there are no senior golfers this year, several factors contribute to a possible success this year. Second year Coach Costello has purchased several correctional training aids in hopes that we may soon see the Ramblers hitting down fairways instead of into water hazards.

Led by juniors Mark Yannl, Matt Greenberg, and Mark Clemens, the varsity golfers may have a winning season. Sophomore Tony Valiant has shown a natural ability for the game, but we have yet to witness freshman production.

Since Coach Costello seems to have settled in with team and wishes to correct individual faults, change should be forthcoming.

Row 1: M. Clemens, T. Valiant, H. Figueroa, R. Drozd. Row 2: Coach Costello, A. Lehotsky, M. Yannl, B. Ribiero, B. Stanley, M. Greenberg.

Legends in the Breaking

SOCCER: While some are legends in the making, Duvan Sierra is a legend already made. With 28 goals this season, Duvan led his team to the championships and leads the school in goals scored per season.

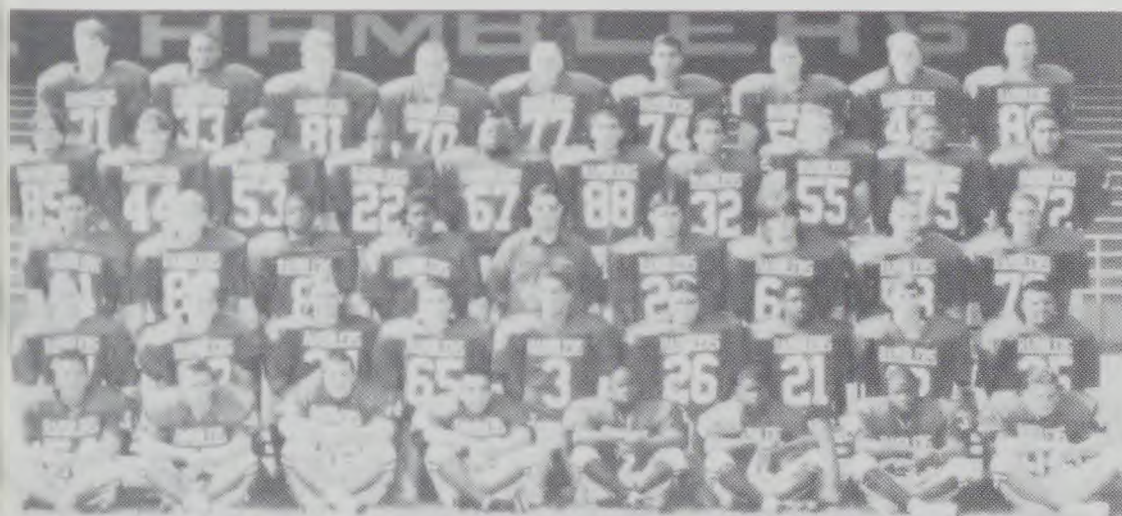

TRACK: Mercury, the winged messenger of Greek mythology, has nothing on our own legend, Doug Walsh. He broke into the school record books when he crossed the finish line in the 800m in only 1:59.0.

BASKETBALL: Unlike Icarus, when Dennis Burney takes to the air, he never falls. This was evident when he scored over 1000 points for the Ramblers this past season.

TRACK: I'd say we definitely have some legendary material here. Damian Gonzales, Doug Walsh, Ed Bittner, and Lou Perez shaved 4 seconds off the winter and spring season 4 X 800 relay record.

FOOTBALL: The Big Blue Wrecking Crew makes the news once again. Not only did this "wolfpack" win the state championship, they also broke the school scoring record for game and season.

Between the flooded streets surrounding the high school during the "light precipitation" that turned into "Nor'easter 92" and the "flood" of controversy in the borough government, 1992 was a year worth noting on the local basis.

Presidential Election

Republican George Bush

Ross H. Perot

Democrat Bill Clinton

My, how things get spiced up when there's a dark horse in the running! This year's presidential election featured a third candidate, Ross H. Perot in addition to the usual Republican and Democratic candidates.

President Bush may look sure here, but he ended up as just another lame duck. Bill Clinton succeeded in taking over the Executive Branch of government, the first Democrat to do so in twelve years.

While the "big-shot" politicians were having their election, Carteret High School had its own Presidential race. Designed to educate students about democratic government as well as teaching the aspects of the elections, this election simulation gave students the hands-on learning unique to Carteret High School. Between heated debates on the issues in front of the entire student body and the use of the new televisions throughout the school's classrooms, the mock election turned out to be a learning experience for all. Sean Weiss and Sean Mirek were the winners. Who knows, the next President of the U.S. may be among us right now!

Dear Michael,
Since you were born we were always there - no matter what you needed. We were at your bedside when you were sick, we held your hand to cross the street, wrapped you up in hugs when you were hurting or afraid.

How we wish it were still that easy to shield you from pain & disappointment & make everything all better. But, being parents is finding the strength to let you go and let you grow from your mistakes and heartaches - to let you know you can make it on your own, that you are capable to make your own decisions & take chances.

BUT - we hope you'll always remember that we love you with our heart & soul & that we will always be right here for you.

Love always, Mom & Dad

CONGRATULATIONS

Dearest Class of '93,

Last year I came to CHS, a stranger to all, you, a beautiful special group of young people welcomed me and made me feel like I belonged here. I truly thank you for your kindness and your warmth.

Now, you go on to a new world and I hope someone will welcome and help you.

I wish you all the best that life has to offer. Do what you want to do and be who you want to be; you have that power. Believe in yourselves and what is right. I pray that you do not harm others. There's too much of that in this world. I truly believe you are the beautiful people who can change that. You don't accept what you think is evil. Work at it!

I shall miss you immensely; it won't be the same without you.

Congratulations!

Good Luck! God bless! Stay in touch!

Sincerely,
Mary F. Sorge

To the Class of 1993,

Congratulations!! You will always have a special place in my heart. Thanks for so many great memories.

Love,
Miss Helenanne Seaman

Hello Eddie! We enjoyed many a triumphant moment on the track and elsewhere in Florida.
Senior year is awesome and will never leave my memory that is.
See you on the beach - Doug Ed, It was fun having you over my house all the time. I'm gonna miss you. Good luck! Love your Sis-in-law, Julie
Dan - For the past wo years we got a long great, gonna miss your obnoxiousness next year.
Volleyball #1 Florida #1. See you on the beach - Doug Well, Dan, It's been fun even though you've only been here two years.
Can't wait for Florida - James Danny - Being friends for 15 years can't really all be said in just a few lines. We've been through so much together growing up whether it be all those intense games of basketball and wiffleball or just a neigh-borly game of SPUD or Kickball.
You must admit though that the the talks on the porch were the best. Well, I really can't say much more about our 16 years as best friends and you being a brother to me
