

POPULATION OF BOROUGH IS 8,100

Roosevelt Has Increased Over 2,000 in the Past Five Years

Every district in Middlesex county, with the exception of two, has gained in population during the last five years, according to the census reports which have just been made public. Jamesburg has lost 210 during the last five years, but this loss is credited to the State Home, whose occupants were added to Monroe Township this year. Five years ago the inmates were counted as residents of Jamesburg. New Brunswick has the largest gain, having gained 6,686, making a total population of 30,074, while Perth Amboy gained 6,198, making her total population 39,719, still being the largest city in Middlesex county. The gain for the borough since the last census is over 2,000. The figure given is a rough estimate, as the second district of the borough has as yet not made his returns to the supervisor. One of the Perth Amboy papers had the borough at a loss, which was on account of only one district heard from.

There were hopes that the population of Middlesex county would reach the 150,000 mark, but the returns show a total of 140,665, a gain of 26,239 since 1910. The gain from

"My, How You Have Grown in Four Years!"

Man Dies of Heart Failure

Andrew Panko, of Roosevelt avenue, who died of heart failure, Wednesday evening in the Fee Cafe. He was 45 years old and leaves a wife and five children. Panko went into the cafe where he had the stroke. Dr. Reason was called, but the man was dead when he arrived. Coroner Hirner was called and gave permit to remove the body. Undertaker Harry Lohmiller had charge of the funeral arrangements. He was buried Saturday morning at Hazelwood Cemetery in Rahway.

Court Carteret Initiate Four

Court Carteret No. 48, Foresters of America, at their last regular meeting initiated four members. The court is growing fast. At the next meeting it is expected that there will be ten initiated. On September 28 there will be a big meeting and parade in which all the State grand officials and some of the supreme officials will be present. The court is now one of the largest in the borough and the celebration is the twenty-fourth anniversary, having been instituted in 1891.

Obituary

Stephen Toth, aged 1 year and 6 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Toth, of 41 Adeline street, died at their home Monday. Funeral services were held in the parish church Wednesday. Burial was at St. James' Cemetery, Woodbridge. Frank T. Burns had charge of the funeral.

Anna Fortunia, aged 6 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fortunia, of Washington avenue, died at their home Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services were held in St. Joseph's Church Wednesday afternoon. Burial at St. James' Cemetery, Woodbridge. Frank T. Burns had charge of the funeral.

Patrick Cashman, an old resident of the borough, died in St. Elizabeth's Hospital on Thursday morning after an illness of three months. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at St. Joseph's Church. Mr. Cashman has been in the borough many years, being employed by the Central Railroad at East Rahway. Mr. Cashman had many friends throughout the borough, who loved and respected him, and never passed East Rahway without having a pleasant chat or a friendly wave or greeting from him. Mr. Cashman was a charter member of both Carey Council, Knights of Columbus, and Holy Name Society, who will turn out to his funeral in a body.

INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS COMMISSION REPORT SUPPORTS EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

Argues Also For Equal Pay.

The report of the industrial relations commission signed by Commissioners Frank P. Walsh, John B. Lennon and Austen B. Garrison, as summarized for the press, bears out the main contentions of the suffragists. The report states:

"As a result of their unprotected condition women and children are exploited in industry, trade, domestic service and agriculture to an extent which threatens their health and welfare and menaces the well being of future generations.

"The competition of women and children is a direct menace to the wage and salary standards of men.

"The position of women in industry has been rendered doubly hard by reason of their lack of training for industrial employment, by the oversupply of such labor and the consequent competition, by their traditional position of dependence and by their disfranchisement."

The report recommends—

"The recognition by public opinion and in such legislation as may be enacted of the principle that women should receive the same compensation as men for the same service.

"Until this principle is recognized and women are accorded equal political rights the extension of state protection of women through legislation regulating working conditions, hours of service and minimum wages is highly desirable.

"The increased organization of working women for self protection and the improvement of their individual conditions.

"The inclusion of all women working for wages, whether in industry, trade, domestic service or agriculture, under future legislation regulating their wages, hours or working conditions."

Last Sunday night the Holy Name Society held their regular monthly meeting at St. Joseph's hall. There were many members present, the rain having no effect on the attendance. A social session was held after all matters of business were finished, and a pleasant evening was enjoyed. Special preparations were made by appointing committees to prepare for the next social meeting a special debate among the members, which will be on the last Sunday night in September.

WOMEN'S VOTES MAY ELECT NEXT PRESIDENT

Opposing Politicians Short-sighted.

East Orange. — The politician who opposes woman suffrage is so short-sighted as not to be able to look forward to November, 1916, according to Mrs. Mary K. Colvin, first vice president of the New Jersey State Association For Woman Suffrage.

"At the last presidential election the states in which women voted controlled 37 of the 296 electoral votes. At the next presidential election, not counting the states in which suffrage campaigns are successful this year, the states where women now vote control 91 electoral votes, or more than New York and Pennsylvania combined. Six additional states—Arizona, Kansas, Oregon, Illinois, Montana and Nevada—have given the women the right to vote for president since the election of 1912. They now have a little more than one-third of the electoral college vote. A candidate to be successful cannot afford to forget that fact.

"And yet the Essex county boss of New Jersey is bending every effort to defeat woman suffrage in this state. It does not sound like political sagacity to allow the women of the west to control so many electoral votes. Has Jim Nugent lost his keenness in political matters, or why do we find him trying to mobilize his forces against a measure of political importance in the immediate future?"

"He recently boasted that he could 'deliver' 80 per cent of the vote in Essex county. As a matter of fact, we are finding every day numbers of men who assure us that they are not part of the 80 per cent and that they mean to vote for us. We do not think so poorly of the electorate as does Mr. Nugent, and it is obvious that his opposition to woman suffrage is based on the fear that the woman's vote could not be easily 'delivered.'

"No candidate for president need expect to receive the ninety-one electoral votes controlled by the suffrage states unless he stands unqualifiedly for woman suffrage. And one-third of the electoral college vote can throw it one way or another. We agree with the western suffragists that this fact is important and should be given careful thought by every citizen. The western women have learned the power of the ballot, and the vote which they will turn out next year at the presidential election will be a source of astonishment to politicians who are not awake to its importance."

Carnival Was A Grand Success

The carnival of Fire Company No. 2, held last week, was one of the biggest successes ever held in the borough, both socially and financially, the treasury of the company being swelled so as to make the firemen feel pleased of their week's work. Every one who attended the carnival felt pleased and happy, and look forward to it being an annual affair, even if some selfish person or other expresses his thoughts because of his own benefit and not for the pleasure of the community at large.

There were more borough people and out-of-town visitors on the carnival grounds than at any other time during the year. The firemen give much credit for the success of the carnival to the chief of the department, Edward J. Coughlin, who had full charge, being chairman of the committee, and it was mostly through his ideas and efforts that made it a success. The crowds were orderly and quiet, there not being any of the usual rough crowds that follow such events. The weather was threatening Saturday night, but it did not rain hard until after the affair closed.

The carnival queen contestants worked hard up until closing time, which was 10 o'clock. Miss Beattie Dolan won the contest, receiving 3,063 votes, and Miss Rose Fee second, with 6,061 votes; Miss Viola Carlton received 1,400. Chief Coughlin crowned the queen by making a speech in presenting her with first prize, and Miss Fee with second prize. Both in return thanked the people who helped them. Miss Carlton was given third prize. The committee gave much praise to the management of the Endy Carnival Company, Messrs. Clark and Endy, for their fair dealing in their business and orderly talent they carry. The committee also thanked the people who helped make the carnival the success that it was.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

On last Saturday the boys journeyed to Newark to the meet there. H. Carlton, of the Chrome Y. M. C. A., and Fred Riedel, of the same place, ran in the one-mile event. Riedel, who was leading till the last lap, was suddenly taken with a cramp and had to withdraw from the race, leaving H. Carlton to win with ease. Carlton, the noted miler, finished strong.

The 440-yard dash was captured by T. C. Young, who ran scratch, allowing 35 yards handicap and finished with time to take a nap by the roadside. Tony Neugey captured third place in the one-mile walk. This was Neugey's first race since he was laid up with appendicitis. He had cramps while walking in the race.

Charles Rapp, of the Chrome Y. M. C. A., was trainer, and was very happy over the success of his Chrome boys. Rapp depends upon the success of his team.

On Wednesday evening, in the local races, Westly Hall came in first in the 100-yard dash, with Cutter and Kapooshy close behind.

Young came in first in the 440-yard run. "Cutter" was a close second and Westly Hall close behind him.

Next Monday there will be a one-mile handicap walk at 6 o'clock. Monday the Y. M. C. A. team will take part in the Milltown meet. They hope to bring home some prizes from there.

With a total of twelve points, the Roosevelt Y. M. C. A. won the honors in the North Jersey Athletic League meet held Saturday afternoon at Branch Brook park, Newark, T. Clarence Young, for Roosevelt, made a remarkable showing in the 440-yard run, for he started from the scratch and outclassed the field in 34 3-5 seconds. Roosevelt also took first place in the one-mile run, H. Carlton being the man who bore home the honors in this event.

The field in the 440-yard run was small, but the fight between the contestants made up for any scarcity in entries. Young was on scratch, but caught the field at the first turn, and offered stiff opposition during the remainder of the race, winning out with space to spare.

Liberal handicaps proved too much for the stars in the mile run, the race being won by Carlton from the 200-yard mark. Eddie Garvey was entered in this race, but could do no better than fourth.

Sail and Outing

The Roosevelt Republican Social Club will enjoy a sail around Staten Island and stopoff at the Highlads next Sunday Sept. 6. Everybody welcome. Tickets, $1.50, including all refreshments. Boat leaves Benj. Moore's dock at 9 A. M.

The Saving Habit Pays Dividends on Past Efforts

"Get the habit" is a slang phrase, but it is excellent advice when applied to the habit of saving.

Our advice to the young man and young woman is to have a savings account and to "get the habit" of depositing regularly, a part of his or her earnings.

The dividends are not merely the interest you receive on your savings—the habit formed will be worth dollars to you all the rest of your days.

EQUALS BATTING MARK

Cutshaw Secures Six Cleanout Singles in One Game

Brooklyn Player Goes Through Contest With Perfect Average—Ties Record Made by Clarence Beaumont Years Ago.

Second Baseman George Cutshaw of the Brooklyn Dodgers carved his name in baseball history the other day in the game with the Chicago Cubs, when he went through the nine inning battle with six hits to his credit.

Beaumont made his record on July 22, 1899, against Pitcher Platt of Philadelphia and accomplished it by beating out six perfect bunts. There was not a question on any of the hits, for they were properly handled and he received the umpire's decision at first base on every one.

Cutshaw's achievement was every bit as glorious as Beaumont's, and perhaps more so, as he rapped out five sharp singles on his first five trips to the plate.

There was not a doubtful rap among them, as he drove them all through the infield, clearly out of the reach of the fielders. His sixth blow in the ninth round was a high bouncer over the pitcher's head and he beat a fast perfect play made by Bob Fisher.

part to let him procure the single, for he hurried and threw while still on the run, but was a fraction of a second too late.

Cutshaw's getting these raps recalled to the veterans and keen followers of the game Beaumont's record made in 1899. When the former came to bat in the ninth the fans applauded him and pulled for him to get his sixth hit.

PRACTICE TO BE PERFECT

One thing the old-time ball-players had on the present athletes was their willingness to practice hard to become perfect. When John J. McGraw broke into the game he was at the ball park every morning at nine o'clock, so say the historians of the sport, and practiced batting and base running and sliding to bases and making unexpected but successful plays, with only the boys of the sand lots playing with him, for hours before the regulars showed up for practice.

Ed Schorr With St. Paul.

The St. Paul club has taken on Pitcher Ed Schorr, who started the season with the Chicago Cubs and then drifted down to South Bend in the Southern Michigan league. That league going under, it was up to Schorr to hunt a new job, and having had considerable experience in that line he soon landed.

How to Play Second Base.

Heinie Zimmerman was asked what were his ideas on how to play second base, and he replied: "Get everything that comes your way." Which reminds us of the guy who was asked if he knew the proper way to eat, and replied: "Sure, with a knife."

FIND OF THE SEASON

Barney Dreyfuss Uncovered Gem in Pitcher Mamaux

Pittsburgh Twirler Ranks Next to Alexander in Number of Games Won—Youngster Found on Sand Lots of Smoky City.

Al Mamaux, the new pitcher of the Pirates, alone is entitled to that oft-bestowed description, "the sensation of the season." Barney Dreyfuss uncovered a gem when he found this youngster on the Smoky City's sand lots. And the most interesting part of it—particularly to Barney—is that Mamaux didn't cost him a cent!

What is he worth now? Well—don't say there isn't money in the baseball sensation. It is doubtful if money could buy him.

They call him a second Mathewson, and he is about the only "second Mathewson" we have heard of in some time that was worthy of the name. The only reason he is not leading the National league in the twirling department is because of Alexander the Great. Mamaux ranks next to the Philly phenom, however, in the number of games won this season.

If you ask a ball player how good Al is as a pitcher you will receive an answer after this fashion:

"A great pitcher—the most conceded in the league!"

Mamaux is of a well-to-do family, it is said, and does not have to play ball for a living. Possibly this accounts for his supreme self-confidence.

Albert Leon Mamaux.

However, he is none the less a great pitcher. And he is only 20 years old and playing his first season in big business.

Mamaux is a right-hander and also bats right-handed. He is six feet tall and weighs 167 pounds. He has a fine musical education, being a tenor singer and a master of the violin. As for his pitching art, he has an assortment of fine curves, a fast ball with a wicked "hop," and a change of pace that bewilders many a batter.

FREAK BASEBALL PLAYS

The possibilities of baseball are evinced in various ways. Freak plays are recorded in amateur and professional games that would be considered ridiculous if propounded at a fanning bee. In a recent game in the American league a player scored a run without a base hit, pass or fielding error.

A new Federal league recruit tells a story of how four batters, whom he struck out in a row while pitching for his college team, scored, which is unique in baseball annals. His catcher, as he tells the tale, was a little fellow, who could not hold his fast ones, and, as he had nothing but speed, the result was disastrous. The first four batters to face the amateur Rusie reached first safely, when the catcher let the third strike go through. The first batter scored when the fourth landed on first, and a hit and error following scored the next three.

Cather and Gilbert.

The Toronto club has secured Outfielder Ted Cather and Larry Gilbert from the Boston National club. The Toronto team, by the way, is quite a brave farm, as Pitchers Luque and Coreham were both sent there on the optional agreement basis some time ago.

Mike Kahoe is Fired.

Clark Griffith has fired Mike Kahoe, his veteran scout, and says that he is going to do all the scouting for the Washington club in the future. Kahoe is going to unearth the ivory for the Red Sox in the future.

SCHALK PLAYS "JOKE" ON "NEMO" LEIBOLD

RAY SCHALK

NEMO LEIBOLD

Ray Schalk is tickled because Nemo Leibold is with the White Sox. The two players were on the Milwaukee Club of the American Association some years ago. They roomed together and were the closest of pals.

As time went on, Schalk was purchased by the White Sox and Leibold went to the Cleveland Naps. This did not interfere with their friendship, however. Except during the progress of a ball game, they still were chums.

One day, with Jim Scott pitching, the White Sox got into a jam. With two out, the Naps had the bases full. Nemo Leibold was sent up to bat in the pinch by Manager Birmingham. Schalk decided to play a little joke on his former "roomie" and, incidentally, get Scott out of a hole if possible. Leibold sauntered to the plate, swung his bat and waited for Scott to pitch. Schalk gave the signal for a groove ball and then asked Nemo if he had received a letter from Mary recently. The Nap player turned half around. "No, Ray, she hasn't written in weeks. Wonder what's the matter?"

Scott had shot a ball through and the umpire called "Strike one!" "That's funny," replied Schalk, "I thought she wrote at least once a week."

"Guess she's too busy to write," said Leibold, glancing around again.

Another ball shot across.

"Strike two!" yelled the umpire.

The two coaches on the lines frantically tried to give Leibold the signal. They couldn't understand why he stood there as if in a trance.

"Well, I heard from Helen," exclaimed Schalk. "She's going to Michigan on a two weeks' trip."

"Gee, that's great," answered Leibold, keeping his bat on his shoulder. "She's certainly a dandy girl."

"You bet she is," grinned Schalk as the third strike whizzed across.

"Batter out!" snapped the umpire, and Nemo walked to the bench.

DIAMOND NOTES

The Fed league will not enter Boston next year.

Hank O'Day denies that he was a jinx to the Cubs.

Babe Adams is pitching winning ball for the Pirates.

Frank Schulte is walloping the ball with real vigor these days.

The return to form of King Cole has given Bill Donovan a lot of real joy.

"Barring accidents, the Washington club is going to be hard to stop," said J. Ed Grillo.

Larry Chappell is not going to jump to the Feds, in spite of the big money offered him.

Anyhow, Johnny Evers has solved the problem of how to get the fans out to the ball park.

The Athletics are making plenty of hits these days, but they aren't much of a scoring organization.

It looks as if the Pirates are going to play a bigger part than a bowl of mush in the pennant competition this season.

Manager Rowland thinks he has the best utility outfielder in the American league in the person of Little Nemo Leibold.

Dave Robertson of the Glans has developed into a corking good hitter. He is as fast as Ty Cobb between home and first.

We wonder what has become of the lucky penny that Capt. Cushman Rice gave to George Stallings last season. Is it still on the job?

Left Fielder Wheat of the Brooklyn team is credited with knowing as much about playing for batters as any man in the big league.

John Hummel probably is one of the oldest players in the National league in point of service, but he has not outlived his usefulness.

Frank Chance, Jawn Evers and Hank O'Day, former Cub managers, ought to hold a consolation party and entertain Rog Bresnahan.

Ralph ("Cy") Perkins of Gloucester, Mass., who is a catcher with the Raleigh team, in the North Carolina league, has been sold to Connie Mack.

The players of the National league are complaining of the gag rule the league has put on them this year. Every time one of them opens his mouth he is fined.

Connie Mack says that he will not sell his stock in the Athletics. He has his mind set upon developing another winner, and the chances are good for his doing so.

BRAINS NECESSARY IN GAME

Oscar Stange, Detroit Backstop, Says Catching Demands Great Amount of Mental Ability.

Few fans and not so many players realize the important part that brains play in the modern game of baseball. Oscar Stange, the first-class Detroit catcher, once said: "Catching demands one-third physical ability and two-thirds mental work."

In making this statement he did not overestimate the mental part of it. A good arm and a good eye never made a wonderful ball player. He must have these ingredients in his make-up in order to succeed, but they must be commanded by his brain. The only reason in the world that Ty Cobb is the greatest ball player and the biggest drawing card in the game today is that he has more brains than the average player and uses them in his work. Cobb is always studying the opposing pitcher and catcher and figuring out some way to outwit them on the bases.

Famous Home Run Drives. Those famous home run drives made into the stands at the Polo grounds soon may be no more, at least for American league games, for Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees has suggested that they should be counted only as two-base hits. The distance from the plate permits them legally being called homers, but 225 feet is far too short for the heavy swatters of these days.

$12,000 Beauty Released. Pitcher "Honolulu John" Williams, once valued at $12,000 by Sacramento and later drafted by the Detroit club at the standard draft fee, only to fall and be turned back, was released outright and unconditionally by Salt Lake City after refusing to accept a transfer to Omaha.

Abandon Pacific Coast Trip. Connie Mack and Frank Baerocroft, the two veteran baseball men who headed the all-star teams in the expedition to the Pacific coast last fall, have decided to abandon the trip this year.

Italians Attack Turks at Dardanelles—Army of 200,000 Landed, Fully Equipped—Many on Firing Line Now

ANGLO-FRENCH FORCES HOLD OFFENSE IN THE WEST

Paris.—The most important war news coming out of the foreign capital was a dispatch from Petrograd saying the Russians have stopped the German advance all along the line in the eastern theatre and foiled the attempt to force back the two extreme wings of the armies of Grand Duke Nicholas.

Confirmation of the reverse to the Germans came also from Berlin, which admitted a check on the Stripa River, in Galicia, where strong Russian forces counter-attacked and "partially stopped" the Austro-German pursuit.

A submarine of the allies is reported to have blown up a portion of the Galata bridge over the Bosphorus, connecting Constantinople with the suburb of Pera in European Turkey. Berlin has advised to the effect that 100,000 British troops were used in the attack on Turkish positions in Gallipoli, and that their losses exceeded 50,000 men and 600 officers in the fighting.

Constantinople reports the destruction by Turkish artillery of a position occupied by the Entente allies near Suddul-Bahr on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

Nearer approach by the Germans to the Russian fortress of Grodno was reported in the official statement from Berlin. They are moving toward the stronghold from the south and west with a view to cutting off the fortress from Vilna.

At the northern extremity of the eastern front that portion of Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army commanded by General von Buelow is still fighting for the bridgehead south of Friedrichstadt, while the Austro-German forces under General Böhner, which broke through the Russian lines on either side of Brzezany, Galicia, have been checked.

Along the rest of the front the Germans claim to be making headway, although some who got through the forest region east of Bialystok have suffered a reverse at the hands of the Russian rear-guard.

ALLIES SHELL TEUTON LINES.

London.—The allies shelled the entire German line from Belgium to the Swiss frontier, and their air squadrons bombarded the German barracks and positions at several points.

The Germans are said to be planning to continue their drive against the Russians as far as possible and then construct a great system of strong fortifications to resist a new offensive by the Russians.

Bulgaria, warned by the Entente allies, has postponed the signing of a treaty with Turkey. Sofia has been informed in sharp language that ratification of the agreement would be regarded as a willfully unfriendly act.

The increased activity on the western front followed reports from Berlin that the new Austro-German offensive in East Galicia against the extreme left of the Russian army, which hitherto has not been affected by the reverse of the Czar's forces, has been successful and the whole Russian force is now involved in the general retreat.

This reverse and the rapid advance by the Austrians northeast of Kovel are said in Berlin to indicate the opening of a campaign against the fortress triangle formed by the strongholds of Lutsk, Dubno and Rovno, built as a bar against the invasion of southern Russia.

The Russian armies north and south of Brest-Litovsk are reported by Berlin to be separated by the Rotkno swamps and the German military strategists say the Austro-Germans are in a position to mass forces at will against either Russian wing.

In northern Courland the armies of Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian Commander-in-Chief, are effectively holding back the Germans.

IRON COINS FOR GERMANY.

Nickel Not to Be Used in New Five-Pfennig Pieces.

Berlin.—The Bundesrath has passed a law providing for the coinage of iron 5-pfennig pieces.

The demand for 5-pfennig pieces is great, especially because quantities are in circulation in the hostile territory occupied by Germany, and more are needed. Under present circumstances, however, the use of nickel for coinage is held to be inadvisable.

JAPS PUSH SUPPLY WORK.

Speeding Up on Production of War Munitions Arouses Enthusiasm.

Tokio.—The decision of the Government to utilize all available means for increasing the production of war munitions for the allies, particularly Russia, has aroused the greatest enthusiasm.

Army officers of high rank are arranging the details with manufacturers preparatory to enlarging arsenals and factories. France and England guarantee the payments.

London.—The Austro-Germans have massed an immense army for a drive against Grodno, the last of the great fortresses held by the Russians in Poland.

Another great army of the Austrians and Germans is pressing the advantage gained in Galicia in the hope that the advance can be accelerated sufficiently to reach Lutsk, Dubno and Rovno in a final drive before the weather makes impossible an attack on the strongholds guarding the south of Russia.

A new factor has been added to the battles taking place daily at the Dardanelles, by the landing of the first of the Italian troops sent to aid the allies in their attempt to smash a way through to Constantinople.

The Italians are believed to be on the firing line and to have already taken part in the operations against the Turks. Increased activity among the warships since the arrival of the Italian convoy with a large supply of ammunition, indicates a land and sea attack in force will be made soon.

A dispatch from Athens says the Italian forces have been put ashore. They were reported to have been equipped "to the last button." The number of the reinforcements is not known, but before the transports left Italian waters it was said 200,000 men were ready to join in the campaign on Gallipoli Peninsula, and it is likely the troops were landed at Suvia Bay, where the allies have been fighting the Turks at close range and making only relatively small gains at big cost in lives.

The Turks say that they repulsed attacks by the Anglo-French forces and followed up their success by recapturing several trenches on the center of their line.

The reports from the eastern war theater indicate that the Russian defense has given away in the Baltic region, and the Czar's troops are in retreat from Courland to south-eastern Galicia.

MANY AUSTRO-ITALIAN BATTLES

Paris.—The fighting in the Austro-Italian region increases in intensity. The Italians have pushed their attacks with much vigor and in the Doberto section got into the Austrian trenches, but had to give way suffering severe losses.

At Gorizia, west and north of Tolmino, and in the Flitsch region the armies have come to grips. The losses in men have been large, but the gains and losses in ground have not been important.

An air raid by the French on the German barracks in the Ardennes and in the forest of Argonne is reported by Paris to be successful.

A Berlin wireless dispatch gives a report received from passengers of a steamship arriving at Amsterdam that a British transport with 2,000 Canadian troops has been torpedoed off the Scilly Islands, with the loss of about 1,000 men.

The Canadian government denies the report, saying that every troopship bearing Canadians at sea on the date the disaster is said to have occurred, has arrived safely at its destination.

ITALIANS AT STRAITS.

London.—The first units of the great Italian army sent to co-operate in the effort to smash the Dardanelles forts and open a way to Constantinople is in communication with the forces of the Entente Allies on Gallipoli Peninsula, said dispatches received here.

PITH OF THE WAR NEWS

A report purporting to come from Liverpool says that a British patrol boat sunk the German submarine which destroyed the Arabic, the day after the White Star Liner was torpedoed.

The Italians are very active and have lately reported the capture of Cima Cista, 6,500 feet high, another strong Austrian position southeast of Trent.

Allied aviators are reported to have destroyed a large building in Ghent, Belgium, which was being used by the Germans for housing their aircraft.

The military experts of the allies count on the Grand Duke Nicholas being able to keep his armies out of the approaching equinoctial season puts an end to the drive of the invaders. Hard trench fighting is reported from the western front, in which the allies have taken the offensive. The battering of the lines by the artillery continues day and night.

The Italians continue their attacks along their whole front, and Rome reports they are slowly advancing northward. They have met with stubborn resistance.

FERRIBLE FLOOD IN CANTON, CHINA

A scene in the city of Canton, China, during the recent flood, when the city was inundated by from four to fifteen feet of water. This was the worst flood ever visited on Canton, and hundreds of the inhabitants were lost. Thousands of shops in the principal streets were ruined, and to make matters worse, numerous fires were started by bands of thieves.

Water Power in Ireland.

A somewhat extensive water-power scheme in Ireland, according to the Irish Industrial Journal, involves the combination of two powerhouses utilizing the waters of the Shannon and Erne, and capital expenditures amounting to £1,500,000. The drainage area of the Shannon is 6,000 square miles, and the average discharge is given as 1,320,000 cubic feet a minute at an available head of 40 feet, equivalent to some 60,000 horse power, all the year round. It is proposed to utilize Loughs Derg, Rea and Allen as storage reservoirs. The catchment area of the Erne is almost half that of the Shannon, but a head of 60 feet is said to be available. Comparatively little in the way of dams would be required, although considerable dredging would be necessary below the fall, and a conduit would be needed. It is proposed to establish transmission lines to Dublin, Cork, Waterford, Kilkenny, and other centers.

FIND F-4 DEAD AMONG DEBRIS

Washington Notified of Discovery of Remains of Sailors.

GRAVE OF A CREW OF 22

Submarine Lost on March 25 in Honolulu Harbor—Great Holes in Her Now—All F-Boats Are Defective.

Washington.—The bodies of several members of the crew of the United States submarine F-4, which sank in Honolulu harbor on March 25, have been located in the wreckage, according to a despatch received at the Navy Department from Read Admiral Boush, in charge of the board of naval officers examining the bulk of the submarine. The despatch, reads: "Debris being removed from interior of F-4. Several bodies located, but not identified."

Earlier the Admiral advised the Department that the submarine had been placed in dry dock and that a hole had been found in the hull.

That the twenty-two officers and men comprising the crew of the F-4 and making up the death total of the accident, started on their last cruise fully aware that their vessel might never make port again, was plainly indicated in a report of the naval board which made the preliminary investigation of the accident. This report was made public here.

Not only were the members of the crew entirely alive to serious defects in the batteries of the submarine, but according to the report it is a widely known fact in the service that all three of the remaining boats of the F class possess the same defects to an equal or less extent.

The submarines in this class were the F-1, F-2, F-3, and F-4. They were completed in 1911, and with the exception of the F-4 all are still in active service. At the time of their acceptance by the navy they were supposed to be far superior in every way to older types of submarines which are also still in operation.

In addition to having faulty batteries the report shows that the F-4's propelling engines possessed inherent faults and were difficult to keep in repair and that the ability of the officers and crew to regulate the depth to which the submarine could sink depended more on the skill of those in charge than on the accuracy of the mechanical appliances.

RELEASES GERMAN GOODS.

England Partially Lifts Embargo on Teuton Shipments.

Washington.—Great Britain has given assurances to the United States that a large quantity of goods of German and Austrian manufacture contracted for by American importers prior to March 2, when the British orders in council became effective, will soon be released for shipment to this country.

Most of these goods, said to be valued at several million dollars, and made up of chemicals, dyestuff, pharmaceutical articles and Christmas toys, lie on the docks at Rotterdam. Whether or not the concession about to be made by Great Britain will apply only to the goods at Rotterdam or be extended to goods contracted for that are still at the factory is not definitely known.

An effort will be made by this Government to persuade Great Britain to permit the shipment of all German and Austrian goods contracted for prior to March 2, whether actual delivery has been made to the docks or not.

The concession thus promised by Great Britain will be a great relief to American importing houses. The consignments in question are, in the main, articles that are urgently needed in the United States.

WORLD'S NEWS IN CONDENSED FORM

WASHINGTON.—Two regiments of infantry and one of cavalry were ordered from Galveston to reinforce American troops patrolling the Mexican border.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Dr. C. Franklin Mohr, prominent in this city and in Newport, and Emily A. Burger, of this city, were shot while riding in an automobile in Napat, near here.

NEW YORK.—United States health officials discovered fifteen cases of what they believe to be cholera on board the German steamship President Lincoln which is interned at Hoboken.

NEW YORK.—Paul Armstrong, famous playwright, 46, died suddenly of heart disease in his home, No. 829 Park avenue here. He was seized with an attack while automobiling.

AMSTERDAM.—In consequence of the cholera menace the Berlin police have ordered people to boil all drinking water, especially when taken from the rivers.

NEW ORLEANS.—Search of Cozumel Island, off the Yucatan coast, has revealed no trace of any of the crew or passengers of the missing liner Marowijne nor wreckage of the vessel.

FLOATING A BIG BRIDGE SPAN INTO PLACE

Illustration shows the 250-foot double-decked draw span of the new bridge over the Harlem river in New York city being floated into position on barges. The span weighs 1,400 tons, and its entire weight rests on a two-foot ball of phosphor-bronze, the hardest metal known.

As for the Evening Gown

The winter color card provides a series of beautiful pastel tints for evening gowns, among the sedate but rich dark colors that are advanced for the heavier materials and day time wear. These dark colors include "African brown"—which is a very deep shade—"bottle green," "crow blue" (darker than navy)—dark taupe, and "field mouse," which is a warm shade in mouse color. A dark blue with a purple cast is called "black-berry," and a dark purple like that of the grape is called "Concord."

The pretty dress shown in the picture shows chiffon in a one-piece overdress worn over an underdress of net with lace flounces about the bottom. The lace reappears in the collar and sleeves. Chiffon roses weight the overskirt and three of them are tacked to the front and back near the bottom. A band of wide ribbon is set on the underskirt and the same soft ribbon appears in a folded girdle about the waist of the underdress. It is brought through a slash in the chiffon overdress and tied in a loop with long hanging end. This is finished with a bead tassel. Satin slippers and silk hose to match the gown in color, complete a simple and refined costume.

This silk might be used for the underdress, and any of the pretty light colors or pastel tints chosen with good effect in this dress if selected with discretion.

Stripes were better managed during the past season than ever before—at least within the memory of women—and this is the probable cause for their continuation in favor. In the lovely light colors and tints one can picture them in the evening gowns of the coming season. Inexhaustible variety is possible in designs when we consider them made up with laces or nets or plain surfaces in one of the colors of the striped fabrics.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

That low man seeks a little thing to do. Sees it and does it. This high man with a great thing to pursue Dies ere he knows it. —Browning.

SERVING COLD MEATS.

During the hot months, when the appetite needs a little toning up, the following salmon dish will be especially good:

Spiced Salmon.—Boil a can of salmon 30 minutes, take out, drain off the oil, turn fish on a platter, pick out the bones and skin, sprinkle with salt, pepper and cover with cold vinegar; add a few cloves, a few allspice and stand in a cold place several hours. Then drain and serve on lettuce.

Liver Pudding (Old Georgia Style).—Take a hog's liver, half a hog's head, two red peppers and one onion. Cut the pepper and onion in small pieces and tie in a small cheesecloth with a little sage; season with salt and drop into the kettle with the boiling meat. When tender, remove from the kettle and when cool take out the bone and gristle; set aside in a mold. Add two or three hard-cooked eggs at intervals to make it more attractive when sliced.

Spiced Beef Tongue.—Wash and trim a fresh beef tongue, drop into boiling water with a teaspoonful of salt, a pepper pod, and simmer until the tongue is tender. Cool, peel and put into a clean saucepan; add four tablespoonfuls of sugar, a tablespoonful each of allspice and cloves, both ground, a cupful of water and half a cupful of cider vinegar. Simmer until the liquor is evaporated, turning the tongue often to season well. Chill on ice and serve cut in thin slices garnished with lemon and parsley.

Any bits of cold meat, from chicken to mutton, if no more than a cupful, will make a most appetizing dish if these directions are followed: Cut two or three potatoes very thin, put into the bottom of a buttered baking dish, cover with a cupful of meat and any gravy, or, if none, a little water, with beef extract, two tablespoonfuls of shredded onion and a cupful or two of tomatoes over all. Bake an hour, or until the potatoes are tender, then sprinkle the top with a few cooked peas and serve from the dish. Add seasonings of salt and pepper.

SOMETHING ABOUT BREADS.

With good bread or rolls for her table the housewife may laugh at unexpected company, for without these nothing, however fine, will make a pleasant meal.

Raisin Bread.—Place a pint of milk and a pint of water in a saucepan and bring to the boiling point; cool until lukewarm, then add a cake of yeast, dissolved in a half cupful of lukewarm water, add four cupfuls of flour and a teaspoonful of sugar, beat well and let stand to rise. When very light add a half cupful of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two eggs and a cupful of raisins. Knead with flour enough to handle well, form into loaves and bake when the loaves are more than double in bulk. Bake 45 minutes.

Coffee Cake.—To make the sponge, take a cupful of milk, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, a half yeast cake, dissolved in a fourth of a cupful of water, two cupfuls of flour. Beat well and let stand until light, or better overnight, then add a half cupful of melted butter, a half cupful of sugar, two beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of salt and a half cupful of milk with three or four cupfuls of flour to make a dough to knead. Let rise again until light, spread with softened butter, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon, and when light bake in a moderate oven.

Tea Rolls.—Add two cupfuls of flour to a cupful of scalded milk when it is lukewarm, beat well and add a yeast cake softened in a quarter of a cupful of water. When well risen, add a fourth of a cupful of melted butter, a teaspoonful of salt, two eggs, a grating of nutmeg, add two more cupfuls of flour. Knead well and let rise in a warm place. Shape into small rolls, put into a buttered pan and set to rise, well covered. Bake in a hot oven 15 minutes.

Nut Cakes.—Beat two eggs and stir into them a cupful of light brown sugar and two tablespoonfuls of flour. Add a cupful of nut meats chopped fine. Spread the mixture in a very thin layer on a well-greased tin and bake ten minutes or until lightly browned.

To Clean Irons. Saturate a cloth with water, wring it partially dry, and rub some soap well into it. Rub the cloth well over the iron, and you will find that it will remove any roughness or marks that might have been there.

New Sports Sweater for Fall

No outfit is quite complete in these days without a sweater of some sort. And there is a wide and varied choice in sweaters, for they are claiming more attention than ever before in their history.

There are finely woven sweaters of silk, in gay colors, which one sees at the afternoon concert, at the country club, on the beaches and the golf links, and in any other outdoor meetings of fashionables. There are sweaters considerably like them, made of artificial silk, usually in more vivid colorings than the all-silk variety. Then there are the practical wool sweaters, similar to that shown in the picture, and belonging to the same class.

The new models are carefully designed to the end that they may embody just the right style. In the example pictured here, for instance, it will be noticed that the sleeves are well shaped and finished with a cuff and button. The patch pockets leave a turnover flap, and the new order of things in belts is recognized. The collar may be turned up close about the neck if required.

Because this is a sweater for real comfort in cool days it is rather heavy. Its usefulness begins with fall, and continues to the coming of another summer, for it reinforces the too light wrap in the depths of winter. It is an excellent model to choose for the young girl to wear to school during the autumn months, and nothing could be better designed or arranged for sports wear.

Sweaters of wool stand the rough handling which they are likely to get from young people, and continue to look none the worse for it. Now that they are made in beautiful colors and with so much attention to style, the field of their usefulness is wonderfully increased.

Three New Models for Fall

Of all things, millinery requires careful choosing, and, after it is bought, the hat requires careful placing on the head, if it is to fulfill its destiny. According to an old millinery maxim that destiny is to improve the appearance of the wearer. "You must look better with your hat than without it"—that is the exacting test to which each new mode is to be subjected.

The three new models for fall, which appear here, are types that will repay a little study on the part of those who consider things before buying them. They include a small turban, a turban with extension crown which forms a halo brim, and one of the graceful wide-brimmed hats to which fashion is extending welcoming hands.

Quite a number of these wide-brimmed hats are shaped with brims curving upward at the back. This has brought in the underbrim trimming again and it is not confined to wide-brimmed shapes. Short, curling ostrich plumes fit into the trimming of the underbrim in the most graceful way.

The small turban is made of corded silk, and would be equally effective in panne velvet. The material is covered with corded tucks and serves for the covering of the hat and for its trimming. The edges are finished with a silver tinsel braid which has the effect of needlework. It looks like close-set overcast stitches, and needlework decoration is a feature of the new fall millinery.

The turban with extension crown is made of black velvet and white chiffon. A bead work ornament trims the front and is made entirely of white beads.

The soft and graceful brim of the third hat bespeaks for it, and for many others of the same character, first place in the favor of young women. It is made of velvet in black or one of the dark shades of fashionable colors. The trimming is of white fancy ostrich and looks like a bit of fireworks, done in frost. It throws its sprays in front of the left eye of the wearer with an abandon unknown to ornaments hitherto. But it is strong in the knowledge that it is less in the way of vision than many a veil.

SPIRIT DESTROYS HIS HAPPY HOME

Wife Never Had Best of Temper, But Spiritualism Sends Her Amuck.

Muttered at the Slink Because Water Didn't Run Fast Enough to Suit Her, Says Exasperated Husband.

Detroit, Mich.—Twenty-two times in the last fifteen years Mrs. Helen Ward has packed her clothes, the family pictures and china and quit her job as the wife of John F. Ward, a middle-aged druggist and violin maker.

Twenty-one times John Ward laid aside his pestle and mortar or a partly finished violin, as the case might have been, and sought out his wife to plead until she returned and put back into their places the china and family portraits.

A few days ago, in a dingy back room of his drug store, with a partly finished violin across his knees, he told the story of how his home, his business and seven years of his life had been wrecked. "It was seven years ago," he said slowly, "that a woman entered my home with this spiritualism tomfoolery. I tried to stop it, but I was too late.

"Mother took it up and wouldn't drop it.

"She never had the best of a temper, but we got along fairly well until she was medium-stricken. After that—oh, well! temper is a weak word after all.

Spirits Bad-Tempered.
"The deeper mother got into spiritualism the uglier she became. She never seemed to get an amiable spirit. It wouldn't have been so bad if she had. I think it was either 'Black Hawk' or 'Red Eagle,' departed Indians, whose spirit possessed mother. I've seen her, when she had 'em, mutter at the sink because the water didn't run fast enough to suit her.

"When I protested she would fly into a rage, pack the china and family pictures and quit. Often it took two weeks to find her. When I did, sometimes she was sorry and ready to return. At other times she was ugly and I had to coax her.

"Once I thought she was nearly cured. A daughter by my first wife attended a seance. The next day she was possessed of the spirit of her departed mother. Her stepmother didn't like that a little bit and the powers she summoned from below or above made the other spirit retreat over the divide.

Smashed the Vases.
"Two or three years ago, when the tight skirt had its inning, mother made one. After she put it on she came downstairs, twisted herself before the mirror and said, 'How do you like it, John?'

"It's all right, mother,' I answered, 'but put your foot on the chair.' She did, and then I said, 'You will make a display, mother, when you get on a street car.'

"That night when I went upstairs after closing the store, mother, her clothes, the pictures and the china were gone. I found out where she was, but she wouldn't return. She had placed the china and several hand-painted vases at a friend's, and I got a writ of replevin to get them back.

"When the officer went to serve the writ mother was there. What could he do with the spirit of Black Hawk backing mother that night?

"In addition to breaking up our home it has taken money to keep mother traveling with the spirits of redskins and doctors who died a hundred years ago.

"Mother has had to tip Caesar, Brutus and those other fellows who are conductors on the transcendental trains, or maybe they're in the subways; I've forgotten, though mother told me once, I've paid the bills; I need money now, but—no, I don't believe that mother had a good time out of it."

Outfitting Younger People for Fall

September is upon us and the young people must be outfitted for the fast-coming school days and for winter. It is good policy to make selections for them as early in the season as possible, because the choicest models in coats and dresses are apt to be those brought on by merchants for their opening displays. It may be impossible later to duplicate a garment among the early showings, that just suits one.

An elegant and snappy coat for a little girl is shown (with one of the new close-fitting fabric hats) in the picture given here. The checker-board pattern, in the heavy woolen material, is finished with collar, cuffs, belt and border at the bottom, of plush. The edges of the collar and belt are bordered with a narrow fancy braid in silk.

The coat shown here is cut with a double-breasted opening at the front, and large bone buttons make a practical fastening and are ornamental, too. An enameled buckle with white markings carries out the color scheme in the garment. The coat fits the figure quite smoothly above the waist line and has a daring skirt which just reaches to the bottom of the dress.

The woolly little hat has a soft crown and rolled-back brim, the latter bound with silk braid. At the side a small animal with white fur looks like an ermine, but is not. It is made of millinery fur, and boasts a little head with twinkling black bead eyes and an ermine tail.

GOING DOWN

Rain prevented the Peerless Fed and the Crescents, of Perth Amboy from engaging in a Jersey championship contest. The dispute over the claims of both teams have yet to be settled. The Feds will, on next Sunday, play the Vikings, of Totenville. The Feds seem to have no trouble in beating teams of their class, and so now have taken on games like the Crescents and Vikings to improve themselves. It is probable that the Feds will play the winner of the Junior League series of Perth Amboy a series of games to decide the championship. The Feds have yet to lose a game to any team in Middlesex County and defy any other junior team in Middlesex County to show a clean slate like theirs. Coughlin is now at his best and by the addition of new stars the Feds have surely become a deciding factor among the teams. For games with the Feds, any Sunday in September except next Sunday, write T. Donoghue, Chrome, N. J.

SEEING LIFE with JOHN HENRY

by George V. Hobart

John Henry Takes a Tango Lesson

THE idea originated with Bunch Jefferson. You can always count on Bunch having a few freak ideas in the belly where he keeps his butter-les.

Bunch and his wife, Alice, live out in Westchester county, about half a mile from Uncle Peter's bungalow, where friend wife and I are spending the winter.

The fact that Uncle Peter and Aunt Martha had decided to give us a party was the inspiration for Bunch's brilliant idea.

"Listen, John," he machiavelled; "not one of this push out here knows a thing about the tango. Most of them have a foolish idea that it's a wicked institution invented by the devil who sold his patent rights to the Evil-Doers association. Now, I'll tell you what we'll do, John: We'll put them wise. We'll take about two lessons from a good instructor in town and on the night of the party we'll make the hit of our lives teaching them all to tango. Are you James to the possibilities?"

"It listens like a good spiel," I agreed; "but will a couple of lessons be enough for us?"

"Sure," he came back; "we're not a couple of Patsys with the pump! We can learn enough in two lessons to make good in this boob community. Why, we'll start a tango craze out here that will put life and ginger in the whole outfit and presently they'll be putting up statues in our honor."

Well, to make a long story lose its cunning, we made arrangements next day with Ikey Schwartz, dancing instructor, to explain the mysteries of this modern home-wrecking proposition known as the tango, and paid him in advance the sum of $100.

We made an appointment to meet Ikey at his "studio" for our first lesson the following afternoon. Then we hiked for home on the 4:14, well pleased with our investment and its promise of golden returns.

That night Bunch and Alice were over to our place for dinner. After dinner Bunch and I sat down by the log fire in the Dutch room, filled our faces with Havana panatellas and proceeded to enjoy life in silence.

"Leave everything to me," Bunch growled as we shaved our hats and Indianfiled to a trough.

"A quart of Happsuds," Bunch ordered. "How about it, Ikey?"

Ikey flashed a grin and tried to swallow his palate, so it wouldn't interfere with the wet spell suggested by Bunch.

Ikey belonged to the "dis, dose and dem" push.

Every long sentence he uttered was full of splintered grammar.

There was surely something wrong with Ikey's switchboard, because he could wrap his system around more Indian laughing juice without getting lit up than any other man in the world.

But Ikey was the compliments of the season, all right, all right.

The luncheon had been ordered and Bunch was just about to switch the conversation around to the subject of rebates when suddenly his eyes took on the appearance of saucers and, tapping me on the arm, he gasped, "Look!"

I looked and beheld Peaches, Alice and Aunt Martha sailing over in our direction.

With a whispered admonition to Bunch to keep Ikey still I went forward to meet friend wife, her aunt and Alice.

They were as much surprised as I was.

"It was such a delightful day that Aunt Martha couldn't resist the temptation to do a little shopping," Peaches rattled on; "and then we decided to come here for a bit of luncheon—hello, Bunch! I'm so glad to see you! John, hadn't we better take another table so that your friendly conference may not be interrupted?"

I hastened to assure Peaches that it wasn't a conference at all. We had met Mr. Schwartz quite by accident. Then I introduced Ikey to the ladies.

He got up and did something that was supposed to be a bow, but you couldn't tell whether he was tying his shoe or coming down a stepladder.

After they had ordered club sandwiches and coffee I explained to Peaches and the others that Mr. Schwartz was a real estate dealer. Ikey began to swell up at once.

cers. Uncle Peter has a perfect horror of these modern dances and Peaches and Alice and I share it with him." Then she turned to Ikey, "Don't you think these modern dances are perfectly disgusting?"

Poor Ikey looked reproachfully at the old lady a second, then with gathering astonishment he slid silently off the chair and struck the floor with a bump.

Aunt Martha was so rattled over this unexpected effort on Mr. Schwartz's part that she upset her coffee and Ikey got most of it in the back of the neck.

When peace was finally restored the old lady came to the surface with an envelope which had been lying on the table near her plate.

"Is this your letter, John?" she asked, and then arranging her glasses, read with great deliberation: "Mr. I. Schwartz, Tango Teacher, Care of Kumeary and Staylates' Cabaret, New York."

Peaches and Alice went into the ice business right away quick.

Aunt Martha in pained surprise looked at me and then at Bunch and finally focused a steady beam of interrogation upon the countenance of Mr. Schwartz.

"Ikey Tried to Bend a Society Double."

Ikey never whimpered.

Then Bunch took the letter from the open-eyed Aunt Martha and leaped to the rescue while I came out of the trance slowly.

"It's too bad Mr. Schwartz forgot his ear trumpet," Bunch said quickly and Ikey was wise to the tip in a minute.

Peaches sniffed suspiciously and I knew she had the gloves on.

"Mr. Schwartz's affliction is terrible," she said with a chill in every word. "How did you converse with him before our arrival?"

"Oh, he understands the lip language and can talk back on his fingers," I hastened to explain, looking hard at Ikey, whose masklike face gave no token that he understood what was going on.

"I thought I understood you to say Mr. Schwartz is a real estate dealer," Peaches continued, while the thermometer went lower and lower.

"So he is," I replied. "Then why does his correspondent address him as a tango teacher?" friend wife said slowly, and I could hear the icebergs grinding each other all around me.

"I think I can explain that," Bunch put in quietly. Then with the utmost deliberation he looked Ikey in the eye and said, "Mr. Schwartz, it's really none of my business, but would you mind telling me why you, a real estate dealer, should have a letter in your possession which is addressed to you as a tango teacher? Answer me on your fingers."

Ikey delivered the goods. In a minute he had both paws working overtime and such knuckle twisting no mortal man ever indulged in before.

"He says," Bunch began to interpret, "that the letter is not his. It is intended for Isadore Schwartz, a wicked cousin of his who is a victim of the cabaret habit. Mr. Schwartz is now complaining bitterly with his fingers because his letters and those intended for his renegade cousin become mixed almost every day. These mistakes are made because the initials are identical. He also says that—he—hopes—the—presence—of—this—particular—letter—in—his—possession—does—not—offend—the—ladies—because—while—it—is—addressed—to—a—tango—teacher—the—contents—are—quite—harmless—being—but—a—small—bill—from—the—dentist."

Ikey's fingers kept on working nervously as though he felt it his duty to wear them out, and the perspiration rolled off poor Bunch's forehead.

"I'm afraid we'll miss the 5:15 train if we don't hurry," said Peaches, and I could see that the storm was over, although she still glanced suspiciously at poor Ikey.

"And, Bunch, you and John can come home with us now, can't you?" Alice asked as they started to float for the door.

Then Ikey cut it as we started to follow the family parade, "I'm hep to the situation. It's a cutesy, take it from little Ikey. I'll have to charge you $5 for the sudden attack of deafness; then there's $19 for hardships sustained by my finger joints while conversing. The rest of the hundred iron men I'm going to keep as a souvenir of two good-natured ginks who wouldn't know what to do with a tango if they had one."

As we pulled out of the Mayonnaise I looked back at Ikey to thank him with a farewell nod.

He was half way under the table, holding both hands to his sides and making funny faces at the carpet. (Copyright, 1935, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Norman Tower Laid Bare.

A London letter says there has been a curious result of one of the fires caused by suffragettes in 1914. The fire in question practically destroyed the historic church of St. Mary at Wargrave, near Henley, which, among other interesting objects, contained the tomb of Thomas Day, the author. The church is now being rebuilt. In the restoration of the tower it was found that the present casing of red brick is only a covering for the original Norman tower. The latter proves to be a very fine example of Norman architecture—one of the best, in the opinion of experts, existing in England.

When the tower was cased with red brick is a mystery, but the work was probably done in the reign of Henry VII or that of Henry VIII. Among other discoveries made as a result of the performance of the suffragette "arson squad" are a number of vaults under the chancel, of which no one had guessed the existence.

Plate Removes Tarnish.

There has just been put upon the market a metal plate that removes tarnish from silver in a few seconds. It is a thin sheet made of a combination of metals; this is put into a dish of hot water in which two tablespoonfuls of washing soda have been dissolved; the silver is immersed in such a way that at least one piece of it touches the plate, then is taken out, rinsed and wiped dry. The dish in which the operation is performed must be of glass, porcelain or enameled metal; if the latter the enamel must not have been broken.

"He Had Both Paws Working Overtime, and Such a Knuckle Twisting No Mortal Man Ever Indulged in Before."

Into the next room came Alice and Peaches and sat down for their usual cackle.

Bunch and I started from our reveries when we heard Alice say to Peaches, "You don't know what a source of comfort it has been to me to realize that Bunch doesn't know a blessed thing about the tango or any of those hatefully intimate new dances."

"The same with me, Alice," friend wife chirped in. "I believe if John were to suddenly display ability to dance the tango I'd be broken-hearted. Naturally, I'd know that he must have learned it with a wicked companion in some lawless cabaret. And if he frequented cabarets without my knowledge—oh, Alice, what would I do?"

I looked at Bunch, he looked at me and then we both looked out the window.

"For my part," Alice went on; "I trust Bunch so implicitly that I don't even question his motive when he telephones me he has to take dinner in town with a prospective real estate customer."

"And I know enough of human nature," Peaches gurgled, "to be sure that if either one of them could tango he would be crazy to show off at home. I think we're very lucky, both of us, to have such steady-going husbands, don't you, Alice?"

At this point Aunt Martha buzzed into the other room and the cackle took on another complexion.

In the meantime Bunch and I had passed away.

"It's cold turkey!" I whispered.

"I've been in the refrigerator for ten minutes and I'm chilled to the bone," Bunch whispered back.

"Can we get our coin away from Ikey?" I asked.

The next morning we had Ikey Schwartz for luncheon with us at the St. Astorbilt. The idea being to dazzle him and get a few of the iron med-

"Bunch and I are going in a little deal with Mr. Schwartz," I explained. "He knows the real estate business backward. He, Schwartz, has a fad for collecting apartment houses. He owns the largest assortment of People Coops in the city. All the modern improvements, too. Hot and cold windows, running gas and noiseless janitors. Mr. Schwartz is the inventor of the idea of having two baths in every apartment so that the lessees will have less excuse for not being water broke."

Ikey never cracked a smile.

"In Mr. Schwartz's apartment houses," I continued, while Bunch kicked my shins under the table, "you will find self-freezing refrigerators and self-leaving servants. All the rooms are light rooms, when you light the gas. Two of his houses overlook the park and all of them overlook the building laws. The floors are made of concrete, so that if you want to bring a horse in the parlor you can do so without kicking off the plaster in the flat below. Every room has folding doors, and when the water pipes burst the janitor has folding arms."

"Quit your joshing, John! You'll embarrass Mr. Schwartz," laughed Bunch somewhat nervously, but Ikey's grin never flickered.

"Is Mr. Schwartz deaf and dumb?" Peaches whispered.

"Intermittently so," I whispered back; "sometimes for hours at a time he cannot speak a word and can hear only the loudest tones."

Aunt Martha heard my comment on Ikey's infirmity and was about to become intensely sympathetic and tell him how her brother's wife was cured when Bunch interrupted loudly by asking after Uncle Peter's health.

"Never better," answered Aunt Martha. "He has spent all the morning arranging the program of dancing for our little party. He insists upon having the Virginia Reel, the old-fashioned waltz, the Polka and the Lan-

Shifty Athlete of Boston Braves Advances Reason for Poor Attendance This Season—Hits at Minor League Chiefly.

After many reasons have been advanced for poor attendance at baseball games this season, along comes Dick Egan, the shifty athlete of the Boston Braves, with a hunch that the movies are largely responsible.

And there is good logic in Egan's argument. There are, without doubt, a lot of chaps who, instead of spending a quarter for solitary enjoyment at the ball park as in former years, are providing entertainment for the entire family at the movies for the same amount of money.

Egan thinks the movie argument applies especially in the minor leagues. In the major league cities the attendance has been split a good deal between clubs of organized baseball and the Federals.

The minor league clubs, except in a few cases, do not have competition from the Feds, so another reason for poor attendance has to be found. Egan seems to have hit the nail on the head.

The movies have made a big hit in the smaller cities of the country, and men, in many, many cases, are sacrificing their own pleasure in watching ball games so the missus and the kiddies can have some fun.

There are lots of men who can afford both, but there are lots of good baseball fans who have to keep a pretty close watch on the nickels and dimes.

Egan has been busy helping the Braves get toward the top and has not been around in the minors, but he is a student of things in general.

PLAYERS ALLOWED TO THINK

Manager Gaspar of Sioux City Believes Men Will Try Harder to Win in Batting Own Way.

Members of the Sioux City baseball club of the Western league in the future will do their own thinking when they go to bat instead of being instructed by the manager when they leave the bench, according to Harry Gaspar, the Indians' new leader. Gaspar decided to accept this policy shortly after becoming manager of the Sioux City club.

"The players are better satisfied when they think for themselves, and they will work harder to win ball games," said Manager Gaspar. "In case a player goes to bat and pulls a play that should happen to win a game, he is better satisfied and will try harder to duplicate his feat the next time he comes up. The players all should be able to think what to do in a pinch. If they are not capable of thinking they should not be in baseball."

Praise for Merkle.

Fred Merkle as an outfielder is getting a lot of favorable comment.

HOW THE BOSTON BRAVES WIN BALL GAMES

Manager George Stallings.

I never play two games the same. A winning pitcher needs regular work. Don't rush a young player. Give him the time to master the big league methods. Confidence comes first. I tell my players they're the best team in the league. Walter Maranville is the greatest player to enter baseball since Ty Cobb arrived. We're trying to win every game, never thinking about the pennant. I can't say that I favor the hit and run over the sacrifice. Mix 'em up—that's my policy. Stealing bases alone will not always win—that's why I don't pay so much attention to the steal for my club. Christy Mathewson is a wonderful pitcher, if he isn't overworked. He's at his best with four or five days' rest.

The truth of the matter is, ten-cent baseball has been played for a long time, but fans had to pay 25 cents to see it.

Sailing an aeroplane over a baseball park is a dangerous pastime. If Ed Reulbach is pitching there is likely to be a collision.

Ivy Wingo's batting average is what his golf card ought to be, while his golf card is what his batting percentage ought to be.

Haddock and Herring are two pitchers on the New Haven Colonial league team. They do say the article of ball put up in that circuit is fishy.

Wilbert Robinson says weight is not a handicap in baseball. He weighs about 300, but his Brooklyn club has come up like a cork.

Generals in Europe have alibis to excuse defeat. There are no umpires or officials in their game, so they blame it on "a lack of munitions."

MILAN GREAT BASE STEALER

Washington Player Was Troublesome to White Sox in Their Attempt to Win 1908 Pennant.

Clyde Milan, center fielder of the visiting Washington Senators, is a valuable asset to the club. He has stolen many bases this season and is among the leaders in the American league. Milan also is leading the Washington club as a batsman.

This same Milan was troublesome for the White Sox in their attempt to win an American league pennant in 1908. By his base stealing and hitting that season Milan robbed the White

WILD PITCHING FEATS

Reulbach of Newark Feds Is Tied for the Record.

Freak Game Between Cardinals and Cubs Recalled by Athletic Recruit Who Issued Sixteen Passes to New York Yankees.

Bruno Haas, the former Worcester academy pitcher who signed with the Athletics, has set a new American league record for issuing bases on balls.

He passed 16 New York Yankees in one game.

The previous record of the American league was held by Carroll Brown and Eddie Plank, each of whom issued 14 passes in a game.

It is believed Billy George, once a Giant, and Ed Reulbach are tied for the major league record. Each gave 17 bases in one game. Reulbach won his game. He held the opposing team, Boston, to three hits. George lost his to Anson's Colts. That was in 1897.

Davidson, then of Newark, is believed the wildest man, as he gave Buffalo 20 bases on balls in one game.

The wildest game recorded was that pitched by Cy Seymour and Eddie Doheny against Chicago at the Polo grounds in 1896—or perhaps it was 1895. Seymour gave 14 bases and hit two men. Doheny, finishing up, gave nine passes and hit three men.

Another freak of pitching was the first inning of a game between Chicago and St. Louis in 1909. Chicago drew four passes and made five runs in the first inning. In the last half of that inning Cole, Richie and Reulbach gave eight passes and hit a man. St. Louis made five runs before hitting the ball at all, and got eight in the inning. Then the game settled down and was hard fought to the finish.

LARRY CHENEY IS TRADED TO BROOKLYN

JOE SCHULTZ

LARRY CHENEY

Larry Cheney, mainstay of the Cub pitching staff for years, was traded to Brooklyn the other day by Manager Roger Bresnahan for infielder Joe Schultz and a cash consideration. The sum of money involved was not mentioned. Schultz is a third baseman by preference. He has been doing utility work for the Robins and is regarded as a promising youngster.

With Rochester in the International league last season Schultz batted .316 in 155 games and stole 30 bases. In 54 games with Brooklyn this year Schultz has batted .286 and stolen two bases. His acquisition is the first step by Bresnahan in a campaign to get rid of the Cub veterans and build up a new ball club of youngsters for next season.

Larry Cheney went to the Cubs from Louisville in the fall of 1911. In his first game against Brooklyn, which he won, 5 to 0, he had a finger on his pitching hand broken by a line drive from Wheat's bat in the eighth inning. That ended his service for the season. Chance liked his looks so well he hung on to the big youngster, however, and in 1912 Cheney justified Frank's judgment by becoming the leading pitcher of the Cub staff. His willingness to work in and out of turn earned him the title "Big Moose."

STORIES of the DIAMOND

Cy Williams has made ten home runs this season.

Jim Gilmore, Fed league president, says jitney baseball is a big success.

Double jitney baseball should materially reduce the high cost of rooters.

When Joe Jackson goes hitless in a game some of the fans imagine he's going back.

Bill McKechnie's team is once more traveling at the rate that won it two Fed pennants.

Connie Mack has bought a third baseman, McDonald, from the Houston (Tex.) club.

Runt Walsh, Swacina and Jacklitsch have been dropped by Manager Knabe of the Baltimore Terps.

One doesn't have to be a naval authority to know that the U-9 of the Phils' team is Alexander the Great.

Pitcher Needles is with Peoria of the Three-Eye league for the simple reason that there is no One-Eye league.

Manager Donovan has parted with Outfielder Barney. The Pittsburgh Pirates got the youngster at waiver price.

Ed Walsh, veteran Sox pitcher, has purchased a full set of golf clubs and intends dabbling in the Scotch pastime next season.

St. Louis baseball fans applaud George Sisler, former University of Michigan baseball star, practically at every appearance.

Ten-cent baseball has spread like measles in a kindergarten. It started in Newark, N. J., and now it's all over the Federal league.

Polly McLarry of the Chicago Cubs ought to know how to take care of a dead arm. He's an undertaker in Texas when not playing ball.

A Boston philosopher says: "The best a man can do is be the Ty Cobb of his day." There is not room in one day for more than one Ty Cobb.

Tip to baseball fans: "Don't broach the subject of Baker to Connie Mack." Give the developer of champions a chance to do some more developing.

The one good pitcher on the Cub staff now is said to be Jimmy Lavender, who has come to life the last part of the summer and pitched real ball.

Pitcher Jack Warhop objected to being transferred to Richmond, as the New York Yankees had intended, and asked for and was given his unconditional release.

Connie Mack is putting his young pitchers through school this year. He is not giving them any relief if they get into trouble, but is letting them work out of it themselves.

SNODGRASS HELP TO BRAVES

Batting of Former Giant Outfielder Instrumental in Bringing Victories to Boston Team.

If manager McGraw is trying to imitate Connie Mack in the art of getting rid of star ball players he is making a howling success. This is the opinion of Johnny Evers, Braves' captain. Johnny was hobnobbing with the Boston players at morning practice when he was asked what he thought of the disposal of Fred Snodgrass by the Giants' manager.

"I can't explain why McGraw let Fred go, but as long as we got him everything is all right. As soon as I saw Fred at large I told Stallings to get him, and, now that we have him, we're going to make a much stronger bid for the pennant. The ex-Giant has been with us but a short time, but several of our victories have been due especially to Snodgrass' hitting. Fred is far from all in as a player. In fact, he is one of the youngsters of the game and will be with us for many seasons."

One Way to Shorten Games.

After the remarkable success of Jack Chesbro in 1904, almost every pitcher in the American league was using the spitball delivery, or bluffing it. This fact caused the games to drag. President Johnson, peeved because it was taking more than two hours to play every game, wrote his umpires for suggestions as to methods which might be used in shortening the contests. Most of the umpires replied at length, but Tim Hurst's answer was short and to the point. It read: "Dear Ban: If you are really in earnest about shortening the games, try seven innings."

Near-Perfect Game.

The Cleveland-St. Louis game of Sunday, August 15, will go in the records as a "perfect game" as far as errors of any sort are concerned. Neither pitcher gave a base on ball or hit a man and there was not a fielding error, while the game was won by the lowest possible score, 1 to 0.

"Love," He Told Her, "Does Not Come at Our Volition."

features—answering the words The Man had spoken as she could never have done.

Love for The Other Woman coursed through The Man's veins like a mad thing. There were moments when he was alone that he was haunted by the laughter of the Boy Person in his home, but when he was with the object of his heart's desire he quite lost it from his consciousness.

Time came when The Wife seldom saw The Man, and finally she made up her mind that she would go to see The Other Woman, taking the Boy Person with her.

The Other Woman's candor might have disarmed The Wife had it not been for the Boy Person's presence in the room, for the woman loved told the woman she knew her errand; knew the terrible hurt she had brought her; declared her own suffering through it, but ended with the same assurance that The Man had given—the frank assertion that the thing which possessed her was bigger than her will and that she had no power to dispel the force of love.

"But what are you going to do?" asked The Wife again.

"We are going away," came the frank reply.

Whereupon The Wife assured The Other Woman that she could not hope to build happiness on another's misery; that she could not hope to forget the small Boy Person whose laughter was even then like music in her ear; that the love she cherished for The Man would eventually prove a grown. The Other Woman often wondered if her daughter knew the truth, but the girl gave no sign, and so The Other Woman trusted to fate and was silent. And the little household was a very happy one.

Then, on a day, The Little Maid was missing. The Man and The Other Woman had never dreamed that harm could befall the quiet, gentle presence in their home. For a little while they knew not where to seek her, and when at last they learned that she had gone away with a married man who was reputed the most disreputable roue of the town, they followed quickly to bring her home.

But when The Other Woman found The Little Maid in her shame the girl met her agonized appeal quite coolly.

"Love does not come at our volition. I cannot help it. I did not seek this thing that has come to me and I had no power to avoid it. YOU should understand."

The girl spoke the words her father had said to the mother of the small Boy Person; the words The Other Woman had told The Wife and the sentence with which she concluded her statement was illuminating to The Other Woman, who stood watching the beautiful daughter to whom she had given life—and her inheritance—and as she watched the veil was lifted from her eyes and she saw that the thing which The Wife had told her in that far gone yester-year was the inevitable truth, and that the present was the price which The Wife had promised she should pay.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

- 1. HODGSON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—MRS. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgson, Me.
2. SHELBYVILLE, KY.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—MRS. MOLLIE SMITH, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.
3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—MRS. ADA WILLY, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.
4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—MRS. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.
5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—MRS. C. H. GRIFFITH, 1868 Constant St., Cleveland, O.

Covering Cream Cans. A great part of the value of keeping cream cool on the farm and at the station or creamery is lost if the cream is exposed to the direct rays of the sun while being hauled from the farm to the point of sale.

Slightly Satirical. During the week after Columbia university had given Walter Damrosch the degree of Mus. Doc. the noted conductor received a note from Alexander Lambert, in which the piano pedagogue remarked: "I am so glad that you are a 'doctor of music.' Now, when I get sick of music I shall know where to go."

Despite what the dealers say, the only way to save $200 on a piano is not to buy it.

His Trouble.

A stenographer was out of a job. He was discussing the best ways and means of rehabilitating his ebbing bank roll with a friend who also was listed among the unemployed. Said the friend:

"If I were you I'd write a letter for money." "I have already done so," replied the stenog. "For how much?" "Oh, three thousand dollars." "Well?" asked the friend in astonishment. "Well," repeated the shorthand man sadly, "the letter asking for the three thousand dollars is all ready to mail, but I'll be darned if I can think of anybody to mail it to."
