

CHILD STRUCK BY BATTED BALL ON END OF NOSE

Mary Mudrak, Aged Three, Victim of Peculiar Accident—Players Will Stage Benefit Game For Her.

One of the most peculiar accidents recorded in the borough occurred Sunday afternoon during the ball game between the Woodbridge Caseys and the Harmony Field Club of this place, when a batted ball struck the ground, rebounded and struck Mary Mudrak, aged three years, on the tip of the nose.

She was rushed to the office of a physician and he had her sent to the Perth Amboy City Hospital. The bone of the nose was slightly fractured but the injury is not thought to be serious.

At the time of the accident the child was in the ball field a few feet from the sidewalk. No blame was attached to the ball players as the injury was purely an accident.

CHROME BOXER IN PRINCIPAL RAHWAY MATCH

Johnny Carroll Big Drawing Card at Wounded Veterans' Second Boxing Show in Rahway.

RAHWAY, Aug. 11.—With Jack McFarland, of Elizabeth and Johnny Carroll, of Chrome, booked for the main bout and that scheduled to be a slashing affair throughout, the second open-air boxing show of Washington Post No. 1, National Disabled Veterans' League, of this city, bids fair to far surpass in quality the initial show of three weeks ago at Winkler's "Thirty Acres" in Main street.

The Vets expect to fill the big grandstand that they are putting up at the Main street arena for this show and thus recuperate a small loss suffered at the opener. Threatening weather cut the crowd in two that night. The new seating arrangements have been made through the requisition of the grandstand formerly in use at the Colonia hospital. It will hold over one thousand in comfort.

Popular demand has resulted in the signing of Jack McFarland for the Vets second show. Jack, though in fit condition to stay in bed, refused to run out of his bout with Young Otto, of New York, despite the fact that he was suffering with stomach trouble and was under a physician's care at the time.

Matchmaker Dave Smith, who is State Entertainment chairman of the Disabled Veterans' League, has booked Johnny Carroll, the Chrome flash and former Betsytown battler, to meet McFarland. His selection was a wise one, for McFarland and Carroll are about evenly matched and a bout between them is sure to be a hair-raiser. They will fight eight rounds.

The rest of the card presents a well balanced list of scraps. In the semi-final, Willie Lewis, of the Pastime A. A., of this city, and Young Anthony, of the Duane Club of Elizabeth, will lock horns for six rounds. A four go between Buck Walker and Young Harris, two local boys, has created a lot of interest and each boy has declared his intentions of putting the other away. In the fourth setto, Jimmy Drew, also of the Duane Club, will meet Red Mauser, of Rahway, while the fifth fight will bring together George Sullivan, of Rahway and Joe Brooks, of New York. Both of these scraps are four round affairs.

The meeting of the Board of Education scheduled for Tuesday night of this week, was postponed until Tuesday night of next week.

TRAFFIC POSTS TO BE PLACED AT BAD CROSSINGS

Borough Council Provides Means To Reduce Number of Accidents at Dangerous Points.

Steps toward reducing the danger to traffic at the more dangerous points in the borough streets, were taken Monday night at the regular meeting of the Borough Council when it was decided to purchase six traffic posts to place at these crossings and intersections. The posts are of the inverted mushroom type known as the "Scott Heavy Duty Post," and are made of cast iron and steel.

A salesman, John H. Cose, former councilman, of Plainfield, and representing the manufacturer of the posts appeared at the council meeting before the session began and told of the value of the posts. He said they have been installed by Rahway, Plainfield, Metuchen, Perth Amboy and several other neighboring towns. The posts cost $50 each.

The monthly report of Recorder Edward J. Heil showed that $100 had been collected in fines in the police court during July. The money was turned over to Treasurer Brady. There were twelve cases of disorderly conduct in which fines were imposed. The report of Chief of Police Harrington showed eighteen arrests, and 109 street lights reported out, during July.

The road committee reporting on the opposing factions in Mary street relative to placing sidewalks there suggested that the engineer investigate and find the real sentiment of the people and embody it in a report to be submitted at the next meeting. Some residents of Mary street petitioned for sidewalks; then another petition was received protesting against walks. Some, it is said, signed both petitions. The council desires to ascertain which petition represents the majority of the property owners.

Several improvements certificates came up for consideration and attention was called to the fact that the bank is charging six per cent for money. The finance committee was instructed to request the bank to lower the rate to five per cent which is said to be the prevailing rate for municipal loans.

Plans and specifications for two houses were submitted in accordance with the new building code. One was for a two-story frame dwelling and was submitted by Stephen Hudalski; the other was for a one-story building and was submitted by Sam Biluski. Both were approved.

MANY ATTEND ANNUAL OUTING OF MERCHANTS

More Than Sixty At Business Men's Annual Event Held in Jamesburg. May Hold Another.

The annual outing of the Business Men's Association of Roosevelt was held Sunday in Jamesburg at Shostak's health home and hotel there. There were about sixty members of the organization present and the affair was the best in point of attendance and enjoyment of any outing given by the association. The chief feature of the day was a dinner of roast duck and chicken. While the affair was informal there was some speaking.

Remarks were made by President Alexander Lebowitz, Morris Hertz, and others. The speakers advocated close co-operation and unity in all movements affecting the welfare of the borough and the business interests of Roosevelt.

During the afternoon there were various athletic games. The trip to and from the scene of the outing was made in automobiles furnished by some of the members. The outing met with such general approval that there were several requests that another be held before old weather.

NEW CANDY STORE Emanuel Vourovlious, of Jersey City, has leased the store formerly occupied by John Wetjen in Chrome and will open an up-to-date ice cream parlor and candy store there in September.

GIVE AND TAKE PLAN PROPOSED BY ROOSEVELT

Tank Question May Be Settled If Company Accepts Proposal—Await Wiley's Return.

At a special meeting of the Borough Council Friday night a concrete proposition was agreed upon by the council and submitted to the Mexican Petroleum Corporation as a possible solution of the tank problem. The plan proposed was turned over to Superintendent Paterson of the oil company. It is a give and take proposition—the borough proposing to make certain concessions from its former stand in return for other concessions asked of the oil company and made part of the proposed agreement.

Among the conditions proposed are the following: the oil company must donate enough of land of its holdings along Roosevelt avenue (the old Rahway street) to permit of a fifty foot street along the entire frontage of the company's property; the company is to beautify the surroundings of its tanks with trees and shrubbery; the borough will pass an ordinance vacating its rights in the disputed streets on the map of the Gantz tract (this will terminate the suit of the oil company against the borough, it is thought); the borough will require that the company at no time now or in the future build any tanks in the area bounded by the company's private roadway, Freemont avenue, Heywood avenue and Grant avenue.

Superintendent Paterson in receiving the borough's proposal did not comment on what the future course of the company might be. It is understood that the final decision will not be made until the return of General Manager Wiley of the company. Mr. Wiley is in Europe.

HARMONY CLUB TO HOLD BIG FISHING TRIP

Arrangements have been completed by a special committee of the Harmony Social Club for an outing to be held Sunday, August 20, at Atlantic Highlands and Sandy Hook. The outing will be in the nature of a fishing trip. The trip will be made in the two boats, the "Empire" and the "Senator," owned by Carl Kirchner. The expedition will board the boats at Moore's dock.

A novel feature of the affair is the offer of three prizes by the club: one for the first fish caught, one for the largest fish and one for the largest number. Those who are attending the trip must have notice for reservations in the hands of the secretary by August 15.

The charter of the club was opened for the admission of new members on July 28 and will remain open until the next regular meeting which will be held on August 25. According to the custom of the club the charter is opened once a year for new members. Applicants for membership must be between the ages of 18 and 45 years.

AMERICAN CLUB NOTES

The tennis team lost a hard fought match to the Fulton Street Tennis Club, of Rahway, on the American Club courts. The visitors won three matches to one and put up a high bran dof tennis. Both singles and one doubles went to the out of town team. In the first singles, Dykes and Harned went three sets, as did Sherry and Wooster in the second singles. In the doubles Dykes and Sherry won easily from Harned and Bracher, and Brower and Huber lost to Wooster and Englemen. The scores were: Harned defeated Dykes, 6-8, 9-7, 6-3; Wooster defeated Sherry, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4; Dykes and Sherry won from Harned and Bracher, 6-1, 6-3; Wooster and Englemen won from Brower and Huber, 6-4, 6-4.

A return match will be played at Rahway on Tuesday evening, August 22.

Tonight the regular semi-monthly dance will be held at the Club rooms. Music by Horned's Orchestra of Perth Amboy.

The next open house will be on Saturday night, Aug. 19.

STARS OF ZION CLUB NOTES

The club will go on a Hay Ride August 13. Members wishing to go will meet at the Chrome Synagogue at 10:30 A. M.

Saul Brown has been added to the Publicity Committee.

Isaac Nadel sent in his application and has been readmitted to the club. Anna Schwartz has become a member and will be initiated next week. Louis Brown and Rebecca Fine have donated books to the library.

Alice Schwartz, Nettie, August and Robert Nadel, of New York, were visitors at the last meeting.

LEG BROKEN IN TWO PLACES BY KICKING HORSE

Paul Ersegi Victim of Peculiar Accident in Hudson Street—Sent To Hospital.

Paul Ersegi, of Edwards street, was painfully injured early Saturday morning when a horse he was driving kicked over the front of the wagon, striking him on the left leg and breaking it in two places between the knee and ankle. Ersegi had borrowed the animal from Joseph Sica, the dog warden, and evidently was not used to driving it. He was driving down Hudson street from Roosevelt avenue and on the way the animal kicked several times.

Officer Donovan noticed the horse's actions and warned Ersegi to sit further back in the wagon but the driver did not heed the warning. At the corner of Huron street and Chrome avenue, an auto passed, tooting a horn and the horse became unmanageable. It plunged and kicked finally crashing its hoofs through the front board of the wagon bed and breaking Ersegi's leg.

The frightened animal was stopped just as it was about to dash across the meadows at the end of Hudson street. Ersegi was removed from the wagon and taken to the office of Dr. Wantoch who gave him first aid and ordered him sent to the hospital.

RECORD FAVORS PUBLIC CONTROL OF RAILROADS

Candidate For G. O. P. Nomination For Senator Flays Frelinghuysen As Railroad Tool. 5000 Hear Him.

NEWTON, N. J., Aug. 11.—George L. Record addressed a crowd of more than five thousand people at the Farmer's Picnic, Lake Grinnel, near here, last evening, and he received an unusually enthusiastic greeting.

Record flayed Senator Frelinghuysen against who he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator saying that Frelinghuysen was largely responsible for the present day difficulties of the farmer, especially of the farmers of the Eastern states. He showed what he said was the effect of "Frelinghuysen's vote for the railroads in every measure presented before the Senate." He blamed Senator Frelinghuysen and other members of the "Senate Millionaire's Club" for the fact that the "farmers are kept in control by the railroad monopolists," and went on to present his remedy of government ownership.

Record said in part: "One of the strongest obstacles to the idea of public ownership and operation of the railroads is the impression that has been created by the skillful railroad propaganda that government operation of the railroads would be necessarily inefficient. The idea for years has been very cleverly implanted in the public mind that all government operations never attain the efficiency or economy that characterize privately operated business.

"It is undoubtedly true that private initiative and enterprise can conduct a manufacturing and competitive business cheaper and more efficiently than the government can or would. That is one reason why I have always been opposed to the socialistic idea of the government taking any part in industry. But when it comes to the rendering of services which come home to the daily life of the people, the government performance of such service is both efficient and economical, and the propaganda to the contrary is false and misleading.

"The government runs public schools as cheaply and efficiently as any private concern could do. Wherever municipalities own and operate their own water supplies, the service is both more satisfactory and cheaper than the water service in municipalities of similar size served by private companies. We have an illustration of that fact in New Jersey where we have several private water companies, whose charges are excessive and whose service is poor, while our municipal water supplies are generally both satisfactory and cheaper.

"The government runs the Post Office in a way that has always been satisfactory. For many years the financiers owning our express companies were so powerful that they prevented the government from extending the parcels post and are still keeping it from its fullest development.

AUTO KILLS MAN INSTANTLY ON PERSHING AVE.

Max Skrypochka Receives Broken Neck and Punctured Lungs—Struck By Christensen's Car.

Max Serekaic, aged 53 years, a widower, of 43 Randolph street, was instantly killed Saturday night at 10:10 o'clock when he was struck by a touring car owned and driven by Andrew Christensen, a local contractor residing at 646 Roosevelt avenue. The accident happened in Pershing avenue near Rockman's cafe. Christensen had been in Perth Amboy. He was accompanied by his wife and Officer and Mrs. Frank Ward.

At the spot where the accident happened there are several shade trees. Serekaic walked along the sidewalk and stepped off onto the street and began crossing it in the black shadow of the trees. According to the story of the accident obtained by the police, Christensen did not see the man until he stepped out of the shadow a few feet from the front of the car. Christensen gave a sharp turn to the left—so sudden that Mrs. Christensen was hurled out of the machine. The machine, however, did not strike the curb on the opposite side of the street—a circumstance which is taken to indicate that the machine was not moving at a high rate of speed.

Christensen was held on a criminal charge of manslaughter and on Monday was placed under bond of $3,000 to await the action of the Grand Jury. Judge Peter F. Daly fixed the bail.

There is a question as to the correct spelling of the name of the victim: Official papers connected with settling up the affairs of the dead man give the spelling as Skrypochka. He was born in Russia.

Death was caused by a broken neck. Other injuries were numerous, both lungs were punctured by broken ribs. A bottle of liquor in the man's pocket was broken into fragments. The presence of the bottle was noted by the police as a possible indication that the man may have been under the influence of liquor and that this condition was chiefly responsible for the accident.

The funeral services were held Monday at 11 A. M. in the Russian Church in Carteret and the interment was made in the Russian cemetery in Perth Amboy. Undertaker Frank Burns had charge of the arrangements.

CONSIDER PLAN TO SEND PUPILS TO WOODBRIDGE

Township School Board To Investigate Proposition To Take Roosevelt Pupils in High School.

A give-and-take plan of adjusting school attendance matters between Roosevelt and Woodbridge was discussed at a recent meeting of the Woodbridge Board of Education. The matter came up for consideration when the Woodbridge clerk read a communication from Roosevelt, setting forth that on account of congested conditions in Roosevelt and the need of providing room for high pupils who can no longer be accommodated at the Rahway High School, the Roosevelt schools would be unable to take Woodbridge pupils living near the Roosevelt line.

In this connection it was stated by one of the members of the Woodbridge board that Roosevelt had made a telephone proposal to instruct the Woodbridge pupils living near the borough line if Woodbridge in return would admit Roosevelt pupils into the high school there.

The matter was discussed briefly without arrival at a decision—the board referring this and other matters to a special committee for a report at a future meeting.

Republicans Have Big Meeting

The Roosevelt Republican Club held the first meeting preparatory to the fall campaign last night in the club rooms in Cooke avenue. A large number of the members turned out, including most of the party leaders and workers. Definite action on the slate for the coming campaign was deferred to another meeting to be held Tuesday night next. A tentative slate was picked but the names of the prospective candidates will not be made public until after the meeting Tuesday. The greatest interest centers about the selection of a candidate for Mayor.

EMPLOYERS WIN FIRST ROUND IN UNION BATTLE

Mass Meeting To Organize Shirt Workers Falls Through—Organizer To Keep Up Campaign.

The mass meeting scheduled for last Monday night in Coughlin's Auditorium under the auspices of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America was a failure. It was planned for the purpose of inducing the shirtmakers employed in the plant of Broome and Neuman to organize a branch of the shirt workers union. Every effort was made to give the affair publicity. An orchestra was engaged and speakers were on hand but the girls did not attend.

Representatives of the A. C. W. of A. say that the girls were intimidated and at the same time misled by glittering promises upon the part of the employers. The employers say the girls are contented with conditions in the plant and the wages they are receiving and do not care to form a union. The girls have issued no statement. It is known that the girls were addressed by the manager of the local plant and that he directed his remarks toward creating the impression that the girls would not be benefited by joining the union and that the future outlook under present conditions is good.

It is said but could not be verified, that representatives of the proprietors stood on guard at the approaches to Coughlin's hall on the night of the proposed meeting and that girls seeing these sentries on watch, did not enter the hall. Two girls came to the hall about an hour after opening time but by that time it had been decided not to hold the meeting and the hall was dark.

The union has not given up the fight to form a local branch here. In fact, it is announced, the fight is just getting under way. Union representatives are prepared, it is said, to convince the girls in the local shop that they are receiving only a small proportion of the wage paid by the same firm to girls in its union shop in Brooklyn. It is understood that the next move of the union will be to personally interview each of the girls and women divilutely that a branch union here is the only means of procuring a fair wage and proper working conditions.

The Broome and Neuman concern has plants in Brooklyn, Roosevelt, Kingston and Haines Falls. The Brooklyn plant is the only one that is unionized.

Miner's Empire Theatre Newark

Young blood is getting its opportunity in business as well as on the stage and a conspicuous example of what youthful ideas and enthusiasm can create will be disclosed in the presentation of "The Mimic World" at Miner's Empire Theatre during the week inaugurated with Sunday evening, August 13th. This is one attraction in burlesque that scorns "old favorites" and depends entirely upon new and youthful entertainers to attain its vogue. Even the producers are youngsters; neither Maurice Cain or Dan Davenport having passed thirty. Maurice Cain in particular, is a striking example of what youthful determination will attain when opportunity presents. Cain started in the show business only a few years ago with Hurlig & Seamon, one of the most important and progressive purveyors of amusement in burlesque. Cain began at once to make himself useful and by the application of his youthful imagination and the development of young ideas gained the confidence of his employers and increasingly justified their reliance upon him. This year came his big opportunity and "The Mimic World" is cited as an expression of his creative genius given full sway.

Week commencing Sunday matinee August 20th, A Reeves New Beauty show.

NEGROES LAND IN JAIL

Thomas Woody, Robert Crouden, and Robert Salvan, negroes, were arrested yesterday on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Woody and Crouden were arrested by Officer Donovan. The men had been engaged in an altercation in Chrome and one of them was cut and bruised about the face as a result of a fall when he was pushed by his companion. Salvan was arrested last night by Officer Dowling. The three will be given a hearing tonight.

Foresters Have Record Crowd

The excursion conducted to Roton Point, Conn., last Saturday by Court Carteret, No. 48, Foresters of America was one of the most successful the Court has conducted. There were more than 1,300 who took in the trip. The sail up the sound and the many pleasures at the park made the entire affair a delightful one.

WHEELS RAIDED AT CARNIVAL IN PORT READING

County Detectives Seize 15 Wheels And Arrest 5 Men—All Held For Action of Grand Jury.

The wave of reform that has been sweeping over Middlesex County during the past few months struck the firemen's carnival with full force Wednesday night and when it passed the carnival was a batterer wreck of its former self. Wheels of fortune were confiscated and their operators arrested and it is expected that some of the firemen will also be entangled in the case before the prosecution is finished.

The carnival included the usual booths with wheels of fortune where kewpie dolls and other similar prizes were offered for "lucky" numbers on the wheel. Late Wednesday night, Chief of County Detectives Ferd David acting under instructions of the prosecutor, raided the games.

In all fifteen wheels and other devices were seized. One of the wheels was an elaborate affair with many electric bulbs and it is said the machine cost $1,000. It was seized in common with other devices. Five men were arrested. They described themselves as: Charles Ollison, Leo Bernstein, Theodore Sherman and William Fresberg, all of Paterson, and Henry J. Kraus, of Jersey City. Bail was fixed in the sum of $500 in each case.

The alleged gambling devices were stored in the Woodbridge police station Wednesday night and on Thursday were taken to New Brunswick. The five men arrested yesterday in Woodbridge before Recorder Ashley and were continued in bail of $500 for the action of the Grand Jury. All obtained bondsman.

Prosecutor Stricker's order that gambling devices in fairs and carnivals shall not be permitted to operate is being enforced in other parts of the county, also with the result that other raids and arrests have been made in other communities.

THE EMPIRE THEATRE

Next week will be a banner week at the Empire Theatre, Rahway, where a wonderful bill will be offered all week. The offerings for the remainder of this week are also exceptionally good. Tonight that great screen favorite, Clara Kimball Young supported by Rudolph Valentino and an all-star cast, will appear in "The Eyes of Youth," and there will be a comedy and topics as extras. Saturday another top-liner, Norma Talmadge, appears in "The Safety Curtain," a love tangle in which a woman finds herself with two husbands. Added to this are a comedy, Country Chickens, and an adventure of Tarzan "Where is my Wandering Boy Tonight?" will be the attraction on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, next week. Thomas Loughlin, Rahway's most gifted baritone, will sing at each show. There will be plenty of good extras at each show.

Thursday and Friday a brand new sensation in movies in Rahway will be presented in the form of a screen reproduction of the great Leonard-Tender fight for the lightweight championship of the world. This 12 round go is the most talked of fistic event of the year.

The Police Were On The Job And NOT OUT OF TOWN

Anent the story of the Baby Parade in last week's NEWS in which it was stated that the police aided in handling the traffic but that the department was handicapped by several of the members being at Sea Girt, Chief Harrington makes a correction. The Chief says that at the time of the parade the police were all in town and that one, Officer Donoghue, who had been at Sea Girt, had returned in time to help in handling the parade. No application for police aid was made by the Red Cross at the Police station. It is a rule of the department, the chief said, that any organization asking for police aid invariably receives it.

EXAMINATIONS FOR CARRIERS

Civil service examinations for letter carriers and clerks to work in the new postoffice will be held here in the new building on August 19, at 9 A. M. Particulars as to requirements of applicants may be obtained at either of the local offices at any time previous to the examination.

Facts About the Ostrich.
The ostrich is the biggest bird on earth and has the smallest brain. It weighs as much as a cow and its brain weighs two ounces. Yet it is not stupid. The ostrich lives to be about ninety years old.

Heavy Loss Caused by Fungi.
The annual loss caused by forest fires is enormous, but it is no greater than that attributable to fungi, which rot mine timbers, bridge timbers, telegraph poles and other structures of wood, necessitating their replacement. The "life" of the average railway tie is seven and a half years; if fungi would let it alone it would last twice that long.

EXTENSIVE INJURY TO TREES AND SHRUBS BY BAGWORMS

Arsenate of Lead Dust or Spray Controls Them

Encased in a cocoon-like covering, composed of bits of dried leaves and bark held together by silken fabric, a destructive caterpillar has been observed in many parts of the state during the past three weeks, feeding on the foliage of ornamentals. This insect is the bagworm, also known as the basket worm, and the numerous inquiries that have been received at the Agricultural Experiment Station indicate that there is a severe outbreak of the pest in New Jersey.

When present in large numbers, the insect may be serious. It is fond of evergreens, especially arbor vitae, but also consumes the foliage of maple, willow, sycamore, poplar and many other trees. Partial defoliation of evergreens damages and complete defoliation usually kills the tree. Defoliation of deciduous trees always weakens but rarely kills unless repeated annually for several years.

The bag worm winters over in the egg stage within the old bag which held the female that laid the eggs. The caterpillars hatch in spring, make their way to the nearest leaves and begin to feed and construct the cases or bags about them. They carry these bags with them as a protective covering. Arsenate of lead sprayed at the rate of 2 pounds of the powder or 4 pounds of the paste, to 50 gallons of water, or applied as a dust (10 pounds of the powder to 5 pounds hydrated lime) will kill the caterpillars while they are feeding. Hand-picking and burning in winter will destroy the eggs. Issued by the State College of Agriculture.

CHURCH FOR YOUNG PERSONS

Indianapolis Minister Successful in Operation of Branch for the Boys and Girls.

A junior church, the membership of which is limited to persons between six and sixteen years old, with the preacher the only adult present, is being successfully operated in Indianapolis. The plan was inaugurated by Rev. N. S. Sichterman of Grace Presbyterian church, that city.

According to Doctor Sichterman, there are 60 children ranging in age from six to sixteen years who are members of the junior organization. They have their own room for services, which are of 30 minutes' duration, and have their own officers. The plan was put into operation in January and Doctor Sichterman is so pleased with the results that he expects soon to double the membership.

Doctor Sichterman said the idea of forming a junior church developed from his experience in church while a boy.

"My people came from Holland and settled in a neighborhood of Hollanders in a small Michigan town," he said. "The church I attended as a boy also used the Dutch language and the sermons sometimes lasted two hours or more. I well remember how tired and restless I would get as the time dragged on, for the sermon, while appealing to adults, was not such as would appeal to the child."

"It was this experience which gave birth to the junior church idea, and last January I started the organization."

CAN GROW NEW TUSK IN YEAR

Discovery Is Made That the Walrus May Prolong World's Vanishing Supply of Ivory.

A remarkable discovery at the seal rookeries on Pribilof islands may prolong the world's vanishing ivory supply.

Last summer an obnoxious bull walrus was mauled by government seal keepers, and in the fight one of its long tusks was broken off. This spring the same recalcitrant mammal returned, and to the surprise of both natives and attendants the tusk had grown out five inches, the end still showing the ragged edge of the break. It is now believed that an annual crop of this excellent ivory can be harvested by cutting off one-half of one tusk each year from the bull walrus. The one left intact is used by the mammal in digging clams and sea food. In a year the stub would have grown out enough to serve as a pickax, so the other tusk could be sacrificed for the fancies of man.

Walrus ivory is in great demand in China and Japan, where it is utilized for small carvings.

Graphite and Siberia.

Extensive deposits of graphite exist in northwestern Siberia, on the left bank of the River Kurelka, near the junction with the River Yenisei, 90 miles from the mouth of the latter river. The graphite area forms a horizontal plateau, the elevation of which varies from 20 to 50 feet above the normal level of the River Kurelka. The plateau contains two layers of graphite, which is of a solid steel-gray color, soft and of an excellent quality for the manufacture of pencils. It is believed that in the future these graphites will supply Russian demands and that large quantities will be available for export. The chief sources of graphite have been Ceylon, Bohemia, Germany, France and the United States. The annual world production has been approximately 120,000 short tons.

The Modern Girl.

If the modern girl is freer than her predecessor, she is, like her brother, more self-possessed. Her range of experience and of information is wider and her desire to know greater. She has seen more of the world and heard more of it, if not directly, then by the vicarious efforts of scores of agencies. She has no doubt broken through many irrational taboos, but she is trying hard to replace them with standards more suitable to the complexities of life in this generation.

And if it is put to a male vote whether she is to return to the dress, manners, temperament and mental outlook of her eighteenth or even nineteenth century ancestor, there will only be an insignificant minority to vote against her as she is.—Baltimore American.

CALL ON U. S. FOR SUPPLIES

Various Countries Are Asking Uncle Sam to Provide All Sorts of Merchandise.

Have you any chrysoprane or variscite to sell? If so, write the Department of Commerce, foreign trade division, Dr. Julius Klein, the director, has requests for 'em on his desk from Australia. If you don't know what they are, they are precious stones.

Our South American neighbors in Brazil are more prosaic in their wants. They are asking for sanitary drinking fountains.

Canada wants moving-picture machines and wireless telephone sets.

With the Volstead act putting a crimp in the business over here, anybody with a left-over stock of bungs and bung pegs can find a ready market for them in England. The British also want garbage cans.

Ditto above. The French are asking for oak casks.

Ditto again. Chile asks for corks. The prohibition bureau, with an eye to business, might fill the order from Mexico for alcohol distilling plants by shipping down some of the wildest stills seized over the country.

Evidently all the Italian boot-blacks are not over here. There's a request from Italy for shoe polish.

Musical instruments are in demand in Palestine and Spain. The cunning Scots want calculating machines.

Poor old Siberia would like a square meal of dried fruits and vegetables and prepared milk.

RACED LIKE THE GREYHOUND

Botafogo, Most Famous Horse of Argentina, Was Known to Turf Followers Throughout World.

The most famous race horse that the fine studs of Argentina ever bred was probably Botafogo, for he was renowned among turf followers the world over. He died near Mar del Plata a short time ago, being only eight years old. Not particularly fortunate in his pedigree, as great racers usually are, he nevertheless became a phenomenon of the track. At two years he sold for $25,000 at auction, although he was never good looking.

When he raced the horse stretched himself out like a greyhound. He made his debut in 1917, and all the classics fell before his amazing speed. One day when he was not in form and lost to Gray Fox the event was regarded in Argentina as quite a national catastrophe. In a subsequent "revenge race" he defeated his conqueror with perfect ease before the greatest crowd that ever assembled at the Palermo tracks.

Actor Who Could Not Write.

The true story of "Joe Miller's Joke Book," is an interesting bit of literary history. Truth is that Joe Miller never read a joke in his life, and therefore could not have compiled a book of jokes. For Joe Miller could not read. He was an ignorant actor, who achieved great success in 1714 at the Drury Lane theater in London. And the only way that Joe Miller could memorize the lines of his parts was to have them read and reread to him until he was able to repeat them, the duty of this drumming dialogue and cues into the comedian's mind being entrusted to a wife, whom he had married for the purpose.

Off the stage or on, Miller was not a wit or humorist. But a year after his death a pamphlet appeared in which 247 jests were given, of which only three were ascribed to Joe Miller. They had been compiled by a man with the appropriate name of Mottley. By the middle of the nineteenth century the number of jokes had been increased by successive compilers to 1,546.

NO MIRRORS IN BARBER SHOP

Tonsorial Parlors for Bobbing Milady's Hair Are Now Without Looking Glasses.

Speaking of the play of Hamlet without the Dane, what do you think of the mirrorless barber shop? Surely as an egregious thing, revolutionary and rather alarming, almost a contradiction in terms. Yet it has arrived. It flourishes. It proves itself an answer to a need of the hour.

But not for men. No, no! The barber shop without mirrors is for the bobbing of women's hair, remarks the New York Sun. It seems that women are too emotional to watch the amputation of "woman's crowning glory" without raising a fuss interfering with the work of the hair surgeon. They twitter and fidget, and get excited and give directions, and make the operator so nervous that he is sometimes prevented from turning out what he considers a neat job.

The idea of mirrorless surgery for the mutilation of female heads seems to have originated up Boston way.

When the bobbing craze first struck New York barber shops were fitted up for women with a special eye to abundant and brilliant illumination of mirrors. Indeed, the mirror, woman's firmest friend, was banked upon as the supreme attraction in the new style of shearing parlor. But it was found the reflection of the victim after her tresses received their first slash was so unnerving to her, and stimulated her to so many criticisms, warnings and minute instructions that it was soon seen that the mirrors would have to go. And now milady must learn to take her shearing like a sheep.

Surprising. "Gosh-all-beeswax!" exclaimed the country cousin. "Who in the fightin' world would ever believe there was such a lot of folks in Kiy See?" "But you must remember," returned the city cousin, "that Kansas City has nearly four hundred thousand inhabitants."

"Yes, but, great governor, who'd have expected to see 'em all on Twelfth street at once."—Kansas City Star.

THE VALUE OF SAVING

With prosperity constantly lifting the latchstring and capital awaiting the signal for investment, how essential it is for us all to consider the importance of an interest-bearing savings account.

The value of saving is proved every time you make a deposit in this Bank—and you will find that it will constantly work to your advantage.

Tangled Tongues. Spoonerisms, like the poor, we have always with us. Two new and rather good ones came to our attention recently. The other day a Chicago woman, testifying against her husband in her divorce suit, declared: "He leads me, his awful wife, a lawfui life." There was a loud titter in the court, and blushing with embarrassment she hastened to correct herself.

The other concerns a young woman who was dining at a strange house. On the table was a dish of boiled onions, and when her hostess was serving these and remarked that, of course, she liked them, the young woman remarked enthusiastically: "Oh, yes, indeed; if there is one vegetable I like it is oiled bunions." Just think if her hostess' husband had been a chiropodist.—Boston Transcript.

Took a Long Journey. Last fall an inhabitant of Osthelm, Alsace, captured a swallow nesting under the gable of the roof. He released it with the following message attached on parchment: "During the summer of 1921 I lived with a farmer at Osthelm. He would be glad to learn where I have spent the winter when I return." The bird returned recently to its Alsatian home, bearing the following inscription: "I have been staying with a shoemaker, Joseph Bady, on the island of Martinique, who salutes my present host."

Needed Help. Standing on the slippery pavement of a small Southern town one rainy night, like sailors on a reeling deck, they were discussing a member of their party who had to retire from the scene of action. The principal speaker in the group appeared to be having some difficulty in keeping his footing on the swaying pavement. The buildings on either side bowed and rocked. The telephone poles did some sort of contortionist stunt and even his voice was a bit thick.

"Where's Sam?" another member of the group asked him.

"We took him home," the first speaker informed him between hicoughs.

"Was he drunk?"

"Drunk? It took three of us to get his hat in the car."—The Argonaut.

Electric-Lighted Handbag. The latest novelty from London—not Paris—is a lady's handbag equipped interiorly with an electric light. Just as if it was necessary for a woman to need a light to empty her purse! Nevertheless, the novelty handbag is about the cutest thing to arrive this season from the other side. One that was a gift to a young matron was the sensation of a section of the lower floor in a theater, Raymond G. Carroll recently wrote from New York to the Philadelphia Ledger. She opened the handbag, a function which automatically flooded the inside of the bag with light from a tiny electric bulb, located about half an inch below the clasp, and fed from a miniature storage battery covered with oil skin, fastened at the bottom of the bag.

THE FUME NUISANCE

Here is a question for every resident of this borough to ask himself or herself: Has any individual or group of individuals, firm or corporation, the right to poison the air we breathe?

It is a question that officials of this borough, members of the Borough Council and members of the Board of Health, should ask themselves in another form, such as the following: Have we, as trusted representatives of the people of this borough, placed in office in full confidence that we will do our duty to the best of our ability—Have we, in view of these facts, the right to permit any individual, group of individuals, firm or corporation, to poison the air people breathe?

Various half-hearted efforts have been made to better living conditions in the borough, to make the place more inviting as a place to live in. But it seems that all of these attempts have been directed at things of only secondary importance. There was the protest about the character of workers brought to a plant here from another plant belonging to the same firm; there was the fight against the tanks of the Mexican Petroleum Corporation. These campaigns were and are worthy in their way. But here is a point to keep in mind. The handful of colored men that came here did no harm to anyone. They minded their own business and lived their own lives apart from the rest of the community. If it had not been for publicity given the incident many in the borough would never have known they were here. In regard to the oil tanks they may be unsightly and may be even dangerous if they are filled with explosive oil in the future BUT THEY ARE NOT HERE YET.

The poisons and smells caused by some of the local plants ARE HERE and will be here, until the people of Roosevelt and the officials of Roosevelt get together and put a stop to them. They have been here and there is not a man, woman or child in the town that does not know they are the real reason why Roosevelt doesn't make more progress. There is not a man, woman or child, or official, in Roosevelt that does not know that this borough will not make real progress as a residential town until it has at least pure air.

Physicians are continually ordering people to move away TO SAVE THEIR LUNGS from the fumes and their NERVES FROM THE STENCH. There is tuberculosis here in a large percentage compared to the population. And yet Roosevelt is on the coast of a sound leading to the ocean. Under ordinary conditions and left to nature and Nature's God, it might be a health resort.

Can the condition be remedied? It can; just as soon as all the people or a sufficiently large number of them make up their minds that it should be done. The chemists who have knowledge enough to make the smells and fumes also have knowledge enough to plan a way to neutralize them. It will cost the firms concerned a few dollars but it will come back to them in dividends of better and more labor.

This is an industrial town and the big manufacturing plants here are the backbone of the community. Without them or others like them there would be no town. The manufacturing plants are entitled to every consideration and aid, but they are not entitled to any right to make living conditions unendurable. In the war fever we denounced the Germans for poisoning water. Water is no more essential—in fact not so essential to life—as air. We can get along for a time at least without water; if it contains germs, we can boil it and kill them. But air we must have at all times constantly sleeping or waking.

Unquestionably the plants responsible for this condition do not desire to work a hardship on any one. The matter has never been pushed, never been presented in the right light. Business concerns are in business to make money. That is what business means—service for money. Business firms naturally will not spend money unless they have to spend it. Such a course would be "Poor Business." The plants that are maintaining these nuisances and menaces to health can and will stop them if the people demand it.

Other towns have met with such problems and have solved them. It took team work upon the part of the people and the officials. The officials of Roosevelt have done creditable work in other fights. They are ready to do their part whenever the people put it up to them. It is up to the people, the business men, the property owners, the whole town—and it needs immediate attention.

Chemical Knowledge Spreads. More and more it is coming to be taken for granted that the chemical elements are made up of identically the same stuff, and that they differ only in their structural arrangements. More and more the passage from one element to another which has so dumbfounded science when it was first observed taking place spontaneously is coming to be a matter of course and something which we may ultimately hope to control.

General Grant's Boyhood.
Ulysses Grant was what was called in the neighborhood of Georgetown, O., where he lived from his second year until he was sent to West Point academy, "a horsey boy." He liked horses—liked to ride and drive them and to work with them. A horsey boy was not expected to take kindly to books, and Ulysses was behind most of the boys of his age in the school at Georgetown, except only in arithmetic. Teachers at that time gave their pupils mental arithmetic before they took up the written work, and in doing the problems given the classes in mental arithmetic young Grant proved a star.

Light and Dark of Moon.
The dark of the moon is that part of the lunar month when the moon is not visible. These are popular expressions and are not susceptible of precise definition.

IN NEW FALL CLOTHES; SCHOOL CLOTHES ARE NEXT

FEW of us know how much or how little the French dictate to us in matters of style, and it must be conceded that still fewer of us care. Nevertheless every woman likes to take a first-hand peek at French garments when she may, and to judge for herself whether they are superlatives in their class or no. Experienced costumers are willing to take their cue in establishing new styles, from the French—perhaps because it is the is busy considering wherewithal she shall be clothed. As these delightful young people are apt to have more imagination than plain judgment in making selections, their elders find it necessary to choose the mainstays of their wardrobes for them before they go away. Their suits, wraps, dresses for school wear and underclothes are all mainly assembled when the time comes to leave home. Less essential things are sent after them, or they easiest way. Many contend that no other people are so ingenious and painstaking, so daring and successful, especially in the management of color. Here are two little French maids all dressed up in smart clothes for a promenade, and they are obligingly getting their pictures made for the edification of their good friends, the Americans. The older little lady has on a dress of maroon broadcloth, quite plain, but the interesting point of her apparel is the short jacket with turban and scarf to match of a fur-fabric that looks like chinchilla. It is a simple little garment that sets loosely on the figure and is fastened at the front with silk ornaments. The sleeves and scarf are bound with ribbon to match, and the coat is to be imagined are allowed to do some shopping themselves. The young girl has all the best of it in the lines of ready-to-wear clothes, more especially in dresses that are manufactured for her benefit. Designers revel in the opportunity to introduce their sprightly and piquant fancies into frocks, wraps, suits and hats that interpret lovely youth. There is plenty of variety in coat styles, even within limitations set by lines and details appropriate to youth. The full, straight body of the usual utility coat and the bloused Russian type are both diversified by the management of sleeves, which are notable for variety of design. Embroidery of heavy silk floss, stitchings, braids, frills and ornamental buttons contribute to

The smaller girl wears a coat of broadcloth lined with crepe de chine and a piquant cap of the crepe faced with broadcloth like that in the coat. The collar is an ample affair and so are the sleeves with turned-back cuffs of the crepe decorated with a double row of embroidered dots. The amusing little cap is distinctly French.

KEEP BLOUSE FRESH

The blouse season has arrived and with it comes the care that the particular girl should give to her toilette. A fresh blouse always looks smart, but when it is muscled it cannot help but make the most attractive girl look careless. After one wearing the blouse is not soiled, but its freshness is marred and it need not be laundered if one will take the trouble to air it well before an open window and devote a few moments to pressing it.

Baby's Carriage.
To do over an old baby carriage or stroller, remove the upholstery and scrub thoroughly with a strong solution of washing powder and ammonia. Let dry well and then apply a good coating of prepared enamel (dark blue or gray being the best for most). Paint the wheels black if preferred. Take a pattern from the old upholstery and recover with poplin of the shade of the carriage. Tack in place with brass tacks, the heads of which have been painted the color of the body.

RAW FOODS

The raw-food enthusiasts make some remarkable statements in regard to the value of raw foods. They claim that all diseases of man have their beginnings in waste matter accumulated in the body.

They also tell us that fatigue is caused only by poison instilled into the blood by improper food, and that no one can possibly feel fatigued, however hard he or she may be worked, unless that poison is there. One becomes sleepy, but fatigue and sleepiness are quite foreign to each other. With proper food, the muscles may be worked indefinitely and yet not realize any sense of fatigue or stiffness.

Honore Fletcher, at the age of sixty-seven, is said to have outclassed the finest trained college athletes, who became fatigued and whose muscles grew lame; yet he sensed no fatigue, lameness or stiffness though he submitted himself to a longer and harder strain than the students against whom he competed.

This all sounds interesting and is easy enough for anybody to put to the test.

Another good salad is cold cooked cauliflower placed on lettuce with small strips of pimientos to add to its appearance. Serve with French or mayonnaise dressing.

A main dish is prepared as follows: Equal parts of chopped green peas and sweet corn pressed from the kernels, chopped raisins and dates mixed with honey and olive oil, pressed into cups to mold and then served with a rich sweet cream sauce, made with cream, honey, maple syrup and nut meal made from Brazil nuts.

By this time the novice is well satisfied, for it takes far less raw food to satisfy the appetite than cooked food.

These foods are easy to prepare, easy to obtain, and economical when compared with the average diet. One can live anywhere in the world on such fare, and it is at least worth giving a fair trial. A month or two would show a vast saving of time in food preparation and the advocates of the diet promise much more perfect health.

In the world that lies before you
There is much for you to win;
But beforehand you must conquer
Foes without and foes within.
And if now your tasks can rout you,
Then when life's real battles call,
Will you, in their heat and struggle,
Victor stand, or vanquished fall?

IF YOU HAVE HONEY

Honey eaten in its natural state is so healthful that any, who can, should keep a hive of bees to provide this delectable sweet. Cakes, cookies and other such foods retain their freshness much longer when honey is used for the sweetening.

Honey Tea-Cake.—Take one cupful of honey, one-half cupful of sour cream, two eggs, one-half cupful of butter, two cupfuls of flour, scant one-half teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven.

Soft Honey-Cake.—Put a teaspoonful of soda in a measuring cup, add five tablespoonfuls of hot water to the soda, then fill the cup with extracted honey. Take one-half cupful of softened butter and one egg; eat well, add two cupfuls of flour and a teaspoonful of ginger, stir all together and bake in a slow oven.

Crackerjack.—Take one cupful each of brown sugar and extracted honey, boil until it hardens in cold water. Remove from the stove and stir in one-half teaspoonful of soda; add all the popcorn it will take, with a handful of shelled peanuts. Press into a greased dripping pan and mark in squares.

Potato Cake.—Take two cupfuls of mashed potato, one cupful of sugar, one cupful of honey, one cupful of butter, one cupful of sour milk, four eggs, two teaspoonfuls of soda, one-quarter of a cupful of grated chocolate, one teaspoonful each of nutmeg and cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of cloves, two cupfuls of flour, one cupful of chopped nuts and two cupfuls of raisins. Beat the butter, sugar and honey to a cream, add the beaten eggs, then the chocolate, milk, soda, flour, mashed potato, spices, nuts and raisins. Turn into a well-greased and floured tin and bake in a moderate oven.

Honey Ginger Snaps.—Take one pint of honey, three-fourths of a pound of butter, two teaspoonfuls of ginger; boil together for five minutes, then cool; when nearly cold add flour to make a stiff mixture, roll very thin and bake quickly.

The Red Poppy Fields.

According to the history of European wars, it has been found that the red poppy grows in fields where blood has been shed. They flourish in England, Belgium and France.

JAKE DAUBERT TELLS OF EARLY CAREER ON SHAMOKIN BALL TEAM

Jake Daubert, two years batting leader of the National league, and now starring for the Cincinnati Reds, recalls an incident that happened the first year he broke into baseball. Born at Shamokin, Pa., he worked in the coal mines, and finally got a chance to play with the Pottstown (Pa.) club in the state league. This was during the 1902 strike.

He had a trial and fanned ten Shamokin batters the first game, being a pitcher in those days. He was but sixteen years of age.

Was Recognized.

"A few days later the Shamokin and Pottstown Elks got up a game, and there was great rivalry," says Jake. "I was supposed to pitch the battle for Shamokin, and took 'Tickets' Daywalt, my catcher, along with me. As I warmed up in Elkwood park, Pottstown, the home Elks recognized me, and protested on the grounds that I was a pro because of that one game I had pitched for them.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," I said. "Let Tickets pitch and I'll catch." They agreed to this. I had caught a little as a kid.

"Well, to make a long story short, they had us beaten 12 to 7 at the start of the ninth. Their pitcher was overconfident and a combination of two walks and two hits scored four runs for us. This made it 12 to 11 against us with two out and a man on first.

Over the Fence.

"I came to bat. Our manager told me if I ever did anything to hit that ball. 'Do it now if you care for us,' he insisted.

"I let the first one go by, and the second was right over. I socked it over the center field fence into the deer yard for a homer. That made it 13 to 12 in our favor, and we held them safe that half of the round.

MAKES TWO THOUSAND HITS

Zach Wheat of Brooklyn Dodgers Out to Surpass Record Made by Honus Wagner.

Fourteen years ago Zach Wheat, bought by the Brooklyn Baseball club from the Mobile club of the Southern league, made his first major hit at the Polo Grounds off Otis Crandall. At the same grounds in the series with the Giants which recently he got his 2,000th safety. In fact Zach reached the 2,000th mark with two hits, one a double and the other a home run off Phil Douglas. The Brooklyn outfielder is the only player in the National league to be credited with a grand total of 2,000 hits. This is due to the lack of veterans in the present major league body. Wheat says he is on the way to surpass the record of 3,432 safe drives made by Honus Wagner in the latter's major league career of twenty-one years.

AROUND THE DIAMOND

Cy Perkins is rightly rated as a pretty smart catcher.

San Francisco is leading Vernon a merry chase for the leadership in the Pacific Coast league.

Adolph Schinkel, who was with Salt Lake as a pitcher for awhile, has drifted to Sacramento.

Why pick on Ruth all the time for his sins? There are stars who have been put out of the game oftener than he.

Jake Daubert says his great hitting this season is due to a "fat" bat, patterned after the brand Heinie Groh uses.

About the best looking pitching bet in the Western association these days, on performance, is McBee, who is with McAlester.

Denver Grigsby, outfielder of the Sappula team of the Southwestern league, has been sold to the Chicago Cubs for $2,000.

The biggest man on the Detroit squad at present is a collegian named Wells, a southpaw pitcher. He stands six feet two and weighs 210.

Meyers, a pitching recruit from the University of Texas, signed by the Cleveland club, has been turned over to the Bloomington Three-I club for development.

HUMOR OF MORIARTY

There are some people who insist that umpires are not human, have no sense of humor.

The following bit of repartee is offered in rebuttal of such a belief.

During a recent series in St. Louis a friend of Umpire George Moriarty invited him down to the Missouri Athletic club to enjoy a swim.

Now it so happens that Moriarty, despite the fact that he is an all-around athlete, is unable to swim.

After thanking his friend for the kind invitation and expressing his regrets at being unable to accept because of a previous engagement, he remarked:

"Perhaps it is just as well, because I swim like paralysis." "How is that?" asked the much-puzzled friend. "One stroke and I'm through," answered Moriarty.

CALLS BASEBALL TOO DEAD

Boss of Seattle Club Complains About New Rubber-Center Spheres Adopted This Year.

Walter McCree, manager of the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league, is the first manager to complain about the new rubber-center baseballs, which have been adopted for this year. Last year the league used a ball with a cork center, but this was thrown out as being too lively. "These balls are not exactly fitted for our purpose," McCree said. "Maybe we haven't the best grade of ball, or maybe the skinned diamond is to blame. The balls seem to be dead."

Sisler Leads Them All.

George Sisler's 257 hits in 1920 stands easily as the greatest batting feat of modern times, unless one is inclined to consider Babe Ruth's 59 home runs slightly better.

JOHNNY WEISSMULLER IS SWIMMING MARVEL

Places Several World's Records Upon the Books.

Possesses Remarkable Ability to Propel Himself Through Water—No Distance is Too Short and None Too Long.

A little more than a year ago, a member entered the Michigan avenue home of the Illinois Athletic club with a slender sixteen-year-old youth who had ambitions to become affiliated with the Chicago organization which was famous for its record-breaking swimming teams. The boy knew that he could swim. He had read about the great tri-color swimmers, Perry McGillivray, Norman Ross, Heber, Vosburgh and others and he wanted to cast his lot with them. The member, however, was skeptical of the youngster's chances of gaining a place against the galaxy of stars already in the I. A. C. fold. But after listening to the boy's appeal for more than a month, he finally promised to introduce him to Coach Bachrach, the tri-color trainer of watermen.

Finally one day the boy's persistence was rewarded and he was taken over to the I. A. C. pool and brought before Coach Bachrach.

"Here's a fellow who thinks he can swim," was the member's half-hearted explanation for taking up the coach's time with an unknown youngster.

Slipping into the pool, the boy traveled through the water with a crude stroke but one that showed unusual power. Immediately Coach Bachrach realized that he had what is known in sporting parlance as a "find."

Today the boy, Johnny Weissmuller, is the greatest swimmer of the present age, undoubtedly the greatest swimmer of all time. The boy has placed several new world's records upon the books and his uncanny speed through the water is to a large measure responsible for the four world's marks which the Illinois Athletic club relay teams have created. So remarkable is his ability to propel himself through the water that almost every time he plunges headlong an old record passes into oblivion. For it has come to pass that Weissmuller seldom tries for a new world's mark without attaining his end. No distance is too short; none too long to be safe from his watermanship.

CLEVER GOLFERS RARE

Strange as it may see, there are few golfers who really master the short game. There are many players who drive a fine ball, but when it comes to recovery shots and to the little trick shots around the green, they are totally at sea. Men with high handicaps have little idea as to how to get out of trouble, although they are called on for such shots every time they play and the first thing they should learn is how to get out of them in the lowest possible strokes.

Sporting Squibs of All Kinds

Williams college will add soccer to its varsity sports next fall.

He who golfs for exercise should not fear being muscle-bound.

Dartmouth will start football practice the first week in September.

New Orleans American Legion plans a track meet for the early fall.

Tennis is much better international sport than bombing and bayoneting.

Golf is a simple game to anyone who can read a Chinese laundry check.

Winning the western amateur golf championship must be fatiguing for Chick Evans.

William M. Johnston, former National tennis champion, will compete in five tournaments in the East this year.

A golf player who makes a seven-foot putt feels as important as the baseball player who smacks one to center with second and third occupied.

Georges Carpentier would rather whip Joe Beckett for a handful of shillings than mingle with Harry Greb for $150,000. And who can blame him?

Wildwood, N. J., is having built a modern stadium which will occupy two blocks and will be located near the ocean. It will afford playground and all athletic conveniences.

POULTRY

CULLING FOWLS FOR MARKET
To Make Best Possible Returns Every Hen in Flock Should Be Layer—Weed Out Culls.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Every boy or girl having poultry naturally wishes to earn as much money as possible. To do this every hen should be a good layer. All cockerels, except those kept for breeding purposes, as well as pullets that lack vigor and vitality, should be eaten, canned for home use, or sold as soon as they are large enough, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Selecting or "weeding out" the hens that are poor layers and picking out for market the cockerels least likely to develop into good breeders is commonly called "culling" or culling for eggs and for market.

The best time to cull the hens is during August and September, usually from August 15 to September 15, for at that season it is easier to determine which are the good layers and which are boarders. At that time of year hens which show signs of laying or are laying are not molted usually are the best layers during the entire season, and the hen that lays best during her first year usually will lay best during her second and third years. She is, therefore, the one to keep. It is not often advisable, however, to keep hens of the heavier breeds, such as Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Brahmans beyond their second year, or the smaller breeds, such as the Leghorns and Anconas beyond the third year, as they seldom prove profitable. You can learn all about the various tests necessary to pick out the good and the poor layers by reading Farmers' Bulletin 1112, which can be obtained by writing to the Division of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

PORTABLE HOUSES ARE BEST

Make It Possible to Keep Young Growing Fowls on Fresh, Uncontaminated Land.

On a recent visit to a large practical poultry farm, it was observed that good use was being made of a number of portable poultry houses. These were of good size and were on runners made of heavy joists. The runners were braced against each other, so that a horse could be hitched to the front and the house hauled anywhere. This made it possible to keep the young growing birds on fresh, uncontaminated soil, which was always sending up a good lot of fresh grass. When the movable houses were pulled away from each place where they had been for a few weeks, the rains soon washed the droppings into the soil. This nourished the grass and improved the land. In no case was the sod eaten down till the ground was bare.

For small chicks the same plant used small coops on two wheels that could easily be pushed from place to place by hand. In this way they never were troubled with gaps or contaminated soil.

SEPARATE MALES FROM HENS

If Cockerels Are Wanted for Breeding It Is Well to Keep Them in Pens by Themselves.

After the breeding season the males should be separated, from the females. If the male birds are good ones, they should be penned up separately, and if they are just mediocre it will not pay to feed and keep them over till the next breeding season.

POULTRY NOTES

Look out for lice when your chickens look droopy and sleepy.

An incubator often gets lots of blame that should be attached to the operator. When a machine is operated wrong the batches will go wrong.

Put the coops for your little chickens as high in the yard as possible. A knoll covered with grass is preferable; then a sudden shower will not drown them.

Small chicks do not do well without plenty of green food from the start. It is surprising the large amount of green food poultry of all ages consume.

Geese will probably do the best near a body of water, as the location will bring much feed that the geese relish. Waste land will be useful for a large flock.

Rene Viviani Wins a Personal Triumph

Rene Viviani, former premier of France, is a socialist. During the last hours of peace before the World war, he ordered the withdrawal of the French army by ten miles from the frontier. For that he has been criticized severely and his action has been more or less of a cloud on his recent political life.

This withdrawal order brought about a sensational scene in the French chamber the other day. A debate was on, provoked by the persistent Communist campaign of calumny against Premier Poincare for alleged responsibility for bringing on the war. Viviani suddenly appeared on the left side of the chamber, where he has rarely been seen for several months.

"If any Frenchman was responsible for what happened in 1914, it was I," he cried. "At the moment of the outbreak of the war I was the responsible head of the government. Explanations should be demanded from me, not from M. Poincare. I gave the order to mobilize. I ordered the withdrawal, so as to avoid any chance of conflict as long as possible."

An outburst of patriotic enthusiasm followed. Poincare rushed up to Viviani and kissed him on both cheeks. Deputies embraced them both. Viviani's address had convinced the chamber that it was not France that willed the war.

Hooper of the Railroad Labor Board

Here is a new photograph of Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States Railroad Labor Board, who has been prominent in the railroad labor troubles. In addition to the public group of three members there are the labor and management groups of three members each.

A section of the railroad act passed by the Sixty-sixth congress provides for this board, the members of which are appointed by the president, with the advice and consent of the senate. The three groups named above represent respectively the public, the employees and subordinate officials of the carriers, and the carriers.

The law provides, in brief, that the labor board, under certain conditions, shall hear any dispute involving grievances, rules or working conditions. All decisions of the labor board shall establish rates of wages and salaries and standards of working conditions which in the opinion of the board are just and reasonable. The labor board determines whether any body under its jurisdiction has violated its decision and makes public its finding.

Six Women Candidates Are for Peace

World peace is the first plank in the platform of six women candidates for congress, all of whom are prepared with definite legislative proposals for achieving that end, according to a statement issued by the National Council for Reduction of Armaments.

There is, for example, Mrs. Izetta Jewell Brown (portrait herewith) who is a Democratic candidate for the seat of Senator Howard Sutherland, Republican, of West Virginia. She is for permanent peace—if congressional legislation can accomplish it.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck of Illinois, daughter of the late Representative William E. Mason, who is a Republican candidate for the house, advocates an amendment to the Constitution making the declaration of war impossible except by direct vote of the people.

"The one great thing in the world to me is permanent peace, and I shall work for it wherever I am," she said.

Equally decided sentiments are expressed by Miss Belle Kearney of Mississippi, who is a candidate to succeed Senator John Sharp Williams.

Mrs. Lella Scott Edmondson of Alabama, Democratic candidate for the house of representatives, has a platform along these lines.

Wilkerson Successor to Judge Landis

Do you remember the famous Standard Oil rebating cases in which Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis announced a fine of $25,000,000? Well, the Assistant United States district attorney who prosecuted those cases was James H. Wilkerson, who has now been appointed federal judge of the Northern District of Illinois to succeed Judge Landis.

The appointment, it is reported, was urged by both Illinois senators, McCormick and McKinley, and by the Illinois Bar association. The appointment was distinctly satisfactory to the Brundage-Dineen-Crowe faction—the so-called regular Republican organization of Chicago. Objection to the appointment, it is said, was made to the President by the Small-Chicago city hall faction.

Judge Wilkerson was born December 11, 1869, in Savannah, Mo. He is a graduate of De Pauw university and began the practice of law in Chicago. He has long been before the public as county attorney and district attorney.

Harrison of Mississippi Is Only Forty-one

Here is a new and good portrait of Pat (Byron Patton) Harrison, the junior senator from Mississippi. He is only forty-one—which makes him one of the youngest members of the senate. Incidentally, his colleague, Senator John Sharp Williams, is sixty-eight. Senator Harrison has already made his mark on the floor of the senate. He's a bit of an orator and he has shown that he can hold his own in rough-and-ready, give-and-take debate. He seems to be a versatile sort of fellow with a way about him that gets him around without much difficulty. One minute he is lambasting the administration with all the fire and ingenuity of a southern Democrat. The next he is taking a Confederate veteran, clad in the gray, to the White House for presentation to President Harding.

Senator Harrison was born in Mississippi. He taught school and studied law and was admitted to the bar. After serving as district attorney for six years he was elected to the house in 1912.

Senorita Graciela Mandujano of Chile Asks A Big Question

SEÑORITA GRACIELA MANDUJANO

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

WHO ARE the twelve greatest living American women? This embarrassing question is asked of the National League of Women Voters by Senorita Graciela Mandujano of Chile. The Chilean woman was a delegate to the Pan-American Conference of Women recently held at Baltimore in connection with a convention of the National League of Women Voters. She is a writer and she wants to write up the twelve for home publications. The question is indeed embarrassing. There is, for one thing, an embarrassment of riches. If there were only twelve women in the United States worthy of being named in answer to the question, all would be well. But the United States has so many great women—to say nothing of the famous ones!

It's also embarrassing to the National League of Women Voters, for the reason that to answer it the league must perforce name at least one of its own members.

And it's embarrassing to anyone asked to draw up a list—there are so many views to be considered. For example, from one viewpoint one would naturally name the "First Lady of the Land"—Mrs. Warren G. Harding—and from another Mary Pickford or Mary Garden or Geraldine Farrar or Mary Roberts Rinehart or Ida M. Tarbell or Edith Wharton.

Again, one might name Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont or Alice Paul of the National Woman's party or Mrs. Maud Wood Park of the National League of Women Voters; it depends upon whether one is or is not militant in the matter of women suffrage.

Again, if the list is to be made up of women who have won distinction in their respective fields of endeavor there is the difficulty that some of the names are not widely known. Such a list would be scorned by people who think only of popularity and notoriety and publicity.

WIPE OUT THE SAVAGE ASSASSINS

"Human Leopards," Liberian Secret Organization, Practically Exterminated by Government Officials.

The Rev. Walter H. Overs, Episcopal bishop of Liberia, who has returned to the United States on leave of absence, brings word that the secret organization of native assassins known as the "Human Leopards," which he discovered several years ago while exploring the hinterland of Liberia, has been practically exterminated by government officials. This was a society which did a thriving business in exterminating those who for any reason incurred its displeasure. "It is a member of the Leopards wanted his enemy put out of the way," said the bishop. "He laid the matter before a meeting of the organization and lots were drawn to pick the man for the job. This man then donned a headpiece made from the head and shoulders of a leopard with steel claws adjusted to his hands, and went forth and lurked near the accustomed haunts of his victim until he appeared and was dispatched. As a sign that the murder was the work of the Leopards the scalp or a few fingers of the victim were left on the spot where the assassination occurred. The body was carried off into the jungle where it was usually eaten amid weird cannibalistic rites.

Bishop Overs, who because of his explorations in the Liberian back country and the surrounding region of southwest Africa was recently made a Fellow of the Royal Geographical society of London, is on extended leave of absence in the United States. —Detroit News.

THE INS AND OUTS OF IT

Small Rebecca was proud of her father's rank as a first lieutenant, and grew quite indignant when a neighbor boy called him "Captain."
"I'll have you understand that my daddy is not a captain," she said, "he is a lieutenant."
"Oh, it doesn't matter," replied the boy, "he's an officer."
"He is not an officer," she protested. "Yes, dear, a lieutenant is an officer," interrupted her mother.
"Well," persisted Rebecca, still determined to maintain her father's dignity at all cost, "he's not much of an officer, anyway."

MAKING A DAY OF IT

Bird Sport—Go on home Owley, old boy, you don't want to make a day of it.

Furrowed with Care. She follows each new wrinkle This fashionable fray, That's why her hubby's such a lot Of wrinkles in his brow.

A CLASH OF WITS

An Irish joker entered a shop and asked for a yard of milk. The shopkeeper was ready for him; he dipped his finger in the measure and drew a line of milk three feet long on the counter. "There ye are," he said. Pat was rather taken aback at this, but recovering from his surprise he asked, "How much is it?"

"Eight pence," said the shopkeeper. "All right," said Pat cheerfully. "Roll it up an' O'll take it."

Educational.

"Did you get a chance to talk with Francine before she eloped with Speck?" asked Heloise of the rapid-fire restaurant.

"Ye-ah!" replied Claudine of the same establishment. "She said folks call him no good, but she didn't know any reason why she shouldn't marry him if she wanted to."

"Well, she's taken the short way to find out, I'll say."

Oh! You Woman!

He—That sparrow you're wearing on your new hat is certainly not to my taste.

She—I know it. According to your taste it should have been a goose with sauerkraut.

Paradoxical State of Affairs.

Casey—"Hav yez sthruck a job yet, Molke?"

Finnegan—"Shure O've not. They all want local rferences. A felly can't get a job in this burly till he's worked here for a while."

Real Cave-Man.

"I was mad with George last night," said a girl of her sweetheart.

"Yes," said the ill-natured brother, "I noticed when I looked in the parlor that you were up in arms."

VERY SLOW

Miss Wrist Watch: Mr. Waterbury you are entirely too slow to suit me.

Bam!

My bonnie leaned over the gas tank. The height of its contents to see. And lighted a match to assist him, Oh, bring back my bonnie to me.

Mixed Tenses.

"John, you've promised and promised to get me a runabout."

"I will, my dear, one of these days."

"Humph! Your present is always in the future."

Her Favorite Feat.

Yardley—Did your wife go in for athletics when she was at college?

Yearwedd—I believe she held the record for jumping at conclusions.

A Careful Wife.

"And her mean husband thinks she's extravagant!"

"Why?"

"Just because she insists on having Fido's monogram stamped on his dog biscuits!" —Literary Digest.

Yea, Bo!

The visitor had just fozzled and mashed a hole in the turf, which flew over his head in a cloud.

"I see," said the broker. "there is a change in the market. Real estate shows a decided upward tendency!"

Wiser.

Burrows—Sorry, old chap, but I am looking for a little financial sucker, again.

Bangs—You'll have to hunt further. I'm not the little financial sucker I used to be.—The Lawyer and Banker.

Proof of Devotion.

"Tom proposed to me last night."

"Did you accept, him?"

"Of course I did. Any man who would propose these times when the cost of living is so high must love a girl a lot."

FARM AND HOME FACTS

The man who supports nothing but paying hens is busy now at culling his flock.

Peach tree borers no longer baffle the up-to-date farmer. Ask your County Agent.

Some farmers buy all their nitrogen, others get a large part of it free. They cover crop with legumes.

A fly-spray can make milking a peaceful occupation and if Bossy eats her grain contentedly she's more likely to keep up good summer production.

Bag-worms are on a state wide rampage. You'll know them by their little bags of silk and bits of leaves. Arsenate of lead in dust or spray is their poison.

If you're going to get rid of peach tree borers this fall, now's the time to figure out your P-C-benzene order and find the dealer who can supply you.

Growing pullets thrive on sour buttermilk and other milk products. Considering the returns, they are cheap feed.

Mowing the weeds along the road before they go to seed keeps them from seeding the adjoining fields. It also destroys the favorite hiding place of insects and diseases.

soon as the onions are pulled they should be thoroughly dried and stored in a place that is free from moisture and has a more or less even temperature. Spread them out in a thin layer so that they may dry thoroughly and keep them as dry as possible.

Unless spraying is practiced by the celery growers this year there will be very little celery for market or home use. Practically every field in the state is badly affected with celery blight. This disease may be prevented by spraying with Bordeaux mixture containing 5 pounds of copper sulfate, 6 pounds of stone lime, slaked and 50 gallons of water. Remember, spraying is a preventive, and not a cure.

Turnips, Spinach and Beans for Fall August 10 is not too late to sow turnips, spinach or beans for a fall crop. The turnips may be stored for the winter, the beans may be either canned or pickled, and the spinach, if sown in succession and mulched as cold weather comes on will supply the home table throughout the winter.

"The fact should be impressed upon the public mind that every service that is performed by the government which comes home to the daily life of the people is necessarily eliminated from political control because the people demand such efficient service that only experts free from the power of politicians can render the service. This tendency grows with the increase of intelligence. In so far as government business does not touch the daily life of the people it tends to go into obscure traffic channels and management and it is often subject to graft."

Excessive Moisture Influences Quality

Tomatoes, sweet corn, fuskmelons, cucumbers, and many other of your garden crops being picked now frequently lack taste and quality. This is due entirely to wet weather especially where the plants are on the decline, as in the case of muskmelons affected with blight.
