CARTERET HARD HIT BY STORM

and Police Wires Broken Street Cleaning Department Busy.

Carteret felt the full force of the Tuesday night and although no property damage has been reported, telegraph and electric wires were forced down. In many places the heavy snow were broken and are lying on the ground. Radio aerials were sundered and many are seen hanging from their fastenings, where they were broken off from the weight of the snow.

The street cleaning apparatus was set to work by Street Commissioner Walling early Tuesday night. Every effort was made to keep the main roads clear for traffic and Commissioner Walling directed a force of men to accomplish this. On Wednesday considerable work was done and much headway was seen in clearing the streets from the snow.

As soon as word of the smallpox case was discovered Health Officer Dr. Joseph Wantoch and Health Inspector Frank Born went to those who came in contact with the negro and vaccinated about sixty-eight persons.

lau In Attendance.

Government representatives of Carteret and Perth Amboy met in the Perth Amboy City Hall Tuesday for the purpose of taking final action upon the establishment of a uniform ordinance covering the activities of busses in the borough, Woodbridge and Perth Amboy. Owing to the fact however that the officials of Woodbridge Township were not present the gathering agreed upon to meet again April 10, when the bus problem will be discussed fully.

Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill, Councilman Frank Andres and Borough Attorney Emil Strelau represented the borough at the meeting. Alderman Kelly and City Attorney Dave T. Wilentz appeared for Perth Amboy. The meeting was delayed for almost an hour in hope that the Woodbridge Township officials would come. The storm however was given as the cause why their presence was impossible.

BORO DEMOCRATS PLAN LARGE CLUB

General Mass Meeting To Be Held Next Thursday Night—
350 Members Anticipated.

From present indications it appears that the Democrats of the borough are preparing to strengthen themselves into a unit for the welfare of its members and especially for the fall campaign.

It has been announced that a general mass meeting will be held next Tuesday evening, April 10, in 72 Roosevelt avenue (known as Max Engleson Building), for the purpose of organizing permanently.

At that time the charter will be ready for enrollment of all members and it is anticipated that over 350 members will be enrolled thereon. All those believing in Democratic principals are urged to attend on the opening night. Within all probability their headquarters will be established there permanently.

The feeling among the Democrats of the borough seems to be "to get together" and make a clean sweep next November, and with the backing of a strong organization added to individual effort upon the part of each and every member, their plans from present appearances could be carried out.

The executive committee elected at the last organization meeting met twice and are prepared to submit rules and regulations for the good and welfare of the club.

Dr. Seth Reed Claimed By Death

The death last week of Dr. Seth Reed, "the grand old man of Methodism," recalls the fact that he was an enthusiastic proponent of the motor car on his one-hundredth birthday, while fifty years before a "circuit rider" in Michigan. He celebrated his centennial last June by riding in an automobile made in his home town of Flint. On that occasion Doctor Reed pointed out the progress in transportation which he had noted during his active life.

NEW ORDINANCES FOR HEALTH BOARD

To Establish Board of Plumbing
Examiners—Examination for All Plumbers Will Be Held.

Three important ordinances will be adopted at their third and final readings, when the Board of Health convenes on Thursday next. Public hearings on these ordinances are also scheduled for that date. The first is an ordinance establishing a board of plumbing examiners of this borough, determining its duties and fixing the compensation of the members. The board will consist of one master plumber, one journeyman plumber, the Board of Health Inspector and two members of the Board of Health. Their term will be one year.

The second ordinance is to control the plumbing, ventilating or drainage within the borough limits. Before anyone will be able to undertake such jobs he will have to undergo the required examination and secure a license. The applicant will have to be a citizen of the United States, file a bond for $500, pay $10 for the examination and $20 for the permit. A third ordinance to be passed for adoption calls that no other than a registered master or employing plumber shall be engaged in that business. There are fines imposed upon the violation of these rules.

JERSEY CITIES ADOPT CHILD HEALTH WORK

More Than 150 New Jersey Communities Have Adopted Child-
Hygiene Program.

The Bureau of Child Hygiene of the State Department of Health, reports that more than one hundred and fifty New Jersey communities have already adopted the continuous child-hygiene program advocated by the State Department of Health. In these communities a child-hygiene nurse is assigned by the State Department to show the value of material care, infant welfare, and the hygiene of the school and pre-school child. The nurses are paid by the state for a period sufficiently long to show the value of the work, and after that time the community is expected to pay the nurse's salary.

Julius Levy, consultant of the Bureau of Child Hygiene, following communities have undertaken the expense of the child-hygiene work at the completion of the state's demonstration:

Hammonton which already was paying one nurse assumed the salary of a second; Bergenfield has assumed the salary of its nurse; The Leonia Board of Education has been paying its share of the salary of the nurse and this year the local Board of Health assumed its share of the salary; Wildwood, Wildwood Crest, and North Wildwood have joined to pay the salary of one nurse for the three communities; Woodbridge Township has assumed the salary of the nurse and provided an automobile, making the fourth nurse whose salary and transportation is furnished by that township; Morristown assumed the salary of one nurse, one nurse having been already paid by the town; Wharton has assumed the salary of one nurse; Roselle Park assumed the salary of one nurse and provided for the expenses incurred in her child-hygiene work, Phillipsburg assumed the full salary of one and the half salary of another nurse. It already had been paying one and one-half salaries; Oxford appropriated $300 towards the salary of the nurse. This was appropriated as an indication of Oxford's approval of the child-hygiene program as the town has been taxed to the utmost to provide for the new school to take the place of one which burned; Washington Township gave its share of the salary of the Child-Hygiene nurse, sharing the nurse with the Borough of Washington; the freeholders of Gloucester County have appropriated $5,000 to finance the salaries of three nurses and provide automobiles for four more, to be provided by the State Department of Health, in addition to the three already being paid locally, which will cover Gloucester County. In addition to this, Pitman has appropriated money for a child-hygiene nurse.

Gazer Vess Found Dead in Bed
By His Landlady Wednesday Morning.

HAS WIFE AND FAMILY IN EUROPE

For Several Years Employed At
Plant of U. S. Metals &
Refining Company.

Heart failure is given as the cause of the death of Gazer Vess, also known as Jevick, forty-five years old, of 43 Larch street, whose lifeless body was found Wednesday morning by his boarding lady, Mrs. Helen Toth. The woman told the police that Vess, who was employed by the U. S. Metals & Refining Company, came home at the usual time from work and ate a hearty meal. He retired at about 9:30 o'clock.

Early this morning, when he failed to get up in time to go to work, Mrs. Toth neared his bed and found the man had died some time during the night. Vess' wife and three children are in Europe. The body was removed to the morgue of Mitchell & Lyman where it was viewed by Coroner Hay who gave the burial permission.

A birthday party was given in honor of Eugene F. McGrath on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schuck, 630 Roosevelt avenue.

Singing was the main feature of the evening. Different games were played, in which Clinton Misdow was the lucky winner of a 14k gold ring, and also winner of the donkey game. Marie Schuck won the ladies' prize. Refreshments were served and the guests departed shortly after midnight, wishing Eugene many happy returns for future years.

The guests included the Misses Elsie Schuck, Alice Geromonas, James McGrath, Clinton Misdow, Eugene McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schuck, Mrs. G. Schuck, Mrs. John Ruegg and Mrs. McGrath.

To Prepare Plans for Memorial Celebration

The Roosevelt Post No. 263, American Legion, will meet with committees from the various fraternal and civic organizations in the borough at the Chrome Fire House on Thursday, April 10. The Post Adjutant has communicated with a majority of these organizations and it is the desire of the Legion members that a large number will be represented. The purpose of the meeting is to formulate plans for the annual celebration of Memorial Day, which the Legionnaires hope to make the largest celebration in recent years.

Board of Education to Reorganize Monday

The Board of Education will hold its annual reorganization meeting on Monday night of next week, when the three successful candidates will take their seats as school commissioners. They are Theodore Bishop, who pulled the greatest number of votes at the election, Louis N. Bradford and William V. Coughlin. These men will succeed District Clerk George W. Morgan, Harry Morecraft and C. C. Sheridan.

There are indications that the future school board meetings will be of keen interest. It is reported that many women will attend these meetings.

Braving the storm Tuesday night fully one hundred and fifty persons turned out to attend the April meeting of the Carteret Parent-Teacher Association. The meeting was announced as "Fathers' Night," and there was a large percentage of men in the crowd that attended. Thirteen new members, the majority of them men, were added to the membership roll.

The program was largely musical and one of the best the association has presented. The musical program was preceded by a business session at which the association voted to become a part of the County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations. It is already a part of the State and National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations. The executive committee reported that preliminary steps had been taken to establish a playground with the co-operation of the Board of Education, and that a delegation had waited upon the board at a special meeting Friday night last. No further steps in regard to the playground will be taken until the reply of the board is made through its attorney. The president reported that with other officers she had attended the annual meeting of the Central Council of Officers at New Brunswick on March 18. This meeting was held in the Roosevelt Junior High and was attended by 167 delegates, representing Parent-Teacher Associations in the following counties: Middlesex, Monmouth, Mercer, Union, Somerset, Ocean and Hunterdon. The Carteret delegation at this council, although it is only four months old, reported a collection for the Child Welfare Fund far larger than was reported by any other associations in the group.

The next meeting will be held on May 6 and will be "Teachers' Night." The teachers will serve refreshments and will arrange a program for the meeting.

The musical program opened with a song, "My Tribute," by the entire assembly; there followed a patriotic selection "America," assembly accompanied by the Columbus Grammar School Orchestra; trio, "Melody in F," three boy violinists; chorus, "A Life on the Ocean Wave," by eighth grade pupils of Washington School; exhibition of girls dresses made by first year high school girls in domestic science department; selection "Barcarolle," by Washington Grammar School Orchestra; solo, "Love Send a Little Gift of Roses," by Miss Sepple, instructor of music in the schools of Carteret. Miss Sepple had to respond to three encores. Grand opera selection, Carteret High School Orchestra. The closing number was the Star Spangled Banner, sung by the entire assembly, accompanied by the High School Orchestra.

A social hour followed the musical program. During this session the men served the refreshments as part of the "Fathers' Night" program.

New Jersey Supreme Court, November Term, 1923. Alexander Wisniewski, Prosecutor, vs. The Mayor and Council of the Borough of Carteret, et als, Respondents. Submitted December 3, 1923. Decided March 12th, 1924.

On certiorari Before Justices Trenchard and Campbell. For prosecutor, Thomas Brown. For respondents, Emil Stremlau. Per Curiam:

This writ of certiorari was allowed to review the proceedings of the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Carteret (formerly Borough of Roosevelt) in the trial of charges against the Prosecutor, a member of the police force of said Borough, and his conviction thereunder and dismissal from the department.

The charges preferred against the Prosecutor were: Violation of Rule 9 of the General Rules of the Police Department of the Borough of Carteret as follows:

5:00 A. M., being his hours for duty on that day.

2. On April 15, 1923, he failed to report for duty from 5:00 P. M. to 1:00 A. M. being his hours for duty on that day.

3. On April 16, 1923 he failed to report for duty from 7:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M., being his hours for duty on that day.

And that said Prosecutor was not excused from duty on the aforesaid dates by the Chief of Police.

A trial under these charges was had on April 27, 1923, of which prosecutor had written notice under date of April 21, 1923, and appeared at the time and place fixed, admitted he had been served with a copy of the charges on April 21, 1923; pleaded guilty to the charges of March 29th, and April 15th and contended that as to the charge of April 16, 1923, he being sick his wife went to Police Headquarters for the purpose of so reporting him.

He was found guilty on all three charges and by resolution of the Borough Council adopted April 27, 1923, he was dismissed from the police force.

The Prosecutor assigns numerous reasons why these proceedings and the judgment of dismissal should be set aside, but in his brief confines himself to three and these are all we will deal with.

First—The Rules and Regulations governing the Police Department of the Borough of Carteret are invalid. The specific contention thereunder is that the Rules and Regulations must be prescribed by ordinance. We have no difficulty in so holding but the record sent up under this writ shows specific Rules and Regulations which appear to have been in existence in 1915. It is true that the ordinance sent up under the writ entitled "An ordinance to establish, equip and regulate a police department in the Borough of Roosevelt, to adopt rules for its government and fix and enforce penalties for the violation of said rules," adopted April 19, 1920, does not contain any Rules and Regulations, but it refers in Sections 4 and 10 thereto and the language of such sections, particularly Section 10 is sufficient to include any Rules and Regulations then in existence. The presumption is that the Rules and Regulations of 1915 were properly adopted and there is nothing before us to show anything to the contrary. Furthermore the undisputed evidence is that Prosecutor, at the time of his appointment, was furnished with a copy of such Rules and Regulations, and at the trial made no objection of any kind either as to the existence of the Rules or their adoption, and we think he should not be heard now, after admission of guilt, trial and conviction, to say that such Rules and Regulations were not valid enactments of the Borough.

Second—The Prosecutor was not afforded a fair trial under the Tenure of Office Act. We find nothing substantial in this objection but on the contrary feel that Prosecutor was afforded and had a fair trial.

Third—The evidence affords no rational basis for the judgment against the Prosecutor. Herein also we find nothing substantial but also decidedly to the contrary to find the evidence abundantly and overwhelmingly sufficient to justify the finding and judgment of dismissal.

The proceedings and judgment of the dismissal will be affirmed with costs.

At the Newark Theatres

Shubert's Theatre

Reviews are getting better and better. Take for instance, "The Passing Show." It's kind of entertainment that will make the suburbanites sit back comfortably and chuckle at the Shubert Theatre, Newark, this week.
That's the kind of show it is—the newest edition of the Winter Garden series. It's a long show and a late show—late in letting out and late in its takeoffs, travesties, jazz, jokes and satirical styles. It is a rich and replete show with a nice alternation of the comic, sentimental and pictorial, the arabesque, picturesque and burlesque, the vocal and terpsichorean. The colors are gorgeous but not gaudy or garish, and are applied with good taste. The jokes are sometimes a bit gaudy and very few, if any, of them are in questionable taste—simply tangled with allowable piquancy.
Ted Lewis, the high-hatted tragedian of jazz, offered some of his familiar and favorite material, supplemented with new stuff, including a screaming takeoff on mah jong. He with this year's "Passing Show." It might fittingly be called a show of purple and fine women. Beautitudes of beauty—a phrase no press agent has yet thought of—such is the description of what is called in the theatrical trade the "feminine contingent." They were good to look at, wholesome in demeanor and wore stunning and lovely gowns stunningly. The living curtain and the living chandelier, which might have been made objectionable, were developed into an artistic treat. There were other novelties, too, such as the trilling farce. And a splendid array of entertainers, George Jessel, George Hassell, Frank Gaby, William Pringle, Lew Cooper, Jack Hall, Hatie Darling, Frank Gaby, Beryl Mobis, Jack Rice, Libby and Sparrow, Trade Twins, Vestoff and a host of others.

Broad Street Theatre

A darling new play entitled "Cheaper to Marry" written by Samuel Shipman, the author of such phenomenal successes as "East Is West," "Friendly Enemies," and "Lawful Larceny" will be presented at the Broad Street Theatre, Newark, during the week beginning Monday, April 7, just prior to its production in New York.
The cast which will be seen in this play bristles with the names of distinguished players and would seem to be one of the strongest of the season. Robert Warwick, internationally famous as a motion picture star, and Allan Dinehart, one of the best light comedians on the American stage, will have the two principal male roles assisted by Berton Churchill, who recently created the title role in Drinkwater's "Robert E. Lee" and Horace Braham, Claiborne Foster, Florence Eldridge, Ruth Donnelly and Olga Lee will have the principal roles on the distaff side.
Striking and exquisite costumes, stage settings that are novel and attractive, a cast that is above the average in entertaining qualities and a chorus that works as if its members really enjoyed themselves are said to be some of the many fine points of "Youthful Follies" booked for the next week, Sunday matinee April 6, at Miner's Empire theatre, Newark, luring to the fair sex. The wholly competent cast is headed by Eddie Cone and includes Julia Gifford, Dolie Davis, Harry Morris, Myrtle Andrews, Harold Kennedy, Harvey Broogs, Nit and Tuck Mabel Gunther and Shorty De Witt. There are two big acts and ten scenes in the piece, usually pretentious in their staging.

Week of Sunday matinee April 13 "Bathing Beauties" will appear at this theatre.

STUDEBAKER WINS ARGENTINE RACE AGAINST TWENTY-FIVE CONTESTANTS

Hazardous Roads Force Out Twelve Entries in South America's Spectacular Motor-ing Event.

DE LA FUENTE'S FIRST YEAR IN STUDEBAKER

Special-Six Wins Annual South American Classic Against Big Field of American and European Racers.

Buenos Aires, March 3, 1924.—Pushing ahead of a field of twenty-five American and European contestants, a Studebaker Special-Six won, for the third consecutive year, the spectacular Gran Premio of Argentine, South America's foremost racing event.

Sr. Mariano de la Fuente drove the Studebaker to victory over a course twice the distance of former years and along roads in so hazardous condition that only thirteen of the twenty-five entries finished the complete distance.

De la Fuente has driven in a number of previous Gran Premios, but this was his first year behind the wheel of a Studebaker. In the 1922 race he was beaten out for first place by a Special-Six and last year again finished unsuccessful. So he concluded that this year he would cast his lot with Studebaker.

Third and fourth prizes went to Gianini and Ferreyra respectively, both of whom also drove Studebaker Special Sixes, making a total of three places won by Studebaker in this year's race.

Studebaker's winning time was 24 hours and 45 minutes over a treacherous course of 1,520 kilometers (about 950 miles). The race last year was 750 kilometers (465 miles). The race started from here and made their way to Rosario; thence to Cordoba, and returned by the same route to Buenos Aires.

The Gran Premio is held annually under the auspices of the Argentine Automobile Club. The hard service to which cars are subjected in this grind is greater than many months of ordinary driving.

So grueling was the race this year that nearly half the entries were compelled to drop out, due to mechanical difficulties brought about by the road conditions over which the race was run. The famous Gran Premio is more than a test for speed. South American motorists consider it a final contest for gauging motor car endurance.

The fact that a Studebaker, for the third time, won this speed-flight against some of the most expensive European and American makes was commented on by the judges.

In 1922 the race was won by An-

Auto Business Thrive Thruout 1924

(By E. T. Strong, General Sales Manager, Buick Motor Co.)

Sound fundamental conditions are still prevailing in nearly every part of the country and no misgivings are felt by us that the automobile business will not continue to thrive throughout 1924.

During a presidential year, the verbal battle between the "outs" and "ins" upsets a few nervous people, but indications this year point to an effect less detrimental than usual. Buick is manifesting the courage of its convictions by maintaining the stiffest yearly production schedule in its history.

Good value, intensive selling and superior service explains Buick success. Maintaining leadership is more difficult than attaining leadership, and satisfied customers are necessary in order to hold the lead.

Dance and Exhibition

Everything is in readiness for the grand annual dance and gymnastic exhibition which will be given by the Ladies' Branch No. 66 of the Rom. A. Gr. Kath. Slov. Gymnastic Union Sokol, of this borough, on Saturday evening, May 10, in the Polish school on Pershing avenue. An admission charge of 50 cents is made. The performance will start at 7 P. M.

Neighbors Rushing in Cars Check Elizabethtown Fire

Elizabethtown, N. Y.—Friends and neighbors from twenty miles around rushed by automobile to the home of Vernon Wrisley, a mile south of this place, when the building caught fire from a defective chimney.

Nearly a hundred automobiles were parked beside the road, while the occupants aided Mrs. Wrisley and her two small children, who were alone in the house, to escape. They also carried furniture from the lower floors.

Rain and the efforts of the volunteers prevented the flames from spreading.

Girl, 6, Gathering Eggs, Smothers Under Nest Box

St. Catharines, Ont.—Suffocated when she was buried under a box of nests, Lois Roberts, six years old, was found dead in her father's chicken house, where she had gone to gather eggs. A playmate, who was with her when the box toppled over, was found near by, asleep but uninjured.

Woman Hits Bandit, Recovers Cash.

Newark, O.—When a bandit relieved her of $2,000 at the point of a pistol, Miss Margaret Linehan butted him in the stomach. As the bandit sailed into the gutter, the woman recovered her cash and called for a policeman. The bandit staggered away before the officer arrived, however.

Hunter Wounded by His Lucky Gun.

Woodstock, Ill.—Arthur Swanson is meditating on whether it pays to be lucky. Several days ago he won a shotgun in a contest. Then, while he was hunting near here, the shotgun dropped, was discharged, and shot the hunter in the leg.

Finds Long Lost Son.

Kincaid, Ill.—Her son, who was kidnaped by her divorced husband when the boy was two years old, has been found by Mrs. Charles Collins. The lad is a soldier in the Philippines and is twenty-one years old. He has made application for a furlough.

BASEBALL NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT

Coming baseball season let it not be said that the Carteret team won't pay to see a good clean baseball game. Don't let man chase you all over the park for your donation.

See a good football tussle—
PAY FOR IT—
See a boxing match—
MUST PAY!

Any sport you are fond of you are willing to pay. If it is to the benefit of your home team, why do you slack when the hat is on the diamond work mighty hard for your benefit.

Every writer can readily say that not one of the local players is getting more than a few cents to defray a part of their expenses.

Every one has often heard the remark that the local team does not have stable opponents. They never will without YOUR SUPPORT.

TEAMS WANT GOOD GUARANTEES.

WIN AT THE GAMES THIS SEASON!

CLEAN SPORTSMANSHIP!

The borough during the past few seasons have not set the real standard of good sportsmanship nor played in the contests in the popular athletic doings. For the football season was a failure in regard to the senior sportsmanship ruined this sport early in the campaign. Court representatives remaining was a light senior for the three junior teams.

It is that the coming baseball season will not finish in the same way as the last.

All sorts of teams formed to represent the midget, or divisions, but will these continue to stick together? That is won on true "honest to goodness" sportsmanship that is preferred. Win on the merits of your team by individual playing, which is the main reason for the very good outfits!

It is accomplished and not EARNED down deep in your pocket. Don't feel good for it.

At the beginning of the baseball season it is pretty near time for the road show. Chas. Rapp and F. Riedel Owens are rapidly getting into shape; while the bicycle riders are getting ready.

The baseball schedule for 1924 opens with North Carolina, followed by Georgia, October 11; Dartmouth, October 18; West Point, November 1; Maryland, November 15; Harvard, November 22.

JOHNNY CARROL WINS SLOW BOUT

Given Decision Over "Vic" Clausen, of Perth Amboy, After Six Rounds of Boxing.

NELSON KNOCKS OUT FORD IN 3RD

Bout Is Fast—"Billy" Lewis Also a Winner, Beating Witheridge of Rahway.

A large host of boxing fans witnessed a flashy set of matches at the Perth Amboy auditorium last night, the show was given under the auspices of the Police Benevolent Association of that city. In a six round bout Johnny Carrol, the local comeback man, fought his way to a close victory over "Vic" Clausen, of the Pioneer A. C. of Perth Amboy.

The fight wasn't as good as it should have been as both fighters did not put all they had into it. The slow match was given to Carrol.

In the main eight round affair that was scheduled to go eight rounds was cut short in the third as "Tiger" Nelson, of Perth Amboy, kayoed Ford. This fight was one of the best but the tiger was a little too anxious. After two rounds of fierce fighting Nelson was determined to finish his man and then it was only a matter of minutes. Ford went to the mat for a nine and as he staggered to his feet Nelson let another stiff right go and the referee counted Ford out.

"Billy" Lewis, of Westfield, won the best and fastest engagement of the evening from "Bobby" Witheridge, of Rahway, in eight rounds.

ST. JOSEPHS CLOSE FINE COURT SEASON

Play Good Basketball During Brief Season, Winning Seven Out of Eight Contests.

The St. Joseph Juniors basketball outfit closed their season recently with seven victories and one defeat to their credit. The outfit played very good ball throughout their season and their games were played with the best junior combines of the county, including a senior outfit, which they defeated by a large score.

Up to a few weeks ago professional rules were used by the team. When they abolished these rules and played amateur they still continued to best their opponents.

Joe Sexton won the scoring honors by chalking up a total of 48 points and Comba was the second best with 35 credits.

WHITE EAGLES ARE READY FOR OPENING

Will Only Play Traveling Games After Season Starts In About Three Weeks.

The White Eagle Baseball Club is preparing to take the diamond in about three weeks with the best senior outfits of the neighboring counties in all out-of-town contests. This outfit has reorganized recently.

The permanent lineup has not yet been chosen, but the players will be about the same as last season. Those who played then are as follows: Ginda, Balerich, Karasviski, A. Makwinski, Pinkerman, B. Makwinski, Prokowski and F. Makwinski. The last two players named formed the mound battalion. Two or three new comers will be assigned positions as the season grows older.

Managers of other teams, who wish to make arrangements concerning baseball matters should communicate with Manager A. Makwinski, by calling 331-J.

Carteret Yanks To Play

The Carteret Yanks have two stiff contests scheduled for the week as they will play the Coughlin's All Stars at the Yank's diamond tomorrow and the Lincolns Sunday.

Carteret Juniors To Start Season April 19

The Carteret Juniors will open their baseball season at Port Reading on Saturday, April 19, where they will cross bats with the Mohawks, the leading junior nine of that place. Lauter and Harrigan will share the mound work for the local team, while Balerich will receive their slants.

A practice game will be played with the Lincolns tomorrow afternoon at Brady's oval.

Local Runners Training For Coming Season

Fred Riedel is training very hard and is almost in perfect form for his opening run at New York on May 30. Riedel has won many prizes and has a very good chance to carry the winning honors in the meet on Memorial Day.

Charles Rapp and Owens are also training hard for their opening races. Both runners are members of the Mohawk A. C. of New York and were in many meets representing that club.

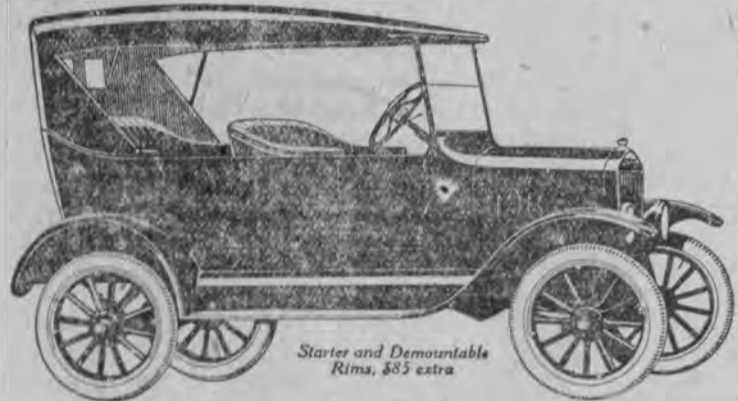

Leslie's Sub Lasts Only Two Rounds

Because Young Leslie could not fight Sailor Schenck, of New Brunswick, Young Terry, of Plainfield, substituted in the semi-final bout at the Masonic Hall, Highland Park, last Monday night.

The Plainfield boy didn't act long as a sub, for a hard right from the sailor finished Terry in the second stanza.

Very Good Players Given Positions on Varsity Team.

The borough High School will have a strong baseball outfit on the lots this season. The team is given regular practice sessions at the Columbus School grounds and practice games were played with the seconds and the eighth grade outfit.

FOREIGN FEATURES IN NEW CIRCUS ACTS

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, Has Opened in New York.

With almost 800 men and women stars, chases of new foreign features and such innovations as five herds of elephants in place of the customary three troupes, the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth has opened a limited engagement at Madison Square Garden, New York, with what old-time sawdust fans declare is the biggest and best circus the famous brother showmen have ever exhibited.

The hundreds of arenic stars number May Wirth, greatest of all bare-back riders, "Marvelous Phil," a whirlwind comedy equestrian, the entire Wirth family, the Rieffanach sisters performing athletic feats on the backs of running horses, Lily Leitzel, the world's foremost aerial gymnast, Berta Beeson, a sensational high-wire artist who has captivated New York audiences with mid-aerial dancing, Jennie Rooney, supreme among a score of lady trapeze performers, Lillian Kincaid who leads a bevy of beautiful women in hazardous "cloud swings," the Nelson family of mother, father and eight daughters, and many others in displays of novelty and daring.

The eight hundred performers share honors with a third as many dumb "Thespians." The latter include an amazing troupe of twenty-four Russian stallions brought to America last winter by the great Norwegian trainer, Andre Christianson. There are five other equine displays, a score of menage riders and entire companies of acting dogs, seals and monkeys. The new troupes of elephant actors are composed entirely of baby pachyderms who perform upon steel-structured stages. The adults enact their many new stunts in the three rings. In the great menagerie section of the circus, thirty-six elephants are being exhibited as against a total of twenty-two in past seasons.

Wild jungle actors are presented in three steel areas. These include whole troupes of polar bears, lions, tigers and jaguars that engage in wrestling bouts with their trainers, walk tight ropes, leap great distances through rings, play at "shoot the chutes" or ride upon bicycles. There are a hundred clowns to amuse the youngsters with many new stunts not the least of which are performed by "talking Fords."

The big freak department includes Zip, the man with the original tea-pot dome, and the vast menagerie is ever larger than in 1923. Performances are being twice daily at Madison Square Garden, New York.

SCHOOL BOARD AT STORMY SESSION

Commissioner Bishop Demands Information on Salaries Paid Out By Custodian.

HIS REQUEST QUICKLY SPURNED

Row Over Remark Leads Bishop and Coughlin To a Heated Argument.

The Board of Education held its first meeting since re-organization on Tuesday night. Present at the session were President Edward J. Heil, Commissioners Robert Jeffreys, Louis Bradford, Alex Lebowitz, Frank Brown, Isadore Schwartz, Theodore Bishop and William V. Coughlin. The meeting was very brief. An argument arose between Commissioners Bishop and Coughlin as a result of some remarks made against Mr. Bishop. It all started over the demand of Commissioner Bishop to have all vouchers of school money expended read over the table. Mr. Bishop said that he was not satisfied with calling out the amounts paid for various items, but would like to have the clerk read the amounts spent for salaries. Mr. Bishop's request was not complied with. President Heil told him that it was not necessary to have these expenditures read, because the teachers were under contract. Commissioner Bishop referred to the law which demands that this be done. Commissioner Jeffreys remarked that the payment of salaries was private business.

The monthly report of the supervising principal shows an enrollment of 1,263 boys and 1,148 girls. Measles and chickenpox among some of the children caused a slump in the percentage of attendance.

The board received a petition signed by fifty teachers urging the extension of the Easter holidays. On the suggestion of Miss B. V. Herman, supervising principal, this was complied with. The holiday will begin on April 17. The two extra days allowed on this holiday will be made toward the conclusion of the school year.

Commissioner Louis Bradford proposed that the meeting nights of the board should be changed, in view of the fact that the Foresters hold their meetings on the second Tuesday of each month, which is also the date of the school commissioners meeting. President Heil asked the commissioners except Bishop whether they wanted the change. They said that they did not. "I did not expect you would," retorted Mr. Bishop to President Heil, when the date was left unchanged.

The commissioners have accepted the invitation of the Middlesex County Vocational school to attend a meeting which will be held in the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg on May 3.

The Harmony Social Club was granted the use of the Columbus school for the nights of May 14, 15 and 16.

LEGION ADVANCES PLANS FOR DECORATION DAY CEREMONIES

Will Hold Parade With Civic and Fraternal Organizations In Lead—School Children of Borough Will Also Take Part.

FUNDS ARE ASKED FOR MUSICAL PROGRAM

Extended Exercises Planned By Legionnaires To Commemorate the Heroism Of the Fallen Soldiers—Much Enthusiasm Seen.

The Roosevelt Post No. 263, American Legion, at an enthusiastic meeting held in the fire house last night, advanced its extensive Decoration Day program, which promises to surpass all previous festivities ever arranged by the local post. Representatives of various organizations in the borough assured the legionnaires of whatever support may be required of them.

The most important event of the day will be a parade through the streets of the town, headed by bands, members of various civic and fraternal organizations and the children of the borough schools. In an effort to enlist the co-operation of these societies in the parade, a special committee for that purpose has been already named by Command Coughlin, who presided at last night's session. The parade committee is headed by Charles Rapp and includes Albert Welblund, Joseph O'Donnell, Edward Dolan, Clayton Young and Fred Gunther. This committee is to start its activities at once. To reach all the societies for the parade an appeal will be made to the pastors of the churches here. The rectors will be requested to announce the plans of the legionnaires at the pulpit and urge the societies to line up and commemorate the day in honor of the fallen soldiers.

Middlesex Water Company Expert Believes Perth Amboy Has No Surplus.

BOROUGH FIGHTS PROPOSED RATES

Carteret Officials and Private Interests Are Attending the Hearings at Trenton Today.

The startling contribution to the testimony at the Middlesex Water Company rate hearings at the end of this week, aside from the unusual method by which they hope to attain their object, was the statement by the Middlesex Water Company's expert, Nicholas S. Hill, that there was some question as to the adequacy of the supply of the city of Perth Amboy.

His testimony was to the effect that he had heard from time to time of alleged surplus of available supply at Perth Amboy but had never seen any real evidence of it.

The water company, which serves Woodbridge, Carteret, Piscataway and Raritan, is asking for an increase in rate varying from seventy to one hundred per cent despite the fact that it received a big increase in rate in 1920 and has since made no appreciable addition to its plant.

The consumers, who expected that the water company was only after an increase sufficient to take care of increased cost and permit of maintaining present dividends on the common and preferred stocks as well as pay the bonded interest obligations, received a rude awakening.

Mr. Hill, the water company expert, endeavored to show that the company is entitled to a return of seven and a quarter per cent on an investment equal to the cost of having the entire system and works and reservoirs built over again by a private contractor at present day prices.

He assumed that the works and system of the Middlesex Company, most of which was built twenty-five years ago at one-third of present day prices, was to be built by a private contractor at today's costs more materials and equipment, allowed for a profit by the contractor on this sum and allowed a contractor's overhead of seventeen per cent on this theoretical sum built up. On top of this he allowed another two per cent for contractor's contingencies.

When questioned as to what this represented Mr. Hill stated that very often a contractor ran into difficulties of one kind or another not foreseen when the contract was first figured and for that reason the extra two per cent is figured.

Aside from the appraisal work Mr. Hill's testimony was largely of the same tenor attempting, apparently to boost the total figure so high that even if the commissioners do make an appreciable cut, which is expected, the company will still receive a high rate.

He figured the bonds at six and one-half per cent though they are now at five per cent.

The Middlesex Water Company has been paying eight per cent regularly for many years on its common stock and seven per cent on its preferred stock and has never failed of its interest obligations.

The next hearings are scheduled for Thursday and Friday at the office of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, 790 Broad street, Newark.

TIMOTHY RUGGLES

IF A stranger wanted to know the pools where the trout were in the spring, or his wife the hidden slopes where the first arbutus grew under the leaves, they asked Tim Ruggles. To Tim at fifteen, every square foot of his grandfather's broken-down farm was familiar and dear. When his grandfather died and the farm was sold, it was to the boy as if the end of the world had come. He did not at all understand. Then he heard someone explaining the old man's bankruptcy by his never having been "able to look ahead."

From that moment, fifteen-year-old Tim began to take count of stock. Although he felt as if he could not live away from the farm, he suddenly realized that the village offered him no future. He contemplated the few dollars that were his inheritance, and took a temporary job at the country store. After six months he made up his budget: so much for railroad fare, so much for living while on the hunt for employment, so much for margin. Then he said good-by to his river and his woods for many years.

In the big city wholesale house he deliberately set himself to work. For a year he ran errands. He was prompt and reliable in all his work, and through contacts and reading he studied up both fundamentals and fine points of the jobbing business.

When a vacancy occurred in the sales department, he applied for it and proved himself worthy of a trial. Then he made good in it. So, as he worked at the present, his eye was always on the future. He had acquired the habit of "looking ahead." And as he looked ahead, he went ahead.

Eventually he married. When his son was seven years old, he heard that his grandfather's old farm was again on the market. He and his wife and the boy made an excursion one Sunday to go to see it. It was the first time he had been back since he himself had been a boy. They hunted in the gnarled orchard for the little red apple tree that bore such sweet fruit. They climbed the high hill from which a glimpse of the sea was to be caught. They even discovered up in the garret a dried bunch of herbs that through all vicissitudes had hung undisturbed upon the rafters.

"How I wish we could afford to buy it!" sighed Tim Ruggles' wife, looking at their son.

"We have bought it," said Tim. "I knew you'd want it when you saw it. I've been saving up for this day ever since I was fifteen—ever since I began to 'look ahead.'"

By MILDRED MARSHALL

Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day, lucky jewel

LULU

RECENT discussion of Loretta suggests Lulu as an interesting parallel study. Lulu is also the result of modern spelling. Its correct form is Loulou, a version which originated, and is still a favorite in France.

Its popularity is attributed to the Provençal Lora de Sades, beloved of Petrarch, whose story is considered one of the world's greatest romances. She is the lady whose praises are sung by the great Italian poet in his "Rime" or sonnets. She is identified with Lora de Noves, an Avignonesse lady who died of the plague in 1348, and who was already married to Hughes de Sades in 1327 when Petrarch is said to have first seen her.

The romantic nature of the French caused the name of the lovely heroine to find extraordinary vogue in that country. However, Lora or Laura is scarcely euphonious to French ears, and she became Laura, and finally Loulou. Jet is Lulu's talismanic stone. It is the symbol of sorrow, but according to an old superstition, it will protect its wearer from sorrow, since it has an almost unique power among gems of becoming a part of the very body and soul if guarded with jealous care. Friday is Lulu's lucky day and 4 her lucky number.

Man Shot in Mouth as He Walks With Friend

New York.—While walking with a friend along Eighth avenue Michael Haines, twenty-two years old, complained of a stinging sensation in the roof of his mouth. When his companion, Joseph Clinton, saw blood trickling forth he took Haines to the Harlem hospital.

There it was found that a bullet, fired mysteriously, had lodged in the man's mouth, with a probability, physicians said, of fatal results. Both men denied having heard a shot and asserted that Haines had no enemy who might be suspected.

He Had Sporting Blood

By CORONA REMINGTON

(Copyright 1924, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Oh, Jack, if only Racer wins!" Dorothy Westway ran her hand over the sleek coat of the horse standing beside her and looked up at her lover with eager eyes.

"Of course, I want him to win and I think he will, but I'll make a dangerous enemy if he does," the man answered in worried tones.

"Why, Jack, what can you mean? You couldn't have an enemy on earth."

Morton laughed his carefree, wholesome laugh, but replied quite soberly a moment later:

"You don't understand, dear. Old Van Alstyn's entering Fledgling this year and if anyone beats him, he'll never get over it."

"Well, what do you care whether old Van Alstyn likes you or hates you? I only hope Racer does win!"

"But you see, Dot, he has about all the money in this little town and I've borrowed from him pretty heavily to get a start. I touched him about extending a note the other day and he wouldn't give me a definite answer. When I went to see him again yesterday he said he couldn't think business until the races were over and that it would depend a whole lot upon how they turned out. He didn't exactly say it in so many words, but he implied that if Fledgling lost he'd be too upset to lend money to anybody."

"In other words, he gave you a hint to keep Racer out, eh?"

"Well, practically."

"Oh, Jack, what are you going to do?"

"Old Van can wreck me and he knows it. If he calls in all his notes I'll have to shut up shop."

"He's an old bully, that's what he is!" answered Dorothy hotly.

"If I weren't so anxious to marry the most wonderful girl in the world I'd feel more like risking all."

Dorothy gave his arm a little squeeze and hurried on with her questions. "But what are you going to do about it?" she asked again.

"What would you advise?"

"Dear, I can't. I want you to work it out your own way. There are so many sides to the problem. Think of asking little me to settle it!"

"But you must have some idea as to what you would do if you were—what you want me to do."

"Maybe so," she replied noncommittally.

"Toll a fellow, then, do."

"Not I, Jack. You'll never know my idea about it until it's over, and perhaps not even then."

She turned back to the mettlesome animal. "I wish you'd let me ride him sometime," she said pleadingly.

"I'm afraid. You might get hurt, dear; he's very high strung and unaccustomed to women. You know I've trained him from a colt out on dad's place and it's too big a risk. Well, I'll see you at the races tomorrow. I don't know yet whether I'll put him against Fledgling or not and even if I do, whether I'll run him to win."

"Oh, you mean you may run him and yet not make him do his utmost?"

"I don't know what I mean, Dot. There's so much at stake on both sides."

He jumped into the saddle and leaned over for a last kiss.

"Good-by, Jack, dear," she said. "Don't worry too much. It'll be all right."

Dorothy watched him down the driveway and out the big gate, then turned and went back into the house.

That night she slept but little and after what seemed an age dawn came and soon the sun climbed up behind the big oaks in the yard and Dorothy sprang out of bed. It was the longest morning in her life. She wandered around the big house trying to concentrate upon first one thing, then another, but her mind would travel back to the races and Jack and Van Alstyn and the two horses upon which their very future hung.

When at last the time arrived and she took her place in the grandstand amid the excited throng the beating of her heart seemed to suffocate her. Would Jack do what she wanted him to do? Would he—would he—?

In a frenzy of fear and anxiety she waited and waited, every minute seeming to her like an hour. At last she saw the horses led out—Fledgling, Merrylegs, two or three others which she failed to recognize and—Racer! Her heart stood still as she watched Jack mount him and wait for the signal to start. The crowd around her was breathless. Jack was evidently going to enter, but would he run Racer to win?

At last the signal came and they started off, tearing around the track. Fledgling was soon in the lead and held it for half a mile. The spectators screamed in their excitement and yelled words of encouragement to horse and rider.

"Go it, Fledgling!" "Go it, old boy!" came from all over the bleachers. Then Racer began to catch up—neck and neck for a hundred yards, when suddenly he galloped past, leaving the others behind.

"Racer won! Racer won! Morton's horse!" The place went wild. Men threw their hats in the air and pounded each other on the back. With difficulty Dorothy made her way out of the scrambling crowd and finally she and her fiancé were together in the little car.

"Jack, I never could have quite loved you as much if you hadn't been a good sport and risked all," said Dorothy after a moment.

"I felt the same way, Dot," he answered lifelessly, "so I had to do it, but the business is in a pretty tight hole. It'll probably put me back two or three years."

"We don't care, dear," she slipped a hand into his. "You're a real man and that's what I care about most."

"But it's all up with Van. They say he got purple with rage and swore like a trooper when Racer won."

The next morning it was a very forlorn young man who went down to his office and tried to take up the daily grind. One letter marked personal lay on his desk. Absently he ripped it open and scanned the lines.

"You're an impudent young cub to put your horse against mine and win when my friendship means so much to you, but I like your nerve and admire your sporting blood. For a while I thought you were not running to win and was glad, though disgusted with you, but in the end I found out differently! Drop in when you can and we'll talk things over."

A slow smile spread over Morton's face which broadened as he remembered the very spot on the track where he had resolved to beat Fledgling at any cost. Evidently old Van had missed nothing. Smart old duck and—human after all. With a bound Morton made for the elevator.

"Good old scout!" he kept saying to himself, as he hurried to where his car was parked, "but I'll just have to go and tell Dot first."

Device Permits Train to Set Own Switches

Railway trains capable not only of signaling themselves but of setting the points on which they are running and of clearing these after their passage will materialize in the near future, if certain technical problems on which engineers are now engaged can be solved.

The problem has been brought much nearer solution by a device which enables a train running from a main line to a branch to "clear" the points for the main line after it has passed over them, says London Tit-Bits.

Automatic electric signaling is, of course, already used on the London Underground Railways, on which the passage of a train automatically throws the signal to "danger" until the train has passed out of the "block section," while the brakes are applied from the track if the driver should run past a danger signal.

This method has, however, been applicable until now only on sections of track without points or crossings, since there has been no mechanical appliance enabling a train automatically to select one out of two or more tracks.

It has therefore been necessary to retain the signal man and the signal box at junctions to control the working of the points, and for this reason automatic signaling has had a relatively small field of utility on steam-worked main lines.

The new selective device will enable trains to set their own points, and to close them after their passage.

The device will make for safety, for statistics show that automatic signals are far less likely to go wrong than a signal man, who may at any moment cause an accident owing to temporary mental aberration.

Signal makers have for the best part of a generation endeavored to eliminate as far as possible the "human element" from railway working, and the crowning triumph will have been attained when every train becomes its own signal man and sets its own points.

Petroleum Oil From Rosin

The Japanese chemists have been experimenting for quite a long time to produce petroleum synthetically. They have had quite some success in making petroleum from fish oil. Japan does not possess any extensive oil fields and so has to import its oil from this country and Europe. In the attempt to provide means for manufacturing petroleum from natural resources so as to fill the oil needs at home, an investigation was made to see if it were not possible to convert rosin into petroleum. The process has been reported a success. It consists in heating the rosin with acid earth, silicate of magnesia, under ordinary pressure. The oil that is obtained by this treatment varies in color from a pale green to a water-white. It has a carbon content of 88.6 per cent, and yields on distillation, after purification with sulphuric acid, 50 per cent of naphthenes, 40 per cent of aromatic substances and 10 per cent of unsaturated compounds.—Oil Paint and Drug Reporter.

Found Wanting

Judge Summerfield, after a hard day in his divorce mill, was waxing cynical about marriage. "It's the old, old story of 'Wed in haste and repent as soon as possible,' he sighed, and though it sounds very trite and sophisticated, I cannot but admire a young couple I know, who escaped matrimony as follows:

"Edith, can you cook?" "No, Lionel. Can you afford to keep an automobile?" "No, dear!" "So they did not marry, and they lived happily ever after."

Engineer Saves Boy

Lebanon Junction, Ky.—W. R. Starke, Louisville & Nashville railroad engineer, stopped his train at Pottinger creek, near Gethesmane, and led members of the crew to the rescue of Jesse Brown, twelve, who was in danger of drowning after ice on which he had been skating had broken.

The trainmen brought the boy to safety and then made a 20-mile run to this place in their icy-wet clothes.

You are Vitally Interested in Good Telephone Service

NO OTHER medium of communication or transportation can take its place.

It saves you thousands of steps each day. It overcomes barriers of time and distance. It is always at hand day and night—a ready and faithful servant.

The worth of your telephone service is far greater than is indicated by the price you pay for it.

In the past ten years its scope has been more than doubled, but during this period there has been practically no increase in rates.

The rates you now pay will not produce sufficient revenue to enable us to keep the present service up to high standards and to attract the new money required for enlarging the system.

We, therefore, ask you to pay a reasonable advance in rates for local telephone service.

Your support of the new rates means that you want your service kept efficient and made capable of doing for you in a bigger way than the things no other medium can do.

PRIVATE BUSINESS

When School Commissioner Bishop at the first meeting of the Board of Education Monday night asked the clerk to read the vouchers showing the amounts being paid to teachers of the Carteret schools, he was told by another colleague that it "was private business" and the clerk does not have to comply with the new commissioner's request. The reply was far from right. The money expended by the school custodian is not private business but public business and Commissioner Bishop's point of information was one of merit. Mr. Bishop was elected as member of the board by the people and would like to know just how much money is paid out whether for materials, supplies or salaries. The inquiring commissioner surely did not get a satisfactory answer. The attorney's legal opinion that it was not necessary to give the data, should not phase Commissioner Bishop in insisting at a future date to make a demand for it. The older commissioners on the school board probably know everything what is to be known about the schools. The new men would like to find out things that their older associates know.

HAPPY?

Who is the happiest man you know? Perhaps it is yourself—perhaps a friend. Some call the Happy Man lucky. He knows it is not luck. He has discovered that to enjoy life in full measure, pressed down and running over, he must be conscious that he is doing his best every day. The Happy Man is a pushful man. He finds in his day's work joy and health, pleasure and wealth. He sleeps soundly, and his waking hours are too short for the many things he wants to do. He says: "Crack the shell of the fraud called 'taking it easy' and you will find the egg of unhappiness." He will tell you there can be nothing more wearisome than a life of leisure, or more princely than a life of work. The Happy Man has manly aspirations and gives a square deal. He feels that in return for his money and property he is accumulating and for the advantages of modern civilization which are free to him to enjoy, he is in honor bound to contribute his share of labor toward the common prosperity. This increases as fast as he puts his strength and speed into the general work. The Happy Man is a working man working with hands or brains or both. You will find many of these in Carteret. It is with the aid of such men we have in the borough that we strive for progress.

There are ten thousand questions of business that no outsider can settle, upon which any suggestion of his would deserve nothing but contempt, but the great principles with which we started, the eternal obligations of honesty and integrity and decency; the responsibility of the individual; the supremacy of moral character, the universal application of the ten commandments, in industry as well as in private life—these are the principles that apply everywhere, to the business and professional men alike; to the man who plans to work and pays for it, and to the man whose hands execute the plans and receive the pay. We are human beings before we are founders or workmen. We are all responsible to a higher than human tribunal. No one of us can at last deceive or defeat eternal justice. And we do well to remember that, after all is said and done, in the final roundup, character is the only thing that counts.

Do some of our people in Carteret know a good example when they see it?

The scandal mess in Washington resembles the old case of the pot calling the kettle black.

A GIRL AND A PRINCE

ONCE upon a time there was a peasant girl who was so beautiful that a prince fell in love with her. Every day he rode by the place where she was tending her father's goats and at last he told her who he was and asked her to become his wife.
"Oh, but I could never marry a prince," said the pretty girl, whose name was Nita. "And, besides, your family would never let you marry me."
"Then I will leave my father's palace and give up the kingdom and live with you," said the prince. "I shall marry no one but you."
"No, that would never do," said Nita. "You could not become the husband of a peasant girl any more than I could marry a prince. No, you are not good enough for me," she said, with a toss of her pretty head.
"You cannot plough a field or make a harness or take care of the goats and she won't marry me," replied the prince. "I am not good enough for her. She said so."

"Peasant girl indeed!" said the queen. "She would marry you soon enough if we should permit such a thing." Then, because she was a woman, the queen wanted to know what was lacking in her son that this girl did not think him good enough for her husband.
"She said that even though I had servants to do the work I ought to know how it should be done, that a good master must know how to rule his servants, and that I did not know anything at all," the prince replied.
"She has some sense," said the king. "That sounds sensible, and I should like to know why it is that you don't know how to do something! A son of mine ought to be able to do anything. You don't take after my family or you would be able to plow a field."
"Indeed!" answered the queen, growing angry. "If he took after my family he would be able to do everything. It is yours, sire, he resembles, and not mine. Can you make a harness, son, or not?"

"Of course I can't," replied the prince. "I don't know how to do anything. No one has ever taught me. I am not good enough to be the husband of the peasant girl."
"A son of mine should be fitted to become the husband of any one," cried the king. "Go to work and learn how to do all these things."
It did not take the prince long to learn, and one day he proudly showed to the king and queen a harness he had made, and then one day he asked them to look at a field he had plowed.
"We will find the peasant girl now," said the queen, who had not forgotten she had spurned her son for a husband. "We will show her our son can do anything her people can do."
So they found Nita and showed her the harness and the field the prince had plowed, and the praise which Nita gave the prince for his work quite won the hearts of the king and queen.
When they found that their son was ready to give up the kingdom to marry Nita, the king said that the kingdom needed people with good sense to rule it, and now that his son had become such a good and sensible man, all that was needed was a princess quite as sensible, and he for one gave his consent to the marriage.
The queen, not to be outdone, gave hers, and that night the merry-making in honor of the wedding of the prince and the peasant girl made the welkin ring.

Man 64, Braves Death to Save Dog in River

Detroit, Mich.—An eight-month-old Afredale puppy, frozen to the ice in the Detroit river and howling for help, was rescued from death by a sixty-four-year-old man, who, risking his life on the treacherous broken ice, crawled to the dog, bundled him in a blanket and brought him safely to shore. The story was told by friends of Dr. R. Adlington Newman, to whom "Jerry," the puppy, owes his life.
Doctor Newman saw the dog falling in an attempt to cross the ice.
"I love dogs," Doctor Newman said, "and I couldn't endure the thought of watching this fine puppy die for want of human aid. I tied a rope around my waist and asked a policeman to hold the other end. Then I worked my way over the ice, pushing a skiff ahead of me, and at length reached and rescued the dog."

POSTAL CARD CLEW IN MURDER MYSTERY

Man Saves Cent, but Pair Goes to Jail.

Valentine, Neb.—Clinton W. Smith, farm hand, saved one cent when he sent a postal card instead of a letter to Mrs. John Smith, asking her to meet him here, but the saving of the penny resulted in a thirty-year penitentiary sentence for both him and Mrs. John Smith.

The man and woman were tried and sentenced for the murder of Mrs. Smith's husband, and both pleaded guilty.

"She's the wildest woman in the world. That's why we killed her husband," Clinton Smith said when sentenced.

Clinton Smith arrived in Valentine two weeks before the murder. Up to that time he had never seen Mrs. Smith. He went to work as a farm hand for her husband, John Smith. The men were not related.

The murder was so well concealed that the slayers would have escaped unsuspected if Clinton Smith had not saved that one cent stamp and given authorities a clew.

The pair confessed they knocked the husband down and then drove his heavily loaded wagon over his head, the wheels obliterating all signs of the blows he had been dealt. Accidental death was the first verdict.

Motion Picture Actress Is Sentenced as Spy

Leipzig, Germany.—The supreme court here has sentenced Alwine Brüssi, a French motion picture star, to ten years in prison, the death sentence being escaped only because the extreme penalty cannot be pronounced in peace time.

Marie Brüssi, on the strength of her birth in Düsseldorf, returned to Germany and acted as a successful agent in the French espionage service for seven years during and since the war.

Her arrest was due to her custom of keeping a diary, which fell into the hands of the German counter-espionage service. It was found that the actress used her beauty to enlist the services of susceptible officers and students, who told her many military secrets.

Theater Afire, Patrons Demand Refund to Leave

New York.—A performance was in progress at a vaudeville and motion picture house in the lower East side, when smoke began to drift across the stage and into the audience. But instead of rushing for the exits a majority of the 1,200 persons in the auditorium at first refused to leave the building without assurance from the management that the price of admission would be refunded.

Finally, as the theater manager argued with the crowd from the stage, the smoke became so thick that the spectators reluctantly abandoned the demand for a refund and fled through doors and fire escapes to the street. The fire damaged the property room and first floor of the theater.

FANS WAITING EAGERLY FOR THE OPENING OF THE BORO DIAMOND SEASON

ROOSEVELT A. C. TO OPEN APR. 20

Newly Organized Baseball Nine Will Clash With Landings at New Brunswick.

MANAGER LOOKS FOR GOOD SEASON

Players of Team Are Experienced —Will Open Local Season Sunday, April 27th.

The newly organized Roosevelt A. C. will open its baseball campaign on Sunday, April 20, at the grounds of the cracker-jack Landing A. C., of New Brunswick. Jimmy Donovan will bring the best lineup obtainable with him.

The Landing A. C. is the club that defeated the Carteret Field Club in one of the series of games played last season and if the Roosevelt team trims the county seat bunch a game will probably be arranged with the Carteret Field Club.

Special busses will leave the borough from the A. & P. store in the hill and the Fire House in Chrome section at 1.30 P. M.

On the following Sunday, April 27, the Roosevelt A. C. will open their local season at Liebig's oval, opposing one of Elizabeth's strongest teams. The club wishes the fans to get out and come to their games and help the team along in every possible way in order to bring back the game once more in the central section of the borough.

The annual block dance will be announced in a few days and one of the best bands of the state will render the music for the dancing.

MOHICANS TO PLAY ST. JOSEPH JUNIORS

Port Reading Nine Will Be Given Real Opposition By Borough Outfit.

The Mohican baseball nine, of Port Reading, will be the opponents of the newly organized St. Joseph Juniors, at Port Reading, Sunday, April 20. Gervase Harrigan will start on the hill for the borough team and Baleric will receive. The Port team will probably assign the mound duty to Barry.

The players who expect to land regular positions on the St. Joseph's lineup are: Casey or Cromwell, short-stop; Comba left field; Joe Sexton, third base; Shutllo, second base; Yorke, first base; Wm. Sexton, center field; Quin, right field; Baleric, catcher and Harrigan, pitcher.

The St. Joes expect to play nothing but Sunday baseball with the best junior combines of the county. Communications should be addressed to Gervase Harrigan, Washington avenue.

JUNIORS LOSE IN OPENING GAME

Lincoln A. C. Outplay Opponents In Every Way.

From the results of the Carteret Juniors' practice session last Saturday afternoon at Brady's oval with the Lincoln A. C., they need a few more stiffer ones before they open their season with Port Reading on the 19th. The Juniors were handed a lacing by their inferior opponents, who showed up well, by dependable hitting and fielding. The score at the end of seven innings was 16-11.

Woodhull served them over to the losers and was never in a real predicament for his teammates were in the field to support him excellently. He kept the Juniors' hits well scattered.

Fred Lauter started on the hill for the losers and was not very effective against the hitters on the opposing side. Fourteen runs were scored on him and his mates in four innings. His downfall was shared by the rest of the players, who were also very poor in fielding.

Greve Harrigan, the promising new comer, showed up well in the remaining three innings and the two runs which the winners made were caused by errors.

Cromwell, of the Lincolns, played well at short and stopped sure hits despite the poor condition of the infield. The Juniors are very much in need of a short fielder and Cromwell might land the position.

LOCAL BOWLERS TO MEET AMBOY TEAM

Donnelly and Peterson to Match Up Against Larson and Simonson Tonight.

Two local timber nailers, "Pete" Peterson and "Bill" Donnelly, will meet Meyer Larson and Henry Simonson, Perth Amboy's best bowlers, in a two-man match on the Argosne alleys, Hobart street, Perth Amboy, tonight. Donnelly and Peterson will represent the Rahway Elks and if both are in their old time for there will be little work in the locals carrying the match.

The match is to be rolled total pins, unless other rules are made up before the match tonight. The usual question when games are counted, is to roll seven games and the team that wins four, is declared the winner of the match.

Donnelly and Peterson have played a prominent part in the alley activities of the Rahway Elks during the past few months of bowling.

Communicated.

April 10th, 1924.

Despite two challenges in the local papers, and every known persuasive means, the White Eagles continually refuse to play the All Star B. B. C. although they hinted last fall they were so good. It is foolish to beat about the bush any longer, so we consider that our "class" is too much for them, and they wish to play inferior teams. We now wish to hook up with the outfit managed by J. Donovan, or the Hudson C. C. or any other outfit in this part of the state. An investment of two cents for postage to F. H. Green, 142 Pershing avenue, Carteret, N. J., will be satisfactory enough to cause a game to be arranged.

F. H. GREEN.

Shutllo Elected Captain Of Rahway Basketball 5

Michael Shutllo, local star on the court, was elected captain of the Rahway High School varsity basketball quintet for 1924-25 season recently. Shutllo well deserved his position on the team as he will be the best performer for Rahway next season.

Sophmores Win From Freshmen in Baseball

With Harrigan pitching air-tight ball the sophomore class trounced the freshmen baseball nine of the local high school by the score of 11 to 2 at the Columbus school grounds last Monday afternoon.

The game was full of features. Harrigan fanned twelve batters and Lehrer uncorked a homer with the bases filled, for the winners.

The borough high school ought to have a good representative nine on the lots this season and many games with other schools will be arranged.

Port Reading Mohicans To Play Avenel Juniors

On Sunday the Mohicans, of Port Reading, will open their season with the Avenel Juniors at the P. & R. diamond, Port Reading. The Juniors made a good record last season and the Port team will have to be at its best to beat them.

In practice the Mohicans have constructed a crack infield with Russo, Barry, Samons and Barna. These stars have made quite a "rep" for themselves and big things are expected of them. McDonnell, Collins and Byleckie will play the outer garden.

Depolito and Cooper will form the battery for the Port outfit, while Semak and Markulin are also expected to try for this work.

Bill Donnelly Slams 'Em For Rahway Five

In a New Jersey State Elk's Bowling League match the Rahway representatives took two games out of three from Hoboken at Rahway last Thursday night. Rahway missed a clean sweep by fifteen pins in the second game. "Bill" Donnelly, borough alley shark, bowling for the winners, clipped the pins for an average of 204, his three scores of the evening were: 202, 155 and 257, the latter was the highest score of the match. The team scores:

SUGGESTIONS

According to the plans for the new gymnasium to be constructed in the new proposed high school building, the athletic room will only be 57 feet by 58 feet, which is almost large enough to have a basketball court outlined on it. But after 60 feet is used for the length and 45 feet for the width of the playing court, there will be hardly enough standing room for the spectators to witness the games.

A regulation court should be 60 feet long and 45 feet wide and the height should be as much as can be secured. The Board of Education realizes that every high school building has a gymnasium, but from indications of the plans the board didn't seem to work over the correct size of the gym. Good ventilation is required and the playing space should be of the regulation size.

This little story is not for the purpose of finding fault, but to give pointers on the up-to-date gymnasium.

A Few Years Back

Joey Elko hurled the Roosevelt A. C. baseball team to a 6-4 victory over the Raymond Schmidt team in the opening game of the season on the local diamond. The following players were on the local lineup: E. Coughlin, 2b; Joe Elko, p; W. Coughlin, ss; Jageway, 1b; Murtha, c; Scally, lf; Groom, 3b; Fitzgerald, rf; Cutter, cf. Cutter, the youngest recruit of the bunch, started with the willow by getting a double into right and knocking in the first two runs of the 1915 season. The game was played Sunday, April 22, 1915.

The Roosevelt Y. M. C. A. Bowling team won six straight games on the respective nights of February 4 and 10 of 1916, and finished first in the Middlesex County Bowling League. The victims of the borough team were Keypott and South Amboy. "Bill" Donnelly was high man in the Keypott match with an average of 179, while Darlington won high honors in the second with 194 average.

Clayton Young of Emerson street won the second prize in the half mile footrace against a class of 300, which was a beautiful diamond stickpin, which was given by Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt for the National Guard benefit day on Saturday, Aug. 5th, 1916.

Liberty To Take On Excellent Brooklyn 9

The Liberty Athletic Club will endeavor to hand the crack Bayridge Blue Sox of Brooklyn a good lacing next Sunday afternoon on the local team's field at the Crescote oval. Bert Arva's nine is confident of victory as a result of their good showing against the strong Rover outfit last Sunday.

"Baby" Zilag will fling them across the pan for the locals and C. Comba will catch.

At the Newark Theatres

Miner's Empire Theatre

"A cast and chorus of dance people," is heralded in the announcement of Rube Bernstein's "Bathing Beauties," next week, Sunday matinee April 13th, at Miner's Empire Theatre, Newark. From the featured members of the company down to the tiniest chorister, all are said to be unusually proficient in the graceful art of terpsichore. And they have been splendidly trained by that expert, Sammy Lee, who won renown as the producer of dancing numbers for "The Gingham Girl." Jack Hunt and Clyde Bates head the list of talented principals in the cast. The show is in ten scenes with twelve numbers and many changes of costumes, some of them said to outshine the ones that appear on the geach of Atlantic City and win prizes. There will be the usually daily matinee for the ladies during the engagement. Week of Sunday matinee April 20, "Giggles."

"The Acquittal" to Play At the Local Theatres

Another famous star of the legitimate stage to make his bow in the pictures in Harry Mestayer, who plays the arrogant district attorney in the spectacular court room scenes of "The Acquittal," Universal's big mystery drama to be shown at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday, April 16, matinee and night, and at the Crescent Theatre, Thursday, April 17, matinee and night. The story is adapted from Rita Weiman's celebrated Broadway mystery play, and details the search for a mysterious criminal, sought desperately while one man is on trial for his life. Thrilling incidents heighten the action and the mystery simultaneously.

COUNCIL TO RECEIVE BIDS FOR NEW BOROUGH HALL

Resolution Passed for Advertising Notice to Contractors Inviting Their Proposals for General Construction, Heating, Plumbing Etc.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS ALSO APPROVED

Councilmen At Short Session Hear Various Reports—Mayor Mulvihill Praises New Beacon Traffic Signs Recently Erected.

The Borough Council at its special meeting held Monday night unanimously passed a resolution authorizing the borough attorney to advertise for bids for the new municipal structure to be erected at the intersection of Cook and Pershing Avenues. A notice to the contractors is being made public today. The bids will be received on Monday night, May 5.

An ordinance was passed at its first and second readings calling for the widening an extending of High street between Carteret avenue to Washington avenue from forty to fifty feet. In this ordinance, the sum of $1,900 has been set aside to acquire the necessary strip of land required for the widening. Of this sum $1,200 has been allotted for the plot owned by William Duff, who has on previous occasions refused to accept this sum and present indications are that the Duff parcel will be condemned. The sum of $600 has been set aside to purchase a small parcel from the Canda Realty Company.

An ordinance by Councilman Frank Andres for curbing of Warren street from Hudson to Edwin streets was passed at its first and second readings. Another ordinance by Mr. Andres for the change of grade on Warren street was also passed. Councilman Andres, chairman of the streets and roads committee, reported that two beacon traffic lights have been erected at the corner of Roosevelt avenue and Hudson street and at the corner of Washington avenue and Roosevelt avenue. Mr. Andres pointed out that the signs have helped considerably to regulate traffic at these points. Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill said that he had heard good comments on the traffic signs. It is expected that other busy intersections in the borough will be equipped with them.

List Steadily Increases As Interest Grows Keen To Have Local Clubhouse.

The Young People's Hebrew Association which was only recently organized held a spirited meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Dr. S. Messinger, one of the sponsors of the movement. A large number of new members were admitted to the association and these have pledged to bring at least one member each. Plans were discussed for the new clubhouse which the association hopes to have shortly where the Hebrew young fellows and girls could meet, discuss literature, current topics, and play cards.

JAIL TERM FOR ILLEGAL MIDWIFE

Mrs. Susie Pally Sent To Workhouse For Ninety Days By District Court.

In default of a $500 fine imposed by Judge Freeman Woodbridge in the New Brunswick District Court last week, Mrs. Susie Pally, of this borough, was sentenced to ninety days in jail, following a trial on a charge of practicing midwifery without a license. The heavy sentence is attributed to the fact that Mr. Pally is a second offender. On Nov. 8, 1923, she was fined $200 on the same charge upon complaint of the State Board of Medical Examiners at Trenton.

At the hearing last Friday the state was represented by Grover C. Richmond, second assistant attorney general. The defendant had no legal aide. Miss Grace Reinschardt, a nurse of the State Board of Health, testified that she had been told of Mrs. Pally's activities as midwife in the borough. Dr. H. C. Strandberg, local physician, told the court that he had been told by his patients that they had employed Mrs. Pally. Mrs. Marie Walker and Mrs. Anna Buda also testified that they had engaged Mrs. Pally.

Taking the stage seriously at last, he became a "trouper," and soon had appeared in many important parts in New York City and elsewhere.

DOG BITES FOUR BOYS AND A GIRL

Stray Animal Attacks Children At Play On Washington Avenue.

Four boys and a girl were bitten by a dog last Saturday afternoon and a group of other children were saved from the vicious animal when Lieutenant Donovan appeared on the scene and ended its life with firing several shots. According to the police, the dog is a stray one. Its ownership could not be established. The dog came along Washington avenue where he took a snap at twelve-year-old Victoria Domansky, of 191 Pershing avenue. He bit her near the eye. As her screams attracted the attention of the neighbors the dog went after John Toth, of 125 Lowell street. With his sharp teeth he took a hold of the boy's clothes but John tore away quickly. Victor Sico, eight years of age, 17 Louis street, was the next victim. The dog bit Sico's leg. As the chase began, the dog attacked Frank Markvelt, fourteen years of age, of 171 Washington avenue. Frank was bitten in the arm. The fifth person to be attacked was John Mukok, nine years old, of 66 Central avenue, who was also injured in the arm. The police were notified of the dog's rampage. Quick action in killing the dog is said to have saved a number of children who were in that vicinity playing at the streets. Doctors H. L. Strandberg and J. Wantoch gave the children first aid. The physicians then examined the teeth of the animal and found them to be clean. Health Inspector Frank Born cut the dog's head off and shipped it to the State Board of Health for medical inspection. The injuries are believed to be not very serious.

The dog was shot by Lieutenant Donovan on the night of Saturday last. The dog was shot near the eye. Perth Amboy Dog Had Attacked Children Here

Bank Discovers More 20 Counterfeit Bills

Another counterfeit $20 bill was discovered by Peter J. Miller, cashier of the Carteret Trust Company, during the week. The bill was among a number deposited by a local grocery merchant and was quickly detected by the cashier as the deposit was made. This is the second fake note found by the trust company since this county has been flooded with the bad money. Mr. Miller said that the counterfeit bill has silk threads in it. People were led to believe that fake bills have no silk threads on the paper and consequently believe it to be good when they note the silk. This is not the case, however, and good care should be exercised in accepting $20 bills from unknown persons. Mr. Miller explained that a bank officer would detect the fake money without much trouble, because it has a series of faults. "The U. S. of America" on the real certificate is printed in dark, deep letters, while the counterfeit bills bear shaded and lighter colors. The counterfeit found here is drawn on the federal reserve bank and has the portrait of Cleveland. It is counterfeited by "Huston." The fake bill has a fault in the letter "U" of the signature, as the artist has omitted the little line over the "U."

New York.—Manuel Ruiz, a Mexican of El Paso, Tex., is a prisoner at the Thirty-fifth street police station as a result of an attempt to hold up a uniformed patrolman of that station at the point of a German automatic pistol recently. He was captured by James Walsh, a civilian passerby, as he held the pistol against the cheek of the patrolman.

Mr. Walsh, noting the strange sight of a uniformed policeman, hands high in the air before a swarthy bandit with a gun, rushed in behind Ruiz, seized him with a bear hug while the patrolman, whose name is McNamee, lowered his hands and put handcuffs on his assailant. During this process several other spectators pummeled the Mexican. His bruises were dressed by a Bellevue surgeon before he could be locked up.

Ruiz told the police that he lost all his money in a pool game with an affable stranger, and that he had to have some money. Having borrowed

Chicago.—With the arrest of three men the police began a roundup of a ring of more than fifty bank swindlers who are credited with having cashed $100,000 worth of bogus checks in some forty Chicago banks in the last six months.

Aaron Moshelk, a twenty-four-year-old genius with the pen, who is credited with being the leader of the band, was found to have disappeared from his home when the police went there to arrest him.

Told Banks He Was Coming.
According to detectives, young Moshelk is the cleverest penman whose activities have come to the attention of the police in a decade. Bank experts have pronounced his forgeries genuine, it is said.

According to Norkett, Moshelk came to Chicago last August after he had succeeded in passing $80,000 worth of forged checks on Los Angeles banks.

Two Hours Later He Made a Forgery.

He was so bold as to serve notice upon certain Chicago banks, it is said, that he was coming here to "gyp" them.

"And he has," Norkett said. "Dozens of suits have been filed against banks by depositors on account of his activities. He is so clever that it is almost impossible to obtain enough evidence on which to prosecute him."

Never Appears at Bank.
"He never appears at a bank. His checks always have passed through so many hands it is difficult to trace them to their source."

"The gang has been working hand in glove with bootleggers here. A bootlegger gets a check from a man with a large bank account and Moshelk needs only a hasty glance at the signature to duplicate it. Some weeks ago he was being questioned at the detective bureau, and to exhibit his prowess with the pen looked at a difficult signature for only three seconds. Two hours later he made a forgery that experts pronounced genuine. But we couldn't get enough evidence at that time to prosecute."

St. Helens, Ore.—C. W. Emerson, eighty-two, a resident of St. Helens for 40 years, and who said he was a second cousin of Ralph Waldo Emerson, noted poet, died of injuries sustained when he walked into a slowly moving locomotive on the Astoria branch of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railroad.

Mr. Emerson was on his way from the post office in West St. Helens and, it is supposed, did not see the approaching train bound for Astoria. As it was passing over the highway cross, ing about 50 feet from the depot, he deliberately walked into the engine and was struck by the piston head on the left side of the locomotive. He was thrown about 12 feet and died 20 minutes after being picked up.

Caused the Policeman to Throw Up His Hands.

a gun from his new found friend, he said, he had been advised to hold up a candy store at Thirty-ninth street and Third Avenue. Finding the store closed and being hungry, he said, he determined to hold up the next individual he should see.

Fate brought along Patrolman McNamee. The uniform apparently had no terrors for the Mexican, for he made good his promise to himself and caused the patrolman to throw up his hands. It was then, in a moment of indecision as to how to get at the officer's roll, that Walsh rushed in and spoiled it all.

Big Spring of Fresh
Sulphur Water in Sea

Bubbling up out of the ocean from a depth of 125 feet, a big spring of fresh sulphur water, two miles off the coast of Florida and eight miles south of St. Augustine, was recently surveyed by experts of the United States coast and geodetic survey. Long known to residents of St. Augustine and marked on charts, the spring has been the source of speculation for years.

A short time ago the government scientists anchored directly over the troubled waters of the sea spring and proceeded to investigate it. The water sampled was about the same temperature as the surrounding Atlantic, but the tremendous size and force of its geyserlike upwelling was plainly apparent at the surface. The ocean floor surrounding the spring is only about fifty-five feet deep, but the spring rises from a depression which measures more than 125 feet deep.

A strong odor of sulphur pervades the atmosphere around the spring and the force of the water was such that it was only with difficulty that the ship was prevented from being pushed away by the bubbling waters. Samples of the waters at various depths were secured and forwarded to the United States bureau of chemistry for analysis.—Kansas City Star.

Knew What He Wanted

During the recent registration of voters, the polling place being a barber shop, an Irishman entered and the foreman of the registry board addressed him:

"What is your name?"
He looked bewildered and answered: "James Flynn."

"Where were you born?"
It was plain that Flynn was annoyed, but he answered, "Ireland."

"How long are you in this country?"
Flynn, getting more indignant, answered, "Eighteen months."

"Well, as you are only one year and a half in the United States you cannot vote."

"I don't want to vote—I want a shave," was the reply.—Judge.

New York.—Of late, almost every time the Denlys of Newark put the wash out on the line somebody came along between dusk and dawn and took the wash and line away.

William Denly, man of the house, got tired of this and picked one night as a good time to keep a vigil. He put out the kitchen light and stationed himself in the kitchen window, with a revolver.

The hours passed. Finally, at five o'clock in the morning, a man stole silently into the yard, beneath the light of the moon, if there was one, deftly clipped the clothesline and began to fold the wash.

"Halt!" said Mr. Denly, walking out into the night and brandishing the gat. "Thrup yer hands!"

He marshaled the gentleman into the Denly kitchen, summoned Miss

The guest protested, pleaded, begged. He said he was a war veteran. Mr. Denly said that was no reason why he should swipe folks' duds. The guest said he would never do it again, but Mr. Denly was adamant.

Gone Long Time.

And he remained adamant until he noticed his daughter was gone an awfully long time and there was no sign of her return. It was dark out. Maybe he shouldn't have sent her out alone at that time of night.

More time passed. Still no daughter, no police. The situation began to get on Mr. Denly's nerves. The gentleman of the clothesline was quick to perceive Mr. Denly's distress. Probably he felt genuinely sorry for the worried father, but it was late and doubtless time for him to be in bed.

He waited until Mr. Denly got properly agitated and then got up and started to leave. Mr. Denly, his thoughts taken thus suddenly away from the safety of his daughter, protested. He clicked the pistol. The darn thing wouldn't shoot. His guest chuckled softly, bade him a cheery good night, best wishes and so on, and departed.

Five minutes later Miss Denly came back with a cop, and her dad heaved—or is it heaved?—a sigh of relief.

Aerial Stunt Performer Is Saved From Death While Thousands Watch.

Houston, Tex.—A rescue in midair saved Miss Rosalia Gordon of Houston from death while more than 5,000 horrified spectators gazed skyward.

Miss Gordon, an aerial stunt performer, was attempting a parachute leap. When she leaped the upper end of the parachute became entangled with apparatus of the plane and left her suspended 20 feet below.

Diavolo, acrobatic airman, climbed out of the fuselage and hand under hand let himself down to the landing gear. With the inadequate footing, he was unable to drag her back to safety.

Kept Plane in Air.

C. H. Pangborn, the pilot, kept the plane in the air, realizing that an attempt to land would have meant instant death to the girl.

Freddie Loon, a Houston aviator, went up in another machine, piloted by Tommie Thompson, to lend aid. A mile from the ground he changed from Thompson's plane to Pangborn's machine. He then worked his way to the landing gear, but even he and Diavolo could not pull the girl back to the machine.

Loon then mounted to the passenger's seat, and, using the auxiliary controls, drove the plane, while Pangborn climbed down to the landing gear and added his strength to that of Diavolo. Between them they brought the girl back to the landing gear. Pangborn again took command of the machine and brought it back to earth.

The Why
Superstitions

By H. IRVING KING

FALLING OUT OF BED

THAT if a child does not fall out of bed before it is six months old it will never be a bright and successful person, but "will be a fool"—is a common and widespread superstition. Apparently the superstition is a survival from the curious custom of simulated rebirth practiced by the ancients and found today among some savage tribes. Also it lingers today in some remote parts of Europe. Among the Greeks the ceremony was practiced as a means of adoption and any Greek who was supposed to be dead and who turned up alive had to undergo it before he could again be reckoned as among living men. As a ceremony of adoption it prevailed among the barbarians as well as among the Greeks and such is the use made of it today, in certain European regions.

But there are indications that the ceremony was also in a nature of an initiatory rite and as such it survives today among certain African tribes where, until a young child has undergone this simulated rebirth he—or she—is not considered as being really capable of taking part as a member of the tribe, or of being initiated into certain tribal mysteries. A study of the ritual of these various ceremonies of simulated rebirth shows parts which may be considered analogous to a child falling out of bed. With regard to the supposed dead Greek and with regard to adoption the reason for the simulated rebirth is easy to see. But just why the African child should be incapable of full development as a member of the tribe until he has undergone the rebirth ceremony, or the New England child should not be expected to amount to much unless he falls out of bed early in the game—assuming that we are right in regarding the latter superstition as a rebirth survival—it is more difficult to say. Possibly the rebirth ceremony—or accident—is supposed, through sympathetic magic, to add by a second birth to the physical and mental powers given the child at its first birth.

"Smile, and while you smile another smiles; And by and by there's miles of smiles. And life's worth while because you smile."

MAIN DISHES

A GOOD, substantial dish which is not hard to get ready for a good-sized family is Alaskan Dish.

Cut two pounds of round steak into eight pieces for serving. Dice one-half pound of salt pork. Cook the pork, one cupful of minced celery and one large onion in the pork fat. Fry the steak until brown on both sides, add to the rest of the ingredients, blend two tablespoonfuls of fat with the same of flour, pour over the meat and simmer all together for thirty minutes. Just before serving add one cupful of cooked spaghetti and one pint of stewed tomatoes. Serve on hot platter.

Panned Oysters.
Scald one cupful of oysters. When the edges curl, remove them from the liquor. Take one tablespoonful of butter creamed with two of flour, add one cupful of milk and cook until thick. Add one-half cupful each of broken nut meats and chopped celery. Season to taste and add the oysters. Remove the tops from rolls, scoop out the soft part, toast the tops and shells and fill with the oysters. The shells may be well buttered with soft butter before filling, adding to the daintiness of the dish.

Baked Lima Beans and Tomatoes.
Soak a pound of beans overnight, parboil for five minutes or longer to soften, rinse and cook until tender. Add one teaspoonful of salt to each quart of water used. Season a pint of tomatoes with salt and pepper and onion juice. Add it to the drained beans. Put into a beanpot with two thick slices of bacon or salt pork and bake until the bacon is crisp and brown.

Fricassee of Tongues.
Sheep's tongues or small calves' tongues may be used. Take four, cover with boiling water and simmer until tender, adding a few cloves and a small onion; season with salt when nearly done. Remove, cool, skin and cut lengthwise; season well. The next day, roll the tongues in flour and fry in butter and chopped onion until brown. Serve with a brown sauce seasoned with a dash of lemon juice. Serve with hot boiled rice.

PRIMARIES NEXT TUESDAY

Delegates for the National Convention of the Republican and Democratic parties will be elected in Carteret as well as throughout the state next Tuesday, April 22nd. Opportunity is thus given every man and woman citizen of legal age to declare their interest in the future of the country and its welfare.

The real menace lies here at home in our indifference at the polls rather than what is going on at Washington. Hamilton F. Kean, Republican National Committeeman for New Jersey and an outstanding supporter of Calvin Coolidge from the first, has been trying to arouse the interest of the voters of his party directing attention to the similarity of the present situation with that of several times in the past. He recently likened President Coolidge's difficulties to those of Abraham Lincoln. We might take our readers back even further to the time, 136 years ago, when Washington wrote to Lafayette: "The greatest danger to this new republic will be the listlessness of the voters."

Ominous head shaking and plaintive wails are futile. Protesting avails little unaccompanied by action. Our birthright of suffrage—the first rudiment of popular government, has assumed a distinctive listlessness through our carelessness, indifference and selfishness. All too many of us are apparently imbued with that infernal idea "What's the use."

It is the duty of every good citizen in Carteret to belong to a party and to participate in his party activities. The primaries on Tuesday offer you this opportunity by giving you the privilege of assisting in the nomination of those who are to run for office in the final elections. The work of getting good public officials is not all done on election day. It begins in the party primaries and conventions.

Affairs in Washington are not going to be very much different until our "agent" there gets the positive word from home that we are thoroughly disgusted with their failure to support the constructive efforts of Calvin Coolidge. These "agents," our Senators and Representatives, have climbed the ladder of politics into their present high places, kicked the ladder away and disappeared over the wall into that dismal labyrinth of political chaos.

The election polls will be open in Carteret on Tuesday from 7 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night. The Carteret voters should take an interest in the primaries and turn in a big vote, so as to show that Carteret has an interest in national affairs.

There Was a Man Who—

By LAURA MONTGOMERY

work for a fad. Better to buy a plain purse and save your eyes. I suppose you work at the Q?"

Anne had just had her pass punched and she now looked a bit surprised. "Oh, it's not for me, I couldn't spare the time. If I work every spare minute it takes me three weeks and," an unconscious sigh of utter fatigue escaped her, "this is the fourth I've made."

A few more questions elicited that Anne had made one for her sister-in-law, one for Lucy's chum, one for Lucy's daughter, Azalia, and this one she was making for the aunt out West whom Azalia would soon visit. "Azalia thought that her aunt Mina would be glad to have a novelty; these purses cost thirty-five dollars ready-made."

The blunt-tongued lady of the many bundles surveyed the flying fingers. "Don't you pay your board?" burst out the words, then, crimsoning at the tactless query to a stranger, sat back.

Anne's blue eyes swept the red face composedly. "Of course, but, being brought up to work it is not so hard for me. Lucy, sister-in-law, never did anything, not even housework, before she married and the responsibility of a house is very hard for her."

Anne did not mention that she paid a large share of the house expenses amounting to much more than board, and of the constant work that kept her hurrying when home from the city she made no reference. Anne could have boarded where her friend, Ella, boarded in the city, and eliminated the tiresome trip out to Aurora every night, but she knew that her brother's family needed her money.

Of late, however, she had begun to wonder how she had slipped into so strenuous a routine. Quite likely Donald Gordon's chagrin at her refusals to accept his invitations for Sundays had aroused this feeling, for her world of dreams had emerged from the status of vague, shadowy hopes into a world that featured Donald's face. His character was so lovable and frank that she had given herself up to the new, bewildering emotions without a thought as to how she would free herself from her self-imposed duties long enough to be properly wooed.

Other girls in the Burlington office admired Donald, and Anne could scarcely believe that it was slippy little Anne Meadows whom he stalked out for attention.

Perhaps the weariness in the blue eyes was caused by Donald's parting speech as he had unsuccessfully failed to persuade her to spend part of the next day, Sunday, with him in the city.

"I thought I'd meet you at the station and take you to dinner. Then we'd go to the Art Institute, take in the concert there and, if you liked, go to the Sunday Evening club in the evening. I'm an usher there and your seat would be assured."

Anne, remembering the hurried, noisy day in the shabby house in Aurora, felt that she was being asked to step straight into a fairy dream, then she had taken herself to task for her selfishness and gently refused.

"I can't see why you cannot be spared on Sunday when you work all week. Is your sister-in-law an invalid?"

"No, but she doesn't like work, it makes her nervous and—"

"Then Anne, won't you invite me to your home? I've never met your brother and I am anxious to do so."

Anne, slipping the gay beads on the heavy silk thread, pinkened as she reached this point in her unhappy reflections. She seemed to see Donald's puzzled gray eyes regarding her from above the brilliant bar. She had put him off evasively. Once her chum Ella had invited herself to Aurora for Sunday and Lucy had been unpleasant, very. Anne, with her eager helpfulness, Anne with her dreams of service, had degenerated into a shabby little drudge who had forged her own chains. Even the bead purses emphasized her futile efforts, for Lucy had seen nothing remarkable in the manufacture of the three bags and had looked superior when Anne had hesitated at the demand that she make another for the woman out West whom she had never seen.

"If only they did not all depend upon me so much I might go away and have a bit of leisure. I'd love to join Ella and have long, cozy evenings, but I suppose I'm frightfully selfish to think of such a thing. Donald—a mist of tears obscured the beads in the nose too strong light and Anne fumbled for her handkerchief.

Donald had given her his telephone number at the last minute and had asked her to call up if she had changed her mind about Sunday. Anne had decided to broach the subject of a dinner invitation to him if Lucy happened to be in a receptive mood. Trying to think out a suitable sentence Anne was suddenly galvanized into awareness.

"You must have fallen asleep," said the conductor anxiously, as the girl plunged down the aisle. Montgomery had just been called, a town that was a station past Aurora.

When Anne closed her dripping umbrella, hours later, she was worn out. Struggling up the steps, she opened the door with her key, hoping that some dinner had been kept warm for her.

"She's just a nuisance. Think I am going to keep meals hot until this time of night. Fall asleep, indeed—and I, with my weak nerves."

"Lots of girls wouldn't have bothered to telephone, Lucy. Anne seems to help a lot about this house."

Aghast at the petulant tones of Lucy, Anne quickly stepped into the room.

"Nice goings-on. You knew that I depended upon you to finish my blouse for me to wear tonight. Of all the selfish people, Anne."

Azalia piped in pertly: "Anne, I hope that bead bag is done. I want to mail it."

Anne suddenly drew a long breath. Holding out the partly completed bag she said evenly: "I don't believe I'd better work so hard on the trains evenings. I'm rather tired. I'll show you, Azalia, how to—"

"Not for me, thanks. Think I'd spoil my eyes on those old beads?"

"I give you a home and you don't display a bit of consideration for me." Plainly Lucy was contemplating a fit of hysteria, a favorite habit of hers on Saturday nights. That method insured a day of complete leisure for her, Anne trotting about the disorderly house all day Sunday.

Anne slipped away, the discordant atmosphere stifled her, but there was a strange sense of relief beating within her tired little body.

She went into the kitchen and made herself a cup of tea and then decided, fully, upon the course that she had longed to take, but that she had refused because of fancied obligation.

"I am going to board in Chicago and, if you still wish, Donald, I can dine with you tomorrow—"

Donald interrupted with such a glad note in his voice that Anne flushed adorably as she stood in the little booth at the corner drug store.

"I'd just about decided to resign so that I should not be tempted to run after you any more, Anne. A fellow hates to have his girl turn him down for no reason at all."

When Anne, her heart beating quickly, announced her new plans, her brother looked at her wistfully.

"Don't blame you a bit, Anne. You are free to go and I hope you'll be happy. I—" he had paused, but Anne, thinking of the shrewish, pretty face of the discontented Lucy, longed to comfort him.

"If you wish—"

"But I don't," he broke in, kissing the soft pink cheek, "you've been slaving long enough. Perhaps, sometime, dear, there'll be a man who—"

"There is now," confessed Anne, happily, and fled, blushing.

Business Is Business A recently printed story about a stenographer who said she didn't care to work any longer for a boss who was so stupid as not to notice that she was dressed for the matinee, reminded us of an anecdote of Henry Irving and Jessie Millward. Miss Millward appeared at rehearsal one day in a new and dainty dress, Irving noticed it. "Very pretty frock—very pretty indeed," he said. "What is it for?" "I'm going to join a luncheon party as soon as rehearsal is over," she answered proudly. "Go at once, my dear; go at once," was the disconcerting reply. "Don't let the rehearsal detain you. Success for Young Men

Most men are agreed on the underlying factors that contribute to making a young man successful. Many very sound and plain statements about success have been made who were successful.

For instance, Jas. J. Hill, empire railroad builder, said: "If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or not, you can easily find out. The test is simple and is infallible. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as fate, for the seed of success is not in you."

With logical saving there should go hand in hand a sound judgment as to how you can benefit, most as a result of your thrift.

We believe that to establish early in your life a deposit account with a bank such as ours, and through this relationship have it known that your account is acceptable, will mean for you a constantly increasing asset in your business life. We have on our books the deposit accounts of many high-class and deserving young men and we are always glad to welcome others.

Why not come in and let us talk this matter over with you?

168-HOUR NON-STOP FLORIDA RECORD

Light-Six, Already Driven 75,000 Miles, Rolls Up New Record in Seven-Day Run.

A remarkable seven-day, 168-hour, non-stop run of 8,101 miles, just completed at Tampa Florida, by a Studebaker Light-Six touring car, is causing wide-spread comment among motorists in that vicinity.

Eighteen drivers handled the car during the run. Taking out the time required for changing drivers, the Light-Six actually covered the 3,101 miles in 147 hours at an average speed of 21 miles an hour.

Running continuously day in and day out, climbing hills and plowing through bad roads, and forced to idle down in congested traffic, the car's radiator thirsted for only one additional tea-cup of water.

The original owner, Monroe Lazarus of the Tampa Daily Times, drove the Studebaker for 15 months on daily express schedule over his newspaper route, for 68,000 miles. He averaged 5,600 miles a month in the fifteen months.

After 68,000 miles on this gruelling road work the Studebaker was taken in by the Peninsular Motors Corporation, Tampa, who ran it 7,000 miles, making a total of 75,000 miles the car had been run. Then without turning up, the traded-in Studebaker was started off on the record-breaking run.

No adjustments were necessary during the test. The motor and car were in excellent running condition at the termination of the non-stop flight. This record, it is said, has never before been approached in the South.

WOODBIDGE PARK LOTS SELLING FAST

Every Lady Visiting Property Will Receive a Souvenir.

The opening of Woodbridge Park by White & Hess, Inc., exceeded the highest hopes of the developers, and a record was set by the fact that everyone who saw this remarkable property, bought at least two lots.

Considerable enthusiasm was manifest on all sides by the magnificent view obtained from Woodbridge Park, which is claimed to be the highest spot in Middlesex County. Road making, by the army of experts from Newark, is progressing and the development presents an attractive appearance. It is expected that the entire four hundred and forty home sites will be sold before the summer actually arrives.

The sale will continue this week end when every lady visiting the property will receive, as a souvenir of the occasion, a lady's handsome hand bag.

BASEBALL SEASON TO BE OPENED BY LOCAL AGGREGATION NEXT SUNDAY

CARTERET FIELD CLUB TO OPPOSE PLAINFIELD CRESCENTS SUNDAY

Mayor Mulvihill Will Toss Out First Ball After Which Umpire Will Shout "Play Ball" —Crack Infield To Play.

The famous lid of the old tea-pot dome of baseball will be gently lifted off to start the local baseball season next Sunday afternoon, when Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill will throw out the first ball to start the game between the Carteret Field Club and the Crescents, of Plainfield, at Brady's oval. The umpire will shout "play ball" and the game will be in high pitch of excitement as the Carteret boys will have the best outfit representing the borough in history.

Manager Dennis O'Roarke and Henry Staubach have worked strenuously in getting everything in shape for the opener. Either "Dick" Early of Curley Sullivan will be assigned to the mound work, as Sullivan has very high prospects in starting. Captain Charley Brady will take his post behind the plate and show the fans his usual good playing.

The Plainfield team is an organization which has established a great "rep" for themselves on the diamond and they have been seen in Carteret for the past few years. This team has an all star combination including the best players in the state, who will fight fiercely to win the engagement.

With the battery section of the local team almost decided upon the infield will consist of players who helped to put Carteret on the "baseball map" last season with the good playing. "Buck" Scally, the reliable, will cover first base, while "Andy" Dametsch will play at his right. Dametsch made a big hit with the fans last year and much is expected of him during the coming campaign.

There is a possibility that "Bill" Coughlin might not be able to report. "Monk" Mesick will play third base.

The outfield will be populated by two local stars and a Perth Amboy man. Jacobs is not familiar on the local lineup while Dzurilla and Cutter are. The out-of-town man will chase the flys in left field, while Dzurilla will be at center and Cutter in right.

A record-breaking attendance is looked for and the management has prepared for this by constructing a three row grandstand on the first base side of the diamond. The management makes an appeal for the fans to support the team throughout the season and if they do good games will be able to be seen.

Umpire Kelly, of Rahway, will take charge of the games behind the bat. The Field Club will either play the Duponts or the Belmonts on the following Sunday.

Two base hits—Zilag, C. Comba. Struck out—by Trusko 9, by Chester 9. Bases on balls—off Trusko 5, off Chester 3. Triple play—S. Trusko to Zilag to J. Trusko to Simborski.

JUNIORS ALMOST SCORE SHUTOUT

Hold Lincolns Scoreless For Eight and Two-Thirds Innings And Easily Win.

By playing errorless baseball the Carteret Juniors took real revenge on the Lincoln A. C. by handing them a real thrashing in a practice game at Brady's oval by a score of 16-3 last Saturday afternoon. After the losers were held scoreless for eight and two-thirds innings, Pinky Chodash reached Harrigan for a hit into left field and scored two runs. The inning was not over until another run crossed the plate.

Harrigan took care of the mound work for the winners and was never in any trouble until that final inning and then it was just "a matter of kindness." No more than eight balls were hit into the outer garden.

The Juniors played excellent throughout the contest and a great season is looked for. "Red" Lynch made a wonderful one handed catch of Conroy's line drive toward second in the sixth inning. Casha also made a great one hand catch in the seventh while he was running in center field, and assisted in a double play afterward.

BOROUGH BOWLERS DROP STIFF MATCH

Donnelly and Peterson Are Beaten By Larson and Simonsen, Friday.

The Perth Amboy bowlers, Myer Larson and Henry Simonsen, were a little too good for "Bill" Donnelly and "Lew" Peterson, of the borough, but representing the Rahway Elks, on the Argonne lanes, Hobert street, Perth Amboy, last Friday evening. The local pinners were beaten in a two-man match of ten games by a margin of 193 pins.

The winners piled up a total of 3,718 pins, while Donnelly and Peterson hit for a total of 3,525. Donnelly made the highest individual score of the match with a 224, which was his only double century mark. Larson hit four doubles and Simonsen three.

QUIBS' OF SPORT

By WILL U. TELL

AT LAST

The long wait for the opening of the Carteret baseball season is finally over and the lovers of baseball will be able to see the Carteret team in action again as they hook up with the Crescents, of Plainfield Sunday. There is a great number of people who care for nothing but to witness a game between the Carteret ball tossers and some worthy opponent.

Of course you know that in order for the managers of the Carteret representative outfit, the Carteret Field Club, to book first rate teams to come to the borough for a week end game, they have to guarantee these visitors a larger sum of money than the weaker teams demand.

The main lack on the part of the borough baseball fan, as a general rule, is that he doesn't contribute or in plain language, pay to see the games at the local oval. Many persons skip around the field and dodge the collector, but what does it all lead to at the end? It means that good games will not be seen and then this slacker gives the kick that the games are not worth seeing.

The spirit of the sport participators of the borough has been pretty well on the level and if you want to witness good baseball games at the local lot this season do not be afraid to pay a quarter or more!

A grand stand has been erected at Brady's oval and there is enough sitting space. It is also hoped that there will be a baseball field entirely closed in, before long. This will keep those out who refuse to donate.

A GOOD TIME

There is every reason to believe that on the evening of June 7 Boyle's big fight arena will be the scene of another world's championship contest. Boxing promoters, realizing the importance of the New Jersey State Elk's Association holding their convention in Jersey City on June 6 and 7, figure that a championship contest would be one of the big drawing cards and an added attraction for the thirty thousand or more visitors, who will invade Jersey City during these two days.

The State Reunion Committee, of which District Deputy to the Grand Exalted Ruler, A. Harry Moore, is the chairman, have heard these rumors and are naturally favorable of any such proposition.

Just who the contenders will be is not known at this time. For some reason or other the promoters are not generally letting it be known that they contemplate holding boxing matches during the convention period. It is known that Tex Rickard is not vigorous in these bouts.

The Roosevelt A. C. will not take a stand against the fast Landings next Sunday afternoon on account of a misunderstanding of the Landing's booking manager. The game will be played Sunday, May 4th, at New Brunswick.

The Borough High School Varsity baseball nine expects to be fully equipped with uniforms soon, as well as the other needs of the national sport.

Passaic Wonder Team To Play Perth Amboy

Unusual interest is being centered in the appearance in this part of the state of the Passaic High School wonder team of this year at Perth Amboy, against the Riversides of that place, on Easter Monday, April 21. This is the first showing of the world-famed basketball champions in Central Jersey and the Perth Amboy auditorium should be filled to the rafters.

With the Passaic team there will positively appear on Easter Monday Meyer Krakovitch, Milton Pashman, Nelson Rhorback, of this year's first five and the renowned DeWitt Keasler, four times all-state man and considered the greatest scholastic forward in the country. The leader of this year's undefeated five, Captain Sammy Blitzler, will round out the aggregation.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS
The High School varsity baseball nine beat the Lincoln A. C. in a practice session yesterday afternoon at Brady's oval by a score of 8 to 5.

Carteret Juniors Open Season Tomorrow

The Carteret Juniors will start their baseball campaign tomorrow afternoon at the P. & R. diamond in Port Reading where they will play the Mohicans, the leading junior nine of that place. The locals are confident of winning because of their improved form in all ways. Their hitting and fielding has a great improvement over last season.

The Port team is a slugging outfit and it will take a lot of hard work to out guess them.

Superior A. C. Defeats Columbia Midgets 29-6

On Saturday afternoon the Superior A. C. Midgets defeated the Columbia Midgets by a score of 29-6 at the orchard. B. Toth and Mefinski took turns on the mound while A. Toth and Lyman caught at intervals for the losers. The winning pitcher was Miglecz and Miller caught.

ALL STARS TO PLAY AT TREMBLEY SUNDAY

Roosevelt Field Club Challenges the All Stars For Game on Saturday May 16

In order that the people of Grasselli Park can feast their eyes on a good team, the All Star B. B. C. will journey to Trembley on Sunday, and do battle with the local combination representing that place.

The All Stars are bubbling with confidence, and expect to make a record this season that will stand.

The Roosevelt F. C. have challenged the All Stars for a game on Saturday, May 16th, and in all probability the game will be arranged.

Scout Troop No. 2 Under New Leadership

Local Scout Troop No. 2 has been reorganized under the leadership of Mr. Robinson of Rahway. The troop had been temporarily idle due to the absence of a leader. Mr. Robinson has brought new life and ambitions into the troop.

Mr. Robinson is a resident of Rahway but works in one of the plants here. He has had much experience in scouting, formerly being scoutmaster of a troop in Rahway. He told the boys that if they were willing he would try to make Troop No. 2 the best drilled troop of the state. There will be a great deal of knot tying, signaling and first aid work done at the next meeting in preparation for all the boys to pass their tests and become first class scouts. Reappointment and election of officers will soon take place. There is keen competition among the scouts for office. The scout who brings in the most new members will be given a medal.

FORD DELIVERS 205,735 CARS

Last Ten Days of Month Average 10,800 Ford Cars Per Day.

Retail deliveries of Ford cars and trucks in the United States during the month of March reached the record breaking total of 205,735. Nothing in the history of the automobile industry compares with this remarkable record, and a significant feature developed during the last ten days of the month when sales averaged 10,800 Ford cars and trucks a day. This is the best indication that the spring buying rush has begun and that under this enormous demand the production of the company will be taxed to the limit in an endeavor to meet the heavy flood of orders.

ANOTHER FIGHT FOR DICK LYNCH

Local Scrapper To Meet Roy Reed of New Brunswick at Perth Amboy.

ALSO OTHER BOUTS OF MUCH INTEREST

Tiger Nelson To Scrap With Jay Lanahan in Main Go—Delaney Also to Box.

There is plenty of swingin' scheduled on the boxing card arranged by the National Sporting Club of Perth Amboy to be held at the Perth Amboy Auditorium next Thursday evening, April 24th. There will be a host of borough fans there and their main reason for going will be to see "Dick" Lynch swap punches with Roy Reed, of New Brunswick, in a six-round bout. Young Delaney also from town, is expected to meet Mickey Marvel of Matawan, in another six-round go.

Lynch's opponent has established a record of slamming others around the ring and getting away with it. He is fast and has a little knowledge of the ring that is worth knowing.

No matter how good the other boxer is Lynch steps into the square with the intentions of finishing him and as a rule he gets his way.

The main event of the evening will stage Tiger Nelson, a Perth Amboy man, with Jay Lanahan, of Staten Island, for ten rounds. In the semi-final eight rounder Paddy Mozier, of Lakehurst, will meet "Vic" Clifford, of Panama. Two borough boys will be mixed in as many sixes and the other setto will have Art David and Tommy Salles banging at each other.

St. Joseph Juniors Postpone Engagement

Due to the fact that the St. Joseph Juniors are not able to secure players for their game with Port Reading Mohicans for Easter Sunday at Port Reading the local team postponed the contest until Sunday, April 27th.

It is believed that the Rovers, of the borough, will play the Mohicans at the latter's diamond instead.

MOHICAN A. C. WINS FROM AVENEL TEAM

Depolito Allows Losers Only Three Hits While Team-mates Collect Eleven.

On Sunday the Port Reading Mohicans opened their season by taking the scalps of the Avenel Juniors to the tune of 10-4 on the Port diamond. Mike Depolito of the Indians allowed only three hits, while Semak, his adversary, was touched for eleven bingles by the hard-hitting "Maes." Depolito was in mid-season form, striking out thirteen Avenel batsmen and holding them runless and hitless for six innings.

The game was crowded with flashy plays, the Mohicans excelling. The playing of Barry at second and Barna at third was faultless, both making hard stops and circus catches. Andrew Barna was elected captain of the Port team just before the game. This Saturday the Mohicans will hook up with the Carteret Juniors on the P. & R. diamond.

White to Prevail Next Two Seasons

Fashion Writer at Winter Resorts Tells of Modes in Limelight

Writing of the styles that promise to prevail this spring and summer, a fashion correspondent in the New York Times, who has made the rounds of winter resorts, says:

Although this is a season of beautiful colors, white is of course worn extravagantly in every possible form and fabric for every sort of occasion. Nothing is ever more youthful and lovely and flattering, and nothing else so well forgives any slighting in quality or workmanship. The very simplest frock of all white, so it be correct in style, with proper shoes, hat and other accessories, is always refreshing. This season's frocks in white are a delight and their variety is amazing.

As sports suit with the trim little skirt plaited or flaring, tailored, the conventional blouse and coat is the first and most stable item in the wardrobe. This is severely plain this season, of flannel, faille, roshanara or fine twill, and the silhouette is absolutely curveless. The overblouse, which is a part of the suit, is a simple thing of silk or crepe, held into a wide hip belt, and its sleeves are long, short, or none at all.

The outfit beloved of the flapper and copied by many a senior is the sports skirt and sweater of entertaining design. These, with flat beach shoes and a cloche or tan top, put the young woman in the most becoming and comfortable harness for the day's contests and diversions.

Quite as popular are the one-piece frocks, opening in the front, with wide collar turning away from the neck, long or short sleeves, belt and pockets. Pockets, in fact, appear to be de rigueur on all the morning dresses, white or colored, and they add a note of tailored smartness—even to the silk frocks. Small buttons and stitched bands also are used on some of these informal dresses.

Next to white, the gentle shades, something warmer than the pastels, in blue, green, maize, apricot, salmon and peach, are lovely in the one-piece frocks. In some of the latest models white is embroidered in one of these colors—a one-piece gown of white poplin, for example, trimmed with bands of needlework or stitched embroidery in color.

Contrasts Are Startling.
In occasional models these contrasts are startling. In one the tunic blouse is of maize-colored crepe—the flounce, knee length, of white crepe, in fine plaits—and the square neck and wristbands of the long sleeves are trimmed with embroidery in maize silk.

A striking model in the one-piece gown is made of a fine, heavy quality white flat crepe. An arabesque pattern of black cloth cut in wide strips is applied over the entire frock. With this is offered a parasol of white silk, on which a great wide-winged blackbird is stamped, the handle and frame being of light bamboo; a cloche of white taffeta and straw, and shoes of white kid with narrow buckled straps of patent leather.

A decided novelty in the white dresses is one of muslin embroidery and silks. The upper part of the frock is a tunic of eyelet all-over embroidery, cut in Russian blouse style and almost knee length. The straight sleeves are short to the elbow, and about them and the edge of the tunic is a stitched band of white silk of which the foundation slip is made and finished with a deep flounce of narrow plaits.

Other unusual combinations of material are shown in these softer daytime frocks—silk and flannel, cloth and crepe, and embroidery on any sort of fabric.

A fashionable model is a little slip-over sleeveless dress of coarse open-work white canvas of square mesh. The side of the bodice is open to the waistline, meeting under the arm, and the neck is cut in a deep V. Under this is worn a shirt of white silk, crepe de chine or fine batiste, and with the dress is worn a narrow belt of white leather.

This sleeveless, smart and thoroughly easy little frock is quite the rage and is being made in light twills, ribbed silk and poplins in pretty colors, with the under blouse of sheerest white, and with sunshade and shoes matching the dress in color.

Usually the hat is a small close shape in white with a bit of the color introduced with needlework.

Knitted or Woven Dresses.

days. One stunning model, uncommonly smart, is of black silk jersey-like weave. The skirt, attached to an underbodice, is straight, with deep hem, and gathered slightly full at the waist. The overblouse is embroidered in a solid, all-over pattern, in white silk, which also finishes the short elbow-length sleeves with a deep cuff border.

An overblouse and a slip of pale yellow satin crepe is embroidered in white flous. A white flat crepe is heavily embroidered in jade green. A maize-colored one-piece crepe gown has the straight long-waisted bodice and sleeves embroidered in self-toned silk, and the skirt is plain to the knee, finishing in a plaited flounce.

A frock of hydrangea blue is embroidered in the same shade and one deeper, and both yellow and green in the lighter shades are popular. The combinations of black and white are popular and some are exceedingly smart.

Some very chic things are seen among the odds and ends, so to speak, of outing togs. One is the white cloth waistcoat, cut on the lines of the hostler's waistcoat worn in the heavier sports suits. It is sleeveless and severely tailored, and is worn with a white sports skirt and tailored shirt most suitably for golf and tennis.

The greatest variety is shown in sports skirts. The plain tailored or slightly gathered and the plaited skirt are equally good. White is the rage, of course, but many snappy styles are shown in plaids, checks and stripes, especially stripes that are conspicuously wide and are more modish in black and white than in colors. Roman striped materials are seen on many of the overblouses as a trimming, sometimes as a knotted tie, under a sailor collar.

Sweaters are a conspicuous feature of the sports costumes, decorative and comfortable as they are for so many occasions. They are all of lightweight wool or silk, knitted loosely, or in jersey ribbed weave, and the most popular designs are of white on which a pattern is traced in colors. The wildest flights of fancy are illustrated in many styles now in vogue.

Hats Are Unique.
Hats for the present season are engaging, and some are unique. An amusing little model is hand-crocheted of fine white wool, as a table mat would be done, but in the shape of a cloche, the scalloped edge shading the eyes. A green ribbon is tied around the crown and is knotted at one side. Many hats are shown in fine white straw, in taffeta, ribbon or other material.

Some lovely shapes are shown by a prominent milliner in wide ribbon sewn together to form the dome-shaped crown and covered entirely with tiny ribbon flowers fastened flat. A pretty and suitable type of hat is fashioned of silk and straw combined in alternating strips, light, summery and new. Tams and the soft feather-weight felts are for beach wear and boating chiefly, and the fancy, more elaborate hats, in both the close and wide-brim models, are those worn for dressy afternoon wear.

Gloves are a negligible quantity, being worn little, but some new styles are seen in white or yellow chamois, suede and kid, some quite richly embroidered, and most of them in the Biarritz or gauntlet type.

"Intellectuals" Think Dirt Is Mark of Genius

The evolution of the "intellectual genius" can best be studied at close range in Greenwich Village, New York city, the congregating point for the sex-stuff writers and their friends.

In one of the cross streets off the lower end of Washington square is a "coffee house" equipped with low divans covered with pieces of ragged old carpet, and chairs and benches cut down to bring their users close to the floor. The lighting is subdued, the air heavy with cigarette smoke, and an open fireplace heats in warmth, for its log is painted red, and the flame an effect in color from a concealed electric bulb.

"They come in here, many of them," remarked the proprietor, who has kept at close grips with his sense of humor, "and I have often revolted at their dirty collars, unwashed necks, long, streaky hair and generally untidy appearance. But it is not because of the scarcity of soap or the lack of baths. To be unclean, shiftless and conspicuous through that pose is as studied a part as taken by the Broadway actor who makes up for a character in a play.

"Johnson, Swift and others of their period set a precedent for literary men by arraying themselves in simple clothing which they wore out. But they kept clean. They did not carry their contempt of the mob to the extent of going about unwashed. Down here in the village the initiators of the Mid-Victorian and earlier intellectual giants decided that if they would go about in dirty linen and clothing they might attract attention."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Member of Lily Family Grows in Arizona Desert

Arizona deserts have their own flowers, in places the supply is abundant, the growth large, the flowers when in bloom of marked beauty, the big yucca and the sotol, both members of the lily family, showing beautiful bloom on tall and stately stalks.

One of the interesting desert growths is the water cactus, so named because of its great stalk, from five to ten feet high and as large in circumference as a barrel. It has a heavy pulpy covering from which it is possible to squeeze goodly amounts of water, and Indians and travelers are quick to turn to the cactus when water supplies are short.—Columbus Dispatch.

His Question

"Well, sozz!" remarked Mrs. Johnson, in the midst of her reading, "I never knowed that before!" "Never knowed what?" asked Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge.

"Why, it says here in the paper: 'Benns and other small objects can be removed from a child's nose by rubbing red pepper on his upper lip.'"

"Hain't he got to poke some beans up his nose first?"

Passing the Buck

The new cook gave some pork chops to a relative who called while the lady of the house was out paying a few calls.

"The missus will miss them," warned the parlor maid. "Oh, I'll blame that on the cat." "We have no cat."

"Then be a good girl," urged the new cook earnestly, "and let the canary out of its cage."

POLICE GET DOPE AND PRISONERS IN SPAC-TACULAR EASTER RAIDS

STEINBERG TRACT SECTION, SWOOPED UPON BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES—QUANTITY OF COCAINE CONFISCATED.

DISORDERLY HOUSE OPERATIONS CHECKED

Cornbread's Place On Warren Street Nets Six Men and Three Women—Boss Given Nearly Six Months in Workhouse—Others Are Fined.

While the citizens of the borough were seeking Easter cheer over the week end the local police were busy seeking to apprehend dope runners, to run down questionable houses, speak-easies and other resorts. The raids were well planned, Chief of Police Henry J. Harrington keeping a tab on the places for some time. The raided places are located in the newly acquired territory in the Chrome section, where colored folks sifted out from Philadelphia found temporary haven in the secluded Steinberg tract.

Just fifteen minutes past midnight on Saturday, when the police encircled the two houses that they had on the eye.

Eva May Wilson's place at 157 Warren street, was the first of the resorts to be invaded. Here a quantity of cocaine was confiscated and empty cocaine packages were also taken as evidence. The police say that they have found about fifteen packs of the dope.

Arraigned before United States Commissioner Pfaff at Elizabeth Wednesday Mrs. Wilson was held in $1,500 bail. Her husband's bail was fixed at $500. Two material witnesses in the case were also held in $500 bail each.

The second raid netted nine prisoners, and attracted considerable attention as the arrested parties were rushed to police headquarters. This time it was Herman Green's resort which is known as "Cornbread's place," and adjoins Mrs. Wilson's establishment. The place is said to be of ill repute. Arraigned before Recorder Thomas L. Slugg, Green was sent to the workhouse for five months and twenty days. He is said to be the "works" of the house. The eight persons, five men and three women found in the house, were given varied fines. All are colored. Herman Riggins was fined $25. Failing to pay the fine he was sent to the workhouse for thirty days. William Wilson was fined $25. George Manning paid $5. Charles Walker was assessed a similar amount and George Pullen was fined $25. The three women were fined $25 each. They were also ordered to leave the borough at once. The women said that they had just arrived from Philadelphia.

"Mr. Butler came there and he put us out," said one of the trio, referring to the raids on disorderly houses in Philadelphia.

Coroner Hay, who viewed the body, said that the man died of "alcohol poison" and gave permission for burial.

The man is believed to be a native of Poland. Every effort to locate any relatives or friends by the police have been futile. WOMANN ESCAPES LOCAL POLICE

Mrs. Eva May Wilson, Negress, Held On Dope Charge, Escapes Through Window

CAUGHT BOARDING NEW YORK TRAIN

Peter Jones, Colored, Said To Have Aided In Escape, Given Ninety Days In Jail.

The police were given a thrill Monday when they found that Edna May Wilson, colored, held in the lockup for federal authorities on a charge of dispensing dope among the colored folks of the borough, vanished from headquarters. Her flight was discovered when one of the police officers on duty at the desk went upstairs and found the woman missing from the room. The machine of Chief Harrington's staff was set into motion and within an hour Mrs. Wilson was located at Rahway just as she was boarding a train to depart for New York. Officers Connolly and McNally made the arrest.

Mrs. Wilson was given a blanket to make herself comfortable in the witness room on the upper floor. This was done because of the fact that all of the cells in the lockup were filled with five or six prisoners in each as a result of the week end cleanup. Mrs. Wilson, shortly after being put into the witness room, saw the light of liberty. She noticed that the window faced the rear of the headquarters and she would not have much difficulty in making a getaway. Quietly she fastened the blanket to the window and lowered herself without difficulty.

While Mrs. Wilson was making her getaway, Peter Jones, a friend, kept watch to see if anyone approached. Later she and Jones departed. Jones was also apprehended with the woman and when arraigned Monday night before Recorder Slugg he was given ninety days in the workhouse for assisting the woman.

The lockup over the week end resembled a busy thoroughfare of a big city. The cells were opened and closed until all of them were filled to capacity. Late last night standing room in a cell was at a premium.

A large number of prisoners were arraigned before Recorder Slugg on various charges Monday. Claude Farrow was fined $10 for assaulting his wife. He told the judge he was merely hugging his wife too tight. Alex Schineck, Peter Toth, Paul Dusanak, Robert Picken, Sandor Kovacs and Patrick Ossin were fined $6 each; Andrew May and Frank Vito, charged with holdup, were given ninety days in the workhouse. William Tinsley was also given ninety days for cutting up two fellows on the street. George Lukacs was fined $10 for speeding with his bus through the borough. Alex Oliver, James Smith, Harry Bank, James Larkeson and Louis Horvath were fined $5 each.

Ten games of euchre were played, following which a beautiful selection of prizes, including hand embroideries, flowers, perfumes, kitchen utensils, etc., were distributed. Following the game, the younger folks danced to the tunes of the Harmony Social Club orchestra. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. According to the arrangement committee the affair was a financial and social success.

The prize winners were: Robert O'Donnell, E. I. Falconer, Alfred Edmonds, Mrs. Frank Pirrong, F. Colgan, Daniel J. O'Rourke, Louise Schnitzer, Mrs. J. Adams, Ella Eggert, W. The annual convention of branch office managers and representatives of the Wheeler Condenser and Engineering Company which has been held in the borough since Tuesday, will terminate tonight with an annual banquet scheduled to be held at the Colonia Country Club at Colonia at 7 o'clock. There has been considerable interest manifested in the convention by the guests who came from many parts of the country.

The morning of the opening day was devoted to general assembly. Luncheon was had at one o'clock. Papers were read from 2 to 4:30 P. M., followed by a historical review of the Wheeler Condenser business which was given by E. W. Christie. "Recent improvements in Condenser Design" was the topic of E. L. Cahoon and J. M. Bell spoke on the Lonsdale Condenser at the conclusion of the day's session.

On Wednesday, the second day of the convention, papers were read from 10 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. D. K. Dean then spoke on heat transmission. H. W. Wetjen described the Alberger Jet and Barometric Condensers. H. C. Carlton talked on steam air pumps, which closed the morning session.

After luncheon which was served at one o'clock, papers were read from 2 to 4:30. F. B. Cando spoke on the oil industry heat exchangers and condensers. R. D. Spear spoke on test of a Wheeler Distilled Water Unit and T. D. Tyne talked on steam jet air pump troubles in the field, which concluded Wednesday's session.

Yesterday the entire group spent the day inspecting the Wheeler plant at Newburgh, N. Y. The following program was scheduled for this morning and afternoon: Papers 10 A. M. to 12:30 P. M.; Alberger Boiler Feed Pumps and Tubines, R. C. Williams; Alberger Heaters and Expansion Joints, F. F. J. Swenson; Tube Sales, J. L. Kretzmer; luncheon, 1 P. Two Local Banks Show Considerable Progress

The First National Bank has just issued its statement of condition as of March 31, of this year and shows considerable increase in its resources since the last statement. The bank has now resources of $2,236,853.36 as compared with $2,035,770.55 shown in the last report. The bank has capital stock of $100,000; surplus earned $50,000, net undivided profits $11,912.88 and deposits of $2,052,640.48.

The Carteret Trust Company's statement shows also marked increase in business. The resources of the new institution are $526,956.59. The bank has a paid in capital stock of $100,000, a surplus fund of $25,000. Time deposits at the bank are $103,998.99 and demand deposits of $196,194.78.

Also paving of Sherott street from Pershing avenue to Leick avenue; establishing and changing grade on Wheeler avenue between Randolph street and Maple street; paving Wheeler avenue between Randolph and Maple streets and finally an ordinance authorizing the borough to erect a municipal structure.

The council was somewhat baffled when two out of eight bidders submitted the bids for the house recently acquired from the Wheeler Condenser and Engineering Company, which will be removed at once to make place for the new borough hall site. Paul B. Harrington and Michael Kovacs bid for the house $1,200 each. Following some discussion, the council on advice of the mayor, rejected all bids and agreed to advertise for new bids. The other bidders were: Aaron Rabinowitz, $1,151; Dr. Maurice Goodman, $1,000; Joseph Szitor, $800; Max Greenwalt, $875; Andrew Zack, $810 and Elmer Brown, $1,175.

Councilman Frank Andres, chairman of the streets and road committee, brought to the attention of the council suggestion that the triangle at Union and Burlington street be utilized for a swimming pool for the children. Mr. Andres asked permission to make the necessary water and sewer connections. The swimming hole will be known as the "Fountain of Youth" where the children of the borough will have an opportunity to bathe during the summer months in the open. There will be about ten inches of fresh flowing water. Three sprinklers will furnish the children with shower baths. The pool, it was said, will be open for use on or about June first. Councilman Andres' suggestion received immediate approval authorization was granted him.

The Canda Realty Company's request to pass ordinances allowing them to lay walks on Arch street was granted. The matter was referred to the borough engineer and attorney. Councilman Child refused to approve a bill of Attorney Strenlau for $100.

The street commissioner was authorized to make repairs on the Maple street sewer. Chief Harrington and his police aides were praised for the clean-up work done in recent days. The council was told that the telephone company has as yet failed to install the required police boxes. Councilman Child argued in behalf of an automobile for the chief of police. The fire companies were allowed to take part in the legion parade, take the apparatus and will also be furnished with a band. The poor committee was authorized to dispose of the war bacon at any price. Councilman Child refused to pass on a $500 note asked by the treasurer to pay current bills. "Aren't you going to pay any more bills," queried Mayor Mulvihill of Councilman Child, and the argument over the "$100,000" started all over again.

The daylight saving time was adopted.

Why She Liked Rainy Days

By JANE OSBORN

© 1924, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Sue Stowe was a matchmaking sister. For some reason she seemed to fear lest her brother Martin should be left blooming alone on the family tree, a withered and crabbled dried apple of an old bachelor, so she began when she was eighteen and he was twenty-two bringing home every girl she knew who was, according to her own opinion, the kind of girl that Martin might like. Her possible sisters-in-law were numerous and varied. But to Martin there was a monotony about them—that is, until he met Edith Nicholas. Edith was different. By this time Martin was twenty-five and Sue was a senior in college. Edith, also a senior in college, came home with Sue on a holiday and for four or five days the progress of the friendship between Edith and Martin seemed to be following the line of a glorious crescendo that would broaden out into a real and glowing love. Sue always liked to think of love in this way—as something glorious and ennobling that transfigured those it rested upon. She was quite convinced that when Martin did become actually engaged to Edith he'd give up some of his "horrid little" tricks, like dumping his pipe into the open fireplace, regardless of whether or not there was a fire on the hearth—entering the house by way of the kitchen entry and carrying on long and hilarious conversations there with the old Irish cook, who retained her County Cork brogue in spite of her twenty years in the Stowe kitchen.

All was going beautifully as far as the friendship between Martin and Edith was concerned and Sue was watching for indications of the budding of real love. But the powers that rule the weather had other ideas. Martin and Sue and Edith had planned to motor along the River road to a little tea room where they might sit and watch the setting sun and drink tea. She did hope that Martin wouldn't ask for ice cream—it was so crude to eat ice cream when convention dictated tea.

But it began to rain by two o'clock, and by half-past three, when they had planned to set out, there was a steady downpour.

"We just can't go," Sue told her brother when he came into the living room through the kitchen entrance.

"Gosh," said Martin. "I left the office early just to go. The rain won't kill you. It's good for you."

Edith smiled as winsomely as possible.

"Oh, I just can't endure to get my feet wet and I think it's so dismal being out in the rain." She had rather wanted to have Martin remark that her feet weren't much to get wet or something to that effect. But, instead, he looked at her as he might have looked at his own sister.

"You can wear rubbers and a rain coat, can't you?" he asked. "We'll be dry in the car—you'll only have to make a dash for the tea house."

"Oh, let's just stay here where it's nice and comfy, and have a hand of dummy bridge," suggested Edith.

"A man doesn't like to play bridge in the afternoon," he said. "I'll be running on back to the office, and get some more work done," and before Sue could make her protestations effective he had disappeared again through the kitchen passageway.

It must have been cleverly arranged by fate, for just as Martin Stowe was going down the street he encountered Mardy Hale. Mardy Hale was walking and she looked very gay and debonair in spite of the downpour. She wore a navy blue raincoat and a rainhat stuck with a bit of a red quill, and she carried a dainty blue umbrella with a red handle. Martin even noticed that her rubber sandals fitted her oxfords to perfection. The rain had brought out the delicate rose tints in her face and the mist had made her blue eyes bluer than the breast of a blue jay.

Martin recalled that on other rainy days he had seen this same girl walking as now, perfectly dressed for the inclement weather and apparently not the least bit inclined to give up her unusual occupations because of the rain. So somehow a very peculiar thing happened. In the niche in his mind where Martin had for a few days been keeping a rather hazy image of Edith with the limpid brown eyes and ash blonde hair the vision of this rainy-day girl now appeared.

When Martin returned home for dinner instead of experiencing the thrill that he had the night before just to sit next to Edith he glanced at her critically, as he might have at his own sister. He thought her eyes were dull and her face pale for lack of outdoor air. She had probably stayed home all day because she didn't want to go out in the rain.

It was not difficult to arrange an introduction to the rainy-day girl. It happened one rainy morning on the street corner when a neighbor, Mrs. Hawkins, who knew them both, presented Martin to Mardy Hale.

Martin called on his rainy-day girl, choosing a rainy day for his call. He found her about to go out and at her suggestion started out on a walk through the spring mist with her. It was just a pleasant sort of drizzle, all warm and humid, that brought up all sorts of fragrances from the earth and trees and hedges.

When he suggested that she permit him to take her out to the River road tea house some afternoon in his car she suggested that they go the next rainy day.

"There is never a crowd on rainy days—and I like it."

Martin was delighted. He thought resentfully of the time he had spent with Edith—Edith whom he had come very near to liking—Edith whom he had nearly kissed. How much sweeter would be the kiss of his rainy-day girl—and how wonderful to have the first kiss all misty with rain. Perhaps on their way home he could get her to take a little stroll down by the river and there under the protection of some tree or other he could have that kiss—all cool and fragrant and rain covered.

Mardy Hale agreed to the walk by the river and just as Martin had piloted her under the protection of a grandfatherly old elm tree and was about to start the preliminaries of the kiss the patter of rain became louder and just as he had put his arm around her trim little rain-coated shoulders and was about to snatch the kiss he coveted the rain descended so forcefully that elm leaves and branches did not hold it back. The kiss that Martin had thought of as being humid was actually very, very much saturated with rain and there were huge drops of rain glistening on Mardy's nose and fresh pink cheeks as she looked up at him and smiled.

"I wouldn't have let you do that—If it hadn't been raining," she said. "But somehow it seems different out here—" Mardy hadn't a very definite idea of what she meant nor had Martin, but both were delighted with the little speech. To make the kiss quite all right Martin asked Mardy to marry him, and before they had got back into his waiting car on the River road Mardy had said she would.

"I hope we shall have a rainy day for the wedding," said Martin, a week before Mardy was to become Mrs. Stowe.

"It won't be so much matter now," laughed Mardy. "I have a charming going-away frock. You know, Martin, I really think I ought to confess. The reason I always went out in the rain is because all last winter and spring I didn't have anything decent to wear except my rainy-day outfit. So whenever I went anywhere I chose a rainy day." She saw the look of disappointment in Martin's face. "But, of course, I like rain," she fibbed. As a matter of fact she disliked going out in the rain as much as Edith.

Winnebago Indians Were Fond of Fancy Clothes

As clothing the early Winnebago wore a breechclout, moccasins, leggings and robes of dressed skins. Simple fabrics of bark fiber and rushes were probably also worn. The advent of the French trader added to their dress, but at all times we find both men and women combing their hair straight back, parted in the middle and tied behind their heads in braids, later decorated by ribbons, writes the Wisconsin Magazine.

Thomas Anderson, who spent a winter trading with them on the Rock River in 1802, said that they were the most filthy, most obstinate and bravest people of any Indian tribe. When the French came they added blankets to their garb, white for winter and bright colors for the summer.

In the governor's reception room in the state capitol at Madison the surrender of the noted Chief Red Bird, which ended the Winnebago war in 1825, is cleverly depicted. Red Bird, the prisoner, is pictured as having one side of his face painted red, the other interlarded with green and white, clothed in a Yankton suit of dressed elk skin, perfectly white and as soft as a kid glove.

It consisted of a jacket, ornamented with a fringe of the same material, the sleeves being cut to fit his finely-formed arms and the leggings also of dressed elk skin, with a fringe of the same material and enriched with blue beads.

On his feet he wears moccasins, and on each shoulder, in place of an epaulette, is fastened a stuffed red bird. Around his neck hang strands of wampum of various lengths, and he holds a war pipe in his hand, ornamented with dyed horse hair and feathers of birds. Here we have the Winnebago dandy.

Chinese Movies Ancient

The prince of Wales, addressing a convention of motion picture producers, called attention to the fact that the Chinese over 3,000 years ago had motion pictures and exhibited them at entertainments, says the Detroit News. The Chinese had two forms of motion pictures. In one the pictures were painted on long rolls of paper similar to the photographic films of today and these were slowly drawn out in a lantern-like box where they were viewed through a slit or eye port.

A commoner type and one of probably much greater antiquity was made by arranging a number of pictures on square or oblong wooden or pasteboard disks, stringing these on two endless ropes or twine and moving them round two end cylinders. The disks were often placed one on the other four or five deep.

Optical illusions similar to those made in the modern projection theater were obtained by Chinese showmen long before the Christian era by carefully regulating the speed of the motion pictures and the lighting of the theaters.

He Was Willing

An impecunious tenant had not paid the rent of his room for several months. "Look here," said the landlord, "I'll meet you half way. I am ready to forget half of what you owe!" "Right. I'll meet you. I'll forget the other half."

Mystery in Letter "O" Found in Windsor Castle

High up on the wall, near the Norman gate, at Windsor castle, is a stone upon which is engraved the letter "O." The letter is about five inches in diameter, and deeply cut in the hard stone. How did it come there and for what does it stand?

Tradition says that it records the height of Oliver Cromwell's giant porter, who was stationed at the gate-house to keep away intruders. Seeing that the letter is eleven feet from the ground, this was a "tall" statement and even when it is explained that the roadway has been lowered, it leaves one with the impression that this "Round-head" must have been a giant, indeed.

The probable explanation is that this huge fellow, having little else to do but parade up and down, passed his spare time in carving the initial letter of his master's name.

This gigantic porter was a great character, and frequently preached in the parish church of Windsor, much to the annoyance of the incumbent, who, in those days, had to keep a still tongue in his head. The strange thing is that this servant of Cromwell kept his position at the Restoration and, curiously enough for a man of his religious scruples, treated as one of his most treasured possessions a large Bible given to him by "Sweet Nell of Old Drury."—London Tit-Bits.

Maya's Calendar Dates Back to Aug. 6, 613 B. C.

The earliest dates in New World history are August 6, 613 B. C., and December 10, 580 B. C., by the present system of marking time, the Peabody museum of Harvard university announces in making public the final solution of the chronology of Mayan dates.

The formal New Year had originally stood at the winter solstice just 12 days after the recorded date, December 10, 580 B. C., when the calendar was inaugurated. Other dates strongly emphasized in Mayan records are March 21 and September 23, the points of the equinoxes, and December 22 and June 23, the points of the solstices, says the Detroit News. Three famous tablets at Papeque carry the calculation backward from September 23, 430 A. D., the day of the autumnal equinox, to 3273 B. C. in an effort to reconstruct the conditions of the natural year at the epoch of the Mayan era.

Fortune in Graveyard

Ivory is one of the most valuable products of animal life, used for innumerable necessary articles by both civilized and uncivilized peoples, but only a small part of it is ever turned to use. Few of the elephants that have been killed or taken. And there are laws now that prohibit the slaying of these beasts merely for their ivory. But where do all the dead elephants go? Very few are found who died a natural death, and the reason for this is that whenever an elephant feels old age and death coming upon him he starts on a trip to the "burying ground" of his species. He usually leaves in plenty of time to live until he arrives there. And there, surrounded by the countless skeletons of elephants before him, he lies down to die. It is asserted by scientists and hunters that the man who comes across this cemetery of elephants will find much wealth in the tusks that lie with the bones of ages of elephants.

Materialism

"Ours is an age of materialism," said Professor Stephen Duggan at a Columbia reception. "Our critics judge a book by its sales. As for the judgments rendered by our public—well, it's like the story."

"The late Sir Henry Irving was playing 'Hamlet,' and between the acts two business men discussed the show. 'Wonderful!' said the first business man. 'Wonderful, ain't it?'"

"No, it ain't," granted the second business man. "Could this here Sir Henry Irving buy damaged raincoats at $5 a dozen and sell 'em for $17 apiece? That's what I call wonderful!"

Not Old Age, Surely

A minister met a parishioner and asked him the usual question: "Weel, John, how are you today?" "Gey weel, sir; gey weel," replied John, cautiously, "if it wasna for the rheumatism in my right leg."

"Ah, weel, John, be thankful; for there is no mistake you are getting old like the rest of us, and old age does not come alone."

"Auld age, sir," said John. "I wonder to hear ye. Auld age has naething to do with it. Here's my lther leg just as auld, and it's quite sound and sople yet."

Green Stuff

"Are the hens laying any better today?" queried Mr. Subbubs upon returning from a hard day at the office. "Not a bit," answered his wife. "I consulted a poultry specialist this afternoon."

"What did he say to do?" "Feed 'em green stuff." "What kind?" "He didn't specify." "Well, let's feed 'em egg-plant."

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

SPINACH is one of the greens which should often be found on our tables.

Stewed Dandelions.

Cut and wash a peck of fresh dandelions, drain and put to cook in boiling water to cover. While they are cooking prepare a roux as follows: Melt a tablespoonful of butter and add one tablespoonful of flour, then add two cupfuls of milk with a pinch of soda. Stir to a smooth sauce, drain the dandelions and pour over the sauce, season well to taste and beat in a well-beaten egg. Remove from the fire and turn into a vegetable dish. This is sufficiently nourishing to take the place of meat. With cheese it makes a most substantial meal.

Potato Puff.

To two cupfuls of hot potato add a teaspoonful of melted butter, beat until light and creamy and add salt and pepper, one cupful of milk and two well-beaten eggs. Beat hard for a full minute and pour into a buttered baking dish. Bake until brown and serve at once, before it has a chance to fall.

Chicken With Asparagus.

To two cupfuls of cold fowl cut into small cubes add one cupful of cooked asparagus cut into small pieces. Add one tablespoonful of butter, two hard-cooked eggs rubbed to a paste, one cupful of milk, salt and pepper to taste. Lay the chicken and asparagus in the sauce, heat slowly and cook five minutes. Serve hot.

SHOW THE RIGHT

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I RECOLLECT Old Henry Smith, Remember Hiram Brown; No better folks to neighbor with There are in any town. They hated sinners, hated sin, Idolatry, and doubt; When things were wrong they started in At once to point them out.

And yet there was a difference In Henry Smith and Hiram; Both had uncommon common sense, And couldn't stand a lie; Old Henry hated good and strong Whatever wasn't white; But Hiram not only saw the wrong But also saw the right.

Old Henry was the kind who pass Upon the other side; 'But, fallin' man or fallen lass, Old Hiram always tried Not only sinners to condemn And scripture to repeat, But tried to lend a hand to them To help them to their feet.

Well, lots of us are Henrys, yes, And some are Hirams, too. Condemnin' sinners ain't, I guess, Not all there is to do, But lend a hand, and help along, And do your little mite— Not only try to show the wrong But try to show the right.

A Vivacious Engine

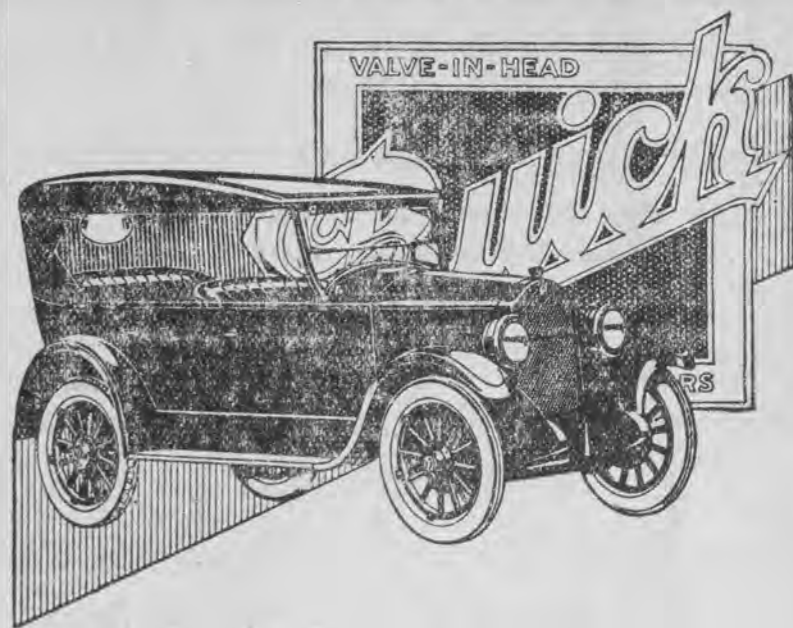

An engineer was giving evidence in a case in which a farmer was suing a railway company for damages resulting from the death of a cow which had been run into by a train.

The farmer's lawyer was heckling the engineer, and kept reverting to his pet question, which was:

"Now, tell me, was the cow on the truck?"

At last the engineer became angry, and answered the question:

"Well, if you want me to tell the real truth, the cow was bathing in the stream the other side of the track. But the engine saw her, leaped off the rails, dashed over the bank and, landing right on top of the cow, strangled her to death without a word."—Milwaukee Journal.

Buick Value—The Measure of Automobile Values

People now-a-days measure automobile values on the basis of Buick value. How often you hear such remarks as: "It's not nearly as good as Buick". People make these remarks both consciously and unconsciously. Consciously, because they actually know Buick value either from their own experience or that of their friends; unconsciously, because for twenty years Buick has been the accepted standard of the industry. Good reasons, both, why you should own a Buick.

Jeff Davis' Tribute to President Grant

From the new ten-volume edition of the letters and papers of Jefferson Davis, lately issued by the Mississippi department of archives and history, the Review of Reviews reprints the following letter written in 1885:
"Dear Sir: Your request on behalf of a Boston Journalist for me to prepare a criticism of General Grant's military career cannot be complied with for the following reasons:
1. General Grant is dying.
2. Though he invaded our country ruthlessly, it was with open hand, and as far as I know, he abetted neither arson nor pillage, and has, since the war, I believe, shown no malignity to Confederates, either of the military or civil service.

Therefore, instead of seeking to disturb the quiet of his closing hours, I would, if it were in my power, contribute to the peace of his mind and the comfort of his body.
"JEFFERSON DAVIS."
We do not know the identity of the "Boston Journalist," says the Boston Herald. The request for the criticism represented no doubt the enterprise of an ingenious and enterprising newspaper publisher. But of the quality of this letter, written by the former president of the Confederacy four years before his death, there can be no doubt. Reading it today stirs agreeable emotions.

First U. S. Currency Easily Counterfeited
So easily counterfeited were the first lots of paper money issued by the United States government in the sixties that spurious bills flooded the country, and countless astute business men were victimized. Finally, to balk the criminals, a book called "Heath's Infallible Government Counterfeit Detector at Sight" was published in 1870.

Natives in Nigeria Get Riches From Evil Spirit

"Life in Southern Nigeria," by P. Amaury Talbot, tells an entrancing story of the magic, beliefs and curious customs of the strange people who live in this land on the shore of the Gulf of Guinea.
Much of the information was gathered from Chief Daniel Henshaw, the native political agent for the district, who for more than 20 years has been a faithful servant of the government, and whose life would form a thrilling record of adventure and hair-breadth escapes.

Wasted Effort
Baby was going on at a great rate and the father of the family finally demanded to know what the youngster was crying about.
"He wants his own way," responded the child's mother.
"Ah?"
"Ah and he can't have it."
"Yes, he might as well get that idea out of his head at the start," said the old man, grimly.

Some Helpful Hints for the Sportsmen

When a match gets wet and the head is not so soft that it drops off, there is still a chance to save it. Rubbing it lightly through the hair will dry it in an amazingly short time. Matches can be waterproofed by dipping the heads in paraffin or varnish.

HARRISONS TO PLAY LOCALS 1ST GAME---DICK LYNCH WINS ANOTHER BOUT

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO BE MADE BY FIELD CLUB TO OPEN NEXT SUNDAY

Rain Halts Game Last Week With Plainfield—Harrison Hudsons to Come Here This Sunday—Fast Game Anticipated By Locals.

The rain had a lot to do in the postponement of the opening game of the Carteret baseball campaign. The Carteret Field Club was all set to oppose the Crescents, of Plainfield, at Brady's oval and a lot of other things were going to happen too. But the rain only spoiled the works for a week.

Mayor Mulvihill will step to the pitcher's box and throw the first ball that will start the game. The Harrison Hudsons, of Harrison, N. J., will be the drawing card and they are boasting of a better record than the Crescents for last season's earnings.

The plans haven't been changed to any degree and the following players will probably be seen on the borough lineup:

Pitcher—Early.
Catcher—Brady.
First base—Scally.
Second base—Dametsch.
Third base—Mesick.
Shortstop—Urbanski.
Left field—Jacobs.

The Harrison will have their best possible lineup for the game, while Joe Kelly, of Rahway, will officiate as umpire.

Let's go!

MOHICANS DEFEAT CARTERET JUNIORS

Game Featured By Errors, Juniors Making Most—Trusko Gets Four Hits.

The Carteret Juniors opened their season with a defeat at the hands of the Port Reading Mohicans at the P. & R. diamond at Port Reading last Saturday afternoon, the final count being 8 to 6. Despite the fact that Gerve Harrigan pitched a good game for the losers, the latter threw the game away by fumbling and throwing the ball wild.

The Port team was not able to get as many hits as the locals, but they supported their pitcher in fair style. Joe Trusko was the leading hitter of the game with four bingles out of as many trips to the plate.

DRAKE FIVE UNABLE TO BEAT PASSAIC

Drop Interesting Game By 49-33 Score—Beizel Plays With Drake Team.

The Drake Business College basketball season was brought to a close last Wednesday night at the Army court, Elizabeth, when the Drake passers tried in vain to vanquish the fast "Wonder Team" of the Passaic High School. At the end of the game Drake was on the wrong end of a 49 to 33 score.

"Bill" Biel, a local boy, played for the Elizabeth quintet and performed in great style, by scoring ten points and jumping center.

Beizel's record for the season with the Drake outfit was good. He scored 77 field goals and 28 fouls for a total of 162 points. Beizel won second honors by a big margin, the next lowest man scored 80 points. Slinger, the winner of the honors, piled up a total of 246 tallies, but played a greater number of games than Beizel did.

Columbias Lose 9-7

The Columbia Midgets were beaten in a fast game at Brady's oval last Monday afternoon by a score of 9-7. A Toth played well for the losing team and also reached Kamonowski for four hits out of as many trips to the plate.

QUIBS' OF SPORT

By WILL U. TELL

GOOD PROSPECTS

High school baseball seems to loom pretty high in the minds of many of the sport enthusiasts and these fans constantly watch for the results of the games which are played. It happens that the Hillside High School, of Hillside, has been slamming their opponents good and plenty in three games played so far this season. The outfit dropped the opening contest of the year, but has been going strong lately and cleaned up two straight.

You might wonder what this has to do with the price of onions, but any way the borough has some influence in it, for a local man is in charge of the athletic doings at this high school and is especially working the baseball squad to cop the Union County honors. Coach S. Dubow has good prospects in making his team take the honors and if the players go at their present clip through the season there will be no question about it.

SOME SPEED?

The "Exterminator," of Carteret, with Mel Riedel up nearly made Man o' War's racing record look sick last Tuesday afternoon when both jockey and horse were having a stiff workout on Roosevelt avenue. As "Exterminator" was traveling at a moderate pace a downpour of rain occurred, and as a few drops touched the horse, away he went with Mel behind. In less than two minutes they reached the stable after traveling over a course of about a mile long. Some speed, eh?

ALMOST SURE

The weather man predicts good weather for the week end and it is expected that the borough baseball outfits will take advantage of it by playing either on the local or out-of-town lots. Last Sunday the rain prevented the Carteret Field Club and the Carteret All Stars from opening their seasons.

These teams are real competitors on the diamond and every one is sure that both will start their schedules this Sunday afternoon. The Field Club will play at Brady's oval and the Stars will probably travel.

SPEEDWAYS OPEN AT PERTH AMBOY

Are Scheduled To Lock Horns With Fast Mohican Juniors Sunday Afternoon.

The fast St. Joseph Speedway baseball nine, under the leadership of Joe Sexton, are all set to open their campaign with the Port Reading Mohicans at Port Reading next Sunday afternoon. This local team will probably be the best junior nine in the borough, after a few games are played, which will put the players in trim.

Harrigan will be handed the mound assignment and he will pass the ball on to Trusko, who will receive. At first base LeRoy will show his stuff and Cromwell will play second. Casey will be at short and Sexton at third.

The outfield will consist of Comba, Yorker, and the right field man will be chosen from Lynch, Balerich and "Bill" Sexton.

The Speedways boast of having the best infield of the borough and desire challenges from any junior team which is capable of putting up a good game. After this Sunday the team will only play Saturday baseball.

Liberty's Schedule Arranged For May

ROVERS TROUNCED BY YANKS, 12 TO 6

Migletz Fans Fourteen Rover Batters and Scatters Hits.

The crack Carteret Yanks swamped the Rovers, both teams of the borough, at the Cresote field, last Monday afternoon, the tally being 12-6. Smolinski and Pierce started for the victors as Joe Trusko, and J. Sexton shined on the losing side. Young Migletz fanned fourteen of the Rover batters.

Jack Dempsey Likes Four-Wheel Brakes

"One in my sphere of life has been to take every precaution he can to avoid injury," said Jack Dempsey, champion pugilist of the world in a recent interview. "An accident of any sort is likely to end my fighting days, and since my bread and butter come from the strength behind the good old wallop I am lucky enough to carry, I have to be careful. So you see, I don't want to take any chances while I'm out on the road behind the steering wheel and every safe-guard I can have I want. That's one of the reasons I have taken such a fancy to my four-wheel brake Buick. I'm not going to worry much about any misfortune crossing my path in touring. My big red bus will hold its own in any kind of a pinch."

REED NO PUZZLE FOR DICK LYNCH IN PERTH AMBOY BOUT LAST NIGHT

Local Boy Wins All Six Rounds and Has Opponent On Verge of Knockout—Young Delaney Also Wins Over Mickey Marvel.

ROOSEVELT A. C. TO PLAY HERE SUNDAY

Will Probably Stack Up Against Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. Outfit at Liebig's Oval.

If plans come out all right the Roosevelt A. C. baseball machine will open their season at Liebig's oval next Sunday afternoon with the Y. M. C. A. nine of Elizabeth.

Manager Donovan will have a crack lineup available for the contest and promises a good battle.

The grounds are being put into shape and after a little hard work is put in on the diamond it will be one of the best in the borough.

Carteret Junior Nine On Verge Of Breaking

The Carteret Juniors baseball outfit at the present time is making a desperate attempt to keep going. With another junior team to play on Saturday afternoons the Juniors will lose their best players. A game is scheduled with the Woodbridge Juniors for tomorrow afternoon at Woodbridge.

Carteret Yanks Booking

The Carteret Yankees desire games with light junior teams of the borough. Write to J. Comba, 7 Union street, Carteret.

Another one for Lynch. Old Dick slammed his way to another victory in the ring last night over Roy Reed in a six round battle at the boxing show given by the National Sport Club of Perth Amboy, at the auditorium in that place. A great number of fans attended the exhibition and two knockouts were seen as Tiger Nelson was sent to the canvas in the fourth round by Jay Lanahan, of Staten Island. This bout was the feature go of the evening. Young Delaney of the borough was also a knock'em dead winner as he clipped Mickey Marvel in the second round of their scheduled six round affair.

The Dick Lynch-Roy Reed setto was a corker as it was the fastest and most interesting scrap there. The town lad had little difficulty in warding off his opponent for an entire six round victory and had Reed on the verge of a knockout in the sixth. The New Brunswick boy did not have enough luck to come out ahead in at least one round.

Young Delaney, the promising borough boxer, is going along at a great clip to date and is improving every fight.

The remaining bouts of the show went the limit.

So We Were.
Though you warned them, young folks won't forgive you if you don't sympathize with them when they get in trouble. So you always do. We were all young, once.

MARY ALDEN FINDS GOWNS GIVE POISE

Says Women's Morale Depends Upon Being Fittingly Dressed.

"Marjorie Benton," said Mary Alden, speaking of her role in "Pleasure Mad," the new Metro picture, "was a very happy woman until her devoted husband became attentive to an attractive widow. A busy and self-sacrificing mother, Marjorie had never bothered much with clothes. She constantly wore those 'sensible things' which are usually so unbecoming. Aside from the fact that she always looked sensible, she felt sensible, and acted accordingly. There wasn't the slightest suspicion of frivolity in her makeup.

"Unfortunately she did not understand the psychological effect that various types of clothes have on their wearers—with which most women are familiar. There is the 'grande dame' manner that goes with a formal gown—the carefree spirit that one dons with sport clothes—and the delightfully feminine air that comes with a soft silk frock. Had Marjorie bothered about her personal appearance, her husband would not have noticed the other woman in the case, and she would have been spared much unhappiness.

"Although men are either impressed or prejudiced by a woman's clothes, they usually shrug amused and superior shoulders when women begin to talk clothes, and refuse to admit the obvious.

"But more important than the effect clothes have on men, is the effect they have on the women wearing them. It is almost impossible for a woman to be at ease and enjoying herself when she feels that she is conspicuous because of an inappropriate or unbecoming costume. She is uncomfortable and for that reason is less attractive to everybody with whom she comes in contact. On the other hand, the assurance that she is becomingly dressed and shod, gives her a poise that leaves her mind free for whatever she is interested in—be it dancing, business or hiking, and she is comfortable and contented.

"Clothes play an important part in our lives and whether or not we admit it, we all are conscious of it. Of course, it is ridiculous to overemphasize their importance, but almost equally ridiculous to ignore it. When one takes into consideration the fact that we are so often judged by our appearance, and that our clothes are a big item in our appearance, one begins to believe in their importance. Many women think it necessary to spend outrageous sums, while it is only necessary to pick becoming color schemes, or a suitable style—and the trick is turned.

"The role of Marjorie Benton illustrates forcibly the change that a becoming outfit can make in a woman's appearance. A dress that brings out all a woman's good points and hides her worst ones, can make her look ten years younger and almost as many times more beautiful. That is just what the proper clothes did to Marjorie—but had she worn them all along, who knows whether there ever would have been a picture called 'Pleasure Mad' for Reginald Barker to direct and for Louis B. Mayer to produce—and—rather important to me—to appear in?

"It took a woman, Blanche Upright, to create the idea, and every woman who was fascinated by her novel, 'The Valley of Content' will love it in its screen form as 'Pleasure Mad.' 'Pleasure Mad' with an all star cast will appear at the Majestic Theatre, matinee and night, on Wednesday, April 29, and at the Crescent Theatre, matinee and night, on Thursday, May 1.

New Medals Provided For Gas Co. Awards

President Thomas N. McCarter, of Public Service Gas Company, has provided a medal to be awarded to employees of gas companies who save by the prone pressure method of resuscitation the lives of those who become victims of gas asphyxiation. The medal will be of bronze, the size of a silver dollar, with the resuscitation method depicted on one side and the name of the recipient on the other.

The significance of the McCarter medal, as applied to the gas field, is substantially identical with that of the Insull medal, as related to the electric industry in cases of resuscitation of victims of electric shock. Any employee of a gas company, which is a member of the American Gas Association, who saves a life, is entitled to consideration for the medal.

The medal will be awarded through the accident prevention committee of the gas association in those cases where it is determined the honor is merited.

At the Newark Theatres

Shubert's Theatre

"Top Role," the musical play just produced by William Caryl, which will be at the Shubert Theatre, Newark, lays claim to many distinctions, but probably the one that will really startle the public is the assertion that its debutante chorus will speak every word clearly.

Thousands have at various times enjoyed the tuneful music, gorgeous costumes, elaborate scenery and beautiful girls of musical plays without really knowing what it was all about. Now comes this producer with an idea that a real plot, set to music and spoken and sung with such clear enunciation that each situation is as well defined as any in spoken drama, will have its own peculiar appeal. It has meant days and nights of tireless work and endless patience but the seemingly impossible has been accomplished and now for once no one will leave the Shubert and say "it was a great show, but what were the songs about?" "Top Hole," with costumes newly from the hands of the designer and scenery that fairly sparkles will be seen here for one week commencing Monday, April 28th, with a cast that is headed by Lynne Overman and contains many notables, including Clare Stratton, late prima donna of "Caroline," "Chu Chin Chow," "The Little Whooper," and other notable Broadway successes; Beatrice Curtis, Mary Milburn, Leah Winslow, Nellie Graham-Dent, John Daly Murphy, Walter Walker, John Dwyer, Harris Gilmore, Colin Campbell, Jack Young and Charlie Brown.

Broad Street Theatre

William Hodge scored a notable success on the opening night of "For All of Us," in New York, eight months ago. That everybody admitted. Only one or two critics, however, were farsighted enough to realize that in this great American drama written and played by Mr. Hodge, which comes to the Broad Street Theatre next week, they were witnessing a success comparable only to "The Fool."

Mr. Hodge with his fund of rare humor and delightful wit plays the part of Tom Griswald, an old Irish laborer, to perfection. By a peculiar circumstance this horny handed son of toil is introduced to the household of a wealthy financier, whose troubles are legion. How they are solved by the simple piety, wholesome philosophy and gentle teachings of Griswald, forms the basis of a play which has brought laughs and tears to capacity audiences for many months.

Winsome Florence Mason and the veteran Frank Losee are the outstanding members of the brilliant cast, which includes also Marie Abbott, Belle Murry, Frederick Howari, Frank Burbeck, Echlin Gayer, Robert Middlemass, Philip Dunning and Rita Sherman.

Miner's Empire Theatre

In the ludicrous strife between Grogan and Krousemeyer at Miner's Empire Theatre next week, Sunday matinee April 27th, there will be a touch so human and natural that "The Alley" will seem a real neighborhood while Billy Watson and Clarence Wilbur fordard their battles with the "Beef Trust Beauties" as onlookers. Watson's appeal to an audience has always been irresistible and lovers of old time, substantial burlesque—clean and still burlesque—are likely to welcome "Beef Trust Billy" with the same fervor that has greeted him every season since the Columbia Wheel was formed twenty-one years ago. Everybody knows why Watson calls his show the "Beef Trust"—but has toned down his ideas of pulchritude to form lighter weight, but still substantial, ensembles of singing girls and dancing specialties. Pearl Turner and Olive DeClair will sing the prima donna roles and another pretty girl will be Frances Russell, dainty vocalist, Edgar Bixley will display his powerful voice in various interludes and Harry West, leading man, will step into some intricate and skillful dancing displays. Week Sunday matinee May 4, the attraction will be "Monkey Shines."

No Escape

Brother Johnson had labored through a long, perspiring evening to convince his colored brethren of the terrible fate that remained in store for them if they remained unsaved. He concluded: "And the wicked shall be cast into outer darkness; and there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Jackson arose from his seat and demanded, "What about me, Mr. Johnson. I ain't got no teeth."

Leaning far over the pulpit and shaking a lean, bony finger at the aged sinner, Brother Johnson said tersely: "Never you mind, Mr. Jackson; never you mind. Teeth will be provided."

"Jack"

If you were presented with all the money that's in circulation in America, not counting what's stored away in the treasury and the federal reserve, you'd have nearly $5,000,000,000. This is the latest report.

That's only $46 for every man, woman and child. With this small amount of money, along with a system by which bank checks take care of 95 per cent of all transactions, the country does a yearly business estimated at $350,000,000,000.

In the list of ten greatest inventions include "credit."

Phone Company's Land Appraised at Hearing

Showing by witnesses that the fair market value of all its land in New Jersey, without buildings, is about $1,074,000, the New York Telephone Company completed the first step in offering testimony before the Public Utility Commission on the value of its New Jersey system in support of its application for new local telephone rates. This phase of the inquiry was conducted by Edward W. Beattie, the company's tax attorney, by introducing the testimony of local real estate experts who had made appraisals of the telephone company's land. The witnesses were cross-examined by former Senator Thomas Brown, counsel for the Utilities Board and Frank H. Sommer, who made his first appearance as counsel for the State League of Municipalities in the New Jersey telephone inquiry.

Real estate appraisers gave testimony last week on the bare land values of the company's properties in the following places: Elizabeth, $101,000; Passaic, $30,000; Perth Amboy, $30,000; Montclair, $50,000; Ashbury Park, $57,400; Long Branch, $10,000; Plainfield, $10,000; Leonia, $3,300; Red Bank, $19,125, and Carteret, $15,000. Hearings will be resumed on Monday of next week.

Dies While at Prayer

Mobile, Ala.—While kneeling in prayer in a Methodist church at Mobile, Mrs. Sarah Haas, ninety-six years old, fell over and died in a few minutes. Heart disease caused death.

His Lesson Went Wrong

The teacher was trying to impress on the children how important had been the discovery of the law of gravitation.

"Sir Isaac Newton was sitting on the ground looking at the tree. An apple fell on his head, and from that he discovered gravitation. Just think, children," she added, "isn't that wonderful?"

The inevitable small boy replied: "Yes, miss, an' if he had been sittin' in school lookin' at his books he wouldn't never have discovered nothin'."

Operates as Flames Rage

New York.—While a patient was undergoing an operation upstairs, firemen fought a blaze in the kitchen of Dr. Julius Lempert's hospital, at New York city. Not until the fire was out was the doctor informed of the fire.

He Was Satisfied

The prince of Wales at an informal dinner was behaving so naturally that some of those present forgot the distinguished company they were in. Presently a speaker arose and began an oration. "Gentlemen—" he started. Then he paused and his face colored. "I beg your royal highness' pardon," he said in confusion. "Carry on, sir," laughed the prince. "I'm quite content to be called a gentleman."

Fair Play

A woman has just learned that her colored workwoman, Aunt Dinah, had at the age of seventy, married for the fourth time.

"Why, Aunt Dinah," she exclaimed. "You surely haven't married again?" "Yessum, honey, I has," was Aunt Dinah's smiling reply. "Yessum, as ofen as de Lawd takes 'em, so will I."

Hand Organ Monkeys Are Ancient.

The Guenon, a monkey which is the companion of Italians who roam the streets with hand organs, is said to be of the species from which the ancients derived their knowledge of the simian tribes because their features are shown on the monuments of old Egypt.
