Officer Donahue Spies Stolen Rahway Auto

The police arrested at 7 o'clock Tuesday night three colored men, a half an hour after they had stolen a Ford automobile from Jacob Zuckman, of 37 Main street, Rahway. An alarm received at local police headquarters from the Rahway authorities was dispatched to all the patrolmen on duty. Officer Donahue noticed the license number and halted its occupants. The trio first denied that the car was stolen; contending that it was their machine.

The car was driven by Ernest Green. With him were Robert Rice and Peter Jones. The automobile and the men were turned over to the Rahway police.

Auto Kills Horse; Injures 2 Occupants

The horse owned by Joseph Sobar, of 69 Louis street was killed at the corner of Central and Pershing avenues by the automobile driven by Charles Horvath, Jr., of Central avenue at 8 o'clock Sunday night. The force of the machine was so strong that the animal died almost instantly. Sobar was driving the wagon to which the horse was hitched. With him was Angelo Rocco and both were hurled to the ground at the time of the collision.

WATER CASE AGAIN HEARD

Judge Relston Announced He Would Consider Request to Refer Matter to a Special Master To Take Testimony.

DECISION IS EXPECTED SOON

New Rate Should Affect The Borough of Carteret and 200,000 Other People in Middlesex County.

At the conclusion of a hearing in the Middlesex Water Company's increased rate application pending before the Public Utilities Commission, Judge Relston in the federal court at Newark announced he would consider the request to refer the matter to a special master to take testimony.

Frank Bergen, attorney for the water company told the court the company's application has been pending before the utility commissioners for seven months. Thomas Brown, of Perth Amboy, the commission's counsel, consented to having the case referred to a special master. Both sides submitted a group of several names.

Attorney Bergen told the court that twenty-six towns, including among them the Borough of Carteret, would be affected by a new rate, indirectly affecting 200,000 people and directly affecting about 45,000 people.

LEGIONAIRES AT DINNER FETE

Men and Women of Local Post Hold Pleasing Event at Carteret Inn Last Night With Attendance of over Fifty Guests.

NEW OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Get-Together of Legionaires Is Big Success—Pleasing Musical Programme Is Enjoyed By All, Following the Dinner.

A most delightful get-together banquet was held by the Roosevelt Post No. 236, American Legion, and the Ladies' Auxiliary at the Carteret Inn last night, with an attendance of over fifty guests. A pleasing musical programme was featured following the dinner.

Howard Marcy gave several solos of popular songs which were thoroughly enjoyed. He was accompanied by the piano by Miss Lillian Gillis. Miss Emalyn Rodney sang two brilliant songs which won considerable applause.

The installation of officers then followed. Joseph Edgar performed the installation. In making several brief remarks he said the officers should protect its good name, its good purpose, not to allow class or distinction and hold each comrade as equal and uphold the policy of justice, freedom and democracy. Commander Slugg following the installation outlined the plan to be pursued by the legion and urged cooperation and aid between the men and women.

He urged plans for Armistice Day, dedication of a new home, Memorial Day educational program in public and parochial schools. It is aimed to award special prizes for a best essay. The proper use of the flag was advocated by the commander by the distribution of pamphlets.

The need of a survey of all ex-service men in the borough was asked by the commander. Welfare of the borough was among the topics spoken of by Mr. Slugg.

"We must aid the work of the library and make a big success of it," pleaded Mr. Slugg at the conclusion of his remarks.

Thomas Jakoway then sang several brilliant solos.

The installation of the Ladies' Auxiliary then followed. This was done by Mrs. Ludlow, the state president of the Ladies' Auxiliaries.

Past Commander badges were awarded. One went to Francis J. Coughlin, another to Edward Dolan and the third to Charles Rapp. The presentation was made by Commander Slugg.

The guests were Mrs. Walter King, Miss Emalyn Rodney, Miss Lillian Gillis, Joseph Price, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Slugg, Charles Kuhlman, Joseph Edgar, Miss Jennie Cook, Mrs. Ludlow, state president of the Legion Auxiliaries; Frank Haury, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Coughlin, Oran Meltzer, John Barna, Edward Lloyd, Edwin S. Casey, Clifford Cutler, Benjamin Garber, Edward Dolan, Holger Holmes, Fred Ruckriegel, John Chomowitz, Mr. and Mrs. William Hagan, Thomas J. Gray, Mrs. Valentine Gleckner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gleckner, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wellund, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poll, Clayton Young, Harvey Young, Fred Gunther, Julian Pollak, Howard Marcy, Mrs. Walter Vonah, Mrs. J. RAPID PROGRESS BY REPUBLICANS

Commissioner William H. Walling Tells of Accomplishments—Says Republicans Pave More Roads at Club Meeting.

Speaking at the meeting of workers of the Carteret Republican Club Tuesday night, Street Commissioner William H. Walling said that the Republican administration has laid more square yards of streets in one year than has been built by the Democrats for a period of four years. The improvements, he said, were made chiefly on the request of taxpayers who by petitions to the council urged the sidewalks, paving or curbs. "The people have more faith in the present administration and that is the reason why they petition us to make improvements," Walling said.

He related in detail the accomplishments of the Republican party in the last two years. Through the efforts of Mayor Mulvihill, he said the freeholders are building the bridge on Leick avenue; lights were installed in the Boulevard section and through the efforts of the Republicans it is proposed to widen Washington avenue and lay sidewalks as far as the fast line.

"We have accomplished a great deal within a short time. We secured the stop of the trolley at East Rahway, we have erected safety beacons on the important thoroughfares and otherwise have done everything possible to help the borough," Mr. Walling said.

Jewish New Years Is Observed in Borough

The celebration of Rosh-ha-Shanah or the Jewish New Year started last Sunday at sundown and was universally observed by Jews, Sunday evening and Monday all day at special services in the local synagogues.

JAIL DELIVERY FOILED BY DOG

Canine Attacks Prisoners When They Overpower Deputy Sheriff.

REWARDED WITH STEAK

Youngstown, O.—It has been truthfully stated that a dog is man's most faithful friend. Deputy Sheriff George Callahan of Mahoning county has reason to vouch for the truth of the statement.

Paul Lyden, a Republican, was elected to the office of sheriff in 1921, assuming office on January 1, 1922.

He is a great lover of the canine family, and when a friend presented him with a police dog puppy early in 1922 Paul immediately naturalized him by naming him after his Republican idol, Theodore Roosevelt, and soon "Teddy" was a real deputy sheriff, although not on the pay roll.

The dog was quickly taught to keep watch on prisoners; to make friends with no one other than company selected by the sheriff, said company, of course including the various deputies about the jail.

On the night of September 17, Deputy Sheriff George Callahan went into the jail to check his prisoners and see that they were locked up for the night. He had no sooner entered the cell block than he was set upon by seven colored prisoners, three of whom were awaiting trial for grave offenses. Fortunately he left the outside door open, something that he rarely had done previously. The prisoners grabbed him and attempted to take his keys and weapons from him. He put up a battle, but was rapidly getting the worst of the scrimmage against the heavy odds.

Dog Attacks Ringleader. "Teddy" who was reclining on a rug in the sheriff's office had heard the sound of the scuffle. He ran into the cell room, and sizing up the situation, Went into Action.

He grabbed Floyd Barrett, charged with assault, and the ringleader of the mutiny, by the right forearm and dragged him off Callahan, and then returned to the fight and seized Clem Head, charged with murder, by the leg and pulled him to the ground. The other mutineers then became alarmed and fled to their cells.

"Teddy" then for the first time barked, as much as to say, "Come on, all of you," but the challenge was not accepted.

After seeing that his prisoners were secure for the night, Callahan patched up his bruises with articles in the sheriff's first-aid kit, called to "Teddy" to accompany him, and told Deputy Lamont Jacobs that he and "Teddy" were going for a walk.

"Teddy" refused to tell where the stroll took Callahan and himself, but there is a persistent rumor that it led to a restaurant a short distance from the county jail, and that the deputy bribed "Teddy" to remain his faithful friend. At least he was seen to pay for a T-bone steak, while he dined on coffee and.

When Sheriff Lyden returned from Columbus, where he had gone to commit a prisoner to the penitentiary, he rewarded his faithful canine with a brand new collar.

Battles Forty Officers;

Afraid of Little Wife

Chicago.—It took 40 policemen to subdue Morrow Harding, when he was arrested for mental observation.

"Save me, judge," the man cried in terror when his slim little wife appeared in court.

Mrs. Harding was forced to leave the court room before her husband, who is six feet six inches tall, could be convinced he was safe.

Mazing Causes Youth's Suicide.

New Salem, Ind.—After being hazed by fellow high school students, Vernon A. Walke, sixteen years old, committed suicide. Brooding over the hazing caused the act, the boy's parents said. Police have begun an investigation.

About Girls

Among the peculiar disclosures made by scientists in their study of humanity is the fact that most red-haired girls are bow-legged, while brunettes are, as a rule, knock-kneed.

Sounds Reasonable

"But why do you want to marry her?" "Because I love her." "My dear fellow, that's an excuse—not a reason."—Virginia Reel.

LIGHTS AHEAD

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I SAT alone in all my gloom,
Yet moonlight came and filled the room.
The course of life seemed dark, uncertain,
And yet a star peeked through the curtain.
Though night shut down about me, I Found moonlit world and starlit sky,
A thousand things to journey by.

I needed but to lift my head
To find God's constellations spread Across His azure acres, burning
A changeless lamp at ev'ry turning.
I needed but to look around
And silver was the world I found
Where moonlight magic touched the ground.

So often do we choose to dwell
Within our souls as in a cell,
When right around us moon is gleaming,
When right above us stars are beaming.
Whatever path we have to tread,
If we will look, as I have said,
I'm sure that there are lights ahead.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND

HAVE you got "that tired feeling," that "ho-hum" feeling, that "what's-the-use" feeling? Then, rush out and get a new hat, a new heart-interest, or a new enthusiasm—and you need a tonic for your VANITY!

Every man believes that a girl should languish when he doesn't propose to her—and drop dead with astonishment when he does.

STHELLO HAD NOTHING ON THIS: It lies in the attic, all rusty and rotten. The gaily-striped hammock, that swung from the bough. Its glory is dead—and its romance forgotten. The spooning is done in the motor-car, now!

A man may not succeed in killing a woman's love, the first time he aims his wit at her vanity—but practice makes perfect.

According to masculine logic, woman was "made for love;" but it is "unwomanly" for her to love any man until he asks her to.

The men of the past wrote his love down in long-hand; the man of today postcards or telephones his; the man of the future may radio it or send it by thought transference; but it will be the same old mixture of 50 per cent curiosity and 1 per cent emotion, dearie.

Poor Man Fainted

The man had just informed the Pullman agent that he wanted a berth. "Upper or lower?" asked the agent. "What's the difference?" asked the man.
"A difference of 50 cents in this case. The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower you'll have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower on account of being higher. When you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed and get down when you get up. You can have the lower if you pay higher. The upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. If you are willing to go higher, it will be lower."
But the poor man had fainted.—Postal Spirit.

MEN YOU MAY MARRY

Has a man like this proposed to you?

Symptoms: Tall, gray, grizzily, seventy! Loves young women, likes to boss 'em, squelch 'em, spend a few cents on them. Never has been a real success yet; scathingly criticizes every one he sees. Taken a great shine to you, because you are like the wife of his youth. Always busy, thinks he is indispensable—fusses about and is content to death with Mr. Self.

IN FACT

Content has been his hold up. Prescription to the Bride: Make him think he is your age. Get lots of diversion. Absorb this: OLD AGE IS ONLY WHAT YOU MAKE OF IT.

OUR COAL

Carteret, for the first time in many years, is entering on the fall season without a feeling of panic over the supply of coal.

There are some indications that our residents are realizing the advisability of ordering coal before the winter rush sets in, but back of this there is no sign this year of the mad rush that resulted in former seasons in an effort to beat neighbors in obtaining the available coal supply.

With a healthy and steady demand existing, the coal situation as far as Carteret is concerned seems back to normalcy, a report that should be of interest to every housewife who experienced the handicaps in keeping the home warm in the last few years.

THRILLS

It appears that people of all walks of life are today doing things merely for the sake of getting a "thrill." We watched yesterday a little boy of fourteen scattering tacks, screws and glass along Roosevelt avenue much to the damage for automobile times and otherwise comparatively good dispositions.

There are many people who do the things for the sake of the thrill. Some burn houses, others speed along the highway and still others watch and do death defying stunts. The thrill business seems to be on the increase, but even at that, it stands out distinctively and repulsively, because it is exceptional.

INVITING DEATH

Here's a beautiful baby, in excellent health. The proud mother exhibits him to visitors. Their instant tendency is to take hold of the baby's fingers. They do not realize the danger of transferring germs.

Lucky for baby, if visitors toy with his fingers outdoors. Mother is naturally afraid to offend by cautioning about transfer of germs. If she is wise she will expose his fingers to the sunlight. Germs die almost instantly in the sunlight.

And by the way, one of the best remedies for a sore throat is to open your mouth so the sun will shine into the infected parts.

AMERICAN FIREMEN SUPREME

The American boys made wonderful soldiers because they were cheerful and could stand hard knocks. It is probable that they are good fire fighters for the same reason.

The responsibility that rests on the fire departments of this nation may be better understood by a repetition of the statement that some 15,000 people were burned to death last year and $500,000,000 worth of property destroyed in the United States.

With such a record of death and destruction, our firemen must be brave men in their fight against the American fire monster.

In a pamphlet entitled "Fire Fighting by Modern Methods," the National Board of Fire Underwriters shows what a fireman is called upon to do in his work of protecting life and property.

When one remembers that the per capita fire loss of this nation today is $4.75, compared to 11 cents in Holland and 33 cents in Great Britain, one can well see why an American fireman must be not only more courageous but more efficient than the firemen of other nations.

While our firemen deserve all praise, American citizens as a whole deserve severe censure for their gross carelessness which results in such terrible annual loss of life and property.

WHY SHE HAS NICE HAIR

SHE always says a hair in the head is worth two in the bush.

She dries with towels always. Hot ones. Gas heaters and electric dryers are the worst enemies of well-kept hair.

She wears her hair loose, hanging down her back whenever she gets the opportunity. She gives her tresses an airing at the open window every day and in the warmer weather always dries them in the sun.

Also, she goes without a hat whenever she can. There is no surer tonic for falling hair.

She supposes you want her to recommend you a tonic. Well, here is a hairbrush and plenty of patience and elbow-grease.

She has a nice, fairly firm, real bristle brush. She brushes her hair in long, even strokes night and morning without fail. She finds that a course of systematic brushing will restore any deranged locks to their normal condition in a surprisingly short time.

She washes her brushes and comb every day.

She cultivates a simple, easy coiffure.

She finds a safe rule is to shampoo when really dirty as often as necessary. Certainly once a week for very fair hair.

She finds that while constant brushing keeps her hair in good order, if at any time she wants an extra polish without the aid of brillianine (which she never uses) she rubs strands of her hair with her hand tied in a silk handkerchief. This gives a really beautiful gloss.

Records Smashed By Big Film Spectacle

In bringing D. W. Griffith's American institution, "The Birth of a Nation," to the Majestic Theatre on Monday, October 6, and at the Crescent Theatre, on Tuesday, Oct. 7, the management takes great pleasure in announcing that the famous spectacle will be offered here exactly as when it scored its initial triumph in New York City.

The revival comes in the wake of its great success in New York City, and at the Auditorium in Chicago which seats over 5,000 people, it ran for the longest time a screen production was ever booked in that house and to the greatest receipts ever known for a given week.

The story needs no retelling, but those memorable battle scenes, the mighty figures of history as Lincoln, Grant, Lee, and others of equal prominence who played their parts in writing the most crucial periods of American history when the nation was being welded into a mighty union can never be forgotten or lose their marvelous appeal.

The Why of Superstitions

By H. IRVING KING

THE LOOKING GLASS

FOR a person to come up and look over your shoulder into a mirror into which you are already gazing brings bad luck is a common enough belief, being one of the many "looking-glass superstitions" which had their birth in the far-off days when man's only mirror was a tranquil pool, were continued down through the ages when mirrors were become pieces of polished metal and arrived at our time with vitality unabated, unimpaired. The foundation was the belief of primitive man that the reflection, like the shadow, of a person was a vital part of his being and "astral body" as it were, or an "external soul" which went out of him when he cast a shadow or when his image was reflected. Such is the belief among all savage peoples today and the looking-glass superstitions of the civilized peoples merely afford one more piece of evidence affirmative of the proposition that savagery and civilization are like "The Colonel's Lady and Julie O'Grady." Now when you look into a mirror and thereby project into it a vital part of your spiritual self, and another person comes up and looks into the mirror over your shoulder, thereby projecting a vital part of his spiritual self into it, those two "souls" are likely to get more or less mixed up—which is bad and likely to cause complications of an unfortunate kind. One of them may be stronger than the other and so annex a part of its vitality, or hinder its return to where it belongs. Or one may be of a malevolent turn and injuriously affect the other. At any rate it is a risky proceeding and likely to "bring bad luck."

Arabs Gave China Opium

Opium for use as a medicine was introduced into China in the Thirteenth century by Arabs. The introduction of opium smoking was not until the Seventeenth century and came from India. The first edict prohibiting this was by the Emperor Yung Cheng in 1729.

Odd Form of Punishment

In the days when it was customary to bestow the title "Mrs." on all women of mature years, whether married or unmarried, deprivation of the prefixes Mr. and Mrs. was among the punishments enforced in the American colonies, says the Detroit News. The records of Massachusetts show that in 1680 Josias Plaistowe was condemned "for stealing four baskets of corn from the Indians, to return them eight baskets again, to be fined five pounds and hereafter to be called Josias, not Mr., as he used to be."

Though the penal code also provided for depriving women of the prefix, there is no record of this clause having been enforced.

Growths of Mangroves Serve Good Purpose

The trees known as "mangroves" form dense thickets along the sea-coast in the tropics of the old world as well as of the new. They are characterized by the production of many prop roots from the trunks and branches; these prop roots reach into the mud and form practically impenetrable tangles. They thus serve to hold the mud together and are said to act as natural sea walls, protecting the soil against the inroads of the sea. The bark of the tree is sometimes taken for its abundance of tanning material; otherwise the several species are of no economic importance. In many of these species the roots branch repeatedly before reaching the mud, instead of growing straight down. The root divides into two branches, one of which soon dies away, while the other continues the growth. After extending for some distance this also divides into two, one of the branches persisting, and so on.

The Dutch botanist Van Leeuwen had an opportunity to study a mangrove tangle near Samarang, in Java, and he discovered the cause of the peculiar habit of root branching to be a small beetle. The female beetle lays her eggs near the tip of the root. The injury causes a new root to sprout out just above the tip and the old tip continues to grow.

SELECTIONS FOR ALL-LEAGUE TEAM

Over 100 Fans Send In Coupons, Making Selections For Carteret All-League Baseball Team—Roth of Cadilacs, High Man.

By Eddie Ekroy

The Carteret All-League baseball nine chosen by me last week seemed to please over one hundred local fans and readers of the NEWS, who sent in their all-league selections to be published in this week's issue. Owing to the quantity of selections received the paper will only be able to publish the total count.

The infield chosen by me, which included Scally, Elko, Leshick and Sabo drew a total of seventy-four votes, while there were a few fans who gave such players as Casey, Karcewski, Szlag, Mesick, Dunn, Kelley, Hamilton and Coughlin a few votes. The battery, which included Roth, Sullivan and Brady also drew well, getting seventy-one votes, that is including Roth and Brady as the main battery. Sullivan was a choice in the outfield and Mack, Love and Donovan were chosen as Roth's battery mate.

In place of Brady, many seemed to like Keating, Pry or Morgan behind the bat. Roth drew more individual votes than any player in the league.

In the infield a number of fielders were given votes. The following are the votes cast for each player:

Roth, Cadilacs	96
Scally, Tigers	85
Brady, Tigers	71
Elko, Belmonts	70
Sabo, Cadilacs	69

PUBLIC SERVICE CORP. TO SPEND LARGE SUMS OF MONEY

For the Betterment and Extension of Plant and Equipment of the Public Utilities of the Corporation—Also Large Amount for Motor Buses.

to the New Jersey Bond Club, at the Robert Treat Hotel, here, today, Thomas N. McCarter, president of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, said that in the three years 1921, 1922 and 1923, more than $39,000,000 of new capital had gone into the extension and betterment of the plant and equipment of the public utilities of the Corporation, while the budget for 1924, called for the expenditure of $21,000,000, not including the large amount spent for motor buses. In addition the first section of the new electric generation plant at Kearny will cost more than $24,000,000.

"Every dollar of this vast amount," said Mr. McCarter, "has been an investment for the general benefit and profit of the people living in the section served, for not only has the growth of the community made possible the expansion of its utilities, but the expansion of the utilities has made possible the growth of the communities."

Pointing out the remarkable increase in demand for electricity, gas and local transportation, the speaker declared that "the strength of public utilities lies in the fact that they perform necessary public services, that their interest is so closely entwined with public interest that they cannot be injured without an injury to the public and that supplying in part the reason for community progress and prosperity they share the benefits that follow community advancement."

Mr. McCarter took an optimistic view of the local transportation situation pointing out that in the territory served by Public Service, demand for street car and motor bus service was increasing at the rate of between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 rides a year, and stating of the industry that "there is today more blue sky in the clouds above it than there has been for years."

"With the adoption of the motor bus as a street car auxiliary and the policy of co-ordinated bus and car service under one management made effective," said Mr. McCarter, "local transportation utilities will once more march forward in step with their comrade utilities."

Harmony Euchre Oct. 28th

The Harmony Club will hold a euchre and dance at Dalton's auditorium on the night of October 28th. The Harmony Five will furnish the dance music. Many prizes will be awarded.

At the Newark Theatres

Miner's Empire

The Morton Family, headed by James C. Morton, fresh from ten years of headlining Keith vaudeville bills, return this season to Columbia Burlesque, whence they started, appearing next week, Sunday matinee, October 5th, at the popular Miner's Theatre as features of Fred Clark's "Come Along." Morton was last seen in burlesque as senior in the comedy firm of Morton and Moore, in the days of "The Merry Whirl." Leading a talented supporting cast Alice Lawlor will be an attractive principal, the roster of membership further naming Betty Burroughs, Harry Evanson, Burton Carr, Sidney Green and a singing and dancing chorus of twenty winsome lassies. Next Sunday matinee, Oct. 12th, "Harry Steppes Show."

Vaudeville and photoplays at the Newark theatre commencing Monday, October 6th, featuring the Pantages is the engagement of Madame Tenkatsu and ten beautiful Geisha Girls from the Land of Cherry Blossoms. This act, one of the most stupendous and brilliant in vaudeville, comes direct from a four weeks engagement at the New York Hippodrome and comprises 17 people. There are other headline acts on the program. The photoplay is "The Breath of Scandal" with an all-star aggregation, starring Betty Blythe, Lou Tellenge, Patsy Ruth Miller, Myrtle Stedman, Jack Mulhall, Phillis Haver and Charles Clay. Aside from the very absorbing theme around which the story unfolds.

In the other photoplays, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, will appear in the third installment of his interesting "Fight and Win Series."

THE BUTTERCUPS

LITTLE MISS BUTTERCUP looked at her cousin, the Daisy, with envious eyes. She envied her the dainty white frill she wore around her bright face. "And then she is so tall and graceful," sighed Miss Buttercup. "I am so short, I never shall be graceful. Oh, dear, will no one help me to get a white frill?"

"How silly you are," buzzed a bee who was passing. "You are a brighter gold color than your cousin, Daisy. You might not look well wearing a white ruffie."

"Oh, but I should, I know," pouted Miss Buttercup. "I might be prettier even than Cousin Daisy if I had a frill like hers. Oh dear, will no one help me to get a white frill to go with my bright yellow color?"

"Don't be silly," piped a robin. "If you don't stop fussing you soon will be crying and will spoil your bright looks. There are plenty of white frills in the field now. If you wore one you would spoil the picture of gold you and your sisters make. Be happy and remain as you are."

But no, Miss Buttercup did not wish to wear all yellow. She fussed and fretted until she had all of her sister buttercups discontented as well and pretty soon they all began to cry, saying between their sobs, "Will no one help us to get a pretty white

"Ashes of Vengeance" At the Local Theatres

On Thursday, Oct. 9, at the Crescent Theatre, and on Wednesday, Oct. 8, at the Majestic Theatre, Joseph M. Schenck's production of H. B. Somerville's historical novel, "Ashes of Vengeance" is by far the most pretentious production in which Miss Talmadge has ever been presented.

A cast of twenty notables, including Conval Tearle, Wallace Berry, Courtney Foote, Joseph Crowell and others, in addition to four thousand extra players; and massive backgrounds of regal magnificence, and direction by Frank Lloyd, are factors of this noteworthy production.

Hebrew Association Plans

Dalton's auditorium has been engaged by the Hebrew Association of the borough for two big affairs, the first to be held November 26th and the second on the night of December 31st respectively.

Italian Society to Stage Racing Carnival Here

Final preparations are being made for a racing carnival, parade and dance by the S. S. Redentore Italian Society for Saturday, October 11. The races will be held on a specially constructed track on Liebig's field and will begin at 5.15. A parade through the streets of the borough will take place also. At night there will be a dance at Dalton's auditorium to a splendid orchestra.

DEMOCRATS SPREAD FALSE PROPAGANDA, MULVIHILL CLAIMS

IN ADDRESS BEFORE REPUBLICAN CLUB MAYOR THOMAS J. MULVIHILL DENIES ACCUSATIONS OF EXTRAVAGANCE AND POINTS TO REAL FIGURES.

CHALLENGES THE FORMER MAYOR

Says He Will Discuss at Public Meeting All Charges Against Him and the Republican Party —Local Candidates Also Make Addresses to the Large Gathering at the Republican Club.

At an unusually enthusiastic meeting held by the Republican Club at Odd Fellows Hall on Wednesday night, Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill in a stirring address branded the charges of the Democratic party and Mr. Hermann as false and challenged the former mayor to come out publicly and discuss the various issues.

The mayor said in part: "My opponent has recently told the public that we are spendthrifts. If this statement was made by some irresponsible person, I would simply ignore it, but a man who is so considered to have a knowledge of borough affairs after sixteen years of administration to indulge in loose talk, suggests a reply. I will give you a comparison of the last year of the Hermann administration with the first of the Republican administration and you can judge for yourself who was careful and who was careless.

"If Mr. Hermann can refute my resume I am willing to go out on any public platform with him and substantiate any figures I have given. If I am wrong, I do not wish to hold public trust any longer. I have served the people of Carteret as mayor for twenty-two months, and my home is 99 Washington avenue, where I will answer any questions to any person willing to put to me relative to affairs of the borough. If Mr. Hermann wishes to proceed with this propaganda to help his election I am willing to meet him anywhere or any time and thresh out this matter for the best interest of the public."

"The Borough finances seem to give the Democrats a great deal of concern, and that is the one subject upon which they are concentrating in their campaign. They apparently feel that the best way to get to the voter is through his pocketbook, and of course it does not make any difference to them if they lie about it so long as they can make the voters believe that the Republican councilmen are spendthrifts.

"That is one subject, however, upon which we need not be ashamed to go before the voters, and ask for their suffrage.

"I am going to briefly go into the financial condition of the borough for the year 1922, the last Democratic year, and 1923 and 1924 during the Republican administration.

"The budget for 1922 was $169,380.82; for 1923, $148,391.42, a clear saving of over $21,000. Included in the 1923 figures are the following items:

Police Pension Fund deficit of 1922.....	$1,075.30
Emergency note for Mexican Petroleum fight.....	4,300.00
1921 Appropriations deficit.....	389.03

"There were bills of the Democratic administration that were called upon to pay in 1923. So that in the first year the Republican administration we ran the borough on $28,000 less than the Democrats did in 1922. Whether we gave better service with the smaller appropriation I will leave that to the voters to judge. Let me call your attention just to one item, that of roads. In 1922, $48,000 was appropriated, and in 1923, $30,000 or $18,000 less. Yet with our appropriation of $30,000 we built more and better roads than the Democrats did with their $48,000, and we had about $6,000 left over at the end of the year.

"In addition to the deficit of $6,839.63, which I previously mentioned, there was a deficit in 1922 of $78,814.80 due the school board which we also had to pay in 1923, and which we did pay, besides paying to the Board of Education all of the moneys for 1923 in the current year.

"Now let us look at the 1924 budget figures. Our budget this year was $173,975.49 compared to $169,380.82 in 1922 under Democratic administration. Our surplus and anticipated revenues, however, were $47,750.00, so that we had to raise by taxation only $126,225.49, against $128,980.82 by the Democrats in 1922, a saving of about $2,800. And included in our budget is an item of $7,315.49 a road deficit of 1922, which we had to pay to the Hermann Construction Company for the roads built in 1922. That should have been paid out of their road appropriation of $48,000 in 1922. But they exceeded that appropriation by that amount and we are now called upon to pay it. I leave you to judge whether the roads built in 1922 for $55,315.49 are any better than the ones we built for about $24,000. Therefore with the 1923 road deficit deducted from our 1924 budget, makes it actually $166,660 or almost $3,000 less than the 1922 budget.

"Yet in 1924 we appropriated $3,000 more on maintenance of streets and roads than the Democrats spent in 1922; $500 more for the poor; $3,500 more to the Board of Health; $1,000 more to police; $1,300 more on printing; $1,500 on street lighting. Notwithstanding these increases, which, by the way, were absolutely necessary, we actually spent less money this year than the Democrats did in 1922. But we are still building more and better roads in 1924 than the Democrats did in 1922, and with less money. Our appropriation for that purpose this year was $38,000, against $55,315.49 actually spent by the Democrats in 1922, and we are going to have over $6,000 left.

"And yet the Democrats tell you that we are wasteful and are bankrupting the borough. It is a safe bet that if they had remained in power

NEGRO STABBED OUT ON STREET

Assailant Is Arrested By the Police and Charged With Assault—Two Others Are Held As Material Witnesses.

VICTIM IS TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL

Revenge Is Said to Have Caused Punishment for Stabs Received Several Months Ago Said to Have Caused Cutting Match.

A stabbing match at the corner of Salem avenue and Warren street on Monday morning attracted considerable attention. The principals of the cutting affair were two negroes, one of whom sought revenge on the other for stabs received several months ago. Harris Duggin, of 17 Somerset street, Newark, was taken to the Perth Amboy City Hospital with his neck bleeding from a deep cut received with the knife of James Evans, of Union street.

It appears that some weeks ago Duggan assaulted Evans, inflicting a deep wound on his shoulder. On Monday the two negroes met again and started another argument. The argument grew so intense that Evans pulled his knife and wielded it over Duggin's neck. The police intervened, and Officer John Andrews took Duggin first to the office of Dr. J. Wantoch and then to the hospital.

Evans was arrested and so were two other negroes as material witnesses.

SENATOR EDGE WILL SPEAK HERE MONDAY

New Jersey Senator Will Be One of Prominent Speakers at Republican Mass Meeting Next Monday Night.

Senator Walter E. Edge will speak at the monster mass meeting to be held by the local Republican party at Dalton's Auditorium next Monday evening. The senator is to speak to a proposed capacity attendance at 7:30 o'clock, after which he has another engagement to speak elsewhere. The affair is expected to start at quarter past seven and there will be other prominent borough Republicans, who, as it was learned, will give their audience some true facts concerning local issues.

Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill will speak as well as the other candidates and men who hold office.

All citizens are invited and requested to attend the event. Refreshments will be served and the party urges those who are interested not to forget the affair.

Carteret Inn Cafeteria and Hotel Will Operate

The U. S. Metals Refining Company announced this week that the cafeteria and hotel at the corner of Roosevelt and Carteret avenue will be operated as usual but under new management. The company will see that the new management provides good service. The place will be run not only for benefit of the employees of the copper works, but other plants and the public in general.

Democrats Hold a Chowder and Smoker

The Democratic Organization of the borough held a big clam chowder party and smoker at the Jefferson Club with a large attendance. The speakers of the evening were: Former Mayor Joseph A. Hermann, Attorney Francis A. Monaghan, Attorney Maxwell Sosin, Raymond P. White, Alonzo C. Winnant, Dennis Fitzgerald, Councilman Joseph C. Child and other local candidates.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION MEET

First Fall Meeting of Organization Held Last Night—Attorney F. A. Monaghan and Scoutmaster Robinson Speak at Meeting.

The first fall meeting of the Carteret Parent-Teacher Association was held in Columbus school last night. The principal speaker was Attorney Francis A. Monaghan who spoke on education and "Teaching the Child to Think." His address was interesting and instructive.

John D. Robinson, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 2, Boy Scouts of America, spoke explaining the Boy Scout campaign to get out the vote. This is a general movement of the scouts everywhere to get out the vote without regard to party lines. Its object is to arouse general interest in the affairs of the country.

A report of the playground since it was started until it was closed, was read, showing the work of the association in equipping the ground with apparatus.

The president of the association was appointed a delegate to attend the annual state convention of the Parent-Teacher Associations and Congress of Mothers to be held in Atlantic City on November 5, 6 and 7. Each association will send at least one delegate with all expenses paid.

Music by the High School orchestra was a feature of the meeting and refreshments were served by a special refreshment committee. One of the members proposed a plan to serve milk to children in the sub-primary department as these children are attending four-hour sessions. Supervising Principal Miss B. V. Hermann endorsed the idea. Mrs. Kurt Grohman was appointed a committee of one to get in touch with teachers in the sub-primary department and the teachers will take the matter up with the parents. The results of these conferences will be reported at the next meeting when decision will be made as to the advisability of carrying out the plan.

Announcement was made that the county meeting of the Parent-Teacher Associations of Middlesex County will be held at Oak Tree on October 31. All members who can are invited to attend and those who decide to attend are requested to inform the secretary, Mrs. Florence Child, 43 Chrome avenue, in order that reservations may be made for them.

Rescue Ship Docks At Mexican Petro. Corp.

The steamship I. C. White docked at the Mexican Petroleum Corp. with a cargo of fuel oil last Saturday. This ship rescued the crew of the steamship Santa Theresa off Savannah, Ga., on Sunday, September 28. The Santa Theresa was bound for Boston from Cuba with a cargo of sugar. Both vessels were almost abreast when the weather bureau broadcasted a gale on its way. The I. C. White put off its course and within a few hours received a message that the Santa Theresa was going down. The captain of the "White" set out to the rescue and just arrived as one of the life boats went over the side. The sea cook in the Santa Theresa's engine room gave way and although all pumps were put into action they were unable to keep the water out. The I. C. White stood by as a gale came up and the Santa Theresa submerged out of sight. There was a crew of 33 and two Chinese stowaways rescued from the ship.

Surprise Is Given To Stephen Basza

A delightful surprise party was tendered Stephen Basza at his home in Lincoln avenue, by a group of friends on Thursday evening, October 2. The young people enjoyed themselves in games and refreshments were served. The guests present were the Misses Edith Swensen, Edna Albright, Ella Stutsky, Florence Swensen, Jennie Conrad, Aileen Brandon, Vivian Price, Evelyn Ohlert, Mary and Christine Dick, Ruth Rapp and Marguerite Basza. Harold Christensen, Howard Nannen, Alfred Cromwell, Walter Woodhul, Michael Comnowsky, Andrew Kondas, Chester Comnowsky, Arthur Stutsky, Stephen Basza, Harold Rapp, Alex Stutsky and William Rapp and Mr. and Mrs. Basza.

Supper Is Success

The baked bean supper served by the Men's Club of the M. E. Church was the success anticipated by the committee. The food was well prepared and those who attended the event expressed considerable satisfaction.

Jackie Coogan will appear in "Circus Days" at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday, Oct. 15, matinee and night, and at the Crescent Theatre, Thursday, Oct. 16, matinee and night, featuring Jackie Coogan.

COUNCIL HOLDS BRIEF SESSION

Four Improvement Certificate Resolutions Are Passed at the Meeting On Monday Night— Mayor Mulvihill Presides.

ROUTINE BUSINESS IS LOOKED AFTER

Ordinance For Randolph Street Improvements Are Adopted— Overser of Poor, Recorder and Chief of Police Make Reports.

The borough council held a short session on Monday night. Present at the meeting were Mayor Mulvihill, Councilmen Frank Andres, Joseph C. Child, Hercules Ellis, Edward Wilcox, Charles A. Phillips and Borough Clerk Platt.

The New York Telephone Company in a communication to the council asked permission to lay an underground cable at Cooffe avenue to string its telephone wires into the new borough. The communication was referred to the streets and roads committee with power to act.

A petition for a poolroom license was received from M. Harkowitz, of 53 Roosevelt avenue, this borough. It was referred to the chairman of the police committee.

Reports of the overseer of the poor, recorder and chief of police for the month of September was received, read and filed.

Two ordinances were passed, one calling for a new grade on Randolph street and another for curbs on that street. The ordinances were passed at the third and final readings.

Four resolutions for improvement certificates were passed, namely, $3,633.20 for sidewalks on High street; $2,162.50 for sidewalks on Sharot street; $2,196 for sidewalks on Lincoln avenue; $8,095.40 for part payment on the borough hall.

Reports of the chairman of the various committees were received. Councilman Andres reported that the condition of the road at the foot of Roosevelt avenue at the entrance to the ferry is in a deplorable condition, that holes have been created because of the stagnation of water at that point and urged that the freeholders be asked to make immediate improvements.

Sosin's Planks Inserted In the State Platform

Maxwell Sosin, Democratic candidate for member of general assembly from Middlesex county, was very successful in having most of his suggestions incorporated in the state platform adopted at the final meeting of the Democratic convention at the Stacey-Trent Hotel yesterday. Among those incorporated which Sosin favored are:

Repeal of the State Hobart Act and the allowance of the manufacture of light wines and beer. The ratification by the state of the Child Labor Amendment to the constitution of the United States. The enactment of legislation designated to carry out the recommendations of Governor George Silzer for a complete survey of our public school system. The improving of transportation facilities through our state. Favoring the rigid economy in the expenditures of state money. The Democratic control of the state legislature in order to give the governor co-operation in carrying out his proposed plans for the relief of the overburdened taxpayers of our state.

Italian Society To Celebrate Tomorrow

Everything is in readiness for the Columbus Day celebration which will be held tomorrow afternoon and night under the auspices of the Italian S. S. Redentore Society. It will also mark the blessing of the society's flag. There will be a parade through the important streets of the borough, followed by horse races at Liebig's field. The races will start at 3.15 P. M. Tomorrow night a ball in Dalton's auditorium will conclude the fête which is expected to draw an unusually large attendance.

Euchre and Daughters of St. Marks on Oct. 16

A large attendance is expected at the euchre of the Daughters of St. Marks which will be held at the parish house on the night of October 16. Mrs. O. Glenn is chairman of the arrangement committee.

M. E. Bazar October 14

All members of the Methodist Episcopal Church are co-operating with the Ladies' Auxiliary of the church for the bazaar which will be held on the night of Oct. 14.

Be sure and see "Circus Days" at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday, Oct. 15, matinee and night, and at the Crescent Theatre, Thursday, Oct. 16, matinee and night, featuring Jackie Coogan.

Yom Kipper Is Observed By Hebrews This Week

Yom Kipper, the Day of Atonement, the most solemn and sacred day in the Jewish religious calendar, was observed in the borough on Wednesday. The observance was ushered in the local synagogues and many homes Tuesday night and continued for twenty-four hours, marking the time with the blowing of the shofar or ram's horn. Fasting continued from Tuesday at sundown until Wednesday sundown.

Jackie Coogan will appear in "Circus Days" at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday, Oct. 15, matinee and night, and at the Crescent Theatre on Thursday, Oct. 16, matinee and night.

REPUBLICANS VERY ACTIVE

Campaign Headquarters Opened With Big Ceremony Last Saturday Night—Clam Chowder and Smoker Enjoyed By All.

MAYOR MULVIHILL TELLS OF WORK

Points To the Many Accomplish- ments Made By the Present Administration—Much Enthu- siasm Shown.

A capacity audience attended the clam chowder party and smoker held by the Republican Club last Saturday night, which also marked the official opening of the headquarters of this year's campaign. A fine supper was served and enjoyed by the large crowd.

Street Commissioner William H. Walling called the meeting to order and acted as chairman. He introduced Mayor Mulvihill as the first speaker. The mayor was greeted with an unusual ovation. He was applauded for some time. "I certainly appreciate the confidence that the people have placed in me and I can only assure them, if re-elected, will continue to work in the best of their interest," the mayor said. Briefly the speaker reviewed the accomplishments of the Republican party, the improvements in the borough, the low tax rate, the low expenditures in running the borough. He said that the Republican council has aided him considerably in his fight for the people's interest. "There was never an iron rule under the Republican administration," the mayor said replying to the charges attributed him. He concluded by saying he will wage a clean fight this election year if the Democrats will be fair at the same time. Here the mayor won a round of applause and assurance that he is appreciated by the people.

The next speaker was Councilman Edward Wilgus, who is running for re-election to the council. He spoke on borough affairs, pointed to the open way of doing business by the Republicans, the sincerity and honesty of officials and assured that he will give his best if he is re-elected. Councilman Hercules Ellis also spoke along the lines of governmental affairs here.

John H. Nevill, candidate for tax assessor, speaking in behalf of his candidacy, said that if he is elected he would see that all the people are taxed equally and without partisanship or favoritism.

Attorney Stremlau Moves to Lowell St.

Emil Stremlau, counselor and borough attorney, has taken up his residence at 97 Lowell street last Monday. He will be active at his law offices here, 17 Cooke avenue, because of the large clientele in this section and also the many borough affairs. Mr. Stremlau will now be found more often at his office here.

Sheridans Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sheridan, of Emerson street, entertained a group of friends at a dinner party Saturday night. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Sharkey, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Farr, Mrs. Anna Siebert, Barney Goldfinger, Henry Horter, Peggy Gallagher, Ruby Stack, Miss Helen Williams and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Athletic Association Getting Busy —Basketball Team Schedule

At a recent meeting of the High School Athletic Association the president appointed a committee to find a suitable basketball court for the team to practice on. The committee consists of Miss McCarthy, Isaac Nadel, Teddy Daniels, Joseph Sexton and Edward Dubow. The treasurer, Margaret Childs, appointed as her assistants in getting membership subscribers, Frank Bareford for the sophomore class and Saul Brown and Ruth Grohman, for the freshman class; herself for the junior class.

The High School basketball team has thus far received in answer to their challenges to nearby schools the following: South River at that place on December 5; South Amboy at that city on December 19; Cranford Second team at Cranford, three-game series in January; Linden at Linden, date undecided; Totenville at Totenville on November 19.

All games in the above list will be played on the opponents' courts due to the fact that the local team has no suitable court as yet.

Manager Jack Bersen expects many more answers to his challenges and promises a busy time for them. The above schedule is absolutely void unless a place for the local team to practice is secured. This is understood by the opposing school coaches.

Debate On Child Labor

The Modern History Class held a debate recently on "Resolved, that Child Labor Should Be Abolished." The teams consisted of Frank Harmann, Mildred Kahn and Kathleen Mullen on the affirmative; Morris Abrams, Jacob Bersen and Isaac Nadel on the negative. The entire class taking part in rebuttal. The debate was won by the negative. An addition to the High School teaching staff is Miss Malley.

Dramatic Society Formed

A dramatic society was formed on Monday afternoon by the High School students interested in any form of oral expression. The society is expected to be a great success and a help to the school as a whole. The officers are president, Lewis Lehrer, junior; and secretary, Loretta Kay, sophomore. Miss Stagg was chosen the faculty advisor and with the aid of the members promised to do all she could to make the society worth while. The next meeting will be held next week.

Kindness Made No Kind of Appeal to "Rhino"

Peter, the two-and-a-half-ton rhinoceros who lived in the elephant house of the Zoological gardens, in London, is dead.

He was an uncouth fellow, savage and untractable. Church, his keeper, had many a narrow squeak. Peter would charge heavily at a set of human ribs and bring up against iron bars with a thud. People who say you can do anything by kindness did not know Peter's winsome ways. He had been very "phthisicky" of late. Chest trouble, Church said it was. You might give him a couple of back-slaps of cough mixture and it made no difference. Aniseed and Hoarice lozenges only caused him to wheeze the more.

Jennie and Eliza, the young cow rhinos next door, one from India and the other from Peter's own home, Nairobi, used to shudder when Peter barked and growled.

Then pneumonia set in. The morning before he died, when the rains were doing their worst, Peter lay with his head to the open railing, gazing with glassy eyes toward the south and the homeland.

He made strange noises. His keepers said that they were his final hymn of hate against mankind, but it is possible he was muttering of his childhood fifteen years ago, and talking strangely of the African deep undergrowth, the hot, muddy beds in which he used to roll, of the Arab hunters, and of glorious freedom.

Then he was suddenly silent. His great, ponderous bulk yielded the ghost.

Building Trades' God

Lupan is the name of the god which the members of the Peking building trades worship. Lu is the name of a kingdom, in the Chow dynasty (1122-220 C.), and Pan is the name of a skilled mechanic of that time. He is frequently mentioned in the classics as an inventor of mechanical devices. From him the guild of the building trade derives its name, says the Detroit News.

The guild includes carpenters, masons, bricklayers, blacksmiths and painters. The meeting always takes place in the Tsing-chung temple, outside Chienmen, which was erected for the worship of Yo Fel. The latter is the famous patriotic general of the Sung dynasty (960-1276 A. D.) It is not known why the building trades chooses this temple for its meeting place.

Brings Good and Bad Luck

There are numerous superstitions associated with the hearing of the cuckoo's first call. In the maritime Highlands and Hebrides, if the cuckoo is first heard by one who has not broken his fast, some misfortune is expected. Indeed, "besides the danger, it is regarded a reproach to one to have heard the cuckoo while hungry. In France, to hear the cuckoo for the first time fasting is to make the hearer "an idle do nothing for the rest of the year," or "to numb his limbs" for the same period. There is a similar belief in certain parts of the west of England. In Northumberland one is told, if walking on a hard road when the cuckoo first calls, that the ensuing season will be full of calamity; to be on soft ground is a lucky omen.

Grease and Diamonds

In South Africa mines grease is an important aid in the extraction of diamonds. A table with a rifled top is smeared with about half an inch of grease. Concentrated ore is then passed over the table with the aid of running water. Garnet and oilstone have no affinity for grease, but diamonds adhere to the greasy surface. The grease is later removed, heated and run off, the diamonds being left in the vessel. They are then boiled in sulphuric acid, for cleansing purposes, and sorted.

EPILEPTIC FIT INTERVENES TO STOP ROBBERY

Capricious Fate Steps In to Thwart Well-Laid Plans of Bandits.

Houston, Texas.—Choosing an epileptic fit as her weapon, capricious fate intervened to prevent a robbery and perhaps save a life at the Citizens' State bank.

In the silent after-midnight darkness three men, revolvers drawn and black masks ready to hand, squatted beneath a counter of the bank. They were listening. In a moment they intended to crawl on top of the big vault, there to wait for daylight and the coming of the first employee.

Their hearts beat fast and hard with excitement; and, as they crouched, one of the trio suddenly gave a loud gasp. The other two, surprised and infuriated, turned on him with snarls and muttered curses. But he paid no attention. He had dropped his gun and mask, and was writhing and jerking on the floor. The whites of his eyes shone strangely in the gloom.

Become Alarmed.

His two companions became alarmed. In vain they shook and pummeled him; he seemed unaware of their presence. And then cold terror made their stomachs quake. What had seized him in the deep blackness? Their sense of guilt made every sound from the stricken man seem thunderous and horrible; and in another moment they leaped up, and leaving him there, fled out through the window by which they had entered.

This was the story told to city detectives and Sheriff Binford by William H. Cox, twenty-four, who was found unconscious beneath the counter by L. B. Thompson, cashier of the bank, at 7 a. m. Monday.

On seeing the revolver and mask beside the prostrate man, Thompson telephoned to the police. They took Cox to headquarters, where he remained in a semi-conscious condition for several hours. When he recovered he returned to the bank with Sheriff Binford and detectives Arch Spradley, George Andrews and Tom Bass, and explained to them just how he and his companions had planned to stage a hold-up. He was bitter because they had run away and left him.

An Ironical Joke.

Before entering the bank they cut the telephone wire, he said. Then they worked out their campaign. They decided to get on top of the vault, which was about nine feet high, and where, if they lay flat, they would be invisible to anyone entering the bank. They figured that the first act of the first employee to arrive would be to open the vault; and then it would be easy to reach over the edge and cover him with their weapons.

But as they were about to scramble up, fate and Cox's nerves played them an ironical joke.

According to Sheriff Binford, Cox said he estimated his share of the haul would be $20,000, and that he intended to bury it. He declared he was a carpenter by trade, and recently had returned here from Los Angeles.

The sheriff and detectives called on Cox's mother, who lives near the Yale street road, and who, they said, confirmed his statement that he was subject to epileptic fits. A charge of burglary was filed against him in Justice Campbell Overstreet's court.

Eagle Picks Up Boy; Is Caught in Struggle

Chatham, Ont.—An eagle measuring eight feet from tip to tip picked up fourteen-year-old Fred Cunningham, weighing 97 pounds, on a golf course near here, lifted him five feet in the air and then dropped him when his clothing gave way, according to the story told by the lad today. Cunningham, clawed and scratched, managed to net the bird in a wire fence, where it was killed by a citizen.

Rivet in Her Nose

Higbee, Mo.—After physicians had treated the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lusby of this place for catarrh one year, it was discovered the child had a large copper rivet in her nose. The rivet was removed and the child's "catarrhal" condition is rapidly disappearing.

Eagle Always Admired

From the most ancient times the eagle has been universally regarded as the emblem of might and courage. It was associated with Jupiter in Roman mythology and its figure on the standards of certain Roman legions has descended to the national ensigns of the United States, Germany and Russia. The eagle was adopted by the United States in 1783.

Father Planned to Smother His Baby

Kansas City, Mo.—Loren Pearson, nineteen years old, admitted, according to the police, that he escaped from a constable after being caught digging a grave in which he planned to bury a month-old baby boy in a pasture east of this city.

"I intended to smother my baby and bury it to save my family and my wife's family from disgrace," Pearson was quoted as saying.

The baby apparently unharmed, was brought to a hospital.

FATHER HANGS GIRL BY WRISTS

Inhuman Punishment for the Theft of $2.

New York.—Everybody at 68 Thompson street knew that Antoinette, Paul Forkl's eight-year-old daughter, had stolen $2 from her father. They had heard Antoinette crying all night and, knowing her father, felt certain she had expiated her offense.

The shrieks of the child redoubled in violence at about the time Forkl, whose wife and son had gone out earlier, was leaving for his fruit stand on the East side about 8:30 a. m., and many mothers at 68 Thompson street shook their heads commiseratingly.

Forkl slammed the door of his apartment at last and clumped down the stairs to his work. Listening women withdrew their heads and closed their doors softly as he passed, for the very fundamental of good breeding on Thompson street is the ability to mind one's own business.

By 9 o'clock, however, the dwindling shrieks and weeping moans of the childish voice which resounded in the Forkl home had wrung the hearts of several women of the house to the point where they cast neighborly courtesy and good breeding to the winds and sought a policeman.

He forced the door and found little Antoinette hanging limply by her wrists from a rope which was made fast above the transom. Her eyes were inflamed and swollen from crying, her wrists were cut by the rope which had been knotted about them and her hands were puffy with congested blood. She fainted when she was cut down.

Forkl is held on a charge of felonious assault.

Use Red Light Glare to Shame Spooners Off Roads

Morristown, Ohio.—Officers in the western end of Belmont county have adopted a quiet but effective method of disposing of petting parties on lonely highways near here. Upon being notified of such parties in their district, the officers hurry to the scene in automobiles.

They are armed with an apparently harmless box. Stealthily they place the box in front of the petting party car. A fuse is lighted and then the fun begins. For the next five minutes the roadway for an area of nearly 100 feet is illuminated with a glaring red light. The couple or couples in the car promptly forget everything except the starter on the machine and speed away.

$1 Bill Copied in Rug Seized as Counterfeit

New York.—The largest counterfeit dollar in the world was seized here. The dollar, a rug reproducing a silver certificate, with finely woven portraits of Lincoln and Grant, was brought in on the liner King Alexander by a Greek merchant, living in Chicago. Seizure was made by secret service agents who refused the name of the rug's owner. The agents explained it was illegal to reproduce currency in any manner.

The dollar is six feet by four. It even carries out the color scheme of United States currency. It was the first such seizure ever made at the custom house. Agents said the rug had been made in Greece.

Novel Punishment Meted Out to Chinese Thieves

Tsingtao, China.—The park police here demonstrated a new and effective mode of punishment for vandals recently when two men were caught stealing flowers. The officers took the culprits to the main boulevard and made them kneel. To the prodding of police rifles they were made to shout to all passers-by why they were being thus treated.

For 15 minutes they were compelled to shout: "I took what did not belong to me and promise never to do it again," while they were made to hold the stolen flowers aloft.

Helpless

Most of us know when we have said enough, but few of us have sufficient self-control to put the lid on.

Origin of Expression "Skeleton in Closet"

"There is a skeleton in every house" is said to be an old saying taken from an Italian humorous story. But the expression "skeleton in the closet" has been popularized by an English story. A woman had an only son who obtained an appointment in India. One day the mother received a letter from her son with this strange request: "Pray, mother, get someone who has no cares and troubles to make me six shirts." The mother searched in vain for such a person. Finally she called upon a woman who invited her to go with her to a bedroom. The strange woman then opened a closet which contained a human skeleton. "Madam," she said, "I try to keep my trouble to myself, but every night my husband compels me to kiss that skeleton, who was once my husband's rival and whom he killed in a duel. Think you that I am happy?" The mother immediately wrote to her son and told him her experiences and the son replied: "I knew when I gave the commission

British Capital Once Site of Vast Forests

Large areas of the land on which the British metropolis stands once formed a great charcoal district from which practically the whole of the city's fuel came. Vast forests of oak, beech and ash trees, covered these areas, which included Norwood—the Great North Wood—Croydon, Sydenham and Forest Hill. In those far-off days of the Fourteenth century coal was not allowed to be burned, as it was considered that the smoke was dangerous to health. It is not exactly easy to see how this could be so, for the smoke from charcoal burning is, to say the least of it, most unpleasant. One bishop, who had his palace at Croydon, was greatly annoyed by a charcoal burner, who lit his fire right

Betel Nut Mars Beauty

The country folk (of Java) themselves, conscious of their ornate setting, were dressed for the part. A group of those women, moving in a musical comedy, would give a theatrical manager complete assurance in the matter of his box office receipts. They are so modest and polite that they never stare at a stranger; though with such figures, eyes and coloring, I doubt whether he would object greatly if they did. Their manners are perfect, except that most of them chew betel nut, and casually make railway platforms and footpaths distressing with red maculations. It is shocking to see a beautiful woman laugh, when her opened mouth looks as though a savage blow had just seriously wounded it.—H. M. Tomlinson in Harner's Magazine.

BE SURE YOU REGISTER

In the Carteret News issue of last week, Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill has again called upon the citizens to register to enable them to vote on November 4. Unless you register, you will be unable to vote at this year's important election. The mayor calls particular attention to the fact that October 14 is the last day of registration. The books are open from 1 to 9 P. M. Every person, qualified to vote should have his name on the register.

There is nothing partisan about the mayor's call to register. It is probably far from advising you you as to HOW you should vote. You may cast a ballot for any candidate you like but vote just the same.

At the 1920 presidential election over 25 million voters failed to do their duty, while only 27 million took the opportunity of the suffrage right. There is a nationwide non partisan move to get out the vote this year. The cry to get out the vote is to help to preserve America's goal as a government directed by a majority of the people.

FIGURES FOR OUR TAXPAYERS

That the borough of Carteret is running the local government on an unusually low per capita cost is seen in the figures made public this week by the New Jersey State League of Municipalities at Trenton. It shows that the borough will spend this year $15.72 per capita, as against $88 a head spent by Edgewater which has only a population of 3,530; Glen Ridge $36.90 with a population of 4,620. The average cost per capita in the state is $21.80.

The resort should be a great relief to our many citizens. Carteret is the largest borough in the state and yet it spends the least of any municipality in comparison with its population. South River which has about half of our population spends $12.65 per head, while other municipalities who have a population of five or six thousand people spend about $20 to $30 per capita. The Republican administration is handling the finances of our town in a most commendable manner. The figures, which are undisputed, talk for themselves.

the borough would soon go bankrupt. "While they conducted your affairs, they worked in the dark and kept the citizens in the dark. How many people knew what was going on over the council table? Not one in 500. Today if anyone wants to keep informed, all he has to do is to read his local paper every week to see just what we are doing and how we are spending the people's money.

"Heretofore the taxpayers did not know where their money was being spent. Now in addition to showing how much the local government spends, we have also shown how much of the taxpayers money is used for schools and state purposes. All you have to do is to pick up one of the 1924 tax bills. On the back you will see that the State and County got $136,330.74; the local school board $176,421.41; and the borough only $125,525.49. So that out of every dollar spent for taxes 40 cents went to the local schools, 31 cents to the State and County; and 29 cents we spent.

"The tax rate went up 25 cents over 1923, but of that 21 cents went to the local Board of Education and only 4 cents to the local government.

"When talking on finances, the Democratic party speaks only generalities, without any figures to back their statements. What I have just told you is taken from the borough records, which you and every citizen has a right to examine. And remember these budgets received the approval of the Democratic members of the board."

Jackie Uses No Double For Novel Circus Ride

When little Jackie Coogan flashes forth from the dressing tent and "boards" the great steed in "Circus Days," audiences at the Majestic theatre on Wednesday, Oct. 15, matinee and night, and at the the Crescent theatre, Thursday, Oct. 16, matinee and night, gasp in anxiety. Obviously, no "double" is taking the boy's place on the "hurricane deck" of that great beast, and obviously it is Jackie himself, even though he wears the fluffy skirts of the pretty and tiny equestre (Peaches Jackson) who, according to the story, is unable to ride on account of a sprained ankle. But nobody had ever heard of Jackie as a horseman. He appears in the central ring and around him a vast concourse of people are seen to applaud. Presently they are seen to laugh, then to roar with delight, in which behavior they are imitated to the life by the audience that are witnessing the big circus picture. Jackie is as Toby Tyler is making a tremendous hit, and like Toby is entitled to the crown of king of all comedy riders.

LIST OF EVENTS IS INCREASING

Dances, Entertainments and Fairs Are Scheduled to Take Place in the Borough for the Fall and Winter Season.

CHURCHES ARE VERY ACTIVE

Women Head Group of Workers at Various Affairs—Lodges and Social Clubs Arranging Plans for Entertainment.

The young people and the grown-ups of the borough are kept busy these days with entertainments galore. There is some affair on almost every evening for everyone. It is evident too that they are being well attended. On Wednesday, Oct. 15, the Men's Social Club of the Lutheran church will hold a dance at Falcon's Hall. The Berdi-Nickoy Association has a dance scheduled at Dalton's for the night of Oct. 16. On the night of Oct. 18, the Order of Druids will hold its affair. The twenty-seventh annual ball of the Middlesex Grove No. 33, U. A. O. D., has been arranged for Saturday night, Oct. 16th. The euchre and dance of the American Legion will be held on the night of Oct. 22.

Division No. 7, Ancient Order of Hibernians, will hold its ball on Thursday night, Oct. 23. The same night the Pride of Puritan Council, Daughters of America, has a euchre at Odd Fellows Hall. The Woodmen dance is arranged for Saturday night, Oct. 25, while Harmony Social euchre is to be held on the night of Oct. 28.

There are many other affairs scheduled for the months of November and December.

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF CURBS ON RANDOLPH STREET FROM LAFAYETTE STREET TO PERSHING AVENUE, IN THE BOROUGH OF CARTERET.

Whereas, the Council of the Borough of Carteret has received an application in writing, signed by at least ten Freeholders of the Borough of Carteret, residing therein, for the laying and construction of curbs on both sides of Randolph Street, from Lafayette Street to Pershing Avenue, Be It Ordained by the Council of the Borough of Carteret:

1. The owner or owners of the lands fronting or bordering thereon are hereby directed to construct curbs at his or their own proper costs and expense on both sides of Randolph Street, from Lafayette Street to Pershing Avenue, in the Borough of Carteret, on or before November 14, 1924, in the manner following:

Said streets shall be curbed or re-curbed with good quality bluestone not less than five (5') feet long nor less than twenty (20") inches deep and five (5') inches thick and twelve (12") inches down from the top measured at right angles to the face, and the back shall be free from projections of more than two (2") inches.

2. In case the owner or owners of any of the lands fronting or bordering on said street, shall fail to construct the said curbs on or before the date above fixed, then the Borough Council shall cause such work to be done and the costs and expenses thereof shall be assessed upon the lands benefited.

Introduced September 30, 1924.

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP

HAVING decided to kill a man, after months of deliberation, Big Ed Murphy went about it systematically. He had waited more than a year for an opportune time to present itself and now, when everything pointed to the successful carrying out of his plan, he did not intend to have any hasty action of his own interfere with it. It was a simple plan. Big Ed's mentality was not capable of conceiving one of a complicated nature. But it would answer the purpose of one more elaborate, and results were what he wanted.

Big Ed was a coal miner. Ever since he was a boy he had worked in coal mines; fought for a mere existence until he grew strong enough to take care of himself; lived in cheap boarding houses and dissipated whenever he had enough money. He had no conception whatever of morality. He followed the lines of least resistance, never giving tomorrow a thought.

On this particular morning Big Ed loaded his first car leisurely, the great muscles of his arms and back working like a well-balanced piece of machinery. While waiting for the driver to pull his load, he calmly went about preparing for his crime.

He took a five-pound sledge, one that he used for wedging off shots, and swung it back and forth, testing his accuracy by shattering big chunks of coal. Having satisfied himself that his aim was good, he carried the sledge to his powder box at the mouth of his room. Taking a watch from his pocket he placed it carefully beside the sledge. The deep silence of a coal mine intensifies sound and Big Ed did not intend to have the ticking of a dollar watch betray his presence when he was ready to strike. Then he sat down to patiently wait the coming of the driver.

When the driver had pulled his load and delivered his empty, Big Ed picked up his sledge and started for his buddy's room a short distance from the entry. He knew that the driver wouldn't return for at least half an hour and he figured that it wouldn't take him over five minutes, ten at the most, to accomplish his purpose.

Ever since Johnnie Burke, his life-long friend, had married Kitty Moody, the germ of murder had fermented in Big Ed's brain. A mere whisper at first, it had grown steadily, crowding out the loyalty and affection he had felt for his friend, and filled his mind with an overpowering lust to kill. Before coming to Perryville, he and Johnnie had been tramp coal diggers, floaters, working first in one place and then in another. They got drunk together, went to fall together, fought together. Sometimes they worked two or three months in the same place, saving their money only to spend it during a big spree. Then they moved on to another mine.

Kitty Moody changed all that. They met her when they went to board at her father's house in Perryville. Both fell in love with her and after a strenuous courtship, Johnnie won out. As rivals they had still remained friends.

And after marriage, Big Ed apparently thought as much of his buddy as he ever had. He loved Kitty better than anything in the world, but the full force of her loss did not come to him at once. Being a vainglorious man he imagined that she would soon tire of Johnnie and turn to him. But as time went on and the couple became more and more engrossed with each other, he began to realize that Kitty was too much in love with Johnnie to ever turn to him. It was then that the thought of murder began to occur to him.

He made no attempt to try to eliminate such a thought from his mind. His desire for Kitty was the paramount issue of his existence. It enveloped him, took complete possession of him, caused him to deliberately plan the murder of his best friend.

He thought, with Johnnie out of the way, that Kitty would turn to him. What would be more natural than for her to rely upon her husband's friend in her hour of need. It would take time, probably a year or more, but Big Ed was willing to wait. By being kind to her, sympathizing with her and doing innumerable small favors for her, he thought that he could gradually edge himself into her life until she formulated a genuine affection for him.

He knew that she must never suspect that he had anything to do with Johnnie's death. If she had even a faint suspicion of such a thing, she would always hate him. So he had waited until circumstances were just right for him to commit the crime without a chance of detection.

Before they had gone below that morning, the face boss had cautioned Johnnie about passing under a piece of white top that hung over his room neck. He was instructed to timber it well before he loaded any coal. White top in a coal mine is a rock formation that is as treacherous as a flash of lightning. Slabs of it weighing tons cling to the roof indefinitely, or they may fall at any time, without warning.

Big Ed knew that Johnnie would disregard the instructions given by the boss and load out what loose coal he had before he retimbered the room neck. It was safe enough at the face of the room where he did his loading and Johnnie never missed a chance to make all the money he could. As Big Ed cautiously moved down the entry toward Johnnie's room he was cool and calm as though he was merely going to ask his buddy for a pipe full of tobacco. He planned to take Johnnie unawares, knock him unconscious with the sledge and place him under the piece of white top. Then he intended to jar the rock loose with his sledge. He judged that the piece weighed at least two tons and when two tons drop six feet and hit a man it means this for him. No one would ever suspect that Johnnie's death was anything but accidental.

When he reached the mouth of Johnnie's room, Big Ed put out his light. He could see Johnnie's lamp, moving like a will-o'-the-wisp, as he worked, loading his second car. Gripping his sledge firmly in his right hand, Big Ed began to cautiously creep toward his victim.

Every man on the entry heard the piece of white top when it fell and came running to see what the trouble was. Working like men possessed, performing superhuman feats of strength, they removed the rock from the limp form that lay beneath it.

"It was all my fault," sobbed Johnnie Burke, gazing down at the body of his friend. "If I had set those props like the boss told me, it wouldn't have happened. Big Ed must have been coming to see me about something when the fall caught him."

The trap had caught the man who set it.

in Altruistic Armor

Years ago I lived in the same apartment house with a professional idealist.

He was such a superior person that I used to feel quite ill at ease in his presence. He talked about social revolution, economic readjustment and other matters I do not understand and was frankly contemptuous of our middle-class habits and philosophies.

But I noticed a slight rip in the fine garment of his perfection. His soul was so much absorbed with nobler thoughts that he neglected the little detail of supporting his wife and child. He did not pay his bills, says Bruce Barton in the Red Book magazine. And when he went away for the summer he left his cat in the hallway.

We had to feed the cat. Now, I am content to have you label yourself an "idealist," a "liberal," or even a "reformer," provided you don't assume that this gives you the right to ride free on the world and criticize the paying passengers.

I am an ineffectual being in an imperfect world. But if you are going to appoint yourself to act as my preceptor and guide, I insist that you first feed your cat.

Nile River Short of Water

The river Nile is lower than any previous record of modern times, causing a curtailment in water for irrigation of the Egyptian crop.

Blue-Eyed Honesty Myth

The theory that all blue-eyed persons are candid and honest if adventurous received a rude jolt recently when an eminent official announced that he had discovered a majority of the wife deserters and of criminals generally had blue eyes, says the New York Herald Tribune.

It is explained by this official that blue eyes are the eyes of a man of action, and a criminal is essentially a man of action. It is an established fact of many years standing, that among sailors and engineers, and, incidentally, also among clergymen, blue eyes predominate, but no one before has ever accused the blonde type of furnishing a majority of the criminal class.

The official quoted goes so far as to say that 69 per cent of runaway husbands are blue-eyed.

His "Roll" Well Hidden

After searching a man accused of evading his fare and failing to find any money in his pockets, railroad police at Springfield, Mass., threatened to arrest him unless he should pay. Much to their surprise, he offered to do this rather than face arrest. While the police looked on, he reached around beneath his collar and abstracted $25 from a neat little pocket sewed into the lining, paid his fare and walked away with a condescending smile for the detectives who had failed to find his "roll."

WHEN young Sergel reached New York, an exile, became plain "mister," and sought to start his career anew, he found many houses open to him, not all of which he called homes.

Then the young man heard of the colonel's reverses of fortune and sudden death. Having known, himself, the downs as well as the ups of life, he wondered what would happen to lovely Anne Miller and her little sister and their mother.

COMPILED BATTING AVERAGES OF TWILIGHT BASEBALL LEAGUE

Sullivan Leads League in Batting With 491 Average and Is Also Home Run King With Three Circuit Clouts—Leshick High Run Scorer and Cutter Leads in Three-Baggers.

As the records indicate, there has been some pretty heavy clouting, constant too, during the first and very successful season of the Carteret Twilight League. Thirty-six players hit the pellet for an average of .250 or better.

Curly Sullivan, the hard-hitting asset of the Tigers, leads all the batters in hitting with an average of .491. The tall tosser also leads in hitting homers, getting three in all, and in cracking out the most number of hits, which totaled twenty-six.

These averages show up well for the batters, who played in not more than seventeen games, but the twirlers also have a neat record in regards to a number of players in strikeouts. Balerich of the Stars was the greatest victim in the breezing role, having fanned twenty-five times. Johnny Dzurilla, who started off well early in the season, runs a close second, striking out eighteen times.

The averages of the entire league follows:

after the league schedule had been entirely played a few weeks ago. "King" Brady served 'em over for the Tigers and held the Harmonizers to six hits. His wildness at times and Scally's wild heave were accountable for the losers' three markers. Otherwise the Tigers played like real champions.

The Belmonts were also there with the goods but lacked the winning punch that their opponents had with the willow. Their fielding was classy. The score:

AMBOY PINNERS LOSE TWICE HERE

Carteret, With Great Finish Takes First Game and After Losing Second Come Through With 910 In Third Friday.

One of the most interesting bowling games this season was held at Coughlin's alleys when Carteret defeated the Amboy Big Five two out of three games before 300 enthusiastic fans, Friday night.

In the first game the local timber tumbler took the lead to the tune of 826-784 with Peterson as high man. In the second the Amboys tied the score by defeating the locals with a 882-855 score, during which game Richards of Amboy was high scorer with 207.

As usual "Bill" Donnelly was the fool of the fans and pulled off some nice breaks, thereby scoring the highest average of 194. Louis Peterson was a close second with a 193 average and Richards third with 189.

MEX PET CAPTURES ANNUAL FIRM TIJT

Defeat New York Branch of Mexican Petroleum Corp. at Brady's Field Recently by Count of 11 to 6—An Interesting Game.

By playing in top-notch form the local Mexican Petroleum All Stars walloped the New York Branch of the same firm, last Saturday at Brady's field by the score of 11-6, taking the annual Mex-Pet game for the fifth consecutive time. Manager Patterson's stick work proved a great asset to the locals at different stages of the fracas, while Jim Bowler turned the foe away on strikes on a numerous occasions when pitching.

TIGERS WIN TITLE IN TWILIGHT LOOP

Finish Strong To Win by 5 to 3 Over Rivals In Battle for Pennant of the Carteret Twilight League Sunday at Brady's Field

Local baseball has been nearly brought to a close with one of the snappiest baseball games here this season at Brady's field last Sunday, in which the Tigers won the borough Twilight League pennant from the Belmonts by 5 to 3.

Favorite S. C. Win Four in a Row

Last Sunday at Alco Park, Lincolntonville, the Favorite Soccer Club made it four in a row, by defeating the Portuguese Soccer Club of Elizabeth by the score of 3-0. Near the ending of the first half after both teams had played hard Nicholas, at inside right for the home team broke through and scored the first and only goal of the period. In the second half the Favorites outplayed their rivals, Sharkey and Decker, each scoring again for the winners.

$286,000.00 $40,000.00 SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE BOROUGH OF CARTERET, NEW JERSEY. SCHOOL BONDS.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of the Borough of Carteret, Middlesex County, New Jersey, at the Washington School, Roosevelt Avenue, Carteret, New Jersey, Monday, October 27th, 1924, at eight o'clock P. M., for the purchase of each of the following issues of School Building Bonds of the said School District of the Borough of Carteret, the amount of the issue stated in each case being the maximum amount of bonds which may be issued, and the amount which is required to be obtained.

$286,000.00 5% School Bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered from one up, to be dated July 1, 1924, and seven bonds will mature July 1st, 1926, and seven each year thereafter to 1951 inclusive, and eight bonds will mature on July 1st, 1952, and each year thereafter until 1964.

$40,000.00 5% School Bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered from one up, to be dated October 1st, 1924, and two bonds will mature July 1st, 1926, and one each year thereafter until 1964.

All of said bonds are in coupon form with the privilege of registration as to principal and interest or as to principal only. Interest is payable semi-annually on April 1st and October 1st, and both principal and interest will be payable at the First National Bank of Carteret, New Jersey.

Each issue of said bonds will, unless all bids are rejected, be sold to the bidder or bidders complying with the terms of sale and offering to pay not less than the sum above stated for each issue and to take therefor the least amount of bonds, commencing with the first maturity, and stated in a multiple of $1,000.00; and if two or more bidders offer to take the same amount of such bonds, then such bonds will be sold to the bidder or bidders offering to pay therefor the highest additional price.

In addition to the price bid, the purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. Bids are desired on forms which shall be furnished by the undersigned or by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York, and each bidder must deposit a certified check for two per cent of the amount of the bonds bid for, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, to the order of the Custodian of School Moneys, to secure the School District against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with his bid.

The bonds will be prepared under the supervision of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company, 55 Cedar Street, New York City, which will certify as to the genuineness of the signatures of the School District officials signing the bonds and the seal impressed thereon and their legality will be approved by Caldwell and Raymond of New York City, whose opinion will be furnished to the purchaser without charge. Bonds will be delivered to the successful bidder at the office of the District Clerk, Borough of Carteret, New Jersey (or at such other place within the State of New Jersey, as may be mutually agreed upon), on the first day of December, 1924, or as soon thereafter as they may be prepared.

COUNTERFEIT PLOT IS DISCOVERED; TWO MEN ARE ARRESTED

FEDERAL AGENTS AND LOCAL POLICE SEARCH ROOM OF ACCUSED AND FIND TWENTY-FIVE COUNTERFEIT TEN DOL- LAR BILLS UNDER A MIRROR.

TRACED FROM LINDEN THRU LICENSE

Alleged Counterfeiters Pass Fake Bill at Linden —Suspicious Merchant Gets License Number of Automobile and Notifies Police Here—Now In Custody of Linden Authorities.

Chief of Police Henry J. Harrington and his aides have again demonstrated their ability to quickly detect crimes. Not only did they aid in unfolding a counterfeit plot, but during this week made some fast work captures that is apparently the talk among the policemen in other sections of the state.

With the arrest of two young men, residing in the newly acquired Steinberg tract, the police believe they have solved and checked a counterfeit plot, the aim of which was the manufacture and distribution of fake ten dollar bills throughout the state. Twenty-five counterfeit $10 notes were confiscated by two federal agents aided by the police in the round-up Wednesday. The arrest of the two men may give the federal officials a clue to the master minds of the counterfeit money.

Banks, shops and business stores throughout this section have been swamped with $10 counterfeits. Every effort to locate the original source was futile. Periodically the bills would be cashed by the go-between of the counterfeiting gang and quickly discovered by the bank clerk when the deposit was made. Merchants, in most of the cases, paid little attention to those who cashed or paid with a counterfeit bill and consequently were unable to give the police a lead for the apprehension of the counterfeiters.

When two men passed a $10 bill to a Linden merchant, they played themselves into the clutches of the law. Noticing the men hurry out of his store, the storekeeper became suspicious and glancing again at the bill handed to him, noticed its peculiarity and gave a glance at the license number of the machine in which the men drove off.

Chief of Police Henry J. Harrington was advised by the Linden authorities that from checking up the number it was believed that the alleged counterfeiters hailed from Carteret. The chief was given the names and addresses of the men under suspicion. Officers Connolly, Andres and Freeman were assigned to keep an eye on the machine bearing the given number. Meanwhile two agents from the Department of Justice at Newark hurried to the borough. They waited patiently. The wanted machine finally arrived. The police officers jumped on the car and took Vido LaRusso, of 35 Edwin street, and Frank Derando, of 8 Union street, into custody. A search of their person failed to reveal anything. No counterfeit bills were found on them.

Not satisfied the agents and the police searched the rooms of both men. At LaRusso's home everything was closely scrutinized. As the men almost gave up hope, a thought came to them to look under a mirror. And the miracle happened. Twenty-five of the $10 counterfeits were neatly covered up.

Derando's home was also searched but nothing found there. LaRusso and Derando were taken to Linden for identification. They are now in the custody of the Linden and federal authorities.

Pocketbook Snatcher Nabbed By Police

When Mrs. Steve Magashegyi, of this borough, waited at the Carteret Junction station for a trolley Tuesday morning, she did not realize that a strange individual was watching her closely. Then as if by lightning the man sneaked up to her and grabbed her handbag and vanished into the woods. The pocketbook, according to the police, contained $100 and a gold wrist watch.

Mrs. Magashegyi rushed to the telephone and notified the police headquarters. Chief of Police Henry Harrington, on duty at the time, rushed Officers Donovan, O'Rourke, Javilak and Sheridan to the scene. They set a trap all around the woods and captured the man with the pocketbook in record time.

When arrested the man said he was John Martry, of Metuchen. Tuesday night he was arraigned before Recorder Slugg who held him on a charge of robbery and he was taken to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury.

HERMANN GIVES HIS VIEWS ON THE "PAY AS YOU GO POLICY"

CARTERET DEMOCRATS HOLD LARGE MEETING IN CLUBHOUSE ON ROOSE- VELT AVENUE LAST FRIDAY NIGHT— LOCAL CANDIDATES MAKE SPEECHES.

OVATION GIVEN FOR FORMER MAYOR

Two Large Banners Containing All the Names of the Local Democratic Candidates Presented to the Democratic Party—Refreshments Served to All at Close of the Meeting.

One of the largest meetings ever held in the Borough took place last Friday evening by the Carteret Democrats in their clubhouse on Roosevelt avenue. Two large banners, 6 by 18, containing all the names of the local Democratic candidates were presented to former Mayor Joseph A. Hermann, Councilman Joseph C. Child, and Samuel B. Brown, William Misdom, William Casey, Borough Assessor, Charles A. Brady, Collector, Stephen Szymborski and Dennis Fitzgerald, candidates for Justice of the Peace. The clubrooms were filled to capacity and there were great crowds on the outside unable to get in. John Ruckreigle, chairman of the banner committee, presented the banners and they were ordered to be strung across Roosevelt avenue in the Chrome and Carteret sections of the borough.

The meeting was opened by C. C. Sheridan, chairman, and among his opening remarks said "If the Republications were in office sixteen years, this borough would have been hooked in the pawnshop, with no pawnbroker to take it."

Joseph A. Hermann was then called upon to address the large gathering. "Standing for a progressive government, a clean, honest government, a government that is sensibly and humanly applied to all of the people of the borough, that economy and efficiency should be the chief aim of the executives and should be adhered to by those who are in power and laying particular stress on the policy of "Pay as you go which has been the guide of the Democratic administration." Joseph A. Hermann received an applause that could be heard for blocks away.

"When we retired in 1922, the borough was left in a high financial standing with a high credit. We could borrow over a million dollars because of its fine condition, if need be," said Mr. Hermann. As to Noe's Creek, he said that the meadows should be filled in and to eliminate the creek entirely. "In undertaking this work which is of a great nature, a man specializing in that line should be engaged to ascertain the cost of elimination, this question was under serious discussion while I was in office. I planned to do away with the creek, acquire the meadows and build a boulevard and erect a beautiful park. The two sections of the borough are separated because of this articular nuisance."

"I notice that my opponent has given his address on Washington avenue. Well, all the people know my address and know where I live. My door is always open, just ask for Joe."

"The Democratic party nor myself are on the offensive, the Republications must answer for their stewardship."

"When you are electing a mayor, your peace, happiness and contentment, depend largely upon his success for our borough needs a business manager to conduct its affairs," concluded Mr. Hermann.

Councilman Childs spoke and charged the Republications with padding the election register with the colored people. Assessor William Casey briefly outlined his work and predicted a huge majority for the Democratic party this fall. William Misdom told of the conditions in the borough and asked for united support. Collector Charles A. Brady, Stephen Szymborski and Dennis Fitzgerald were the other speakers of the evening. The meeting was closed after refreshments were served.

COUNCIL GETS 3 ROAD BIDS

Matthew A. Herman Construction Company of This Borough Is Only Bidder for All Jobs for Street Improvements.

SESSION IS VERY BRIEF

Borough Council to Join Inspec- tion Party in Water Rate Fight Action—Mr. Niles Before the Council in Reference to Walks.

The Matthew A. Hermann Construction Company, of this borough, was the only bidder on three street improvement jobs, when the proposals were received by the borough council at its adjourned meeting Wednesday night. For curbs and sidewalks on Irving street from Cooke avenue to ocust street the company bid $2,580; sidewalks and curbs on Union street from Edwin street to the northerly end of the present paving, $3,096.24; sidewalks and curbs on Sharot street from Lafayette street to Pershing avenue, $5,329.54. The bids were referred to the street and road committee and will be acted upon at the next meeting on Monday.

Mr. Niles, representative of the Carteret Ferry, came before the council, urging them not to lay sidewalks for a distance of about 100 feet from the entrance to the ferry. He said that if the sidewalks were laid as presently proposed, all the trucks waiting for the ferry would jam Roosevelt avenue.

Following considerable discussion the council agreed to meet at 12 noon yesterday with Mr. Miles on the property to further consider his recommendation.

Borough Attorney Emil Stremiau reported that a special inspection will be made by the master recently appointed in the water rate fight on Saturday morning. The inspection will be made of the water company's plants, proposed routes, etc. Several members of the council agreed to attend the inspection.

Present at the session were Mayor Mulvihill, Borough Clerk Platt, Borough Attorney Stremiau and Councilmen Andres, Child, Brown, Wilgus and Phillips.

HERMANN PLEADS FOR BETTERMENT

Tells Large Audience at Smoker and Rally at Jefferson Club Last Night that Rights of Peo- ple Have Been Taken Away.

URGES PARK OVER NOE CREEK SWAMP

Councilman Child Says that Fig- ures Issued by Republicans on Finances Contradicted—Copy of 1923 Audit Being Made.

A plea for civic betterment and general welfare of the community was made by former Mayor Joseph A. Hermann, candidate for the mayoralty office on the Democratic ticket before a large audience at the Jefferson Club smoker and rally last night. The speaker pointed out that in the last two years, the rights of the people of the borough have been deprived, the dance halls closed through the passing of ordinances by the Republican administration prohibiting the running of a dance by the people or by the church without first obtaining a permit. "If you failed to get the permit, the police soon will knock on your door and check the affair." He believed that although a body has a legal right to pass ordinances, some consideration should be given the people, the law abiding people, who would like to enjoy an affair without interference.

Mr. Hermann advocated a park over Noe's creek, by elimination of the swamps, stressed the need of water and gas for East Rahway, the future residential section of the borough.

The speaker touched on a number of subjects affecting borough affairs. William Misdom, candidate for the one year term, said that the borough had an automatic system of government in the last two years. He also added that he lost his job in a local plant because he failed to uphold the Republican doctrine.

Councilman Joseph C. Child, speaking at length on many issues, remarking that a copy is now being made of the 1923 audit at Trenton to disprove the facts and figures on finances issued by the Republications. "They have kept the 1923 audit from me constantly and now we must at our own expense get a copy of it at Trenton," he added.

William D. Casey, candidate for assessor, reviewed his work as assessor. William Lawlor presided. Refreshments were served.

SENATOR EDGE GETS BIG RECEPTION AT REPUBLICAN RALLY

CAPACITY CROWD AT DALTON'S GIVES SENATOR ROUSING AND ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME TO THE BOROUGH—WARNS OF RADICAL MOVEMENT.

SITUATION OUTLINED BY THE MAYOR

Tells People That Republican Party Will Go Over the Top at the Coming Election and Out of Sheer Appreciation Of Their Work—Other County and Local Candidates Also Speak.

Dalton's Hall was jammed to capacity Monday night, where the Carteret Republicans held a rally and mass meeting. Senator Walter E. Edge was the principal speaker of the evening and he was given an enthusiastic reception.

In opening his talk, Senator Edge thanked the voters of the borough for the vote of confidence given him on primary day. He spoke highly of Carteret, praised considerably Mayor Mulvihill for his many efforts in behalf of the people and said that the mayor's name in his (the senator's) office is as well known as that of President Coolidge.

Senator Edge emphasized the importance of relationship between government and business, pointing out that the good times incident to a Republican administration are sufficient reason for most of the thinking voters to again support that party. When President Harding was inaugurated the unemployed in this country numbered 5,000,000. This unemployment has been absorbed now and if one is out of a job it is mainly his own fault, the senator continued, as he pressed his argument that prosperity can be found under a Republican national administration.

The speaker compared the Republican national ticket of Coolidge and Dawes with that of the Democrats, Davis and Bryan and the independent progressives, LaFollette and Wheeler. He referred to the Coolidge-Dawes ticket as the ideal combination, declaring that both men have proven their ability, courage and sound reasoning power. In the Democratic combination of Davis and Bryan, Senator Edge said, there is found an ultra-conservative and a man with a radical viewpoint, as has been demonstrated during his term as governor of Nebraska.

"LaFollette and Wheeler advocate destruction of the constitution by taking away the power of the supreme court and placing it in the hands of the congress," the speaker continued, explaining the doctrine of congressional supreme power now being preached by the Independents. "Government ownership and control of railroads, as advocated by the radicals," he said, would mean the expenditure by the government of forty billions of dollars and then the government would not be able to operate the road without losing more money. This was proven conclusively during the war. The government must buy the railroads if it wishes to take them over. It cannot seize them although such an act might be possible under a regime as is advocated by the radicals.

Government ownership of the railroads would mean also taking over the two and a half million men and women now employed in the railroads. Increases in their wages would result in increased passenger and freight rates, bringing this directly back to the people who must pay.

"The tax burden has been lightened materially," Senator Edge said, "during the Republican regime the twenty-five per cent reduction in the income tax this year being one of the Republican moves."

Councilman Frank Andres acted as chairman of the meeting. Graphically he described the various political issues as affecting the borough, chided the Democratic party for their unfounded propaganda. He spoke of the accomplishments of the Republicans, reviewed the many movements. He said that when in 1922 a resolution was introduced to make public the moneys expended by the borough, the motion was spurred.

Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill delivered a most impassionate talk, probably the best ever since he has entered the political arena. He touched on many subjects, criticized the Democratic administration and expressed the belief that the Republican party will win because of sheer appreciation of the people. The mayor was enthusiastically applauded as he concluded his lengthy talk.

Assemblyman Thomas L. Hanson, candidate for the general assembly, urged support at the election. He spoke also in behalf of the other Republican candidates.

John H. Nevill spoke at length on tax affairs, explained how the Democratic party is assessing according to its will. He said that if elected he would give a just, fair and honest assessment on all properties alike.

Council Edward Wilson reviewed his work in the council for the last year. He told of the good work of the poor committee and other important borough affairs.

Councilman Hercules Ellis in a brief but very interesting talk upheld the Republican administration for its good work in behalf of the people, told of his activities at the council table and touched on the many local issues.

Councilman Charles A. Phillips spoke on borough finances, the splendid financial condition of the borough, the sound business principles, etc.

Walter A. Vonah, candidate for office, assured to do his best if elected. J. Lyman was absent, because he was engaged. Mayor Mulvihill spoke a word in his behalf, also in behalf of Clayton Young and Peter Goderstad.

THE PRICE OF A COAT

By MARY W. OVINGTON

REBECCA HARRIS was thin and small, with dark, sad eyes, and drooping mouth. As she walked out of the department store into the cold night she told herself that never before had she been so tired; never at any time; not even Christmas eve. It had been a horrid day in the stuffy basement with customers pawing over marked-down coats, insisting that tight garments were too loose and loose garments too tight, taking up her time, and then going off to see if they could not get better bargains elsewhere. She had stood on her tired feet, and stretched her arms to fit tall women until her back was one long, monotonous ache, and she must face the same mad, rushing, bargaining crowd tomorrow.

The city was gray and cold, the streets slippery. Her lodging house, too, would be cold, and there would be no warm meal to await her. She had been spending money on clothes and must economize now on food. There was a slice of cold ham on the window-sill, but she was growing to loathe cold ham. If she could only afford a meal now, at the restaurant that she was approaching! It was always hard to get by this corner. She smelled the steaming fragrance of hot bread baking beneath her feet, and through the plate glass windows she caught glimpses of men and women eating at pretty tables lighted by candles with soft pink shades. It seemed to the tired salesgirl the most alluring, the most celestial place this side of paradise.

"Good evening. Looks pretty good in there, doesn't it?"

A man was standing at her elbow. He was jaunty in appearance, with well-cut clothes and a soft hat. As he spoke he edged a little nearer to her side.

Rebecca edged away. All her life's training led her to, but she moved slowly, and the man following, said in a sympathetic voice—"Down on your luck tonight? I'm on top today. Suppose you come inside and we have the best dinner in town?"

Rebecca moved away, but with still slower steps. The rush of warm, fragrant air from the stoves beneath made her sick with desire. They had turned the corner and had come to another door of the restaurant. Throwing his arm about her, the man half-rushed the girl into the brightly lighted room. The head waiter beckoned them to a seat, and before she was half aware of what she had done she found herself sipping a cream soup and looking into the friendly face opposite.

It was a wonderful meal, four courses of sumptuous food, the fish with a delicate sauce, the chicken brown and tender, the ice cream smooth and rich, not like the coarse stuff that was all Rebecca could ever afford. For an hour, seated comfortably in the warm room, the girl ate and was refreshed. It was the finest dinner that she had ever known.

She hardly spoke at all. Her companion did not seem to mind, but watched her with a satisfied air, remarking occasionally on the food before them, criticizing this or praising that. He smoked a cigar while she ate her ice cream.

As they went out she tried to voice her thanks. "I was all done up," she said. "I never enjoyed anything so much before. You must have spent a heap on me. I saw you pay the waiter a ten, and you only got a one in change."

"That's all right," the man replied. He had hold of her arm and was guiding her into a side street. "Glad to do something for you. We'll walk a little down here."

Rebecca tried to draw away from him, but his hold tightened on her arm. "This isn't my way," she declared with as much firmness as she could muster. "Thank you so much and good-night."

Her companion still held her. "This way," he said, and jerked her toward the stoop of a nearby house. "It was a nice party, but it cost me a pretty penny, and it's your turn to pay now."

Then Rebecca woke from her dream of food and comfort and understood, and terror struck her, making her numb and cold and fear. She gripped hold of the nearby railing.

"I've been selling coats all day," she cried shrilly; "coats at eight-ninety-eight, just about what you paid out on me. Black coats, blue coats, brown coats. All sizes, from thirty-two to forty-four."

The man laughed. "You're a crazy kid," he said, "you and your coats."

"Any size you want," she went on, "and all for eight-ninety-eight. Are you expecting to buy me as cheap as that?"

For answer he caught her up quickly, and half dragging, half carrying her, his arm against her mouth to stifle any cry, he brought her to the basement entrance of the house in front of which they had been standing.

Before the door opened a hand was on his shoulder. Turning he saw a policeman. He dropped the girl and the two stood, confronted by the majesty of the law.

The girl peered into the officer's face. "He gave me a dinner." Her high voice quivered with fear and anger. "It cost nine dollars. I was and hungry, and I thought he was paying for it; but no, I'm to pay for it. What yer think? He gives me chicken and some soup and ice cream and asks me to pay with myself? It took only an hour to eat, and I'm to pay for it all my life. That ain't a bargain, is it?"

She tore off her coat. "Give him this," she said. "It cost eight dollars and ninety-eight cents. I sold one to myself. Ain't it like a man to take the price of a piece of chicken and a soup, the price of a last year's style coat, and make you pay for it all your days? Ain't I worth more than a coat?"

She tumbled the garment into the arms of the astonished officer and dashed away, losing herself in the crowd by the restaurant. The two men faced each other. After a moment the officer laughed. "This belongs by rights to you," he said, thrusting the coat upon the other man. "Take it back and get it exchanged tomorrow." Throwing the garment over the other's arm he walked away. Before he turned the corner he looked back. The man still stood by the rail, the coat in his hands.

Nothing Ever Gained by Looking Backward

By KEMAL STRAIGHT

The Forward Look! Forgetting the things that are behind, our eyes ever on the picture we have made of what we want in life, always pressing forward, and never looking back until we win our goal.

We let all kinds of things come between us and the thing we want to do—silly, useless things that turn us about, cause us to lose sight of our picture. Eyes front! Your picture is somewhere there ahead of you—waiting to be realized. It is not behind you.

Have your plan, your aim. No great picture was painted in a haphazard way. No goal was ever gained by looking backward. "Press on to the things that are before," the Good Book says.

It is vision which makes one man lead, makes him win. The capacity to see life in the large, to see the END as well as the beginning of any enterprise, is a great gift. This is true, even though at the time you may be only a minute figure in it.

Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania system since 1912, retired the other day after fifty-four years in the service. He had been clerk in a country store, a rodman and chairman. If he had been satisfied, had not pictured something bigger and greater for himself, he would still be plodding on in the same capacity, or one little better. But Samuel Rea KNEW what he WANTED to do, what he COULD do. Promotion after promotion finally put him at the top. His picture has been painted on Life's screen. And it is the picture of success in his chosen work.

Do you for a moment think that if Samuel Rea had not had the Forward Look he would have succeeded? Do you imagine that had he kept constantly looking backward over his shoulder, instead of keeping his eyes straight ahead he ever would have seen his picture come true? Would he have occupied the position in the world he does today if he had been a doubting Thomas instead of an optimistic Samuel? Could he have been at the head of one of the greatest railroad systems in the world if he had let anything make him lose sight of his ultimate goal?

And what we have said of Samuel Rea may with equal force apply to his successor, Gen. W. W. Atterbury. He began in much the same small way; but by never looking backward, he is today putting the last touches to his picture of success.

There is no doubt either in his mind or in the minds of those who know him that the finished picture will be beautiful and wonderful to behold. (Copyright, 1924, by The Eastman Syndicate.)

Two young attorneys—Arthur Walker and Harry Howard—argued long and loudly in court over a suit for $5.25.

The judge finally interrupted the lawyers.

"My time is valuable, even if yours isn't," he said, giving a decision in favor of the plaintiff and paid the judgment out of his own pocket and remitted court costs.

"I would have to think too long before being able to decide the case on its legal merits and it isn't worth the effort," the judge said.—Los Angeles Times.

Shoe-Throwing Custom

The practice of throwing an old shoe after a bride is, it seems, quite misapplied when it is done by some of her companions for luck. According to the spirit of the ceremony, which is of very ancient lineage, it should be done by the parent or guardian of the bride, as indicating a renouncing of all authority over her. Chieftains in feudal times took off their shoes and handed them to their conquerors in token of accepted defeat, from which practice this slipper-throwing custom is said to have descended.

Shakespeare and the Bible

The authorized version of the Bible was published when Shakespeare was alive; yet, though there are many mistakes in grammar in Shakespeare, as judged by the Twentieth century, there are only two in the Bible: "Whom do men say that I am?" and "heavier than them both." Proverbs 27:3 "Was there a vernacular and a literary language then, and did Shakespeare follow the man in the street rather than the man higher up?"

Mother's Cook Book

There is a large and very knowing class who rejoice in the name of grumblers, persons who are so sure the world is going to ruin; they resent every attempt to comfort them, and accordingly seek their greatest consolation in being inconsolable, their chiefest pleasure in being displeased. Though you be with these people, I pray you be not one of them, for to do so means a life of uselessness.—Whipple.

TO FEED THE FAMILY

WITH a diversity of tastes it is hard to make every meal please all appetites. For that reason it is a wise mother who early trains her offspring to eat all kinds of wholesome foods, even if they are not especially well-liked.

Jelly Relish.

Soften one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water and dissolve by placing in a dish of hot water. Set individual molds in ice water; decorate the sides and bottom with figures cut from pimentos, placing them with the point of a large needle, dipping them in gelatin and setting them in place. Chop one slice of mild onion, two green peppers and cabbage to make one pint. Mix with one-fourth of a cupful of vinegar, one-fourth of a cupful of brown sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of celery seed, one-half teaspoonful of mustard seed and the gelatin. Turn into prepared molds and set aside in a cool place. Unmold on lettuce. Serve with fish or meat course.

Minute Soup.

Take one cupful of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of butter; mix well; add one grated onion, pepper, salt and a dash of poultry dressing, one and one-half cupfuls of rich cream, three cupfuls of boiling water; simmer for one minute and serve with toasted crackers.

Graham Bread.

Take one cupful of graham flour, one-half cupful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, two cupfuls of good buttermilk, one level teaspoonful of soda. Beat well and pour into a buttered pan and bake one hour.

Sweden's Match Industry
Safety matches were invented by a Swede, G. E. Pasch, in 1844. The industry he founded has prospered so that Swedish manufacturers now produce one-third of all the matches used in the world.

Water for Oranges
Irrigation is an important feature of the orange growers' industry. It is particularly necessary in Arizona and California, while the Florida groves can generally depend upon the rainfall.—Nature Magazine.

Sycamore Is Stately
One of the best of native trees is the sycamore or buttonball, says the American Tree association. This tree is tall and stately, with broad, open top, growing to large size, and adapted to wide streets.

Prolific Composer
Alessandro Scarlatti, who is called the founder of modern opera, was a prolific composer of music. He left over 100 operas, 200 masses and numerous cantatas and oratorios, and invented accompanied recitatives.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Junior Class Organized For the Year—Other Notes.

The Junior Class formed at a meeting Friday called by the Junior English Teacher (Miss Scott). The Junior Class was organized for the year by the election of officers as follows: Morris Abrams, president; Theodore Daniels, vice president; Hulda Stutzke, secretary, and Lillian Catrui, treasurer. The officers promised to do all in their power to make the Junior Class a success, financially and otherwise.

The following day the class held a special meeting and after much arbitration decided that they would work hard to make money to support the basketball team with necessities, including a court on which to practice, by means of a minstrel show or short play. Special note was made as to the Washington trip on graduating from the Senior Class. Money for this occasion will be obtained by earnest working on the part of the members in plays, dances and the like.

The spirit shown by the members in addressing the class would awaken some of our people who do not know that there is a high school in the borough.

The first dramatic society in the High School was formed Friday when a great number of Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors met with Miss Stagg, coach and leader, after school. The officers elected were Lewis Lehrer, president; Fannie Schwartz, vice-president; Loretta Kay, secretary, and Emma Christensen, treasurer. The dues decided upon were twenty-five cents a month. This money will be used in aiding plays or other form of oral expressions.

Preparations are being made for the publishing of the High School magazine and as soon as the name and staff are decided upon the work will be begun. It is expected that the magazine will be published quarterly.

The Spanish Club, a regular High School organization, will be formed next week, by Spanish students, under the direction of the Spanish teacher, Miss Monahan.

MILESTONES IN NEW JERSEY'S PROGRESS. THE VEHICULAR TUNNEL—ANOTHER LINK BETWEEN NEW JERSEY AND NEW YORK. In a few weeks the New Jersey and New York bores of the great vehicular tunnel under the Hudson River will be joined. The work has been steadily progressing for months and on the New Jersey side it was electrical energy furnished by Public Service Electric and Gas Company that drove the machinery used in the process of excavation. In the State's development important factors are the provision of electricity, of gas and of local transportation—three public necessities provided for the larger portion of the State by Public Service companies. Public Service Companies have expended $144,645,000 since 1903 for the development and expansion of these services. The expansion and progress of the State and these public utilities proceed side by side. THE LIBRARY

The use of the Carteret Free Public Library is constantly on the increase. The institution, it appears is no longer regarded as a place used for the storage books, and it does not satisfy itself with merely handing out the book as they are requested by the reader.

The librarian makes every effort to give our readers everything asked for, the librarian tries to stimulate the non reader to take up reading and also tries to aid the would-be reader who does not know where to begin.

Our children are using the library more and more to supplant their school work. Hundreds of the children can be seen flocking to the library at the specified hours seeking, hunting and getting the desired aid.

WHAT NEXT?

The day may come when junk dealers will be collecting sawdust, old boards, broken furniture, leaves and twigs to be manufactured into new lumber, according to scientists of the New York State College of Forestry.

The synthetic work gives the junkman a new field. What next?

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

No matter how much money you may have, if you do not enjoy life, your work and the things that make for happiness, you are a failure. Friends, simple comforts, the delights of having a fine family, these are the things that spell success.

To Observe Children's Week At the Library

"Children's Book Week" was originated in 1919 by the American Book-seller's Association, the American Library Association, the Boy Scouts of America and Associated Publishers, and has become, in five years, a national annual campaign which thousands of communities use to stimulate interest in boys and girls books.

Churches, schools and libraries all over the country will devote the week of November 9-15 to the advancement of reading among the boys and girls of all ages.

In 1923 more than 3,500 cities and towns took part. The library is anxious to co-operate with them in this work, and to encourage a love of books among the boys and girls of this borough.

The library is planning to purchase new books of a higher standard so that the children may learn to know and appreciate the better class of literature. The children are asked to help in this selection by mentioning their favorite books or new editions that have attracted them.

Rapid Progress Made On the High School

Jack Ross Arrested
Jack Rose, of 15 Bergen street, is held in $1,000 bail on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested by Officer Sheridan.

GOBLIN AND THE FAIRIES

THE fairies were holding a very grand picnic one night in a dell. It was a very large and grand affair, because all of the fairies were there.

All the mortals were good on that night. No one was in trouble; the mortal children had all gone to bed on time and so all the fairy folk were free to enjoy themselves.

A big feast was prepared on a flat rock with a lacy cobweb covering. Dewdrops crystal-like glistened in the moonlight, making a beautiful table decoration.

Pond-lily dishes held all the fairy dainties, and the fireflies and the moonlight made a fairyland picture, which of course it was.

The goblins were out, too, but as their woods were not anywhere near the picnic ground of the fairies no one had thought a thing about them.

"What Have You to Say for Yourself?"

But the tricky little creatures were out that night doing some work besides playing tricks, and it happened that this work took some of their band right to the dell where the fairies were holding their picnic.

Right into a tree that hung over the rock where the feast was spread it took them, too, and when they saw all the good things on the table one little goblin called Slippy by his brothers because he could slip through the smallest crack or crevice, crept to the tip end of a bough to get a better view.

Slippy was so small he could go to tip ends in perfect safety, but this time he was so intent upon what he saw that he lost his grip, and down he tumbled right into the dish of lovely pudding made from butterfly eggs.

It was all soft and frothy, and when Slippy jumped out, there he stood on the table looking like a tiny snow man.

The fairies were just getting ready to sit down when he tumbled, and it gave them a scare, as you can well imagine, for they thought all their lovely supper was spoiled.

When they saw the funny little Slippy all froth they had to laugh, and one of the fairies told the queen he ought to be punished for upsetting their table even if he did make them laugh.

When the other goblins saw what had happened to poor Slippy they scrambled out of the tree and away they ran, leaving their unhappy brother alone in his trouble.

"Well," said the fairy queen, "what have you to say for yourself? Unless you can give a good reason for being here, a very good one, mind you, you will have to be punished, for by fairy law anyone who enters our dell on feast nights must be punished in some way. Now, what have you to say?"

Slippy Goblin was busy trying to get the sweet, nice frothy pudding off of his clothes, and I am sorry to have to tell it, but he licked his fingers and ate every bit he could, for butterfly-egg pudding is one of the most delicious dishes the fairies make.

Slippy was frightened, but not so frightened he could not eat, though when the queen spoke in such a stern tone he stopped eating and replied, "I have an excuse, your majesty, for being in the dell, though not for having fallen into the pudding," he said.

"I came with some of our band to put back a bird's egg some bad boys had stolen, and when it was laid on the ground we took it. Oh, how those boys hunted and wondered what had happened!" Slippy laughed as he remembered how funny it was.

"That is my excuse for being in the dell, but, your majesty, your table was what tempted me to lose my hold on the branch, and you know what happened."

"What shall his punishment be, my children?" the queen asked her fairies, and Slippy's eyes grew big as he waited.

"He shall be sentenced to stay and have supper with us," said all the fairies. "He was doing a good deed and no wonder he tumbled when he saw all the nice things we are to have for supper."

"That is just what I expected you to say," replied the queen.

"Slippy's brothers were pretty sorry when they heard of the feast he had with the fairies, for perhaps they, too, might have been invited to have some of the good things if they had not run away and left him, when he tumbled into the fairy pudding.

Smuggle Narcotics With Aid of Radio

Philadelphia.—With the discovery that prisoners in the Eastern state penitentiary were using radio as an aid to smuggle in narcotics, there also has been revealed considerable ingenuity in the construction of miniature sets to evade the subsequent drastic edict forbidding radio instruments, prison officials said.

The ruling became necessary when a visitor repairing a convict's instrument in a cell, received a radio message in code detailing a scheme to bring narcotics into the penitentiary in a rubber ball thrown over the walls.

Investigation showed that the message was sent from a small portable set near the prison.

The sets constructed by the convicts to evade the ruling have been found to vary from tiny ones to fit the palm of the hand, to more pretentious sets concealed in out-of-the-way places. In general, bed springs have been used for aerial connections, with water pipes or steam pipes for "grounds." One set, seized since the order banning them, was contained in a Bible. The convict had hollowed out the center of the volume, leaving only the edges of the pages intact, and in the hollow portion had built a highly efficient set.

Three Jerseymen Presented Medals For Saving Lives of Gas Victims

JOHN SWAIN

ELWOOD F. COFFMAN

Of five awards of the McCarter Medal made Wednesday night of this week to employees of gas companies in the United States who have resuscitated a victim of gas asphyxiation by use of the Schaefer-Prone Pressure method during 1923, three went to New Jersey men, two of whom are employees of Public Service Electric and Gas Company.

The presentation took place on the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, before 3,000 representatives of gas companies who are attending the sixth annual convention of the American Gas Association. The McCarter Medal is the gift of Thomas N. McCarter, president of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and its subsidiary companies. Mr. McCarter in person made the presentation.

The two Public Service men who received medals are John Swain, Leonard and Westfield avenues, Camden, and Elwood F. Coffman, 264 Tenth avenue, Haddon Heights. Both men are employed by the Camden Coke Company. Mr. Swain as boiler mechanic and Mr. Coffman as chief chemist. The other New Jersey man was Morris Joslin, Highland avenue, Atlantic Highlands, employed by the County Gas Company.

Mr. Swain saved the life of Francis McDowell of Oaklyn, a boiler cleaner, on December 15. Mr. Mc-Dowell was at work in the producer house helping to repair a dust damper when he inhaled gas fumes and became unconscious. Mr. Swain working on him with the prone pressure method. When McDowell had regained consciousness, he was taken to Cooper Hospital. Eight employees who assisted Mr. Swain were awarded certificates.

Mr. Coffman saved the life of Lawrence Miller, 833 Florence street, Camden, a helper on August 4. Miller was cleaning gas coals. He inhaled gas, went outside to get the air and dropped unconscious. Resuscitation measures were applied by Mr. Coffman and five assistants and Miller was revived. The assistants were given certificates.

Mr. Joslin saved the life of Robert Moyer, a fitter, who was overcome July 11 while blowing drip water from a high pressure service on Center avenue, Brevort Park, suburb of Atlantic Highlands. Mr. Joslin, who is superintendent of distribution, with William Gordon, brought Moyer back to consciousness. Mr. Gordon was given a certificate.

The two other medals were awarded to L. C. Meyer, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, and Edward B. Ryan, Fitchburg Gas and Electric Company of Fitchburg, Mass.

This Time, Good Yarn Is Told on Scotsman

One good old yarn that is exhumed from time to time, or rather reincarnated, since it appears in a slightly different form, concerns the Scottish land law known as tenure by feu, which consists in the tenant performing certain services, or making certain payments, failure in which may result in forfeiture of the tenancy.

Some time back it was decided to abolish feus on the Sutherland estates, substituting therefor a generous form or lease which would have the effect of making the crofter the owner, in all but name, of the land he tilled.

To his grace's surprise, however, the first Highland farmer to whom the new terms were explained resolutely declined to entertain them.

"But, consider," said the agent, "the rent you will be called upon to pay is merely nominal, and we are giving you a lease of 999 years."

PLAYERS HIT BALL HARD ON FIELD CLUB--TOPSY ROTH PITCHING MARVEL CUTTER TOOK BATTING CROWN OF LOCAL OUTFIT WITH .396

Hard Hitting Player Forced to Quit Game For Remainder of Season On Account of Accident, But Lead Team With High Average--Scully Tied With Cutter In Getting Most Number of Hits.

By EDDIE EKROY

A nearly broken finger caused the Carteret Field Club to lose its best slugger in seasons this year when Chippy Cutter had to quit baseball for the remainder of the season on account of this mishap, which he attained in July while performing in the local Twilight League.

The first baseman was also a demon with the opposing pitchers, having connected for a total of twenty-one safe blows. Five doubles, two triples and two homers were his extra base wallpops. Bill Dzurilla tied Cutter for the home run crown, having gotten three drives also.

Cutter connected with the most number of triples and Scully took the lead in getting two base swats. Both Cutter and Scully are tied in corking the highest total of safeties--twenty-one. Mickey Dzurilla took the fanning prize with sixteen retirements. The averages of the other batters follow:

Won 11; Lost 6

The Field Club played in 17 contests and took eleven of them, a majority by big margins, and lost out in six. The team comprised a lineup which was capable of beating any semi-pro nine in the state.

In the last five games of the campaign, the local lineup consisted of youngsters, the experienced players had left the team as well as Snowden.

In these quintet of games the locals were beaten three times, having registered close victories over Woodbridge, 4-3 and 5-4.

The scores and opponents follow: Harrison Hudsons, 6-0; Elizabeth Belmonts, 16-2; Plainfield C. C., 2-3; Dublins, 12-5; Fords, 2-4; Paterson, 8-1; Newark Triangles, 12-2; New Brunswick Eagles, 7-2, seven innings; Perth Amboy, 1-8; Elizabeth Braves, 4-2; Landings, 7-5; Crescents, 10-7; Fords, 4-7; Braves, 1-2; Woodbridge, 4-3; Woodbridge, 5-4; Vons of New Brunswick, 5-9. Team average: Won, 11; lost, 6; average, .653.

CARROL CAUSED SENSATION ONCE

First of a Series of Articles Explains How Johnny Carrol Came Through in His Bouts Since 1918, When In His Prime

FOUGHT IN TOWN BUT FOUR TIMES

Won Two and Other Two Ended in Draw--Fought a Great Deal at Perth Amboy Shows in 1918--Defeated Many of the Best.

It is the intention of the NEWS to print a series of articles telling of the local fighters careers and other points worth mentioning about them. Beginning with this week the NEWS will have these articles published. Today our first fighter mentioned is Johnny Carrol, the boy who caused a great sensation two or three years ago in the squared circle.

Johnny is a veteran now and is figuring on a busy winter season, when he will, according to Manager Bill Nash, meet some of the best boxers in the state and is especially aiming to create another sensation similar to the one he caused a few years ago, in the county.

Carrol fought in forty-one battles since 1918 and was only beaten in seven of them, winning eight by knockouts and twenty-three by decisions. Three of his mixups resulted in a draw. Most of the fighting was done in Perth Amboy, when he was in his prime. At this city he was a great favorite and fought in seventeen straight bouts there, winning the first fourteen and losing the remaining three.

Elizabeth then seemed to like his style of fighting and the way he tore into his opponent. He slammed five fighters for popular victories there and was only defeated once by Danny Pavaese, who outweighed the local pug thirteen and a half pounds.

The lightweight only fought in four affairs here since his beginning. Joe Warren, of Newark, was his opponent in an eight round event at the first annual boxing show given by the local fire companies. The bout was a hummer and ended in a draw. After losing to Jack McFarland, a well known lightweight in these parts, at Rahway, Carrol slashed the same boy good at times in their next bout which was held here, but Johnny was only given a draw.

Carrol deserved his next two bouts here on decisions, from Young Woody, of Elizabeth, and Tony Kling, another demon known throughout the surrounding counties. Both bouts went eight fast rounds.

Carrol's record follows:

Comba and Karslick To Meet For Honors

Charles Comba, junior flyweight, will meet Kid Karslick, of South River, in a four round bout, for the Middlesex County junior flyweight championship, at Perth Amboy, on Thursday evening, October 30. The show will be given by the Police Benevolent Association of that city. Comba's manager, Charlie Leslie, expects to have him fight in many bouts this winter.

LOCAL RIDER IS STAR IN VICTORY

Johnny Bruskie Rides Fast and Helps Himself and Teammate to Capture One-Hour Bike grind at Weequahic Park.

SIXTEEN CREDITS TO GOOD AT TAPE

Score 60 Points in Sprints and Although Jack Costello, His Mate, Rides Well, the Local Peddler is Accountable for Victory.

After riding amidst a very thick cloud of hard luck on the tracks of the Newark and New York City velodromes all during the summer months, Johnnie Bruskie received a big round of applause and honor from the thousands of bike fans at the Weequahic Park race track, Sunday afternoon, when by his classy performance he and his teammate, Jack Costello, captured the one hour grind given by the Newark Bay View Wheelmen Club. The winning combination scored up a total of sixty points in eight sprints.

Bruskie and Costello rode in alternating sprints and Johnny earned most of the points with two firsts, a second and a third, while Jack finished second, third, fourth and sixth. The team of Steve La Boda and John Evans took second prize with 44 credits; Willie Honemann and Jake Pearl, third with 42. The combinations of Anthony Butler-Walter Sharbeck, Frank Semcer-Ted Kossup and Al Dandoz-Henry Krunweide finished third, fourth and fifth respectively.

Carteret Bowlers Lose To Plainfield Team

With two regular bowlers, Kees and Lew Peterson, out of the lineup, Carteret was handed some of their own medicine by Plainfield at Coughlin's lanes Tuesday night. Carteret traveled to the Queen City last week and trounced the Plainfield quintet in three straight games and this week lost out in two of the three contests.

Bill Donnelly's 216 score and Mike Toppo's 190 count brought the locals high enough to win the final game by more than seventy-five pins. Cassalegi rolled 188 for Carteret. Kyle's 236, for Plainfield in the second game, was the highest score of the match. Wilson also bowled over the two hundred mark. The score:

Midgets Booking

The Young Boys Midgets Football team of Carteret wish to book games with teams weighing in the vicinity of 75-90 pounds. All communications should be addressed to Morris Nadel, 130 Union street, Carteret, or call Carteret 357-W between hours of 9-10.30 in the evening.

Match Called Off

The scheduled match between Carteret and the Rahway Eagles, which was to be rolled on the borough alleys last Friday night, was called off by the locals due to the fact that two of their best pinmen were unable to bowl on account of illness.

SOCCER CLUB IS BEATEN SUNDAY

Locals Go Down Before Fast Team From Passaic at Brady's Oval Sunday for Third Straight Beating in League, 2 to 1.

LOCAL HALFBACK MAKE LONE GOAL

Makes Long Shot of Twenty-five Yards Through Scott's Goal In First Half--Accident Caused Tilt to Be Delayed Until 4 P. M.

The Carteret Field Club Soccer eleven lost a well played game Sunday at Brady's field to the Scott A. A. of Passaic, winners of the New Jersey State cup last year, by 2 goals to 1. It was Carteret's third straight walloping in the circuit, despite the fact that they played excellent ball.

From the very start the match was bitterly contested with first one team having the best of it only to lose control to their opponents at a later stage. During the entire ninety minutes of play there was an abundance of action of the better type, for both elevens put their every effort forward in an attempt to snatch a victory, but in spite of the fast pace set they did not allow themselves to depart from the principles of clean football. The keen rivalry displayed was solely expended in hard play to the satisfaction of all concerned. There was quite a crowd of fans in attendance to witness the clash and it was highly pleased with the exhibition that was offered for their approval.

The trip to Carteret by the visitors proved that Lady Luck has not as yet decided to smile on the cause of the eleven for they ran up against trouble. Due to the fact that it was not possible to secure a bus to make the run it was found necessary to bring private cars into use, and one of these containing five players broke down at Newark. After it had been repaired they continued as far as Elizabeth where trouble again developed that forced them to leave the car there. In the meantime the remainder of the team was at the field anxiously awaiting the arrival of their mates in order to get the game underway. They were kept in suspense until 3.45 when Mgr. Liddell and the missing ones at last appeared in a taxi. There was no unnecessary time lost after they had arrived.

Chapman, playing left half sent in a long shot that beat Lindsay, the Scott goalie, and put the locals in the lead, in an early stage of the tilt. With the count tied at one all in the latter half Haddon, who had previously tallied his team's goal, booted the ball past Cooke, who was trying to dribble it out of such dangerous territory, a few feet from the goal posts.

A few minutes after that count was marked up the locals started a very threatening rally, showering the Scott clan's goal almost throughout the latter part of the battle, but mainly through Lindsay's fine playing for the visitors at the goal, Carteret had to be content with one point in that affair. Tough luck still holds sway over Carteret and as a result they dropped their third straight league game. The line-up:

Table with columns: Name, Position. Lists players like Scott A. A., Carteret F. C., Lindsay, Goal, Cooke, Mulholland, Mulligan, Geluk, L. B., Robertson, R. H., Taylor, Stephen, C. CADILAC SOUTHPAW FLINGER SET FEW VERY GOOD RECORDS

Topsy Roth Had Six Game Winning Streak; Fanned Twenty-One Batsmen In a Single Game and Brought Total of Strikeouts Up to Ninety-Nine For Entire Season in Local Twilight League

Topsy Roth, the young southpaw twirler, who put the Cadilacs as far up into the winning column as they were, proved to be the most outstanding star by his wonderful skill among the twenty-six pitchers, who broke into the game on the slab at some time or other. His winning amounted to seven games with two defeats--one by the Tigers in which he allowed only two hits.

The success of other hurlers did not sum up to be as great as that of the Cadillac moundsman. Curly Sullivan came second in winning the most games--four, while Donovan, Love and Curly's brother Clinton each turned in three victories.

When Roth left the Cadilacs, who had two more games in their schedule to play, his services were greatly missed as the "lunchers" dropped both engagements and their bright hopes of winning the league pennant became darkened within a few hours time.

The club battled with the Stars for third place and both teams saw-sawed from third place to the cellar and from the cellar to third place during the first five weeks of the season.

ROTH'S WORK HELPED

Then when the port-sider joined the outfit a decided improvement was seen. He suffered a setback in his first appearance by the Tigers, but the contest was strictly a tight pitcher's duel--Brady being the other twirler. Both pitchers held their opposing batsmen to two singles.

Topsy won his next game from the Stars, but was again beaten by the Tigers in his following turn on the mound. When he served them over to the Belmonts in his fourth appearance he was nipped for eleven safeties, but managed to return a winner, 6 to 3. That was the beginning of his winning streak that moved the Cadilacs into a tie for the lead.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Approves Contracts For New High School Building Now In Course Of Construction on Washington Avenue.

MONTHLY REPORTS ARE RECEIVED

Commissioners To Get Bids for School Bonds On the Night of October 27—Other Business of Interest Transacted.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education was held last Tuesday night at Washington School. Present at the session were President Edward J. Heil, Commissioners Francis Coughlin, Theodore Bishop, Robert Jeffreys, Alex Lebowitz, Frank Brown and Lewis N. Bradford.

The school commissioners approved the recently awarded contracts for the high school structure. Attorney Francis A. Monaghan reported that on the night of October 27 proposals will be received for the bond issue covering the expenditures of the projects. He also informed that all legal phases of the issue have been completed.

The Underwriters Association at Washington in a letter to the commissioners warns them that unless certain electric wiring in the Washington School is changed and installed within ten days, drastic steps would be taken. The clerk was authorized to write that the work will be done at once.

The State Department of Education in a letter to the commissioners advised them that no working papers are to be issued in the future to children under fourteen years of age. The communication was referred to the supervising principal.

The truant officer reported nineteen visits in the schools last month, finding 201 doubtful cases and four truancy cases.

Supervising Principal, Miss Hermann, reported that the enrollment as of today was 2,565, of which 1,332 are boys and 1,233 girls; the attendance was 97 per cent.

Commissioner Theodore Bishop had a tilt with Commissioner Coughlin over reading the warrants embodying all payments made by the custodian. Mr. Bishop asked for a payroll system to be inaugurated. The motion, however, fell through as no one seconded it.

Many Attend Party at St. Mark's Parish

A most pleasing euchre which was largely attended, was given by the Daughters of St. Mark's parish house last night. A handsome selection of valuable prizes were distributed. Arrested As Shop Lifters In Newark

John Shrami, 43 years old, and his wife, 35 years old, of 68 Roosevelt avenue, were arrested last Friday afternoon in front of L. Bamberger's store, in Newark, by detectives and taken to the First Precinct Police Station in that city on a charge of grand larceny. It is alleged that they took several articles from the store. Their operations were confined to the basement, the police report states. The woman is alleged to have appropriated a coat valued at $49, while her husband got away with a girl's dress and a pair of shoes. The woman is said to have put on the coat and then moved from mirror to mirror until she got close to the door, when she left the basement. Her husband was behind her.

Search Still On For Negro Who Stabbed 2

"Buddy," or otherwise known as John Grady, colored, has apparently made his getaway good. He is a fugitive from justice since Monday. "Buddy," the police say, had a stabbing match with James Jones and Robert Bradley, both colored, on Monday morning. After the fight the assailant took the next bus for Perth Amboy, while two victims went to their homes. One of them however was badly cut and sought medical attention. This came then to the attention of the police, just two hours after the scramble. Officers Donovan and Andrea went to Perth Amboy and enlisted the aid of the police in that city. They searched through the negro district but failed to find their man.

Marguerite de la Motte

Winsome Marguerite de La Motte, the "movie" star, was born in Duluth, Minn. She moved to San Diego, Calif., when a child, and was educated there. She had a penchant for the screen and, being an unusual type, her rise to the top of the ladder of fame was a comparatively easy one. Miss De La Motte is a charming person and every bit of her five feet two inches radiates a remarkably pleasing personality. She has light hair and hazel eyes.

Foresters Elect Officers For the Coming Year

At the meeting of Court Carteret, Foresters of America, held Tuesday night, the following officers were elected: Otto Staubach, chief ranger. James Capetti, sub-chief ranger. Martin E. Rock, senior woodward. Edwin S. Quinn, lecturer. L. Zabel, senior beadle. George Dwyer, junior beadle. The officers were installed by Deputy Grand Chief Ranger John S. Olbricht. Plans were made to hold a banquet at the Carteret Inn some time in December. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

Final plans have been completed by the Girl Scouts of the borough for a dance which will be held in St. Joseph's parochial school auditorium on Monday night, Oct. 27. Mrs. Timothy J. Nevill, scout leader, is arranging an unusually interesting program. There will be a number of solo dances. The Roselle Melody Boys will furnish the music for the occasion. Every girl scout is busy selling tickets.

Cashier Miller To Leave Carteret Trust Company

The Board of Directors of the Carteret Trust Company have accepted with regret the resignation of Mr. Peter J. Miller, Treasurer, to take effect November 1.

Mr. Miller was complimented by the members of the board for the high character of services rendered and they extended to him their most cordial and sincere good wishes for his continued success.

Mr. Miller is returning to South Plainfield where personal friends feel they just cannot carry on unless they have his help and see his smiling face.

Don't forget to see Corine Griffiths in "Lilies of the Field" at the Crescent Theatre on October 23.

WILGUS FLAYS DEMOCRAT LOOSE TALK

IN STATEMENT ISSUED TODAY THE CANDIDATE SAYS THAT THE DEMOCRATIC HOUSE ORGAN IS HELPING TO BOOST REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION.

REPUBLICANS SAVE PEOPLE MONEY

Wilgus Points to Accomplishments Of Republicans, the Low Cost of Government Operation, The Competitive Bidding, Thereby Saving the Taxpayers Large Sums of Money.

Councilman Wilgus made the following statement to the public today:
"Former Mayor Hermann has seen the wisdom to fall in line and did not do something about it during the sixteen years he was mayor.

In this, as well as in all other recommendations for improvements, he takes his cue from the present mayor, Mr. Mulvihill. For it is Mayor Mulvihill who has taken the first step to eliminate the unsanitary conditions of Noe's Creek. Mr. Hermann's idea of a boulevard to replace the creek is a fine thing for Mr. Hermann. It would go right through a very large tract of land he owns or has a large interest in, and the boulevard would help to develop this property for Mr. Hermann's great financial benefit.

"Mr. Hermann in one of his speeches deprecates the fact that a permit now has to be obtained to run a dance, in order to comply with an ordinance passed during the present year. Perhaps he is not aware that the ordinance was passed by the unanimous vote of the council, and that his two colleagues, Mr. Brown and Mr. Child voted in favor of it; that Mr. Child, particularly, was largely responsible for the introduction of the ordinance.

"The mouthpiece of the Democratic party in its last Friday issue says in its editorial that the borough should be run within its budget. The Republican party believes the same thing, and in 1923 not only did this very thing but had about $2,500 left over. The author of the article evidently intended it as a recommendation to the Democrats to follow, should they be fortunate enough to be returned to power. For he knows that they had a deficit of $2,839.63 in 1922 besides the sum of $78,814.40 due the school board, all of which the Republicans had to pay in 1923. He also knows that the Republicans are paying this year $7,315.49 which was due the Hermann Construction Co. for 1922 roads. The Democrats should certainly follow his recommendations.

"He also says in his editorial that during the sixteen years of Democratic rule, it was never found necessary to finance the running of the borough by discounting notes. In this he is either telling a deliberate lie or else he shows gross ignorance in fundamental business knowledge. In 1922 the Democrats borrowed on notes about $103,000 and if they had paid to the Board of Education the $78,814.40 which they saddled on to the Republican administration in 1923, the amount would have been $180,000. This sum is by far more than the Republicans borrowed in 1923.

"He is correct when he says that all improvements are paid for by the people and that it is the duty of the men in office to manage the funds so that the public gets the greatest amount of general benefit for the smallest-possible-outlay. In making this statement he is, unconsciously perhaps, paying to the present Republican administration the highest compliment. For he knows that we were saving the people money when we built more roads in 1923 for $24,000 under competitive bidding than the Democrats, under Hermann through the Hermann Construction Co., built in 1922 for $55,000 without competitive bidding. And still more in 1924 for about $32,000. He also knows that we saved the taxpayers on Randolph street $641 on a small sewer job on that street for which the Hermann Construction Co. bid $1,638, and the successful bidders, Hansen & Jensen, only $997. He also knows that we saved the taxpayers money on curbing during the past two years under the competitive bidding system; that the bid of the Hermann Construction Co. for curbs on Pershing avenue in 1922 without competitive bidding was $1.88 per foot; and that its bid under competitive bidding for Grant avenue curbs in 1923 was $1.62 per foot, a saving of 26 cents per foot to the taxpayers on that street. He also knows that this year we saved the people on Warren street money when we were able to award a contract for curbs for $1.55 per foot against the bid of the Hermann Construction Co. of $1.78, a saving of 23 cents per foot."

COUNCIL AWARDS ROAD CONTRACTS

M. A. Hermann Construction Company Gets Three Jobs to Lay Sidewalks On Irving, Union and Sharot Streets.

WATER SUPPLY IS DISCUSSED

Superintendent Mason of Perth Amboy Tells Council That More Than Five Million Gallons of Water Are Available.

A special meeting of the borough council was held Monday night. Superintendent Samuel Mason, of the Perth Amboy Water Works, appeared before the council and advised that Perth Amboy is in a position to furnish the borough with 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 gallons a day. He contended that the resources of the water system are such as to assure not only a present but a future supply. Perth Amboy, Mr. Mason said, has at the present time a 24-inch main as far as Inlet street. Should the borough consider a contract for water pressure, Perth Amboy would extend the main to the northerly end of Perth Amboy. From that point, he said, a main could be laid by the borough through Port Reading.

Mayor Mulvihill was of the opinion that since the Middlesex Water Company is giving bad service, charges high rates and constantly asks for more, it would be advisable to condemn the lines of the water company and operate the water system itself. The matter was referred to the fire and water committee which will confer with Perth Amboy in quest of further data and particulars.

The council awarded three improvement contracts to the Matthew A. Hermann Construction Company. The contracts comprise curbs and sidewalks on Irving street from Cooke avenue to Locust street at a cost of $2,580; curbs and sidewalks on Union street from Edwin street to the northerly end of the present paving at a cost of $3,096.24; curbs and sidewalks on Sharot street from Lafayette street to Pershing avenue at a cost of $5,327.94.

William V. Coughlin, secretary of the Board of Education in a communication to the mayor and council requested that the borough collector be authorized to turn over to the custodian of school funds the sum of $60,000.

Mr. Schwartz, of 316 Pershing avenue, asked for a permit to erect a slaughter house. An inspection will be made of the site proposed to be used by Mr. Schwartz before taking action on his application.

WATER PLANT IS INSPECTED

Borough Officials Join In Trip to Water Company's System On Saturday — Also Visit Plainfield-Union Company.

PROPAGANDA IS INDICATED

Water Company Takes Master to Other Places Which Was Uncalled For—Utility Commission Hearing Other Cases.

The first step towards the re-hearing of the Middlesex Water rate case before the master, appointed by the federal district court, was taken on Saturday when the Master, Aaron V. Dawes, accepted the invitation of the Middlesex Water Company, Frank Bergen, to make a tour of the properties of the company and the territory served.

In addition to Mr. Dawes and Mr. Bergen and Superintendent Mundy, representatives of the inspection office of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and the municipalities took in the trip. Those representing the municipalities included Emil Stremmler, Frank Andres and H. VO. Platt of Carteret, Martin and Larson of Woodbridge.

The party was conducted by Mr. Bergen and Mr. Mundy, and the Master was taken not only to the Middlesex pumping stations at Rahway, Park avenue, Plainfield, and at South Plainfield, but also to the plants of the Plainfield-Union Company. When one of the party demurred at taking the plant of the Plainfield-Union Company's splendid station, the answer of the water company was that the station was on the way of the trip; even though it was not part of the property in valuation. The objection on the part of the municipalities was that this seemed like an attempt to confuse the properties in the mind of the Master who was unacquainted with the various companies.

Along this general line, the representatives of the municipalities seemed privately to take exception to remarks of the representatives of the Middlesex Water Company to the Master during the trip. They pointed out that in the customary way a representative of the water company had complained that the Board of Public Utility Commissioners had not allowed sufficient rates for them to carry on, had told the story over again about the Raritan-Millstone development, spoke of the high cost of everything, etc., all in support of the bill of injunction to be heard before the very Master who was taking the trip.

At one juncture a representative of one of the municipalities informed the superintendent of the Middlesex Water Company that the understanding was that the trip planned was simply to give the Master an idea of the territory served and that it was not intended as an opportunity for propaganda on the part of the Middlesex Water Company, or any other parties to the case.

In the trip with the Master the party visited not only the plants mentioned but drove through Metuchen, Woodbridge and Carteret. The heads of the water company also took the Master through parts of Plainfield, not served as well as to the Raritan Arsenal, where at one time a large amount of water was sold. The representatives of the municipalities looked upon the whole trip pretty much as propaganda on the part of the water company, claiming that the Master should also have been taken to parts of some of the municipalities which are entirely without water due to the failure of the Middlesex Water Company to extend its service.

The next step in the request of the Middlesex Water Company for a permanent injunction against the present rates will be the commencement of the hearings at which the water company will in all probability again put in its valuation. No date has yet been set although it will probably begin some time in November. At the present time the Board of Public Utility Commissioners is hearing, among other cases, the involved telephone rate case and may not be able to sandwich in the Middlesex rate case.

proof that anyone can have as to the financial condition of this borough is to take the figures from his own audit filed with the Department of Municipal Accounts for the year 1923. One of the big items that he claims is a saving to the taxpayer of this borough, is the fact that the budget of 1923 was in the sum of $148,391.42. His contention is that the difference between the amount of the 1923 budget and the amount appraised by the Democratic administration in the year 1922 in the sum of $169,830.82, would leave the taxpayers a saving of $21,000.00. In 1922 the Democratic party expended the sum of $49,244.14 for the building of new streets in this borough; for this sum of money five streets were paved with concrete, comprising in full about 17,000 square yards. In 1923 the Republican party appropriated $30,000.00 to build streets in this borough and out of the $30,000.00 there was expended the sum of $22,667.03 for the payment of four streets, comprising in the total of 7,000 square yards of concrete. The difference between the budgets of both years is the exact difference between the amount of streets paved by the Democratic and Republican party, yet Mayor Mulvihill has the audacity to tell the voters of this borough that he has built more roads and better roads for a less amount than the Democrats in 1922. It cost the Democratic party in 1922 $49,372.07 to lay about 17,000 square yards of concrete and it cost the Republican administration in 1923 $22,667.03 to lay about 7,000 square yards. If this is the method of saving money, that Mayor Mulvihill would have the average voter believe, he is telling a falsehood and of course figures don't lie.

"Mayor Mulvihill purposely neglected to tell the voter the true financial condition of this borough which the voter is entitled to know. His own audit of 1923 shows these startling conditions: On December 31, 1923 the audit shows that the Borough of Carteret owed in tax revenue notes the sum of $98,352.88 and as against this startling amount, the 1922 audit of the Democratic administration shows that there were no tax revenue notes outstanding on December 31, 1922, and that the only note that stood against the credit of the borough, was a small note in the sum of $4,300.00, which had arisen for the protection of the people in the Mexican Petroleum law suit. Notwithstanding the fact that the borough owed $98,352.88 on December 31, 1923, but further the borough owed the School Board on the same date the sum of $70,486.10, so that the total amount owed by this borough on December 31, 1923, was the sum of $168,838.98, together with improvement certificates in the sum of $58,953.88 and bonds in the sum of $20,418.20, making a total of $248,211.06, that the taxpayers of this borough must pay. As against this tremendous debt the borough had the sum of $100,000.00 on deposit from which to draw to pay the total sum due, and this condition exists notwithstanding the fact that Mayor Mulvihill has the audacity to tell the people at large the facts that are absolutely untrue. Why does Mayor Mulvihill comment upon the fact that the Democratic administration owed the School Board $78,814.80 at the end of December, 1922, when as a matter of fact the law simply states that the first moneys that is received from the second half of the tax beginning December 15th, shall be paid to the School Board, and because of the fact that the tax collected in the month of December, 1922, were not sufficient to pay the above sum, it was necessary to wait until the tax had come in some time in January. This contention must be true, if not, why should Mayor Mulvihill comment about this condition when he himself

TROLLEY KILLS ANDREW KONDOS

John Street Man is Crushed to Death Under Car Wheels of Shuttle Trolley Last Sunday Night.

Another fatality was recorded in the borough this week, when Andrew Kondos, thirty years old, of John street, was killed by the shuttle-trolley of the Public Service Railway Company at 10.15 last Sunday night. Stanley Razonka, of 627 Franklin avenue, Elizabeth, the motorman, was arraigned before Judge John P. Kirkpatrick at New Brunswick and furnished $5,000 bail on a technical charge of manslaughter.

The fatality occurred in the East Boulevard section, where the trolley nears its first stop as it comes down the bridge elevation. The conductor told the police that he did not see Kondos and believed that he was laying along the tracks. Officers Anders, Harrigan and Donahue investigated the case.

Dr. H. L. Strandberg, who examined Kondos did not think that he was drunk. It was first thought that Kondos probably laid on the tracks after indulging in some liquor.

Coroner J. S. Hay, of Perth Amboy, viewed the body at the undertaking establishment of Frank T. Burns on Monday and gave permission for its burial.

Former Mayor Joseph A. Hermann Given Big Ovation—Republican Administration Is Flayed By Democrats.

The Democratic candidates headed by Mayor Frederick Donnelly, who toured the entire county yesterday faced two of the largest audiences of their tour in the borough. The group was welcomed just outside the borough by a large delegation of Democrats headed by Former Mayor Joseph A. Hermann. They then proceeded to the Chrome section, where a mass meeting was held. Another rally took place a half hour later in the Carteret section.

Congressman Geran, who seeks reelection, spoke principally on tariff declaring that if his opponent were elected Mr. Appleby could be expected to vote for bills favoring the "special interests" as he had shown this by voting for the measure which repealed the taxes of the wealthy

ASK WHERE BIG GREEN CARS ARE

Fast Line Division of the Public Service Railway Company Is Not Giving the Proper Service to the Public, According to Complainants—Place Cinders at Various Stopping Places.

During the past few weeks the residents of Carteret have been particularly bitter in complaint of the service afforded by the Fast Line Division of the Public Service Railroad Company.

They claim that they are largely dependent for Newark and Elizabeth service upon the Fast Line and that this service has been practically disrupted.

This they claim is due to the fact that the cars on the main line from Newark and other directions including New Brunswick and Perth Amboy are generally late. They point out that even when these cars were a few minutes late in the past, the shuttle line car running from Carteret Junction to Carteret was able to wait a few minutes to effect connection and make up the time between Carteret Junction and Carteret.

This is no longer possible, they claim, due to the fact that the big green cars have been taken off the shuttle line and an old broken down smaller car that cannot make the time has been substituted. Investigation shows that this car is able to make the schedule of the Public Service Railroad Company between Carteret and Carteret Junction. The people, however, complain that it is no use keeping to the schedule on the shuttle line, if the cars on the main line are going to be late. They maintain that in view of the fact that the com-

PLAYING HIS WIFE'S KEEPER

By M. and R. M. TERRELL

PHILIP WYLLIE was worried about his pretty, headstrong, young wife. Not that he was so much older in years, rather in wisdom of the world. He knew Romaine when he first gave him a second look. Francis Romaine might be a stranger to the smart society he was tarrying in but he wasn't to Philip Wyllie's hard-earned knowledge of men. There had been gossip about the clubs to back up his estimate. Captain Romaine was one of those roving professional Irish soldiers of fortune who liked nothing better than laying siege to a much-sought-for woman's heart. True, he wasn't half as bad as he generally made himself out to be afterwards among his intimates at the clubs, but he was dangerous gossip. True, he was a gentleman, but he was too eager to fall into flirtation with a pretty face and a soft heart—and just as eager later to fall out again.

Philip Wyllie loved his smart little wife devotedly. He knew her to be the salt of the earth, the best little woman living but, when crossed, the most stubborn little mule in all creation. He had tried with intricate tact to handle this threatened rift in his marital peace of mind.

He reached down and picked up his letter, now torn in half, out of the tiny waste basket near his wife's escritoire, as if by magic. He had intended he should. That much for his pains! And patience. He read it again:

"Fanny, old girl:

"I can write this better than I can say it. There's gossip going the rounds. Silly gossip surely. But watch your step, old dear. I know Captain Romaine is a fine fellow. I like him myself. But he's impulsive, and impatient with conventions. Just a word, Fan, that's all. I know you would do the same for me.

"Affectionately,
"Phil."

Wyllie heard someone coming, he hastily threw the letter back in the basket. It was Buxton, the butler, with his professionally masked expression.

"Did you ring, sir? Oh, Mr. Wyllie! I thought—I—" He allowed himself a flash of bewilderment. He bore a tray and on it a copy of a London society magazine.

"I know, Buxton," his master said genially. "No, Captain Romaine hasn't come in yet. He's still playing with Mrs. Wyllie out on the courts, I believe. Put it down, I'll look over the latest London gossip while you bring me my hat and coat."

Buxton brought in the coat, cane and hat. His master waved him aside. "Never mind the door, Buxton. I'll see myself out."

Buxton out, Philip Wyllie spoke his mind. "I'll do it," he said to the four walls. "Even if I have to play a half cad. I think I know Romaine and his sort of curiosity. Ah, could Fan have meant him to read this?"

He took his letter out of the basket again. Sat down and wrote another. He put the letter in his pocket, tore the second letter in half, crumpled it and tossed it into the basket, first having removed that and the escritoire directly under a bracket light. He glanced at the mirror and smiled.

Then he tipped down to the front door, slammed it and quickly made his way back to the library, where he hid his coat and hat and planted himself deep in a great chair in a far corner. The door was open into the other room. Out of the corner of his eye he could see through the mirror in his room the mirror in the other. The waste basket was in plain sight.

He didn't have long to wait. He heard the voices of Fan and Captain Romaine, merry over something mutual. He heard Buxton respond to a bell, receive his order to make the captain comfortable in Mrs. Wyllie's morning room, then, quizzed, his telling of the master's recent leaving. Wyllie, pretending to be asleep in his chair, heard his wife excuse herself for the inevitable change of toes before they went out and, a moment later, he saw the debonaire captain make himself much at ease in the next room.

Idly glancing over the latest London chatter, Romaine cast the sheet aside, got up and strolled aimlessly about the room. Philip Wyllie could not follow him but he could see that wastepaper basket and that was all that mattered. Would Captain Romaine run true to form?

It seemed an hour to Wyllie before his surmise was proven excellent character reading. He saw Romaine pass the basket several times, then reach down furtively and take the torn note out, reading it quickly and glancing about, place it back there again.

Wyllie could remember every word of his second, his decoy note.

It read:

"Fan, old vamp:

"I've got to go. Can't wait. Sorry we quarreled. But I will warn Romaine if you don't stop leading him on. I will tell him about our bet, which I certainly didn't intend you to take seriously; even if he does deserve having some clever woman turn the tables on him. He's a good sort, if a bit thick above the chin. I won't have you make a ninny of him just to win a new necklace and the snickers of our set. I've gone to buy it now. You win, old girl!

"Affectionately,
"Phil."

Romaine read the note only once but he understood it twice. His expression showed that. A superb rainbow of wounded vanity illumined his crafty face. The sight of Mrs. Wyllie in the doorway, as effervescent as a glass of champagne, cut short Romaine's emotions. His manner struck her as rather distraught but what he said was to the point.

"Bad news, Mrs. Wyllie," he muttered. "I put off telling you during our game. Called back to Paris. This infernal French watch on the Rhine stuff. Must leave Monday. Rush and all that. Beastly nuisance. What were we going to do? Oh, yes, bathe on the beach. Jolly day, isn't it?"

They left the room, Mrs. Wyllie keeping most of her mind to herself. His character surmise not quite over, Philip Wyllie noiselessly slipped back into the other room and exchanged the notes in the basket and restored it and his wife's escritoire to their original place. The new letter in his pocket, he returned to his deep chair and watched. He hated to play the spy but the thing was working out neatly.

Then he heard Fan calling back downstairs to Romaine.

"Just a second, Captain," she cried, a new tone in her voice. "My gloves. I'll get them. Wait there, do."

Now Phil could see her. Mingled rage, disgust and astonishment fought for mastery in her expression. She rushed to the fatal waste basket and took the torn letter out. She glanced it over.

"He did read it," she mused aloud. "The two halves were lying differently! Phil couldn't have said anything to him; he had gone. And I thought this letter would warn him to be more discreet! But running away from me! Phil was right, he's a jellyfish!" And in the doorway, "Oh, Captain, don't believe I'll swim today after all, afraid this must be goodbye, since you're leaving so soon."

No Exact Record as to Hailstones Known

The weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture is frequently asked what is the maximum known or possible size of hailstones. According to its records and documents in the weather bureau library, the maximum possible size of a single hailstone cannot be positively stated, but stones larger than a man's fist and weighing more than a pound have several times been reported on good authority. In a hailstorm in Natal, on April 17, 1874, stones fell that weighed a pound and a half, and passed through a corrugated iron roof as if had been made of paper. Hailstones, 14 inches in circumference fell in New South Wales, February, 1847. At Colonia, Spain, on June 15, 1820, horses were crushed under blocks of ice, some of which are said to have weighed four and a half pounds. In October, 1844, a hailstorm at Cotte, France, wrecked houses and sank vessels. Authentic reports of the finding of hailstones much larger than those above mentioned undoubtedly refer in all cases to masses of ice resulting from the confluence, after falling of a number of smaller hailstones lying closely packed together on the ground.

F-r-r-e-e!

Immured in the darkest dungeon beneath the castle moat, he pondered deeply over possible means of flight. But he found none.

"If only I had a file or a saw!" he mused, as he regarded the solid bars across the solitary window.

Suddenly an idea struck him. His face lit up like a warehouse conflagration.

Rapidly running over his supply of collars just back from the laundry, he selected the best fitted for this purpose, and five minutes later the great middle bar of the window, dexterously severed by the sawlike edge, had fallen asunder.

He was f-r-r-e-e-e!—London Tit-Bits.

Insinuate

"Sinuous" (wilyly, snakelike) and "insinuate" are first cousins. "Sinuous" indicates a physical and "insinuate" a mental process. When a snake proceeds on its belly it is more or less sinuous. When someone tries to put a thought or an impression into your head without putting that thought or impression in outright language he or she "insinuates."

Insinuation is one of the chief processes of the old-time kind of oratory. The method of snakelike suggestion or insinuation is still employed quite frequently when a speaker lacks either the courage or the facts to make his statement flat.—Exchange.

Button Manufacture

A button manufacturer with a turn for statistics lately proved that over a thousand different things happened before a certain button could be put on the market.

Button-making is largely a woman's job, and hundreds of different sorts of buttons are made in a single factory, styles changing with every season and being well ahead of time. The buttons for December for instance, are manufactured in early spring. To simplify counting buttons, a computing scale is used—a single button in the small scale being equivalent to a gross of buttons in the main scale.

CONVICT IN GIRL'S GARB TRIES TO FLEE PRISON

Warden of Nebraska Penitentiary Notices "Visitor" Needs Shave and Grabs "Her."

Lincoln, Neb.—Faultlessly dressed in feminine garb, Otto Cole, lifer at the Nebraska state penitentiary, attempted to escape by casually walking out with the visitors, who had been permitted to inspect the institution. So clever was the convict's masquerade that he passed several guards before being detected by Deputy Warden Kavanaugh, who was stationed near the outer gate.

As the visitors were leaving the prison confines, Warden Kavanaugh's attention was attracted to a woman member whose actions he thought strange and whom he could not recall as having entered. Edging closer to obtain a better view the warden was startled by seeing the telltale growth of beard under a liberal veneer of face powder and rouge. Immediately several guards quietly guided her out of the crowd.

Cole was sentenced to life imprisonment from Omaha on April 21, 1922, for the alleged murder of an Omaha pawnbroker following a quarrel over a watch. Cole was known to Omaha police as Immune Eddie English of Chicago because of his ability to evade arrest.

The feminine clothing of his disguise had been designed and made by himself from various remnants obtained from prison stock, his brown silk hose being the sleeves of a discarded silk jersey.

Nine-Year-Old Girl Eligible to Teach

New York.—Qualified to teach in the schools of Los Angeles, Cal., Miss Elizabeth Benson, nine years old, has arrived in this city to enter high school as a freshman. Miss Benson, it is admitted, is the queen of all the infant prodigies.

Elizabeth was given a mentality test in Los Angeles last year. She made a mark of 2.11, the highest ever recorded. She cannot be tested further for she broke the scale. The previous high record was 1.56. Under a test given teachers in the Los Angeles schools, Elizabeth made a mark of 84, as against an average of 57 for the 694 teachers who took part, making her mentally capable of teaching in a city high school.

Strangest of all, the child's mother says, is that Elizabeth hates to study. She never takes a book home from school for overtime work, and seldom is seen studying in school. She reads all the time, however.

Unlike the popular idea of a prodigy, Elizabeth is no "queer" child. She is, and always has been, in perfect health, plump, even tempered, and absolutely without self-consciousness.

MILESTONES IN NEW JERSEY'S PROGRESS

The single span that carries the great Camden bridge over the Delaware River measures 1650 feet and is the longest in the world. The new structure is an outstanding monument to the enterprise of two great states.

The Delaware River Bridge Between Camden and Philadelphia

THE great cables that will support the sixty-foot roadway over the Delaware are being rapidly laid and the completion of this highway between New Jersey and Pennsylvania is now a matter of months. Current furnished by Public Service Electric and Gas Company played an important part in this construction.

To the rapid development of New Jersey, of which the Camden bridge is a notable example, the services furnished by the operating companies of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey are essential.

More and more electricity for power is being used in industry and construction, gas in manufacturing processes and local transportation to accommodate industrial workers.

Not only do they serve four of every five persons in the state but their patrons are constantly increasing their use of gas, electricity and local transportation.

Demand for service is back of the great growth of Public Service, and as long as New Jersey continues to expand and prosper, the enterprises that furnish it with gas, electricity and local transportation will keep pace.

Investment in Public Service is therefore, in effect, an investment in New Jersey, than which nothing can be safer. It is good common sense, therefore, to buy

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Election of the Borough of Carteret, Middlesex County, New Jersey, at the Washington School, Roosevelt Avenue, Carteret, New Jersey, Monday, October 27th, 1924, at eight o'clock P. M., for the purchase of each of the following issues of School Building Bonds of the said School District of the Borough of Carteret, the amount of the issue stated in each case being the maximum amount of bonds which may be issued, and the amount which is required to be obtained.

July 1st, 1926, and one each thereafter until the first day of July 1st, 1928, and one each thereafter until the first day of July 1st, 1930. All of said bonds are to be issued with the privilege of registration as to principal and interest or as to principal only. Interest is payable semi-annually on April 1st and October 1st, and both principal and interest shall be payable at the First National Bank of Carteret, New Jersey. Each issue of said bonds shall be in the amount of $100,000.00, and all of said bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder or bidders complying with the terms of sale and offering a payment less than the sum also stated for each issue and to take therefor the least amount of bonds to be issued with the first maturity, and stated in a multiple of $1,000.00; and of two or more bidders offer to take the same amount of such bonds, the successful bidder will be the bidder offering to pay therefor the highest additional price. In addition to the price bid, the purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. Bids are desired on forms which shall be furnished by the undersigned or by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York, and each bidder must deposit a certified check for two per cent. of the amount of the bonds bid for, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, to the order of the Custodian of School Moneys, to secure the School District against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of the bid.

The bonds will be prepared under the supervision of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company, 55 Cedar Street, New York City, which will be the genuineness of the signatures of the School District officials signing the bonds and the seal impressed thereon and their legality will be approved by Caldwell and Raymond of New York City, whose opinion will be furnished to the purchaser without charge. Bonds will be delivered to the successful bidder at the office of the District Clerk, Borough of Carteret, New Jersey (or at each other place within the State of New Jersey, as may be mutually agreed upon), on the first day of November, 1924, or as soon thereafter as they may be prepared. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Dated September 26, 1924. WILLIAM V. COUGHLIN, District Clerk.

"Some Place Else" The Days We Remember A single hour of "some place else" will often enable one to contentedly stay at home the rest of the evening. Usually, what anyone remembers most pleasantly is some sunny afternoon rather than some purple one.

Why the Best Should be Used! Here is nature's way to overcome fatigue and waning energy over strained nerves. If you feel run down by three or four o'clock in the afternoon, if you sometimes seem to lack energy to carry you through a busy day, there is now a way to build up lasting vitality "Endurance"! FOR SOUND SLEEP Many now drink milk several times a day for its full stimulation. But to feel its full effects we suggest taking it before retiring at night. A cup at night brings sound, restful sleep, quickly and naturally. For prompt service and quick delivery call Carteret 456-W. Use Rail & Harbor Milk, the richest in cream.

A LITTLE MORE DEMOCRACY

In this great double government we owe a double allegiance. For in every sense of the word, this is a Republic of republics. Every citizen feels two loyalties, one to his State, and another to his Nation, and in addition to these two he feels a third loyalty, it is to his Local Community.

And just as every man is a better citizen if he is first devoted to his own family, so will he be more loyal to his own community.

If a man does not love his own community, which he can see, how can he love the whole country which he can not see? He is not a good citizen.

This is a government of the people. It is a government by the people. It is a government for the people.

The making of this government and the administration of its affairs is directly placed in the hands of the people. There is no individual upon whom power of government is more directly bestowed, there is no other vote that has more power than your vote.

You cannot if you are a true patriot share all the benefits of government here in America without feeling a responsibility for doing your part to preserve the heritage that was handed down to us, and in helping to enrich it.

And one of the most effective ways of proving your citizenship worth is to vote at the General Elections. You can take a great part in preserving and enlarging the scope of our liberties, by a closer relationship in the affairs of your own Community, your own State, and this wonderful American Republic. Whatever your partisan beliefs are, you owe it to the men who are eager and willing to serve in the various offices, that you cast your vote on November 4th, 1924.

Don't be a slacker. Don't be (as statistics prove) one of the 27,000,000 who did not vote at the general elections of 1920.

"Vote on the 4th day of November, Vote."

And vote after the dictations of your own conscience.

BETTER TROLLEY SERVICE

In another section of the NEWS is to be found the gist of complaint of local residents who use the Fast Line of the Public Service Company. It is recognized that the Public Service Railway has its own difficulties. Nevertheless, an investigation of these complaints would seem to indicate that they are well-founded.

When women and children have to wait in Newark and Elizabeth for cars and then again have to wait an unusually lengthy time in the isolated Carteret Junction station, there is little wonder that complaint is made. Again, it would seem, that the public in Carteret are entitled to a little better treatment than to have some ashes spread at the stopping places of the Public Service Railway Company in Carteret as a remedy for dangerously high steps. It is this sore of lack of consideration that has in the past caused ill feeling between the Public Service and the people. It would seem as if Carteret were deserving of more considerate treatment.

GET IT OUT OF THE WAY

The outlook for the elimination of Noe's Creek, a most important project for the borough's advancement is very bright. Action in this direction is expected in the near future, both Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill and his opponent, Former Mayor Joseph A. Hermann, have declared themselves in favor of doing away with the swamp, which practically divides the town from a geographical point of view and adds considerable concern to the citizens whose homes are situated nearby. The smelly odors of the creek are at their worst during the fall days, when the weather is foggy and damp.

No other project is as important as this one. With the construction of the proposed sewer and filling in the meadows, the value of real estate will increase considerably. It will add taxable property to the borough treasury. It will be a profit producing area, instead of waste as it is at the present time. This improvement is, from general indication, meeting with the approval of every citizen. The cost should be secondary consideration, as the abolishing of the creek will brighten up the centre of the town.

The taxpayers and voters in general, when brought up for their consideration at a special election will undoubtedly approve it almost unanimously, provided that proper study has been made of the plan, the cost and everything included. With the new memorial municipal building on one side and the postoffice on the other, the creek must be out of the way.

"Rome Not Built in a Day"

This expression, in one form or other, is very old. It means that great things are not achieved without much patience and effort. Many centuries were required to make Rome the chief city of the world. The city was the accumulation of the products of knowledge, art and war for many generations. Claudianus, one of the last great poets of Rome, wrote this sentence: "What Roman power slowly built, an unarmed traitor instantly overthrew." Many other early writers make reference to the long years required to build Rome. The expression, "Rome was not built in a day," was published in a book of proverbs in 1562—The Pathfinder.

In Shadow of Pyrenees

San Sebastian, Spain, is one of nature's beauty spots. It is sheltered by two mountains which rise up abruptly behind the little town, with its quaint little harbor. Fresh and clean like a well-tended child, the town gathers round the narrow beach, with the Isla Santa Clara straight across the harbor entrance, a refuge from the boisterous Biscay. The promenade is fringed with young trees, whose foliage is soft as swan's down. The air is mild, soft as the fresh water so delightful for a shave. San Sebastian may not be Spain, though it has its Plaza de Toro, but it is a very pleasant port of entry.

Wall Built by Ancients

Recent discoveries at Cirencester, England, indicate that the ancient city wall hitherto believed to have been constructed by the Romans was built by pre-Roman tribes.

Twenty Miles in Air

Sounding-balloons, from which knowledge of the upper atmosphere is obtained, have reached a height of more than twenty miles.

Concerning Ebony

The deep black heartwood, which is most highly prized in a number of trees of the ebony family, is mentioned in the Bible in Ezekiel, 27:15, in connection with ivory, probably an account of their value and of their contrasting colors. Ebony was once supposed to grow in the ground "without root or leaves" and to it were ascribed many miraculous powers. The chief source of the ebony wood is the island of Ceylon, where huge logs of the pure heartwood are cut and hauled to the coast. For interior decorations and furniture ebony has been superseded by rosewood and mahogany, but for cabinet work it is still widely employed, being exported from Madagascar, Jamaica, India and Egypt. A species of the ebony tree which is used as a veneer also grows in the southern United States.

Buying Phonograph Records

More men than women buy phonograph records, in which an enormous business is done every day, we learn by inquiry. Men enter a music store and order half a dozen of the new releases tied up. When a woman goes purchasing, she enters the sound-proof cubbyhole and tries out a half dozen records, usually selecting one or two at the end of a half hour's concert. Directors of motion pictures buy a great many records, which they use in working out themes in pictures, we are told, many of them being musicians or artists as well as directors. Musicians who play on the set are, also, generous purchasers, since they must constantly increase their repertoires of tunes which inspire actors.

Irving's Keen Perception

Sir Henry Irving's attention to detail in the production of his plays was proverbial. On one occasion when he was playing "Coriolanus" a scene showed a fishmonger's shop in a Roman thoroughfare. His scene-painter, thinking he had a brain wave, painted a most lifelike representation of a turbot outside the shop. The scene had to be shown twice in the play, near the beginning and near the end. Irving bestowed one glance on the turbot and ordered its removal. "Take that fish out," was his command. "I'm going to the wars, and it won't keep till I get back!"

Beautiful Stained Glass

On the south side of the nave of Salisbury (Eng.) cathedral there is now a window containing some amazing stained glass. It is of the Thirteenth century, and was discovered during recent repairs to the cathedral. Since then it has been very cleverly reconstructed.

But who can hear of old stained glass without recalling Chartres and Burgos, and Toledo and Barcelona, where a descendant of the Cid works in an electric light office, and enlivens it with songs of Aragon and Castile?

As soon as people discover a nut is "trying to please everybody" they shake him.

Bird Thrives in America

The Chinese starling, or crested mynah, perhaps the largest and most beautiful of the widespread sturling family, has obtained a firm foothold about Vancouver, B. C. The certainty that this Oriental visitor will extend its range has caused considerable anxiety along the Pacific coast for, like all starlings, it has a reputation for raiding fruit orchards. The bird now has a range of about fifty miles about the Vancouver waterfront. It is advancing in all directions about a mile a year, according to local bird students. An individual specimen has been noted as far south as Portland, but it is not certain that this was not an escaped cage bird. This starling is about the size of a robin, with a yellowish white bill overlying by a yellowish white throat. Its glossy black plumage is in striking contrast with a large, white marginal wing patch. It makes a good pet but in the wild state it is a rascal, and steals the eggs and nests of other birds.

A WEEK'S DEMONSTRATION OF "THE MOP WITH THE FINGERS"

Shows how it Works. How it Conquers Corners. The Newest, Biggest Idea In Mops THE EXTENDED FINGERS reach every every nook and corner and pick up the dust and dirt that would be difficult or impossible to remove with an ordinary or triangle mop. With this mop it is easy to dust under radiators, around all furniture and radiator legs, stair railings, etc.

The Improved Self-Adjusted Handle permits a free movement of the mop at any angle. It is shaped so that it setas extremely low.

SCOUTS TO PLANT ROOSEVELT TREE

Troops of Perth Amboy District to Assemble for Parade on Saturday at Perth Amboy and Planting of Memorial Tree.

The Boy Scouts of America in the Perth Amboy District are all ready for the big Roosevelt celebration! This event takes place on Saturday afternoon, October 25th, at Caledonia Park, foot of High street, Perth Amboy.

The troops of the district will assemble for parade at the City Hall in Perth Amboy. They are to report at 1.45 P. M. Each troop unit is to carry its troop standard and will be under the leadership of either the Scoutmaster or Assistant.

The Boy Scout Band of Irvington, under the command of Scoutmaster Walter Andmuss will provide the marching music and later some selections during the ceremonies at Caledonia Park.

After a short street parade, the entire scout organization will gather at a designated spot in the park for the memorial tree planting service.

Through the interest of the Park Department of Perth Amboy it has been made possible to carry out the suggestion made some time ago by Scoutmaster Dr. F. Abegg of the Theodore Roosevelt Scout Troop No. 6 of Perth Amboy to plant a Roosevelt Tree. A recent letter to Scout Executive J. D. Carstang from the head of the Park Department, reads: My Dear Mr. Carstang:

It is indeed a pleasure to grant the Boy Scouts of our city the privilege of planting a tree, a memorial tree in commemoration of so great and so good an American as our immortal Theodore Roosevelt.

Superintendent Tooker of our Department will be glad to advise you as to the place in Caledonia Park and the kind of tree best suited for the locality. Trees are wonderful monuments, and enhance the beauty of the vicinity they are located in.

To every human being the shade tree is a benefactor; to every community a blessing and a benediction. As the President of the American Tree Association wrote: "It has graced earth with its beauty, and to every generation has given freely of its protective shelter.

With best wishes,
(Signed) LOUIS Y. SOSIN,
President P. A. Park Comm.

Superintendent James Tooker of the City Parks has also cooperated in the securing of a suitable tree—a ginkgo, a species which seems to grow well in this locality. A nice plot has been set aside for the planting of the Boy Scouts' Roosevelt Memorial Tree.

Proceeding the tree planting, there will be an address on "Roosevelt" by Ronald Kleckner of the American Legion and a number of the Executive Committee of the District Scout Council.

These memorial exercises will start about 2.30 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, October 25. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Discoverer of Madeira

Robert Machin, an English squira who fled from England with the daughter of a powerful noble of the court of King Edward III, is said to have been the discoverer of the island of Madeira.

P. S. CORPORATION SHOW LARGE GAINS

Statement of Combined Results Issued By the Company.

A comparative statement of combined results of operations of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and subsidiary companies for the month of September and for the twelve months ending September 30, shows that operating revenue of subsidiary companies in September, 1924 amounted to $7,014,854.16 as against $4,954,381.61 for September 1923, an increase of $2,061,472.49. Net increase in surplus before dividends was $608,371.48, an increase of $774,273.43.

For the twelve months ending September 30, 1924, revenue was $85,454,125.15 as against $78,720,640.81 for the preceding twelve months, while net increase in surplus was $7,087,109.09 as against $5,273,206.16 for the previous twelve month period.

Net increase in surplus before dividends of $7,087,109.09 does not include adjustments of surplus due to sale of real estate which, after deduction of charges in connection with financial reorganization, result in an additional net increase in surplus.

Habits of Migration Forced on Bird Life

Ages ago the United States and Canada swarmed with nonmigrating bird life, long before the arctic ice fields, advancing south during the glacial era, rendered uninhabitable the northern half of the continent.

As the ice approached very gradually, now and then receding, enforced retreats and absences—at first only a short distance and a brief time—increased both in distance and duration until migration became an integral part of the being of the bird.

As the ice advanced southward the swing to the north in spring migration was continually shortened and the fall retreat to a suitable winter home lengthened in proportion until the glacial period birds were, for most part, confined to middle South America.

But the habit of migration had been formed, and when the ice receded to ward its present position the birds followed it northward and in time established their present diversified migration routes.—Exchange.

Would Be a Handicap

"I cannot marry you"—that was the burden of the young girl's reply to the old millionaire.

Many, many times he had asked her to reconsider her decision, but in the end he despairingly realized that she could never be his. Almost angrily he upbraided her:

"Even Cupid," he said, "could do nothing with you. You're like an iceberg. Why, a hundred Cupids might shoot you all day long, but not one arrow would make any impression on your stone-cold heart."

She thought for a moment, then: "Not if they used an old beau," she replied cuttingly.

Wasps and Yellow Jackets

"Wasp" is the general name of a large class of insects. There are many species, both of social and solitary wasps. "Yellow jacket" is merely the name given to several species of American social wasps which belong to the genus "Vespa." The color of the body of the yellow jacket is partly bright yellow and the insects are noted for their irritability and painful stings. Yellow jackets are also called hornets. Some species live in the ground while others make paper nests suspended from a tree or bush.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Soccer Club Drops Another in Loop---Second Article in Boxing Series

LESLIE, TRAINING HARD, EXPECTS BIG TIME IN THE RING THIS SEASON

Hudson A. C. Battler Has Secured New York State Boxing License and Will Also Fight In That State as Well as in This County Under W. Nash

Second of a series of boxing articles by expert NEWS' writer on local battlers, their careers to date and other important facts worth mentioning about them.

By EDDIE EKROY

The season of indoor boxing is close by, although it has been started in a number of cities already, and a slugger, who is still in his early twenties, will with little doubt furnish a great deal of excitement in the squared circle.

Leslie has not, in previous seasons, been the fighter that Johnny Carroll was, as many may expect, but there is something behind Charlie's head. He strenuously trains frequently at the Hudson A. C. gymnasium with a number of other good scrappers and when his manager has a bout for him he will be ready for his opponent.

He has developed a punch and his stamina is being strengthened by his training and road work. When the fans see Leslie in the ring this year they will immediately notice a big difference in him and the boy who toppled some of the best men in the county in previous seasons.

A bout is being sought for with Al Coughlin, of South Amboy, but it seems that every time a match is attempted to be arranged between Coughlin and Leslie, the South Amboy lad is on the retired list. The reason for seeking a bout with Coughlin is to settle all disputes, which arose in the past.

Coughlin, in an immoral way aided by unsportsmanship of the referee, scored a technical knock-out over Leslie, who had put Coughlin out twice in the same bout at New Brunswick but was not given the fight. In their next meeting at South River Leslie battered Coughlin all over the ring for a popular decision and is seeking another bout to guarantee his superiority.

Nash is also attempting to arrange an engagement between Leslie and the winner of the Stenger-Hossie bout to be staged at Perth Amboy shortly. The Carteret mauler was beaten by Art Stenger in a six rounder, but has not mixed with Hossie yet.

Leslie started off when Carroll was in his prime, in 1918 and in his first bout he was given a draw with Young Egmore at Perth Amboy. In his second bout he met another beginner, the local Dick Lynch, and kayned Lynch in the third session, also at Perth Amboy. Both boys were matched again and fought in a draw at Rahway last year. Lynch and Leslie have both improved wonderfully within the past season.

Four of Leslie's best bouts were fought with Harrisburg Joe Kranick, winning in eight rounds; Barney Reilly, gaining victory in six chapters; defeated Joe McCartney in another eight and knocked out Tommy Thompson at Perth Amboy in the third stanza, substituting for Carl Morris.

Charlie fought in numerous exhibition bouts, which were not put down in books, but since 1918 he has mixed in twenty-four scraps.

His professional record follows:

Table with 4 columns: Opponent, Place of Bout, Rounds, Result. Lists various fights including Young Egmore, Dick Lynch, Joe Vooray, Art Stenger, Allentown Tillie, Steve Brown, Al Coughlin, A. Coughlin, Harrisburg Joe Kranick, and Thommy Thompson.

Nice Prizes Will Be Awarded at Big Shoot

Plans are rapidly rounding into shape for the first big shoot to be given by the Carteret Gun Club at Brady's field on General Election Day morning, November 4. The shoot will start at about 10.30 o'clock.

According to the committee of the gun club there will be a few nice prizes awarded to the winners. Shells can be purchased on the field on the day of the shoot.

Basketball Def

The Aces, a strong midget basketball team of 115 pounds, challenges any local team for their opening game of the season. The team comprises of the following: P. Chodash and Glass, forwards; Wexler, center; Rubel and Blaukopf, guards. For games telephone to P. Wexler, Carteret 407.

Bruskie To Race In 2-Hour Team Gring

Johnny Bruskie, who has about hit his stride on the race track, will probably enter the two-hour team race at Wequahe Park race track next Sunday afternoon given by the Bay View Wheelmen of Newark.

In a team race held two weeks ago on the same course Bruskie formed a team with Jack Costello, another noted rider, and the pair won the event.

Morris and Lynch Are Planing For the Season

It looks as though both Carl Morris and Dick Lynch will have busy campaigns this coming winter. Both put in heavy workouts, especially Lynch, who indulges in road work early every morning. Morris has started his campaign already, while Lynch expects to be busy shortly.

Sullivan Bats .366

Curley Sullivan batted .366 in the eight games that he played in for the Elizabeth Casey's this season. The leader of the club only played in one game, so Sullivan can be credited as second best. His best effort in extra base blows was a brace of doubles. He batted thirty times and got eleven safeties.

Fielding Averages

In the next publication of the NEWS the fielding averages of the Carteret Twilight Baseball League will be published. Every player, who fielded at least one chance will be included in the big list.

Win By Forfeit

The Young Athletic Boys Football Club took a forfeit game from the Gaydos All Stars, who failed to appear for their game at the Columbus school grounds last Friday afternoon.

SCHOOL DAYS

Comba Ready For His Flyweight Opponent

Young Charlie Comba, under the management of Charlie Leslie, will be ready shortly for his first bout in the ring when he meets Kid Karslick, of South River, at Perth Amboy, on Thursday evening, October 30. It will also be Karslick's first appearance in the ring.

Hudson A. C. Move

The Hudson A. C., which has grown in every way during the past year, is getting ready to move into its new quarters on the corner of Union street and Pershing avenue. Their new place will be just the thing, as the club boxers will have a nice gym to train in and other members will also find it a greater pleasure.

Himself one of the strongest box-office "draws" on the Columbia Circuit, "Sliding" Billy Watson, star and owner of his "Fun Show" coming next week, Sunday matinee Oct. 26, to Miner's Empire theatre for the customary week's tarry, has surrounded himself with a supporting roster of players that looms up as a versatile and entertaining group.

Week Sunday matinee No. 2, Gerard's New Show with those two funny fellows, Watson and Cohen. Special midnight show Tuesday night, Nov. 4th, full and complete election returns end from the stage. Seats now selling.

Famous Fraternity

Phi Beta Kappa is an honorary fraternity and the election of members is optional with the chapters. Active membership varies in its details with different chapters, but, as a rule, it is extended to members of the senior class studying for a baccalaureate degree in arts or science as distinguished from those studying for technical or professional degrees. Usually also not more than one-fourth of a class standing highest is elected, and in many colleges eligibility is further restricted to those who reach a certain percentage. Sometimes elections are made in the junior year as a mark of special distinction. Alumni members are chosen from distinguished alumni and honorary members are selected from those who have achieved eminence in some branch of learning.

Leaves Quench Thirst

Water from the surface of the banana-like leaves of a tree in Madagascar, known as the traveler's plant, furnishes a refreshing liquid to the thirsty traveler even in the driest seasons. It is otherwise a very useful plant, since the leaves are serviceable in house building, as thatch, partition and even in making walls. The hard, external cortex is stripped off, beaten flat and used for flooring. The green leaves do duty also as wrapping paper, rain sheds, tablecloths and dishes, and when folded properly, as spoons or drinking vessels. The flowers of the plant inclose seeds that are edible, and yield an essential oil.—Detroit News.

Doonelly After Ball To Be Given Oct. 31

"Bill" Doonelly, the sharpshooter of the local big five bowling team, turned in an average of 217 for three consecutive games at Coughlin's alleys Tuesday night and is now in the lead to win the new bowling ball given by the management on October 31. Up to the time that Doonelly set a new record average for three games, George Burns held the lead with a .207 average. Doonelly's scores were 202, 205 and 244.

Lincoln Gridders Play

A fast football contest is expected to be staged when the local Lincoln A. C. Gridders clash with the Woodbridge Juniors at Woodbridge tomorrow afternoon. The following players will play with Carteret: Rubel, Cewalsky, Galvanick, Herman, Cramwell, Collins, Armour, Oder, Sufka, Kasha, Potacnic, Wexler and Slinowsky.

LOCALS DROP GAME TO BRITISH WAR VETS AT TRENTON BY 7 TO 0

Play Fine Ball In First Half and Hold Winners Scoreless, But Blow Up in Last Half—Defeat Was Fourth Straight and League Leading F. O. Eagle Combination Is to Play Here This Sunday.

The Carteret Soccer football eleven traveled to Trenton last Sunday and went down before the powerful War Veterans machine at Hietzel's field by an overwhelming score of 7 to 0. It was Carteret's fourth consecutive defeat in the New Jersey State Soccer league, having been held listless in the winning column.

During the first thirty minutes of play the Trenton booters were unable to tally, but, after the second half of the tilt got under way, the winners piled up their tremendous count. It was also seen by the great throng of spectators that the winning combination were using rough tactics in gaining their victory, although the locals could not have beaten such a powerful team.

However, when the Vets come to Carteret for their contest the locals will use every effort to square accounts, but not in the manner as the winners did last Sunday in putting the most aggressive men of their op-with the locals. The F. O. Eagles, of Harrison, have won five straight games to date, but if the old jinx is shaken from the shoulders of the local players the visitors will have a tough proposition ahead of them.

The following players played with Carteret last Sunday: Cook, goal; Milligan, Giegel, Sharkey, Sloan, Chapman, Buchanan, Melville, Workman, Forrester and Elliott.

CARTERET HAS LOWEST RATE

garding municipal expenditures.
Out of 37 borough in New Jersey, Carteret is the largest in point of population according to the 1920 census, with a total of 11,047 inhabitants. Rutherford is next with 9,497. Yet there are only 8 of the 37 whose per capita expenditure is less than ours. This table shows that the per capita cost of Carteret for the year 1924 is $15.72 according to the 1920 population. The actual amount is much smaller because our population is now very close to 15,000. On our actual population it costs us about $11.60 per capita. Edgewater, with a population of only 3,530 has a per capita tax of $88 for this year. The average for all of the 37 boroughs is $21.80. So that you can see that we are way below the average. The budget of Carteret for 1924 was $173,975.49; for Rutherford, with its 9,000 population, it was $246,976.09, with a per capita tax of $25.60; Red Bank, with 9,000 population, has a budget of $236,318.98, with a per capita tax of $25.58; Lodi, with 8,000 population, has a budget of $255,717.05, with a per capita tax of $31.25; Fort Lee, with 5,000 population, has a budget of $204,359.95, with a per capita tax of $35.40; Edgewater, with 3,000 population, has a budget of $311,364.01, with a per capita tax of $88.

Now let us compare the per capita cost of Carteret of $15.72, with other municipalities of Middlesex County. Perth Amboy, with a population of 41,707 had a budget in 1924 of $1,117,114.18, with a per capita tax of $26.80; New Brunswick with a population of 32,779 and a budget of $889,441.12, has a per capita tax of $27.10; South Amboy with a population of 18,961 and a budget of $148,290.55, has a per capita tax of $18.80; Woodbridge with a population of 13,423 and a budget of $332,910, has a per capita tax of $24.80. Rutherford is the only borough in the state of New Jersey with a larger net valuation of properties than Carteret, having a valuation of $14,383,449 against $10,838,668, for Carteret. The tax rate for Rutherford, however, is $4.49 as against $4.05 for Carteret. The tax rate of Highland Park is $4.43; of Keyport, $4.81; of South River, $5.07; of Bound Brook, $4.89; of Perth, Amboy, $4.65; of New Brunswick, $4.61; of South Amboy, $5.53.

Thus you can see that Carteret has not only the lowest tax rate in our county but one of the lowest in the state, and yet the Democrats come out and say that we are bankrupting the borough. We defy them to come out and contradict the figures just given you. They are protesting that we squander the people's money and yet they cannot show us any figure telling where we have done so. We invite them to come out in the open and compare our expenditures for 1923 and 1924 with theirs of 1922.

CHILD SCORES FINANCE DATA

is guilty of the same thing and practically the same amount.

"During the year 1923 the Republican administration issued notes in the sum of $175,352.88 and paid off on this enormous amount $81,300.00, and his own audit shows that the auditors for the Republican administration set forth in the audit that the sum of $98,352.88 in promissory notes should have been paid before December 31, 1923. So that the Republican administration issued in round figures $27,000.00 in promissory notes more than the total amount of their budget, and yet Mayor Mulvihill would tell the people of this borough that he is giving them a business administration.

"Did he tell you that the 1923 budget set forth $17,000.00 for streets and that he actually spent $19,890.15, that the contingent item in the budget recited $1,650.00, and there was charged against this item $2,337.49, and that he expended $14,499.59 under the Fire and Water item, as against his budget of $13,000.00? Does he tell the citizens of this borough that the deficit under the 1923 audit shows $3,634.09 which is practically three times greater than any left by the previous administration, or practically greater than all the deficits left by them? These are facts which the Republican audit shows, and if Mayor Mulvihill would spend more time in campaigning to explain the actual condition of the finances of this borough to the people whom he represents in place of making personal attacks upon the opposing candidates, he would be giving a better account of his stewardship to the people who elected him. Let Mayor Mulvihill explain the deficit of $98,352.88 in promissory notes and $70,486.10 due the School Board; let Mayor Mulvihill explain where, why and how the borough owes this amount of money in one year and he will have sufficient to do until the end of the campaign. The mayor of any municipality should never try to fool the people that he represents, and still further to avoid the real issue by his contemptuous attacks upon the integrity of decent people."

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

High School Assembly Entertained Wednesday Afternoon.

By TEDDY DANIELS
At the weekly assembly of the High School Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the students were entertained by a short program rendered very good and the students heartily by classmates. The offerings were asked for more at the next meeting. It is expected that the "Dramatic Society" will help in producing the programs hereafter.

The offerings consisted of piano solos, "I'm Drifting Back to Dreamland" and "Dream Boat," by Wanda Domansky; a comical offering, "If I Was What I Ain't," by Grace Van Pelt, assisted at the piano by Miss Sepple, and a violin solo, "When Clouds Have Vanished," by Eugenia Carlisle, accompanied at the piano by Emma Christenson.

By the organizing of the Freshmen and Sophomore classes, Tuesday, the entire High School is organized. By close balloting the following officers were elected in the Sophomore Class: Frank Barefor, president; Etienne Deitle, vice president; Mae Misdom, secretary, and Herbert Nannen, treasurer.

The Freshmen Class chose their officers as follows: Ronald Armour, president; Ruth Rohmann, vice president, and Sidney Currie, secretary. The treasurer will be elected at a meeting next Wednesday evening. The Freshmen decided to boost every enterprise undertaken by the Junior Class, for their Washington trip, as they are close friends to their odd number partners.

The Spanish Club will be formed under the direction of Senorita Monahan, Spanish teacher, at the meeting Tuesday.

Report cards were distributed Wednesday after assembly.

The Junior Class held a meeting Thursday afternoon. President Morris Abrams presided. The business discussed was very important, consisting of dues, meeting, colors and motto of the class. The dues decided upon was twenty-five cents a month. Meetings will be held the first and third Fridays of every month. The colors selected were crimson and gold. The motto of the class will be decided by the Latin Cicero Class and turned in at the next meeting. Preparations are being made for the class play.

My Ideal

By MARY F. MUCHI
Handsome is he with straight black hair
That glitters, and sparkles, in the sun,
Such young men you know are rare,
And one must be content, with those that come.

Tall and straight in a "Sheiky Suit,"
He looks like a giant, yet very cute,
I don't mean he's bow-legged you know,
But as erect as an electric pole,
and so.

"Spick and Span" is the way he dresses,
His voice is as sweet as sweet could be,
Such wonderful eyes, I've never seen
As "My Idol" from heritage possessions.

Instead of "May" it's Miss La Marr
And when he takes me out in his car
He is as manly as could be,
Such a wonderful man I'll never see.

MASS MEETING FOR DEMOCRATS

men. Dr. Ramsay told of his efforts in behalf of public health legislation during his term in the legislature at Trenton and in advocating light wine, and beers quoted statistics showing that there have been more intoxicated automobile drivers since prohibition than there were before. He also said the number of cases of intoxication has increased.

The speakers at the local rallies were:

Frederick W. Donnelly, candidate for U. S. Senator.

Elmer H. Geran, candidate for congressman.

William E. Ramsay, candidate for State senator.

Maxwell Sosin, candidate for assembly.

Raymond White, candidate for assembly.

Leo Lowenkopf, candidate for assembly.

B. M. Gannon, candidate for county clerk.

Edward Burt, candidate for freeholder.

Alonzo C. Winant, candidate for freeholder.

William E. Harding, candidate for coroner.

Joseph A. Hermann, candidate for mayor and other local candidates.

"Sweeping" the Clouds

The fabled performance of the old woman of the nursery rhyme who "swept" the cobwebs out of the sky has a scientific parallel in the ability of aviators under some conditions to brush small clouds out of the sky by flying through them rapidly, says London Tit-Bits. A fair-sized summer cumulus or fair-weather cloud may sometimes be dispersed by about twenty flights through it.

Receives 110 Stitches and Puffs Calmly On

Baltimore, Md.—Daniel W. Downey, a fireman on the steamship New Briton, lay upon an operating table at Johns Hopkins hospital and calmly smoked cigarettes while surgeons sewed 110 stitches in his face, arm, abdomen and leg. He had refused an anesthetic.

His wounds were caused by John Black, an oiler on the vessel, who assaulted him with a knife, according to the police.

Downey's fortitude and courage recalled to hospital attendants similar cases they had experienced among American troops in France during the World war.

Later in the day he was so far recovered as to be able to appear in police court against Black, who was held.

TREASURE SEEKERS SUFFER HARDSHIPS

Back After 18 Months in the South Seas.

San Francisco.—With 2,400 feet of camera film depicting parts of their adventure and the ship in which they sailed as the only tangible assets brought back from an 18-month cruise of the South seas in search of treasure, 20 hungry men came through the Golden Gate recently in their bark, the Narwhal.

The old vessel, built 40 years ago, was just able to reach San Francisco. Battered and buffeted by the storms encountered during her last cruise, she will bring but little when sold, members of the party said.

Three times since leaving here with her crew of adventurers, the vessel has been reported overdue at various ports, and once she has been posted as missing. From time to time word was received here of nauty on the vessel because of the hardships undergone, but the men declared such tales had been unfounded. Eight of the original party left the craft at various ports, but their places were filled by other men picked up during the cruise.

The crew of the vessel embraced only two professional sailors—the captain and mate. The others included a motion picture camera operator, retired United States army and navy officers, Russian noblemen, a British aviator and others.

Much of the time during the cruise the party was on short rations, and suffered otherwise, they said. The Narwhal carried no cargo when she arrived.

Part at Altar as Bride Refuses to Leave N. Y.

New York.—Love is love, but Norfolk is Norfolk, and much as pretty Catherine Chapman doted on Alfred Anderson, in the lumber business in Norfolk, Va., she couldn't bring herself to the point of forsaking Manhattan, borough of her birth, to live in the metropolis of the peanut industry.

So at St. Rose of Lima's church, just as the priest had donned his vestments and was about to tie the knot, Catherine handed her Alfred an ultimatum. It was to the effect that she would marry him if he would live in New York, but under no circumstances would she live in Norfolk.

To say Alfred was in a quandary is to say nothing at all adequate to the situation. He dearly loved pretty Kitty Chapman, but the lumber business is also the lumber business, and it takes time to build up a lumber business.

So Alfred cogitated, then shook his head sadly, got out the time table of trains for Norfolk and telephoned for a pullman on the 12.34.

Boy Chained to Sink to Act as Watchdog

New York.—Amadeo Nicolazzi, nine years old, was freed after neighbors allege, his father had kept him chained to the kitchen sink for 77 hours to act as a watchdog and spy on his mother. The boy had been able to move in a radius of only six feet since Monday morning, members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children who rescued him said.

Joseph Nicolazzi, thirty-nine years old, the father, was held in $1,500 bail for a hearing later.

Divorced at Ninety-Nine

Seymour, Ind.—A man should be capable of picking out the right kind of a woman for a wife by the time he reaches the age of one hundred and one years, according to a decision in which Frank Fislar of Seymour was granted a divorce. Fislar, who is ninety-nine years old, was ordered not to remarry for at least two years. The wife whom he divorced on his ninety-ninth birthday anniversary is half his age and became his bride in 1917.

Display Dead Cat

Danville, Va.—An embalmed cat, resting in a specially made plush casket lined with satin and silk, was on display in the window of a local drug store.

The cat had been for years the pet of the establishment. To gratify a whim of the owner, a casket with metal handles was made for the animal.

Fog Buoy Mechanism

Hairs from Chinese queues are stretched across a wooden frame in the mechanism of a fog buoy. The fog rolling in on the coast expands the strands of hair. This elongation of the hairs is sufficient to set in operation automatic fog bells, sirens and whistles, warning vessels off the rocks. When the fog recedes, the hair strands dry out, contract and close the valve, shutting off the signals.

GHOST HUNT IN ATTIC REVEALS PAPA'S $10,000

Boys Go on Spending Orgy Until Father and the Cops Get Wind of It.

San Francisco.—Johnny Lincoln didn't believe in ghosts. And his papa didn't believe in banks. And thereby hangs a tale. Johnny, who's nine years old, had been told time and again by his father, a waiter, that there were ghosts in the attic of the Lincoln home in Oakland. "And if you ever go up there, son, they'll get you!" he warned. Johnny thought it over for a long time. Then he called his pal, eleven-year-old Red Christensen, into conference. "Pop says our attic is full of ghosts," he said. "Banana oil!" sagely opined Red, and advised looking carefully and deeply into the matter. So up on the Lincoln roof they crawled and pried off a flock of shingles, until they could peer adequately into the dim-lit recesses of the attic. "Now where's your ghosts?" challenged Red. "Maybe they're in that box over in the corner," suggested Johnny. They looked into the box. There wasn't a single ghost in it—but there was $10,000 in assorted currency. Forthwith Johnny and Red became the plutocrats of the juvenile circles in which they moved. They bought more soda pop, ice cream, candies, tin watches, baseballs and bats, flashlights and other items deemed essential to complete happiness by nine and eleven years than were ever purchased before by two boys in a given length of time. The policeman on the beat got wind of it. He investigated. So did Johnny's papa. And Johnny's papa went and put what was left of the $10,000 in a savings bank. "I was saving it for a home," he explained. Johnny doesn't believe in Santa Claus either. It's a good thing, judging from what Papa Lincoln thinks of the prospects for next Christmas.

Plenty to Feed His Dogs While Children Starve

Bethlehem, Pa.—James Bishop of Freemansburg fed his hound dog, Duke, instead of his four undernourished children. State Agent Peifer of Easton, with Constable Joseph Reed of Freemansburg visited the Bishop home and found the children in a destitute condition, while outside a pan contained plenty for the dog. Peifer ordered the animal shot and next morning Constable Reed carried out the orders. The dog's life was sacrificed so that the children might live properly.

Frisco Girl Kills Deer With a 52-Pound Bow

San Francisco, Cal.—Miss Virginia Ayres of San Francisco killed a deer with a 52-pound bow, nearly double the strength of the ordinary woman's target weapon, and steel-headed arrows. Miss Ayres, with William J. Hackmeier, went hunting near Cloverdale. She brought down a buck with an arrow through the body. Hackmeier also dropped a buck with an arrow, but the animal ran a mile before dying.

Walking Saves Life

Uniontown, Ky.—Playing doctor, little Dorothy Marie Clements gave her younger brother four spoonfuls of good-tasting medicine. The dose contained 20 drops of poison. Awakened by a physician, the half-conscious little fellow was kept in motion for 12 hours, five miles being covered in walking him. He will live.

Servant Gets Estate

Lexington, Ky.—A farm estate, including home, stock, equipment and 27 3/4 acres, goes to Ellen Davis, an aged negro servant, through the will of her late employer, John T. Hughes, wealthy farmer and horseman, who died recently.

Thieves Leave Gems, but, Man! That Pantry!

Baltimore, Md.—A queer lot of honest thieves visited the home of Warren Emmart, in Liberty road, Rockdale, according to his report to Catonsville police. The intruders forced a rear window and made a tour of the house. Jewelry and money in the bedrooms and silver in the dining room were untouched. But what they did to a freshly cooked ham in the icebox and some home-made bread in the breadbox was a crime, according to Emmart.

BOYS LOCKED IN TRUNK FOUND DEAD

Baby Innocently Snaps Clasp During Game.

Chicago.—A three-year-old girl innocently snapped the clasp on the outside of a trunk into which her brother and a boy cousin had hidden while at play. They were found suffocated several hours later by their parents. The trunk tragedy occurred at 1920 Burling street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dumele. The victims were Peter Dumele, five years old, and his twelve-year-old cousin, Frank Hoellich. The Hoellich boy's mother, who was married recently to Paul Kompas of 915 Concord place, had brought Frank and his ten-year-old brother, Antone, to play with Peter and his three-year-old sister, Rose, while she accompanied Mrs. Dumele on a shopping trip to the loop. When Mr. Dumele returned home late in the afternoon he found the little girl asleep and Antone playing with John Corn, eleven years old, of 1624 Clybourn avenue, near the house. He asked the boys where Peter and Frank were. The boys replied they supposed they had gone over into Lincoln park to play. The father searched the neighborhood, but could find no one who had seen them. The mothers returned from the shopping trip. Little Rose was awakened from her nap and questioned. "O, Pete and Frankie are sleeping in the trunk in the front room," the child explained. Father and mother rushed to the locked trunk and tore frantically at the clasp. The lid was flung back and the huddled forms of the boys were inside. Mrs. Dumele's screams attracted neighbors, who summoned the police and palmotor squad 10. The firemen worked for nearly an hour before giving up attempts to resuscitate the children.

Transplant Bone From Leg to Spinal Column

Baltimore, Md.—Doctors at Johns Hopkins hospital have performed what they believe to be the most remarkable bone-graft operation in the history of the institution, in the transplanting of a piece of bone from the lower right leg to the spinal column of Forrest Wieford, thirty-eight, of Newport, W. Va. Wieford suffered a dislocated vertebra in an automobile accident three years ago, and his condition became gradually worse until he was brought to Johns Hopkins four weeks ago. Physicians found that complications had set in which necessitated removal of the diseased vertebra. It being impossible to shorten the spine, a piece of shin bone was shaped into the form of a vertebra and inserted in the weakened part of Wieford's back. He was then placed in a plaster cast. The operation was announced as successful.

Squirt Ether into Air Then Rob Hotel at Ease

Paris.—A hotel keeper in the old Temple quarter in Paris was robbed by a new trick of squirting ether into the air in the rooms where the manager and servants slept. The job was done so neatly that the household awoke next morning with headaches and discovered several thousand dollars' worth of jewels, currency and furniture gone. When the police were called they found the air faintly impregnated with ether.

Shock Kills Cow

Wichita, Kans.—When it is decided whether the city or county has jurisdiction, the claim of Mrs. Elizabeth Cronk of $125 for the loss of a cow, as she alleges through fright, will be considered. It is claimed that the woman's cow was contentedly munching hay in the barnyard when a giant blast was set off to break an ice jam in the Big Arkansas river, nearby. The detonation so disturbed the animal's nerves that she died. Veterinarians will testify as to the nerves of a cow and the effect of shock on them.

Dog Makes Long Trip

Portsmouth, Ohio.—Buster, an Airedale dog which W. F. Wedebrook sold two years ago while visiting in Los Angeles, came back to his old home near here recently, dirty and covered with cockleburrs. After a joyous demonstration at the sight of his old master the dog fell asleep and slept 24 hours. Buster's home with Wedebrook is now a permanent one.

People of Today Not Vainer Than Long Ago

When people decry the fashion of makeup and the vanity sets modern girls carry, dwelling on the good old days that are no more, let them hark back to advertisements in a Boston newspaper of 1794, which carries a notice of a store dealing in woman's apparel, says the Argonaut. The advertisement also announces "a constant supply of perfumery, genuine milk of roses, rouge, orris root, violet powder, ground almonds for preserving the skin, wash balls and powder puffs." Milady used them then, and what with powder, queue, wig, pigtails and the like, she and milord paid much more attention to coiffures than average persons do today. Other times, other customs! Patches had their day, and certainly, it was customary of old for exquisites of both sexes to consume hours preparing for appearances, whereas today the average maid gives the sleek head a brush, settles the tie of the simplest blouse or smock, buckles sandals, and dashes down to play tennis, hike, ride, or go to the beach, bathing suit under the arm. The average youth likewise has learned to cut this primping to the minimum—and it is certain both of them are much less artificial than ancestors of colonial times.

Expressions That Are Not Household Words

"Yes, mum, one day off each fortnight will suit me nicely." "I'm returning your umbrella, I took it by mistake." "Now our honeymoon is over, dearest, you must insist on your mother coming to stay with us for a month or so." "I regard the payment of income tax as a pleasant and patriotic duty." "That hair you found on my coat, dear, came from the head of my pretty typist." "Good afternoon. I was sincerely hoping I shouldn't see you." "Yes, darling, I've kissed many girls before you." "She's much prettier than I am." "Sure, Pat an' ye can call me what ye lakke, I won't focht ye, I hate scrappin'." "Why, yes, dear, I've been enjoying myself thoroughly at the club. I was not detained at the office." "Your worship, I wish to state that I was driving sixty miles an hour when the constable stopped me." "Please, sir, may I have the day off? I want to go to a cricket match." —Passing Show, London.

Simplicity

Model Homes-Model Lighting

Demonstration of Correct Lighting Methods Now On

For the benefit of Contestants in the HOME LIGHTING CONTEST and all others interested in the conservation of eyesight and the improvement of illumination.

In order to provide concrete examples of house lighting that eliminates Glare and Gloom, protects the eyes and adds to the attractiveness of the home, arrangements have been made for model lighting installations in model homes, which every school boy and girl entered in the Home Lighting Contest should see and study.

Where the Model Electrical Homes Can Be Found

Tuttle Parkway, Westfield; Lincoln Highway, Metuchen; No. 114 Galloping Hill Road, Roselle Park

Every school child, ten years old or more, is eligible to compete in this great educational event, the Home Lighting Contest. Many valuable local prizes are offered, and the winning papers will be entered in the international contest, in which the first prize is a $15,000 house and ten other prizes provide scholarships in American or Canadian colleges and universities.

Every parent is interested in this great movement for the protection of eyesight against the enemies Glare and Gloom. Proper illumination adds to everyone's comfort, aids everyone's vision and preserves everyone's health. You should visit a modern electric home and interest yourself in the Home Lighting Contest, not only for the sake of your children, but for your own welfare.

PERTH AMBOY DISTRICT SCOUT COUNCIL HOLD MEETING HERE

Entertained By Local Boy Scouts On Tuesday Evening In the Basement of the First Presbyterian Church—Scoutmaster J. D. Robinson and Scouts of His Troop Give Interesting Musical Program.

The regular monthly meeting of the Scout Leaders Roundtable, held at the First Presbyterian Church basement on Tuesday evening, was voted the most enjoyable of any of the meetings held in this district. This was the first time that the roundtable meeting has been held in Carteret, and specials on the programme were the orders for the evening.

The meeting was called to order by Scout Executive Carstang, in the absence of Commissioner Halquist, who arrived a little behind schedule on account of car trouble. Deputy Scout Commissioner Main read the previous minutes which were approved. Various items in the interest of the scout movement were discussed, and many very interesting problems were debated with a view to arriving at some definite arrangement whereby each troop would be given equal consideration, especially on examinations.

Suggestion in some form or another were offered by nearly everyone present and it seems as though headquarters are getting their share of the hard work.

H. W. Thorn welcomed the visitors and assured them that with the assistance of the other members of the troop committee that the Carteret end of the district was standing in line with the local council and ready to carry their share of the burden in carrying on the work of this great organization.

Carteret we are sure will come in for its share of consideration from the executive committee, we are sure of that, as we found out last evening that H. W. Thorn has been elected to serve as a member of the executive board.

The leaders were entertained by piano and violin and also saxophone selections by Scouts W. Schmidt, Robert Ohlott, William Bartok and Thomas Child.

Another feature was a dramatic sketch entitled "The Miser and His Gold," acted by the scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster of Troop 2, Messrs. Robinson and Overholt also created a deal of fun in a blackface comedy sketch, entitled "Just Out of Jail."

Refreshments were served by Scouts Frank Bareford and William Thorn. The co-operation of the ladies from the church was very highly appreciated.

The next meeting of the Scout Leaders Association will take place on Tuesday evening, November 25, at the headquarters of the Abraham Lincoln Troop No. 4 of Perth Amboy.

Registration papers for Troops 1 and 3 of Woodbridge and Avenel were received this week at the district scout headquarters.

Women Who Give Rest Always Sought After

Discussing half a dozen women friends a few days ago, guests at a little dinner party were surprised to discover the popularity of a woman whom none had believed to have an original personality.

Pleasant, kind, lively, interesting she undoubtedly is, but it was a man who explained the attraction which makes her companionship desired by all her friends.

"He gives rest," he said. "And rest is the greatest gift a woman has to give. No one in Helen's presence can long be conscious of life's enormous disarrays; she heals. Her very presence is harmonious, she gives a sense of serenity to the restless. That is why everyone loves her."

Very few women are able to bestow the gift of peace on those whom they meet in daily life, says the London Mail.

No woman whose mind is restless, who has not accepted with graciousness the reconciliations between the ideal and the real, has power to give rest.

For this power does not come from anything as superficial as the pose of languid ease, nor does it belong to the quiet woman who so often is also the dull woman.

Only the woman whose mind has found rest through discipline, through courage, through strength, can heal the wounds of the disturbed soul.

Women who have this power give to their friends the assurance of security. Very many women who delight today displease tomorrow. One is unable to depend on their stability. But the woman who gives rest does not change her attitude or her convictions or her moral standards; she is no romanticist, but because she is in tune with life and her own setting she creates harmony around her.

The Why of Superstitions

By H. IRVING KING

INITIALS ON TURTLES

IT IS a common superstition in the rural districts that if you cut your initials on the shell of a turtle he will never leave the vicinity of your home. The superstition is a survival of sympathetic magic. By cutting your initials on the turtle you set up a sympathy between it and yourself by the magic of contact which holds him in your immediate neighborhood.

The chief interest in the superstition lies in the fact that it illustrates a comparatively rare phase of the workings of sympathetic magic as conceived by our primitive ancestors; commonly sympathetic magic works on the principle of like producing like, so that if you imitate a thunderstorm you produce one; or on the principle illustrated by killing a man by melting his waxen image before a fire; or, again, on the principle of transference by which disease is transferred by contact, from a person to a dog or to a necklace of Job's tears.

But sympathetic magic has other phases, one of which is its operation in cases like that of the turtle and the initials—a binding together without other effect than a continuance of propinquity. The superstition would be one purely of sympathetic magic were it not for the selection of the turtle as the "party of the second part." This brings in the element of mythology, for the tortoise is a highly mystic creature whose wonderful properties were extolled by Pliny, and he was sacred to the great goddess Cybele to whom he appeal by carving our initials on the sacred shell.

Vessel's Weight Varies According to Direction

Attention was called recently in a scientific magazine to the difference in the weight and the displacement of a ship steaming east and one steaming west on account of the centrifugal force acting upon it. A specific example was cited of an American 1,100-ton destroyer travelling westward at 25 knots and adding 262.8 pounds to her weight, while the same craft speeding eastward would subtract 480.02 pounds from her weight.

The Engineer, London, has taken pains to look into the matter and gives us some additional facts. Inasmuch as a vessel running at 25 knots has a speed of 42 feet a second, and as the peripheral speed of the earth at the equator is 1,500 feet a second, it is clear that in steaming westward, with the two speeds opposing each other, the true linear velocity of the ship would be 1,513 feet a second, while on an eastward course it would be 1,002 feet. The centrifugal force exerted on a vessel of the aforesaid size and speed is 8,410 pounds on a westward course and 9,390 pounds on an eastward journey—indicating a difference of 966 pounds between the two conditions.—Compressed Air Magazine.

Early "Razors"

In the days before the steel razor came into use, shaving the beard was accomplished by the use of flint, shell or bones, which were ground so as to give them a keen, sharp edge.

Odd Superstition

Some people in the south of England believe that if a cow has been bitten by a snake and the milk allowed to stand the form of the snake will be seen in the milk.

SAFETY

Milk shares with all other foods habitually consumed raw, the possibility of transmission of disease germs. Pasteurization constitutes at once a cheap and effective protection against germs both human and animal origin. The most resistant of these germs is killed by exposure to 143 to 145 degrees Fahrenheit for thirty minutes—in fact this actually allows a satisfactory margin of safety.

The process of pasturization is easily supervised, substituting as it does one process for all the other multitudinous precautions otherwise essential for production of a truly safe milk.

It seems too good to be true that an expenditure of a comparatively small amount per gallon enables us to secure an absolutely safe milk, but such is the fact.

Pasteurization of all milk except certified, is now compulsory in larger cities and common in medium-sized cities. The practice of pasturization has been in operation for sufficient time to demonstrate diminution in tuberculosis and the epidemic diseases in those cities where these diseases were formerly spread at times by milk.

Three years member of New Jersey Assembly.

Three years member of New Jersey Senate, and served on the following committees: Public Health, State Hospitals, New Jersey Reformatory, State Village for Epileptics, Sanatorium for Tuberculosis Diseases, Soldiers' Home, State Prison, Labor and Industry, Banking and Insurance, Militia, Appropriations, Treasurers' Accounts, State Library, Corporations, Commerce and Navigation, Highways, Borough and Townships.

The above training and experience is evidence of Dr. Ramsay's ability to protect the interests and welfare of the fifteen thousand inmates of our State and County Institutions, and the Legislative Supervision which these unfortunates require.

During his service in the Legislature in both Houses he introduced seventy-one bills. Fifty per cent. of which were designed to protect the public health and the lives of the people. Twenty-five per cent. of the maintenance or improving the standard of our educational institutions, such as Public Schools, and Public Libraries. The remainder for State, Municipal and Business interests.

Among the Bills introduced by him were:

An Act for the prevention of Blindness.

An Act to regulate the practice of Midwifery, requiring proper training and cleanliness.

An Act to restrict the use of common drinking cups and prevent the communication of infectious diseases. This Act has since been adopted by almost every State in the Union.

An Act for the erection and management of a Hospital for Insane Criminals.

An Act to secure the purity of public supplies of potable waters.

An Act to regulate the production, distribution and sale of milk and cream.

An Act known as the "Ramsay Act" or "Anti-Discrimination Bill" to regulate fire insurance. This Bill has saved the citizens of this State hundreds of thousands of dollars since its passage, and has been adopted by many States in the Country subsequent to a successful operation in New Jersey.

Dr. Ramsay believes that the Government should again regain control of the Liquor situation instead of leaving it to mob rule as it now is.

He further believes that the modification of the Volsted Act permitting the legitimate sale of light wine and beers will diminish the consumption of heavy liquors and protect the health and happiness of the people.

He condemns as un-American any organization such as the Ku Klux Klan which interferes with the constitutional right of man to worship his God as he sees fit or in any way obstructs the liberty of Race, Religion or Creed whether he be Foreign or Native born, black or white, Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant, as un-American and should receive the disapproval of every good citizen who has not forgotten what the founders of this noble Country fought, suffered untold hardships, and died for.

He is opposed to child labor in any form.

He believes in any measure destined to improve, aid, or advance the educational standards and opportunities, or increase the facilities in our Schools.

He believes that the Appropriation Bill should be presented to the Legislature early enough to receive full consideration before its adoption.

"What's in a Name?"
By MILDRED MARSHALL
Facts about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day, lucky jewel

LYDIA

LYDIA is of Latin origin. She is one of the feminine names derived from places. As Della comes from the island of Deles, so Lydia became a proper name in honor of the city of Lydia which played such an important part in early history.

Lydia has a deep and reverent Biblical significance, since the first Lydia was the seller of purple who became converted by St. Paul at Thyatira. Her story is contained in one of the striking passages of the Acts.

Englishwomen, who seem especially given to Scriptural names, adopted Lydia quite early in history. The name flourishes in the pages of English literature, and also has extreme vogue in this country. Curiously enough, it seems to have escaped translation into any other than the English language.

Lydia, a name not in common usage but none the less musical, may possibly be a contraction of Lydia. If such is the case, the name is no doubt the outgrowth of personal feminine preference, and without etymological sanction.

The yellow jacinth is Lydia's talismanic stone. It will guard her from danger and disease, particularly when she is traveling. The wearer of a jacinth need have no fear of lightning, since the stone is said to be proof against that menacing element. According to ancient legend, a jacinth will break as a warning of the approach of evil. Thursday is Lydia's lucky day and 5 her lucky number. Yellow is her color.

SEND SOSIN TO THE ASSEMBLY

Our citizens can well boast that they have in their midst a person who has helped push the borough of Carteret ahead for the past few years. That person is no smaller an individual than the well known local attorney, Maxwell Sosin.

He has been nominated by the Democratic party of our county as one of the three candidates for Member of the General Assembly and if ever there was a time that our borough needed to have a man represent us in the capitol at Trenton, now is the time.

It should not matter as to the politics of our voters, but our county and our borough especially needs a person, a fighter to fight for Middlesex County, throughout the entire State and such a man is Maxwell Sosin.

VOTERS: Bear in mind that we have the opportunity to send a local representative to the Legislature to serve us for 1925. Help Carteret and give him a good majority to overcome any unexpected results that may occur in other parts of the County.

REPUBLICANS ON TAX FACTS

ation. We felt justified in doing this for the following reasons:

First, as the auditor (one of the best in the State) expressed it, because we had no system;

Second, because money had often been borrowed at interest when we had a cash on hand to be drawn from;

Third, in 1920 there was carried on the books in back taxes more than $23,000, as an asset, the larger portion of which was not collectable. Who has to make up that deficiency. The taxpayer of today. Such an accumulation of back taxes is illegal and in justice to the taxpayer of today we are going to clean it up according to law, regardless of what our opponents think about it.

Woodbridge Annexing We were also condemned for annexing a portion of Woodbridge Township practically within our borough. Below are the facts of the case. To straighten out the dividing line we gave Woodbridge a strip of the railroad property in exchange for the Steinberg tract.

Carteret's gain $38,735. 5.61 $2,735. Besides cleaning up an intolerable condition for our citizens in that section, we think we made quite a good business deal. That deal went over the top of the council table and not under it.

Read the minutes of the Council, and the bills paid in your local paper. You couldn't do that before Mayor Mulvihill's Administration.

Streets and Sewers In 1922 the Hermann Construction Co. paved several streets amounting to $16,000 square yards for $58,815.49 made up as follows: $48,000 contract; $1,500 transferred to that account at the end of 1922; and $7,315.49 which we are paying this year as a 1922 deficit.

The above instances are just a few of the cases where the Republican Administration, by inviting competition, has saved the taxpayers thousands of dollars. If these competitors made a fair profit, what did the Hermann Construction Co. make during the 16 years of the Hermann reign? Do you want to go back to it? The new Memorial Borough Hall will keep secure the valuable records of the borough as well as house the various municipal departments, and give our war veterans comfortable quarters and a lasting memorial.

For continued progress and economy, keep the Republican Administration in power with a Republican assessor who will give you equitable assessments.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

LIKE BROWN LEAVES

THOSE high resolves which we made only yesterday are today scurrying hither and thither, like brown leaves in a romping November gale.

Twenty-four hours ago we were very serious; this morning, in anticipation of a day's pleasure, we are decidedly frivolous.

We do not care to spoil the day with sober thoughts. We are young and the years lie before us. We can "settle down" to the steady motion of the treadmill when we find we have to do it, but not now, while the horizon is unclouded by a cloud and all the surroundings about us are bright and inviting, calling us to quaff from the golden goblet the wine of pleasure.

Thus speak the thoughtless, doomed in later years to be blown about like dried leaves that have been bitten by the frost and torn from the lashing boughs of their mother-tree by the gales.

We cannot always cling to the mother-breast or sleep beneath the roof-tree of our father.

Some day we must face the cold winter alone, possibly in no condition to adapt ourselves to the change; rudely awakened, perhaps, to find the merciless storms beating about us, whipping and driving us at will like withered leaves, to be trodden under foot.

So now, while we are young, let us store our minds with useful knowledge and strengthen our bodies by taking good care of them.

Let us look upon the heaps and clusters of the blown leaves of humanity in the parks of the great cities, along the wharves, in the drab alleys, being swept along by the passing winds, knowing not where they are going or what shall be their end. Notice their rags and woebegone faces.

JIMMY SKUNK'S SPELL

ONE night when Mr. Fox and Mr. Coon and Peter Rabbit were going through the woods on their way to the farm where they intended to get something nice for their breakfast they met Jimmy Skunk.

Now Mr. Fox, and his companions also, were very young and they knew nothing about Jimmy Skunk's peculiar trick of fighting those who annoyed him.

Jimmy was sauntering slowly along as if he were not at all afraid of anything or anybody. "Hello, Jimmy," called Mr. Fox. "I suppose if Mr. Dog happened along you would not change your gait."

"Can't You Help Us, Jimmy?" Asked Peter Rabbit.

"Not I," replied Jimmy. "I never hurry for any one, not even Mr. Dog."

"I guess, though, Mr. Man with a gun would hurry you a little," said Mr. Coon.

"Can't you help us, Jimmy?" asked Peter Rabbit.

Jimmy Skunk scratched his head and squinted his eyes. He was thinking, for he had more than once heard Mr. Fox making fun of the lazy manner in which he went about and he knew very well that Mr. Fox must be ignorant of his weapon of defense.

"Well, I might help you if you want to take a chance," he said at last.

"What do you mean by taking a chance?" inquired Mr. Fox, who was very suspicious. "Is there any trap about your scheme, Jimmy?"

"I mean, my help will last for some time," said Jimmy, "and you may wish to get rid of it. You can't, though, until it wears off."

"Oh, I see," said Mr. Fox with a smile. "You throw over us a spell which will keep Mr. Dog and Mr. Man away from us; is that it?"

"Yes, that is it," said Jimmy, glad to be helped out so well without going into details.

"Oh well, I'll take a chance on that, won't you, Mr. Coon?" said Mr. Fox.

Jimmy Skunk did not really wish to throw his spell over Peter or Mr. Coon, but when Peter said he was willing to risk it Jimmy decided if he wanted to trot about with such fellows as Mr. Fox he would have to take the consequences.

"Now, are you all ready?" he asked as the three stood in a row with their eyes closed.

"Ready," they all called and the next thing they knew they felt something softly spraying them and then the most awful odor they ever remembered smelling filled the air.

When they opened their eyes Jimmy Skunk was gone, which showed them he could hurry when he cared to do so.

It was a long time before the three met again and when they did Mr. Fox said: "He told the truth about keeping Mr. Dog away, for he started to come to my house the next day to drive me out when suddenly he fell a howl and turned with his tail dropped and ran for home as if something had hurt him."

"Jimmy's spell may be all right for keeping Mr. Dog away, but everybody else keeps away, too," complained Mr. Coon. "My wife drove me out of the house and I had to sleep on the branch of a tree."

"My family pushed me out of the house, too," said Peter Rabbit, "and I didn't blame them. If I could have run away from myself I would have done so. No, I will take a chance on Mr. Dog getting me rather than have Jimmy Skunk throw a spell over me again."

tion between New Brunswick and Highland Park difficult for the residents of the County. He therefore favors and will work for legislation to provide an additional bridge across the Raritan at that point conveniently located with reference to the present Albany Street Bridge to meet this condition.

Through Senator Larson's efforts very definite steps have been taken toward the construction of an Interstate Bridge connecting New Jersey and New York at Perth Amboy. This link between the States would be of incalculable benefit to Middlesex County and the Seashore resorts of New Jersey and it is planned that this improvement will be made without adding to the burdens of the taxpayer as it will be financed from the earnings.

Further steps will be taken at the coming sessions of the legislature to carry through these and other important projects that Mr. Larson has undertaken and he should be elected to bring about these things for the benefit of the County.

Dog Guards Milk

Attleboro, Mass.—Rowdy, a bulldog belonging to Herman N. Collins, owner of a drug store, has leaped into a niche in dogdom's hall of fame because, when an epidemic of thefts of milk bottles broke out in Attleboro, he constituted himself the guardian of the daily supply that is left every morning at his master's drug store. Not even the policeman on the beat can coax Rowdy from his task until after Collins arrives to open the store.

Snake Stops Motor

Grisswold, Iowa.—A four-foot bull snake short-circuited the battery in the automobile of G. W. Barnes and caused considerable trouble before being discovered. When the car would not start Barnes blamed it on the batteries, but when this proved a mistake he lifted the hood to inspect the wiring. As he did so the snake attempted to strike. Barnes fled and friends killed the reptile.

DEMOCRATS IN PRAISE OF MEN

much so that he is called the father of the borough.

Mr. Hermann was elected the first mayor in 1906 and has continuously held the office until 1922, having been elected eight times in succession. This is an unprecedented record in this respect, and shows the measure of the man and what the people think of him. During his time as the executive of the municipality (fifteen years), the population has increased from 1,500 to 11,049; the tax values from $1,000,000 to $10,196,000; miles of roads, sewers, sidewalks and curbing have been laid, and the borough today has not over $25,000 municipal bonded indebtedness, an indebtedness based on tax values incomparably lower than any like municipality in the State of New Jersey. This indicates the kind of a man and official and the quality of the service he has rendered.

In 1920, Mayor Hermann was appointed by Governor Edwards a member of the Middlesex County Board of Taxation and in 1921, he was elected its president. In this important office he has demonstrated his special fitness for the work and the soundness and impartiality of his decisions.

Mr. Hermann is a member of Carey Council, Knights of Columbus, was its grand knight for six years, and has been a district deputy of the order; Court Carteret, Foresters of America; Division No. 7, Ancient Order of Hibernians; Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church, its vice-president; Quinipiac Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, past sachem; Rahway Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks; Friends of Irish Freedom; Middlesex Grove, Ancient United Order of Druids; St. Vincent De Paul Society, its president; and the Roosevelt Fire Company, No. 2. He is also director of Et. Elizabeth's Hospital, Elizabeth, and the City of Rahway Hospital.

During the World War Mayor Hermann was the recognized leader of the borough in the work of all the agencies and drives recognized and approved by the United States Government, and to his masterful efforts, militant Americanism, and able executive direction, was largely due the fact that no similar community surpassed the Borough of Roosevelt in the intensity and success of all the movements organized to help win the war.

ROBBER, SORRY FOR HIS DEED, RETURNS LOOT

Haunted by Sick Woman's Face, He Telephones to Victim to Make Peace.

Kansas City.—Surrendering to a troubling conscience and seeking to make peace with his victim a robber telephoned to his victim he was sorry and made good a promise to return stolen property. At noon, June 6, the robber entered the home of A. T. Stoneberger, Mrs. Stoneberger, confined to bed because of illness, was the only person in the house. He threatened Mrs. Stoneberger with a revolver and forced her to tell him where he could find her silverware and money. He left with all the silverware and $12. The other day a telephone call was answered by Mrs. Stoneberger's daughter. "I am the man who robbed your house," the voice said. Pays Dearly for Act. "You can tell your mother I am sorry. I am paying dearly for my act. Not a day has passed since I entered your home without permission that your mother's face does not haunt me. I wish I could return all the property and the money I took from your home. But that is impossible. I have sold some of it and lost some. The rest you will find under your front porch. "As I call you I am at the Union station getting ready to return to the East, whence I came. The dress of the deed which I committed has been brought home to me and I have reformed." Under the front porch of the Stoneberger home some of the silverware was recovered.

Arrests at Night In Sweden, unless the person wanted by the police is a desperate criminal, his arrest is usually deferred until night in order that he shall be spared the ignominy of being marched captive through the streets before the gaze of the public.

Working, Not Wishing, Is Secret of Success

By Kemal Straight. People call him the Go-Getter because he knows what he wants and never gives up until it is his. In other words, he looks forward, then goes ahead to achievement. The man they call the Go-Getter would accomplish nothing if he wandered aimlessly from one thing to another, thinking he would get SOMETHING. He KNOWS where he wants to GO, WHAT he wants to GET. Hence the Go-Getter. If our forward look is to be realized in full, we must expect to go after what we want, filled with endurance and courage. Keeping everlastingly at a thing brings success IF it is what you really want. Twenty years ago Orville Wright had a vision of men flying like birds, cleaving the air at great heights. People laughed at him, said such a thing never would, never could come true. That he was a dreamer. Today when airplanes have become common, a reality in the broadest sense of the term, these same people make a hero of him. Orville Wright was a Go-Getter. He didn't fiddle about, changing his ambition as he did his clothes; but with it ever before him went on and on until full success was his.

Success, YOUR success, cannot be gained by following the other fellow's rules. HIS ambition may not appeal to you, may not be what YOU want. Make your own picture of your own success, putting in lines and curves here and there, just as a machinist puts a machine together after he knows WHAT he wants to build. Make your picture, then don't sit down and WISH you could see its achievement. The WISHER never accomplishes anything. Don't be a WISHER, be a WORKER. There is no such thing as standing still in life. We must either go forward, or fall back. With your picture ever in mind going forward becomes easy, because it leads to the goal of your desires. We are the creatures of our thoughts. Train your thoughts to look forward to success and happiness—even though your ideas of success and happiness might mean nothing to your next door neighbor.

The world is full of men who began to look forward when very young, and never stopped. They never have shirked, never doubted. They have been the real Go-Getters of the world. The world is too full of rainbow chasers who turn from one scheme to another. And they never find the pot of gold at the rainbow's end because of their divagations. The Go-Getter is never a rainbow chaser. He knows better. He knows that only by concentrated effort can the pot of gold ever be found, ever become his.

Fire and Water—Andres spoke of the trip of inspection to the various water stations—also of having Fire Chief take readings of the water pressure. Motion by Andres and Wilgus that Fire and Water Committee procure two recording gauges for this purpose. Carried.

Poor Progress. Law—Nothing. Light—The Mayor spoke of the need of extra lights in places on the Boulevard section.

Ellis on lights on Hudson street. Child on curb at Swimming Pool. Motion by Wilgus and Ellis that two notes be renewed for two months, one for $10,000 and one for $8,500 account of New Municipal Building. All councilmen present voting yea on roll call, it was so ordered. Motion to adjourn to call of the chair, carried.

October 30, 1924 Meeting, Adjourned From October 20, 1924. Present: Brown, Ellis, Phillips, Wilgus.

The following resolution was presented by Councilman Phillips: Resolved, Whereas the Board of Education has requested the sum of ($60,000.00) for current expenses,

Be it, and it is hereby resolved, that the Mayor and Clerk are hereby authorized to execute a two month's note on the First National Bank at 4 per cent in anticipation of taxes, and the Collector be empowered to turn same over to Board of Education account. Dated October 30, 1924.

On roll call and all voting yea, same was adopted. A letter received and read from the U. S. M. Ref. Co. requesting that Mr. Robert Winters, their Chief of the Patrol Dent, be made a regular officer of the borough.

The Mayor then made appointment as follows: I hereby appoint with consent of Council, Robert Winters of the U. S. Metals Co. a special policeman to serve without compensation for one year. T. J. Mulvihill, Mayor.

On roll call, all Councilmen voting yea, the same was confirmed. On motion the rules were suspended and the following bills were read:

P. S. Elec. & Gas Co. $582.08 P. S. Elec. & Gas Co. 241.31 Brown Bros. 23.80 J. Calton 60.00 J. Ohlert 44.00 R. Hier 42.00 M. Polly 42.00 T. Gaban 42.00 W. Murray 34.00 C. Jarlot 46.00 Mary Trustrum 20.00 M. Claus 20.00 L. Kelly 60.00 J. Winters 60.00 W. E. Baldwin 70.00 W. Donnelly, Sr. 37.25

The above bills being audited and found correct were ordered paid, all Councilmen voting yea on roll call.

Attorney Stremlau read a letter from the Central Railroad of New Jersey stating that Flashlight Signs would soon be completed at the Roosevelt avenue and East Rahway crossings.

The Mayor read a letter coming from the W. C. Eng'r. Co. stating that they wanted their sidewalks laid by the contractor instead of doing the work themselves.

Councilman Brown was instructed to look after same. Motion to adjourn was carried.

H. VO. PLATT, Borough Clerk.

SOCCER CLUB TRIMS LEADERS, 4-0---MORRIS KAYOS TWO MORE

HARRISON BOOTERS ARE SWEEPED OFF THEIR FEET IN A THRILLING GAME

Bill Elliott's Warriors Are In Great Condition and League Leaders Only Threatened to Score Twice as They Were Continually Playing On the Defensive—Chapman Tallies the Four Goals.

Nearly a thousand fans saw one of the most interesting and thrilling soccer games ever played in the New Jersey State Soccer League Sunday afternoon at Brady's field when the local booters took the leading Harrison Eagles off their feet and rode to an easy victory by 4-0. Up to the time of the game, Carteret was beaten in every contest played by them in the circuit and Harrison had not been beaten once. If a fan, who did not know either team, saw the game, he would believe that Carteret was leading the loop and Harrison was occupying the cellar position.

The locals were in such good condition that Harrison, as it was said, was completely swept off its feet and the desire to win their first league game, especially against the leaders, was also another good reason why the visitors never figured in the scoring.

DONNELLY HIGH

Bowling with the Rahway Elks in the Rahway City League against West End, whom they defeated twice in three games at the Y. M. C. A. alleys last Friday night, Bill Donnelly topped the pins for the best individual average of the match. His scores were 221, 177 and 191—an average of 196.1. The Elks team stands in a tie for second place. There are three teams deadlocked in the lead.

Junior Gridiron Boys Preparing For Games

The Carteret Junior football eleven are putting in some stiff practice sessions lately in preparation for their heavy schedule, a part of which is already made up, with the best teams of their calibre in the county. The teams which are to be played by the locals are: Mohicans of Port Reading at Woodbridge next Sunday afternoon; Perth Amboy, Rahway, Elizabeth and Avenel.

The following gridirers will play with the locals: Hermann, Yarcowsky, Comba, W. Sexton, J. Sexton, Shutello, Mathews, Quinn, Lawlor, Clifford, Armour, Brechka, and Harrigan.

ALWAYS A STAR FROM CARTERET

Every Year There Is Someone From Borough to Shine In Rahway High School's Athletics Either on Grid or Diamond.

HARRINGTON AND NADEL PLAY FINE

Fullback and Center of Varsity Eleven Partly Responsible for Team's Good Showing This Season—Both Star Players.

Our rapidly growing borough will no longer be represented by some outstanding stars at the Rahway High School after next June. Every year there is some youth or more, who occupies the spotlight in the Rahway school's athletics—football, baseball and basketball. But after this year this will no longer occur as the 1925 senior class is the only body of Carteret students remaining there.

There are no better players to be found who would be capable of holding down the positions that Harrington and Nadel occupy on the varsity eleven at Rahway this season. Besides these two boys there are others, who substitute some time or other.

In its battle with Orange High at Orange last Friday Rahway was beaten by a 10 to 7 count, but played a very fine game despite the overwhelming odds against them such as weight. Both Harrington and Nadel performed in a classy style and it is often heard from Rahway scholars on different occasions that "Harrington is sure of his regular position at fullback" or "Nadel sure does play a fine game at center."

Each showed their value in Friday's game by their fine playing. Harrington broke loose and ran seventy-five yards for Rahway's touchdown in the first quarter, while Nadel tore through the Orange line often enough to prevent the scoring of the enemy to be multiplied, besides doing well on the defensive.

The only other Carteret lad to get into last week's battle was Garber, at guard. It is probable that others will work hard to get into the lineup, which will play against Perth Amboy today at Perth Amboy. This game will be a nice workout for Coach Brooks' fast machine.

Others from town who take part in the daily practice sessions are: Clifford, Ivins, Calderhead, Quin, Jacobwitz, Brown, Yuckman and Zier.

Charles Ivins is a freshman and John Calderhead is a junior. Both pay for their own tuition. So while Carteret will not be represented by a large class as in the past at the Rahway High, these boys will make a name on the gridiron next year if not this season. Calderhead will graduate from Rahway after the next school term, in 1926, and Ivins will leave in 1928. Ivins has the biggest opportunity in football because he is a big boy. He probably will become a fullback for Rahway next year and hold that position until he graduates.

St. Josephs Start Court Campaign Soon

Within a few weeks the St. Joseph cagers will start their season, playing one of the fastest teams in the county, the Perth Amboy Dexters, at the St. Joseph's Parochial school court. Other teams such as the Woodbridge High School seconds, Orioles of Perth Amboy; and Port Reading Mohicans, will be booked during the locals' season.

Players who will don local uniforms will be: Comba, W. Sexton, J. Sexton, Harrigan, Casey, Shutello and Orr.

First to "Strike" Oil

The first oil well in the United States was struck in 1830. E. L. Drake was the man who opened the way to the vast industry by discovering deposits of crude oil in Pennsylvania.

LYNCH AND MARTIN DISPLAY FINE FORM

In their bouts at Perth Amboy last night both Dick Lynch and Sid Martin, Philippino, displayed fine form against their opponents. Dick's powerful attack and fast floor work had Cy Stevens on the oar three times before he knocked him out in the fifth round of their scheduled six round affair.

The only obstacle in the way of Martin which prevented the new borough representative from winning his bout from Gargano, of Staten Island, was a wrenched arm, which he attained in the second session. Martin was in very good condition and from the second round on he had no hopes of beating Gargano because of his accident, but he stuck with the fast Island mixer and was beaten by a shade at the end of the bout. This event went eight rounds.

Lynch will fight in the semi-final at Perth Amboy on November 10. Martin has a bout scheduled with Young Eddie Dempsey at New Brunswick on the following night, November 11.

In a four round bout Charlie Comba made his first appearance in the ring and put up a nice fight although he tried greatly toward the end, with Young Karlick of South River.

Rahway Cancels All Relations With Battin

All Rahway is disheartened because it will not see the Rahway High School Varsity eleven oppose the Battin High School at Pearl Oval on Election Day as was expected. The Battin crew cancelled the game because its players were on the "ineligible" list, causing one of the biggest high school games in the state to be postponed.

Rahway was all heated up over the fact that the high gridirers were to resume relations with the Elizabeth team on the gridiron after a two-year layoff. Now Rahway is much more heated over the cancellation because their team could have shown themselves in the race for the Class "B" championship for every player on the crew was confident that Rahway would beat Battin.

Because of the manner in which the Bettsetown boys had their game postponed Rahway will not have anything to do with that school in athletics hereafter, according to officials at the Rahway school.

It is the custom in nearly all schools that if players of the team are below par in their studies they are not eligible to take part in any games for one week and since Battin is playing the strong Phillipsburg eleven tomorrow the Battin players are also eligible for any game played during the following week up to next Saturday. So this fact that the players are "ineligible" induced Rahway to cancel all relationships with that school hereafter.

Coach Dubow Will Make Strong Five

Basketball will probably make a name for the Hillside High School throughout New Jersey this coming season, and for Coach Samuel Dubow, head athletic instructor of the entire Hillside education system besides putting a much feared quintet on the court every season.

At a recent meeting for the enrollment of candidates there were seventy-five lads, who turned out to make it known they each will work hard to make the team. Of the large number Coach Dubow will be able to pick a strong team, for which he has a nucleus assured of already as there are five of the regulars of last season's quintet who are ready to offset the onrush of the newcomers.

As soon as the weather grows a little cooler regular practice sessions will be indulged in by the squad, but the season will not be opened until December.

The Grasselli Big Five, composed of former Hill School stars from around Elizabeth, would like to book games with any semi-pro quintet having a home court and offering a good guarantee. This team plays at home on Saturday evenings. For games write to P. Gill, 3 Main street, Grasselli Park, N. J.

Rules of Chinese Cooking

The rules of Chinese cookery are very clearly defined and demand great attention to the smallest detail. For every dish the meats and the vegetables must always be cut into small pieces of uniform size.

Bruskie and Costello Finish in Fifth Hole

Johnny Bruskie, local pedaler, in forming a bike team with Jack Costello, finished fifth in the two-hour race given by the Bay View Wheelmen, of Newark, at Weequahic Park Sunday afternoon. This team scored a total of fifty-seven points, being nosed out of fourth place by one point.

The winners of the event, Henry Bruhn, of Philadelphia, and Al Hatos, representing the Century Road Club of America, had a low score of thirty-eight.

The race was decided upon a point basis, with sprints every three miles during the last hour. The points were scored as follows: first, one; second, three; third, four; fourth, five; fifth, six; sixth, seven; seventh place or worse was credited with ten points.

FIELDING WAS GOOD IN LOOP

General Average of Four Clubs Combined Was Quite Good, Having an Average of .905—2,050 Chances, 195 Errors.

BELMONT'S '.917 BEST AVERAGE

Receive 323 Putouts and 139 Assists Without Error—Make 42 Errors—Tigers Second—Scally Winner of High Average.

A big victory was scored by the local Twilight Baseball League during the past season in fielding. The league as a whole received 1,855 chances without a fault and made 195 errors for a general average of .905, which is about forty or more points below the general fielding average of any major league.

This record is a very good one when one considers the fact that in the majors the players receive big salaries and are much more experienced than those who played in the local league this season.

Next season when the circuit reorganizes for its second campaign the fans will be able to witness a better brand of baseball than they saw this year because the players have had a full season's added experience. With their fielding much improved the games will be tighter and the race for the pennant will also be a great deal more interesting although the battle for the flag this year could not have been any closer for a loop that was playing in its first schedule.

The Belmonts, who were beaten out for the pennant in the final playoff game by the Tigers, took high honors in fielding with an average of .917. The Tigers came in second best with a .910 average and the Stars finished far ahead of the Cadillacs having chalked up a .903 average compared to .892 to the Cadillacs.

The best individual average was scored by Scally at first base for the league winning Tigers. His average was .989. Ginda of the Stars and Skurat of the Belmonts tied for second best with .964 each. The Stars' backstop, Pry, received the greatest number of chances than any other player in the loop. But his ten errors pulled him deep into the "mud"; with a .925 average for his sixteen games.

RIPS INTO BOTH MEN

Carl Morris Registers Kayo Victories Nos. 25 and 26 at Perth Amboy and Yonkers, N. Y., Against Avasala and Lewis.

TO MAKE HARLEM DEBUT ON NOV. 8

Will Meet Al Clitty, Junior Lightweight Champion of England, at Commonwealth Sport Club Show—At Red Bank Tonight.

Pommeling his ring opponents, Julio Avasala, of Brooklyn, at Perth Amboy, last Thursday night, and Panama Ted Lewis, colored, at Yonkers, N. Y., Monday night, Carl Morris added his twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth knockout victories to his list of victims.

Avasala, conquerer of Elinio Flores and Pete Soermentio, in bouts on the Philippine Islands, lasted but two rounds with the damaging fists and fast work of Morris in a tilt that was supposed to go eight rounds, the main event of the Elks' show. The Brooklyn boy was sent to the canvas four times in the first round and three more times in the second before he was put to sleep by a series of lefts and rights. It was the first time that Avasala was knocked out and the news of Morris's kayo victory is fast spreading among fight promoters.

In his other bout, fought at Yonkers, the fast stepping colored boy Panama Ted Lewis, was floored four times before he was also rocked to sleep by the local pride. This affair was scheduled to last eight rounds, as the semi-final and the few thousand fans nearly went wild when treated with their favorite dish—a clean cut knockout.

Ralph Thomas, well known Harlem boxer, dropped dead as a result of a body blow landed below his heart by Albert Yochea, of South America, in the bout put on just before Morris' fight with Lewis.

TO BATTLE TONIGHT Carl will be seen in action again tonight at Red Bank with Eddie Dixon, negro, in an eight round semi-final event. Next Wednesday night Morris will meet Henry Mick in a ten round double windup affair at Newburgh, N. Y.

Then on Saturday night, November 8, Morris will make his debut in New York City in a ten round bout with Al Clitty, junior lightweight champion of England, at the Commonwealth Sporting Club.

HAS ABLE MANAGER Carl is now handled by a well known boxing leader, Tom Stanley, of New York City. Stanley is manager of Jack Perry, Mike Morley, Larry Goldberg, and Willie La Morte. He is the eastern representative of the famous bantamweight battler, Carl Tremaine, of Chicago. Morris will receive some great piloting while in the hands of Stanley and will have a good chance to make himself well known, probably as a champion.

MAYOR DEPLORES CHILD BUGABOO

proper budget item. If this mistake in bookkeeping had not occurred there would have been no over expenditures.

He does not, however, tell you that the Democrats had deficits in 1922 of $2,427.42 which we had to pay in 1923 and $7,315.49 that we have to pay this year.

He tells you that our appropriation for maintenance of streets and sewers in 1923 was $17,000, and that we spent $19,890.15; but he does not tell you that the appropriation for this item in 1922 was $18,000, and that they transferred an additional amount of $2,000, on the last meeting in December, making a total of $20,000. He says that we spent $14,499.59 for the Fire and Water account, but he does not tell you that the Democrats spent $14,500, for this same account in 1922.

He tells you that the total indebtedness of the Borough on December 31, 1923, was $248,211.06 made up as follows:

Notes outstanding	$98,352.88
Board of Education	70,486.10
Improvement Certificates	58,953.88
Bonds	20,418.88

$248,211.06

He admits, however, as we have always contended that we had a cash balance in the bank on December 31, 1923, of over $100,000, so that our total indebtedness was only $148,211.06.

But he does not tell you that the indebtedness on December 31, 1922 was as follows:

Due to School Board	$78,814.80
Mexican Petroleum Co.
Emergency Note	4,300.00
Deficit in 1922	2,869.89
Bonds	21,000.00
Improvement Certificates	40,786.13

$147,770.82

Republican Figures Correct

Child says that on December 31, 1923, we had outstanding $58,953.88 in improvement certificates, which is true, but he does not say that of this amount $40,786.13 was a legacy from 1922, and that we only issued $19,951.26. This fact appears on the same page of the 1923 audit that he obtained his figures from, but of course, he is not interested in telling all of the facts. The bond item of $20,418.20 to which he calls your attention is also a debt of the same administration. In fact all of the figures quoted are taken from the 1922 and 1923 audits and are borough property, which any taxpayer or voter is invited to examine as to the truth of the figures and statements above made.

Magic Is Too Creepy; Voodoo Doctor Arrested

Detroit.—Weird echoes of snaky African nights, guttural incantations, black magic, mystery, all the dark superstitions of the darkest of the continents—these were found Thursday by Detective William Beck and Policemen Beulah Tyrrell and Grace Hangerman in the apartment of Abasi Inyang, self-styled African voodoo doctor, at 904 Montcalm street east.

Miss Tyrrell went to the exponent of voodooism to have her fortune told. The doctor produced birds' eggs, bright feathers, bits of chalk and spread them before him. He knelt before them, muttering, swaying backward and forward, chanting in some strange tongue.

Then he took out a box, filled with beans—beans of power, he called them. He chewed the beans, slowly and contemplatively, and then pronounced his dictum:

"The dark winds moan in the tree-tops. Evil spirits dance about a fire of hate. Their songs reach to the cruel moon—woe, woe, woe. There is pain, there is torture. Terror waits in the blackness. The silent jungle suffers. Hard and vicious leer the stars."

And so on, following which Mr. Beck, who had been waiting outside, stepped in and placed the "doctor" under arrest as a fake fortune-teller.

Police say he has been advertising on the screens of East side movie shows. They seized a number of cards, bearing this inscription: "Abasi Inyang, native of Africa, master of science, magician and actor. I can give you any kind of information you desire. If your luck is run down and you feel despondent, see me. I can tell you what to do. I guarantee my work."

Man "Teething" at 104
Valdosta, Ga.—Life has been just one set of teeth after another, according to "Uncle Tom" Johnson, 104 years old, who is "teething" for the fourth time. His "second teeth" were extracted 40 years ago, but 15 years later he "cut" his third set, which lasted only about ten years. Recently he went to a physician who, after an examination, said the aged man is again "teething."

Hen Mothers Kittens
Halstead, Minn.—Two puzzled kittens, housed in the manger of a barn here, are learning to respond just as quickly to the cluck of a large white hen as they do to the mew of their black and white mother. The hen is sharing mothering duties with the cat. She clucks softly as the kittens snuggle under her wings and objects to the attentions of the cat.

JOHN MARTIN BOOKS GIVEN TO LIBRARY

A Number of New Books Also Purchased By the Library Association—Will Be On Shelves for "Children's Book Week."

We would like to have all of the children of Carteret read the letter which has been received from "John Martin," and it will be placed on the bulletin board of the library.

The letter follows:

My Dear Mrs. L.—

Edward Dodd has suggested to me that you can use some back numbers of John Martin's Books. I shall be happy to let you have them, and have instructed my shipping department to forward you 60 copies.

I regret very much to say that the assortment is not more varied, but we seldom have editions exceeding our requirements in this much loved book of ours.

If I can help in any way at an affectionate greetings.

Other time, I beg of you to call upon me.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN MARTIN.

All of our children are familiar with John Martin's Magazine, and we know they will be delighted to hear that our much worn copies have been replaced with so many new ones.

Mr. Edward Dodd, president of Dodd, Mead & Co., has also made it possible for us to purchase a great many new books for our Children's Department at a very low figure.

We are planning to have both the books and magazines on the shelves for "Children's Book Week," November 9 to 15th.

Our boys will be interested to know that we now have a copy of "Leatherstocking" with illustrations taken from the moving picture which they have been enjoying recently. That will be on the shelf with the other new books in November.

MRS. GEORGE LEGGETT,
Children's Librarian.

STEAL TO ADORN MOTHER'S GRAVE

Little Girls Tell Their Story to Detectives.

Akron, Ohio.—Two little Akron girls who admit they broke into a neighbor's apartment on Wooster avenue and stole a few bars of scented soap, a wrist watch and a few trinkets which they expected to sell to buy flowers for their mother's grave, are home with their father tonight with a feeling that Akron detectives aren't a bad lot, after all.

The girls, twelve and thirteen, felt the sting of conscience after their misdeed recently and told their father what they had done. He instructed them to return the stolen articles and to apologize to the woman from whom they were taken.

The woman, however, felt that the girls should be turned over to the police. So after she had heard their story, she held them until city detectives arrived and took them to Detective Chief Harry Welch's office.

The detectives gave the girls some change with which to purchase the flowers for the barren grave in Glendale cemetery and sent the little girls home after they had promised never again to help themselves to things that do not belong to them.

HAUNTED YEARS, MAN FINDS HE IS NOT MURDERER

Attempts to End Life After Suffering Mental Torture Reveals Strange Story.

Birmingham, Ala.—Oliver Cameron has been returned to Birmingham from Portland, Ore., where an attempt at suicide gave first intimation of the mental turmoil through which he has passed in his efforts to forget what he believed to be murder committed more than 22 years ago.

A wanderer over the earth for more than a score of years, Cameron has faced almost unbelievable hardships in his efforts to forget the crime he thought he had committed. With the haunting memory always with him, he has been traveling steadily.

There is a touch of the pathetic in his story. Always, he says, he wanted a home of his own, with a wife and children. His fondest memories are those of the days when he was planning his future, before the time that he is alleged to have assaulted W. J. Gay.

Walks Hundreds of Miles.

On leaving Birmingham in 1902 after shooting Gay, Cameron says, he walked hundreds of miles in his efforts to escape arrest. He joined the navy, traveling to the farthestmost parts of the earth, but always there was the memory of his deed to torture him. Following the navy service he became a wanderer over the country.

Pursued relentlessly by the thoughts of what he had done, he kept ever moving. Illusions of authorities following were with him constantly, and he forever was attempting to foil his imaginary pursuers. He used a different name in every town he entered.

Illusions of Authorities Following Were With Him Constantly.

and made no efforts to communicate with friends for fear that he might be apprehended through the correspondence. At last, driven to desperation by what had grown to be fanatic thinking of the subject, he threw himself into a river at Portland, Ore., with the hopes of destroying his haunting memories forever.

Confesses "Crime."

He was rescued, however, and in a moment of laxity after he had reached the hospital, confessed to the crime he thought he had committed. Portland authorities communicated with the Birmingham sheriff's office. Gay, the man whom he had shot, recovered from the wound. Indictments on assault with intent to murder and carrying concealed weapons charges had been returned by the grand jury at the time of the shooting, but long since had been stored in the musty files of the sheriff's office.

None of the present members of the sheriff's force recalled the crime. A lengthy search was necessary to locate the indictments, and after they had been again brought to light, considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining money with which to return Cameron to Birmingham.

Years of privation and mental torture have left their mark on Cameron. He is emaciated, his face wears a drawn expression, and his mentality has begun to weaken under the constant strain. He goes about the county jail as a man in a daze, not quite sure why he's there.

Rip Up Fire Escape to Free Heavy Woman

New York.—Firemen were called to rescue an eighty-five-year-old woman weighing 300 pounds when she became wedged between the ladder and railing of an upper West side tenement house fire escape in an attempt to reach the roof, where, she said, she often sat looking at the stars. The fire escape was wrecked before she could be liberated.

40-Carat Diamond Is Found in Arkansas Mine

Little Rock, Ark.—A blue-white diamond weighing 40½ carats was discovered recently in the Pike county mine of the Arkansas Diamond corporation, it became known here. The stone is two inches long, an inch wide and one-quarter of an inch thick. The largest diamond previously taken from the mine weighed 20 carats and was sold for $2,500.

Boy Resting on Old Mill Wheel Killed as It Turns

Arcola, N. J.—Alden Woody, an eighteen-year-old student at Hackensack high school, sat down on a paddle of the century-old grist mill water wheel near here while waiting for a Hackensack bus. The boy's weight threw the ancient wheel into motion, and as it turned the boy was thrown backward and crushed between the paddle and a supporting timber. He was dead when passersby who heard his screams rescued his body.

The mill was torn down years ago, but the wheel, regarded as a historical landmark, was restored several years ago by the late F. D. Eaton of Arcola, and had been used recently by several motion picture companies as "color" in historical films.

Eagle's Nest on Wires Cause of Short Circuit

Elko, Nev.—An eagle's nest abridging two transcontinental telephone wires was found recently by "trouble men" of the Bell Telephone company to have been the cause for the lines not working across the desert stretch, 70 miles east of here. The nest contained saguaro, survey stakes and numerous metallic substances, including automobile parts apparently lost from the machines of tourists. The pieces of metal caused a short circuit.

Why He Named Son Alwin Abe Alexander Abalman

Hannamond, Ind.—Sam Abalman christened his first born son Alwin Abe Alexander Abalman, and in explaining his choice said: "The big reason is that four 'A's' stand for aces, and if that boy holds four, no one can beat him. Outside of that, a four-A horse blanket is the best you can buy, and four-A sugar is what every woman wants."

The Sin of Lying

The sin of telling a lie is not great. When a man returns from fishing, it is not a very serious matter if he holds a fish or two to his string; every one has fished, and knows the probabilities, so no one is harmed. . . . The real sin of telling lies is the waste of time; it isn't the shortest, easiest or best way.

Butchers Treat Cancer Patients With Salve

Uniontown, Pa.—Not satisfied with conducting a lucrative butcher business, S. W. Hill, fifty years old, and his son, George Hill, thirty, turned to the medical trade to see what spare change they could pick up that way.

Following the death of three alleged "patients" of the butcher-medicos, the Hills were arrested and held under $5,000 bail each on charges of manslaughter and practicing medicine without a license.

Hill and his son were charged with extracting $5 a treatment, which consisted of a salve, made from a supposed secret refining process from the glands of beebes killed in their slaughter house. This salve they advertised as highly beneficial in the cure of cancer, police claim.

The men are specifically charged with the deaths of Mrs. Ella Miller of Smithfield, William Dickinson of Fairchance and Mrs. J. Kissinger of Mason town. All were declared to have been using the salve while treating a malady which was said to be cancer.

Scores of persons throughout western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and western Maryland came to Uniontown to visit the Hills for treatment. It was claimed, and as a consequence the salve business grew out of proportion to the butcher trade.

FREDERICK W. DONNELLY
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

FREDERICK W. DONNELLY'S attitude on all public questions is frank, clear and honest.

He favors the modification of the fanatical Volstead Act to permit the manufacture and sale of beer and light wines to bring relief from the intolerable conditions caused by Prohibition.

He is opposed to the Ku Klux Klan as un-American in its ideals and practices, and repugnant to our charter of freedom by which all of us, no matter of what race or creed, were guaranteed the boon of religious and political liberty within the law.

He favors the restoration of honest government at Washington; adequate pay for postal employees; honest elections free from taint of Newberryism; the reduction of rail and water transportation rates for the emancipation of the farmer, business man and consumer; the divorcement of government and big business, that unholy partnership that is responsible for the high cost of living.

He stands for law enforcement, and therefore opposes the use of the Federal Prohibition Enforcement Department as a political machine.
