FIVE CENTS

MANY ARE FINED AT COURT SESSION

Recorder N. A. Jacoby Imposes
Fines on Traffic Offenders.
—Ordinance Enforced.

Arthur Pecor, of 87 Westfield avenue, Elizabeth, was arrested Saturday by Round Sergeant, Joseph Dowling, who charged that Pecor was driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was released under bail pending a hearing of the police court.

Michael Kosrinsky, of 41 Essex street, this borough, will be given a hearing before Recorder Bernard T. Vogel, in Woodbridge on a charge of driving his car while under the influence of liquor, Saturday. He drove his car into a machine driven by Joseph C. aki, of 119 Van Buren avenue, just over the line in Woodbridge.

He was examined by Dr. B. H. Hoagland and found unfit to drive a car.

During the Police Court session Tuesday evening, the following fines were levied by Recorder Nathaniel A. Jacoby.

Charles Lewski, Sidney Cherry and Robert Moore, arrested by Patrolman Donohue, fined $7 each for disorderly conduct; George Olier, arrested by Patrolman Shanley, fined $7 for disorderly conduct; Andrew Shuhaida was given two days in jail for disorderly conduct, following his arrest by Patrolman Rushniak. Officer Ward arrested John Cikulin for disorderly conduct, for which a fine of $7 was assessed.

Others fined were: Arnold Carter and Charles Harris, $7 each, disorderly conduct; David Perry, colored, $7; Bernard Colusto, $20 and Dominic Dopato, $10.

Fines of $2 each were imposed on Charles Thompson, Louis Ruderman, Carl Morris, Charles Rapp and Jack Drummond, for parking their cars without lights.

CAPITOL TRIP FOR CLASS GRADUATES

Members of School Board Express Favor of Proposed Trip of the Senior Class.

All the members of the school board expressed themselves in favor of the annual trip to the National Capitol for the Senior Class of the High School, at the meeting of the Commissioners Tuesday evening.

Miss B. V. Hermann, supervising principal of the local schools brought the matter before the Board, asking their permission for the trip, which according to Miss Hermann, will start on May 3rd and their stay will last till the 5th. The Commissioners were also informed that the trip will cost in the neighborhood of $1500 which amount the Senior Class have in their treasury.

ARRIVE HERE ON S. S. LEVIATHAN

Mrs. Theresa Gyarfaz and Children Stop for Visit. On Way to Detroit to Join Husband.

Mrs. Theresa Gyarfaz and children, Imre and Sharika arrived in New York on Monday on the S. S. Leviathan from Budapest, Hungary. They were greeted in this country by Dr. and Mrs. Imre Kemeny, of Central avenue, with whom they will visit till Mrs. Gyarfaz leaves to join her husband in Detroit.

Mrs. Gyarfaz has been connected with the theatrical world in Budapest, and after witnessing the performance of the Harmony Revue, expressed considerable surprise at the talent that is considered amateur.

SPRING FROLIC A MUSICAL TREAT

Stage Set for Promising Entertainment Which Includes Fine Cast of Leading Local Talent

According to the enthusiasm displayed by the cast and producer of "Spring Frolic" the audience to attend the affair, on either Thursday or Friday evening at the High School Auditorium, are to be surprised at the treat that is in store for them.

The play, a musical melange, will include a comedy skit entitled "Izzies' Vacation" a short playlet, in which the characters are Miss Grace Van Pelt, who needs no introduction, and Joe Platt, who plays the part of "Izzie." Mr. Platt although new to Carteret audiences has had considerable experience, and is wonderfully suited to the part. Miss Van Pelt has no superior in comedy characters in the borough.

The principals in the second part includes some of the bests talent in town such as, John Dunne, Iona Johnson, Jack Dowling, Grace Van Pelt, Jack Reilly, Joe Romond, J. McGrath, Margaret Walsh and Ruth Wilcox. Many others are in the cast that have not been mentioned, and are more or less new comers in amateur theatricals, but whose possibilities are unlimited.

Miss Gertrude Armour, who will be remembered, for her splendid dancing in "Bimbo" will do a dance specialty. This attraction has added considerable to the possibilities of the plays success.

The musical direction of the play is under the direction of Miss Anna Richards. The dance music will be furnished by Hilberts Country Club Orchestra.

FIRE DAMAGES MOORE'S LUNCHROOM

A fire Sunday morning damaged the lunchroom at 27 Hudson street, operated by Wesley Moore to the extent of about $200. The fire was caused when someone threw a lighted cigarette or match in a garbage can in a little passageway alongside the lunchroom. A high board fence prevented anyone from discovering the blaze until it had eaten its way through the wall of the restaurant, and had reached the roof. Both fire companies responded to an alarm. The firemen had a difficult battle as the fire was between the walls. The building is owned by Max Janofsky, of 29 Hudson street. The damage is covered by insurance.

WEEKLY EUCHRE

The regular weekly euchre of St. Joseph's Parish women was held at the Parochial School, after a lapse of the Lenten season, when the euchres were discontinued. Mrs. Gaudet acted as hostess. Mrs. Koepfler will be hostess next week.

The following were prize winners: Mrs. Gaudet, Mrs. LeVan, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. C. B. Develin, Mrs. J. B. O'Donnell, Mrs. Bonner, Mrs. A. McNally, Mrs. George Bakke, Mrs. O. F. Koepfler, Mrs. Jamison and Mrs. H. Jones.

A Supreme court decision of 1898 decided that the Great Lakes come within the legal meaning of the "high seas," according to an answered question in Liberty.

DR. STRANDBERG SCOUT OFFICER

Elected to Executive Council at Dinner Meeting at Elks Home. Scouts to Have Active Year.

Dr. H. L. Strandberg was unanimously elected a member of the Executive Board of Raritan Council, Boy Scouts of America, in its dinner meeting in the Elks Home last Tuesday.

Dr. Strandberg was also recently elected chairman of Troop 82 committee boy scouts of Carteret, and has contributed a great deal to the revival of that troop and has been an inspiration to the members of the troop committee.

In the selection of Dr. Strandberg to the Executive Board, the Board is carrying out the policy of the Boy Scouts of America which requires representatives citizens of all communities identified with the local council to serve as members of the directing body. Besides Dr. Strandberg, Howard W. Thorn represents Carteret, Mr. Thorn being honored by vice-presidency of the Raritan Council.

The scouting organization is headed up by the District Commissioner Edward A. Strack, who has supervision over the two troops in the borough. Troop 82, which meets at the Presbyterian church, has as its scoutmaster Merrill B. Huber and Assistant Scoutmasters Walter Colquhoun and Edward Lauffer. Troop 83 is meeting at the Congregation Brotherhood of Israel and has as its Scoutmaster Leo Schonwald. Both troops have an enthusiastic body of scouts and it is hoped, thru the efforts of the local body and commissioner and scout headquarters, that additional troops may be organized so as to reach still more boys through scouting.

JUNIOR PATROL TO ORGANIZE HERE

Meeting of Lions Committee Tonight—Final Arrangements for Organization.

A meeting of the Patrol Committee of the Lions Club will be held tonight in the Legion rooms of the Municipal Building and the organization of the Junior Safety Patrol in the borough will come into being. The movement has the approval of Mayor and Council. The Board of Education and Chief of Police Harrington.

A definite means of organization will be outlined to-night by Sergeant Frank Seiboth, of the Perth Amboy Police Department and in charge of the Patrol in that city. It is expected that the officer detailed by Chief Harrington to the charge of the local patrol will be present and receive his first instructions as to the duties which he will have to instruct the boys.

According to Thomas G. Kenyon, chairman of the Lions Committee the movement will be pushed until the actual patrol has been instituted and the system perfected.

PACKAGE PARTY AND DANCE SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW

The Ladies Society of the German Lutheran Church announce that everything is in readiness for one of their popular Package Party and Dances, which will take place at the German Lutheran Hall.

Good music has been provided, and all who attend are assured of an enjoyable evening.

JR. HADASSAH ENTERTAIN OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

On Saturday evening, April 7, 1928, the Misses S. and H. Daniel acted as hostesses to the Jr. Hadassah at an informal Bridge and Grab Bag Social. Very novel prizes were offered. Guests were present from Rahway and Straussberg, Pa. An interesting feature of the evening were musical selections by Miss Sadie Ullman. Refreshments were served in keeping with Easter week.

C. Alan Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Phillips, Locust st., has motored to Washington, D. C., and Gettysburg, Pa., during his Easter vacation. Mr. Phillips is a student at Princeton University.

THOMAS J. MULVIHILL
Mayor.

BOARD FEELS NEW SCHOOL IS NEEDED

Overcrowded Condition Pointed Out. Committee Appointed to Make Survey.

The overcrowded condition of some of the schools in the borough as pointed out by Supervising Principal, Miss B. V. Hermann at the meeting of the Board of Education, Tuesday evening, brought about the discussion of the necessity of a new school building in the hill section.

Fifty pupils are to be admitted in Nathan Hale School at the opening of the school session after the Easter vacation, according to Miss Hermann. The condition is serious, with two classes already in the basement part of the building, and the parents of those children complaining that their children are not receiving the proper air and light." said Miss Hermann. "The only possible solution to the classing of the new pupils is to put them on part time," she added.

The views of the commissioners on this matter was that at best the part time arrangement was very unsatisfactory and did not afford the children the attention they should have besides being inconvenient to the mothers.

It was also pointed out at the meeting that the high school now houses three-eighth grades, one seventh and one sixth grade. All these class-rooms will have to be vacated next year as the grammar grades graduation will be very large, and the most of the graduating pupils will attend high school next year. President Heil said that the Board must prepare to take care of the overcrowded condition that is bound to exist next year. If this is not done, the commissioners will be subjected to criticism from the parents.

He felt that the public is always willing to co-operate in matters of this sort and believed the need of the erection of a school was imminent. All the commissioners held the same viewpoint, although Commissioners Cselle and Coughlin suggested that a careful study be made at first proceeding with the plans for the erection of another school. Commissioners Dalrymple, Cselle, Bishop, Jeffreys and Conrad were named by President Heil as a committee to make a survey for a desirable site located somewhere near the hill section.

The teachers' committee was authorized to appoint a substitute teacher to care for the overflow in the primary.

Bids for the baseball equipment of the High School were received from Dalton Brothers and Brown Brothers. Brown was awarded the contract on his low figure of $640.80.

The following standing committees were appointed by Mr. Heil; Finance; Commissioners Dalrymple, Conrad and Brown; Teachers, Heil, Coughlin and Dalrymple; Printing and Stationery; Dalrymple, Conrad and Jeffreys; Text Books and Supplies; Jeffreys, Conrad and Cselle; Course of Study, Brown, Cselle and Schwartz; Janitors and Grounds; Cselle, Conrad and Dalrymple; Transportation, Brown, Schwartz and Bishop; Commencement, Brown, Schwartz and Bishop; Law, Bishop, Brown and Schwartz; Athletic Dalrymple, Coughlin and Conrad.

John Brandon was appointed caretaker at the High School grounds and playgrounds at a salary of $150 a month.

Commissioner Dalrymple suggested that the purchase of supplies for the schools be made in bulk, instead of small orders from time to time. This will mean great saving for the board. President Heil again mentioned the fact that no bills will be ok'd unless the name of the commissioner who orders the item is mentioned on the bill.

N. J. FIRE CHIEFS ELECT OFFICERS

Wm. Colgan Elected President. Other Members Appointed On Committee.

A group of Carteret members of the New Jersey Volunteer Fire Chiefs' Association were elected to the officers' staff of that Association at their meeting held at the Exempt home in Rahway last Sunday.

William Colgan of Pershing avenue, last years vice-president was elected president.

The other officers follow, vice-president, B. F. Ellison, Sr., of Avenel; recording and financial secretary, Anton J. Zires, of Rahway; treasurer, former Sheriff Harry Simmons, of this city; steward, Edmond David, trustees, George W. Crowell, Fred M. Miller, of Rahway, Edward N. Sattler, Ferdinand Kath, of Rahway; William Duff, William Rapp, of this town; Harry Louther, of Elizabeth; Alfred Heckel, Mountainside; Louis E. Scherer, Roselle Park; B. F. Ellison, Sr., Avenel.

It was voted to parade with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in connection with the State Convention on June 23. The committee to make arrangements includes Fred M. Miller, Edward N. Sattler, Thomas Fitzpatrick, the latter of Port Reading; B. F. Ellison, Sr., William Rapp, Valentine Gleckner, Elsworth C. Miller, Charles T. Post, Edmond David, A. J. Zirwes.

William Allgaer, of Woodbridge, and Frank Feirer, of Roselle Park, were received into membership, President Charles Schaefer, of Rahway, was in charge of the meeting. There was a social time and refreshments following the business. The Rahway firemen serving as hosts. The affair was held at the Exempt's Home, 106 Main street, Rahway.

PROTESTS MADE AGAINST TANKS

Borough Officials Will Not Grant a Permit for Erection of Tanks. Denial Follows Inspection.

Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill and members of the Council, Frank Andres, Walter Vonah, H. Ellis Edward Coughlin, William D'Zurilla and John Yuronka, inspected the site, on which the Sylvester Oil Company asked permission to erect eight oil tanks.

The request was made at the last council meeting and as the exact site was not designated, it was decided to make an inspection of the location, which proved to be the property owned by the I. T. Williams Company opposite Columbus School. A representative of the Oil Company pointed out the site to the Mayor and Council.

Mayor Mulvihill declared that he felt that the council as a body shared his opinion that tanks in that neighborhood would be an eyesore and under no conditions would the officials of the borough grant a permit for the erection of the tanks.

FIREMEN PLAN FOR BIG EUCHRE EVENT

Plans for the Euchre, to be held at the Slovak Sokol Hall on Wednesday evening, April 18, are rapidly being brought to a close, by the Committee of Fire Company No. 1.

According to a statement of the committee chairman, Mr. George Chamma, the affair will be long remembered and the pent up energy of the firemen, due to their long absence from the entertainment field, will assert itself on this occasion.

A car driven by Helen Richie, of Roosevelt avenue, was slightly damaged Sunday, when it was driven into a pole on Roosevelt avenue to avoid striking a child. The bumper on the vehicle was broken.

Dominic Dopete, 33 of 47 Pershing avenue, and Berasco Buslota, 42 of 37 Salem avenue, two Mexicans, were arrested Sunday night for fighting on Pershing avenue. They were held in $20 bail for a hearing.

LARSON SCORES IN CAPE MAY COUNTY

Assured Support of County. Increases Chances of Nomination Greatly. Club to Meet.

With the addition of Cape May County support in the Republican Race for the gubernatorial nomination, Senator Morgan F. Larson has picked up considerable strength. Meetings throughout the state and particularly in Middlesex County, are sure to result in a fine majority for Senator Larson on May 15th.

Middlesex County has the finest chance in many years to elect a home County Republican to the office of Governor. It is hoped and even expected that many Democrats will go to the polls on Primary Day, and try to put into nomination a Middlesex County man.

Senator Larson has done much as a Senator for Middlesex, and it is to be conceded that his activities for the County as Governor would be even greater.

A meeting of the "Larson for Governor Club" will be held in the New Capitol Theatre at South River, on Tuesday, April 17th, at 2 o'clock. State Committeewomen Mrs. Elizabeth D. Oliver, will preside. It is Mrs. Oliver's hope that the Women of the County will attend this meeting.

Larson Club Women Unusually Active

The Larson-for-Governor Club met at Odd Fellows Hall, Tuesday afternoon with a large attendance. A very interesting meeting was held after which cards were played, and cake and tea served.

The prize winners were Mrs. Harry Axon, Mrs. Marie Young, Mrs. G. Bakke, Mrs. Shufflen, Mrs. N. Tempany, Mrs. Peter Lewer, Mrs. C. Drake, Mrs. F. O'Brien, Mrs. P. Gorderst, Mrs. Otto Staubach, Mrs. F. Lauter, Mrs. W. Vonah, Mrs. E. Jamison, Mrs. C. Jamison, Mrs. M. Teats, Mrs. W. Sharkey, Mrs. J. H. Nevill, Mrs. H. Ellis, Mrs. C. Winchell.

CIGAR CO. EMPLOYEES TO HOLD FIRST DANCE

The first Annual Dance to be given by the Employees of the General Cigar Company, Carteret Branch, is to be held at Sharkey and Hall's Auditorium on Saturday evening, April 28. Music is to be furnished by Fred O'Brien's Orchestra, which is very popular here.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

REPUBLICAN CLUB TO MEET

The Carteret Republican Club will hold a meeting at Fire House, No. 1 on Wednesday evening to select candidates.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement is made of the opening of a beauty Parlor in Newark, by Miss Walsh of Carteret, who has been connected with the Parisian Beauty Parlors. The new establishment is located at 1012 Broad street, in the building next to the Mosque Theatre.

Permanent Waving for the whole head is $10, and work is done by experts. Facials, Massages, shampooing, hair dyeing, water waving, finger waving and manicuring are specialized.

HARMONY REVUE PROVES SUCCESS

Work of Cast Heartily Applauded by Largest Audience Audience Ever to Witness Show

A capacity attendance featured the 1928 edition of the Harmony Social Club Revue, presented at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday evening.

The Revue as staged by Edward Walsh and Joseph Harko, with Gordon McLeod, as director of music.

The work of the cast cannot be overlooked as the outbursts of applause following each number were evidence of the appreciation of the audience.

The success of the affair could not have been accomplished without the splendid performance of the following: Joseph Harko, Edward Walsh, John Boos, Jerry Bartok, William D'Zurilla, Michael Pallay, Marshall Harris, Michael Shuttello, Harry Heim, Joseph Makoski, George Koester, Herbert Sullivan, Walter Neimic, Thomas D'Zurilla, Dick Heim, A. ## New Headquarters Building

G. W. McRae, vice president and General Manager of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, shown in the act of sending home the last rivet in the steel frame of the new headquarters building of the company in Newark. He is being assisted by P. Bruyer, champion riveter and foreman on the building, whose record of 3,207 rivets driven in a nine-hour day made during the war has not been equaled.

The building will house 2,500 of the 13,000 employees of the company. Although one of the largest structures in the State it will require an addition within a few years, according to Mr. McRae, to provide office room for the growing staff needed to solve telephone problems growing out of anticipated rapid development of the state.

The other picture shows the building as it will look when completed toward the end of this year. The steelwork alone took 155 carloads of columns and beams, fastened with 66,000 rivets. There will be needed 2,175,000 common and 809,000 face brick to cover it.

INITIAL STEP IN BETTER SERVICE

Tentative specifications for a rapid transit railway line proposed between Newark, Paterson and Hackensack an initial step in the development of rapid transit throughout northern New Jersey, were announced today by the North Jersey Transit Commission. They will be used in detailing costs, construction types, and rights-of-way in preparation for presenting definite recommendations for financing and construction to the State Legislature at its 1929 session.

According to the announcement the plan involves a total of approximately 22.6 miles of construction in connecting the three terminal cities. Of this 14.3 miles will lie between the temporary terminals in Newark and Paterson, and the remaining 8.3 miles in a branch from Nutley to Hackensack. Approximately 2.3 miles will be in subway, seven miles on elevated, and 13.3 miles on grade and fill with all grade crossings eliminated.

With a view to economy the specifications call for stations designed suitably for their locations with platforms sufficient length to accommodate five-car trains with provisions for extension at a later date. Shelter sheds and canopies will not extend the full length of the platform in all cases. Proper safety guards such as fences and railings will be provided.

The routes advocated for initial building in a program for North Jersey Rapid transit were announced by the Commission several weeks ago. That from Paterson is connected with Newark by way of Passaic, and the Hackensack branch by way of Rutherford. They will be in the form of a great "Y" with the bifurcation at Nutley.

Trenton—Trenton Pottery Company to construct three-story brick addition costing $31,570 on North Clinton Avenue.

MANY TROUT IN JERSEY STREAMS

Big fighting fish, that will match in size and numbers the best that any trout streams, mile for mile, in any other part of the United States can offer, are promised New Jersey anglers this Spring, by state wardens, who are daily rushing the restocking program of the Fish and Game Commission. The trout fishing season opens April 15 and by that date, wardens expect to have prepared a new triumph of thrills for modern followers of Isaac Walton.

From Hackettstown, where Superintendent Charles O. Hayford is in charge of the world's most successful piscatorial factory, big fish trucks daily are conveying tens of thousands of trout to the streams. New Jersey rears real fish for its sportsmen and these trout, six to fifteen inches in length, are big enough to catch as soon as they reach their habitat. Brook trout, rainbow trout, brown trout and Lock Leven trout are all represented in the output of the big hatchery. Hayford decides, from a survey he has made of New Jersey waters, which species is best suited for each stream.

The romance of the restoration of trout to New Jersey waters has caught the fancy of sportsmen of the nation. While it is almost entirely of artificial creation, the sport that such streams as the Pequest and the Musconetcong now offer New Jersey Anglers is nowhere surpassed, the experienced of the fishing clan declare.

Not satisfied with breaking records for its own hatchery production of fish for this year's sport, the Fish and Game Commission has purchased thousands of large trout from commercial hatcheries. These, also will go into New Jersey streams via the caravans of fish trucks. The restocking will continue throughout the Spring. There will be no such a disappointment as a fished-out stream to confront Jersey trout anglers this season. The wardens with the fish trucks and Superintendent Hayford, with that enormous supply of speckled beauties at the Hackettstown hatchery, say they are ready to slip new fish into the stream faster than any army of anglers can take them out.

The New Jersey fish law limits the to fifteen trout. The season prom-daily catch of the individual angler ises another broken record in the number who will take the bag limit. The trout season continues through April and the months of May, June and July.

Won Over Detractors

Originally the term "Gothic architecture" was applied in contempt by adherents of the classical school, which accepted the Romanesque style. They considered the pointed arch barbarous and grotesque, therefore, Gothic. It soon made a place for itself and was widely employed throughout Europe in the construction of cathedrals, churches and abbeys.

PHEASANT EGGS FREE TO FARMERS

Ringneck pheasant eggs for hatching, will be supplied free to New Jersey farmers by the State Fish and Game Commission this year, as long as the surplus supply of these eggs is available from the game farm at Forked River and Rockport. Application for these eggs the commission announces, should be made at once to county wardens.

Thousands of pheasants are reared each summer at the game farm and this year Superintendent Duncan Dunn, at Rockport and Superintendent Malcolm Dunn, at Forked River, are aiming to produce the biggest flocks these establishments ever have turned out for restocking purposes. The native stock of birds was crossed last year with flocks imported from the British Isles and pheasants of fine size and vigor have been the result.

The breeding flocks at the game farms produce quantities of eggs beyond the hatching capacity of the establishments. A few years ago the State Fish and Game Commission inaugurated the practice of sending out settings of these surplus pheasant eggs to farmers interested in increasing the game supply in their respective communities. This plan has been increasingly successful and thousands of pheasants reared on home farms now supplement the supply released directly by the State wardens.

Hope and Expectancy

in Railroader's Plea

On a switch engine belonging to the Northern Pacific is pasted the following:

"Now that I have flagged Thee, lift up my feet from the rough road of life and plant them safely on the train of salvation. Let me use the safety lamp of prudence, make all couplings with the links of love and let my hand lantern be the Bible, and keep all switches closed that lead off the main line into sidings with blind ends. Have every semaphore block along the line show the white light of hope, that I may make the run of life without stopping. Help me to use the Ten Commandments as a working card, and when I have finished the run on scheduled time and pulled into the terminal, may Thou, Superintendent of the Universe, say: 'Well done, good and faithful servant; come into the general office and sign the pay roll and receive your check for eternal happiness.'—Exchange.

Twain's Literary Dinner

While traveling in England, Mark Twain was entertained by the editorial staff of the magazine Punch at a dinner which he later spoke of as one of the happiest incidents of his life. It was characteristic of the American humorist that, although many honors were accorded him, among them the presentation of the famous red and gray robe of an Oxford "doctor," he got his greatest delight from the menu card, upon which the various dishes were named for his books.

That night Mark Twain feasted on Innocent Oysters Abroad, Roughing It Soup, Huckleberry Pinn Fish, Joan of Arc Filet of Beef, Jumping Frog Terapin, Punch Brothers Punch, Gilded Duck, Hadleyburg Salad, Life on the Mississippi Ice Cream, Prince and Pauper Cakes, Pudd'nhead Cheese, and White Elephant Coffee.—Kansas City Star.

SAVE WOMAN FROM SHARKS WHEN SHE FALLS OVERBOARD

Members of the Ship's Crew Risk Lives in Dramatic Rescue Work.

New York.—The dramatic rescue of Mrs. Luther B. Rosser of Atlanta, Ga., from shark-infested waters off Hamilton, Bermuda, was described by passengers on the Cunard liner California, back from a West Indies cruise.

Mrs. Rosser was swept overboard from the liner's tender while returning from a shore party. She was in the water half an hour before she was rescued. A motor boat and a life boat that put out to save her were carried away in the storm and beached on a reef 14 miles away.

Passengers raised a purse of $3,700, to be divided among 21 members of the crew who risked their lives in the rescue. Among the contributors was Thomas F. Gates, Philadelphia banker, who gave $1,000, and Mrs. William B. Leeds, the former Princess Xenia, of Greece, who also contributed generously.

Judge and Mrs. Rosser, with 150 other passengers, were returning from a shore trip in the California's tender, Corona. It was dark and a gale blowing. Less than 400 yards from the liner, a heavy wave went over the bow of the Corona and knocked Mrs. Rosser, who was on deck, against a gangway.

The gate gave way and she went into the sea.

Judge Rosser had to be restrained forcibly from jumping after her. R. C. Higgins, a Cunard line official, threw the gate to Mrs. Rosser and another passenger threw a life buoy. Meantime, Higgins was removing his shoes and coat and leaped overboard. Mrs. Rosser, with remarkable presence of mind, was clinging to the improvised raft and floating on her back.

Mrs. Rosser Was Clinging to the Improvised Raft.

Higgins reached her, and after a struggle, worked his way back to the Corona. He was exhausted and just as he and Mrs. Rosser were about to be pulled in, another big wave broke his grip on the Corona's rail. Mrs. Rosser was swept away, but those on board managed to pull him in.

Capt. C. A. McQuinn, of Bay City, Mich., a middle-aged mariner, who commands the Great Lakes steamer John D. Munson, was another passenger. When Mrs. Rosser was swept away the second time he tied a rope around his waist and dived after her from the upper deck of the Corona. Mrs. Rosser was carried away so fast, however, that the rope proved too short and he was unable to reach her.

Meanwhile, Pilot B. Green, of the Corona, and Charles Fox, a seaman, had put off in a small lifeboat and by heroic work managed to get close enough to pull her into it. The tiny craft was almost swamped and had shipped a great deal of water. While Fox rowed, Green borrowed Mrs. Rosser's hat and baled to keep the boat afloat until it could be worked back to the Corona. They made it safely and were pulled aboard.

The sea was too rough for the Corona to land its passengers on the liner, and she put back to Hamilton for the night. Nineteen men of the California, who manned the two lost boats, will be given gold watches out of the funds raised by the passengers. The remainder will be given to Green and Fox.

Yegg Steals Safe

Salt Lake City.—While a score of bystanders stared at him through a front window, a burglar pried loose a small safe from its concrete base, hoisted it to his shoulder and walked out of the door. Only when the store manager arrived was any effort made to capture the thief. He escaped, but abandoned the safe.

Give Lives to Save Lad Unable to Swim

Sand Point, Idaho.—When their boat upset on Lake Pend Oreille, near here, Wilmer Altman and George Kjellen, high school boys, gave their lives to save that of a companion who was unable to swim.

Altman and Kjellen were so exhausted by their efforts to right the boat and get the third boy, Howard Crabtree, into it, that they were unable to clamber aboard. The boat drifted to shore several hours later, and Crabtree, nearly frozen, was taken to a hospital and revived.

BEGGAR IN DAYTIME, BUTTERFLY BY NIGHT

Accident Reveals Mendicant's Dual Life.

Florence, Italy.—An automobile accident has been the means of disclosing an extraordinary case of double life, led by a woman. For some time a woman beggar had been a familiar and most pitiable object, in the streets of Florence. She was clad in rags. Over one presumably blind eye was a much-soiled bandage. One foot dragged, as if crippled or paralyzed. And in broken, whining accents, she solicited alms, which were freely bestowed upon her.

Then one day she was knocked down by an automobile and slightly hurt, so as to be taken to a hospital. There it was found that her bandaged eye was perfectly sound, and that both feet were not only sound, but particularly well formed. In brief, there was physically nothing the matter with her. Thereupon, investigation was made, and it was found that after begging all day, at nightfall she exchanged her rags for costly attire, and spent the evenings at fashionable restaurants, balls and other entertainments, leading a veritable butterfly existence on the thousands of dollars that had been bestowed as alms upon the supposed beggar woman.

Maybe This Is Why Sheep Follow Leader

Bromsgrove, England.—Green sheep in the pastures of W. E. Dodd have been attracting much attention. Automobileists and others who had fleeting glimpses of the animals assumed that they had been treated with some new colored sheep dip.

Investigation, however, revealed that the green was natural grass in a flourishing condition.

For months the sheep at Dodd's Copton Hill farm have been running in an old hayfield in which there were several stacks of last season's hay.

Investigators reported that the sheep, in feeding around the haystacks, had shaken down large numbers of seeds which took root in their wool. Aided by the rains and the body heat of the sheep, the seeds germinated rapidly and began their natural growth.

The grass had not reached maturity by any means, however, as it was nibbled off each sheep's back by the other sheep as fast as it reached a length where it could be nibbled.

15 Shipwrecked Sailors Battle Sharks Two Hours

New York.—A battle in which 15 shipwrecked sailors in a storm-tossed lifeboat fought off a school of sharks with only their oars and knives as weapons was told by three of the crew of the British freighter Yungvay, which was dashed to pieces recently on a reef off the Bahama Islands. The men, who arrived on the Munson liner Munargo, are Frank Koslow, Frank Monahan and Villins Klavins.

As the row for shore was started a school of sharks appeared in the wake of the boat and a two-hour fight started. Leaping and snapping at the oars the sharks followed the boat to the beach, where for four days the men were cared for by natives. Later the sailors went to Nassau, where three took a boat for New York and their twelve companions returned to Kingston, their home port.

The Yungvay, an 800-ton freighter carried a cargo of gasoline and kerosene from New York.

Must Support 2 Dogs as Well as His Wife

Los Angeles.—Two dogs profit to the extent of $45 a month for their support in a court order awarding alimony to Irene Cummings, film actress, from her husband, Roy Cummings, vaudeville and film player. Cummings appeared in the Superior court on an alimony proceeding brought by Mrs. Cummings in her suit for a divorce. A question involved was the support of two great Danes. Mrs. Cummings declared it cost her $1.40 a day to feed the dogs, valued at $2,000 each. Cummings agreed to pay the dogs' board bill. The wife was granted $230 a month for her own support.

Prefers Cell

Elyria, Ohio.—The city jail has one inmate who is so well satisfied with the treatment received there that he refuses to leave. The man is seventy-six years old and was placed in jail for a minor offense several days ago. His time is up, but every time police swing the door and ask him to go he most emphatically refuses.

Idea Is Old

The Romans celebrated a Feast of Fools with tricks similar to those of April Fool's day.

MASTER CROOK PINS MONEY ON VICTIM

Hint That Gang Law Must Be Observed.

New York.—The sardonic leader of a two-world crime band left his "calling card" pinned over the heart of a too curious member of his mob and now at last the police have a clew to New York's master criminal.

The "calling card" was a roll of $100 bills and they were pinned with a pistol bullet—the same pellet of lead that closed the prying eyes of Bill Doyle, alias Doll, ex-convict and safe cracker.

Behind him, the man who is believed to be an associate of the late Gerald Chapman and Dutch Anderson, left evidence of one of the most highly organized bands of international criminals that police have ever been confronted with.

Walk Leisurely Away.

Recently there was a shot in the ground floor of a luxurious uptown apartment house just after dark and a moment later a tenant entered in time to catch a glimpse of an expensively dressed man and woman step over a body lying in the doorway and leisurely stroll out the entrance and step into a taxicab.

The name on the doorplate of the apartment was Berkowitz, but the well-dressed couple had been known to the other tenants as Mr. and Mrs. "Ike" Behrman. When the police arrived a little later they found the apartment was empty save for a tiny white dog cowering in a corner, while an electric piano was still clamorously playing "Blue Heaven." The occupants had left behind expensive wardrobes. Several fur coats and a half dozen beautiful afternoon and evening gowns were hanging in the woman's closet, while carefully tailored suits for all occasions were in the man's compartment. The apartment was elaborately furnished with costly period furniture.

But what interested the detectives most when they arrived was the fact that at last they had been called to the headquarters of a long-sought international gang.

More than 300 telegrams and cablegrams from known criminals in Europe and this country and letters from Sing Sing were found. There were coded messages and cable messages which indicated the occupants had been involved in diamond smuggling and safe robbing in London, Paris, Berlin and the greater cities of the United States. There were cheap cotton gloves such as safe blowers wear, half a dozen hats and caps with labels torn out, drills and empty revolver holsters.

In addition there were automobile licenses for two cars—although the Behrmans were never seen to use anything except taxicabs. There was a book for a bank in Muncie, Ind., where Chapman and Anderson once had their headquarters.

Reconstruct Crime.

Detectives, after several days of study, have reconstructed events leading up to the crime and believe that it was carried out along the following lines:

Will Doyle, the man who got a bullet through his heart, was one of a hundred or more of the master criminal's contact men. His job was to spot safes to be robbed, houses to be looted and to establish connections with fences who would dispose of the spoils or sell the gems which the leader's European agents smuggled into this country.

It is believed several of the gang took part in the daylight robbery of a nearby theater the day before Doyle was shot to death. The spotter is believed to have made a mistake and the band looted the wrong theater, getting away with only a few thousand dollars where they had planned to make a big haul.

When Doyle got his share, which amounted to only $100, he complained to the payoff man, insisting that he should have more, and accusing the leaders of "playing crooked." There was an angry exchange of words and Doyle threatened to get even.

That evening, Doyle, still angry over the meager profits that came to him as his share, broke the most stringent law of the gang and walked boldly into the home of the master criminal. In his chief's face he demanded more money and threatened to "squeal" if it were not forthcoming at once.

The leader settled the debt as it usually is settled in gangland. And before leaving he pinned the payoff money to the victim's body as a warning to his other followers.

Detectives are confident that the many addresses and messages found in the apartment will lead to arrests in the capitals of Europe as well as in several cities in the United States. While they are following leads, the main hunt is centering on the capture of Behrman.

10 Important Advantages

- 1 It is the product of a firm that has specialized in electric washers for domestic use for more than twenty years.
- 2 The washer has a fewer parts than any washing machine on the market.
- 3 It is of large capacity, yet occupies space only 24 inches square.
- 4 Washes thoroughly and quickly.
- 5 The tub is round, no corners to clean—the most sanitary type of washer.
- 6 The tub is enamelled and cannot rust or corrode.
- 7 Direct gear drive—no belt to slip or break.
- 8 Soft rubber wringer rollers that will not break buttons nor tear them off.
- 9 Operated by a General Electric motor.
- 10 Reduces washing time.

Lowest-Priced Quality Washer

WHEN the new Thor Agitator does all the work, washday is shortened to an hour or two. Clothes are washed quickly and well, and they are washed cleaner. Even the pieces most difficult to get clean come out of the tub white. No soaking is required.

The Thor Agitator combines time-saving and health-preserving features, which will appeal to all home-makers. And its reasonable price will interest them.

Let us show you the new type of Thor. Let us show you how quickly and efficiently it works. Just telephone and we will demonstrate it in your own home.

The price of the new Thor is only $105 cash. On terms $110 or $5 down and eighteen months to pay.

MAKE AND SAVE

Communities possess character—the same as individuals. It is a gratifying thing to realize that Carteret possesses the characteristic of thrift to a remarkable degree.

With the building and loan associations and the banks of this borough continuously spreading the gospel of "make and save," and giving a service that is thrift educational in its functions it can be readily seen that a responsive public has been created. The man who saves a certain portion of his earnings every month is not only a wise, forehanded man preparing for ease and comfort and security in his old age, but he is also a better citizen. No matter what his motive is in adding to his bank or savings account month after month, he is a real builder of the community. He is adding to the store of liquid wealth of the community, enabling the constructive forces that are at work to have the wealth to work with. If a business man wants to build a new block—a citizen wants to build a home—a corporation an office building—he has helped to place the funds where these plans can be materialized.

The educational value of these "make and save" institutions is of incalculable good to the community. For too long, in this country the gospel of "nothing risk" nothing have," has been exploited. It is the text of the gambler and of the confidence man. It has been the means of wasting immense volumes of wealth all through this part of New Jersey.

Persistent saving of money and the conservative investment of savings is what pays.

WHAT NEWSPAPER ADS. DID

It was only a few years ago that the retail stores in towns and the smaller cities did the bulk of their week's business, on Saturday. While the other five business days might have paid expenses the merchant depended upon the Saturday sales for the major portion of his week's profits. Needless to say the average merchant would have been exempt from excess profit taxes in those days.

The newspaper is given credit for discovering the possibility of scattering the Saturday peak load over the six business days of the week and it was newspaper advertising which has achieved the present more equitable distribution of the week's business. Saturday is still the merchant's busy day, but now he is only a little less busy on the preceding days.

This is only one of the many services performed or business by newspaper advertising. It is irrefutable that a great part of the increase in business experienced by the retail stores generally in recent years has been created by newspaper advertising. Newspaper advertising has been the "Aladdin's Lamp" of the retail merchant. There are still isolated towns where one may see for himself what "might have been" the nation over if newspaper advertising had never been.

A TRIP TO THE COUNTRY

A paunt into the country at this season will do any one good. What is more restful to the eye-weary city dwellers than to gaze out upon the rural scenes around this picturesque part of New Jersey.

The leaves are covering the trees with their pretty foliage. The ground is fairly teeming with life. Everywhere one turns a scene that is good for the soul meets one's gaze: everywhere one turns a scene is pictured that is good for "sore eyes"—the eyes that are tired and are seeking rest and need just such a change.

Try a trip to the country in the Springtime!

It is very easy to rise in your own estimation.

A good name, like great riches, is often faked.

Sympathy seekers deserve much more than they get.

A heathen is a man who doesn't know enough about religion to understand the fights.

Rapid Increase in Knowledge Stimulant to Adventurous Thinking in Youth

By DR. JOHN GRIER HIBBEN, President Princeton University.

The rapid increase in the scope of our knowledge today tends to provoke in youth a spirit of adventurous exploration of every phase of life. Fathers need not be unduly alarmed if their sons hold views not in conformity with their own.

When colleges are doing their utmost to arouse students to independent thought on all the subjects of their studies it is impossible to confine their thinking to any watertight compartments.

The essential objective of a college education is the development in the individual student of his potential capacity, evidenced by a growing intellectual vigor and integrity of character. It has a value to the individual himself in creating inner sources of satisfaction in his own life and a value also to the community in which he lives.

The pursuit of an intellectual interest is always a moral safeguard without which the temptations of our college life cannot be withstood. We are not fully aware of the fact that in the things of the mind we are moving forward with a rapidity which surpasses even the material progress of this rapid age.

The fact that our students live in this age of exciting and stimulating discoveries in every field of study brings to them a challenge which they are meeting with a renewed interest and in many quarters with enthusiasm.

Religion Must Take on Color for Purpose of Leadership and Inspiration

By REV. S. M. SHOEMAKER, New York.

It is quite clear that a great section of youth does not know what it wants, and therefore the first need is for leadership and inspiration. Much of youth does not believe in the intellectual integrity of many of us in the ministry; they believe science has pushed religion to the very edge of the world, and may shove it over the rim entirely. They think we are the transmitters of an inherited system of ideas which are all mixed up with the institution of the church and keeping conservative laymen pacified and holding our jobs down.

The lure of the liberty and the sin of the world is a deep red. The religion of the churches is a pale pink. Youth wants color. Either youth will take what the world has to give, or the religion of the churches will have to find a deeper hue.

MORE OR LESS TRUE

Not every painted face is a work of art—not by several million miles.

Even the man with an inferiority complex finds it hard to look up to people who look down on him.

Probably the greatest objection children find to loving their parents too devotedly is that it is apt to cramp their style.

An observing man is one who can tell his wife not only what another woman didn't have on but also what she did.

It's a safe bet that in the homes where they still get homemade bread mother braids her hair at night and they ride in a divver, if at all.

Maybe there are not as many boys spoiled by indulgent parents as there are by neglectful ones, but they surely are a heap more badly spoiled.

The meanest man is the husband who is too disingenuous to live with and won't earn enough money to make it worth while suing him for alimony.

Knees probably haven't any false pride and they'd doubtless be willing to be kept warm in anything even as hideous as galoshes now used to protect the feet and ankles.

Often when a woman is listening to other women praising her husband her face says, if her lips don't, ignorance is bliss and you are lucky not to be wise.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

AROUND THE CITY

If you would travel the road to glory, keep out of the ruts.

You never can tell. Many a man's trousers bag at the knees who never says his prayers.

A fool and his money are soon parted, but a fool and his folly are more closely welded.

Some people who extend the glad hand keep the other one doubled up in case of emergency.

If thine enemy smite thee on one cheek does it suggest that one good turn deserves another?

The Bible tells us the earth was created for man, and the average fellow thinks he is the man.

Most of the discord in this vale of tears is coming from the people who are singing their own praise.

Adam may have been more or less glib, but at any rate he didn't believe in hereditary influences.

Kindness is sometimes wasted. The only way you can make some people listen to reason is with a club.

GATHERED GEMS

Action is eloquence; the eyes of the ignorant are more learned than their ears.—Shakespeare.

Title and ancestry render a good man more illustrious, but an ill one contemptible.—Addison.

Philosophy does not regard pedigree. She did not receive Plato as a noble, but made him so.—Seneca.

An ideal may seem unattainable but when it is distinctly acknowledged as the object of aspiration, it will be found close at hand.

There are worse things than superstition. To see gods everywhere is better than to see God nowhere.—Dr. Alexander McKenzie.

It is a shame for a man to desire honor only because of his noble progenitors, and not to deserve it by his own virtue.—Chrysostom.

Let patience bring forth her celestial fruits. Trust to God to weave your little thread into a web, though the pattern show it not.—George McDonald.

BUNK DEFINED

What is bunk? Let the Forum's definition competitors answer:

Bunk is mental junk.

The three-ring circus stuff of intellectual barnums.

Bunk—a mighty poor apology for a bet, or an equally bad substitute for a fact.

The limbo to which the average man consigns everything he doesn't understand.

Finally this from a feminine hand: Bunk is what is left of the world's wisdom and experience after youth has picked out the things it considers essential.

Folly has more followers than discretion.

Has Undergone Change

The name "Good Friday" is probably a contraction of God's Friday.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY

None are so blind as those who are visionary.

The next best thing to loving your enemies is not to have any.

Any fellow can be a peacemaker, but it is quite another matter to keep the peace.

The great trouble with our good resolutions is that so many of them are laid on the table.

The fellow who is thrown on his own resources should land on his feet rather than on other people's.

You never can tell. Many a man goes through life seeking the truth who couldn't tell it to save his life.

Strange as it may seem, at one time the entire floating population of the world was confined to the ark.

The Cynical Bachelor observes that all the horrible examples in the world don't seem to prevent people from getting married.

"Charity begins at home," quoted the Wise Guy. "Which makes it all the easier for a man to practice on himself," replied the Simple Mug.

Muggins—"I don't like that fellow Goodleigh. He seems to make a cloak of his religion." Buggins—"Well, I don't see that he is so warm at that."

SAYS THE OWL

It wasn't for hundreds of years that a kind of restaurant was invented where a man need not lose his hat. This was achieved by permitting him to keep it on.

THE VERY BEST MEN—

Differ only from the worst in their attitudes.

Know that they could be as evil as the worst.

Have some weaknesses they are ashamed of.

Must make a constant fight to keep at their best.

Are usually the most charitable to the weakest.

Can usually learn something from any of the rest.

Never succeeded through an accident.

PENCIL POINTS

Some men are so mean that they even refuse to let their wives have the last word.

It is sometimes difficult to convince the head of the house that two heads are better than one.

A rabbit foot may not be lucky, but four of them are a great help to the rabbit when a dog gets after him.

Nothing pleases a man with a well-developed sense of humor so much as setting two chronic bores to boring each other.

There Is a Difference

Though I am always in haste, I am never in a hurry.—John Wesley.

Motion and Rest

Motion or change and identity or rest are the first and second secrets of nature: Motion and rest. The whole code of her laws may be written on the thumbnail, or the signet of a ring. The whirling bubble on the surface of a brook admits us to the secret of the mechanics of the sky. Every shell on the beach is a key to it. A little water made to rotate in a cup explains the formation of the simpler shells; the addition of matter from year to year arrives at last at the most complex forms; and yet so poor is nature with all her craft, that from the beginning to the end of the universe she has but one stuff, but one stuff with its two ends, to serve up all her dreamlike variety. Compound it how she will, star, sand, fire, water, tree, man, it is still one stuff, and betrays the same properties.—Emerson.

Mo's Calculations Wrong

For many centuries the exact date of the birth of Christ was based on the calculations of Dionysius, a learned monk of Rome, of the Sixth century. Subsequent investigations, however, demonstrated that Dionysius' date is at least four years too late. The discrepancy was discovered by a comparison of the historical records of Rome with the Scripture records of the birth of Christ. According to Scripture, Christ was born at the time of a census or enumeration made in the territory of Herod, in accordance with the decree of Augustus, when Quirinius (in the Bible, Cyrenius) was exercising authority in the Roman province of Syria. This was four years earlier than the date of Dionysius.

Your Oldest Friend

Hold fast to home influences and remembrances; and recollect he who tries to shame you out of a father's and a mother's fear, and out of obedience to them, tries to steal the most precious treasure you have. He that is trying to destroy the influence of your parents upon you is trying to take away from you the most faithful love you ever knew. You shall lie down in the grave when you have traversed forty or eighty years of life, without having found another friend who has borne as much for you, or done as much for you, as your father or your mother.—Emerson.

Lucky Find

A short time ago a man purchased an old bureau merely because it closely resembled one that was in his old home when he was a boy. When his purchase arrived home, the likeness struck him as more remarkable than ever, and he wondered whether it could really be the same. Suddenly he recalled that the original bureau had a very artfully planned secret drawer. He sought for this and found it. Lying there was a couple of documents in the writing of his father, one of which contained a five-pound note.—London Mail.

No "Growth" of Stone

In one sense of the word, a stone or a mountain may be said to grow when it increases in size or augments through any process of accumulation. As a rule, however, the word "grow" is limited to animals, plants and their organs which increase in size by a natural and organic process.

Many Claimants for This Famous Castle

Famous Chateau de Chambord, over the disposition of which a legal battle is now going on in a French court for final decision. Besides 21 claimants for the possession of this most magnificent chateau in France, there has appeared on the scene an unexpected claimant, a blind man claiming to be a grandson of the Dauphin. The estimated value of the chateau, which was built by King Francis I, is $90,000 francs.

NAVY AVIATOR GETS REVENGE ON ARMY

Outstunts Record Holder in Other Branch.

Washington.—Lieut. Alford J. Williams, navy aviator and speed record holder, has gained revenge for his branch of the service over its friendly enemy, the army.

Back in 1925, Lieut. James H. Doolittle of the army affixed pontoons to his land plane, entered the Schneider international seaplane race and flew away with first place in the record time of 232 miles an hour. Then, on May 25, 1927, he performed the unprecedented feat of turning an "outside" loop, and chalked up another mark for the army.

The honors are even now. Lieutenant Williams has not only duplicated Doolittle's feat, but created a stunt new to aerial acrobatics—an outside loop from an upside-down position. In addition to shattering an army record he used an army type land plane.

How He Did It.
At a height of 3,000 feet, the navy pilot's plane described a horizontal figure eight, 600 feet high, the first loop made on the Doolittle pattern, and the second starting after a half roll, while flying upside down.

In a normal loop the aviator puts the nose of the machine down slightly to obtain maximum speed, then, pulling back on the control stick, rises slowly at first and then more rapidly as the top of the loop is made. Just after the top is reached, he shuts off his motor and lets the machine fall through the last half of the loop, which looks like the letter "E" in script.

The "outside" loop begins and is completed with the aviator's head on the outside instead of on the inside, as in the conventional loop. The new maneuver begins and ends with the pilot flying upside down.

In a normal loop the pilot feels he is glued to his seat. In the "outside" a force seems to pull him out of the cockpit.

"Everything seemed to rush to my head," Lieutenant Williams said, "and for a moment I was blinded."

Crisis Comes at Half Circle.
The crises of both loops were reached when they were half through he added, and there was a strong temptation to believe they had been completed. He admitted his flying senses deceived him, and he concluded he was through with the circle when in reality he had gone but halfway around.

Fliers estimate that the centrifugal force exerts a pressure of eight to one, making it necessary for the seat of the plane to be able to support a weight of 1,200 pounds. The difficulty experienced by the pilot in maintaining his own position with reference to the controls, with the blood rushing to the pilots at the naval air station at Anacosta, who witnessed Williams' fight amid gasps of amazement.

French Hoard of Gold in Secret Flooded Moat

Paris.—A fortress with a moat guards the gold of the Bank of France. Deep in the cellars of the last-built branch of the bank, in an old aristocratic palace, there is always an armed sentinel with orders to let no one but the chief director enter. The entrance to the strong room is a metal safe door seven feet thick. Inside, the gold is stored in other, supposedly burglar-proof, boxes. The moat, 65 feet deep, has a swift 10-foot flow of water in it, diverted from an underground river.

Should some master cracksmen reach the big steel door, he would be in a smooth steel corridor, the floor of which would disappear from under him once he began operations. Below him would be the swift stream and all about him polished steel surfaces offering no grip. What devices there are to cause the floor to vanish are secret. Officials are so certain of the safety of their treasure that they are willing that burglars should know where France keeps her billions.

Smokes Way to Degree
St. Louis.—One student at Washington university here is helping to pay for his education by breaking in new pipes. He charges a nominal fee for aging the briars, and reports a lucrative business.

Many Peculiar Types of Medical "Healers"
In primitive times medicine and mysticism were closely connected. Out of priestcraft came the first physicians. The calling of physician was handed down from father to son and many superstitions arose, such as the peculiar powers ascribed to the seventh son of a seventh son.

The old idea persists in many places. Dr. Dan McKenzie, who has traced the evolution of the medicine man from the witch doctor and the priest physician, lists thirteen types of folk doctors in tribes of southern Europe, including the peasant doctor who depends for his diagnosis on the inspection of excreted fluids; women doctors who learned their art by heredity, midwives, bone setters, surgeons, tooth pullers, blacksmiths, skippers or flayers and praying men.

Of all the nations of the world, the United States has the most variegated and complete assortment of peculiar practitioners of medicine, comments Hygeia Magazine. They cure by every possible medium. Thirty-seven varieties of religious healers alone have been listed. In the midst of this bizarre assortment scientific medicine pursues its way, taking from any source that may develop an established fact.

Great Soldier's Bed Speeding Motor Car

One black day in April, 1918, when the British army was fighting for its life, I came upon a strange spectacle in the retreating flood of war wreckage that filled the roads leading westward from our crumbling front.

It was a shining limousine, all plate glass and upholstery, with a solitary occupant behind the smart soldier driver, a general officer of the type commonly known as a "Brass Hat." He was muffled in an overcoat, and he half sat, half reclined on the cushions, his head tilted against the padded back, altogether an incongruous picture of ease and contentment. The tired and hungry soldiers on the road looked at him with amazement, for he was asleep.

Few of them noticed the union jack on the top of the car, or realized that the only man who slept in all that tragic multitude was the "C. in C."—Sir Douglas Haig as he was then, or that he slept from sheer exhaustion because he had not slept since the German advance began. As he drove constantly from one headquarters to another behind the stricken line, he would snatch a few uneasy moments of slumber. It was his only chance.

This is my most vivid recollection of Lord Haig. During those critical days when, as he himself said, our men were fighting with their backs to the wall, he was constantly among them, and in places where no commander-in-chief need have been. He was a silent man, and shy, and by no means given to spectacular gestures of approval.—Sir Percival Phillips in the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

Her "Beanstalk" Legs Made Hit of Evening

Emma Calve of Carmen fame in the early days of her operatic career, was very slender. Her "beanstalk" legs—as she calls them in her memoirs "My Life"—gave her grave concern. To overcome that defect, on the first night of "Noce de Figaro" at Brussels, she hit upon the brilliant plan of swelling her calves by padding them.

"The old gentlemen in the front rows trained their glasses on these superb affairs," recalls Calve. "I was conscious of their attention and proud of my success until I left the stage at the end of my first scene."

In the wings she found the infuriated director.

"Don't you know that every one is laughing at you?" he shouted. "Take those hideous lumps off instantly."

And for the second act poor Calve had to make her entrance with her "beanstalk legs all unadorned."

"I tried to cover them with my cloak, but it was impossible. My mortification was intense. The audience saw the change instantly, and was highly amused. I was applauded and cheered uproariously."

Concerning Patents

The term "basic patent" is used ordinarily with much the same significance as pioneer patent—that is to say, as having reference to a patent covering an invention which represents a marked advance in some art, as when an inventor for the first time accomplishes a certain result. There have been a good many basic patents granted, from first to last, but no precise enumeration is possible, inasmuch as opinions vary, more or less as to which patents are entitled to be so classed. We note Bell's patent on the telephone and Howe's patent for the sewing machine employing an eye-pointed needle. There are basic patents now in force for inventions relating to wireless, radio, etc., and other subjects.

Held "Dead" Language Had Peculiar Charm

Children of the Hittite race went to school in Asia Minor about 1000 B. C. had to learn dead languages. Just as the modern schoolboy learns Latin. Baker clay tablets found in the capital city of the ancient Hittite empire have been deciphered by scholars who say that eight languages are represented on them, written in the neat, wedge-shaped characters known as cuneiform writing.

The Sumerian language was then long dead, but the Hittites learned it and taught it to their children because they believed that charms sung in the old language were peculiarly effective. In some of the tablets the Sumerian text is followed by columns containing the same text translated into official Hittite language and into Babylonian and also a column pronouncing the Sumerian words. Babylonian was apparently the language of diplomacy among the Hittites.

Several thousand tablets were discovered in a palace and a temple used as a record office by German archaeologists some years ago, but early attempts at reading them were hampered because the different languages were not sorted out. Writers of long records on the baked tablets were careful to indicate the sequence from one tablet to the next, and usually at the end of the document the author wrote his name, his profession and place of residence, in modern fashion.—Washington Star.

Mixture of Nicotine and Soap Helps Ferns

Indoor ferns as a rule have few insect or disease enemies, but when they do get into trouble no time should be lost in taking effective remedial steps, a writer in House and Garden asserts. This bit of advice, indeed, applies to all plants, whether growing in the house or outdoors.

Perhaps the commonest fern enemy is scale on the stems or leaves. When the infestation appears the plants ought to be turned upside down (of course, holding the soil and roots so that they cannot fall out of the pots) and dipped in a pail filled with a mixture of one ounce of nicotine solution and one-half ounce of soap dissolved in water. After dipping, the plants should be kept in the shade for 24 hours. A weekly spraying with the same mixture is an advisable supplementary procedure.

In case the scale infestation has made much headway before discovery, it will be well to remove entirely the most affected fronds before administering the prescribed treatment.

Worn to Ribbons

One could tell by the expression of disgust on his countenance that he was not thoroughly enjoying the Saturday afternoon shopping tour with his wife. His arms were loaded with packages and with a weary posture he slumped against a counter while the wife fumbled among some ribbons to find a certain color or shade. After a long time handling the merchandise, she turned and said:

"Well, we will just have to go somewhere else."

"Great smoke!" exclaimed the husband who flushed with impatience, "have you ever in your life found the thing you sought in the first store you entered?"

While the wife tried to explain the importance of finding an exact shade of ribbon, the saleswoman chuckled inwardly and another husband or two passing cheered the sentiment.

Preparation of Adobe

Adobe may be made from any material which becomes hardened on exposure to the sun. The process of baking consists in first exposing the molded bricks to the direct rays of the sun for a day, and then turning them, exposing different faces for from seven to fourteen days. Because of the lack of coherency, adobes can be employed only in regions of limited rainfall.

LOVERS' ESCAPE
AGAIN STIRS TOWN

North Carolina Couple Return to Limelight.

Charlotte, N. C.—Cleveland county's most sensational love affair, which was thought to have ended three years ago when the jail doors clicked behind the two erring lovers, has bobbed up in the limelight again.

Sloan Philbeck, one of the principals in the escapade, has been arrested at Bessemer City on a technical charge of larceny, the charge being preferred by Amery Francis, husband of Mrs. Jessie May Francis, with whom Philbeck, a married man, eloped several years ago, setting the town agog with the most sensational episode in its history.

Just what is behind the arrest of Philbeck, who something like a year ago completed his sentence, is not known. Whether or not the lovers have been together is not a matter of definite information.

It is said at Gastonia, however, that Mrs. Francis, attractive young matron, is missing from her home there. If it should develop that the two have been together or in communication with each other, it is likely that they will be forced to serve suspended sentences of two years each.

In Superior court at Shelby in March, 1925, the couple were brought back from the West and tried. At the conclusion of the hearing Philbeck was sentenced to two years' work on the roads and Mrs. Francis to a jail term. A suspended sentence was also placed over them, which carried the proviso that if they ever spoke to each other again, communicated with each other, or "had anything in the world to do with each other" as long as they lived, the suspended sentence should automatically take effect.

After Philbeck had completed his sentence he worked about at various places. Recently he is said to have been in Gaston county. Mrs. Francis and her husband were reconciled after she had completed her term, and moved to Gaston, where the details of her escapade were not so well known and the matrimonial reunion was moving along smoothly, so far as the public knew.

It is known that the warrant for Philbeck was sworn out by the husband of Mrs. Francis. It is said that the clothing he is accused of stealing was in the possession of Philbeck at the time of his arrest. In the meantime Mrs. Francis had left her home in Gastonia. Her husband declares he does not know where she is. Francis is authority for the statement that friends of his had reported seeing Philbeck at his home during his absence.

Trial a Sensation.

The Francis-Philbeck trial in Shelby attracted one of the largest crowds ever to gather in the section. Mrs. Francis was regarded as an extraordinarily beautiful woman. Her smiling, care-free demeanor in court when her relations with another man were brought out, along with the fact that she had abandoned her husband and two children for two flights with him, added zest to the sensation. She never appeared to be humiliated at the evidence produced. At each hearing she appeared garbed in the latest styles of dress for the benefit of hundreds of spectators who watched her every move. She admitted her love for Philbeck openly. It was not until after the conclusion of her sentence that she agreed to return to her husband.

Man's Survivors Found After 21 Years by Radio

New York.—Science moves in a mysterious way its wonders to perform. "And Fred Jeffs died. His last words were to tell his family. I never found them."

With these words, "Red" Christensen, ancient mariner, who now drives a taxi, finished the gripping tale of how he was shipwrecked off the Galapagos islands, 21 years ago. He was broadcasting the story of an epic struggle, of three months of storm at sea, over WEAF.

And, sitting in her home in Queens Village, L. I., an elderly housewife was listening in. She is Mrs. Henry Claridge, whose brother, Fred Jeffs, was the hero of the tragic tale. She telephoned the broadcasting studio. The mariner drove his taxi from his home to the Claridge home and fulfilled in person the promise he made to Fred Jeffs 21 years ago.

Lake Erie Rapidly Being Depleted of Fish Stock

Cleveland, Ohio.—Lake Erie, once considered among the most heavily stocked fresh-water lakes in the country, is fast being depleted of its fish, causing alarm to fishermen and marine scientists.

Experts from Western Reserve university, University of Michigan, Ohio State university, the Ohio fish and game commission, and the province of Ontario, Canada, convened recently to lay plans for a scientific investigation that may reveal the cause of constantly decreasing fish hauls. Many Lake Erie fishermen, who have strung their nets for a half century with heavy hauls as their prize, have quit the business in recent years.

Physical and chemical variations in the lake waters due to pollution, as well as commercial fishing practices now in use, were studied.

Damasus is the oldest inhabited city in the world, according to an answered question in Liberty.

COUNCIL MINUTES

A regular meeting of the Council of the Borough of Carteret was held in Council Chamber on Monday, April 2, 1928, at eight o'clock p. m.

Present: Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill; Councilmen Andres, Coughlin, D'Zurilla, Ellis, Vonah; absent Yurkonka.

A communication was read from Fire Co. No. 2, accompanied by a report of supplies received. On Motion by Coughlin and D'Zurilla same was turned over to the Fire and Water Committee.

A letter was read from the I. T. Williams & Sons Co., and from the Sylvester Oil Company asking permission to erect eight tanks on the I. T. Williams property. On motion by Andres and Vonah, these were referred to the Council as a whole.

Motion by D'Zurilla and Ellis that the Council meet at two o'clock, p. m. Saturday, April 7th, to look over the situation, was carried.

The Building Inspector's report for the month of March was then read showing estimated cost of buildings, $29,770, permit fees collected $64.00, accompanied by a check in like amount. Motion by Andres and Vonah that the report be filed, and the check turned over to the Collector was carried.

The Police report for the month of March was then read, and on motion by Andres and Ellis ordered filed.

Abstracts from the audit were then read, and on motion by Andres and Ellis turned over to the Finance Committee. The Balance Sheet was ordered in both local papers.

On motion by Andres and Vonah the rules were suspended, to take up the reading of bills, and all bills found correct and properly audited were ordered paid, all voting yea on roll call.

COMMITTEES

Finance—Ellis spoke of the budget, saying that the assistant in the Collector's office should be bonded, and that the taxes for the Mexican Petroleum Company should be investigated, also that fees for tax searches should be collected, also that the Clerk should make reports to the Collector each month.

Streets & Roads—Andres said that East Rahway road was bad, and that we should see the Contractor and tell him to fix same at once. Vonah spoke of the dirt piled on property in front of Slugg's house. Andres spoke of the garbage condition and of the collection of garbage at East Rahway; also that the gas company had not fixed road where they had dug up.

He also spoke of conditions on Roosevelt avenue from Wheeler avenue to Washington avenue. The Clerk was instructed to write the gas company to have this done at once. He spoke of the new truck being in use and that ashes could be obtained from the Carteret Oil Company, and that this would be done at once.

Poolice—Ellis spoke of the census of unemployed taken, and that practically there are 145 men out of work, and that the total census was about 13,815. He also stated they were using the old lock-up for lodgers and spoke of the parking on both sides of Roosevelt avenue interfering with traffic, also of procuring stop street signs.

Fire & Water—Progress. Lights—Progress. Bldgs. & Grounds—Progress. Poor—Progress. Law—Progress.

The following resolutions were presented by Ellis: That the Mayor and Clerk sign Tax Anticipation Note for Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

On motion by Vonah and Coughlin the above resolution was adopted, all voting yea on roll call.

RESOLVED that the contract for the Borough audit for 1928 be awarded to H. Braverman & Co. for $1200.

On motion by Andres and Vonah the above resolution was adopted, all voting yea on roll call.

The following resolution was presented by Andres: That the Mayor and Clerk sign Improvement Bond No. 6 for $9,054, to meet ninth payment due on the East Rahway Sewer.

On motion by Vonah and Ellis the above resolution was adopted, all voting yea on roll call.

Mr. Frank Haury was then heard asking for a donation for celebration for the American Legion. Motion by Ellis and Andres that the sum of $500 be turned over to them for this purpose was carried, all voting yea on roll call.

Mr. Levy then presented a petition for sidewalks for Roosevelt avenue, signed by three property owners, and another petition signed by seventy-six citizens, calling attention to the dangers of people walking on said part of street where there were no sidewalks. On motion by Andres and Vonah this was turned over to the Attorney and Engineer to draw up ordinance for said work.

Mr. Chodosh was then heard on sewer on Railroad avenue. Engineer Mitchell then said it would cost about one thousand dollars. Motion by Coughlin and Ellis, that the Engineer proceed with plans was carried.

Martin Jurick was then heard asking for grade sidewalks and curbs on Whitman street. Engineer Mitchell stated that a grade had never been established, this covering a distance of about 150 feet. The Engineer was instructed to go ahead with the grade. Motion by Andres and Ellis that ordinance be drawn for same was carried.

HARVEY VO. PLATT, Borough Clerk.

TO LAUDISLAUS KISS AND GISI KISS, His Wife.

You are hereby notified that under Certificate No. 63 I have purchased the land and real estate in the Borough of Carteret, County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, fronting on Central avenue and described as Lot Number 147, Block 237 on the tax duplicate of said municipality, for the sum of Fifty Six Dollars and fifty cents ($56.50), for unpaid municipal liens at a sale at public auction held by the Collector of Taxes of said Borough of Carteret at the Borough Hall in the said Borough on the twenty-second day of December 1925, under and by virtue of the provisions of an act of the legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act Concerning Unpaid Taxes, Assessments and Other Municipal Charges on Real Property, and providing for the collection thereof by the creation and enforcement of liens thereon (Revision of 1918), and the acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof. And you are hereby notified that you have or appear to have an estate, lien or interest in or on said lands and real estate, and a right to redeem the same, and that unless said lands or real estate be redeemed within sixty days after the service of this notice, your right of redemption will be barred. Redemption should be made of the Collector of Taxes of said Borough of Carteret.

Dated April 9, 1928.

Comment That Made

No Hit With Dorothy

When I entered the room Dorothy sat curled up in the big chair under the bridge lamp reading.

"Hello," I said.

"Hello," replied Dorothy. I sat down.

"Your hair looks pretty under that light, Dot," I continued. "It brings out the red."

Dorothy looked up from her book. "My hair," she announced, "is not red."

"Oh, come, now," I said genially. "It is not red," reiterated Dorothy, speaking a bit louder than the space ween us warranted.

"Well, if it's not red what color do you call it?" I asked.

"Brown," said Dorothy. I laughed tolerantly and then stopped suddenly, arrested by something alarming in Dorothy's general attitude.

"Listen," said Dorothy, and there was a cool quality in her voice. "You're showing that nasty, contemptible side of your nature again and I think you had better go home. I don't like you when you're like this."—New York Evening Post.

Well, Here It Is!—"Perpetual Motion"

Belgrade.—Claim to have invented a perpetual-motion machine has been put forth in Belgrade by a young Serb, Asim Hajdarovitch.

A Bosnian Mohammedan by religion, he is entirely without education, and confesses a total ignorance of physics.

Having invented his perpetual motion machine, his chief problem now is how to stop the contraption once it has been started, he says.

The machine comprises a number of wheels, so related that when the first wheel is started the others gradually assume a terrific speed so that various devices are necessary to stop them.

Do Husbands Really Trust Their Wives?

HERBERT: (to Betty, his wife) I'm sorry, but you'll have to stop going to Guido Petti's studio. His affairs with women are the talk of the town.

Betty: That's silly. No matter what Guido's relations with other women may be, he is a perfect gentleman—with me. I shall continue my studies with him.

Weeks pass. Guido Petti and Betty are in the studio alone. Guido: (drawing her to him) So beautiful you are. Soon we shall go abroad—just you and I.

Betty: But—my husband— Guido: Bah! What does he know of your desires? So young you are—so lovely— Suddenly he clasps her in his arms—kissing her with a fierce passion she is powerless to resist. Unheard by either, the door opens— someone starts to enter—then retreats, closing the door softly.

Two hours later Herbert bitterly accuses his wife. Betty: Stop, Herbert! You don't know what you are saying. I swear to you—

Herbert: (flinging her aside) I'm through with you. I should have killed you as you lay in your lover's arms. Take what you want and get out.

What happens to Betty after she is driven from home by her husband completes one of the most pathetic dramas ever enacted in real life. Don't miss "First in a Woman's Heart," in May True Story Magazine.

Expect Big Year for Leach

ON HIS showing at the bat and in the field during the 1926 season folks rather expected Fred Leach of the Phillies to make his mark in the league last year. He batted .330 his first full big league season and played a sprightly game in the outfield. But Leach reported with a bad case of flu, got started late and never did hit his stride of the previous year. At that he did not do so badly, for he batted over the .300 mark and played a steady, helpful game for his team.

Fred Leach.

Leach is an earnest, ambitious young player. He has a wife and four children out in Jerome, Idaho, and he naturally would take his baseball seriously. He is a natural lifter, and with his intense desire to excel in his profession he is apt to make himself a great player in the game.

Leach used to be a station agent in the little town of Berryville, Ark., in the Ozark mountain country, and his one grand diversion was playing ball. A born athlete, he soon excelled in the game and made a reputation through the mountains and the strawberry country as an all-around player of parts and rare promise. Rivalry between village ball teams in that country ran high in the days of 1915-1917 and the commercial clubs used to join in and help hire imported players to win match games.

And so it was that when the baseball feud between the little town of Golden and Blankville flamed to white heat, Golden sent to Berrytown for the station agent to pitch for its team against its hated rival in the big town. Leach thrilled to the call and put the section foreman in charge for the afternoon. When he got to Golden he found the most nondescript ball team that ever a semi-pro pitcher had laid eyes on before or since. The center fielder was sixty years old, and his son, age thirteen, played shortstop. This was a fair sample of the team that Leach was to lead to victory against a gang of huskies from a much larger town. "I never worked harder in a game in my life," declared Leach, "and never got a greater thrill from victory. We beat them 8 to 0, and my fame was made in the Ozarks from that day on."

Leach was born in Springfield, Mo., in 1900. At the age of seventeen he got a job in Berrytown, Ark., with the railroad. He married a Berrytown girl and two years later moved to Jerome, Idaho, to take a job as a telegrapher. He had only a slow curve as a pitcher, but as a batsman he could hit a fast curve, so his playing out West attracted attention. Leach is a likable fellow and has set his heart on making a success of his profession. His 1926 promise may bloom in 1928. Anyway the Jerome telegrapher will make a desperate try for stardom.

BASEBALL NOTES

O. L. Bluege of Washington struck out five times in an eleven-inning game on June 17, 1923.

Fred Beck, veteran first baseman of long record, will umpire in the Western association.

Cliff Shortman, a semi-pro pitcher of Newark, has signed to hurl for Easton in the Eastern Shore league.

Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Senators, is the only manager who will play regularly this season.

Bill Reetz, a semi-pro outfielder of Oshkosh, Wis., has contracted with Moline of the Mississippi Valley league.

William James Landen, a young Springfield (Mass.) pitcher, has signed up with his home team in the Eastern league.

In 1908 the Yankee team left home in first place for a road trip and lost 22 games before returning home—in last place.

The Yankees' outfield of Ruth, Combs and Meusel is believed by most critics to be the best all-round outfield garden in the major leagues.

A new $2,000,000 baseball park is being planned for the Cleveland Indians. The stadium would have a seating capacity of some 50,000.

Philadelphia sports writers are unanimous in the belief that Joe Hauser will take care of first base in grand style for Connie Mack this season.

Washington baseball players are not permitted to play golf. Bucky Harris wants his men to give all their thought to baseball until the season ends.

Purchase of Buck Lai, Chinese infielder, from the New York Giants is announced by R. G. Allen, president of the Little Rock Southern association club.

While visiting friends in Newark recently, Chick Shorten, former major leaguer, dropped the word that he had given up baseball in favor of a business career.

Jack Slattery, who is to pilot the Boston Braves next season, is a graduate dentist, but owing to his early success in baseball he never practiced his profession.

The record salary any manager has ever been paid in the history of the big leagues is $60,000, the sum Ty Cobb received as player-pilot of the Detroit Tigers.

Hans Wagner, the great Pittsburgh star of years ago, says if he had his youth over again he'd enter baseball. Wagner quit in 1917, the twenty-first season of his career.

Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, thinks the addition of Ty Cobb will make the Athletics a more dangerous contender for the pennant this season.

Bryan Harris of the Boston Red Sox, 6 feet 6 inches, is the tallest

INSPECTOR SOSIN LAUDS NEW LAW

Explains Advantages of Decision Bouts. Perth Amboy Boxing Club Had Good Card.

By G. L. Guinand

Match maker, manager, major-domo Eddie Poulsen of the Perth Amboy Boxing Club, certainly pulled off an excellent show, last Tuesday evening.

The boys were nicely matched, and did some fine work. The house was filled to capacity, tobacco smoke and good nature and the voice of the "peanut kid" was heard shrilly in the night: "Here's yer double jointed, hump-back peanuts, only a nickel a bag."

The best bout of the evening (consensus of opinion), was the four rounder between Carl Zullo, of Port Reading and "Bus" Weber of Totenville. That little bop Zullo is built right, fights right, and is certainly all right as a comer. He is a two handed mixer, opened eyed, very quick and fearless.

There were two "fours", two "sixes" and one eight and one "knockout which sent the fans on their way homeward jabbering and happy.

After the show was over we ran across our friend Mr. Louis Sosa, Boxing Inspector, for this district. We had a pleasant chat with Mr. Sosa and we are going to put his remarks in narrative form, and let him tell you all about it.

Louis Y. Sosin

"In my experience of the last four years as boxing inspector, in this part of the county I have had the intimate advantage of watching the uplift of the sport of boxing contests. Both Mr. Edward Poulsen, local fight promoter and myself have long foreseen the necessity of decisions in bouts. It is long known that decisions were just what was wanted. And now we have that legal privilege which was recently granted to us. We are now able to send people away, satisfied in their own mind that which they saw coincides with their own view. A ringside decision is what the people have long desired and that is what they will get hereafter.

"Referees are now assigned by the Inspector and an inspector may call upon a referee from any other part of the state, to render decisions. Now, here is the purpose of that: In a main bout or a championship bout, in fact in all bouts for that matter, no manager, promoter, or interested party may know who will be the judge of a contest, therefore there can be no innuendoes, "in the bag" or inference as to the outcome of a fight."

"The inspector is the chief officer at a boxing show. He is there to represent the state and protect all interested principals. He sees that a physician examines the men before entering the ring. He sees to it that the men are weighed in at 3 P. M. on the day of the fight. Managers, seconds and fighters are under his supervision and are liable to suspension for infractions of the rules and conduct unbecoming that of a gentleman.

Only One Oil Well, but It's a Town
Roxana, Okla.—Roxana, newest oil town in Oklahoma, is built on only one oil well. It is less than nine months old, but it has a post office and more than fifty buildings. It came into being because the Roxana Petroleum corporation discovered oil and gas at a depth of almost 6,000 feet. The oil and gas well is the only one in the vicinity, but its production entitles it to distinction as Roxana's major industry. Although production is curtailed, the well's output has already been 500,000 barrels of oil, 800,000,000 cubic feet of gas and 1,000,000 gallons of gasoline taken from the gas by means of an absorption process.

PAUMONOK STARTS RACING PROGRAM

Three-Year-Old Feature to Be Run at Jamaica Track.

The Paumonok handicap will usher in the racing season of 1928, at the Jamaica track on Monday, April 23. It is for three-year-olds and upward over the sprinting course of six furlongs. It has fifty-eight entries and special representation in such horses as Happy Argo, Draconis, Old Dutch, Donnez Mol, Black Curl, Ariel, One Hour, Kentucky Second, Distraction, Finite, Polydor, Victorian, Sweepster, Jumbo, Foundation Stone, Ramoneur, Sarmaticus, Poly, Nausakan, Propus, Pennant Queen and Filemaker.

Happy Argo was the champion sprinter of 1927. He will unquestionably be assigned top weight.

But weight, in reason, will not stop the Irish horse if he is at the top of his form—and he usually is good in the spring. He is a fine weight carrier and anything like 126 or 130 pounds will not anchor him provided the track is dry and fast. He objects to racing in a sloppy or muddy track. He is poor in soft going.

Sweepster, Sarmaticus, Draconis, Old Dutch, Donnez Mol and Nausakan probably will be in the second division. Old Dutch hung up a five and a half furlong track record at Jamaica last fall. That shows that he likes the course. Draconis, one of the fastest juveniles two seasons back, but lame for a long period, is in training again. He too showed well at Jamaica as a two-year-old.

In the long history of the Paumonok handicap, which had its inaugural in 1906, it has furnished some stirring equine battles. When Tryster won in 1922 four horses finished like the fingers of your hand, an inch or two only separating each of the quartet. In the list of winners one can find Red River, which won it two years in succession in 1907-08; Restigouche, Coquette, Flays, Dunboyno, On Watch, Zev, St. James, Worthmore and Silver Fox.

Orwoll Most Graceful Since Days of Lajoie

Ossie Orwoll, who came to the Philadelphia Athletics from Milwaukee, is the most graceful player to make the big league since Harry Lajoie hung up his spikes, in the opinion of Manager Connie Mack. This statement came from the lanky pilot of the A's. In speed, grace and natural ability, Mack said the blond athlete was living up to all the advance notices that preceded him out of the West and that if he was not one of the sensations of the coming American league he would be surprised.

Fight to Win

Dr. Jack Wilce, football coach of the Ohio State university, speaking to the football and basket ball squads of Mount Union college, stressed the importance of playing to win. "Show a fighting spirit controlled by the rules of the game," he urged. "There is dynamite in sport," Wilce declared, "dynamite which can blast gold or destroy castles and anyone who has attended contests where people gather feel the dynamite power of sports."

Since the New York Giants organized 15 years ago, the club has won a total of 3,132 games and lost 2,412, for a percentage of .565. The average is the best in the National league.

Conquered Sharkey

Sport Notes

Ohio state and the Army will meet in basket ball in 1929 and 1930.

Don Carlos Lyon roller-skated all of the way from Tacoma, Wash., to Los Angeles, Calif., to enter a school.

One of the sure favorites to win in any golf match he engages in this summer is Bobby Jones, the Atlanta wizard.

Pat McCarthy, Boston heavyweight boxer, has a fine publicity agent in his wife, who is a former newspaper woman.

Richard C. Boettcher of Totenville, N. Y., was elected captain of the Rutgers varsity basket ball team for next year.

Pedro Arvisu, a Mexican boxer, was knocked down 23 times in less than six rounds by Johnny Hughes during a bout in San Antonio, Texas, recently.

The record gate for a wrestling match in this country is $78,000, the amount taken in when Frank Gotch and Hackenschmidt met in 1912 in Chicago.

Pat Hanley, brother and assistant of Dick Hanley, football coach of Northwestern university, has been offered the football coaching position at North Dakota.

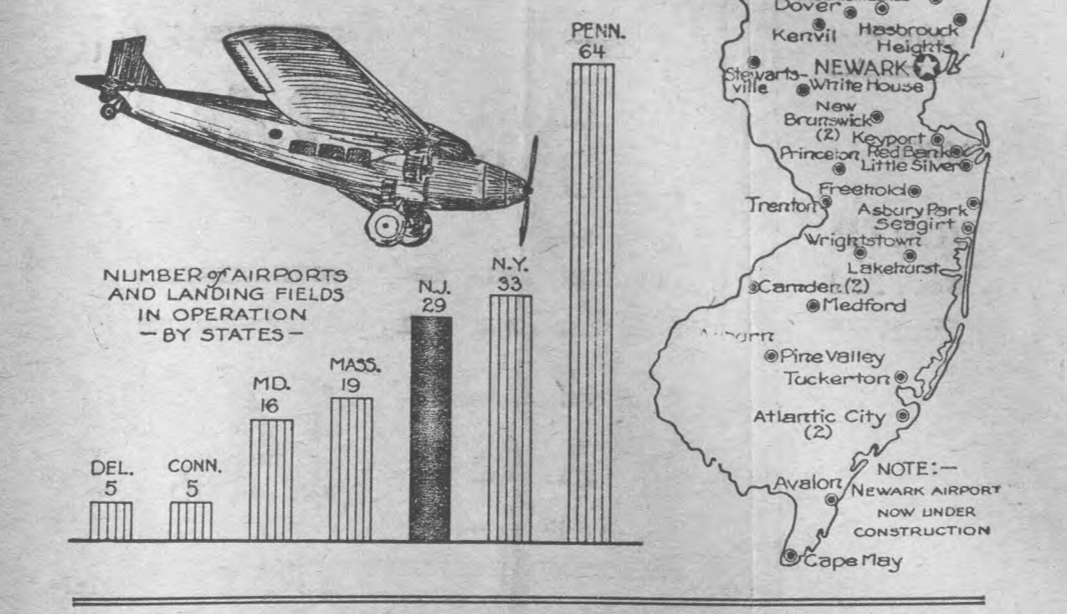

Diana Fishwick, feminine golf champion of England, is not only the youngest girl to win the title—she is sixteen—but she won it after only eighteen months of golf.

Cliff Bricker, Canada's hope in the Olympic marathon, has not been beaten in two years at five, ten or fifteen miles, barring one race in which he injured his hip and had to retire.

The University of Washington varsity crew will race in a new cedar shell this season, the gift of Northwestern lumbermen. It will be constructed by George Pocock of International fame.

NEW JERSEY! One of the Greatest of the United States

29 AIRPORTS & LANDING FIELDS LISTED IN NEW JERSEY BY U.S.

New Jersey, where the engines that carried Colonel Lindbergh safely on his many epoch making flights were built, is a leader in aviation. In proportion to its population it has more landing fields than any of the Eastern States.

Not only in aviation but in other lines does New Jersey lead—witness her splendid public utility resources provided by Public Service.
"The success of Public Service and development of New Jersey are bound together."
President Thomas N. McCarter.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS CONFESS HOLDUPS

Say They Shared in Robberies to Get Thrill.

Hagerstown, Md.—Dorothy Simmers, nineteen years old, and Hilda Little, seventeen years old, graduates of the Chambersburg (Pa.) high school, are back in the Chambersburg jail to await trial on charges of highway robbery. The girls, who have confessed to robbing for the thrill because of the "boredom" of their home town, jumped bail on the eve of their trial last October and were missing until their capture recently in Passaic, N. J., where both were employed as domestics.

An intercepted letter to the mother of the younger girl led to their capture.

With Charles Stepler, eighteen-year-old librarian of the Second Lutheran church, Chambersburg, the girls, it is alleged, acted as decoys for men whom Stepler, it is alleged, then held up at lonely spots where the girls led the victims. Raleigh Jones, the last alleged victim, became suspicious and notified the police. Dorothy Simmers was taken into custody for questioning and confessed her part of the holdups. When confronted, her companions also confessed.

The girls said they received $4 as their share of the first holdup, which netted $7, the victim being John Knoll, Chambersburg. They spent the money for ice cream and movies.

Mummies' Wounds Tell of Egyptian Battle

New York.—The story of a battle on the river Nile 4,000 years ago, as revealed by the mummified bodies of 60 soldiers, found buried in a royal Theban tomb, is told in a bulletin of the Royal Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Dr. H. E. Winlock, associate curator of Egyptian art at the museum, reconstructs the battle from reports of the wounds found on the mummies by the museum's Egyptian expedition.

From the small head wounds and the downward course of arrows found in the bodies, Doctor Winlock says the men must have died storming a castle, the head wounds evidently having been caused by small missiles from above. They were soldiers of King Mentuhotep, and the unusual honor paid them of burial in a royal tomb led to the conclusion they fell in an important engagement.

Other wounds on the bodies, the article says, shows that the soldiers were dispatched with clubs by the victors, after their comrades had retreated. Another attack, however, must have been successful, as the bodies were recovered for burial.

The tomb was first discovered in 1923, but because of the disorder, showing previous visits of thieves, it was sealed and not opened until recently. Meanwhile the expedition devoted itself to more promising excavations. When the tomb was reopened marks on the linen of the soldiers showed their period to be that of 2,000 B. C., an important find, as excavations had previously failed to discover what manner of men were the invaders who descended on Egypt from Thebes in 2000 B. C., conquered Memphis and started the second great period of Egyptian culture.

Gilding Lily Out, but Roses Are Illuminated

Boston.—There may be no profit in gilding the lily, but it appears that illuminating the rose is a pretty good business. At least engineers found it so in the garden of Gordon Abbott, Boston bankers, at Manchester-by-the-Sea.

Roses are illuminated by electric globes of proper hue. Tiny spot-lights produce special effects on rock formations, floral groups and fountains. By means of a mechanical moonlight effect the lawns can be flooded with soft steel-blue light remarkably like Luna's own product.

The camouflage artist was industrious, too. He concealed wires and lights in trees and shrubbery.

Baboon Blues

Nairobi, British East Africa.—Natives have found that baboons can be kept away from settlements if one is captured within sight of the others, clipped, painted blue and released to rejoin his mates.

Grain Is Currency, French Courts Rule

Paris.—As in ancient days, farm produce still is recognized as legal tender.

Farmers' contracts to pay bills in wheat and other foodstuffs have been held valid by the French courts, although contracts for payment in stable currencies have been voided repeatedly.

Farming "on shares" is a custom here as in other countries, and French farmers were astounded to have their usual practice questioned as an apparent violation of the law requiring the execution of all contracts in paper francs. The wording of the law apparently ignored "payment in kind," but the courts held that food, as a basic material, is relatively one of the most stable mediums of exchange.

Make and Break

His clothes make the man, but here tend to break him.—Wall Street Journal.

Chief Executive Saw Point of Good Joke

One of the first things Washington learned of Millard Fillmore when he ascended to the Presidency upon the death of Zachary Taylor, in 1850, was that Fillmore possessed a keen sense of humor.

Shortly after taking the oath of office it became necessary that the President purchase a new coach. Because of the dignity of his position, Fillmore thought the coach should be somewhat out of the ordinary, and sent an old White House servant, Edward Moran by name, to shop about. Moran eventually learned that a wealthy citizen of Washington was about to leave the city and wished to dispose of his elegant equipage, which seemed to him quite the thing he was seeking.

The President viewed the coach and liked it immensely, but "How will it do for a President of the United States to be riding around in a second-hand carriage?" he asked Moran.

Moran could not resist the opportunity. "Sure," he replied, "you're only a second-hand President."

Fillmore thought this remark was one of the wittiest he had ever heard, and told it on himself so often that he became known among his friends as the "second-hand President." Incidentally, he bought the coach and used it during his three-year tenure of office.—Brooklyn Eagle.

White House Front

In the days when the White House was under construction a Colonial home built near a river had two fronts, a land front and a river front. Each front was of importance. The Potomac river approached much more closely to the White House grounds than it does today. It was, therefore, more appropriate that there be a river front than it would be at the present time, when the Potomac flows at a considerable distance.
