

POLICE OFFICER HAS IMPRESSIVE BURIAL SERVICE

State, County and Local Officials
Take Part in Last Tribute to Police Lieutenant, Saturday
HAS LARGE PROCESSION

The final ceremonies of the funeral of the late Lieutenant John J. Donovan was an impressive tribute to the police official, and expressed the good-will of his fellow citizens throughout the Borough, last Saturday morning.

Throughout the morning a continual stream of people, including state, county and local officials and school children, who viewed the body. The funeral procession started from the Atlantic street home of the Donovan family, escorted by a squadron of twenty-two motorcycle police, and followed by more than one hundred police officers from all part of the state.

Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill and the Council and the State Benevolent Associations officials, took a prominent place in the procession, in which it is estimated that over one hundred automobiles took part. At the Borough Hall and the Police Headquarters a moments pause in solemn silence was significant, as it was, the deceased police officer's headquarters in the performance of his duty to the people of the borough.

The body was then taken to St. Joseph's R. C. Church and placed before the altar, while a solemn High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by the Rev. E. C. Mannion. The Deacon was Rev. J. Dziadosz, and the sub-Deacon, Rev. C. B. Reagan, of St. James Church of Woodbridge. Father Mannion's sermon in part was as follows:

"Be Glad and Rejoice for your Reward is Very Great in Heaven, (Matt. 5-12.)"

"The deceased, at whose grave we are assembled, was, as you all know, for many years a public official. He endeavored to perform faithfully both the duties of his office and his Christian duties. If he could talk to us now, from the grave, he would probably warn us of the ingratitude of the world. He would urge us not to serve the world, not to rely on worldly reward, but to serve in the first place, God, whose faithful servants are richly rewarded in Heaven."

"Indeed the world will often leave unrewarded the most meritorious worker, whereas the Lord bountifully rewards any work done for the love of Him, even the smallest. Even if the world does reward its servants, the reward is often not in proportion to the service; whilst the Lord abundantly rewards every man for his good works."

"The Saviour assures us 'That He will not leave unnoticed and unrewarded even the drink of water we give the thirsty in the spirit of charity.'"

"He will reward the mere good intention, if the strength to carry it out is lacking."

"Our deceased friend had the grace to receive the holy rites of the Church and to prepare for a good death. He must often have prayed for this greatest of all gifts of God for he had the consolation of every member of his family being at his side, when after a long training in discipline, to answer every call made in season and out of season, he bravely but humbly, answered the final call of his Supreme Master."

"The true Christian see Christ in his fellow man, and in serving others and especially as an officer, when he risks life often, and sacrifices time and pleasure for the welfare and happiness of others, he is daily serving God from morning until night."

"In every funeral there is a special warning for those surviving. The dead can no longer hear our praise, but we are made to realize that death comes like a thief in the night."

"God does not demand too much of us; He requires us only to serve Him faithfully for the short time of our lives. He demands nothing further than to keep His Commandments and His Commandments are not heavy." If it ever seems hard we can raise our eyes and hearts to Heaven, and find encouragement in the word of the Saviour.

ADDRESS TO BE HEARD TONIGHT

Charles A. Conrad Will be Heard at Al Smith Card Party in German Hall This Evening

Address to be delivered by Charles A. Conrad at the Al Smith Democratic Club card party in the German Lutheran Hall tonight.

The exceptionally large assemblage at this little affair tonight, shows clearly that the residents of the Borough are showing considerable interest in the election campaign this year, particularly in the activities of the Democratic organization, which is showing much like these days. I am pleased not only with to-days large crowd, but with the large gatherings which our organization has managed to line up for the different meetings, whenever held since the campaign has opened.

This showing is very encouraging to our party and naturally encouraging to the candidates, whose spirit is elevated by the knowledge that their constituents are behind them, ready to back them at the polls on November 6th.

You have heard already, why I am making a definite effort to win the Mayorality office. I feel there is much to be done in this Borough to make it a greater community, a more satisfied community and bring about an increased activity in the general life of our borough. My record as a business man is probably well-known to you, because of your contact with me. Aided by this business experience and the knowledge of the individual desires of our community, makes me feel certain that I could be in position to serve them, serve them honestly and loyally in the local government, just as I have served them for years in a business way. Your support is keenly solicited.

POISON LIQUOR THOUGHT TO BE CAUSE OF DEATH

Death of Man Due to Apoplexy from Too Much Bad Whisky.
Mystery Surrounds Death.

HAS FAMILY IN EUROPE

It is thought that an investigation will be made to determine the real cause of the death of Paul Koscinski, forty years old, of 87 Warren street, early Wednesday morning.

Koscinski was found apparently in a semi-conscious state in his boarding house, Wednesday night. Dr. H. L. Strandberg was called shortly after midnight and found the man to be dead. According to Dr. Strandberg, death was due to a stroke of apoplexy.

The physician was of the opinion that Koscinski drank an excess quantity of bad liquor, which led to the stroke.

Koscinski is reported to have a wife and two children in Europe. He was working Wednesday morning, the report stated, but at noon began to imbibe in drink.

Coroner John J. Lyman was summoned at midnight, Wednesday, to take the body to his morgue. It was learned that Koscinski had been dead since 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon and investigation is expected to be made by the coroner to learn why no previous effort was made to communicate with him.

An autopsy may be performed on the body of Koscinski, to determine the real reason for his death.

Police were asked to send an officer to the Warren street address at 11:45 o'clock Wednesday night. Koscinski was dead when the officer arrived.

BOARD HEARS OF BAD BUS SERVICE

To Investigate Report That Buses Do Not Maintain Schedule. Children Late For School.

An investigation will be made into the bus service afforded to the children of the East Rahway section in their transportation to the schools here, according to a complaint made to Commissioner Frank Brown, who presented the complaint to the members of the Board of Education at their meeting Tuesday evening.

According to Mr. Brown the buses do not keep to their schedule and the children are often late for school. After a discussion on the matter, the board instructed the Transportation Committee to submit a remedy for this condition at the next meeting.

A communication from the State Department of Public Instruction, called the attention of the board to a new policy regarding children who are crippled or deformed. It is recommended that where there are eight or more such pupils they be placed in classes by themselves so as to receive more personal attention than they might if mingling in general classes. The matter was referred to the supervising principal.

The report of the supervising principal showed an enrollment of 1,350 boys and 1,274 girls, total of 2,624, with a percentage of attendance of 96. There are 53 boys and 108 girls in the continuation classes.

The report of the nurse showed much progress in the dental clinic, where 79 cases were treated. There were fifty-three other treatments. Eight cases of truancy were found by the truant officer who investigated 208 cases during September.

A communication from the Public Service Company outlined the rate for school children between Perth Amboy and Carteret, based on a 3-cent fare for each of the four zones in the trip. This works out so as to make a 20-cent rate for the round trip, which is half of the rate that is charged for adults.

Commissioner Coughlin of the athletic field committee reported that the field is still being filled in with soil.

Those present were President Edward J. Heil, Commissioners William V. Coughlin, Isador Schwartz, Robert Jeffreys, Charles A. Conrad, Frank Brown, and Theodore Bishop, and the board's Attorney, Elmer E. Brown; absent, Commissioners Dalrymple and Cselle.

Legion Auxiliary in Hurricane Fund Work

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Roosevelt Post, No. 263, American Legion, have decided to abandon their plans to hold a card party for the Florida relief fund. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Auxiliary in the Memorial Building last night.

After the appeal made in the Ritz Theatre last Saturday night, which resulted in the collecting of $58.35, and realizing that the local churches and various organizations of the Borough are working for the same cause and that the people have already contributed freely to this cause, it was decided that it would be unfair to ask the citizens of the Borough to contribute to another drive.

However, those who have not as yet contributed may do so by sending their donations to Mrs. A. Drummond, of 624 Roosevelt avenue, the result of the effort of the Auxiliary has netted the following: collection at the Ritz Theatre, $58.35; Paul Beiter, $1.00; Mrs. A. Drummond, $1.00; Mrs. M. J. Slugg, $1.00.

CONVICT FLEES DEVIL'S ISLAND

Prominent Physician, Convicted of Murder, Makes Dramatic Escape.

Paris.—A brief cable from the convict settlement in French Guinea tells of the dramatic escape from the famous prison of Dr. Pierre Bourgrat, prominent Marseilles physician and member of a well-known family, who in March of last year was sentenced to hard labor for life for the murder of Jacques Rumebe, a bank collector. Although he was sentenced a year and a half ago, the doctor arrived in Guiana only a few weeks ago. He was working in the prison hospital.

Two other prisoners escaped with the doctor and squads of armed men are now searching the wild country into which the trio fled. The details, which are sure to be absorbing, are still lacking.

Many Try to Escape.

In the long and gruesome history of this French penal colony only two other men are known to be living who have escaped. The convict settlement is on the mainland, but there are three islands near by where the most incorrigible prisoners are sent. It is by the name of one of these, Devil's island, that the convict settlement is generally known. It was on Devil's island that Captain Dreyfus was imprisoned.

It is estimated that about 1,000 prisoners a year attempt to escape. The only two living known to have reached another shore are Edward Guerin, one of the most expert bank thieves and international criminals in the world, and Eugene Dieudonne, French apache and member of the famous Jules Bonnot gang.

Englishman Flees.

Guerin, an Englishman, who had lived in this country for several years, was convicted of robbing the American Express company in Paris of $30,000 in April, 1901. Before that he had robbed the Bank of Lyons of $50,000. He served four years on Devil's island and then escaped with the aid of American confederates who chartered a tramp steamer and had it lie off the coast.

Dieudonne was sentenced to life imprisonment in April, 1913, on a charge of participating in the murder of two gendarmes. With some companions he got clear of the convict settlement in December, 1926. They obtained a boat, but it capsized and only Dieudonne and one companion survived. After three months of indescribable hardship he reached Belem, in Brazil. There he was arrested. He protested his innocence, waived extradition, and returned to France, where he was pardoned last year. He remarried his former wife, who had waited sixteen years for him.

$32,000,000 Spent on Public Play in Year

New York.—The use of America's material abundance for enriching life was the theme announced for the fifteenth national recreation congress held at Atlantic City October 1 to 6. In 1927, the Playground and Recreation Association of America announced, $32,000,000 was spent on public play in the United States and Canada, half of it for land, buildings, equipment and materials. At the congress recreation executives discussed how to get a maximum use from this expenditure for the health and pleasure of the people.

A. Edward Newton, author; Robert Moses, New York secretary of state; John Nolen, city planner; Duncan Spaeth, Princeton university; Mrs. A. H. Reeve, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Sidonie M. Gruenberg, director of the Child Study Association of America, and Joseph Lee of Boston were some of the speakers.

Four Lepers Cured; Back to Civilization

Audaku, Oesel Island, Estonia.—Four lepers have been discharged here as completely cured by Prof. A. Paldrock of Tartu university. President Tonisson of Estonia and other notables were present at the ceremony. The president delivered to the cured lepers a brief address and declared that they now regain all their civil rights of free citizens and are at liberty to move about where they please.

Professor Paldrock is well known to scientists of Europe as a dermatologist. He used for his cure for leprosy the carbon dioxide snow, which he applies with his own patented instrument, and also a gold prescription.

Even Sharks Err Doctor Beebe says sharks never attack human beings except by accident when they mistake the moving object for food. Imagine the distress of the shark when he finds out his mistake! —Kansas City Star.

Pheasant's Good Work The Chinese ring-necked pheasant is being given credit by many farmers in keeping down cut-worms. This pest is extremely persistent in truck gardens and many farmers are hatching pheasants.

"Positive Agitation" is an exclusive Hoover feature. It reaches and removes the dirt which has been ground into the nap of the rug—dirt which ordinary cleaning methods cannot reach. The tiniest moth egg can't escape Hoover cleaning.

We'll demonstrate this cleaner for you. Just telephone and let us bring it to your home. You will be under no obligation to purchase.

There are two Hoover models, both with Positive Agitation. No. 700 sells for $75 and No. 543 for $59.50. Either model may be purchased on the divided payment plan at slightly higher prices.

Saragossa Sea Place of Beauty, Not a Menace

New York.—The Saragossa sea is pictured as a place of beauty rather than a menace by H. A. Marmer of the United States coast and geodetic survey.

The water is unusually blue, due to lack of minute plant and animal life. It is so transparent that a swimmer while it can be seen clearly 200 feet deep.

Dellet in the existence of great masses of wood in this sea has no basis in fact, Marmer writes in the United States Naval Institute proceedings.

The work of making the grounds a state park and the old home a shrine for the people of Texas soon will be completed. The legislature approved $10,000 for the purpose.

A quarter of a century after he had won freedom for Texas with his victory at San Jacinto, General Houston lost the governorship of the state while, as a result, had honored him with its presidency, Governor Austin, he bought peace at the same time near Humsville and died two years later.

The home changed ownership recently, but in 1911 became the property of the state teachers' college, which bears the general's name.

In the last few months many changes have been made by the superintendence of the place. Trees, which were not there when it was Houston's home, were chopped down, and those which had grown were pruned.

Buffalo Police Bar Old Wedding Custom

Buffalo, N. Y.—The time-honored custom of playfully tossing old shoes at the groom, tying the tails and other notable producing articles on the rear of automobiles used by bridal parties, and hawking of horns by cars in a bridal procession, will be cause for arrest hereafter.

The Buffalo health department declares such acts as those of "morse, diabolical, and threatening the health of the sick and nervous."

Throwing old shoes at the groom is said to be fraught with danger—a blow on the head often resulting in a fatal injury.

Some historical fun was given to the former also and similar remarks were pointed out by his biographer.

The house was restored to its appearance of long ago, except that a shower from a window replaced the south-facing window. The interior, however, was given what architect's profession an almost perfect restoration.

FOR THE CANDIDATES

According to press accounts the Board of Freeholders of Middlesex County have just authorized the paving of a road during the balance of the year. You see election is coming!

What about the County Road that runs through East Rahway.

The County promised to reconstruct this road several years ago. It has gone from bad to worse and never will be passable through the winter. In the meantime, the County Road from Woodbridge is starting to break up. Is the County to permit us to be cut off entirely?

Carteret has paid the County government hundreds of thousands of dollars in the last several years. Why cannot Carteret have the East Rahway road paved after several years of waiting?

If other towns can't get roads authorized this year before Election Day, why not Carteret? Ask your candidate for Freeholder, where he stands on the East Rahway road. Do it now! He will forget you after election, the same as he always does, but take your money to spend somewhere else, the same as usual.

Put it up to him. He wants your tax money and your vote. What are you and your neighbors going to get?

REWARD OF FAITHFUL SERVICE

Faithful service received its reward during the past week, when the public, and the Borough Officials used every effort to show respects to a Borough Servant, namely, John J. Donovan, Lieutenant of Police. All Borough buildings had flags at half-mast. Borough employes were engaged in some duty or other, and the public did its part to pay a last tribute to a man who gave every effort of his human body to protect life and property, for twenty-six long years of continued service.

The early days of Carteret were days of hardship in the Police Department, from many points of view. In the first instance, the department was made up of only two men; secondly there was a more or less rough element here at that time, who had little respect for order at times, and then again, in those days, several long and severe labor strikes gave trying times, when efficient mind and quick action was needed and was there whenever needed.

The Borough public has remembered, and has not failed to respond in its appreciation of loyal, humble and efficient service.

Lieutenant Donovan leaves a memory that his family, the police department, and the public can well be proud of; and it should act as an incentive to the remainder of the police force that, loyalty and good service, always has its reward.

COMPROMISE

The only final enemies are the good and the bad, the true and the false. These are at odds in every struggle, even though the human share in their warfare may be confused beyond divination. Yet a man is either sure that he fights for the right or he confesses to himself that the right does not concern him and that his loyalties are to be sold for his ambitions. In such strife the sincere man cannot yield unless he first surrenders his convictions; the man with no convictions beyond his own ambitions can and will give ground for what he may get out of it.

Truth is always under the fire of his enemies and has also within the gates of its citadel another enemy, who tempts with the quick peace of compromise. This is the traitor who is ready to meet the enemy on the middle ground where defense surrenders all its advantage or will yield a gate or tower under the spur of fear, and so destroy the integrity of his city.

Much honest conviction and many institutions built upon it have gone down through such surrender to expediency. Remembering this, clear sighted and whole-hearted men have small taste for compromise. They fight for their standards or fall beside them and leave to those of lesser faith the hazardous peace of a bargain with the enemy. Were it not for this gallant obstinacy of the free spirit, few things worth while would ever have been won or held for the service of man.

THE NEW WORLD

By all the evidence, we learn that a fundamental change befell the world within the last two centuries; some change that was no mere incident to the grinding of the mills of time, but one which led swiftly to new knowledge, new modes of society, new hopes for progress and happiness. Observers have placed at different points in history the birth of the new order, and with less assurance have offered one cause or another for the upheaval. Yet it is clear that modern history is an effect rather than a cause and that its stirring events declare some fundamental change in the racial environment which has permitted and created this vigorous confusion.

Human nature, we know, has not much changed. Our loves and hates, our hopes and fears, are much like those of old. If there is change, it is in the light and air in which the human spirit lives and breathes. These, by some mystery beyond our present fathoming, are different, as though a clean, strong wind had swept old mists and darkness away.

Such evidence declares that there is a purpose to history and some supreme guidance at work for human destiny. The new era was not much for our own making; it came in spite of us, after a long night of ignorance and misery. It has given us a new world, rich with promise and bright with hope for all that is worth while.

YOUTH AND GUIDANCE

Youth is not in revolt, but in quest of knowledge and truth, and if the route is sometimes confused and disconcerting it is because of lack of guidance.

The young, in search of leadership, have turned to their parents only to find that too frequently the men and women of the passing generation are either lacking in interest or engrossed in their own work, or pleasure, or make poor leaders because they do not understand and are not in sympathy.

One reason for the decline of parental guidance is undoubtedly the rise of the social conscience and the spirit of civic service. This is at trend that antedates the jazz age and the igniting of flaming youth. Increasing stress on the individual's duty to the community and society has weakened the sense of duty, or at least cut down the available time for the exercise of the duty, to the children at home.

In other words, there are countless fathers and mothers too engrossed with the duties of community leadership to spare the time for home companionship and parental leadership.

POLICE OFFICER HAS IMPRESSIVE BURIAL

"Be glad and rejoice for your reward is very great in Heaven."

Finally a short explanation was given of the consoling doctrine of the Communion of Saints. We honor these spiritual heroes, who having gone through the same responsibilities and trials as ourselves, are now enjoying their reward. Those who have died with the stains of sin, and scars of battle, we can aid by our prayers, to a speedy reward. May all have the grace to die at peace with God, after a life well spent, and may God have mercy on his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed.

The procession on leaving the church, continued along Roosevelt avenue, passing through a line of the business people of the borough, who stood lined up on both sides of the street, in silence, as the cortege passed out of the borough limits.

The following Police Officers were in line in the funeral procession:

Tuberculosis League Makes Budget Increase

The Middlesex County Tuberculosis League adopted a tentative budget of $28,300.00 at their regular board meeting on Friday, October 5th. This is an increase of $2500.00 over the 1928 budget. The additional amounts provides for an increased use of the x-ray in connection with the six clinics in the county, which are located at Perth Amboy, New Brunswick, Carteret, South River, Jamesburg and Milltown.

The miscellaneous items in the budget include the upkeep of these clinics, salaries of four clinic doctors executive secretary, four nurses, office secretary and a stenographer. The upkeep of cars for the nursing work and the distribution of educational material to schools, clubs and industries.

The nursing report which was submitted called attention to the fact that the Jamesburg and Carteret clinics have been unusually well attended. The secretary reported that Dr. Charles I. Silk, president of the League would be one of the speakers at the Conference of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League at the Chalfonte Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, on October 25th and 26th. The League appointed Miss Jane J. Packard, Mrs. M. C. Winckler, Miss Marie Nielsen and Mrs. Kehoe as delegates to this conference.

The board of directors adopted a resolution requesting the board of freeholders for an appropriation of $10,000.00 for the coming year. Other sources of income of the Tuberculosis League are the Christmas Seal Sale and municipal appropriations.

The secretary reported that preliminary plans for the Christmas Seal Sale were well underway.

The Seal Sale Committee reported a ship model contest for the Manual Training Departments of Schools connected with the Christmas Seal Sale campaign. The 1929 Christmas seal is made with the design of a Roman galleon on it, and the object of the contest is to increase the popularity of the Christmas Seal and to focus the attention of school children on health.

DOG LEADS MASTER TO BURIED WEALTH

Poverty-Stricken Man Helped by Pet.

Danville, Ky.—Because his pet dog led him to treasure trove of 1,500 silver dollars, James Ashe, aged and poverty stricken, who lives near Danville, Ky., believes Providence has favored him for upright life. Ashe lives alone in a small habitation. He was walking through a field when his dog jumped a rabbit, which fled to an old tree stump.

The dog dug furiously about the stump and Ashe began removing the accumulation within to scare the rabbit and see what there was there. In a few moments he found the top of a kettle, then loose pieces of metal, discolored by age. Cleaning one, he discovered it was a silver dollar.

Ashe continued his excavation until he had removed a large copper kettle, apparently full of coins. He could not carry it far, and hid it in the underbrush. He told a friend of his discovery, and they took the kettle to Ashe's home. The coins were cleaned and counted. There were 1,500 silver dollars, none bearing a date later than 1858. It is believed robbers of long ago buried the money and never returned for the loot, or that some antebellum miser placed his hoard there. Another theory is that the treasure may have been buried during the Civil war to prevent roving soldiers or guerrillas from taking it.

Seismograph Notes Quakes of the Heart

Potsdam, Germany.—Lovers' hearts that pound like earthquakes form a familiar poetic simile, but German science is reported to be taking it literally.

The study of heartbeats by the same instrument used to record earthquakes, the seismograph, is a recent accomplishment of Dr. Gustav Angenheister, earthquake expert of the Geophysical Institute at Potsdam, near Berlin.

Placing patients on a heavily built couch connected to a special seismograph, Doctor Angenheister obtains records of every shock and quiver produced by the throbbing heart, precisely as though these were shock waves broadcast through the globe by an earthquake.

The doctor's seismograph magnifies by several thousand times heart shocks transmitted to it. The vibrations are then recorded on a moving strip of photographic film.

Physicians now study the action of the heart, Doctor Angenheister and his medical associates point out, by indirect methods, either by sounds or by electric changes.

The old-fashioned stethoscope or even an ear pressed to the chest permits one to hear the heart sounds and these now may be magnified and recorded by modern electric apparatus. Similarly the electric changes accompanying the heartbeat are recorded by the instrument called the electrocardiograph.

KARPEN WEEK

is for women who desire distinctive homes

In every community a few homes are outstanding. They may be pretentious or modest, for their charm and individuality are not dependent merely upon their cost. Usually their distinction is the result of wise and careful furniture selection by women of inherent good taste who keep well informed on all phases of modern decoration and furnishing.

They are women who know the priceless value of smart backgrounds for social activities; women who realize the importance to family life of artistry and beguiling comfort in home environment. And it is they who unconsciously set the standard of fine living in every locality.

This week is set aside for women everywhere who wish to create more distinguished interiors. It is Karpén Furniture Week, when selection is aided by an unusual exhibit of charming pieces adaptable to every home.

Chevrolet Foundry One of the Best

Saginaw, Michigan, one of the finest industrial centers in the middle west, because of its proximity to the Great Lakes water transportation, is fast regaining the fame it knew back in the rugged days when it was the timber capital of America.

Today, Saginaw is the home of the Chevrolet foundry with a pouring capacity of 1,000 melting tons a day. The first of next year, by reason of intensive construction work now progressing, Saginaw will be the home of one of the world's largest foundries with a capacity of 2,000 tons a day, and will boast one of the world's most modern inland docks at which pig iron and sand will be unloaded from lake points to be cast into millions of Chevrolet castings.

Foundations for the 212,364 foot addition, which will almost double the present floor space, are now completed.

As early as December 1, it is anticipated, the foundrymen will be at work in their new quarters. And by the time the ice breaks on the Great Lakes next spring, the great 650 foot dock will be receiving the lake freighters with a loading capacity of 40,000 tons a month.

The present foundry, originally the Grey Iron Foundry of the Saginaw Products Company, a subsidiary of the General Motors Corporation, was built in 1919 and was taken over by the Chevrolet Motor Company in September, 1927. Prior to that time it had been specializing on Buick, Oakland and part of Chevrolet's cylinder block and head castings.

The present foundry in the relatively small space of the present buildings, has been showing a daily output almost the equal of foundries with three and four times the room and double the man power. Arnold Lenz, superintendent of the Saginaw foundry, and generally credited as being responsible for the remarkable output record, says that concentrated effort, more than revolutionary equipment.

The new foundry, however, Lenz says, will introduce several innovations. There will be many labor saving devices. The new cupolas will be so constructed as to be capable of 20 consecutive hours operation instead of the nine they now operate.

Fine Program at Loew's State, Newark

A reporter, a girl and a dog, in a desperate adventure of the underworld of a great city, are the thrilling figures in "Shadows of the Night", Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's adventure of newspaper life which comes to the Loew's State Theatre, Newark, Monday, October 15th.

Lawrence Gray, Louise Lorraine and "Flash", famous police dog actor, playing the leading roles, and Warner Richmond, Polly Moran, Tom McGuire, Eddie Sturgis, Tom Dugan, G. Raymond Nye and others of note are in the cast. D. Ross Lederman directed the op.

"Flash" and Richmond stage what is said to be a sensational man-and-dog battle, and the dog's adventure rescuing his master from a gangster prison, a sensational automobile chase and other dramatic highlights mark the rapid-fire drama of thrills and romance.

On the new stage program starting Monday are the Perezcaro Sisters Mexican Revue and Mexican Orchestra, a company of 12 people in a flashy dance and song number. Others who will entertain on the stage will be Glenn and Jenkins, those colored singers, dancers and comedians; in "Working for the Railroad"; Morgan and Sheldon, in "A Dash of Red" a comedy and singing act; John R. Walsh, known as "America's Lyric Baritone," in Popular songs and ballads; and Gibson and Rice juggling.

A Synchronized talkie comedy is on the program of short films rounding out the bill. It is called "Imagine My Embarrassment" and has Charley Chase as its featured player.

Pretty Pet Skunk Follows Small Boy

Berwick—It may have been a little lamb that followed Mary to school one day, but it is a skunk that follows six-year-old William Grassley.

The boy stroked and fed the animal when it was found, just a tiny creature, in the cellar of the Grassley home, and it became his inseparable companion. Thoroughly domesticated, it trails William about six inches back of his heels.

Wherever he goes, so goes the skunk, and there usually is a crowd watching the perambulations of the lad with his strange pet.

The animal is a particularly pretty one.

A Rich Man's Darling or a Poor Man's Slave?

FOR a girl reared in her father's saloon, Anna's exquisite beauty seemed incredible. Yet how she loathed her surroundings! If someone would only take her away and give her a chance for real happiness.

When wealthy Carl Morton, struck by her beauty, offered to "adopt" her—give her a lovely home, beautiful clothes—everything—it seemed her dreams had come true. But when Anna realized that she was simply being "bought," she flamed with revolt. Since her father was determined on the "adoption," there was only one way out. That night she boarded a train for the city, where, friendless and alone, she soon found herself eking out a miserable existence.

Then Frank Weston came into her life.

Frank was poor, but loved her—wanted to marry her. But at thought of the future, Anna's heart quailed. Life with Frank meant honorable marriage—but it also meant more poverty, hardship and struggle. Could she do it? Were honest love and her own honor worth the sacrifice? Carl Morton, who offered her every luxury, would still welcome her. Would it not after all be better to be a rich man's darling than a poor man's slave? Don't miss the rest of this profoundly moving story. It is entitled "Is There Any Escape," and appears complete in the November True Story Magazine.

Don't Make a Toy Out of Baby Babies Have Nerves

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the overstimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness. Fretfulness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity. With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

Friday, Saturday,
Sunday and Monday

To introduce the unequalled quality of our tires to more motorists, we shall give a quality cigarette lighter free to every purchaser of a Michelin Tire Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. It's as fine a cigarette lighter as you ever saw—efficient, good-looking, compact.

If you will need any tires this winter—and of course you will—the time to buy them is Now.

MICHELIN TIRES

Michelin Tires are absolutely the best tires on the market today. Our experience shows they average 4000 or 5000 more miles than other good tires—10,000 more miles than many cheap makes. Yet our prices on Michelines are no more than you'd pay anywhere else for standard tires.

Michelines are safer, too, because they are more skid-proof. Michelin has made some important discoveries in producing rubber that resists skidding on wet or icy roads. That's particularly important at this season—with winter just around the corner. Come in.

Above is illustrated the new Michelin Super-tread Tire—a really wonderful achievement in tire making. It is built especially to deliver mileage under modern driving conditions. High speed, fast starts, quick stops, concrete roads—all hard on tires—have no terrors for this remarkable product.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

RALLY INSTILLS CONFIDENCE FOR G. O. P. VICTORY

Leaders Here Think Demonstration Last Night Bespeaks the Outcome of Local Election

EDGE AND CAREY SPEAK

The interest displayed by the Republicans of the Borough last night in their first big rally and parade of the campaign, gives the leaders of the party much confidence as to the outcome of the election, which is but a little over a week away.

The parade in which about fifty cars participated was led by a rifle and drum corps, and from each car flares turned the streets from night into dusk amid shouting and horn tooting, creating considerable din.

After parading the streets of the Borough the line of march proceeded to the lower end of the town to greet state and county candidates, who were the principal speakers at the rally held in Sharkey and Hall's Auditorium.

Congressman Harold G. Hoffman, who has been representing the 3rd Congressional District of New Jersey, in Washington, and is seeking re-election was one of the principal speakers. The Hon. Walter E. Edge, Judge Robert Carey, Senator Wills, Arnold Kalamen, Clarence Maight, Dr. Louis L. Belloff and Mrs. T. Oliver all spoke on the important issues of the county and state campaign.

Mayor Thomas J. Mulvihill, John J. Lyman, Joseph F. Young and Robert Brown were enthusiastic in asking the support of the meeting, for the Republican State and County candidates as well as for themselves, locally.

Graham Truck Stolen From Michael Toppo

Michael Toppo, huckster of 31 Essex street, reported to the Police Monday night that his truck, which had been parked in front of his home disappeared at about 10 p. m.

The truck is a 1926 model Graham with license plates numbered X70191. The police authorities immediately notified neighboring police of the theft, and also gave a description of the truck.

It is thought that the engine on the truck was not started till the car was pushed considerable distance from the Toppo home, as Toppo said he would have been able to hear the motor if it was started up in front of his home.

OWNER OF STOLEN CAR IS LOCATED

Philadelphia Man Claims Buick Seized Here Last Week. Negro Held for Theft. of Car.

Police authorities were notified Monday by a telegram from the police department in Philadelphia, that the Buick car which is being held here, is the property of a resident of Philadelphia.

The car was seized by the local authorities last week, when two negroes attempted to sell the car to a local boarding-house keeper, who became suspicious, and reported the men to the authorities.

On the appearance of the police, the two negroes attempted to make their getaway. One succeeded, but Ralph Hightower was detained, and has been held pending an effort to locate the owner of the car.

Officers from Philadelphia will come here to take Hightower back with them, and the owner of the car is expected here to claim his machine. An effort is being made to capture the accomplice in the theft.

Jr. Hadassah Entertain at Hallowe'en Party

A very cordial reception is awaiting the many guests of Junior Hadassah who will attend their Hallowe'en Party, Wednesday evening, October 31, 1928, at Rockman's Annex.

Miss Ruth I. Brown, who will act as Entertainment Hostess, with her committee is arranging a very diversified and unusual program of amusements for the evenings entertainment.

Novel invitations in keeping with the Hallowe'en Season and made under the supervision of Miss Bertha Rubel have been sent out.

Many responses have been received in the affirmative which are greatly heartening and are lending a vim and zest to the final preparations for an enjoyable evening sponsored by the girls.

Music for dancing has been secured by Miss Mildred Brown, chairman of the music committee, who promises something different than the usual run of orchestras.

At a special meeting held at the home of Miss Minnie Chodash, Thursday evening, reports of the refreshment committee were submitted. Delicacies in Hallowe'en fashion will be in vogue.

The decorating of the hall by the girls of Junior Hadassah promises a scene of Hallowe'en grandeur.

There is no doubt that every effort is being put forth to maintain the usual standard for Junior Hadassah entertainments and this party promises to outdo all others. The many guests are assured a most wholesome and enjoyable evening."

Rags or Rubies—He's Still the Barrymore

John Barrymore didn't earn his laurels as one of the greatest stars in the history of the stage or screen by always appearing debonaire and fastidiously groomed. Immaculate or disheveled, in gold braid or tatters, he is still what critics concede to be the most convincing actor of modern times.

For instance, in "Tempest," his new United Artists picture, which is at the Ritz Theatre this Wednesday and Thursday. With modern Russia as a background, Barrymore appears as a dashing army officer who loves a princess and is railroaded to prison by her aristocratic fiance. In the dungeon scenes, in which the star is revealed in rags, unkempt and wearing long hair and beard, one would scarcely recognize the romantic character of the earlier episodes.

Barrymore himself believes that "Tempest" will be received by the public as the outstanding screen effort of his notable career. The story is the first one with a modern setting that he has made in several years.

Camilla Horn, the fair-haired European actress who was persuaded to give up a starring contract abroad and to come to America to play opposite Barrymore, has the role of the princess. Other well-known players in the large supporting cast are Louis Wolheim, George Fawcett, Ulrich Haupt, Boris de Fes, Lena Malena and Albert Conti.

Sam Taylor directed the United Artists special. The Barrymore company worked on a day and night schedule over a period of several months during the filming of the picture.

State Trooper Anthony Wilhelm spent several days with his parents at 187 Roosevelt avenue. He returned to headquarters in Pleasantville, Wednesday.

ZIMMERMAN HEAD OF CONGREGATION

Because of Successful Administration for Two Terms is Re-elected—Others Chosen.

Because of the successful administration of the work done by President Isidore Zimmerman of the Congregation of Loving Justice, the members at one of the largest gatherings ever held redrafted and re-elected Isidore Zimmerman for a third term as its head. Although there was a contest for this high office, Mr. Zimmerman scored over Isidore Schwartz and Samuel B. Friedman.

The officers elected were Isidore Zimmerman, President; Solomon Rosenbloom, Vice President; Thomas Shapiro, Treasurer; Frank Brown, Financial Secretary and Reverend I. Schwartz, Recording Secretary. The four Trustees are Jacob Weiss, David Lehrer, Charles Mittleman and Jacob Carpenter.

A banquet is being arranged and will follow the installation of the officers at the next meeting. Prominent out-of-town speakers have been procured for this affair.

During the last year much charity was given to hospitals and institutions throughout the country.

Mr. Zimmerman has given a great deal of time and attention to the congregation during his previous terms of office, that he was prevailed upon to again accept as president. His activities both personal and in the interests of the Congregation for charitable and hospital institutions has been the outstanding points of his fine character.

CLAIM CREDIT FOR E. RAHWAY GROWTH

Beneficial Administration Cites Dominant Factor There.

According to a statement issued by leaders of the Republican party, the people of East Rahway have the present administration to thank for the growth of their part of the borough. In their claims the party make the following assertions:

The Republican Party has predicted that the East Rahway section was destined to become the most important residential section of our Borough. That that prediction has become a fact is now realized by everyone. It only needed the impetus and stimulation of public improvements. These improvements are now a fact.

Gas, electricity, sewer and water facilities have been provided during the past two years. Fire hydrants for the entire section as well as the Boulevard Section have been ordered from the Middlesex Water Company, and will soon be installed. This will result in greater fire protection and lower insurance premiums for the property owners.

Next year the new concrete road will be completed to the end of the Borough which will give better transportation facilities.

As a result of these improvements large tracts of land have been purchased for development and a number of houses have been erected and many more are now under construction.

In a few years this section will be entirely built up with high class residences.

This result will be due to the progressiveness and foresightedness of the Republican Administration.

BOYS RUN INTO CARS UNINJURED

Two Similar Accidents Reported to Police During Past Week. Both Boys Fortunate.

Milton Farr, of 155 Reid street, Elizabeth, reported to the police here Wednesday that Clifford McGory, eight years old, in making a dash to cross Roosevelt avenue ran into Farr's car. Farr said he stopped and offered to take the boy to a doctor, but the lad grinned and said he was all right. The accident happened near the corner of Roosevelt avenue and Frederick street, in East Rahway.

Another accident of a similar nature happened when Joseph Dafeck aged 6 years, of East Rahway ran into the front fender of a car driven by Joseph Mosher, 199 Pulaaski avenue, Perth Amboy, Wednesday, in front of the Columbus School. The boy was thrown to the pavement. Mosher rushed the boy to the office of Dr. Joseph Wantoch, who after an examination said the boy was uninjured.

St. Joseph's Notes

Masses are now said every Sunday at 7:30, 9:00 and 10:30. Sunday, 7:30 p. m., Rosary, sermon and Benediction. Week-day mass in church at 7:30 a. m.

The 7:30 Mass, Sundays, not only starts promptly, but is the shortest on account of people who must work, or housekeepers who must get others off to 9:00 o'clock Mass.

The 9:00 o'clock Mass is very popular. All the children of the parish both those of Parochial and public schools attend. Special instruction is given to the children.

The course of sermons at the morning Masses is at present on the Sacrament of Marriage.

The evening course conducted by the Rev. James H. Grady, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's is on the Sacrifice of the Mass.

The attendance last week showed a marked improvement, and before long hundreds will be anxious to hear these interesting instructions. Many non-Catholics eagerly accept invitations to hear a reasonable and clear explanation of the most important Catholic doctrine and practice.

Last Sunday Father Grady beautifully and devotionally described the Altar, its history and symbolism, also touching on the meaning and use of white linens, candles, flowers and crucifix.

This week he will refer to the Chalice itself, the purification and corporal linens used at Mass, and to some extent upon the various vestments used at the important ceremonies.

The Bazaar continues this week. Never before was there a display of such attractions and useful articles. A last chance will be given the friends of St. Joseph's parish to contribute money or time or articles to this important annual benefit.

The Bazaar, being conducted by St. Joseph's parish will continue tonight and tomorrow night, and as the last few days of the affair have not been so well attended there is an abundance of prizes to be won on these last two nights.

Dr. Maurice Goodman has recovered entirely from his recent operation.

Thomas Kinnely of Emerson street is spending a few days with relatives in Brooklyn.

MOORE, EDWARDS AND DILL TO BE HEARD MONDAY

Other County and State Candidates Will Speak as Well as Local Office Seekers.

EXPECT OVATION IN BORO

Citizens of the Borough will be given an opportunity to hear the state, county and local candidates, from the same stage on Monday evening at the High School Auditorium, when the local Democratic organization will stage a monster mass meeting.

The Hon. A. Harry Moore, Governor of the State of New Jersey will bring up the various issues of the campaign, and his speech will more than likely be keenly anticipated. Hon. Edward I. Edwards, U. S. Senator and William L. Dill, Democratic candidate for Governor will follow the speech by Mr. Moore.

Hon. John R. Phillips, candidate for Congress and John E. Toolan, Prosecutor of Middlesex County are the other speakers of State and County reputation. Former Mayor Joseph A. Hermann, William Lawlor, Edward J. Heil, Francis A. Monaghan, assistant prosecutor of Middlesex County and the local candidates, Charles A. Conrad, William D'Zurilla and Benedict Kathe, will give the audience the Democratic views of the local situation.

Woman's Club to Hear Lecture on Decoration

"Interior Decroation" will be the topic of a speaker who will address the members of the Carteret Woman's Club, Friday afternoon, in the borough hall. Te speaker is from the Bamberger store in Newark. Several members of the club attended the Northern Conference of Federated Woman's Clubs, in Montclair recently. In the delegation were: President, Mrs. Emil Strem-lau, Mrs. Thomas G. Kenyon, Mrs. John Roe, Mrs. William Hagan, Mrs. Julius Kloss, Mrs. Sam Harris, Mrs. Thomas Currie, Mrs. John Groome and Mrs. Fred Wood.

VICE CHANCELLOR'S DECISION

Vice-Chancellor Berry, refused to grant an injunction to the Homesite Realty Company, to keep Charles A. Brady from trespassing on their property.

According to the owners of the Homesite Park Tract, which holds its opening sale beginning tomorrow, Mr Brady has claim to five lots on the tract, which they do not dispute. However, the Fidelity Title and Mortgage Guaranty Company, of Newark, contest the rights of Mr. Brady to the five lots. The matter will more than likely be taken into the courts for settlement.

HIBERNIANS DANCE

The Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold their semi-annual dance on Saturday evening, November 3, at Sharkey and Hall's Auditorium. Music will be by Vacka's Orchestra, of Elizabeth.

RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

City Mainly French

About 75 per cent of Montreal's population of 1,130,000 is of French origin.

TELL OF BURIED CITY AND NEAPS OF GOLD

Prospectors Outdo Verne and Rider Haggard.

San Francisco.—Three prospectors slipped in off the desert in a battered old auto recently with a story that begins where Jules Verne and Rider Haggard stopped. It had to do with a buried city laden with millions of dollars' worth of gold and highly preserved bottles of no less than 700 men and women who grew to a height of six feet six inches and upward.

This Golconda of modern times remains somewhat of a secret as far as definite location is concerned, but it is partly under the Colorado river at a point along the California-Arizona line, according to the sponsors of its existence. It is reached by a shaft about 28 miles in length, paved with blocks held together by red cement, and lies three miles under the surface—according to the prospectors.

Backing Sought.
They are C. J. Howard of Houston, Texas; his wife, and Reuben King of Denver and San Antonio.

Howard, acting as spokesman, attempted to persuade Prof. A. L. Kroeber, head of the anthropology department of the University of California, that the university should finance an expedition to unearth all this vast wealth. The scientist informed Howard that the university has no funds for such a purpose. Professor Kroeber, as a matter of fact, was inclined to discount the veracity of the strange things he heard about the underground city of Babylonian elegance, but hastened to add that "nothing is impossible."

"We are only desert rats," explained Howard, "but we know we have located more buried treasure than has ever been uncovered in this country. There will be a lot of soreheads when we find the help we need and prove we have the goods."

"We know we are telling a story hard to believe, but are willing to take anyone with money to the buried city and let him see the treasure with his own eyes."

Finds Buried City.
"About three years and eight months ago we were prospecting for gold along the California-Arizona desert country. One day I was working in a 29-foot shaft when my pick broke through to an abandoned mining shaft. It was paved with square beveled stones fastened with red cement. They looked very old. I followed the shaft for 28 miles and came to the buried city."

Howard described in detail how he entered a great circular chamber with a table extending almost entirely across its diameter, at which were seated "the almost nude bodies of 72 persons," six feet six inches or taller, with "blue eyes," which were open, and with "flesh white and firm, having been preserved in an extraordinary manner."

In another room, which Howard opined might have been the harem, were the bodies of 200 women.

The city had trapdoors and all kinds of plain and fancy levers and mechanism, Howard declared.

He said they cached $18,000 in gold dust which they retrieved, and King went to Cheyenne to try to finance the expedition. By the time the trio went back to the cache the cabin in which it had been secreted had been washed away by the flood of a fresher, he said, thus delaying them in getting their story to the world from which they hope to obtain finances.

Hunters Expect to Find Waterfowl Plentiful

Wild geese and ducks which have been migrating through the stages of their annual flight in the west and south, are beginning to drop down from cloud lands in big flocks, into the bays and rivers along the New Jersey Coast. Old hunters say it is too early to predict the size of the flight, this year, but judging from the great flocks that milled and traded along the coast last winter, there is every reason to expect another mighty visitation from these feathered voyagers.

The open season for the waterfowl in New Jersey will begin October 16 and continue to February 1. Crow ducks or coots will furnish the chief sport at the opening of the season, along with black ducks, many of which remain the year round in the Jersey marshes. Brant will provide the biggest supply of food and sport during the entire season, but hunters who are fortunate enough to be on their gunning points when the flights are on, will find plenty of pin-tails, red-heads, Mallards and the big Canadian "hokers" before the season ends.

Banregat Bay, with its fifty miles of water and its many islands, is one of the best wild-fowl hunting grounds in America. The migrating birds come by the millions to this feeding ground and the sight of the great flocks in flight across a sunset sky is one not to be forgotten by winter visitors. Other parts of the coast, as well as inland rivers and ponds, also furnish good hunting until weather becomes too severe.

The daily bag limit for waterfowl, as fixed by the game laws, allows a hunter a maximum of 25 in the aggregate of all kinds of duck (except wood duck) eight geese, eight brant.

Many New Year Days
The glad new year is welcomed in September in several parts of the world. The Parsis or fire worshippers of India take two days to it, the 7th and 8th. Abyssinia also takes two days, the 11th and 12th. In Palestine, Egypt, Iraq, Syria and Turkey the 15th and 16th are legal holidays for the Jewish new year.

Spanish Blood in Ireland
About 1000 B. C. the sons of Milesius of Spain invaded and conquered Ireland. The Irish race is popularly known as the Milesius race because its members were largely descendants from Milesius. It was a Celtic tribe, as were the others that blended with it to be known as the Gauls. This accounts for the Spanish names and influences in Ireland.

Cape Town to Cairo is Chevrolet Trek

News of the conclusion of what was perhaps the most hazardous endurance test ever undertaken by an automobile—the famous Chevrolet trek up through the center of Africa from Cape Town to Cairo—has just reached the United States in the form of the following brief cable from General Motors, South African Ltd., "Chevrolet expedition reached Cairo August 6. All the way by road, no boats, no rail. The greatest achievement of its kind in automotive history. Sedan and truck in excellent mechanical condition."

Recently the expedition, consisting of a standard Chevrolet sedan and truck, manned by four adventurers, has in all probability, crossed the Bosphorus to Constantinople. 24 large European cities are to be visited before it arrives in London. Ten thousand miles will have been traversed when it concludes its history making trip in Stockholm.

The Coolidge message, which informed the world of the finish of the 6,000 Cape-Town - Cairo journey in the astonishing time of 135 days, was lacking in detail, but it sufficed, for the time being, to satisfy American Chevrolet officials that no trail however perilous is too difficult for a standard Chevrolet car.

Of the earlier stages of the perilous undertaking there was no lack of detail. From the day the expedition set forth from Cape Town, on March 7, at the height of the rainy season, vivid accounts of the trek were sent back to civilization at intermittent intervals. The party is not lacking in competent historians. Besides C. H. V. Lacey, the chief, the party includes Gordon Makepeace, newspaper man; Wallie Wilson, expert wireless operator, and Billie Williams, famous cinematographer. Published accounts of the journey were made possible from time to time through the cooperation of the famous South African Argus group of newspapers.

No summary such as is necessary here, can do justice to this paunt over "the great North road," Cecil Rhodes dream highway. Knee deep in water for weeks at a time, the expedition plugged doggedly on across treacherous crocodile infested, Bahora Flats and the swollen banks of the Ruyn river. The Bahora Flats are 70 miles across, yet it required the intrepid Chevrolet expedition 17 days to effect a passage.

The sedan is outfitted with two spare petrol tanks each holding seven gallons. It has detachable gauze windows, and seats that drop back to allow sleeping accommodations. Wire screens were fitted in front of the radiators of both sedan and truck to prevent grass seeds and mud from choking the radiators.

Inside the sedan, rifles and shot guns are slung up under the roof. The tire carriers at the rear of both cars have been altered to carry two spare tirespare tires. Oversize tires 31 by 5.00 are used. Both cars are equipped with bumpers, and two lights and a heat meter.

The expedition is expected to end its journey in Stockholm this month.

Lake Has Own Fauna
Fish in Lake Balkal are not typical of Arctic ocean variety. They are more like the fish fauna of the North temperate region in general, but in detail they are peculiar to Lake Balkal, because that lake has been isolated for long eons of time, and therefore has developed a fauna peculiar to itself.

Historic English Oak
The Royal oak stood near the farm of Boscebel, in Shropshire, England, and for 24 hours afforded concealment to Char'es II after the battle of Worcester, in 1651. The tree was destroyed after the Restoration by relic hunters, but an oak grown from an acor: of the original tree stands on the spot, and there is another, said to have been planted by the king, in Hyde park.

The Kiss in History
Originally, in Oriental life, the kiss had a religious significance. With the ancient Jews and Teutons it was a mark of veneration and affection and as common a salutation between men as the handshake is today. The early Arabians worshiped their gods with kisses. Household gods were thus greeted on entering and leaving the home. And with the Persians the kiss of honor was a national custom.—Exchange.

Great Pyramid Despoiled
The rough limestone rocks on the surface of the Great pyramid are believed to have been covered with a solid marble casing. These stones probably began to be removed about 1,000 A. D. for the beautification of Cairo.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Civic pride and community spirit are not measured in costly publicity campaigns, high-salaried press agents, population and public wealth. If they were, the small town would register but faintly these greatly-to-be-desired community virtues.

The truth is that civic pride and community spirit are to be found in their purest and most unselfish form in the small town. The reasons are obvious. In the small town one finds that unity of purpose and neighborliness that are ever absent in large centers of population. Cross-purposes, class conflicts and cut-throat business tactics are foreign to the community of limited population.

Great cities, only, can afford to spend thousands advertising their advantages. They can buy magazine, newspaper and billboard advertising space, hire "directors of public relations" and finance vast civic improvements, industrial expansion programs and real estate developments. But these material manifestations do not make civic pride and community spirit.

The citizen of the small town takes the greatest pride in his community. The small town newspaper supports every community project and cooperates with every worthy local organization. The small town merchant glories in the fact that he builds his home town when he builds his business. And the small town manufacturer and factory worker know their products are bringing wealth to the community.

When you find civic pride and community spirit in the small town you know it is the real thing, not the synthetic product of hired boosters.

A GOOD TOWN

Put a peg of prosperity into your community by staying with it. Always greet your neighbors with a grasp of confidence. Criticise the spirit of Godspeed.

Say a good word if it hurts. Remember that those who insist on hanging themselves will do it if given enough rope.

Give your neighbor a right to an opinion as long as he keeps it to himself.

Discuss questions involving your better welfare instead of arguing with them.

Apply the Golden Rule regardless of consequences.

Back up your churches and relative affiliations. You will feel better and besides are setting a good example for the young people.

Give the young people plenty of pleasure.

Failures reflect on the entire town. See what you can do to keep your neighbor on top of the water. Don't let him drown.

Let's have more handshakes and arm in arm conferences with a good will parting. It adds to the day's events.

Let's break the shell and step out. The world is wondering what we are going to do next. Let's show 'em.

A SECRET OF HAPPINESS

"If you don't care for the things you can't obtain you will be fairly happy."

On the surface it is not an inspiring message. Not to care for the things we can't obtain is to resign, give up, be supine. And when we quit in life's struggle we pay a dear price, indeed, for our meagre mete of happiness. Most of us perhaps, would rather keep on fighting. There is joy in the fight; joy at least to know there is fight in us.

Let us reverse the formula.

"If you care enough for the things you have obtained, you will be supremely happy."

The humble farmer, on his little farm—if he loves that farm—may be happy beyond compare. If he loves it well, he will till it well, intelligently, thoroughly, and it will yield him rich store. The widowed mother in the little cottage, has her children, and if she loves them well they will be her life. The clerk at the desk, if he loves his work, will be happy at it. Or the motorman in his cab of steel, may find in the easy response of the throbbing motors and his rolling palace, a sense of responsibility for the passing multitude that will bring him pride and joy.

To be truly happy in our lot we need not be contented. Indeed, happiness and contentment, while we keep moving on life's highway, are not to be reconciled. If we love the work we do, we shall be thrilled not alone to do it well, but to do it better.

Far away fields are always green to too many of us. Only after many fruitless pilgrimages is the simple truth borne home that if the field at our door is not attractive and verdant it is because we do not water its shrubs and grasses. If we love our field we will tend it. And, more important, if we tend it we will come to love it.

And this to them in whom ambition burns. Only by the degree to which you prove yourself true to the modest task of today can you fit yourself for, or inspire others to entrust you with greater duties tomorrow.

Labor Unions Enormous Force in the Movement for Human Betterment

By JOHN H. WALKER, President Illinois Federation of Labor.

The labor movement is doing more to establish the proper Christian relationship as advocated by Jesus Christ between men on earth than any other institution. Were those two great organizations (trade unionism and Christianity) working together in the cause of human betterment, this world would soon become a better place to live in.

All through the Bible you find paragraphs which urge patience, tolerance, broad-mindedness, kindness, knowledge and understanding. Christ makes clear that these qualities are of greater value than the material things of life. How much more necessary are they now than then, when the means of making a livelihood are so much more complicated.

President Gompers said that 10 cents an hour increase in the pay envelope of a working man whose mind was harassed with the worry of not being able to provide for a family properly would do more to develop culture and spirituality in that man and his wife, not to mention its reflex effect upon the family and his associates, than all the preaching and philosophizing in the world.

Every trade unionist should be a Christian. Every Christian who is eligible to membership should be a trade unionist.

Apparently the only thing over which there is no dispute these days is the multiplication table.

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty and also useful in the conduct of the banking business.

FORTUNE IN PEARLS STOLEN FROM TOMBS

Burial Places of Imperial Manchus Desecrated.

Peking.—At least 65 pounds of large pearls of the finest luster were looted from the Imperial Manchu tombs at Tung Ling, according to a report which the Peking Chamber of Commerce has made to the local military authorities.

Of this total there are now 173 fine pearls in possession of Peking curio and jewel merchants, and these are to be given to the Chamber of Commerce president at once for safe keeping until the Nanking government decides what is to be done with them. They may be returned to the desecrated tombs or they may be sold for the benefit of the colony of 50,000 Manchus who live around the tombs and who now are destitute.

The lowest estimate of the value of the loot from the tomb is $17,000,000, and from this minimum the estimates run clear up to $50,000,000.

As yet no trace has been found of the two "jade melons" which were buried in the coffin of the famous Empress Dowager of Boxer days, Tsu Hsi. These "jade melons" were globular pieces of the finest apple-green jade, each about the size of an average cantaloupe. They were both richly encrusted with inlaid diamonds and emeralds of great size, and they rank among the most valuable pieces of jewelry in the world.

Already myth and superstition are playing their part in the tales told about the violation of the Manchu tombs by former northern troops who, at the time of the outrage, had "gone over" to the Nationalists.

An Imperial Looter. Many of the "old style" residents of Peking, the Chinese of classical culture, assert that while death should be meted out to the looters of the tomb of the Empress Dowager, no punishment should be inflicted upon those who were concerned only in the looting of the tomb of the Emperor Chien Lung.

Chien Lung, who was the Louis XIV of China and who enjoyed the longest and most illustrious reign of any Chinese emperor, is said to have looted the tombs of the Ming, who preceded the Manchus as imperial rulers. The looting of Chien Lung's tomb is, therefore, declared to be merely "heavenly justice" manifesting itself after the lapse of more than a century and a half.

History affords no proof of the charge that Chien Lung violated the Ming tombs, nor does the present condition of these magnificent mausolea support the story of his guilt, but for many decades it has been rumored that many of Chien Lung's treasures and jewels were secretly taken from the tombs of the dynasty which preceded his own.

The common people of Peking now tell, with bated breath, how a mysterious sign of heavenly displeasure saved from violation the tomb of Kang Hsi, the emperor who ruled for nearly 60 years from the middle of the Seventeenth century to the early years of the Eighteenth.

Carried "Credentials." The tale goes that after looting the tomb of the Empress Dowager—that of Chien Lung the thieves started to open the tomb of Kang Hsi and were startled when a spring of muddy water, "the color of imperial yellow," gushed forth. Within a few minutes the thieves found themselves ankle deep in this mysterious flood, and then they fled in terror.

Mr. Liu Jen-jui, the man appointed by Nanking to make an investigation of the looted mausolea, reports that the tombs underwent a second looting by a man named Sung Yuming.

This person Sung, soon after the news of the looting got abroad, appeared at the Tung Ling tombs carrying what looked like a letter of appointment and credentials qualifying him as "custodian for the Nanking government of the Tung Ling tombs."

Sung's credentials were not questioned at first, and he hastened to remove from the tombs 242 bronze idols and ten blue picture scrolls from the brush of Emperor Chien Lung himself. Most of the bronze idols have been found by the Peking police, but the invaluable scrolls have disappeared, as has the much-sought Sung Yuming.

Bogus Generals Collect Tribute From Chinese

Peking.—Bogus army commanders have been causing the authorities trouble of late in several parts of China. In one or two instances a sort of district civil war was on the verge of breaking out when the regular army officers heard of the fraud.

The "general" and his staff, while the recruiting progresses, try to convince the people that they are about to be attacked and that they must put up money for their own defense. Some of these self-styled generals carry forged documents of appointment as commanders in chief, and have been operating in such numbers that Gen. Chang Yin-Wu, emergency commandant of the Peking district, has organized a special department to deal with them.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

PLAN TREK FROM MISSOURI TO COAST

Covered Wagon Train to Traverse Old Trail.

Kansas City, Mo.—Widespread interest in the covered wagon train which will set out from here next spring for Sacramento, Calif., is being indicated by letters received by the Chamber of Commerce and Capt. Charles E. Davis, sponsor of the train, from many parts of the country.

The letters, which contain information relative to covered wagons, ox teams and old trails, come from old "bull whackers" (ox team drivers), historical societies and persons interested in the reproduction of the life of 1849.

The covered wagon caravan is expected to start from the old Westport Landing and travel to Sacramento to take part in the eightieth annual celebration of the gold rush of '49.

Captain Davis' contention that many historical societies do not have sufficient information about the covered wagon days has been proved in part by discovery that the Kansas State Historical society has been unable to assist in giving information about the covered wagon caravans.

One of the letters received was from J. E. Long, sixty-five years old, Claremore, Okla., who said he had not handled a team of oxen for several years, but believes he can hit a fly with a nine-foot whip, such as used by "bull whackers."

Long said plenty of oxen teams could be obtained in southern lumber camps.

Another bit of information received in the letters is that some of the covered wagons were equipped with speedometers.

Some of the wagon wheels, the informant wrote, were as much as eight feet in diameter. The speedometers on the wagon consisted of a stick fastened on a spoke so it would strike a part of the wagon. A member of the party would keep record of the number of times the stick struck the wagon.

At the end of the day's journey, the number of miles covered would be computed from the number of revolutions the wagon wheel had made.

Thus the number of miles from one place to another was learned and maps were made showing the distances between landmarks, trading posts, water holes, rivers, and other important places along the trails.

Persian Tea Rooms
Tea drinking is the universal habit of Persia. There are a great many tea houses to meet the demands of all classes. Some are very elaborately furnished and others have the rudest kind of equipment. These establishments are used as meeting places and often business between merchant and patron is conducted there. Smoking always accompanies the cup of tea.

Early Sealing Wax
Common beeswax was first used as a sealing wax, being mixed with earthy materials to give it consistency. The Venetians brought the Indian sealing wax to Europe. The Indian wax was made only of shellac, colored with vermilion, or some other pigment, and this has been found superior to all other materials.

"Liberty Bell" Foundry Oldest London Business

London.—The ancient bell foundry, where America's "Liberty Bell" was cast, is reputed to be the oldest business in London.

The property of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, it was originally established in 1570 at Essex street, Whitechapel, whence it was removed to its present site in Whitechapel road during 1738.

A bell cast at the foundry in 1594 for the English village of Staplehurst was sent back to the firm for repairs 300 years later. "Big Ben," the huge bell that tolls the hours in the clock tower surmounting the British houses of parliament, came from this foundry, as did also York minister's "Great Peter" and Lincoln cathedral's "Great Tom."

Holds Perfect Pinochle Hand and Falls Dead

Newark, N. J.—Frank Ozol looked at a hand of pinochle he had just dealt himself and toppled over, dead. Friends said it was a perfect hand. Heart trouble was given as the cause of his death.

A perfect hand in a four-handed pinochle game, is all the cards of a suit, 12, which would permit the holder to meld 1,520 points and to take 250 points in tricks, a total of 1,770 points, the highest number of points that may be made in one hand.

New Form of Violin Body

Instead of being curved, the body of a violin constructed by a Chicago maker is angular, the form enabling the player to reach farther on the strings although his finger may be short, and making the instrument easier to hold under the chin, says Popular Science Magazine. At the same time, an improvement in tone is claimed for this pattern.

Charles Williams to Appear in 'Frivolities'

Charles Williams second comic with Harry Strouse's "Frivolities", next week's Mutual burlesque offering in the Empire Theatre, Newark, starting Sunday matinee, October 28th, will not be in a secondary position in stagelands for many moons. Some smart producers of big Broadway musical revues is going to sign this clever eccentric funster and then Williams will follow in the footsteps of Clark and McCullough, Don Barclay, Roscoe Ails, Lester Allen and the innumerable host who have preceded him from burlesque to stardom. Boxing on Thursday nights.

Use Reason in Command

Truly, a command of gall cannot be obeyed like one of sugar. A man must require just and reasonable things, if he would see the scales of obedience properly trimmed. From orders which are improper springs resistance, which is not easily overcome.—Basil.

Fireproofing Paradox

Selenium of itself is very combustible, but when a dilute solution is applied to the insulation of braided telephone wires it makes the line quite flame-proof. The paradox is not very clearly explained, but there are a few other chemicals which behave in the same manner.

Important New Metal

A discovery likely to prove of the greatest importance in wireless and X-ray work and, indeed, in electrical engineering generally, has been made in the production of a new kind of metal which will allow an electric current to pass through it in only one direction.

Dependability, Satisfaction and Honest Value

Better Wings Sought for Safer Airplanes

Washington.—Safer and cheaper airplanes for both civil and military aviation is the objective of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, engaged in continuing research in all the branches of aerodynamics, according to an oral statement by E. H. Chamberlain, acting secretary of the committee.

Explaining that the committee has been concentrating on the matter of airplane design with a view of reducing the hazard of aircraft and at the same time lower the construction costs, Mr. Chamberlain said that these studies have revolved primarily around wing construction. "A plane is no better than its wings," he said, and for that reason the major part of the experimental work at the committee's laboratory at Langley field, Virginia, has been in this direction.

New Coal Fields Found in Siberia

Washington.—The discovery of large coal mines in Siberia is reported, the Department of Commerce was advised by the assistant commercial attaché at Paris, Daniel J. Reagan.

The report says: "Large coal mines in the Khabarevsk region, in the district of Touloupak, Asiatic Russia, have been discovered according to news received from Novosibirsk, by the expedition led by the geologist Jentcheoujnikov. It is said the coal is the same as that extracted from the Tcheremkhov mines, and specimens of this coal have been sent for a minute analysis.

"It is said also that the discovery of these mines will have considerable weight in deciding the question of the construction of a railroad in the Lena region, which latter would be of advantage to the mining enterprises in that country."

Landmark Razed

Chardon, Ohio.—Long a famous landmark of northeastern Ohio, the old Geauga seminary at Chester where President James A. Garfield attended school as a boy, has been torn down.

Blind, Builds Home

Wayne, N. J.—Francis A. Burdette, sixty-three, totally blind for 15 years, has built himself an eight-room two-story-and-one-half house.

Thames Island Lures Speculators to Ruin

London.—The island of Lost Gold is the name which an unbroken succession of ill luck has attached to Tagg's island in the Thames near Hampton Court.

One after the other, successive owners of the island have based great hopes of fortune upon it, and have lost almost all they possessed. Hundreds of thousands of pounds have been lost by its former lessees.

DIVINING ROD GIVES WAY TO MORE MODERN METHODS

Oil Fields Valued at 100 Millions Located by Use of New Wireless Device.

Washington.—New oil fields valued at $100,000,000 have been discovered in California and in several Gulf states through the medium of radio, according to Prof. C. M. Jansky, Jr., in charge of radio work at the University of Minnesota. The Minneapolis man was in Washington recently to urge favorable action by the government on 60 applications for construction permits for radio stations to be used by the oil industry in connection with geophysical explorations.

The day of "wildcatting" is becoming a thing of the past due to more systematic study of the earth's structure to determine its compositions and to locate mineral deposits. "The geologist and the engineer," said Mr. Jansky, "are rapidly replacing the man with the divining rod." The success already achieved with radio in locating petroleum deposits was said to hold great promise also for finding other mineral substances like iron and copper.

Radio is used in geophysical exploration in two ways, according to Professor Jansky. It is used to transmit time signals in connection with seismic waves, that is, for the purpose of timing the occurrence of some phenomenon such as the instant of an explosion. This is the method in extensive use today, and this is the method which a representative of one of the largest oil producing companies in the

By RUTH BRITTAIN

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the overstimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Fretfulness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

Birds Taken on Hooks

Birds frequently are caught by fishermen. Several cases have been known where loons were hooked by bass plugs which the greedy birds pursued and seized under water on their belief they were small fish. Anglers using frogs and casting into the recesses of a bog after bass, have caught bitterns or herons that happened to be frog hunting in the same vicinity.

Oldest Letter Exhibited

The world's oldest letter was shown at the recent exhibition held in London by the British Antique association. It is dated 500 B. C., and refers to the purchase of a field in Babylon. The writing is in cuneiform characters on fire clay, and when found at Ur the epistle was in a clay envelope.

for the benefit of the Mortgage Fund. Every good thinking citizen of Carteret and its suburbs will agree that this good work must go on, but we cannot without the aid of all.

The public is invited to inspect our work at will, and in order to be able to finance our work we are asking the support of every good thinking citizen. Any amount will be accepted.

The First National Bank is the Treasurer for this fund, and donations may be sent there to be placed to the credit of the First Baptist Church.

An appeal to the membership and their friends. As we are small in membership we are asking our friends and members, who if they do their part will make it easy to carry on the great work that is needed among the colored people of Carteret, whom we desire to help. We therefore urge each member and friend to make a special effort in giving a contribution for the purpose of the Mortgage Fund.

Limit in Smallness The malarial parasite is so small as easily to inhabit the interior of a human blood corpuscle, of which five million are normally contained in a cubic millimeter of blood (about one sixth of an average drop.)
