

Pan American Road Steps Nearer to Realization

May Ultimately Link Alaska With Argentina.

Washington.—The longest road project in the world—the Pan American highway—moved another step nearer to realization recently when congress appropriated $1,000,000 to enable the United States to co-operate with Latin American nations in surveying and constructing this new link between the Americas. The sum of $75,000 was also provided for a continuation of reconnaissance surveys in both Central and South America.

sources of needed raw materials, and markets for our manufactures, the United States is most immediately concerned with the opening of the motor road from our southern border to Panama. This section is, in fact, the key to early completion of the whole project.

“At the request of the State department, the United States bureau of public roads, aided by highway engineers of the Central American countries concerned, has made a reconnaissance survey of the route from here to Panama. Of the 1,500 miles of highway through Central America, about 500 miles are open to all-weather traffic.

Needed Supplies for United States. “The survey points out that a road through Central America would penetrate regions that could supply the United States with such needed things as rice, cinnamon, camphor, quinine, rubber, copra, vegetable oils, gums, hemp, etc.

“In further study of trade advantages such a road to Panama would bring us, made in co-operation with the Department of Commerce, the United States bureau of public roads’ report says: ‘Though these countries, and the Caribbean region in general, have been regarded as high-production-cost areas, the cause of this is traceable primarily to lack of cheap transportation, and not to any inherent difficulties of resources, or man-power.

Finishes His Fiftieth Reading of the Bible

New York Physician Is Proud of His Record.

New York.—Bible stories never grow old to Dr. William Woodward, osteopathic physician and bookseller of Tenckers, who recently completed his fiftieth reading of the Bible and celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday, at the same time.

he decided to make his readings of the Scriptures correspond. Although he reads leisurely, as a rule, he once finished the Bible in 18 days, devoting as many as 12 hours a day to it.

Prehistoric House Sites Along Missouri Studied

California Silver Mine Is Now Turning Out Gold

Randsburg, Calif.—One of the world's richest silver mines now turning to gold! To have produced $13,000,000 in silver in ten years, and now to develop gold ore that is running from $30 to $600 a ton, is a record belonging to only one mine in the United States.

HE'S A FIREMAN!

London's firemen are now outfitted with asbestos umbrellas as well as with the regulation asbestos suits. They are protected from falling embers and are able to approach more closely to a burning structure.

Hot Springs Girl Hailed as Prodigy

Hot Springs, Ark.—Hailed as one of the outstanding child prodigies of the age, Janet Grant, eight, of Hot Springs, has been invited to appear in recital in Washington by the International Art Forum.

Adequate highways connecting with the present short water hauls will do much to remedy existing deficiencies. These apply chiefly to agriculture, which will doubtless dominate this region for centuries to come; yet they also pertain to lumbering, with vast hardwood forests thus far undeveloped, and to mining, with mineral resources still undetermined.

“With the funds recently made available by congress, a definite location survey of the road as far as Panama, and a reconnaissance survey of the section from Panama to Argentina, will be made. Such a survey through South America would be highly useful to each country traversed, as a guide to future road-building programs.”

WARM BREEZES

A society belle seldom has a ringing laugh. A woman's idea of a left-handed compliment is a wedding ring. Some men are constantly trying to lower the record for meanness.

AROUND THE WORLD

Poland has 11 educational institutions of university rank. More than $2,000,000 worth of gold was mined in southern Rhodesia last year. To improve the scenery, fluted factory chimneys are appearing in England.

Sweden has more than 8,000 Girl Scouts. This is an increase in one year of nearly 1,000. India and other tropical countries export several million reptile skins a year for the leather trade. Buffalo hunters of Arnhem, Australia, are turning to the capture of alligators because of the increasing world demand for alligator hides.

STRICTLY AMERICAN

The annual cost of crime in the United States amounts to more than $12,000,000,000. Nearly half of the 9,000,000 miles of highways of the world are in the United States. The Shenandoah National park district is to be restocked with deer and other game, once prevalent there. A Maltese cat in the home of Sheriff O. M. Barnes of Hickory, N. C., adopted a brood of mice and raised them.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

The jury system is unreliable. When is there going to be a revolution in that? Some of those who smile, smile the most, still remain suspicious mysteries. Laws may not interfere much with what you want to do, but taxation gets you coming or going.

SUNNY SAYINGS

The dyspeptic can eat his cake and still feel that he has it. “Bacon should never be served half-cooked.” It simply isn't done. Most of the songs sung on the stage by request are at the request of the singer. Two of the most comfortable things in the world are old shoes and old friends.

Flattering Beret a First Choice

To be smartly in fashion these days you must tilt perilously askew your carefully coiffed head a pert beret of either velvet, felt, or that which is very new, quilted taffeta or crepe.

When you see the new berets you understand why the movement is spreading like wildfire throughout the length and breadth of all fashiondom. You could buy a dozen or more of these fascinating new berets and no two would be alike.

It is color you are looking for to enliven your new fall ensemble or to cheer up the black sheer wool afternoon dress which you have wisely invested in for practical afternoon wear, you will find it in the swanky beret adorned scarf as pictured at the top to the left in this group.

SUBDUED GLITTER ENHANCES FROCKS

An avalanche of cellophane fabrics has appeared on the market for fall, adding to the brilliance of the modern age. Wools, silks, synthetics and velvets—all will be seen this fall highlighted with interwoven glints of the popular cellophane.

BLOND FUR COLLARS

Black coats with blond fur collars are especially flattering to Junior girls. Badger and natural lynx promise to be two favorite trimmings of the coming season.

IN THE DINING ROOM

DEAR Mrs. Post: Is it improper to put the left arm on the table while eating, or (2) May one rest one's left wrist or side of the hand against the table edge while eating? (3) Or may one rest both arms on table between courses or while talking after the meal, or (4) Perhaps even rest the elbows on table?

DEAR Mrs. Post: What should be done with the long-handled spoon that is served with iced tea, iced coffee and lemonades? No matter what I do with it, it seems awkward in the glass while sipping or out of the glass on the tablecloth or toppling over the edge of a small centerpiece, which is sometimes put under the glass?

MISCELLANEOUS

DEAR Mrs. Post: I have seen both “betrouhal” and “engagement” used on the society pages of the best papers. Which is preferable, because they mean the same thing, don't they?

DEAR Mrs. Post: What is the simplest and most correct way to let a large number of friends know of our change in address? If we send cards, how should they be worded? Or can we write on visiting cards?

DEAR Mrs. Post: I am sometimes invited to the homes of married friends for dinner or supper, or for the week-end. I have no possible way of returning these invitations because I am single and live in a woman's club.

The Carteret News

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY IN THE YEAR AT THE PLANT OF THE CARTERET NEWS AT 9 COOKE AVENUE, CARTERET, N. J. TELEPHONE, CARTERET 8-0300.

M. E. YORKE, Publisher

Entered as second-class matter June 24, 1908, at the post office at Carteret, N. J., under act of March 3, 1879.

THE CARTERET NEWS was founded June 17, 1908 as THE ROOSEVELT NEWS; was published on Wednesdays until July 15, 1909; was then published on Thursdays until December 6, 1912, since which time it has been a Friday paper. The title of the paper became THE CARTERET NEWS on November 17, 1922, following the election of November 7, 1922, when the people of the Borough voted to change the name of the Borough from Roosevelt to Carteret by a vote of 1652 to 203.

CREDIT DUE

Attempting to run the average municipality under conditions that have existed in the past four years has been a thankless job.

The largest municipalities of the State, as well as many smaller ones, have been unable to meet their daily obligations in the way of payment of bills including salaries of employees.

The leading municipality of the State, Newark, not only had the aid of a special committee made up of bankers and heads of insurance companies, but recently called in a special financial adviser.

One municipality, about the size of Carteret in Union County, has just discovered after investigation of a citizens' committee that it was collecting but 51% of its taxes whereas its bond redemption and interest required 50% of the normal tax. So, that municipality had simply one per cent of its tax income left to carry on. A citizens' committee, which is not through yet, has already recommended the wholesale abolition of various positions. Many municipalities have wiped out job after job and done away with services in many departments.

In Carteret the present administration was faced with many unpaid bills, deficits and over-expenditures that were staggering for a small municipality. The thorough audit made indicated that the Borough was spending away beyond its budget, creating deficits and over-expenditures for the people to meet in the future.

On top of this the municipality ran into a period of steadily dropping tax income. So that, with less than the usual tax income, the municipality was faced with trying to operate and pay off each year a part of the burden left by the previous administration.

Without having to face previous deficits and over-expenditures other municipalities were not able to continue their usual services. Carteret did not abolish a single service. No public employee was laid off. All payrolls were met. In addition to meeting the operating costs of the town, part of the deficit and over-expenditures established in the previous Republican administration were provided for, too.

There has been no wholesale selling of homes here in Carteret even though the law requires it. The Mayor and the Council tried to avoid this and have done so, yet there is hardly a municipality of any size that has not been forced to sell homes in order to get money with which to operate even in a limited way.

The present administration was faced with the burden of debt, unpaid bills, deficits and trying to maintain all services without laying anyone off. It has steadily accomplished this through all manner of manipulation due largely to the solid and long experience of Joseph A. Hermann. He has been a solid anchor to the windward to the community in these terrible times of stress when there has been wholesale lay-offs of municipal employees doing away with services and selling of homes in practically every other municipality.

We have maintained all our services, we have our homes, the deficits and over-expenditures have gradually met and all this has been accomplished together with reduced taxes. This performance, which has not been equalled by any other municipality in the State of New Jersey which have called in all kinds of experts, does not tell the whole story.

In 1931, when the present administration took office, the depression started to get under way in earnest. There was probably not a day went by that the Mayor, himself, did not pay a visit to one plant or another to keep reminding them of the general situation in regard to employment.

Week in and week out during all the dark days, when there was little or no encouragement, he continued to visit the various managers.

This assured that whenever there was an opportunity, cooperation would be had because the Mayor was constantly reminding the managements personally.

Carteret as a whole has made good strides since the low of the depression. No one has gone hungry, no one has been without shelter, relief was available for all. In addition well over 1,500 local men have gone back to work, indicating that the Mayor and Council received cooperation which he sought.

However, few people realize what a job it has been to try to meet payrolls from month to month, maintain services, see that there was adequate relief and keep constantly working in other directions toward community recovery. On the whole Carteret is in much better shape than most communities and has come back faster. No little of this is due to the long years of practical experience in municipal finance and government of the Mayor himself.

As reports from all over the United States indicate, we have a long way to go. In many cases where there has been advances, they have slipped back again and are doing their darndest to try to hold their own right now when there is great uncertainty in business circles.

In this glorious country any boy can fight his way upward to success unless his father leaves him too much spending money.

Some men have pretty theories about the duty of capital, and some have to meet a payroll every Saturday.

Some young men forge ahead in the world, and some learn to make three-ball combinations for the side pocket.

A man's wife has to hunt his things for him, but a bachelor knows his are on the floor.

When a man tells a girl why his wife doesn't understand him it usually is because his wife does.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Summer Schools

You may be either fortunate or unfortunate if your child has to attend summer school in order to make up conditioned subjects. When summer schools were first introduced, I think most parents, and children too, were most unfortunate. There was only one purpose—study. The hardest, kind of study, and both teachers and pupils were worn out after the regular term.

But many summer schools are different today. More recognition is given to the child's health and his recreational needs. Ample time is allowed for organized play and rest. In many instances, it is really great fun to attend summer school. There are courses in handicraft, nature, manual training, Scouting and the like. The children put on plays for their parents. There are parties and picnics.

Such is the type of school that will keep children happy, contented, and well during the heat of summer. How much better it is than idleness, discontent, and perhaps misadventure. I mention it because I hope that some day every city and town will have one or more summer play schools for children compelled to remain at home.

What Should Children Eat in Summer? Dr. Ireland answers next week.

In Good Times and Bad Electric Rates Were Cut

No other item in the household budget gives so much for so little as electricity.

"In boom times, Mary, when money was easier to get and most people had jobs, the prices of food and clothing and most other things we needed went skyrocketing. Our rent was higher, amusement prices jumped and we paid much more for almost everything we bought."

"Not so with electricity, Fred, and the fact is that our rate for electricity, instead of going up in the boom period, actually went down."

Electricity is one of the few commodities that did not advance during the last inflation period.

As President Thomas N. McCarter of Public Service Electric and Gas Company said in his recent argument in the electric rate case before the Board of Public Utility Commissioners:

"The whole principle of regulation rests upon the theory that, because of the peculiar nature of the business, operating utilities shall always be limited to a fair return upon the value of the property devoted to the public use. They are not like the ordinary industrial concerns that are unlimited as to profit, and in good times can lay up proper surpluses with which to meet depressions like the present. Conversely the principle is just as deep-rooted that, as they are limited in earnings in good times, so they shall be protected in earnings in poor times."

In 1933, the average monthly bill paid by approximately 700,000 domestic consumers in Public Service territory was $2.80—less than 10 cents a day.

CAP AND BELLS

FASHIONED FOR LARGER FIGURES

PATTERN 9948

Nothing works quite the magic on the larger figure like a deep cape and slender paneled seams—and these are the fashion points found in this charming model. The cape is large, scalloped and gracefully flared, and follows the surplus line of the bodice closing. A snug hip yoke and the aforementioned panels keep the figure straight below the waistline. For afternoons in warm weather, georgettes and chiffons are lovely—in colorful prints or monotoes. For

MUST HAVE PEEPED

Two inmates of a lunatic asylum met during their daily walk in the grounds of the institution, and the following conversation took place:

First Inmate—Bet you can't guess what I've got in my hand?
Second Inmate—A horse and cart.
First Inmate—(er-cher!)—you've looked.

Out of Sight

Hostess—There's Mrs. Ponderosa. Her husband's bitterly opposed to extreme evening gowns, but she wears them all the same.
Guest—Well she has plenty of backbone.
Hostess—She must have, but she's so fat that you can't see a trace of it.

Honorable Scars

Alice—At Mrs. Miller's last bridge party the ladies all exhibited their scars.
Flora—I didn't know any of them were in the war.
Alice—They weren't. But they have all had operations, haven't they?—Pathfinder Magazine.

Sufficiency

"Are you afraid of foreign entanglements?"
"Not a bit," answered Senator Sorghum. "I don't see any use of bothering to import any. Homemade entanglements are good enough for me."

Just So

A parishioner, meeting his vicar, who was carrying a brief bag, remarked: "Got your lunch, vicar?"
"Sermons," returned the clergyman. "Food for thought, you know."
"Oh I see—dried tongue!"—London Tit-Bits.

His Word

Missus—What word did my husband leave with you when he wrote this note about his business engagement?
Maid—He said, "Mum's the word."
—Pathfinder Magazine.

STILL IN HOT WATER

"I joined a 'don't worry club!'"
"Well?"
"And now I'm worried for fear I can't live up to my obligations."

Kind of Her

"You only married me because my aunt left me some money."
"Nothing of the kind. I'd have married you regardless of who had left it to you."—Everybody's Weekly (London).

Good Boy!

"My son came out today. He got four months taken off his sentence for good conduct?"
"There you are. I always said you would be proud of that boy."—Hamburg Hummel.

Rough

"Politics is a great game," said the old campaigner.
"It is," agreed Senator Sorghum. "It used to be mild and friendly, like golf, but lately it has been getting rougher than football."

On the Campus

"Our athletic director is now a member of the college faculty."
"More tough luck."
"He can flunk me in football or baseball."

An Unfamiliar Dark

Auntie (to small niece who wants light left on)—But you sleep in the dark at home, darling.
Betty—Yes, but it's my own dark at home, auntie.—London Humorist.

SURE HE HAD

Hospital Visitor—Do you ever ponder the uncertainty of life; do you realize that death must come to one and all; have you thought how short a time we must spend on this earth?
Patient—I should think I have—my business is life insurance.

Naturally Upset Her

Mrs. Heigho—"Old Jonas Hard-scrabble fell plumb off the roof of his house while he wuz shingling it."
Mrs. Whyso—"Didn't his wife feel awful?"
"Awful is no name for it—he fell right into her bed of sweet peas."—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Passing Grade

Old Fashioned Father—When I was your age, John, my parents never had trouble with me.
Modern Son—Well, I can't say I've had any real trouble with you, either, dad.—London Answers.

ONE FOR JOHNNY

Johnny—I made a perfect fool of myself today.
Miss Smith—There, I always knew you could make something of yourself if you kept on trying.

Mortgage Included

Customer—But you didn't tell me about the mortgage on the house?
Owner—Don't you remember? I told you it had all the modern improvements.—Vancouver Province.

CARTERET JEDNOTAS LOSE TO CATASQUA, 9-2

LOCAL SLUGGERS FALL BEFORE SUSCO'S PITCHING

By TONY ZACHIK

The local Jednota ball team who swept through the Jednota circuit with a string of fifteen consecutive victories were suddenly bowled from their high pedestal and subdued by the Catasqua team of the Eastern Jednota league by a score of 9 to 2.

Carteret was heavily favored to be in the finals at Cleveland and the loss to Catasqua was the biggest upset in the Jednota circuit.

The Catasqua head-man Manager Balk chose Susco for the task of stopping the Carteret sluggers and Susco did a neat job of it, holding the locals down to six mealy hits.

This was a new sensation for the Jednotas for throughout the season they played havoc with opposing pitchers and wrecked the pennant hopes of many a Jednota team.

Frank Poll drew the pitching assignment for the local Jednotas, but was not as fortunate as Susco inasmuch as he had to be relieved in the fifth inning by Miglecz.

Catasqua got off to an auspicious start in the very first inning. Molchan worked Poll for a base on balls. Joe Superka dented the atmosphere three times, but was credited with nothing but a strike out.

Joe Superka doubled to left field, Molchan pulling up at third. Boushak fled to Smolenski for the 2nd out. Then with the count of two and two A. Superka smote a hard liner over Smolenski's head driving in Molchan and Yanek.

Geiger walked and John Superka struck out ending the first inning. Catasqua scored its third run in the second inning on two singles and a sacrifice play. This was enough to win the ball game but they kept on scoring runs—two in the fifth; three in the seventh and the last run in the eighth inning.

Carteret's first run came in the fourth inning. Lukasziak grounded out but Yapsenski smacked a beautiful triple over Geiger's head in center field. He then scored on Bill D'Zurilla's fielder's choice. Yap was safe by a scant margin for Molchan's throw was a bit late.

The Jednotas second and last tally came in the eighth inning when they staged a threatening rally, due in a large way to Susco's temporary wildness. Lukasziak walked to open the inning.

Yapsenski hit a grounder to Molchan, who threw to Yanek forcing Lukasziak at second base. Yanek in trying for a double play threw over Superka's head and Yapsenski went to second on the error. Bill D'Zurilla the "old marauder" then came through with a single over second base, scoring Yapsenski from second.

Smolenski drew a base on balls and Masculin popped up to Joe Yanek at second base. Mayorek was then hit in the side by Susco filling the bases. Here was Carteret's chance for a few runs, but with the fans raging for a hit all Miglecz did was to hit the pitcher who threw to first for the third out. Neither team scored any runs in the final inning, although Carteret had two men on base but the next two batters were quickly retired to end the inning and the game. Molchan and Boushak were the chief worry to both Poll and Miglecz, the former collecting three clean singles, while Boushak hit a double and triple, thereby driving in four of his team's nine runs.

Pork Barrel Legislation
The first bill for harbor improvements was passed by congress March 3, 1823. Enemies of the bill alleged that its advocates voted for it purely for political reasons, to make themselves popular among their constituents by getting something for their districts. This so-called rush upon the federal treasury was compared to the rush made by the slaves on the southern plantations when the pork barrel was opened. River and harbor improvement bills were ever after facetiously called pork barrel bills. Later the term was extended to any legislation supposedly passed for purposes of political patronage. The total contributions to a campaign fund are sometimes called the pork barrel.

Bats Are Good Friends; Destroy Tons of Insects
There are about 30 kinds of bats in the arid southwestern part of the United States, all with different habits and with ranges fitting into every nook and corner where they can find a place to stay and food to eat and water to drink.
Bats are thirsty animals and must have water once or twice every night, says Nature Magazine. They are hearty eaters and hearty drinkers, and after sleeping all day in dark retreats in caves or cliffs or buildings, they seek the nearest water, be it miles away, and dipping over the surface drink on the wing repeatedly until satisfied.
Some of the strong-winged species are found many miles from water or else they know where to find it in tanks or pools that we do not find. Every waterhole in the desert is a nightly center for bats, and often they swarm like dragon flies over still pools, before circling away to feed among the tree tops or along the cliffs or low over the bushes of the desert.
Different species find their favorite prey in different haunts, and while the beetles and moths and flying bugs of their menu are not exterminated, their numbers are reduced by tons and tons as shown by their remains in the bat guano in caves or other roosting places.
Bats too are intelligent, far more than we generally credit them as being, and make most interesting pets for study. Fortunately their skins have no commercial value and they are not likely to be exterminated, but often their roosting or breeding colonies do need protection and should have it, for bats are among our best friends.

Delicacies for the Winter Menu

Preserving Season at Hand; Abundant Supply of Cheap Fruit.

Midsummer is a time looked forward to by the thrifty housewife, for with it comes the pleasant task of canning and preserving for the family's winter need of jams, jellies and preserves. Market reports indicate a plentiful supply of pears, peaches, grapes and other delicious fruits. Here are two tested and economical recipes:

Concord Grape Jelly.
4 cups (2 lbs.) juice
½ bottle of fruit pectin
¾ cups (¾ lbs.) sugar

To prepare juice, stem about three pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add one-half cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer ten minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (If malagas or other tight-skinned grapes are used, the juice of one lemon should be added to prepared juice.)

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Ginger Pear Jam.
(Using crystallized ginger)
4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
½ to 1 cup diced crystallized ginger
1 bottle fruit pectin
¾ cups (¾ lbs.) sugar

To prepare fruit, peel, core and crush completely or grind about three pounds fully ripe pears. Dice about one-half pound crystallized ginger.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit, tightly packed, into large kettle. Add ginger, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard one minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 11 glasses (six fluid ounces each). This product may take a week to reach a usable set.

Gentle Deer a Nuisance

A night watchman for the flowers sounds like a simple enough job, but in Jasper park, Canada, the man who holds the job has to keep hopping. The flowers enticed in profusion about the lodge would disappear overnight if a special watchman were not detailed to chase the deer away. The herds of deer seem to dote on asters and pansies, but will munch at any bloom in season except chrysanthemums. If they don't like the flavor of a particular flower they tear it out anyway, just to register disapproval. Which explains why people visiting the Canadian national park this summer were startled by the form of a panting guard dashing through the gardens in the moonlight after the not-so-gentle deer.

New Invention Eliminates Changing Dials on Radio to Hear Various Programs

A robot radio which tunes itself on and off different stations, according to a pre-selected schedule, starting and stopping and changing programs automatically—over a twelve-hour period, has been perfected by A. Atwater Kent, radio engineer and manufacturer.

Once set, the robot or tuneomatic radio provides any combination of programs desired, and after turning itself off at night will go back on again in the morning and serve as an alarm clock. It looks like any other large all-wave radio except for an electric clock set into the front panel. While the mechanism is described as a complicated problem in radio engineering achievement, the operation is simple.

A series of small holes around the edge of the clock's face mark the quarter hour periods and serve as connecting channels between the time clock arrangement and the tuning mechanism. The latter has sixteen outlets in the form of miniature telephone switchboard cords, two to each of seven stations and providing for fourteen different program periods, with two extra cords for intermission periods. The cords are plugged into the holes at the desired program periods, and the radio then operates automatically, shifting from station to station and program to program, stopping itself and starting again exactly as scheduled. If the self-tuning mechanism is not turned on, it operates like any other radio.

Expect Messiah's Return

Several Americans have made extensive preparations for the return of the Prophets and the Messiah, writes Mrs. P. M. Ellis, San Diego, Calif., in Collier's Weekly. Outstanding among them is a man in California who has built and deeded a large house to David, and a woman on Long Island who has turned her beautiful mansion into a replica of a Hebrew home so she can appropriately welcome the Savior. Even her wardrobe contains Palestinian dresses.
