

ALCOHOL NO CAUSE FOR HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—Alcohol and tobacco are eliminated from the list of important causes of high blood pressure by Dr. Campbell P. Howard, professor of medicine at McGill University, Montreal, Canada.

In an address before the International Medical Assembly, convened here recently, Dr. Howard stressed the importance of heredity, overwork of the nervous system and overeating as causes of high blood pressure, but discounted the importance of alcohol and tobacco.

"Go slow and cut down on your pace from sixty miles an hour to twenty miles if you want to avoid the consequences of high blood pressure," he warned. "Take a holiday and don't do much. Cut down the proteins and salt intake."

"The ruddy, alert type of child, who is usually the bright child of the family or class, becomes the captain of the football team and eventually is a success in business or the professions at an early age, is a candidate for high blood pressure," Dr. Howard said. Children who are "bright," Dr. Howard suggested, should not be pushed ahead in school, but allowed to proceed at normal speed.

Fire Co. No. 1 Arrange Yearly Banquet-Dance

Carteret Fire Company No. 1, will hold its annual banquet and dance Saturday night, January 5th. Assisting John J. Rucker, chairman, of this affair, are William Tempary, Thomas Misdom, Oscar Brown, Andrew Rossman, Joseph Hasek, Joseph O'Donnell and Max Schwartz. The committee promises good "eats" and entertainment.

Girls' Friendly Society

Mrs. Amanda Kirchner, of Lafayette St., was hostess to the Girls' Friendly Society of St. Mark's Church last Friday night. Among her guests were Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. Amy Reid, Mrs. Dorothy Stillman, Mrs. Walter Vozah, Mrs. Harveta Morris, Mrs. Ida Wilbur and Mrs. A. C. Hundeman.

The Society will be the guests of Mrs. Reid at a Christmas party to be held at her home Wednesday, Dec. 26.

Banks Fishing Gets Its Name From Ocean Bottom

Banks fishing gets its name from the banks or hills' portions of the ocean bottom, found between the shore and the deep waters of the Atlantic. The main banks range from the Grand Banks, off Newfoundland to the George's Banks, off Nova Scotia. Deep sea vessels are very sturdily built. Most of them are driven by sails, supplemented by auxiliary power, but some of them are steam driven, having a relatively large displacement of from 250 to 300 tons gross.

The fish taken in banks fisheries says the Montreal Herald, are mainly cod, haddock, halibut and pollock, and are caught for the dried fish trade. The long line method is chiefly used. Ten or more dories are usually carried by each boat and these are put to sea with two fishermen in each boat. The long line or tract has attached to it, at intervals of about six feet, a succession of short lines, each carrying a hook. One of the dory fishermen hauls the hooks and pays out the line as the other rows. Sometimes the line reaches a mile or more in length. It is buoyed and anchored at both ends and is allowed to stay in the water for half an hour or so, then hauled in. The dory goes back to the vessel, unloads the fish and repeats the process. These "bankers" sometimes remain in the fishing grounds as long as two months, until a full cargo has been obtained before returning to the home port.

Charivari, Mock Serenade, Once Used for Newlyweds

Charivari is pronounced Sha-re-vair, as in further, as in end, accent on third syllable, or colloquially as if it were spelled chiv-er-ee. It is a mock serenade of a newly married couple. It originated in the Middle Ages in France where it was customary to raise the charivari only against persons just married for the second time, says a writer in the Indianapolis News.

Neighbors would gather round the home of the couple and make a tumultuous noise by shouting, whistling, hissing, groaning, ringing bells, beating tin pans, etc. The crowd, generally in masks and special costumes, would not stop the charivari until the newly married couple bought their peace with a ransom, which usually consisted of food and drink, or supply money to buy it. The charivari of the rural districts of the United States is similar except it is raised against any newly married couple. In German it is called "Kasounstik," which means "cat's concert."

Legion Auxiliary Names '35 Committees

At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Carteret Post No. 263, American Legion, held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Gleckner, the following committees were named for the year:

American and national defense, Mrs. Clifford Cutter; Cathedral of the Air, Mrs. Walter Tomczuk; child welfare, Mrs. John H. Nevill; constitution and by-laws, Mrs. Harry Gleckner; community service, Mrs. Joseph W. Mittuch; Fedac, Miss Marie Atchison; finance, Mrs. John H. Nevill; legislative, Mrs. William D. Casey.

Memorial, Mrs. Theodore Pfennig; membership, Mrs. Thomas Jakeway; music, Mrs. Agnes Kennedy; publicity, Mrs. Thomas Jakeway; radio, Mrs. Ella Gleckner; rehabilitation, Miss Jane Cook; trophies and awards, Mrs. Harold Edwards; past president's party, Miss Jane Cook; unit activities, Mrs. Lewis Peterson.

Plans were made for a card party to be held at the legion rooms Wednesday night, January 9th. The committee was appointed.

Relief Arranged Until April, 1935

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 20.—State finance officials are confident that relief funds are secure until the end of March.

Rather than sell the $10,000,000 bonds, which have been authorized, in an unfavorable market the State has arranged to borrow that sum from the federal government. The federal loan is an advance on the 1935 allotment.

Permanent relief will be considered by the new Legislature and a new tax has been advocated in some quarters to replace periodic bond issues.

Desert Yields Precious Stones

Precious stones weighing as much as five pounds have been found in the Libyan desert. They are of a beautiful greenish-yellow color and extreme in hardness. It is believed that they were formed out of desert sand by the terrific heat of a great aerolite or meteor which fell long ago in this district. Similar stones have been found around a meteoric crater at Wabar Arabia. These are supposed to be remains of a broken planet. The crater is similar to the nineteen discovered in 1931 in the Central Australian desert blasted out by giant meteorites. Some of these craters are more than 200 yards in diameter. Scattered around are fragments of the meteorites, composed of pure nickel and iron.

Liverpool Once Watch Center

Liverpool, England, was the home of many large watch manufacturers in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries; here lovely watches were made and many of them came to America. These were all open faced and rather large. Women wore them on black silk cords and they were wound with tiny gold keys. The cases were receptacles for pictures of loved ones. The tiny screw holes in the works were often set with semi-precious stones and many of them, although nearly two hundred years old still keep correct time.—Boston Transcript.

Roger Bacon's Prophecy

Approximately 700 years ago Roger Bacon said: "Machines for navigating are possible without rowers, so that great ships, suited to river or ocean, guided by one man, may be borne with greater speed than if they were full of men. Likewise cars may be made so that without a draught animal they may be moved with inestimable speed and flying machines are possible so that a man may sit in the middle turning some device by which artificial wings may beat the air in the manner of a flying bird."

Lack of President No Reason for P. T. A. Inactivity this Year

It is a pity the Carteret-Parent Teacher Association is being allowed to lapse. This organization can be a mighty force for good for the pupils of the schools, also for contact between teachers and parents.

Even though the organization has been bereft of its president, Mrs. Mary Armour, through her moving to Rahway, a meeting could be called to elect a new president and a representative executive board to transact details and make recommendations to the organization.

The P. T. A. used to be a respected vital body in the borough and drew large crowds to its meetings. Why couldn't it be revived?

GREETINGS

The fourth year of this tragic depression will soon travel wearily over the brow of the hill and disappear. We welcome the new year with a shout of joy and a heart full of hope. Better times are coming to our people.

And better banking facilities are coming to our people who have patiently waited the time when a beautiful, modern banking home would be erected for them. In March of this new year the Carteret Bank and Trust Company will throw open the doors of their new bank building to all the people of our community.

It is with sincere gratitude that the directors and stockholders of YOUR BANK acknowledge your loyal friendships which have made possible the sure, steady progress of YOUR BANK.

We wish you a Merry Christmas and a New Year filled with Happiness and Success.

CHRISTMAS

Now we are in the sixth year of the depression. Conditions the world over have been distressful. Many have died of starvation. Hundreds of thousands have lost their homes due to inability to pay taxes and meet mortgage interest.

Schools have been closed, teaching staffs reduced, police and fire jobs abolished in thousands of municipalities throughout the country. Many schools have been on part time even with reduced staffs.

In Rahway they have done away with firemen, policemen and 12 teaching positions including one supervisor. Among those jobs dropped there to lessen the burden of all the people were teachers in art, music, physical training, elementary grades, shop and home economics.

Millions have been without employment in much of these six years even on a part time basis. Municipalities throughout the land were forced to abolish many types of services that were previously provided, but out of place in a depression in which millions upon millions have lost everything.

A public sale of articles made by the blind was held by the Carteret Woman's Club yesterday and this afternoon. Mrs. T. J. Neville was in charge. The sale was held at 64 Washington Avenue.

A Christmas party in the form of a trip out-of-town was enjoyed by the Jolly Twelve last night. The club had dinner in New York and later visited Radio City. The members of the Jolly Twelve are: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ruddy, Mr. and Mrs. William Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dreimel, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Miller, Miss Emma Hirschell and Miss Hetty Jeffreys, all of this borough.

The Government tried the C. W. A. last year, but soon found it was one thing to put people on payrolls and quite another to find the money to meet them. Everything went fine for a month or so, then they saw the money was soon to give out.

Private individuals or groups of private individuals can get money for wages and salaries only from the sales of goods. Production of goods in factories and shops are dependent on sales of goods. If sales fall off, so does production or manufacture of goods.

The Daughters of America will hold a Christmas Party Thursday evening at the Odd Fellows' Hall. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. Jean Shaffer, Mrs. Fred Staubach and Mrs. Cornelius Doody.

Carmela Pedesco, 7 years old, of 95 Lewis street, was severely burned by scalding water early yesterday morning. Dr. Imre Kemeny attended her.

Thousands of industrial manufacturing units throughout the country closed down and many are closed to-day. The giant steel and other heavy industries are on part time.

Carteret has been extremely fortunate that the local managements of the respective industries set to work early to delay and minimize as much as possible the devastating march of the depression across the country.

Makeshift work of all sorts was attempted so that as many as possible might be retained on the payrolls.

Not a single plant closed despite the fact that they would have been better off financially to have shut down completely years ago.

Industrial taxes were promptly paid and in a critical period for our town and paid in advance. Many of the residents, unable to pay, were threatened with the sale of their homes.

Such payments, too, made it possible for the schools to stay open, retain any their forces. The same applied to the administration of municipal affairs.

Christmas is a time to give thanks. On the whole, as a community, we have had much to be thankful for and are comparatively fortunate in the thoughtful and considerate co-operation received from the industries.

Santa Claus Appears at Rebekah Party

A good sized crowd of Rebekahs and their children had a "swell" time at the Christmas party held by the organization Wednesday evening at Odd Fellows' Hall. The children were thrilled at the sight of Santa Claus coming down a chimney and presenting them with candy and gifts.

The children had a good time entertaining their elders. Recitations were given by Stewart Brown, Stewart Chodosh, Virginia Sanley, Catherine Richardson, Adele Brown; piano solos by Richard Chodosh and Herbert Venook; songs and carols by James Baird, accompanied at the piano by his sister, Ina; Elaine and Ruth Moore and Andrew Patterson also sang.

While refreshments were being served, a group of older girls gathered around the piano and sang, Helen Kostenbader was at the piano. The committee in charge of the affair included: Mrs. Amy Reid, as chairman; Mrs. August Kostenbader, Mrs. George Patterson, Mrs. Matthew Sloan and Mrs. T. W. Moss.

The Carteret Meadow Rod and Gun Club will hold a Christmas turkey shoot at the club's traps on Prady's corner next Sunday afternoon at 1:30. Turkeys, geese and chickens will be awarded.

Marian Coughlin, of Pulaski Ave., and Gertrude Bradley, of Washington Ave., probationary nurses at St. Mary's Hospital, East Orange, and Elizabeth General Hospital, respectively, are working hard to earn their caps.

Capping a summer vacation romance, Saul Brown, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, of Roosevelt Ave., will be engaged to a young miss of New York on Dec. 30. Saul is a brother of Robert Brown newly appointed agent for the New Jersey Vehicle Commission.

Christmas Presents to Suit Individual Tastes

BERTHA NEVINS and her best friend, Mary Parks, were discussing Christmas. "It's absurd, Mary," Bertha was saying, "for two grown women to spend quite a lot of money, as we do each year, for foolish presents."

"You have something in mind," Mary smiled, and as Bertha agreed—"Well," she continued—"to have I. Something I've wanted for ever so long."

"What?" asked Bertha. "Guess. It is to put in my living room near the window. The main part is small, and the outside needn't be large."

"What is it made of?" "Wood, usually, and metal. Metal wires anyway. And it will be company for me."

"To have sweet melody floating on the air. Am I right? And the color doesn't matter so long as it has a clear tone?" "Why yes, but how did you guess so quickly?" "Because I wanted exactly the same thing for last year. I'll give you one and you give me one!"

But what Christmas brought to Bertha was a radio, while Mary got a cage and Canary—Helen Galsford.

Christmas is Ireland's Greatest of All Feasts. IN NO country is Christmas looked forward to with greater anticipation than in Ireland. For centuries the coming of the Christ Child has been hailed with undimmed joy by the people of the Emerald Isle.

Many stories associated with Christmas are repeated year after year around Irish firesides. An old legend tells that sometimes on Christmas eve Mary and the Christ Child wander abroad seeking shelter. Fearful lest they might seek in vain, as they did in Bethlehem long ago, a lighted candle is placed in every window to guide them to a place of refuge.

These are left burning through the night, gleaming into the darkness, guiding any wanderers that might be ahead. For the legend also tells that the "Mother and Child" may come in almost any guise. All the world remembers Ireland at Christmas, for her children are scattered in every land. A steady stream of gifts and good wishes come pouring into her gates. Families divided by stretching seas are reunited in spirit, as the bridge of time and space is broken by the old happy greeting, "A Merry Christmas and a Bright New Year!"

St. Mark's Church will hold midnight services Christmas Eve and a party Christmas night. The juniors of the church will distribute dolls to needy children in the borough.

Mistletoe a Parasite

The mistletoe, traditional Christmas decoration much more in favor in earlier days, when the red-tail swains were not so farward and the maidens were more reserved is found most abundantly in the tropics, although it is widely distributed throughout the world.

The mistletoe is a parasite, living on the sap of the trees around which it entwines itself. On the Atlantic seaboard of the United States the mistletoe is found as far North as the Jersey coast, but is more abundant farther South.

Living Christmas Trees. Longer life for Christmas trees is advocated by the United States forest service, in a note suggesting that a living tree with roots properly balled and packed in a box may be used indoors and later set out to beautify the grounds.

Italian Christmas Industry. Naples was the center of the Italian Christmas industry during the Fifteenth century and until whole hands of artists, "figurati" as they were called, who did nothing but make dolls for Christmas.

The Genuine Christmas. Poets write beautiful Christmas carols, but a child's laugh is Christmas itself.

William C. Shapiro Weds Bloomfield Girl

The wedding of Miss Ida Garlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garlock, of Bloomfield, N. J., to William Charles Shapiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shapiro, of East Orange, N. J., has taken place on Thursday, December twentieth, at the home of Rabbi Marius Ranson in East Orange.

Mrs. Shapiro was graduated from Panzer College in 1926. Mr. Shapiro was graduated from the Carteret Grammar School, Rahway H. S. in 1918, and the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania in 1922.

CLOVERS PLAY SAINTS TO A 7-7 STANDSTILL

Wielgolinski and Kosel Are On Falzer's All-State Eleven

Final Scholastic Football Reckoning by Leading Picker in Newspaper Field Honored by Presence of Two Carteret Names.

C. A. Falzer, undoubtedly the leading picker of All-State scholastic football elevens over the course of the last several years, announced his selections in the Newark Sunday Call this week, choosing for his All-State High and Prep School team two Carteret High School players—Jack Wielgolinski, for the position of center, and Stan Kosel, for left halfback.

Mr. Falzer wrote about these two players in very praising fashion. His words in detail follow:

"Two players are selected from Phillipsburg High, a maroon machine, which streaked first to the finish line and then was disqualified for using an ineligible driver. That does not affect selections of individual brilliance.

"The other double contributor to the first State team is Carteret High, a school which was entered in Group 2, but probably could have conquered many teams in Division 4, which is the highest ranking. To be convinced concerning the merits of the Carteret nominees take a peek at the pictorial football review in the art-gravure section today, and note a Jack Dempsey.

"Newark Fans Nod Approval"

"Newark fans caught a sample of Kosel's playing when the Carteret team came to the big city and bumped West Side into a 12 to 0 defeat. In a game against the Long Branch team Kosel intercepted three passes and toted the ball across the enemy goal line for touchdowns. That accounted for the 20 to 0 lacing inflicted upon the Monmouth county team. In other games Carteret slipped defeats to Neptune, Caldwell, Glen Ridge, Emerson, Woodbridge and Perth Amboy, meeting its only setback at the hands of Cranford, then by a score of 7-6.

"In the prescribed lineup Kosel is cast as quarterback. However, he is so powerful in backing up the line in defensive play that another player is assigned to the safety zone to receive punts, a task usually allotted to a quarterback. Furthermore backs are held interchangeable in selections. There being another luminary for the quarterback role on the first team, a stronger combination is formed by placing Kosel at halfback.

"Fine Baseball Player"

"The gridiron has seen the last of the two hoppers chosen from the little school in Middlesex county.

"Flashed Brightest of All"

"Now let's take the first team apart and see what makes it tick. In this collection of stars there is one who flashed brightest of all. He is Stan Kosel, a back at Carteret. There is a player who provides Vitamin A and the rest of the essentials to the life of any All-State constellation. All season long the writer received comments concerning this Kosel boy. With some of that Missouri skepticism I went to see. It was in Carteret's most important game of the season, against Perth Amboy. Say, he was there like the proverbial duck. Packing 185 pounds of brawn, he just diets on touchdowns. Offensively, Kosel calls the signals in the huddle and kicks and passes. In detail play he is a tornado hitting a line, and in broken field running he has a straight-arm Kosel at Carteret. If he knows all the answers he is due to be graduated next June. Meanwhile he will have opportunity to shine again in baseball. Pitcher on the high school team, he sparkles on the diamond like Joe Medwick, who gained his spurs at Carteret, under the coaching of Francis McCarthy, and who sort of had a hand in winning the world championship with the St. Louis Cardinals. Will colleges put a welcome sign on the doormat in beckoning Mr. Kosel? Aye, he has received invitations from Fordham, Georgetown and Western Maryland, though as yet he has not made his choice."

"Wielgolinski Not Forgotten!"

"There remains the selection of center. In this instance the laurel wreath is bestowed upon Chet Wielgolinski of Carteret High. He is as rugged and effective as the 1933 All-State center, a South River boy, who staggered under the name of Alex Wojciewchowicz, now a freshman at Fordham. Wielgolinski has hands as big as mallets. He could pass a ball from the pivot position with one hand. Where he differed from most centers was in the fact that he invariably looked ahead when passing the ball behind.

"Singularly enough, under the circumstances, the passes ever sped true to the mark. At the same time the center, locking ahead, was able to mop up in the opponents' line. In this manner he cleaved an alley for his backs when a play was launched through the middle works. On blocking kicks and in tackling, too, the Carteret center was of exceptional value to his team. Beyond all that he was captain of the eleven which swept to the championship of Group 2 high schools in Central Jersey."

No one was named from Carteret on the second or third teams in the All-State High and Prep School Group.

Group II selections

The ranking of the local high school is in group two, the bottom group in scholastic athletic competition. Falzer's selections for that group are as follows:

Player	School
LE Cordner	Cranford
LT Extrom	Roxbury
LG Edleson	Bernardsville
C WIELGOLINSKI	Carteret
RG SUCH	Carteret
RT Nykun	Hackettstown
RE Sharpe	Pompton Lakes
QB KOSEL	Carteret
LH Tebor	Lakewood
RH Urbellis	Freehold
FB Babcock	Caldwell

No name of a Carteret football player appeared on the second or third teams in Group II.

Dr. G. E. Gallaway, of Rahway, who is well known to Carteret residents, left Saturday for a vacation in Florida.

LEAGUE OFFICIALS THRASH OUT MANY DISPUTES TUESDAY

By CLARENCE M. SCHWARTZ

The officials of the Carteret Junior Basketball League met Tuesday evening at Bill Beisel's home on Longfellow street, and many matters of importance were brought to a head and settled. The officials present included Joe Comba, Ed Riley, Joe Shuttelo, Hughie Shanley, Bill Beisel and Clem Schwartz.

The first matter that came up for discussion concerned the St. Joseph's vs. Clover game which was played Monday evening. The Clovers claimed that the Saints used their new ball in the game because they had been practicing with it. However, the Saints came back with the reply that they never had any practice with the new ball. However, it was decided by the officials to have the referee pick out the ball to be used in the game, and let no one touch it until the game starts.

The second matter for discussion concerned the officials who handled the league ball games. The officers of the league decided that one man, the referee, handle the ball game instead of two, as had been done previously. The decision came as a result of an argument which came to a head Monday evening during the Clover-St. Joseph's ball game.

The officers awarded the Hudson A. C. the decision in the game played last week between the Hudsons and the Owls on the grounds that the Owls used an ineligible player.

The league games this week will be played on Monday afternoon, the first game to start at 4:00 P. M. Next week, undoubtedly the same measures will be taken. The reason for pushing up the games to the afternoon was due to the fact that Monday is Christmas Eve.

The league has already been going a month, and the officials declared that so far, everything is being run in a splendid way.

The Carteret News has always carried more Carteret advertising than any other newspaper.

DRIVE SAFELY

Change of Pavement

ONE of the common causes of automobile accidents in New Jersey is skidding. Much of the skidding is caused when drivers, operating their cars too fast for conditions either on a straightaway or a curve, attempt to stop when another vehicle or pedestrian suddenly looms up in front of them. The result is always the same—a sudden screeching of brakes, a heavy thud and a hospital ambulance.

Skidding is also caused by another common fault of motorists when leaving one pavement and entering upon a different one such as from cement to asphalt. Under such conditions it is advisable to touch your brake a few times and get the "feel" of the new road surface.

This is particularly true on wet or snowy days when a quick stop might be impossible because of a slippery road radically different from the one upon which you have just been travelling.

OTTO SUTO LOSES DECISION TO "DOC" PARMALLEE FRIDAY

(Special To The News)
NEWARK, Dec. 14—"Doc" Parmalee, captain of the Princeton University boxing team, outpointed Otto Suto of Carteret in the amateur boxing show staged by the Newark A. C. last Friday evening. A crowd of 1500 witnessed the fisticuffs.

Suto, weighing 140, battered Parmalee terrifically during the first round, and had he kept up the pace he undoubtedly would have been given the decision. But misfortune again turned his way, as he sprained his wrist severely in the second round laying a punch on Parmalee's arm. Thereafter he was helpless and Parmalee won without very much trouble.

Suto will fight in Teterboro on January 8th, providing his wrist improves sufficiently. A trip to Chicago is the prize for the winners. Suto, who formerly was under the direction of George Kurtz, is now being handled by Vincent McKenna, of Irvington.

Leads in Mineral Products
Pennsylvania surpasses all other states in the annual value of its mineral products. In 1933 the total value of its mineral output was $665,336, 200; 327,470 persons were engaged in mining industries and 57,430 in clay, glass and stone industries. By far the most valuable and most abundant resource is coal. From 1830 to 1880 Pennsylvania produced two-thirds of the annual tonnage of coal mined in the United States, while the proportion in 1929 was 39.3 per cent of the total output.

King Killed in War
In 1578 King Sebastian of Portugal went to war in Morocco and was killed. His countrymen did not believe he had died and the idea that he would return spread rapidly. Up to 1832, or 254 years later, this idea still gripped Portugal and Brazil and not only was the night sky watched constantly for his reappearance but commodities frequently were sold with the bills to be paid on "the return of Sebastian."—Cotter's Weekly.

Field Club Benefit Dance Scheduled for December 29th

In order to defray expenses incurred during the past football season, the Carteret Field Club will hold a dance in the Nathan Hale School on Saturday evening, December 29.

Music will be furnished by Dick Brumme's Canadians, who are reputed to be one of the best orchestras in Newark.

The Field Club wound up one of the best football campaigns in years a few weeks ago, winning seven and losing but three games. However, the usual expenses of playing football throughout the season make it necessary to run a benefit.

Charles Szegal, Joe Czajkowska and Tim Donovan are but a few who are on the committee working to make the affair a success.

Teams Battle Extra Period But Fail To Break Deadlock

"Scotty" Price, Marciniak, Nascak and Biolovarczuk Outstanding in this Week's Junior League Play Terrys in Win Column.

Joe Comba's St. Joseph's team and "Mit" Mitroka's Clovers remained tied for first place in the standings of the Carteret Junior Basketball League this week, due to a 7-7 tie played by the two teams this week.

In the other games, the Tigers defeated the Falcons, 16-9; the Boys' Club nipped the Owls, 18-5, and the Terrys broke into the win column by drubbing the Hudsons, 19-14.

Tigers Whip Falcons By 16-9 Count

The Tigers whipped the Falcons in the first game Monday evening at the high school court by a 16-9 score.

Carol Marciniak was the individual star of the game, tossing in three field goals in the final period for a total of six points. Kovacs and Zimmerman scored four points each.

Clovers, Saints Play 7-7 Deadlock

The Clovers and St. Joseph's played a 7-7 tie in the final game of the Junior League schedule Monday evening at the high school court. Had either team won, it would have sent it into the league leadership.

"Sunshine" Hegedus was the big gun so far as the Clovers were concerned. His effective ball playing was the cause for the fine showing made by the Clovers. Jackson with four points was the offensive star for Joe Comba's team.

The Saints forged into the lead in the final period as Jackson tossed up his second basket, but the Clovers came right back when Jim Resko netted two points. The teams played an extra period of three minutes, but the score remained a deadlock, and the league officials ruled that the game be played over some time next week.

Journey From Nazareth, Birth of Christ Child

ALMOST two thousand years ago the great emperor, Caesar Augustus, sent out a decree that the whole world should be enrolled. Each one was to go to his own city: to the place of his fathers. None were exempt from the decree.

From the hill town of Nazareth two people set out in answer to the summons. One, a tall, bearded figure, his shoulders sagging under the weight of years, and from the continued stooping that his trade as a carpenter necessitated. The other, a young and beautiful woman, her face aglow with a strange, sweet serenity. Their names were Joseph and Mary, and they were going to the distant town of Bethlehem, because they were of the house of David.

The man walked patiently beside the plodding donkey on which the woman was seated. They showed no impatience as others passed them by; nor did they join with any of their fellow travelers in venting anger against Caesar for taking them on such a long and tiresome journey.

Perhaps because of Joseph's age, or of Mary's delicate condition, they were among the last to enter Bethlehem, and to seek a shelter at the inn. They were told that there was no room for them there. Their humble appearance made no appeal to the innkeeper on a night when more prosperous-looking guests were crowding the doors.

Disappointed and fearful, they sought further. But they could find no place. Some one spoke of a cave out side the town. Joseph looked at Mary and his eyes filled with tears. But she nodded assent.

And in that lowly place, warmed only by the breath of oxen, Jesus, the hope and promise of all mankind, was born into the world.—Katherine Edelman.

Giuseppe's Christmas Was a Grand Revelation

CHRISTMAS was approaching and Giuseppe was lonesome. There were others in the school from foreign lands but no one spoke Giuseppe's language.

Christmas had been so much fun in Italy. In the province where Giuseppe lived, a tree decked with oranges was the center of their Christmas festivities. All the relatives came to a big feast on Christmas day, and afterwards old and young danced around the orange tree, and, of course, some folks had a miniature manger with St. Joseph and other figures.

"I don't see how I am ever going to stand it," Giuseppe told his mother.

But she had smiled and said, "It will be all right, son. You'll see."

Then Christmas preparations began at school. There were carols to be sung—carols in five languages, and Giuseppe was to sing the carols of his country, all by himself. Giuseppe was very proud. There was a play with the manger and the wise men, shepherds, angels and Mary the Virgin, and Joseph. Giuseppe could hardly believe his ears when he found he was to be Joseph. And after the program there was the tree.

"It was grand, wasn't it?" Giuseppe said to his mother and father as they walked home together, and mother and father agreed.—Florence Harris Wells.

PURITANS AND CHRISTMAS

THE Puritans regarded Christmas as a savoring of popery and preferred their own celebration of Thanksgiving. In 1659 the General Court of Massachusetts enacted that "anybody who is found observing, by abstinance from labor, feasting or any other way any such day as Christmas day shall for each and every such offense be fined five shillings."

The Green Christmas Tree

In order to keep the tree green all the time it is on display, cut a small piece from the base of the tree so that a new surface is exposed. Then set the tree in its support with a small pan containing water in the center so that the base of the tree is resting in the water all the time. Add an aspirin tablet to the water and prepare to have a flourishing tree this year.

Crude Toys for Children

Simple or crude toys like box blocks, nested cans, floor boats, stick horses, and sand, often give a child more chance to use his imagination than do more elaborate, complex, and expensive toys.

Just Like Old Santa

"Don't bother children tellin' em dar abut no Santa Claus," said Uncle Eben. "Dey has been hearin' dat ever since dey kin remember, but 'round he comes, punctual every year, jes' de same."

Christmas Pudding

AS to who invented the Christmas pudding very little is known, except that, in the opinion of the average healthy boy, it was a good idea, who ever thought of it.

Use Sleigh Bells for Jolly Christmas Game

HERE is a new and exciting game to play at a Christmas party. First borrow a set of sleigh bells. They are not as easy to find as in the old days. Find a string with tinsel, varying notes if you wish the game to jingle to the full measure of holiday fun.

The idea is simply this: It is possible to suggest, then control the action of a person who does not know what is in your mind, but must find out through the sound of the bells. Here is the way to do it:

Send one of the guests from the room. The remainder decide what he must do. For instance, go to a certain table, pick up a book, take it to another table and place it near the lamp. Here are four separate acts in succession.

The person outside is called back. Somebody has been chosen to be the manipulator of the bells. He must use a nice judgment in using them, ringing softly when the act approaches what is in the minds of all; ringing loudly as the perplexed player moves away. Try it. Use subtle gradations of sound to guide your experiment. Without a word being spoken he will at last be guided to do what has been secretly agreed upon. Loud ringing when he is far from his goal or going from it, soft, soft, barely audible when he is near the doing of what is required.—Martha Banning Thomas.

Christmas Bells! and Joyous Wedding Bells!

CELEBRATE! Cue—dar—ville!

With a jerk the great Christmas train came to a stop and the next moment Sylvia and Bob were filing their way through the happy, smiling Christ as passengers laden with parcels, boxes, suitcases and good will! Christmas! Christmas everywhere!

Off they hopped and hurried through the blinding snow storm to the house on the side of the hill, the old familiar homestead of Sylvia Bronson. There it stood in its snowy coat and Christmas welcome—much the same as when she had left it but a year before.

"Just think, to be married on Christmas, Bob. The grandest day in the whole year. Isn't it wonderful? Let's hurry, I can hardly wait to see Mother!"

Bob acquiesced by a tighter grip of Sylvia's arm and a genial smile of understanding.

Stamping and brushing the feathery flakes from them, they opened the door and were almost smothered with greetings and shouts of "Merry Christmas" from the whole family.

What a sight! Christmas bells! Wedding bells!

The tree itself was one glittering mass of lights and miniature bells—bells of gold and bells of silver. Even beneath its branches stood a huge bell-shaped container simply loaded down with Christmas gifts—wedding gifts—all for this one night of nights!—Alice E. Palmer.

Good King Wenceslas

Good King Wenceslas, immortalized in the well-known carol, was really a Bohemian prince who died in A. D. 935. His name should properly be spelled "Wenceslaus." He was famous for his great kindness to the poor and needy. When, in September, A. D. 935, he was killed by his brother, Boleslav, the people of the country were heartbroken. He is still regarded as their patron saint.—Tri-Bits Magazine.

CHRISTMAS

When is the interdependence of nations more clearly illustrated than during this Christmas season?

Christmas gifts, many of them imported; colorful wrappings and festive bits of ribbons and string, many of these imported; and imported papers going into the making of many of our Christmas cards. Gifts are being mailed to, and received from, friends in other countries. These are necessary parts of Christmas, and all dependent on friendliness with other nations. The Christmas manger was originally placed in a foreign setting; our Christmas customs have been borrowed or adapted from other lands, many of our Christmas foods have been made from recipes brought by our ancestors from abroad. Many of us have parents who came directly from other countries and almost all of them, at this time of the year, wander back in memory to Christmases in other lands, and on the Christmas table we find foods which they have remembered and made for us that we may share their concept of Christmas.

Our traditional Christmas melodies are, many of them, internationally sung. What the realization of the full meaning of these seemingly slight things will come greater realization of our unbreakable ties with the other nations of the world, ties stronger than treaties and pacts. Margaret Gillilan.

Busy Bees Gather Pollen, Sip Sweets at Same Time

Among nature's many unique ways of doing different things is her method of effecting the pollination of different plants. Some plants, it is true, carry out this process without any outside aid whatever, others use the winds as their agent, while still others are completely powerless to help themselves even with the aid of the wind. Probably the most common of this type is white clover, says Parfunder Magazine. One of nature's cleverest plans is carried out before our eyes without our being aware of it. Having originated from the structure of this plant any means by which it can cross pollinate its own blooms nature provides a faithful agent. Most of such work is carried on by the bee. The blooms, having a substance which the bee desires for food, attract the bee to them. In the course of getting his food he performs the required service for the plant. Coming in contact with the stamens of one bloom small grains of pollen adhere to his body and are then carried to other blooms.

In tests to determine what amount of this work was done by insects two equal sized patches of white clover were chosen. One was surrounded with screens to prevent the entrance of any insects and the other was left open. At the end of the season the enclosed patch yielded five shriveled seeds as compared to the 50,000 healthy ones yielded by the open patch.

History of Cherries

Recorded evidence does not go back far enough to say when wild cherries first became an object of the gardener's care. The early Romans were familiar with eight varieties, and quantities of cherry stones have been found in the lake dwellings of Switzerland.

Rome's No. 1 Attraction Is Nero's Town Palace

From Prime Hill in Rome one sees straight across towards St. Peter's dome, the open space that was the Garden of Nero, where crucified Christians expiated their imaginary crime of burning Rome. Though condemned to death by the senate, Nero's remains were buried with honors and a fine tomb reared above it, says a writer in the Detroit News. But soon "demon crows" possessed themselves of his vile ghost—so runs the holy legend—and made Prime Hill hideous with their noises until Pope Paschal himself ordered their roosting trees roundabout and leveling the tomb, on its foundations erected a church, Santa Maria del Popolo. It was called, and there it stands today! The marble urn holding the imperial ashes was used as a public measuring cup for salt in the marketplace. No one living has seen that urn.

His temporary home that magnificent golden house built after the burning of Rome, with mile long porticos gilded and carved columns, mother-of-pearl inlaid walls, and all imperial palaces in sumptuous luxury. Trajan built great baths over its ruins; in the stretch of its game preserves stands the Colosseum. Wings long under ground have been cleared, disclosing fine murals. In one room was found four centuries ago, the celebrated Vatican group of Lucretia and her sons executed in Nero's time. Visitors enter the ruins of a municipal rose garden.

Natives of Samoa Island Can All Read and Write

American Samoa consists of the islands of Tutuila, Aunu'u, Olosega, Tau, Swain's island (which was made part of American Samoa on May 11, 1925), and the uninhabited coral atoll of Rose Island. These islands, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, became possessions of the United States by virtue of the tripartite treaty with Great Britain and Germany in November, 1899. The census of 1930 gave American Samoa a population of 10,055.

The islands are located about 4,200 miles southwest of San Francisco, and about 2,000 miles east of Australia. The natives can all read and write.

The history of American Samoa commenced in the year 1872, when the harbor on Pago Pago (Island of Tutuila) was ceded to the United States by the native king for a naval and coaling station. This is the most valuable harbor in the South Pacific and possibly in the entire Pacific ocean. All of the land on the island is privately owned.

Muskellunge

Wisconsin has been long and favorably known for its muskellunge fish, having acquired a reputation for this sport fish in the lead of any other state. And so when Wisconsin tells you that there is only one way to spell the name of this big game fish it ought to be accepted by the fishing public as being final. The state conservation commission, after considerable research, has decided that the old Chippewa or Ojibwa name for this fish, muskellunge, can be spelled in English in only one way, "Muskellunge" and from now on muskellunge, muskilonge, muskelunge, muskinnunge, muscalunge, muscomunge and muskankunge are out. It is O. K. if you want to abbreviate to "Muskie" but otherwise stick to Muskellunge.

Knew Their Winds

The ancient Greek navigators knew enough about the seasons and directions of certain winds, such as the etesians and the Indian monsoons, to utilize them in making voyages that would have been difficult or impossible without such knowledge, states a writer in the New York Tribune. After the Fifteenth century the trade winds of the Atlantic and the Pacific were closely turned to account. At the close of the Seventeenth century the earliest attempt to chart ocean winds was made by Halley, the English astronomer, whose crude map of the trade winds and monsoons implies that he had a certain amount of statistical information at his disposal.

Water as Food

Commonly speaking, foods are those substances eaten or drunk for the building up and maintenance of the human body and to supply energy for its activities. In the more exact scientific sense, only those constituents of the foods consumed which are actually assimilated are considered foods, the remainder being waste. Water may be regarded as the most important of foods, constituting nearly 70 per cent of the human body. It is an absolute necessity for the maintenance of life. The average weight of water consumed per day, only part of which is assimilated, exceeds the dry weight of all the other foods combined.

Patchwork Quilts

Patchwork is older than history, originating doubtless through primitive economic need of utilizing scraps of cloth. It was one of the first decorative arts practiced by such ancient civilizations as the Egyptian and Chinese. In Europe it was flourishing at the time of the Crusades when applique was employed in the making of battle banners and draperies. In America the handicraft arrived with the earliest settlers, being a direct heritage from England.

Most Widely Used Word

The world's most widely used word is "Amen," the old Hebrew expression meaning "So it is" or "So be it." It is employed by nearly one billion Christians, Jews and Mohammedans, or just half of the population of the world, says S. D. Kent, Seattle, in Collier's Weekly. The Mohammedans even end their letters and other manuscripts with it.

The "Cool Spell"

Geologists state that the earth has been having a period of cool summers for the last 4,500 years. This "cool spell" will last for 6,500 more years.

Suppose you had to anticipate your usage of electricity as you do beans and potatoes! What if you would occasionally run out of electricity as you do eggs and milk and had to borrow a few Kilowatts from your neighbor?

It's a queer thought, isn't it, but only because electricity has become such a habit to us that we overlook the tremendous value of having it constantly available at the click of a switch.

How many times a day do you unconsciously use electricity? Perhaps you have an electric refrigerator that works automatically. Analyze your uses of electricity. Compare the cost of it with the value of its uses. Is there anything you need or use which is so inexpensive?

CUT IN NUMBER OF ILLITERATES

Announcement that the national government had mobilized 40,000 unemployed teachers this winter in a drive on illiteracy revives interest in census figures on illiterates, that is to say, persons who cannot write any language.

In 1930 the United States had 4,283,000 illiterates, or 4.3 per cent of the population 10 years old and over. That was a large decline from the 6 per cent who were classified as illiterates when the census of 1920 was taken, but in Alabama four years ago 12.6 per cent of the inhabitants more than 10 years old were illiterate. In Louisiana they numbered 13.5 per cent, in Mississippi 13.1 per cent and in South Carolina 14.9 per cent. The high percentages in the southern states were due largely, of course, to the negro population. Only 2.3 per cent of Missouri's inhabitants could not write, a reduction from 3 per cent in 1920, and between the census counts our negro population had increased through a migration from the South.

In New York four years ago the number of illiterates was 389,000, or 3.7 per cent. Illiterates constituted 3.5 per cent of the total inhabitants in Massachusetts, 2.3 per cent in Ohio, 2.4 in Illinois and less than 1 per cent in Iowa, the smallest percentage in the country. Illiterates in the white population in 1930 numbered 2,407,000, a decline from 4 per cent in 1920. Illiteracy among negroes declined from 22.9 per cent to 16.3 per cent in the decade, leaving a total of 1,514,000.

These figures show that illiteracy is decreasing at a rather rapid rate in all classes of the population and in all parts of the country. But they also show that the total number of persons who cannot write is surprisingly large for a nation where education is compulsory, a fact which is explained, of course, by immigration and our negro population. And among the young foreign born the percentage of illiteracy is small, though large among adults of this class.

That a large number of adults can be taken out of this classification by a drive directed by the government is not certain. But it will give work to thousands of unemployed teachers, whose plight is particularly distressing, and it will surely give some further momentum to the decline in illiteracy.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

POT HOLDER SET IN THREE PIECES

By GRANDMOTHER CLARK

Pot holders are necessary in the kitchen, and it's just as easy to make an attractive pot holder as a plain one. They are interesting and easy to make, in spare time, and some should always be worked up ready to take as a gift when a trifle is wanted in a hurry and you know it will be appreciated.

Package No. A-8 is composed of three pieces. Two pot holders and one container. When made up, the holder is visible through door, as shown above. The holders are placed in pocket through top opening. The material is stamped and stencilled in colors, ready to be made up, and the lines may be outlined if desired.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

Then you may suffer nagging headache, attacks of dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains, feel "all worn out."

Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

Hands Would Swell and Crack with Eczema

Healed by Cuticura

"Eczema started on my hands in blisters and then spread to my face. My hands would itch and I would rub them and they would get inflamed and burn terribly. They would pain and crack open and would swell until my hands were almost twice their size. I could not sleep.

"I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. The first application was soothing so I bought more and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed."

AUTOMOBILE CLUB GIVES HINTS ABOUT WINTER DRIVING

How to avoid trouble in winter operation of motor vehicles is told in a bulletin issued by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey. "The advice here given," said Herbert C. Sisco, Manager of the Trenton Division of the Club, "is based on our twenty-eight years' experience in rendering emergency service to motorists."

Getting the engine started is foremost among the winter troubles, the Club finds. The first essential to overcoming this difficulty is to have a battery of full strength. The battery must be adequate to the task of cranking the engine at a speed sufficient to draw enough fuel for combustion purposes into the cylinders.

But even with a full-strength battery, the motorist will encounter trouble if he neglects other essentials. He is advised to use low cold-weather oil in the crankcase, so that the cranking speed is not reduced by congealed lubricant. Other important requirements are clean, properly adjusted ignition system, free from current leaks, and a fuel system that is also clean and tuned to deliver the richer mixture demanded by cold weather.

Ignition systems are largely at fault in a majority of hard-starting experiences, Club service men assert. Not only do they draw upon exhausted reservoirs in the form of weak batteries, but the energy they do obtain from this source is wasted before it reaches the combustion chamber.

Clean, sharply breaking and properly-timed distributor performance, with spark plug cables free from insulation leaks and spark plug points properly spaced and cleaned are the remedies for this condition. The cost is negligible compared with the convenience of prompt starting and easy operation.

Origin of English Toy Spaniel Much Disputed

Retrouse nose, abundant coat and highly intelligent expression—these are the chief characteristics of the English Toy Spaniel, observes an authority in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

There are four classes of English Toy Spaniels—King Charles, Blenheim, Ruby and Prince Charles. King Charles have a black and tan coat, Blenheim have a red and white coat, Ruby a solid red and Prince Charles a tricolor coat.

Under an American Kennel club ruling in 1902, English Toy Spaniels were classed together in a general group. Another standard for the breed was adopted by the Toy Spaniel Club of America in 1903.

The origin of the Toy Spaniel is so much disputed that Pug, Maltese, Pekingese, Pap and even the Bulldog have been credited with a share in its ancestry. A cross probably was used to obtain the present short-faced specimen.

Toy Spaniels date back to the sixteenth century. They were in high favor before the restoration of the House of Stuart in England.

Since the days of King Charles, whose name they bear, they have been closely associated with royalty. They reached the zenith of their popularity during the reign of James II, who bred them extensively.

Mice Destroy Thousands of Acres of Farm Crops

Mouse plagues, disastrous as they are, are of minor importance in comparison with the steady yearly drain on crops by the mice over the country at large in normal years, says the Montreal Herald. Even as few as ten meadow mice to the acre on 100 acres of meadow would take about 11 tons of grass or 5 1/2 tons of hay a year. This number, on the 65,000,000 acres of hay raised in the United States would cause a loss of over 3,000,000 tons of hay a year, or a money loss of some $30,000,000 annually in hay alone. The number of young in a litter ranges from two to nine, and one pair averages five to the litter. At this rate of increase, allowing equal numbers of males and females, and the young beginning to breed at 30 days old, the total increase from one pair, if all lived and bred, would be over 1,000,000 individuals at the end of a year. If all were confined to one acre of ground, this would mean over 20 mice to every square foot.

Haiti Has Colorful History

Port au Prince is the capital of Haiti, a land where the early slaves revolted and massacred the whites, where conduct poems once echoed throughout the mountains to proclaim human sacrifice, where ebony monarchs presided over gorgeous royal courts; where negro guerillas fought their way to power and power through more than a century of bloodshed and intrigue. Haiti, high and picturesque, stands out as a colorful spot in the Caribbean.

Collecting Brazil Nuts

One of the most dangerous jobs is the collecting of Brazil nuts in the jungles of the Amazon valley. The peons who gather this world crop, which is neither planted nor picked, are not only beset on all sides by deadly animals, insects, fishes and plants, but they are in constant danger of having their backs broken or skulls cracked by the four-pound pods which are frequently falling around them from a height of 100 feet.—Collier's Weekly.

Temples of Paestum, Italy

The temples of Paestum, in Italy, are world-famous, and the ancient city here, founded about 600 B. C., has been thoroughly excavated and explored. Three of the temples known as the Basilica, and the other two respectively dedicated to Ceres and Neptune, date from 570 to 420 B. C. and all belong to the Greek period. The fourth, known as the Temple of Peace, is a building of the Roman period.

1934 Was Banner Sports Year For Many Local Organizations

No Less Than Five Championship Teams Were Produced During the Course of the Year. Medwick's Play Outstanding.

A review of the year 1934 in Carteret sports is undoubtedly one of the most interesting of its kind ever written in the past. No less than five championship teams were produced in the borough during the past twelve months.

Joe Medwick, playing his heart out with the St. Louis Cards, was rewarded for his season's work by getting into the World Series and establishing himself as a national hero.

Macmen went on to win the State Championship for the second time in three years, downing South Amboy, Princeton, Keyport, Ramsey and Toms River in the playoffs.

The Carteret Junior Basketball League, a snappy organization formed by Joe Coniba and Joe Shuttello, also had a banner year.

BASKETBALL

Coach McCarthy's basketball team at the high school had a banner year, winning eleven and losing but four games.

RELIEF ROLLS SIFTED TO FIND IMPOSTORS

Plans are being made to sift the relief rolls of persons not entitled to relief, thereby reducing the staggering amounts expended for this purpose.

Mrs. T. J. Nevill, of Lowell street and George Bradley, of Washington avenue, have been named relief advisers for Carteret by the County Emergency Relief Administration.

In order that emergency relief may not be made available to those not entitled to the benefits of relief in accordance with the law, and because, in many cases, citizens have knowledge which would prove of inestimable value to the administration.

Chevrolet's two new lines of cars for 1935 will be on display next week in the salesrooms of the Economy Garage Co., Chevrolet dealers, 30 Roosevelt avenue.

NEW CHEVROLETS ON DISPLAY MONDAY

Chevrolet's two new lines of cars for 1935 will be on display next week in the salesrooms of the Economy Garage Co., Chevrolet dealers, 30 Roosevelt avenue.

"Embodiment of graceful new lines, as well as mechanical refinements resulting in sparkling performance, and economy of a high order, the new Master Series promises to be a sensation in the low-priced field."

"With these two great lines for 1935, Chevrolet is assured of breaking even the fine records established by last year's car. They will offer an all-round value untouched in the low-priced field."

The administration further states that all individuals found guilty of obtaining relief under false pretenses will be dealt with severely according to law. It asks for the cooperation of the general public in this vast undertaking.

Any irregularities in relief cases may be reported to Mrs. Nevill or Mr. Bradley, who work as an advisory board with Miss Kempe Miles, local relief worker.

The Ladies' Republican Club celebrated the Christmas party last Friday night at the club's rooms, on upper Roosevelt avenue. Cards were played.

Frank Barbato, of Port Reading, and Elizabeth Snyder, of Woodbridge, were married Wednesday evening at the Holy Rosary Church, Perth Amboy, the Rev. William J. Hickey, officiating.

Frank is in the employ of Emanuel Lefkowitz, local business man. Mrs. Barbato was formerly employed in Carteret.

Rosary Pilgrimage January Sixth

Special to The Carteret News—Dec. 27, 1934—The first Sunday Rosary Pilgrimage will be conducted on January 6th, at Rosary Shrine, Summit, N. J., at 3:30 P. M.

A High Mass will be celebrated by the resident chaplain and chanted by the cloistered Sisters, in the morning. The devotions in the afternoon will be held in the Lower Chapel on Springfield Avenue and will be under the direction of Rev. C. G. Moore, O. P., who will also deliver the sermon.

SOKLER GAVE OUT PRIZE AWARDS ON CHRISTMAS EVE

Sol Sokler, well-known merchant of Roosevelt avenue dispensed with the customary regalia of Santa Claus and portrayed the role himself. Without the necessary get-up, Mr. Sokler's substitution in the venerable St. Nicholas's usual portrayal proved a decided hit and an instantaneous success.

One Kelvinator refrigerator, one Philco radio and one complete Mix-master appliance set exchanged hands in that Christmas transaction held on the stage of the Ritz Theatre.

All told sixteen customers of Mr. Sokler's concern participated in the holiday pull. Each one had purchased a refrigerator during the sales promotion drive launched by Mr. Sokler's organization in the late Fall. And the drawing held the eve before Christmas was the successful culmination of that sales effort.

In the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Edigio Rocco, of 102 Edgar street, they are two of the luckiest people ever to receive holiday felicitations. For theirs was the ticket drawn on Monday evening which presented them with their Kelvinator, absolutely free.

Milk Truck Driver in Collision

Andrew Lukach, of 32 John street, was driving a milk truck belonging to his brother, Councilman James Lukach in Hopelawn Tuesday night when the truck was in collision with a car driven by LeRoy Kruse, of Orange. Stephen Wirt, of Orange, who was with Kruse was injured on the left side and Kruse was shaken up. Lukach escaped injury.

Jr. College in Amboy Hold Annual Party

Several local boys, all students at the Junior College, were guests at the Christmas party held by the Middlesex County Junior College in the Perth Amboy high school auditorium last Friday night. They are: Albert Matefy, John Harrington, Norman Fisher, John Goodman, Rudolph Klein, Dudley Kahn and George Armour, of Rahway.

Police Court News

Walter Kowalsky, of 26 Pershing avenue, who was found guilty of the theft of $1,350 in silver from a plant here, was given a term in the Rahway Reformatory by Judge Adrian Lyon.

Christmas baskets were distributed by many organizations of the borough to needy families.

We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks, to all our friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement in the loss of my wife, and sister, Emma Meyers—And we wish especially to thank Father Mulligan and Chief of Police Henry J. Harrington.

Signed, FREDERICK MEYERS AND DEMISH FAMILY.

WARD-MEYERS RITES HELD HERE MONDAY MORNING

About 300 persons, among them many officials of the borough, paid their last respects to Frank Ward and Mrs. Emma Demish Meyers at the double services held Monday morning at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. The Rev. J. A. Mulligan, officiated.

Mrs. Meyers died the morning of December 20th, after a long illness, and it is thought that the shock of her passing hastened the end for Mr. Ward, who was in bad health himself. He died at noon on the same day. It was the irony of fate that he had renewed his automobile license just the day before his death.

The pallbearers for former patrolman Frank Ward were fellow police officers as follows: Michael Bradley, Daniel Kasha, Daniel O'Rourke, Walter Rusnak, George Sheridan and Robert Shanley. Several other policemen attended in uniform.

There were visiting delegations of police from Perth Amboy, Woodbridge, Linden and Rahway. Harry Gerley, of Paterson, president of the New Jersey Police Benevolent Association, accompanied by several members, were also present.

Of his immediate family, Frank Ward is survived by his wife, Anna, and a son, John, 15 years of age. The pallbearers for Mrs. Meyers, sister-in-law of Frank Ward, were: Gabriel Suto, Walter Zysk, Leo Zysk, John Babik, and Geza and Joseph Sisko, of Woodbridge.

Mrs. Meyers leaves a son, Arthur, 7, and her husband, Fred. Three cars packed full of floral pieces were in the long cortege. Burial was at the St. Mary's cemetery, Rahway.

After the funeral the visiting delegations returned to Carteret and were served with refreshments at the Town Grill.

NEGRO SHOT AFTER DICE GAME FRACAS

James Breeden, Negro, 31 years old, of 45 Mercer street, was shot through the right forearm with a .38 calibre bullet Tuesday, at 4:30 P. M., by Gorham Taylor, Negro, of 57 Mercer street, where the shooting took place. Taylor was arrested.

According to the police Breeden was trying to force his way into Taylor's home when the latter fired a warning shot and Breeden went away. After fifteen minutes, the police say, Breeden returned and was shot.

Earlier in the afternoon, police were told by John Miranda, Breeden and Taylor quarreled, presumably over a dice game. Miranda was attracted to the scene by a crowd that had gathered. He said he saw Breeden pursue Taylor with a length of water pipe and strike him on the back. Miranda took Taylor to the latter's home and told Taylor's wife to keep him in. Breeden went to the Taylor home to renew the quarrel when the first shot was fired.

Then, police were told, Breeden went down stairs and broke pickets off the fence and threw them at Taylor's windows, then went upstairs and was trying to force the door when Taylor shot him. Taylor was ready to fire again when Officer Thomas Donoghue opened the door and he surrendered and handed over the revolver.

Breeden's injury was dressed by Dr. Joseph Wantoch and he was taken to his home.

Sylvia Fischer to Begin Duties Jan 3rd

Sylvia Fischer, of Randolph street, teacher appointed for the newly created position of home instruction for eligible pupils, will begin her duties when school opens, January 3.

There are five pupils in this group, scattered over the borough. Miss Fischer will instruct each pupil at its home one hour a day, making five hours per week per pupil. All the regular school subjects will be taught just as at school. Careful records will be kept of the progress of the pupils.

Music and "Eats" Go Well at Party

The Hungarian Citizens' Club held a Christmas party for members and their children Sunday night at the club's headquarters on lower Pershing avenue. Lively music and good things to eat featured the party, the entertainment being furnished by the children. Each child present received a gift and candy.

Three Injured While Walking in Street

While walking along Hazelwood avenue, Rahway, at 7 o'clock on Tuesday night, three young men, residents of the East Rahway section, were severely injured when they were allegedly struck by a car driven by Joseph Maroney, of 6 Roosevelt avenue. Possible fractures of legs were sustained by Joseph Leshack, 18, and Stephen Orgek, 18. They were removed to Rahway Memorial Hospital. Fred Lysek, 23, was treated for contusions and abrasions of both legs.

CHIEF HARRINGTON CLAIMS HE HAS BEEN MISQUOTED

Chief of Police Henry Harrington feels that many statements are being attributed to him which he claims not to have made at all.

He has not said nor does he believe that the present local police call-box system is old-fashioned; neither does he claim that it should be replaced with an expensive radio health office. It has been incorporated a system as can be found anywhere in the county and that it will endure for a long time to come.

He does feel, however, that a police car equipped with a two-way sending and receiving outfit would be a good thing for the borough; also that Carteret should be linked up with the radio system proposed for the county, the sending station to be located at New Brunswick.

These improvements, the chief feels, would be a great aid in the speedy apprehension of criminals, both in Carteret and the State.

BOOSTER CAMPAIGN NEARING THE END

The dawn of the Christmas holidays saw the end of the one hundred dollars special holiday awards which the Carteret Boosters have been offering over the preceding weeks. Now this local buy-at-home campaign enters its last phases with two more weekly offerings of seventy-five dollars each, and the Grand Prizes of two hundred fifty dollars in cash which terminates the campaign.

The December 26th prize drawing was held on the stage of the Ritz Theatre, the day following Christmas. The St. Nicholas award of twenty-five dollars went to George Brechka, of 21 Mary street. Second prize of ten dollars was awarded to Tilly Verseggi, of 84 Holly street. The lucky tickets of Mr. Reason, Jean Merelo, Al Gardner, Steve Barko and Dick Carleton were pulled for the five-dollar awards each.

Santa Claus has been a frequent and welcome visitor to this city in the past few weeks. Many Christmas stockings were filled by the old cent with the snow white whiskers. While still many other hose which otherwise would never received his attention were the lucky recipients of his beneficence. Aided and abetted by his local representatives, the Carteret Boosters, the aged visitor from the North Pole was enabled to present a full bag for many more homes this year. The final one hundred dollar holiday drawing held the day following Christmas filled thirty-seven more stockings for Christmas.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, wish to express our kind gratitude, to those who in any way assisted us in our recent bereavement, in the loss of my dear husband and father, Frank Ward. We especially want to thank Chief of Police Henry J. Harrington; Father Jos. Mulligan; Carteret P. B. A., Local 47; Foresters of America, Courth Carteret No. 48; Ex-empt Firemen and Fire Company No. 2. Signed, MRS ANNA WARD AND SON JOHN.

Republicans Control Borough Affairs After Next Tuesday

It Is Hoped That They Continue the Present Policy of Careful Scrutiny of All Expenditures. Mittuch Formulates Plans.

On Tuesday the Borough Government changes from Democratic to Republican control.

At present in the council on paper there are three Democrats and three Republicans. For the past month of so Councilman Donahue has been absent. At a recent meeting Councilman D'Zurilla resigned leaving but one Democrat, so-called, Turk. The remaining councilmen are Republicans, Ellis, Greenwald and Yarcheski.

Although Greenwald and Yarcheski were elected on the Republican ticket and put up by the present group in control of the local Republican ticket, they voted at a recent meeting along with Turk to put D'Zurilla, a Democrat, into a free-man's job. Ellis was the only one of the three Republicans to oppose this move. He contended that it might have been in order some time ago but as a last minute move he opposed it.

The move, of course, prevented the Republicans from filling the position, but it would not have been possible without the aid of Yarcheski and Greenwald. The next Council will lack Donahue and D'Zurilla, two Democrats. Donahue did not run again and D'Zurilla resigned. Their places will be filled by Dr. H. L. Strandberg and James Lukach.

So that the new council will have two elected on the Democratic ticket, Lukach and Turk, and four elected on the Republican ticket, Ellis, Strandberg, Yarcheski and Greenwald.

The mayor-elect, Joseph W. Mittuch, is Republican and will, in the case of a tie, have a vote. However, should Yarcheski and Greenwald go along with the Democrats there would simply be Ellis and Strandberg left to oppose and the mayor-elect would have no vote.

Of the entire new council Ellis is the one with the greatest amount of experience in municipal affairs. In the past few years he has gained in stature due to his consistent and definite stand on various matters. He has been a member of the important Finance Committee.

BOARD OF HEALTH SUPERVISES WORK OF FIRST AID SQUAD

There has been much talk lately about the First Aid Squad in Carteret. People have been wondering what this First Aid Squad is.

This unit is a Board of Health project. It is composed of a group of volunteer men workers, under the supervision of the Board of Health, banded together for the purpose of giving first aid free of charge wherever an whenever needed. The organization meets in the Board of Health office. It has been incorporated as the First Aid Squad through Attorney Louis T. Kovacs. Before the unit could qualify to operate in this capacity, each member was obliged to go through a rigid prescribed course of instruction and pass examinations, under the direction of George Blume, official instructor of the Red Cross of Washington.

Local physicians have endorsed the movement and have offered their services in giving lectures to the squad on important phases of first aid work. John J. Lyman has offered the organization the use of his ambulance until such time as it can buy its own.

Keansburg, South Amboy and Carteret have united under one district. The Keansburg squad is expected to come to Carteret some time in January with its fully equipped ambulance, in fact, almost a floating hospital, to demonstrate to the people here the value of this work.

The officers to take care of the business end are: Robert Shanley, president; Andrew Hilla, vice-president; Frank Born, secretary, and Edward Demish, treasurer.

The officers of the squad proper, are: Joseph J. Dowling, captain; Harry Rapp, assistant captain; Robert Shanley, first lieutenant; Kurt Hoffman, second lieutenant. The trustees are Roy Dunne, Max Schwartz and Charles Rapp.

Part of the funds needed for this service will be raised in various ways by popular subscription.

tant Finance Committee.

During the campaign the leaders of the incoming party insisted that they would run the municipality with as much economy, if not more, than the present administration and they were against increases in taxation. As a matter of fact, they felt that taxes could be lowered. The incoming group also derided the allegation that because of their inexperience they would be unable to give the community the economical and business-like administration that the times required. At the beginning of 1934 there was $300,000 worth of back taxes unpaid. In 1932 over eighty per cent of the residents had not paid their taxes in full and in 1934 it is reported that the amount of unpaid taxes is well over fifty per cent, despite the aid of the Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation in taking over mortgages and paying back and current taxes.

While appointments cannot formally be made until the council meets and they receive the approval of the council, after recommendations on the part of the Mayor, numerous names have been mentioned for the various public posts that will become vacant on January 1st. Nathaniel Jacoby, former recorder, who was most active in the local campaign and generally looked upon as the campaign manager and moving spirit, was thought to be a certainty for borough attorney. In different skirmishes that have gone on in the municipality between the parties he has indicated a keen grasp of the laws relating to municipal functioning. It is said now that A. D. Glass, who has also been active in the campaign, is slated for that post. Jacoby is said, may get one of the several legal jobs that will be available in the State or be otherwise placed.

Robert Brown has already been appointed Motor Vehicle Agent in Carteret by the Motor Vehicle Department and such assistants as he requires are said to have been picked by the advisors to the Mayor-elect. Unofficially said to be Strandberg, Bradford, Haury and Gorderstad, among others.

The names prominently mentioned for Overseer of the Poor are Mrs. Walter Vonah, wife of former councilman, and Mrs. Robert Wilson. Joseph G. Jomo, local engineer, is said to be favorably considered for the position of borough engineer. The position of building inspector has Frank Bareford's name associated with it among others. George Benschuck, at one time candidate for the council is said to be a leading candidate for road commissioner with John Hrivnak listed along with others as a possibility. Several meetings have been held of Republican workers to get the sentiment but it has been rumored that the steering committee of four previously mentioned are the most active in drafting the selections.

Mrs. Casaleggi Died Monday Night

After a three days' illness, Mrs. Anna Casaleggi, 60 years of age, of Lowell street, died at her home on Monday night at 10:45 o'clock. She had been a resident of Carteret for 35 years and conducted a candy store on lower Roosevelt avenue for 22 years. Her illness was attributed to a fall she sustained three weeks ago. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Clifford Cutler; three sons, Charles, Joseph and John, one sister, Adelaide of Dunellen.

Mrs. Casaleggi was a devout member of St. Joseph's Church, a member of the Catholic Daughters, St. Joseph's P. T. A., a charter member of the Ladies' Democratic Club.

The funeral took place at 9 o'clock this morning from St. Joseph's Church where a requiem high mass was celebrated. Interment was in St. James' cemetery, Woodbridge.

The Carteret Field Club will hold a benefit dance for one of its members tomorrow night at the Nathan Hale School.

Electric Utility Interests Get Cold Shoulder From the Administration—Vast Program Reported by National Resources Board.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© by Western Newspaper Union.

ELECTRIC utility companies of the United States, worried by the power program of the New Deal, appealed to President Roosevelt to abandon the movement toward public ownership which threatens, they say, to deprive millions of security holders of their savings. The plea was presented to the President personally by Thomas N. McCarter, president of the Edison Electric Institute. That gentleman promised that the utilities would effect the reforms in financing that Mr. Roosevelt has called for, and then requested that the government join with the institute in a suit to test the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley authority.

In the memorial he handed to the President, Mr. McCarter gave it as his own opinion that the government in the TVA experiment is exceeding its constitutional powers and infringing the sovereign rights of the state. He cited the joint opinion of Newton D. Baker, Democrat, and James M. Beck, Republican, that TVA is unconstitutional and the "similar conclusion" of United States Judge W. I. Grubb in a recent decision.

Mr. Roosevelt turned the memorial over to Frank R. McNinch, chairman of the federal power commission, and he and his aids speedily prepared a sharp reply rejecting the proposal of co-operation in carrying the matter to the Supreme court.

"In all the history of the American people," it said, "no parallel for such a proposal can be found. . . . The call is not for the government to halt, but for the industry to catch step and move forward along progressive lines."

"The Edison Electric Institute has, of course," it continued, "a legal right to promote litigation to test the act creating the Tennessee Valley Authority or any other statute, but it will make no substantial progress toward placing the industry on a sound and permanent basis until it cleans its own house, reduces excessive rates to consumers and eliminates the malpractice and abuses which are responsible for its present condition."

Attacking McCarter's contention that rates are reasonable, Mr. McNinch said Canadians pay on an average 2 1/2 cents for a kilowatt hour, while Americans pay 5 1/2 cents. He said the Canadian figures cover public and private plants, the latter supplying "43 per cent of the consumers."

"It is the purpose of the administration," he set forth, "to narrow this excessive gap between what the consumer pays for electricity in this country and what Canada has proved it can be generated and sold for. This program does not involve either 'destructive competition or strangulation.'"

DR. HUGH S. MAGILL, president of the American Federation of Utility Investors, entered the utility controversy with a hot attack on the federal trade commission, charging that it is throwing out a smoke screen to begot the public mind in its desire to win approval for the entry of the federal government into the electric light and power business through such efforts as the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The smoke screen, he declared, was the pronouncement of the commission to the effect that public utility companies had boosted pre-depression prices in a market in which investors afterward lost millions of dollars.

"The clamor for the government to enter private enterprise," said Doctor Magill, "enjoys the sponsorship first of the Communists who have no regard for private property, second of those influenced by socialist propaganda to believe that the production of electric power under government ownership would be in the interest of public welfare, and lastly of the spoliemen in politics who see the tremendous opportunities such a system would offer for added power and political spoils."

SENATORIAL investigators of munitions and the War department clashed when Clark of Missouri suggested, in a committee hearing, that the war mobilization plans of the department, long held secret, should be laid before congress in peace time to be debated at leisure. He held that, under the army's plan, the eight bills embodying the scheme to mobilize the nation's resources would be rushed to congress to "pass under whip and spur" without proper consideration.

War department witnesses replied that the war policies commission believed certain legislation might be held unconstitutional in peace time but legal in a war emergency.

Senator Clark also sought to learn what degree of control was contemplated by the "censorship" plan of the army. This calls for an administrator of public relations who would mobilize "all existing mediums of publicity so that they may be employed to the best possible advantage." He also would be charged with co-ordinating publicity, combating disinformation at home and enemy propaganda, "establishing rules and regulations for censorship" and "enlisting and supervising a voluntary censorship of the newspaper and periodical press."

Lieutenant Colonel C. T. Harris of the army said he never heard of a plan to license the press, and Lieut. E. E. Brannan said nothing more than voluntary censorship was contemplated.

BUSINESS leaders of the country who met in conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., drew up a long list of things they want the government to do or not to do, and then created a "business conference committee" that will have headquarters in Washington and maintain "liaison" with the administration.

The conference's recommendations to the government are phrased in inoffensive language and the idea is conveyed that the business men earnestly desire to co-operate rather than criticize. The things they ask are substantially the same as those sought by the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, previously summarized in this column. The essence of it all is that government should attend more to its traditional functions and permit business to put men and capital back to work.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S national resources board, appointed last June to devise "a plan for planning," with Secretary of the Interior

Harold L. Ickes

Ickes as its chairman, has submitted a long report offering a program, covering 20 to 30 years, for development of land, water and resources at an expenditure of $105,000,000,000. It surveys projects which presumably include the administration's relief and public works program for the immediate future, these being:

1. Improvement of highways and the elimination of grade crossings.
2. National housing, including slum clearance, subsistence homestead, rehabilitation, and low cost housing projects.
3. Water projects, including water supply, sewage treatment, flood control, irrigation, soil erosion prevention, and hydro-electric power developments.
4. Rural electrification.
5. Secretary of Labor Perkins, a member of the board, has said that if its recommendations are carried out, all unemployment will be eliminated for the next 25 years. These, she says, are the results that might be expected:
 1. Provide a much greater development of water resources.
 2. Stop menace of floods.
 3. Stop soil erosion.
 4. Remove all marginal or sub-marginal lands from attempted production.
 5. Stop waste of mineral resources and substitute a national policy of conservation.
 6. Create great new recreational areas.
 7. Assemble basic data for mapping, public finance and population, necessary for national planning, with a midcentennial census in 1955.
 8. Co-ordinate socially-useful federal, state and municipal public works.
 9. Provide for continuous long-range planning of land, water and mineral resources "in relation to each other and to the larger background of the social and economic life in which they are set."

ARMY and navy officers are concerned by the attempts of Communists to spread dissatisfaction, mutiny and rebellion among the armed forces of the nation, and have asked the house committee on un-American activities to approve a law permitting punishment of those who urge any soldier or sailor to violate his oath of allegiance.

Commander V. L. Kirkman of the navy told the committee that the Communists' campaign was planned and supervised from headquarters in New York city, and he submitted a number of pamphlets and leaflets circulated in the navy which, he said, "actually incite to mutiny, sabotage and assassination." He described how the propaganda work is carried on, good looking girls taking an active part.

IT MAY be the war in the Gran Chaco must be fought to a finish, for Paraguay has rejected the peace plan of the League of Nations which had been provisionally accepted by Bolivia. The Paraguayans, at present victorious in the jungle contest, said in their note to the league that certain conditions would make it impossible to discuss urgent matters like the return of Bolivian prisoners, "which by number and quality constitute an army very superior to that which Bolivia now has in the Chaco."

CARRYING on its anti-crime campaign, the Department of Justice caused the indictment and jailing of two attorneys on charges of complicity in the kidnaping of C. F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil magnate, in 1933. The two men represented the defendants in the kidnap trial. They are James C. Mathers of Oklahoma and Ben Laska, veteran member of the Denver bar. The men are charged specifically with handling part of the $200,000 ransom loot that went to Albert Bates, one of the actual kidnapers, who is now serving a life term at Alcatraz island prison.

Both the lawyers were released on bail, and Laska replied informally to the accusations by offering $50,000 reward to anyone who can prove that he passed any of the Urschel ransom money.

FINAL estimates of this year's crops, just released by the Department of Agriculture, show that agricultural wealth, based on farm prices December 1 of the five leading grain crops, exceeded that of last year by $314,000,000, despite the fact that total production of these crops was 1,248,000,000 bushels less than in 1933 and the smallest in 40 years.

Estimates for production of wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley total 2,541,000,000 bushels, compared with 3,789,000,000 bushels last year, and the five-year average (1927-31) of 4,900,000,000 bushels. Aggregate farm value of these crops is given as $1,894,778,000 as compared with $1,589,888,000 in 1933.

The extensive destruction of crops last summer by the heat and drought is forcibly illustrated by the fact that total production of the leading grains this year was 366,000,000 bushels smaller than the corn crop alone in 1932.

WOULD-BE lynchers of a negro youth and National Guardsmen fought desperately in Shelbyville, Tenn., and two members of the mob were killed and others wounded by bayonets and bullets. The infuriated crowd, described by a deputy sheriff as "erazy drunk," dynamited and burned the courthouse when it was learned that the negro had been disguised in militia uniform and gas mask and spirited out of town.

IF ANY doubt existed that Japan would denounce the Washington naval treaty, it was dissipated by the action of the privy council. That powerful body of statesmen, meeting with all ceremony, unanimously recommended abrogation of the pact to Emperor Hirohito, whose speedy approval was expected.

Baron Kikichiro Hiranuma, vice president of the council, read the report to the emperor and afterward said to the press: "The imperial government desires continuation of clauses of the Washington treaty relating to limitation of fortifications and naval bases in the Pacific ocean, but, if such clauses are terminated, the government is prepared to cope with the situation."

In plain words, then, Japan wants equality on the high seas with the United States and Great Britain, but wants the United States to remain restricted as to its Pacific ocean defenses.

SECRETARY OF WAR DERN is no less insistent on the necessity of strengthening the army than is Secretary of the Navy Swanson in the case of his naval defenses.

Secretary Dorn

In the first section of his annual report Mr. Dorn asks that the officer and enlisted strength of the army be increased to 14,000 commissioned officers and 165,000 enlisted men. Other recommendations include:

Purchase of 600 airplanes over a period of three years to give the air corps 2,320 serviceable planes, as urged by the board headed by Newton D. Baker, which investigated the air corps and its needs.

Allocation of sufficient funds to complete the army housing program at home and abroad.

Construction without undue delay of a War department building to house all its activities under one roof instead of in 17 buildings, as at present.

Enactment by congress of legislation to improve the promotion system, so as to give a more uniform and satisfactory flow of promotion without necessitating heavy additional expense.

Increasing the pay of officers, particularly in the lower grades, when the condition of the treasury warrants.

Mr. Dorn praised highly the efficiency and morale of the regular army, the National Guard and the organized reserves, and defended the work of the air corps in its brief operation of the air mail service last winter.

Mrs. MARY HARRIMAN RUMSEY, who fought valiantly but not altogether successfully to protect the interests of the consumers against the contentions of industry and labor, is dead in Washington. Always interested in sociology and public affairs, this daughter of E. H. Harriman and inheritor of some of his millions took an active part in promoting the New Deal and was made head of the National Consumers' board of the NRA.

Jonah Had a Sister

By J. T. BARBER

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate, WNU Service.

TERRY GELDON dreamed that if he could marry Thelma Bland and be a horse writer on the Herald-Sun, he'd be the luckiest man alive, and he believed it until he got that second blowout on the road to Havre de Grace.

It was beginning to look like an even bet that he wouldn't get to the track until after the last race when there wouldn't be a chance of catching Old Man Catherton.

He looked around instinctively for some sign of a flax. Only a flax could do things like that to a cowl-born child of fortune. His roving eye encountered Miss Bland. Horror chilled him but he faced it resolutely.

"Thel—do you read your Bible?"

"My what?" Blond Thelma's surprised gasp rippled the solitude of her mossy perch by the roadside. "Don't tell me you've run out of descriptives?"

"This is historic research," he grunted, yanking the jack out from under the rear axle.

"I've practically been a mummy for the last hour, if that's any good to you. What's the background?" Thelma covered politics.

"We-el, take Jonah. I mean—his family."

"No family," replied Thelma promptly.

"Nope. . . . Terry—" Thelma Bland suddenly examined him minutely—"That wouldn't be your cowardly way of blaming me for these sundry and minor difficulties, would it?"

"Am I saying?"

"You distinctly am. And if there's any more of the same I'll get right out here and walk home."

It made Terry relent. "You'll stay," he said. But they had to park for ten minutes. Then Thelma said, "That's more like it," and Terry felt lucky again.

He had practically forgotten his suspicions by the time they reached the "Graw" and he wandered about in front of the parmantul windows confident that Old Man Catherton would barge up and buy a ticket.

Presently Old Man Catherton barged up. Terry moved with the speed of a champion.

"Excuse me, Mr. Catherton. I'd like to be a racing writer on the Herald-Sun."

"Who would?" demanded Old Catherton defensively.

"Terry Geldon, sir!" Terry said, crowding.

"Humph!" Old Catherton glowered. "And what makes you think you can be a racing writer on the Herald-Sun?"

"A couple of years on the Harris-town Times-News; and I know horses. Ask me anything."

"Nonsense!" Old Man Catherton fingered his money and looked anxiously toward the windows. "You don't know what you're talking about. Luck is what you need to be a good reporter. Luck, by gad!"

Terry obeyed an unshamed impulse to look at Thelma Bland.

"That's me all over, sir," he said, forcing the right note. "I'm a natural!"

Old Catherton smirked. "Ob, you're a natural! Well—let's see what you can do. They'll be closing the windows in a split second. Get over there and buy a $10 ticket on Brarush. On the nose, mind you. Quick, I can't make it!" He pushed a large bill into Terry's right hand. Then Terry ran shouting as the man was closing the window. The man dissented but immediately reversed himself, grabbed the money and shoved out a ticket and some change.

Old Man Catherton laughed when he counted his money. "You're it, all right," he said. "Too much change." Terry laughed. Thelma laughed. Then they froze. Old Man Catherton was checking his program with growing perplexity. "And they gave you the wrong horse!"

Terry couldn't say anything. He stood there gaping while Thelma rudely pulled the ticket from Old Catherton's stiff fingers.

"You take my advice, young man," Old Man Catherton bellowed, "and get out of the newspaper business. Writing ability isn't the big thing. What we need is men who know what they're doing."

Sweat gathered under Terry's hatband, but he tried to smile politely at Thelma Bland. None of them noticed the sudden roar that had developed along the track in the last few minutes. Then the crowd was racing madly toward the windows, shouting that good old Dream Kiss had come through.

Old Catherton heard them. "That's the long shot," he cried. "What was that number?" He looked at them wondering what had become of the ticket.

"That's it," Terry was yelling, shaking him. "No. 4—Dream Kiss! Your ticket was 1785 on No. 4. It's paying a hundred to one!"

Since nobody offered to look for his ticket Old Man Catherton shoved trembling hands into his own pockets in wild search. They watched him numbly pull his right hand out of a pocket and let the torn bits of cardboard flutter down to the dust.

"I—I must have been excited," he said. But he was a sport. "You're on, boy; can't take that away from you. Wrong horse, too much change and the horse wins! Well—report whenever you're ready." He wandered away.

"I was scared stiff," Thelma whispered, "after I had torn up that ticket."

"You t-tub—what?"

"Yes! But then I thought it would be a good idea to drop the pieces into his pocket. Wasn't it lucky I did?"

Lace Blouse for Every Occasion

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

BY WAY of keeping properly informed as to the high-spots which loom on fashion's horizon, let's talk about lace. It is not only that the future of lace looks wonderfully bright and promising but lace in the scheme of styles-current is playing a most outstanding role.

Lace in an endless variety of new and unusual weaves and textures is being used in ways we would not have dreamed of a generation ago—not only for dresses and negligees, which bespeak romance and leisure and prettily feminine wiles, but for tailored suits and blouses and various apparel for the more practical hours, lace registers as dependably wearable and chic. Then, too, one of the most fascinating chapters being written into the story of fashions present and coming has to do with shoes, handbags and gloves which are ingeniously styled of lace.

It goes without saying, that in this emphasis given to lace for every occasion there needs must be a right lace for the right time and place, as we now have laces at our disposal as filmy and fragile as cobwebs, laces as sturdy and wearable as tweeds, and in tune with the trend to elegance comes along this season rich and lustrous laces shot with gold and silver or sparkling with glitter of sequin embellishment.

Lace blouses are particularly highlighted in the present mode. We are picturing three which will add variety and interest to the winter velvet or like lace—gold shot metal zephyr lace knit—and it comes in a wide choice of colors such as candy beige, clay rust, Chinese coral and mahogany brown.

The lace blouse with the polka dot pattern gives just the right accent when you don't care to look too tailored. Soft, feminine and quite new in line and medium is this wiolette lace blouse.

If you want a blouse to dress up your suit for an afternoon bridge or a matinee or three o'clock musicale, here's the very thing centered in the picture—a fine Alencon lace in a thoroughly wearable style.

The new lace tunics are wonderfully good looking. Whether in the modish dark colored laces, wine, hunter's green, rust brown or in the delectable ice blue, blush pink or pale champagne tints, these knee-length blouses are fascinating. Wear them over a velvet or crepe skirt or that which is the last word in chic—a sheer skirt knife pleated all around, for evening.

If you want to be assured of always looking beautifully gowned during the formal after-five hours enrich your wardrobe to the extent of one exquisite black lace gown. The filmy Chantilly black laces are competing with the heavier grandiose Spanish types at present. To vary the appearance of the black lace dress of your choice have it made with a neckline which lends itself to jeweled clips, also to the wearing of flowers across the front neckline.

"BLANKET" COAT

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Here's the latest thing in the way of a sports and practical daytime coat. Schiaparelli makes this dashing model of a brilliant red, green and blue plaid blanket wool. It is shown here worn over a dark blue one-piece wool dress. The flaring lines are very new.

Capes Carry On

Obviously the small round cape is carrying over for spring. Hardly a day model is shown without one, and the little evening cape is practically inevitable. Elbow or waist-length is the size of them.

NET IS FAVORITE AS WINTER FABRIC

Fashion designers are well aware that many women aren't satisfied unless they are wearing furs in summer and filmy garments in snowstorms. So for winter evenings, they are recommending the most transparent of fabrics, net. The most arresting model, seen in a representative collection, is designed along shirtwaist lines and has silver cross bars to decorate the net. A turnover collar with ruffled edge, short sleeves with ruffled cuffs and a skirt which bunches its buoyancy at either side, are noteworthy features of the mode.

A square dotted mesh is the most old-fashioned of all the netted themes to appear this season. An overblouse of this quaint stuff is recommended to cover a simple but quite formal black crepe evening gown.

New Bodice Treatment Is Seen in Late Collections

The bloused silhouette has been gradually growing in importance and gives promise of coming through in an important way. Lelong and Molyneux both showed the bodice that is bloused at the back.

Collections prepared for resort wear are playing up the bloused bodice, in all-round and just-at-the-back treatments; the resort groups suggest it in sportsy versions, which will doubtless have much to do with its acceptance. Shirtings and smockings are important in gaining the bloused line. Introduced in yokes and sections, the smockings not to be confused with the peasant blouse type.

Dainty Footwear

If mildly intends driving her car to the party when she is wearing delicate slippers, she would be wise to wear an old pair of slippers and change in the car before going in to the party. An unexpected smudge of oil or grease could ruin the whole afternoon.

TRUE DETECTIVE STORY

by Vance Wynn © Public Ledger

The House on the Hudson

SEVERAL years ago Chief Flynn of the United States Secret Service discovered that counterfeit $20 bills were being circulated in large quantities in the eastern part of the country. His search first led him to Philadelphia, but the trail was imperfect and he returned to New York, where he finally located some of the men who were passing the bad money.

A general raid in various sections led to the arrest of twenty men, most of them Italians.

This was very well, as far as went, but it did not go far enough for the detective.

His desire was to find the men who were manufacturing the money, and eventually he got a clue which made him believe that the plant of the conspirators was located in a town on the Hudson river in New York state.

He went there and discovered the place was called, in the language of the department, a deserted house.

It was not actually deserted, because an aged Italian and his wife were living there, and when they learned the mission of Mr. Flynn they vigorously protested their innocence of any wrongdoing.

But paper and ink had been shipped to this town of Highland, and he made a search of the premises, discovered dies and other tools used in the making of counterfeit money.

He decided not to arrest the old couple, feeling that premature action might enable the real culprits to escape.

He returned to New York again and in the course of a few weeks managed to get on the trail of two men who were known to be in the business of making bogus money.

Salvatore Cueno and Vincent Gagli were the suspected ones, and it did not take long to satisfy the secret service man that they were connected with the deserted house on the Hudson and knew something about the bills which were being circulated in the Eastern cities.

They were shadowed day and night. The chief spent his days in his office laying his plans and his evenings in gathering evidence.

One morning one of his men called at the office and told him that he suspects knew they were being shadowed, and had been heard making threats against him.

He shut his lips grimly and decided upon his plan of action.

The threat which had come to him was regarded as a challenge.

Flynn accepted it.

That night he started out as usual, but instead of pursuing his usual round of investigation he went straight for the saloon where he was likely to find the two men he was interested in.

It was the sort of thing that required nerve, but anyone who is acquainted with this great detective knows that he is not deficient in courage.

The door of the place was shut and locked.

He knocked on the panels and demanded admittance.

The door was opened on a crafty Flynn pushed his way in, and found that the saloon was crowded with a motley assemblage of men and boys, most of whom were easily recognizable as inhabitants of the underworld.

His dramatic entrance filled them with awe.

For some moments they stood there looking at him without saying a word.

Before they had time to recover from their surprise he pulled a revolver and shouted:

"Hands up, everybody!"

He had planned all of this before he entered the place.

He knew the psychology of crowd. He knew, especially, the kind of men he would have to deal with.

The result was exactly what he had anticipated.

Every man in the saloon raised his hands, and the next moment a corps of assistants rushed into the place and placed the men under arrest. Among them were the two men he was after.

They were taken before a United States commissioner and held for trial.

When the trial took place some time later the evidence was so complete and conclusive that they were promptly convicted and sentenced to long terms in the penitentiary.

Most of the other persons caught in the raid were released, but it is a significant fact that the manufacturing and circulation of the counterfeit bills ceased from that time.

It was a clever piece of detective work, involving keen headwork and personal courage.

Iron Age Relics Are Found

Relics of an early iron age have been found in the caves at Ballinacorney, northern Ireland, by a group of archaeologists under Dr. J. Wilfrid Jackson of the Manchester Museum. The most remarkable and unique find was a roughly finished female figure in baked clay, which was similar to some of the clay figures of Crete and other Mediterranean places of ancient times. The figure, built of large water-worn stones was unearthed at a depth of six feet. It was partially surrounded by a wall of similar stones. Among the worked bones were piercers, needles, including a very fine polished needle about two inches long, with a perfectly formed eye.

standing player in the league, although there are other boys who deserve as much credit.

The Jednotas are playing games weekly, as are the St. James quintet and the Ukas.

BOWLING

The Carteret Odd Fellows "A" team won the championship of the State Odd Fellows League for the second time in succession, having a seasonal average of well over 700. The local outfit won fifty-seven out of seventy-two games. Ormy McLeod was the highest individual scorer of the team with an average of 197, for which he received a watch. If the Carteret team wins the championship again this year they will keep the Grand Masters' Cup, which is awarded to the team winning the title three times in a row.

The Carteret Big Five won the championship of the Carteret City League, finishing up four games in front of the Stars. McLeod, Goger, A. Galvanek, Kazmer and F. Donnelly were the members of the winning team.

Ormy McLeod, besides winning the individual honors in the Carteret City League, led the bowlers in the Perth Amboy Recreation League with an average of .209.

BASEBALL

The Carteret City Bowling League re-organized for the present season, and have already been rolling their weekly matches. The Hudsons, newcomers to the league, are now in the lead by a pretty safe margin.

BASEBALL

Carteret High went along in mediocre fashion, winning six and losing seven baseball games. The Macmen defeated Perth Amboy, however, in the final game by a 1-0 score, Kosel doing the mound work. Comba led the team in batting with an average of .328. Varsity letters were presented to nine men and a manager.

Joe Medwick, playing regularly with the St. Louis Cards, huffed .319 for the season. Medwick made a fine name for himself in the world series, pinking out four hits in five trips to the plate in the first game, which tied a world's record. Medwick led his team in hitting triples.

The Jednota baseball nine, going through their regular playing season without a defeat, lost to Catasqua in the game for the national title. Lukasiak led the team in batting with .569.

The Carteret Holy Family nine won the State title in their league by downing the St. Hyacinth team of South Amboy, 18-5. Kamont and Kosel worked on the mound for the locals and were outstanding during the season.

Joe Comba worked out another worth while enterprise when he formed a Round Robin baseball league, composed of the Aces, the Rovers and the Clovers. The Aces won the first half and the Rovers won the second half. In the playoffs, the Rovers won the loop championship and were awarded a very beautiful trophy. It is expected that the loop will again re-organize next summer.

TRACK

Carteret High's harriers went on in fair fashion, placing third in the county meet held in Perth Amboy in June. The locals placed men in the 440-yard dash, the mile run and the high jump. John Bradley won the mile run at the meet, making the distance in 5:10. Demeter and Haas tied for first place in the high jump.

FOOTBALL

Coach McCarthy's high football team completed one of its best seasons, winning eight and losing but one game. Kosel was outstanding for the Macmen, although Wielgolinski and a few of the other boys did just as good work. Kosel and Wielgolinski made the first All-State team picked last week by Gus Falzer of Newark.

The Carteret Field Club had a mediocre season, winning seven and losing three games. Green and Coughlin were the big guns for the Fielders, although the other boys all played fine ball.

The Outlaws won three games, as did the Boys' Club.

About 250 Attend H.S.A. Dance Saturday

A crowd of about 250 enjoyed the informal dance held by the Hebrew Social Alliance Saturday night at the German Lutheran Hall. The affair was planned as a meeting place for the boys and girls home from schools for the holidays. The old-fashioned leisurely waltz took its place among the more speedy dances of the present day. The dance broke up at a late hour, with everyone happy over a good time. Several of the older people were present.

Birthday Party for Miss Wohlschlager

A delightful birthday party was given in honor of Margaret Wohlschlager's sixteenth birthday, at her home on 31 Hayward avenue.

Games were played and refreshments served.

The guests were: Lydia and Margaret Wohlschlager, Martha Nering, Elsie and Edna Meekdune, Agnes and Edna Wohlschlager, Dorothy Starkman, Pauline Sankner, Hedwig Ambolt, Lillian Fenske and Edith Yankee. Joseph Halulko, Walter Stockman, Anthony Ullersberger, John Schroeder, Balaris Berry, Harold Malwitz, Walter Foxe, Charles Woodhull, William Haas, William Nering and Otto Malwitz.

Sea Sled Is Seaworthy

A sea sled is considered seaworthy. It is not flat bottomed but, instead, the bottom is concave. It has a modified tunnel-like effect built in the fore part of the bottom of the boat, which tapers down so that the bottom of the after part of the boat is practically flat.

Revolutionary Calendar of the French Republic

The revolutionary calendar was the calendar of the first French republic. It was substituted for the ordinary calendar by a decree of the national convention in 1793. The 22nd of September 1792 the day from which the existence of the republic was reckoned, was the date of the new calendar. The year began at midnight of the day of the autumnal equinox, and was divided into twelve months of 30 days, with five additional days (sans-culottides) for festivals, and six in every fourth year. Each month was divided into three decades of ten days each, the week being abolished. The names of the months with their English significance, and the approximate dates of their commencement, are as follows: Vendemiaire (Vintage), September 22; Brumaire (fog), October 22; Frimire (snow), November 21; Nivose (snow), December 21; Pluiose (rain), January 20; Ventose (wind), February 19; Germinal (seed), March 21; Floreal (blossom), April 20; Prairial (pasture), May 20; Messidor (harvest), June 19; Thermidor or Fervidor (heat), July 19, and Fructidor (fruit), August 18. The five regular sans-culottides were dedicated respectively to the Virtues, Genius, Labor, Opinion and Rewards. This calendar was abolished by Napoleon at the end of 1805.

Numerous Varieties of Bothersome Cockroaches

While there are many varieties of cockroaches belonging to the same family, among which are the German and Australian, the American is the most common and widely distributed species in the corn belt according to an authority in the Missouri Farmer.

About eleven months time is required for a cockroach to hatch and grow to maturity. The female lays a number of eggs which she deposits in a brown capsule. This capsule she retains in her body until the young are about ready to hatch whereupon she deposits it along the run-ways of the insect. When the young hatch they live for a time with the old pair. At night they sneak into kitchen and pantry and track around over the food. They excrete a material over food and in their run-ways that has a foreign and very offensive odor. That they are exceedingly filthy and dangerous to human health is obvious when it is known that they eat and track over anything from a dead mouse, a bad egg, an empty egg capsule, to all kinds of human foods.

Freak Virginia Chimneys Natural Rock Formations

The Virginia "towers" or "chimneys" as they are called locally, range from 60 to 75 feet in height and at a distance look like the partially wrecked walls of a venerable castle—again like aged chimneys set down in the midst of a grove. There are seven, and they consist of time-stained limestone and rise perpendicularly from the alluvial borders of the stream which winds about their bases, forming a natural moat.

The Virginia chimneys are more regular in their strata than the picturesque Palisades of New York and appear to have been arranged by nature with perfect workmanship, with projections like dilapidated cornices designed by some noted Grecian architect, according to the Washington Star.

Geologists and scientists believe the chimneys are the products of geological upheavals of thousands of centuries ago. A great lake or river by the night of its turbulent waters many generations ago may have washed and whittled against the sides of these submerged walls of rock and gradually ground them to their present curious configurations. Later after those waters disappeared, exposure of the limestone towers to weathering and alternating summer heat and winter cold may have completed the picturesque form.

Golfers Wear Red Coats

There are golf courses in England that compel the golfers to wear red coats. This custom originated when golf first started in England, where because of the requirement of green open spaces, the common lands, where villagers had grazing rights for cattle, were used. Because of the danger to peasant and live stock from this strange round, white missile, all golfers were required to wear red coats. In this land of tradition, there is one club, only twelve miles from London where this practice still holds.

Obverse and Reverse

The obverse is that which is turned over against something else. The obverse side of a coin is that which meets the eye when the coin is held before it as distinguished from its reverse or other side. In a general sense, the obverse designates a necessary correlative truth. In such use the truth and its obverse, in their relation to each other, stand as positive and negative.—Literary Digest.

Native Dress in Java

Present-day Java affects many strange combinations of foreign and native dress, but from the native rulers to the servant the long, straight skirt, with a single fold in front is almost universally worn.

Sea-Lilies Not Flowers; Are Related to Starfish

Zoology has revealed no organism more at variance with the popular conception of animals than the sea lilies, or crinoids, found in the waters of Australia, according to a correspondent in the New York Herald Tribune. When seen for the first time it is difficult to believe that they are not flowers; yet in all but the stately form they are animals, belonging to the same family as those the starfish.

The crinoids grow in clusters like the beds of tiger-lilies, and from the bed a jointed stalk rises, sometimes to a height of several feet, before the "lily" is produced. Surmounting the stem is a disk that bears the mouth, as in the case of the anemones; but the tentacles are much longer, and rise around the margins of the disk in such a manner as to simulate a lily with marvelous perfection.

Unlike most of the anemones the crinoids live in deep water, and some of them have been dredged up from depths in which it seems impossible for such tender and delicate things to exist. They were among the earliest types of animal life on earth, and their fossils are very common. They are in such preservation that they were called "stone lilies" before their true nature was understood.

Caterpillars Big Eaters; Weave Own Silken Cocoon

Caterpillars eat very heartily. It has been said that one may eat seven times his own weight in a day. As they eat, they grow. And as they grow, they frequently shed their skins and grow new ones. Finally, writes J. H. Farby, in the Missouri Farmer, after shedding their skins and enlarging themselves several times, they reach their full size.

When this full size is attained, they cease eating, and fasten themselves to twigs or other objects. Often they hang head downward, supported by a silken thread which they have manufactured within their bodies. After one more molt, or change of skin, they manufacture more of this silk thread, and completely wind themselves up in it.

Inside this silken case, which we call the cocoon, the caterpillar loses its legs and mouth-parts. Then it remains in this little prison until it has developed two pairs of wings, three pairs of legs, long antennae on the head, and new mouth-parts consisting of a coiled tube for sucking nectar from flowers. These great changes require various lengths of time. In some cases, only a few days are required; while in others, it takes all winter.

U. S. Volunteer Life Savers

The United States volunteer life-saving corps was formed in 1870 and instructs in rescue work from drowning, resuscitation and first aid, places life-saving equipment, surf boats, life buoys and so on, at the most dangerous places throughout the United States, and grants medals and certificates. Its work has been adopted by the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Red Cross and practically all municipal life guards in the country, as well as army, navy and other branches of the government, each organization modifying the work. The corps has over 100,000 rescues to its credit and countless first aid cases since its inception. Its membership approximates 75,000 and is active in many states throughout the Union. The headquarters are at Providence, R. I.

Croats Became a Subject State

In the eighth century the Croats became a subject state in the western Empire of Charlemagne, and for the next 150 years remained under the domination of one or another of their western or eastern neighbors. In 924, Tomislav won the independence of a large portion of Croatia, and it is to him that the Yugoslavs look back on a thousand years of history. In 1102, Croatia was joined with Hungary as an autonomous kingdom under the Hungarian crown of St. Stephen, and remained so until the World war.

Meaning of Word "Rand"

Rand is a Dutch word in use in South Africa, meaning rim, edge, edge of hills. Specifically it is an abbreviated form of Witwaters Rand, an elevated ridge in South Transvaal, forming the water-parting between the Vaal and the Olifants rivers. The Rand is famous for its auriferous reefs and the word is often used as a synonym for the extensive gold mining industry of this area, or for Johannesburg, the city which the industry created.

The Carteret News

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY IN THE YEAR AT THE PLANT OF THE CARTERET NEWS AT 9 COOKE AVENUE, CARTERET, N. J. TELEPHONE, CARTERET 8-0300.

M. E. YORKE, Publisher

Entered as second-class matter June 24, 1908, at the post office at Carteret, N. J., under act of March 3, 1879.

THE CARTERET NEWS was founded June 17, 1908 as THE ROOSEVELT NEWS; was published on Wednesdays until July 15, 1909; was then published on Thursdays until December 6, 1912, since which time it has been a Friday paper. The title of the paper became THE CARTERET NEWS on November 17, 1922, following the election of November 7, 1922, when the people of the Borough voted to change the name of the Borough from Roosevelt to Carteret by a vote of 1652 to 203.

CAUTION

There is every reason for handling the local municipal finances in the coming year with the greatest of caution. At the beginning of the year 1934, approximately $300,000 was owed in back taxes. Many have been unable to pay rent. Despite the tremendous sums spent by the Federal Government to attempt to speed up general recovery, there are approximately 700,000 more unemployed in the country to-day than a year ago. While conditions are more hopeful there has been no decided gain aside from the vast expenditures of public monies which have gone into consumers' goods.

As far as public expenditures go, caution will have to be the watchword until the general run of rent-payers and taxpayers are in a better position to meet some of the indebtedness that has already been piled up on them in an attempt to carry on. It would be cruel and unfair on the community in general to return in these uncertain times to the creation of jobs, loose spending and extravagance in the name of the people, who are in no position to pay. It would be even worse to further mortgage their home through additional bond issues.

The political campaigns are over. There is no question about it but from the standpoint of one who understands municipal finance and comparative figures, the finances of the Borough of Carteret in these four unusually depressed years have been well handled.

During much of this year the tax situation was improved by the assistance of the Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation. A short time ago it refused to make any further loans. In its operations the Home Owners' Loan Corporation came to the rescue of those who were unable to meet mortgages and paid their taxes. This helped relieve the situation in Carteret in 1934. Unless there is a change in the Federal Government's attitude, we cannot expect the Home Owners' Loan Corporation to give further local aid in 1935.

In charting any course for 1935, we cannot overlook the fact that in 1933 80% of the residents were unable to pay taxes in full. In 1934 the situation was reported to have been improved somewhat due to the Home Owners Loan Corporation, but still more than half the people were unable to pay taxes in full. When more than half the residents cannot pay their taxes, it is hardly the time to add to their burdens.

NOT THE TIME

It is unpleasant to learn that the Middlesex County budget for 1935 probably will carry a $100,000 increase, although the bonded debt has been decreased by $1,000,000 with a resultant saving of $65,000 in interest charges and maturities. It is explained that the budget jump will be caused by mandatory increases for the care of tubercular patients, old age pensions and widows' pensions. But the restoration of one-half of the cuts in salaries of county employees is not mandatory at this time, and that is said to be included in the budget, accounting for some part of the rise.

If financial order had been restored, through increasing ability of taxpayers to pay their obligations, and of communities to pay their share to the county, that step would be distinctly proper.

Yesterday Walter R. Darby, state commissioner of municipal finance, disclosed that tax collections still were tragically slow, that state municipalities had received up to September 30 only 48 per cent of their $231,339,374 tax levy, and that not a few of them, including North Brunswick, Raritan and Woodbridge township were in default. That condition definitely shows that the time has not arrived for the restoration of pay cuts of public employees here and generally.—New Brunswick Home News.

MISS FANNA THORN WEDS RAHWAY MAN

Fanna Ruth Thorn held the spotlight in the borough Saturday, December 22, when she joined the ranks of the "young marrieds."

In the Presbyterian Church, at 6:30 in the evening, against a pretty background of Christmas greens and colorful chrysanthemums, Fanna Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Thorn, of 64 Atlantic street, became the bride of Russell Frederick Tandy, of 41 Bryant Terrace, Rahway. Rev. D. E. Lorentz read the marriage service.

The wedding march and other selections associated with the marriage vows, notably, "Daisy" and "I Love You Truly," were played by Mrs. William Wright, sister of the groom.

Natalie Miles, an intimate friend, was the bride's attendant. The groom's best man was his brother, Edgar.

Blue, in different shades, seemed to be the favorite color. The bride was attired in ice blue satin, with hat and accessories to match. Her corsage was of purple violets and lilies-of-the-valley. Natalie chose carbon blue and carried a corsage of yellow tea roses. The bride's mother wore a copen blue lace gown. After a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents, the young couple left on a short honeymoon, returning to spend Christmas with the bride's parents, with whom they will make their home.

Besides the bride and groom, the guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Thorn, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. William Tandy, parents of the groom; William and Thomas Thorn; Edna Bradford, Vivian Bauerband, Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Lorentz, Natalie Miles, Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, Edgar Tandy and Nancy Desmond, of Woodbridge.

The new Mrs. Tandy was born in Carteret and attended the schools here. She was a popular and active member of the high school class of 1930, and who can forget her lovely rendition of "Little Briar Rose" at high school graduation in the declamation contest, for which she was awarded first prize. She attended N. J. C. for a year but left to enter the business world. Employed in a large department store in Newark, she resigned her position a few days before her marriage to stat at home.

Mr. Tandy is in the employ of Merck & Co., of Rahway.

In Hospital

Evelyn Weiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isidor Weiss, of Roosevelt avenue, who has been having trouble with her ears for several weeks, was operated on for double mastoids on Wednesday evening. She is at the Perth Amboy General hospital.

PRIZES INCREASED FOR FINAL DRAWING

With the close of the Booster buy at home campaign imminent these weeks see a hurried rush for the Booster profit-sharing coupons.

January 25th, the merchants will give out two hundred fifty dollars in cash to bring to a close an enterprise which since its inception one month ago has been of great interest and of real benefit to the people of Carteret. The end of the campaign will see the exchange of one thousand dollars from the hands of the Carteret Boosters into those of the shoppers of Carteret. Every week has found the sum of from seventy-five to one hundred dollars given out. Upwards of 300,000 coupons have been deposited up to the present date.

The number of lucky participants who have shared in the awards so far exceed two hundred and fifty persons. The total number of people expected to share in the awards will run into possibly four hundred.

Twenty eight merchants have been enlisted under the Booster banner and have subscribed to the tenets of the campaign. More have joined as the enterprise gained momentum. Now the interest is at fever pitch and of importance to all.

Strange is the fact that the winners have been recruited from all walks of life. The reason for this may not only be due to the interest in this campaign but also in the fair way this undertaking has been managed. Every section of the town as been well represented in the winners lists each week, which doubtlessly traces its reason back to the fairness and integrity displayed by the merchants in the campaign. Each succeeding batch of tickets is better mixed and segregated than the ones before. Everything done is with the idea of giving everyone a fair chance at the drawings.

HIGHWAY SCHEDULES APPROVED BY STATE

Thenton, Dec. 24—Schedules for the use of $2,100,000 in construction and maintenance of township and borough roads during the approaching year were approved today by the State Highway Commission.

The action covers work in 19 of the counties, leaving the lists for Bergen and Salem to be decided upon later. The money is derived from motor vehicle receipts and is allocated by statute on the basis of $100,000 for selected projects in the townships and boroughs of each county. Of this grant the Freeholders may apply for $25,000 for maintenance on the township and borough dirt roads and 11 have done this, leaving $1,825,000 available for the construction of thoroughfares. In addition to this the Highway Commission, following the provisions of the statute, also sets aside annually $210,000 for the maintenance of the township and borough roads already improved with State aid, this sum granting $10,000 for each of the counties and bringing the total to $2,310,000 for township and borough road work each year.

On new construction the State may advance a maximum of 90% toward the cost. To meet all the requests that were made for aid would have required the sum of $6,102,390.

The thoroughfares upon which the money will be spent in Middlesex and Union counties acted upon are as follows:

- Middlesex County—Cranbury Township, Old Cranbury-Hightstown, $3,700; Dunellen Borough, Washington Avenue, $8,380; East Brunswick Township, Rhode Hall Road, $13,500; Arthur Street, $6,750; Middlesex Borough, Whitlock Avenue and New Market Road, $8,100; North Brunswick Township, Black Horse Road, $3,240; Piscataway Township, Williams Street, New Market Road, $8,100; New Brunswick Avenue, $9,000; South Plainfield Borough, New Brunswick Avenue, $9,000; Spotswood Borough, Spotswood-Helmetta Road, $33,930; Union County—Cranford Township, Lincoln Avenue, $15,000; Kenilworth Borough, Michigan Avenue, $35,000; Union Township, Vaux Hall Road, $18,000; Westfield, Rahway Avenue, $20,000; Roselle Park, Locust Street, $12,000.

Had No Passport

Anthony Fernandez, 32, of 51 Pershing avenue, was arrested Saturday by Capt. J. J. Dowling on a charge of illegal entry into the country. He was unable to show a passport and was turned over to H. S. Brown of the Department of Immigration at Ellis Island.

ELECTRICITY AND GAS SIMPLIFIED HER TASKS

Every woman who has had Christmas festivities in her home realizes the great help that she has had from those two efficient servants—electricity and gas.

They can be relied upon to assume the burdens of washing and cleaning quickly and cooking efficiently during the holidays.

Electricity in the home makes possible the saving of labor through the use of vacuum cleaners, washing machines, irons and many other appliances.

Gas in the home promotes comfort, cleanliness and health by the use of automatic hot water service, automatic gas ranges and refrigerators.

And the remarkable thing is—gas and electric services take but a small percentage of the monthly family budget.

LETTERS CONTAINING CHRISTMAS SEALS GO UNANSWERED

Extension of the Christmas Seal Sale period, which officially ends Christmas Day, to permit receipt of the returns from 6000 letters containing seals mailed before Thanksgiving Day which remain unanswered was announced today by Miss B. V. Hermann Seal Sale Chairman for Carteret.

Miss Hermann stated that returns to date totaled $4500 received from 4000 persons. This is slightly less than the amount received to date at this time last year and still lack $4000 of the total sum realized from the 1933 sale. Of this $2500 or 35.6 per cent was received after the close of the official seal sale period. "Every penny will be needed to balance this year's budget," Miss Hermann said, "as expenses have been reduced to a minimum, salaries cut to the bone and constant demands for increased services are arising."

Miss Hermann made a plea for the prompt return of money or seals by the New Year. This will save the organization much extra labor and expense as its contract with the New Jersey Tuberculosis League and the National Tuberculosis Association account for all seals mailed.

Miss Hermann stated that from an educational standpoint this year's sale has been among the most successful on record. The story of the little red house built fifty years ago by Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau to serve as the country's first tuberculosis sanatorium has had a great appeal both to children and adults. The schools in particular, said Miss Hermann have so featured "The Little Red" that there is scarcely a child in the country who cannot describe the first sanatorium and tell its history.

Miss Hermann attributed much of the financial and educational success of the sale to cooperation of volunteer committees.

Play Scheduled for January 8th

The Christmas play and entertainment which was to have been given by the pupils of St. Joseph's parochial school last Friday will take place Tuesday, January 8th. This postponement was made necessary to give the 40, or more children who are ill and who have parts in the entertainment time to get well. The play will be given in the school auditorium.

Fire Routs Occupants

An early morning fire routed a widow and nine children out of bed last Thursday morning. The fire occurred at 45 Jeannette street, at 5:00 A. M. The building, which comprises a grocery store on the main floor with a flat upstairs, was occupied by Mrs. Emma Koval and owned by Andrew Petrach, of Mercer street. Damage to the building and furnishings was estimated at about 2,000.00. It is thought the fire was caused by a short circuit in the electric wiring.

GRIPPE PREVALENT IN SOUTHERN JERSEY

Grippe has suddenly become unusually prevalent, particularly in the Southern section of New Jersey.

Officials of the State Department of Health and State Department of Public Instruction conferred on measures to be taken to arrest the outbreak.

Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Education Commissioner, communicated today with county school superintendents and supervising school principals requesting them to inform him during the Christmas holidays as to the extent of the disease and the advisability of re-opening the schools January 2. The school officials were asked to inform the State Education Commissioner as new cases develop and if, in the opinion of the local officials, the schools should be re-opened. Commissioner Elliott joined with the State Department of Health in urging parents, or guardians, of children to seek early medical care of children.

Extent of the outbreak cannot be accurately estimated because grippe is not a reportable disease by physicians and cases of grippe, which actually are influenza, are not being reported as such.

The infection of grippe is usually transmitted from persons to person chiefly by coughing and sneezing. It may also be spread by articles placed in the mouth such as drinking cups, eating utensils and other things contaminated by secretions from the mouth or nose of infected persons.

"There is always increased danger of pneumonia when a person has grippe," said the State Department of Health.

"Persons who have grippe or severe colds should do what they can to protect others and to prevent their illness from developing into pneumonia. The best way to do both those things is to go to bed as soon as the disease starts and stay in bed until well. 'Fighting off' grippe increases the severity, delays recovery and favors the development of complications. Try to keep from sneezing or coughing near anyone's face. Sneeze into a handkerchief. Call a doctor promptly so he may help prevent more serious illnesses like pneumonia and other complications. Well persons should try to avoid others who are coughing or sneezing. Keep hands away from the mouth and nose and wash the hands before eating. Everyone should use his own drinking glass and towel. Careful people will avoid public eating places where they suspect dishes and glasses are not thoroughly washed."

Changed Location

Dr. Maurice Davidson, of Elizabeth, formerly of Washington avenue, will open a private maternity center, at Roselle Park the first of the year. Cranford was mentioned last week but it now develops the place will be Roselle Park.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB SOUNDS WARNING

The year 1935 will be a crucial one for the motorists of the United States, in the opinion of the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey.

"Throughout the nation," said Herbert C. Silcox, Manager of the Trenton Division of the Club, "there is a very definite swing of the pendulum toward imposition of restrictions upon the operators of motor vehicles. This has been brought about by the continued killing and maiming of persons on the highways. Public opinion has swung from tolerance of highway accidents to insistence that the authorities take drastic steps to prevent them."

"Motorists have it within their own power to determine the extent to which restrictive measures will be imposed. A sharp decline in accidents will cause favorable reaction. Continuance of accidents on the present scale will inevitably result in curtailment of privileges now enjoyed."

"It is our hope and expectation, therefore, that motorists will enter the year of 1935 with determination to observe all the rules necessary for safe operation of motor vehicles—not just those which suit their convenience. The year will be a crucial one not only for the motorists of this State, but for all states. It manifestly is to the interest of every driver to give the best that is in him to keep the automobile in good standing and reputable."

"We have faith in the American motorist. The vast majority of drivers are never involved in accidents. The dangerous minority must learn the lesson the majority has mastered if all are not to be penalized for the errors of the few."

Attend Hospital Exercises

School Programs

Christmas parties and programs were held in all the schools, although many program were disturbed through participants having to stay home on account of illness.

Mrs. McCann and Mrs. O'Donald, of Woodbridge, visited Mrs. William Duff, of Locust street, recently. After dinner Mrs. Duff took her guests with her to the Christmas party given by the Ladies' Democratic Club.

DRIVE SAFELY

Sleeping at the Wheel

LAST year in New Jersey there were 258 accidents, nine of them with fatal results, caused by the drivers falling asleep at the wheel.

What made them fall asleep? Fatigue and boredom.

Most of the drivers were those whose business required them to travel alone. Under these circumstances a man, becomes automatic. Eventually he wears out his own thought. The scenery is old, the road familiar, and the objective visual clues are beginning to work with the regularity and monotony of an old clock. He relaxes, physically and mentally. The drone of the engine fades slowly away. For a moment he passes below the threshold of consciousness. Then—

THUMP! AND A CRASH! And the driver wakes up astride a telegraph pole or knocking on the door of Heaven.

Try and realize that when you drive the machine under your feet at fifty miles an hour and the one above your shoulders at one mile per hour, you are geared up for a trip to eternity.

"I don't see how such a little fellow as you can eat such hard things as acorns and beech nuts," protested Peter a little doubtfully.

Yank Yank laughed right out. "Some time when I see you over in the Green Forest I'll show you," said he. "When I find a fat beech nut I take it to a little crack in a tree which will just hold it. Then with this stout bill of mine I crack the shell. It really is quite easy when you know how. Cracking a nut open that way is sometimes called hatching and that is how I come by the name of Nuthatch."

Probabilities Never Wrong

The quotation from Aristotle to the effect that probabilities are never wrong is a translation of the Greek which is practically as follows: "In regard to the confirmation of evidence and the law of probabilities, when a man has no witnesses he can say that the decision should be given in accordance with probabilities and that this is the meaning of the oath according to the best of one's judgment."

have been so late in discovering what to all who understand children is an obvious fact.

The child mind as complex as the adult's? It would be safer to call it more complex. In many lanes of knowledge and thought that are familiar and well charted to the grown-up, the child moves in a constant fog.

A child has so many ideas, so many hopes, so many wonders and questions on which he forms conclusions which bring disappointments and doubt and disillusion, that he is in a constant labyrinth of thought, up one alley and down the next—usually, it must be said, after some adult who doesn't know where he is going, but doesn't care so much as the child!

Far be it from me to paint adults as sure of life or ourselves. But there are many things we know, about which the child can only wonder and guess. And about the things that leave us as

Introduction of Table Fork Aid to Cookery

We are told that not only fingers but knives and spoons were made before forks. While the use of the spoon and knife dates far back into antiquity, it was not until the early Sixteenth century that forks appeared upon the tables of the nobility of Italy.

The story goes that a woman of very dainty tastes, the wife of the doge of Venice, who would not soil her fingers with meat but conveyed bits of food to her mouth with a golden two-pronged fork of her own invention, was responsible for the first fork known to history.

From Italy forks were then introduced into England by a gentleman, Thomas Coryate, who had been favorably impressed by the Italian use of forks while on a visit to that country. The English, however, did not at first take kindly to the innovation, but looked on forks as an affectation of superiority. And there came a saying: "Who would make hay of his food and pitch it into his mouth with a fork?" But finally its very usefulness won for it a permanent place at the table.

Surely the fork has done a great deal to simplify and advance the art of cookery by encouraging the taste for solid foods and natural flavors. It has also made possible the serving of delicate slices of meat, and furthermore it promotes cleanliness at the table in contrast to the days when finger bowls were a dire necessity. It has also encouraged the use of finer table linens.

Some of the very first forks were really works of art. The three which Queen Elizabeth kept as curios were described as "one of crystal garnished with gold and sparks of garnets—another of coral slightly garnished with gold—and a third of gold, garnished with two little rubies, two pearl pendants and a coral."

History tells us that the first forks to be made in America were made by John Noyes of Boston, about 1705. These forks, which have silver handles and steel prongs, are now in the Boston museum. From these have evolved the common table forks which we today consider practically indispensable.

BEST HOME LIFE FOUND ON FARM?

Sociologist Well Describes Its Many Advantages.

"People say there are three great events in life: birth, death and marriage. We comment on and joke about marriage, because it lasts longer. Once you are born, or once you die, not much can be done about it. Between these two is marriage, which we can make either happy or unhappy," says James A. McAleer of the New York state college of agriculture.

Rural folks marry earlier than city folks, he points out. According to the 1930 census, 58 women under twenty-five years of age out of each 100 in the country are married. Only 47 in the same age class in the city are married.

Rural people marry early, he says, because family life means more in the country than in the city. Successful agriculture on a family-sized farm is more likely to be possible with a satisfactory home life. Social life, he adds, is less dominated by individual self-interest in the country than in the city. In addition to the economic importance of the farm family, is the social significance. Members of the farm family are together more of the time, and they cannot lose themselves in a crowd, as city persons can.

"The rural family is more stable, more permanent, and less often disrupted by divorce or separation than the city family," Mr. McAleer says. "Divorce is less prevalent and desertion is almost unknown. Persons marry if they can afford it. Depressions cause a decrease in the number of marriages. One of the best signs of recovery and revived confidence during the past year has been the jump in the number of marriages."

"To maintain those traits of the rural family which now exist and are held to be desirable, the rural farm population must attain a standard of living equal to that of rural non-farmers and village residents," Mr. McAleer avers.

Chew for Beauty, Models Advised

Rhythmic chewing, combined with exercises of the head and neck, was revealed recently at New York to 2,000 models, members of the Models' Guild, as the newest beauty formula. The advice came from a well-known specialist in response to a request from the guild for information regarding the system.

A dozen exercises are included in the complete routine. The instructions for the one illustrated: "Start with chewing gum—one or two sticks. After a few seconds, begin the exercise by tossing the head from side to side. Then open your mouth as wide as you can. Close it gradually, and all the while endeavor to chew your gum."

This exercise is designed to tone the muscles of the chin and lower jaw. Others promote a fine neckline and beautiful cheeks.

THE CHILD'S MIND AND OURS

THE child's mind is as complex as the adult's. That pronouncement came out at the recent meeting of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. Dr. James S. Plant, director of the Newark (N. J.) Juvenile Clinic told the assembled doctors psychiatry has just learned that the child mind is no simpler to understand than the adult mind, and that their failure to realize this may be responsible for the appalling number of delinquent and maladjusted children.

CAP AND BELLS

PROMISING

Mr. and Mrs. Penley were honest, hard-working farmer folks. By self-denial they had managed to send their son to Harvard. One day a letter arrived. "I know you will be pleased," wrote the son, "to learn that I have won the squash championship."

"Well, well!" beamed Father Penley. "We'll make a farmer out of that boy yet, mother!"

Defined

Wee Betty—Mother, I feel so 'clted!
Mother—Excited, dear? I don't think you know what excited means.
Wee Betty—Why, it's being in a hurry all over.

Diagnosed

"Doctor," said the pest who always was trying to get free medical advice. "I have the queerest noises in my head; what do you suppose causes it?"
"Maybe the wheels in there need oiling," he snapped.

Compensation

Farmer Bentover—That drought cost us over 6,000 bushels of wheat.
Mrs. Bentover—Yes, but there is nothing without some good. During that dry spell we could at least get some salt out of the shakers!

'Twas Ever Thus

"You look worried. What's the matter?"
"Ding it, my doctor just told me I've got to quit worryin' or else."

SLUSH FUND, OF COURSE

City Official—Where are we to get the money for cleaning the streets after these heavy snows?
Assistant—Out of the slush fund, of course.

Case of Necessity

"What was the inspiration for your success?" the rich man was asked.
"Well, frankly," he grinned, "it was the meals my wife cooked when we were first married. I realized right off I'd have to earn enough to hire a cook if I didn't want to die of indigestion."

Woof! Woof!

"This is a retail store, isn't it," asked the old lady.
"Certainly, madam," said the clerk.
"Well," said she, "some friends gave my grandson this pup, and it has had its tail cut off and I want it retailed, please."

Dumb-Bell

He—I've just been reading some statistics. Do you know that every time my watch ticks, a man dies.
She—For goodness sake, let it run down.—Royal Arcanum Bulletin.

Did He Get the Job?

Employer—Personal appearance is a helpful factor in business success.
Employee—Yes, and business success is a helpful factor in personal appearance.

The Answer to That One

"Were you ever kissed?" the old maid was asked.
"Well, if I should die tomorrow it would not be from curiosity," she replied.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

So It Goes

Barney—Did the doctor cure Kelly of insomnia?
Tim—He did. Now Kelly can't sleep nights wondering how he's going to pay the doctor!

Equality for All

Friend—How's the boy since he came back from college?
Man—Fine! Still treats us as equals.

PATTERN 9163

What could be more cunning than this square little dress for a round little girl? And by the way, squares are "just the thing" this year. The yokes, back and front, give the impression of buttoning down over the top of the box pleats. The neck and sleeves are trimmed with demure little collar and cuffs of contrasting material. This model includes a pattern for matching bloomers. Made in a bright gay woolen for cooler weather—either plaids or checks are very smart—or in a pretty gingham, for warmer days, it will appeal to

CLOVERS TAKE JUNIOR LEAGUE LEADERSHIP

Kosel Scored 84 of Macmen's 144 Points During the Season

All State Backfield Star Scored More Points Than Any Other One Man on Team—Totaled Thirteen Touchdowns and 6 Points.

Carteret High completed one of the best football seasons in its history on Thanksgiving Day when it plastered a 13-0 defeat on the erstwhile undefeated Perth Amboy High team. Never before has a grid team from the Washington avenue institution made such a name for itself as did this year's State Group II champions.

Besides copping the Group II title, the Macmen, as they are called, placed two men on the first All-State High and Prep football team. The boys who were accorded the honor are Stanley Kosel, a back, and Jackie Wielgolinski, a center. The Macmen further proved their worth at the meeting of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association when they polled more votes than did any team in the State for the title selections, which were made through the use of the new Dickinson system.

Looking through their record, one finds that the Macmen won eight ball games, losing but one to Cranford. Freehold, who also is in Group II, had a better season, being undefeated, but the calibre of the opposition which the locals played was enough to convince the State officials that Carteret was the best team in its Group. To take the doubt out of anyone's mind, McCarthy's team played Freehold a post-season game a few weeks ago, and walked away with a neat 19-0 victory.

Had the locals lost all their ball games except those with Woodbridge and Perth Amboy, they would still be credited with a successful season, as the two schools mentioned are their foremost rivals. However, winning all but one game can be considered a super-fine job, and one that is not accomplished every year. It is safe to say that the Macmen will not establish as fine a record in many years to come.

The Spitz Dog

The English spitz was formerly known as the white Pomeranian of England, and the better specimens are pure white, though some are bisque color. They weigh from 25 to 30 pounds. The Eskimo spitz is an entirely different breed, though similar in appearance except that it is larger and has a gentler disposition. No common origin has been traced.

Early Sundials

The early English sundials were made of stone, and often with elaborate carving on them. They adorned not only the walls of churches where they had survived from earlier periods, but also the gateways of monasteries and cathedrals, castles and public buildings.

GREETINGS!

Clem Schwartz, Ed Ekroy and the rest of the boys on The News staff wish to take this opportunity to express their most sincere wishes to their many friends for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

CLEM'S QUIBS OF SPORT

In the summer of 1930, a youngster fresh out of high school was playing sensational ball in some hick league out in Pennsylvania under the name of Mickey King. This Mickey King was a potential star, as one look at the box scores of the games he appeared in would convince the most pessimistic observer. He was good and there was no question about that.

Playing in 140 games, King batted about .435. His playing attracted the attention of many big league scouts, and before he realized it, King was signed to a professional contract. His climb to national fame was fast. After playing with Scottsdale in the Middle Atlantic League, he was sent to Houston of the Texas League, where he remained for two years. During the third year, he was called into action by the St. Louis Cards, where he remained ever since. He no longer plays under the name of King, but under his right name of Medwick, as he no longer needs to cover himself up because he does not intend to go to college. Playing professional ball disqualifies a player from competition in college, and as Medwick was uncertain as to whether he would go to college or not, he played under an assumed name.

His story is needless to relate. It is imbedded in the mind of every hero-worshipping youngster. It goes to show that Medwick, with his potentialities, had enough initiative to get him where he is today.

Speaking of Medwick, it would not be amiss to say that very soon he will be receiving his 1935 contract, and you can bet your last nickel that it will call for a good sized raise. Medwick received about $7,000 last year, plus the $5,000 cut out of the world series.

"The Ducky Boy" will soon be leaving for the sunny southland, where he will spend a brief vacation, then he will return home until it is time for the world champions to report for spring training.

The official National League averages released this week credit Medwick with a batting average of .319.

Five of Comba's Players To Quit Loop Play

Joe Comba's St. Joseph's basketball team will get one severe blow this week when five players drop out of league competition. McCarthy has asked his basketball players to cease playing outside ball, and in the instance of the Saints, five men are on the high school squad. However, the Saints will not feel the loss so badly, as they have five other men to inject into the lineup. However, losing five players like Dorn, Kubička, Jackson, Dixon and Toth is quite something and apt to upset any team.

Overheard Around Town This Week

"Herkey" Cherepon of high school football prominence, has announced that he is going in for boxing, and to make it more emphatic, he is looking for a couple of sparring partners. The Carteret Field Club will sponsor a dance at the Nathan Hale School tonight to defray expenses incurred during the past grid season. Speaking of the Field Club, a number of players from this year's championship high school squad have signed to play for next season. Baby Face Fischer will see action this week in Syracuse. Otto Suto will also fight this week. This department wishes its many readers the Season's Greetings.

No Junior League Games This Week

According to word received at the News Office at this writing, there will be no Junior Basketball League games played at the high school court this Monday.

The Hudsons were scheduled to meet the Clovers; the Falcons were to clash with the Terrys; the Owls were to match the St. Joseph's team and the Tigers were to play the Boys' Club. These games will be played next Monday evening. The following week brings the schedule of the first half to a close.

The teams finishing in the first division after both halves of the loop schedule have been played will be rewarded with a cut out of the league coffers.

Hebrew Alliance Teams to See Action Wed.

Both teams of the Hebrew Alliance will see action Wednesday evening when the Phi Alpha courtsters of Elizabeth, come to Carteret to do battle at the high school court.

The main game of the evening will take place at 9:00 P. M., when the varsity teams meet the first Phi Alpha team. In the preliminary game, the Alliance Seconds will meet the Phi Alpha Seconds.

Last week, the Hebrew Alliance came from behind in the closing minutes to nip the College All Stars by a scant three point margin.

Medwick Batted .319 for Season

Official Averages Show Ducky Boy's Batting Improved Over That of Last Year.

(Special to The Carteret News)

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Joe Medwick of Carteret, playing regularly in the St. Louis Cardinal outfield, batted .319 for the season just completed, according to the official statistics issued this week by the National League headquarters.

Medwick made an increase of 19 points over his last year's mark of .300. The Ducky boy led the senior circuit in three base hits with a total of eighteen.

In fielding, Medwick did not do as well. His fielding dropped from a .975 mark last year to .960 for the campaign just ended. The records show that Medwick handled 347 chances, made 322 putouts, ten assists and fourteen errors. Medwick also had a hand in a double play, quite a novelty for an outfielder.

Say Medwick Is On Block

A rumor circulated about town this week to the effect that the hard-hitting Cardinal star would be sold to the Brooklyn Club. It is a known fact that Casey Stengel would very much like to have Medwick, but it is hardly a possibility that they could scrape together enough cash to make the purchase. And then, one must take into consideration that Frankie Frisch has definitely stated that Joe "will be out there playing with the Cards as long as I have anything to say."

Medwick expects to take a short trip to the southlands shortly, and then will come home and mark time until the Cards report for spring training at Bradenton.

The Cards have scheduled six exhibition games with the New York Yankees, and it will be interesting to note just what the Ducky boy can do against inter-league pitching. A few years ago, you may remember, he smacked two homers against the New York Club.

Science of Chemistry

The science of chemistry had its origin in remote antiquity. Many of its earlier secrets form the basis of modern knowledge. Early chemistry developed from gradual findings usually relating to the extraction of various metals from ores. Modern chemistry had been largely developed along industrial lines during the Nineteenth century, and since the World war enormous progress has been made.

Down Falcons By 20-10 As Boys' Club Beat Saints 24-12

Nascak and Cowalsky Combine to Score 13 Points to Knock St. Joseph's Out of First Place. Terrys and Tigers Win Forfeits.

The Clovers took undisputed possession of first place in the standings of the Carteret Junior Basketball League this week by virtue of their 20-10 victory over the Liberty Falcons. Meanwhile, the Boys' Club upset St. Joseph's, 24-12, sending them into a tie with the Tigers for second place.

In the other games, the Tigers won a forfeit victory over the Hudsons, as the Chrome boys failed to make their appearance on the court at the scheduled time. The Terrys were declared the winners over the Owls, as Sammy Sico's team had only four eligible men on the court.

The defeat of the Saints came as a surprise, inasmuch as the Boys' Club have been coming along splendidly lately. However, Joe Comba's team still has a game to play with the Clovers, and should they come out victorious in that one, the two teams will again be tied.

Boys' Club Upset Saints Monday, 24-12

The Boys' Club, flashing a fast breaking floor attack, pulled the greatest upset of the Junior League season thus far when they defeated the erstwhile league-leading St. Joseph's team, 24-12, Monday afternoon in the high school gym.

Tony Nascak, a forward, was the Boys' Club offensive star, with seven points. Thorn and Cowalsky, a forward and center, respectively, were the other Boys' Club stalwarts.

Playing heads up ball throughout, the Boys' Club leaped into an early lead which it held throughout the contest. At half time, they led by an 11-5 score.

Cowalsky at center was a tower of strength both on the attack and defense for the Club.

The Saints, weakened considerably by the absence of Bill Walsh and Joe Toth from the lineup, were hopeless against the Boys' Club, who played ball as they never played before.

The defeat sent the Saints into a tie for second place with the Tigers. The scores:

Clovers in First Place—Drub Falcons

The Clovers went one step higher in their climb to first place in the standings of the Carteret Junior Basketball League Monday afternoon at the high school gym when they defeated the Liberty Falcons five, 20-10. The victory sent them into first place, as the Saints lost to the Boys' Club in the previous game.

Paced by "Whitey" Paszowski, who chalked up eleven points, the Clovers packed too many guns for the Falcons. Although they showed no particular strength in the first quarter, as they led by only 5-2 at that period ended, the Clovers came back strong in the second period to score fifteen points, which put the game on ice.

"Chink" Masluch, a forward, scored six points for the Clovers in the last period.

The victory insures the Clovers of a firm hold on first place in the league standings until they meet the St. Joseph's team in the game that ended in a tie last week. However, even if they lose the playoff game, they will still be tied for the league lead.
